Despite graduation losses that left Coach Dick Hobbs just nine lettermen, Belmond should be at least as strong as a year ago and appears to have considerably more speed in the backfield. If the boys can make the newly-introduced split-T offense click for more consistent yardage than the box produced last season, the Broncos might turn out to be considerably tougher than in '55; but, in general, the whole conference appears likely to be better than last fall.

Lake Mills, which tied with Britt for 4th in the loop a year ago with a 2-4 record, can field an all-veteran eleven and still have a letterman on the bench. The Bulldogs' football fortunes were at the lowest ebb last season that they'd reached in some time, and it's to be expected that Coach Mike Engstrom is determined that they'll give a better account of themselves this year. This should be giant Loren Moen's best season at end; and in Darrell Kinden, Lake Mills should have one of the NIC's classiest backs.

Britt Has Experienced Line

Britt, like Forest City, has only seven lettermen back. They include Dave Rasmusson, who though only a junior has been one of the Eagles' most dependable ball-carriers for the past two seasons. All the other returnees saw line duty last year, so if Coach Steve Everett can scratch up the balance of a backfield to go with Rasmusson, Britt should commit itself respectably.

Buffalo Center has Jim Shortenhaus, rugged, 175-pound tackle, back in the line. He was 1st all-conference last fall. Don Albers will be carrying the ball again for the Bison, and he was a rough customer a year ago. Wherever Tom Costigan is used, he'll be a hard man to handle as he is unquestionably one of the loop's most versatile athletes.

Garner's outlook is reviewed in another story on this page concerning tomorrow night's game with the Broncos. The Cardinals filled a hard-luck role last fall and seem possibly to have been cast in the same part again. Roland Gustafson, Garner's new mentor, faces a big building job; and it rather looks like the Cards may be in for their lumps again this season.

Five-Game Slate For Froshmores To Open Monday

Monday of next week the BHS froshmore football team will launch what is probably the most ambitious campaign that any Junior Bronco aggregation has ever undertaken. Following a new North Iowa conference policy, the freshman-sophomore squad will play a complete NIC slate—lacking one game. Northwood deemed Belmond a bit too far to haul its underclass gridders, so the Junior Vikings were omitted from the card.

Froshmore elevens of all the other conference teams will be played on the Monday following the varsity games, at the opposite site from the one at which the varsities will clash. Since the Garner Cardinals play here tomorrow night, that sends the Junior Broncs to Garner for the season's opener on Monday.

Three Home Games

The other froshmore games scheduled are: Sept. 24—Britt, here; Oct. 8—Buffalo Center, here; Oct. 15 — Lake Mills, here; Oct. 22 — Forest City, there.

Coach Dick Hobbs and his assistant, Jack Steinberg, have been very pleased with the way the freshmen and sophomores have been progressing and believe they will make a tough outfit.

It is noteworthy that of 20 players named by the coaches as likely to see a good deal of action at Garner next Monday, 11 are freshmen. Hobbs and Steinberg agreed that competition is so keen for most of the line positions that only on the basis of the current week's showings will they be able to pick the starters.

Starting Backs Named

Coach Steinberg says that the four, starting backfield assignments will likely be filled by: Lynn Jenison, quarterback; Ronnie Kloberdanz, right half; Roger Hoppel, left half; and Mark Mason, fullback. Jenison and Mason are preps. In addition, Howard Mussell has shown up well at fullback; and Mike Long, another freshman, has performed capably at halfback. Larry Tideback is also deemed a good prospect.

Gordon Takes 3rd Among Amateurs In Iowa Open Golf

Fred Gordon came home from the Iowa Open Golf tournament that wound up at Brooks golf course, Okoboji, Sunday with a new set of four woods that was the prize for third-low amateur in the annual links classic. The Belmond belter finished in a four-way tie for the pay-off spot but won the prize on a coin-flip.

Ricky Kuenstler of Alice, Tex., was low amateur with 218 for the 54 holes. Keith Campbell of Des Moines was second among the play-for-fun golfers with 220, a stroke better than Gordon, Jim Rasley of Des Moines, Jack Webb of Atlantic and Todd Tischer of Fort Dodge. All but Kuenstler and Rasley have at one time or another been contenders for the Clarmond Amateur title.

Cold, rainy weather with a bit of wind mixed in sent scores for the Sunday round skyward. Gordon had 34-38 on each of his first two rounds but slipped to 38-39—77 on his final 18.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

After a week of traveling the back roads of the county, Art still couldn't tell one country corner from another. Corn rows and fence rows converging at an intersection all looked the same to him.

He got lost at least once a day, which was embarrassing and costly because Art was supposed to be selling things to farmers.

"Keep thinking while you drive. Know where you're going," the county sales manager told him.

Art made an effort. He found one intersection where a farmer had cut back the corn in the corner of his field to give drivers a view of the converging road.

Art could always recognize that intersection. There was no other like it in the neighborhood. It became his major landmark. Every time he drove through it he had a feeling of friendship for that unknown farmer who had shortened his corn rows to give drivers a safe intersection.

For about a week after he found his landmark, things went better for Art. He began to know his directions so well that he no longer drove slowly and uncertainly wondering where he was.

Now he drove with speed and confidence, spraying up gravel, making time. Then he "got lost" again.

It happened one morning as he was clipping through an intersection. His vision to the left was cut off by a corn field, but Art knew where he was, no need to slow down.

The milk truck slid into the left side of his car like a tank. Art was lost again. This time he would never find his way back.

Dear Sir:

THIS IS CALLED ADMINISTRATION?

Webster's definition of administration is "management, as of a business." This fair town's definition of same seems to be "a complete lack of initiative on the part of any elected official to carry out many of the responsibilities resting upon them, insubordination with local and state law officers who are trying their best to do a decent job of dealing with violators of city and state laws."

I know a man who owned a business for 20 years, and in that span of time never sent a statement for debts owed because he was afraid to offend anyone.. When he sold his business, the only one damaged by his failure to conduct business in an orthodox way was himself. He was left with $2,000 of unpaid accounts.

BUT—when the officials of a city shirk their responsibilities of levying fines and jail sentences to violators of the city and state laws, they are not only hurting themselves as trusted officials, but are crumbling the very foundation on which our democracy is founded. This type of incompetence is not only endangering the lives of the people who drive and walk on our streets and sidewalks, but it is crippling, maiming, and even snuffing out the lives of innocent citizens in this and many other communities.

I am certain if the citizens of this community could have access to the files of the court of this city, they would be appalled by said court. I am also certain that if the mothers and fathers of the younger people of this community could see an innocent victim of a needless accident lying battered and broken, and see the hearts and lives that are broken by such neglect of duty, that they would not be the first one in line to tell the court that their child is above blame and should not have been apprehended for the charge brought against him.

Fellow citizens, it is quite clear that it is our duty to see that these fines and sentences are justifiably levied and carried out against ALL violators, or bring it before the proper authorities and demand that life, liberty and justice for all reign in our city. When the Iowa highway patrol will not bring violators to our city court because there would be no fine or conviction imposed, THERE MUST BE SOMETHING ROTTEN IN BELMOND!

Former Residents Dies at Age 75

News was received Thursday of the death of Mrs. John Schreckengast of Mason City, a former resident of Goodell. Jennie Christie Schreckengast, 75, oldest daughter of the late James and Lizzie Christie. was born April 23, 1881, at Garner. When she was a small child, her parents moved near Goodell, where she attended a country school. In 1892 the family moved to Goodell. Here she attended school, Sunday school and church, being a member of the Goodell Methodist church when that denomination existed here. She was employed in this community after growing to young womanhood and also at the Elder hotel and Kirkwood restaurant at Klemme for a number of years.

Going from Klemme to Mason City, she was married to John Schreckengast on Aug. 3. 1920 She lived on a farm northeast of Mason City until her death Sept. 6, following an illness of several months duration due to a heart condition.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters—Rachel and Cleo Schreckengast, Mason City, and Mrs. Marion (Helen) Sorenson, Clear Lake; two step-daughters, Fern Baughman, Clear Lake, and Mrs. Clyde Long, Mason City; three stepsons, Orin of Dougherty, Howard of Mason City and Cecil, at home on the farm; and ten grandchildren.

She also leaves seven sisters—Mrs. George Garberick, Willmar, Minn.; Mrs. Chas Peterson, Mrs. L. P. Peterson, Mrs. Henry Nolte, Mrs. Martin Burrs and Ione Christie, Goodell; and Mrs. Arley Blickenderfer, Charles City. She was preceded in death by her parents, a sister and a brother.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Free Methodist church in Mason City, which were attended by relatives from the Goodell community.

Mrs. J. E Savogue spent Friday with her friends, Mrs. Vinnie Hubbard and the William Hegingers, at Belmond.

Mr and Mrs. Mel Ver Helst and son Lester, accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. Park E. Miller, went to Council Bluffs Tuesday, taking the formers' daughter Virginia back to school for this coming year. They also visited Boy's Town at Omaha, Neb.

Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Boller and children drove to Waterloo Sunday morning, where they were dinner guests in the home of the former's brother, Tony Boller. Their mother, Mrs. Anton Boller, who had spent the past two weeks in the home of her son, Tony Boller, returned home with the former family Sunday evening.

Mrs. Galen Huhn and five children of Colo were Sunday dinner guests in the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Bill Boller.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede took their little grandson, Ricky McClure, to his home in Des Moines Friday and were overnight visitors in the home of their daughter Mrs. Dale McClure. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Brede went on to Moravia where they were overnight guests in the home of friends, the Don Pettibones.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Myers accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Oscar Olson, drove to Bricelyn, Minn., Saturday where they attended the funeral of their friend. Oscar A. Matson, which was held at the north Blue Earth Lutheran church. Following the services they enjoyed visits with many of their friends. Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Myers were former schoolmates of Mr. Matson and Mrs Olson was at one time his rural school teacher.

Mr and Mrs. William Muhlenbruch and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Muhlenbruch and children were guests at the wedding reception of the former's nephew and bride, Mr and Mrs. Gilbert Muhlenbruch of Dows, which was held Friday evening at the Community hall in Coulter. Mrs. William Muhlenbruch were married August 25th at Jersey City, N. J., and will make their home at Ames when he will enter Iowa state college this month.

Randy Dishman of Clarion, who has spent several weeks this summer in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Muhlenbruch, returned to his home the past week to enter school. Randy recently returned from Blank Memorial hospital in Des Moines where the casts were removed from his foot following surgery, which was performed due to polio.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Conger of San Diego, Calif., were visitors in the home of Mrs. Charles Conklin, Thursday. The Congers are neighbors of the latter's son, Dale Conklin, and were touring through Minnesota and Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede were dinner guests Sunday in the home of their friend, Mrs. Ruth Yohn, at Clear Lake. In the afternoon, the three of them attended Open-House honoring their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanson, on their 50th wedding anniversary, held in their home at Oakwood, Clear Lake.

Mrs. Lee Milsap of Williams and her sister Mrs Laton Avery returned to the latter's home here Saturday, Mrs. Avery having spent several weeks with her sister. Another sister, Mrs. Mayme Dillon of Belmond, also visited in Mrs. Avery's home over the weekend, the former and Mrs. Dillon returning to their respective homes on Tuesday.

Mrs. Jim Rowan of Clarion visited in the Mrs. Laton Avery home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg of Clear visited in the Sandberg-Hanson home Friday evening.

Mrs. Bonna McClintic of Des Moines returned to her home on Tuesday evening, having spent a few days in the home of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Olson. She also visited her other sister, Mrs. O. W. Myers. The women's brother, Wade Johnston of Estherville, joined them here for a two-day visit at that time.

Tom and Duane Lowenberg went to Minneapolis, Minn., Saturday where they enjoyed the weekend in the home of their sister, Mrs. Bill Sanzone.

Ed Steinlicht accompanied friends, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Ennen of Belmond, to Stilson Sunday where they attended Open-House, honoring the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinlicht, on their 40th wedding anniversary, held in their home.

GREATER WEALTH FOR ALL IOWA

Over $83,000,000 in added wealth pours into Iowa every year from the regular business expenses of the brewing industry in our state. In this huge total are included such items as:

Payrolls — $30,471,000; General Business Costs — $27,500,000; Taxes — $25,453,000. And this does not even include the heavy purchases of our agricultural products which are used regularly in the brewing of beer.

Iowans in virtually every walk of life, and in every part of the state, benefit from such a steady outpouring of revenue from this basic industry. It benefits the small town and the large, the farmer and the city man . . . and it continues to swell our prosperity, year in and year out. We can truly look with satisfaction to the fact that . . .

... BLECKER NEEDN'T BE NERVOUS ... COSTS WHILE GIVING FULL VALUE

...hen the writer of this column was chatting ... Sheriff Bob Blecker recently, the latter re...ed, "I expect The Independent will be gun... for ME when a comparison of expenditures ... the various sheriffs' offices in Iowa comes out ... this year. There's no question but what THIS ... has been spending money!"

We reassured Bob by adding, "Also, there's ... question but what your office has been provid... A-1 law enforcement and protection of the ... safety."

It's always been our notion that economy in ... office for the pure sake of economy has ... more to recommend it than spending for the ... sake of spending. We hire our public officials ... DO A JOB—NOT just to keep the expenses of ... office down to the absolute minimum. We ...ised Sheriff Blecker that if we ever feel the ... has come when he can't justify the cost of ...ating his office, we'll promptly advise him.

But Bob, to date, has not only performed his ... competently; he has shown a flair for en...ing the law and safeguarding the public safety ... is distinctly uncommon. His holiday "Rest ..." brain child is typical of the imagination and ...ity that he has exhibited.

This innovation in the field of highway safety ... gained Wright county national attention—every ... of it favorable. Furthermore, it seems pos... he's hit on an idea that may be put into na...wide practice, at a saving of many lives over ... long holiday weekends when our highways ...arily take such a horrible toll.

A rest station, copied from ours, was in opera... near Enid, Okla., over Labor Day weekend. ... would surprise us not a whit if that proved only ... start.

With the huffing and puffing that we do now and again over the incompetence, extravagance, inefficiency and general worthlessness of some of our officialdom, it gives us a distinct pleasure when we find a bouquet more appropriate than a brickbat. We happily foot our share of the bill for any officer who does his job like Sheriff Blecker has been doing HIS!

SAYS PARSON PEARSON: WHEN ANY TOWN STOPS GROWING, IT'S BEGINNING TO DECAY

It's been said many times in many ways—that a community either goes forward or backwards; no town ever just "stands still." But we particularly liked the words of a New Hampton minister on the subject, when recently asked to write a guest editorial for the New Hampton Tribune.

Rev. H. A. Pearson, a Lutheran pastor, remarked on the civic progress he's witnessed during two years' residence in New Hampton as follows:

"One now sees many new homes being built, many of the older homes being painted and repaired, store-fronts being remodeled, streets being curbed and guttered, and better cared-for lawns.

"What is more, industrial development is being discussed, considered and sought. The city is perking up. In the air is the scent of growth and among us is an invigorating interest in the future.

"But lest we become self-satisfied and feel tempted to sit back and admire what has been done, it is well to note that he who stops building is starting to destroy. The cessation of growth is the beginning of decay. There is still much to do, and, furthermore, much can be done."

Which prompts us to ask, what's happened to those plans for setting up a zoning and planning commission here in Belmond? Good progress had been made in that direction. Certainly nothing is to be gained by delay. We sincerely hope that something concrete on the matter will be ready for report—SOON!

YES, THOSE POOR, UNFORTUNATE IRS MEN CERTAINLY DO HAVE IT ROUGH

An item in the September issue of The Iowa Taxpayer suggests that the ordinary citizen isn't the only one who has troubles at tax-paying time. The Internal Revenue Service has found that its offer of help to the wage earner in filling out his tax form very occasionally prompts comparison shopping. That is, a taxpayer will have three or four IRS men lend him a hand and then take advantage of the lowest figure.

The example that was cited had an angry taxpayer growling at one revenue agent, "Whaddaya mean, I owe $500? The guy at the next desk told me last night I owe only $450!"

Continued the item, "This type of comparison shopping, IRS men complain, robs them of thousands of hours a year of time that could be spent to better advantage."

Our sympathy goes out to these IRS men thus victimized, most assuredly. BUT, we can't help but wonder how many unrequired millions of dollars a year in cash might be kicked in the kitty by unknowing taxpayers if an HONEST discrepancy of 20 per cent is possible when "experts" figure a single income tax.

No pity was solicited for the gent who came within an ace of putting out $50 more in tax money than he actually had to. But having sweat blood so many times over that 1040 long form, we can easily "feel for him," too.

... Sir:

...U ART THE MAN! Yes, Mr. ..., in spite of your stirring ... editorial deploring the ... of Annette Swenson, her ... rests upon your hands, and ... my own. True that the driver ... other car may have had a ... of carelessness; true that ... cases the state officials ... have perhaps suspended a ... until a check could be made ... his driving habits.

...vertheless, inasmuch as Annette Swenson stands as a symbol (and to us, a sorrowful symbol) of ever-occuring highway accidents, I say the fault, the blame and the censure is part yours, and again, my own.

Remember a few weeks ago when you thought it rather humorous and newsworthy to report that a man of 87 years had driven at 80 miles an hour in driving across the country? Such driving for an old man raised many chuckles in town; but I could not help wonder if that was safe driving for a man of that age.

It is far faster than I want to drive, although I do feel that my sight, hearing and reflexes are far better than they will be 50 years from now. Such speed is dangerous at any age — indeed, murderous for an elderly man; but you and I and the other good citizens hate to point it out to such a good, decent and loveable man.

It is easy to say, "There ought to be more law enforcement." But again, Mr. Editor, yor are the guilty one, because law enforcement needs the support of every citizen. Because of your neligence, an innocent life may be claimed tomorrow.

For example, would you call the sheriff to report that at a party attended by you drinks had been passed around and that one or more of those drinking would be driving home — not drunk, but just with a drink or two to "loosen" them up? Would you stop that friend who had had a drink or two? Would you report them? Too many of us would not, Mr. Editor, if they were our friends, or influential people.

Or, Mr. Editor, what about people like Mrs. "Goodheart" — a nice, loveable, old grandmother, but whose hearing, sight and judgment has failed since her last driver's test? You know her well, and her driving is the joke of the town. Would you report her as a bad risk for the highways, and one who should be checked?

Or, Mr. Editor, while my first reaction is to "throw the book" at a drunken driver, perhaps you and I have been guilty of driving under the influence of insomnia, strain and exhaustion so that we were a danger to others. Instead of saying, "There ought to be a law," I should confess that I, too, have been at fault; and to follow this with a resolve to recognize my endurance and to stop once I am no longer at my best.

Again, Mr. Editor, THOU ART THE MAN responsible for bringing sadness, grief and sorrow into homes, for it is a fact that (1) beer does play a role in highway accidents; and (2) you have served to promote drunken driving inasmuch as you have carried paid newspaper ads extolling the virtues of beer.

Your paper has helped to foster the claim of the breweries that beer means more jobs and money for Iowa. You have failed to point out, however, that beer makes more and better business for ambulance drivers, for doctors who must patch up bodies, and for undertakers who bury the dead. This is a financial prosperity which we buy at the price of heartache and grief of innocent victims.

Finally, the blood of Annette Swenson rests upon your shoulders and mine inasmuch as we live in a materialistic culture that judges things by size and cost. We like to "keep up with the Joneses," and so our old car with its 107 horsepower is no longer good enough for us. Craving a fine standing in the community, we feel that we must trade the old car for a longer, bigger, more impressive and more powerful one.

You and I, Mr. Editor, and the other good people of the land, with our love for material things, have encouraged the horsepower race until we have cars too fast for our highways and too fast for our own judgment and our limited conscience.

I sorrow for the Swenson family.

I sorrow for those families that tomorrow, and the day after, will also have such a tragedy thrust upon them.

I confess that in part, as stated above, I must shoulder part of the responsibility. May this confession be remembered next week or next year when I am tempted to ignore the dangerous driving of my friends who should be told that their driving is a threat to others. May it be remembered when I am tempted to think that is is always the other man who is careless and dangerous on the highway.

Are you going to drive more carefully, Mr. Editor?

Sincerely,
William Schorman

(Short of the millenium, however, we sorely fear that people are going to remain what they are — foolish, vain, weak on judgment, and requiring other inspiration than the ultimate goodness of their souls to behave in a manner that their ability to reason might dictate.

(Good conscience and judgment might well prompt a driver to stop at the site of most, existing highway stop signs — even in their absence; but is is realized that man will never attain such a high level of responsibility, so we must have stop signs.

(It's been found that in states where a sensible speed limit is established and then vigorously enforced, the public more generally drives at a pace that is related to good judgment. Citizens of these states might be regarded as more responsible than in Iowa in that they have asked for and accept a degree of discipline which they have conceded they would not apply themselves, personally.

(While we recognize the pervading truths set forth in this letter, it does not move us to alter the premise of our editorial. "Man, know thyself," says the Bible. Ridiculous though it may be, it's been proved that majority of us will flirt with death more readily than we will hazard suspension of our driver's license. So let's face it!

(If risk of license suspension is the lever by which more judicious driving can be pried out of the public — and there's reason to believe it's the best accessible — let's use it! We're not going to be more strict with ourselves, voluntarily, in the future than we have been in the past. Neither, even prompted by the best of motives, are we going to turn into a citizenry of "tattlers" and "busybodies" — or expose ourselves to those epithets.

(If, then, we are NOT going to participate more directly in law enforcement ourselves, the next best alternative is to make the law more ENFORCEABLE by those who bear the immediate responsibility. That remains our contention.)

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Koenen are the parents of a baby girl born this weekend in the Belmond Community hospital. They have another daughter, Patricia and a son Darwin.

Mrs. Clarence Tiffany and Barbara of Janesville, Wisc., and Mrs. Harry Woight of Edgerton, Wisc., are visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Groen, arriving Sunday.

Mrs. Mervin Morris accompanied by Mrs. Frank Nissen and Mrs. Walter Braga drove to Belmond Wednesday afternoon at which time they attended the opening of Gen's Beauty shop. Quite a number of other Meservey friends attended the opening.

Convention Reports Heard At WSWS Meeting Last Week

The W. S. W. S. of the E. U. B church met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Herman C. Fischer. The reports of the delegates attending the convention at Riverview park, Cedar Falls, last month were heard with Mmes. Henry Wendel, Frank Guth, Herman Fischer and Heiko Janssen taking part. The lesson was presented by Mrs. Walter Koehler who presented the beginning of a series on "Migrant Mission Work in America". Plans were made for Guest Day in October which will be held in the church parlors followed by a silver tea. Reports of the various committees were heard and a special report on the fall project to be sent to the Espanola Mission in New Mexico. Following the meeting a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess.

Delores and Dallas Pals, children of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pals, left Monday for LeMars where they will enroll in Westmar college. Delores will be a freshman and Dallas a junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Delay and Marty of Jewell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Royal Paul and three children of Illinois left last weekend after spending the Labor Day holiday and week in the home of Mrs. Kate Paul.

The ladies of the E. U. B. church are selling lunch each Tuesday evening of this month at the Belmond Sale barn in an effort to raise money for their organization.

FAMILY NIGHT TO BE HELD

Family Night will be held Thursday evening in the E. U. B. church with the school faculty as special guests. Johnine Brown will speak on her tour of Europe which she enjoyed this summer as a Junior Red Cross representative, returning the first of this month. Lunch will be served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Enderson and Rodney spent the past week vacationing while their farm was being cared for by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendel.

Larry Suntken, son of Mrs. Genevieve Suntken, has returned to Pella where he is enrolled as a junior at Central college as a student of theology.

Elizabeth Lemke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lemke, has returned to Forest City where she is a sophomore at Waldorf college.

5th Birthday Party Honors Jeffery Pals

Mrs. Leslie Pals had a birthday party after school on Thursday for son Jeffery's fifth birthday. She had all his class and teacher, Mrs. Kamm, out to their farm home. Mrs. Pals served a nice lunch at the close of the party.

Mrs. Ceil Glaser of Mason City spent the weekend with Mrs. Sorine Grosz, Karon and George.

Labor Day visitors at the Vern Schluter home were Mr. and Mrs. Al Whitaker of Milford and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Keimenberger of Goodell.

Rev. P. W. Pfaltzgraff will take part at a special series of services at the Merrill-Stanton church September 16-23. There will be guest ministers morning and evening at the E. U. B. church in Meservey while he is away.

The Goodwill truck will be in Meservey Sept. 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gross and family of Brooklyn were Sunday dinner guests at the Keith Dunton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behrends and Allen were Sunday guests of the Robert Bohners at Charles City and evening guests at the Reid Busching home at Clarksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Morris and daughter were Sunday evening visitors at the Clarence Willand home at Joice.

Henry Kuhlers have bought the late Simon Fischer place from Heiko Janssen. The Janssens had just recently bought it at auction. The Kuhlers are planning on remodeling it some and will move in this fall sometime. Their son Milton will stay on their farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sigurdson and son Ray of Washington, Ind., spent a few days the past week at the Andrew Pals home. The ladies are sisters. While they were here they celebrated Ray's second birthday.

Sunday afternoon visitors at the Lewis Dorenkamp home to help him celebrate his birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Charley Waddingham, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pals and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Waddingham and family.

Legion Auxiliary President Holds School Of Instruction

Mrs. Lovell Diddy, president of the Meservey American Legion Auxiliary unit, held her annual school of instruction at her home Wednesday evening. Present were: Mmes. R. Raecker, C. Wendel, D. Fischer, A. F. Sprau, R. Nissen, H. Basener, L. Dorenkamp and E. Messelheiser. Committee chairmen were appointed and plans were made for the new year and the membership drive. Dues of senior membership now due are $2.50 with junior at 50c. Hostesses for the year were also chosen. At the close of the evening, lunch was served by the hostess.

3 OR 4 FARMERS In COUNTY MAY GROW NEW OAT VARIETIES IN '57

Three or four Wright county farmers are to be selected by the County Seed Distribution committee to grow for increase in 1957 two new oat varieties that have shown particular promise in this area. The two varieties, being released in the county for the first time this fall, are Burnett and Newton.

Burnett is a white, mid-season variety that has yielded at or near the top in the past three years in Iowa. Extension Director Aaron Bowman says it has strong straw and is resistant to all the prevalent races of stem rust and smut, and is moderately resistant to crown rust.

The Newton has a plump, Cherokee type kernel and has moderate resistance to crown rust, but it is highly resistant to race 7 of stem rust. It is high yielding, has stiff straw and is medium to early in maturity. It was released in Indiana and Illinois this year.

Bowman, who is chairman of the seed distribution committee, says a qualification questionnaire must be made out by farmers interested in obtaining either of these oats. Blanks can be obtained by writing or calling the extension office at Clarion and must be completed by Oct. 1. On that date the applications will be considered by the seed distribution committee.

Qualifications will be rigid, Bowman warns, since only three or four farmers in the entire county will be chosen. The state committee for agricultural development, which releases the seed, requires that at least half of the growers nominated must have grown oats or soybeans for certification in 1954, 1955 or 1956, the soybeans having been raised last year or the year before.

Applicants must specify if they wish the Burnett or Newton variety and must have the growing field located. Also, they must agree to remove off-type oats if found growing, have their own combine or thresher, agree to clean it thoroughly, and have adequate storage space for harvesting time, seed cleaning and after cleaning.

Just 24 bushels of the new oats—sufficient for 12 to 18 acres—will be alloted to the growers. The Burnett will cost $6.00 per bushel, the Newton $4.00.

● Belmond Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Oscarson and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Rokke and Douglas spent Sunday in the Duane Mehus home at Myrtle, Minn., and were callers in the Clarence Larson home at Emmons, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jelto Beenken visited Mr. and Mrs. Heiko Beenken at Webb and called on his mother at the Good Samaritan Home at Pocahontas, Sunday.

2 Wright County Dairymen Honored

Two Wright county dairymen were honored as members of the Iowa "400" club at the annual Iowa State College Cow conference held last Friday morning at Ames. Morris Miller and Leroy Miller, both of Clarion, were among 70 from the state accorded this recognition. Both have Holstein herds.

The herd of Morris Miller has produced an average of more than 400 pounds of butterfat per cow in 11 different years, including 1955-56. LeRoy's herd has produced this average or more for 10 years.

To be recognized as a member of the "400" club, a dairyman must belong to the Dairy Herd Improvement association and have had a herd record of at least 400 pounds of butterfat per cow, on the average, in 10 different years of testing — including the one just completed.

ANNOUNCE

Will have a special opening day in the near future and will make that date known very soon.

Appreciated the patronage of those who have been dropping in and hope to see you often. I will feature HAMM'S Draft and Bottled Beer.

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Belmond Lions club has given to understand that one to last year's unsuccessful to raise funds for a com- swimming pool has made does NOT want his con- back. It was a big one, too given by Louie Tokman Belmond Auto company. Most, all, of the other private do- to the swimming pool have now been returned; but has other plans for his gift.

He wants it to be held in escrow against the day—which he hopes will not be in the too distant future — when the campaign for a swimming pool will be revived. The Lions feel con- that if that attitude of determination prevails in enough quarters, the dream that a good many others share with Mr. Tokman may NOT be too long in materializing.

It was called to the Mainstreet- attention by Len Collier, the Lions' president, that last week another Iowa community in Bel- population class voted it- a swimming pool via a bond election. At Sibley, northwest of in Osceola county, the de- wasn't even close. North- is currently negotiating sale its swimming pool bonds. . . . Everybody's doing it. Who says Belmond can't, too?

Another applicant was granted a from the Lions' Student Loan this past week — Tom Stadt- erstwhile ace lineman on Bronco football team, who will attend Waldorf college at Forest City. This is the second BHS sports who has availed himself of from the Lions. Gene Mehl a recipient last year. But the Lions emphasize that an applicant by no means has to be an athlete. Any serious-minded boy or girl, with a need for financial assistance to attend college, is eligible for consideration as a loan candidate.

Isn't it always true, though, that "them as is busiest" are those who accept the toughest civic jobs. We cite the appointment of Tom Burdsal as chairman of this year's Community Chest campaign. The GMI feed mill "super" DOESN'T have time hanging heavy on his hands, by a long shot; but we'll bet he sees that the Chest drive goes "over the top" — as usual.

An old-timer dropped in for a chat with the Mainstreeters last Saturday, Joe Loes of Dyersville, who left Belmond in 1915. He was undertaker for the Belmond Fur- company of that day, when in Belmond. Joe was mana- of the Belmond independent baseball team while living here — of the finest in these parts. Luick was its ace pitcher. Joe said he learned of Belmond's Centennial just too late to set his va- plans so he could come, which he regretted very much.

A former resident who DIDN'T miss the Centennial was Mary C. Wallace of Waterloo, who sent us a note last week along with a check to renew her subscription for another year. She wrote: "Enjoyed the Centennial and alumni get-together very, very much. Activities were all fine and so nice to see all the old out-of-town people whom I hadn't seen in years. I wouldn't have missed it for anything."

When we were talking with Sher- Bob Blecker at the courthouse Tuesday morning, he told us the grapevine had it that the elderly man who suffered a broken neck a couple of weeks ago in a highway mishap just south of Belmond had died. He'd gone on to Austin by ambulance just a few hours after the accident.

Bob was quite anxious to learn the truth of the matter, for if 62-year-old Paul G. of Austin, Minn., had succumbed to his injuries it would boost Wright county's already horrible traffic toll up to 16 for the year.

Through the ready cooperation of Emmett King at the state police station, an inquiry was di- to Austin after we return- to Belmond and a few minutes later we were informed that Mr. was actually recovering so he'd been released from the hospital. So the total's still 15.

Hospital Auxiliary To Hear Dr. Berry

Members of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary are reminded of the quarterly meeting that is to be held at 2:00 p. m. Monday at the city library

Dr. Clyde M. Berry of Iowa City, associate director of the University of Iowa's Institute of Agricultural Medicine, will be the speaker. In- regarding Dr. Berry's background is to be found else- on this page in a story re- the county health forum to be held next Monday evening at Clarion.

According to local doctors who are acquainted with the guest speaker, he has won a reputation as being an outstanding speaker in his field. A good turn-out of auxiliary members is especially urged by the group's president, Mrs. R. H. Gowdy.

She adds that the auxiliary is endeavoring to gather tableware of its own for use in serving refreshments at the quarterly meetings. Members are being asked to contribute coupons good for silverware and in turn them in at next week's meeting. Contributions of snack will also be welcomed.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Wednesday evening, Mrs. entertained several girls at honoring her daughter 's 6th birthday. Guests were Garms, Jane Hill, Mary Dorr, Debbie Hobbs, Francis and

E. G. Youth of 21 Has Neck Broken In Crash Sunday

Wright county was not long in recording its 15th traffic fatality of the current year, the latest auto death following No. 14 by just a few hours more than a week. Again it was near Eagle Grove that death struck. The victim was 21-year-old James L. Derscheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Derscheid of Route 3, Eagle Grove.

The young driver failed to negotiate a curve on Highway 60 about four miles south of Eagle Grove last Sunday at 2:20 a. m. As near as the investigating officers could learn, he had spent the evening in town and was en route to his home, about two miles south of the accident site, when the fatal mishap occurred.

Was Wearing Safety Belt

Patrolman Al Sparby and Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod say that evidence at the curve where the accident took place suggested young Derscheid was traveling at too fast a rate of speed to successfully make the turn. The car skidded for a considerable distance along the concrete pavement, then hit the shallow ditch and rolled over three times.

A safety belt prevented the driver from being thrown from the car, but he twisted in the front seat in such a fashion that his right arm was badly bruised and possibly broken from being shut in the door as the car rolled. County Coroner Robert Eaton, Clarion doctor, reported that a broken neck caused Derschied's death.

Wright Record Worst Ever

Sheriff Bob Blecker says no thorough check on available records has been made, but he is certain that Wright county has never before witnessed so many deaths on its thoroughfares as this year—by a sizeable margin.

While a per capita basis may not be a valid one for comparison, it serves to emphasize how heavily this county's traffic toll has been thus far in 1956. Auto deaths in Iowa as a whole stood at 501 on Tuesday of this week, representing one fatality for every 5,231 of population.

Wright county's death rate from traffic accidents stood at one for every 1,310 of population. If deaths had been occurring at the same rate the state over, Iowa's toll for the year would have stood at 2,004 through Sept. 18.

CHEST DRIVE PLANS FORMING—

$4,900 Goal Set Again

Rev. Ralph Meyer, president of the Belmond Community Chest Council, reported this week that one new affiliate has been added to the list of organizations that will share in proceeds of the 1956 Community Chest drive. However, it was the decision of the Council that this year's goal should be held at the same level as last year's, a total of $4,900.

A year ago, an amount of $260 was budgeted for contingency and reserve. Since the '55 goal was surpassed by a modest margin, and the Council endeavors to limit the Chest goal to the permittable minimum, its members agreed that the contingency appropriation be reduced by $100 this year to provide that amount for the Wright County Association for Retarded Children.

This organization was formed the early part of this year and has as its aim, improved educational and training opportunities for retarded children in Wright county. The American Red Cross, which became a Chest affiliate last year, will join with the participating organizations again this year.

All appropriations have been bugeted at the same amount for the 1956 Chest campaign as a year ago. They are: American Cancer Society, $700; Boy Scouts, $900; Camp Fire Girls, $300; Iowa Children's Home Society, $400; PTA Summer Recreation program, $300; Red Cross, $1,000; Salvation Army, $380; Sister Kenny Foundation, $220; United Fund of Iowa, $290; Volunteers of America, $150.

Mr. Meyer offers the reminder that most of these appropriations are adjusted to compare closely with the sums the various organizations were raising individually in Belmond before the Community Chest was established. Appropriations for those groups that have been added to the list in more recent years were set on a basis of per capita giving that has generally prevailed in the state for support of the new affiliates.

It was also announced by Mr. Meyer that Tom Burdsal, superintendent of the GMI Larro feed mill here, has accepted assignment as manager of the 1956 Chest campaign. He is resolved that Belmond shall maintain the proud record it has had in the past of never failing to meet a Community Chest goal.

Exact date upon which the campaign will be launched has not yet been selected. Last year, it opened on Monday, Oct. 17. The corresponding date this year would be Oct. 15. Mr. Meyer says that, beyond doubt, the drive will either be opened on that date or one week later.

LIGHTNING Strikes Again

That lightning CAN strike twice in the same place was amply demonstrated Tuesday in distribution of Cash Gift Day awards to three winners. Two of them had previously held lucky numbers — Mrs. Albert Smit, who won $50, and Mrs. Elmer Smith, who took home $25. But Mrs. Smith, on the earlier occasion, had made her claim too late to meet the deadline and was thereby disqualified from receiving the prize. This time, she was johnny-on-the-spot — and a lot happier than the time before. Third winner of the day was Mrs. Keith Chandler, who also picked up $25. Awards next Tuesday will total $350. There will be four $25's at 2:00 p. m. and five $50's at 3:00 o'clock.

FARMERS WILL GET help in planning their livestock programs for the coming year from the two speakers above, who will appear at the outlook meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 o'clock at Clarion's IOOF hall. Rex Beresford (left) will discuss feed and livestock prospects and Herb Howell will consider management problems. Both men are Iowa State college extension specialists.

SMORGASBORD TONIGHT

Women of the Alexander Methodist church will hold a smorgasbord this (Thursday) evening, with serving to start at 5:00 o'clock.

NO SCHOOL MONDAY

Annual Wright County Teachers' Institute will be held Monday at Clarion. Since all Belmond faculty members will be in attendance, there will be no classes on that day.

Full Afternoon's Program Planned For "Field Day"

Visitors at the "field day" to be held next Wednesday at the Clarion-Webster experimental farm will be keenly impressed by the striking increases in corn yield demonstrating the value of nitrogen fertilizer, Extension Director Aaron Bowman predicts. He reports that application levels of 30, 60 and 100 pounds of actual nitrogen were used on trial plots.

Another impressive demonstration will show what a farmer is robbed of when he allows corn rootworm to nullify investment of fertilizer, seed and work. Infested plots at the farm contrast sharply with plantings treated for rootworm, Bowman says.

Sorghum varieties planted at the farm are looking good, and visitors will hear an informative discussion of the outlook for sorghum raising in northern Iowa. Soybean varieties will also be discussed.

Deep tillage is another topic that farmers should find of interest. Separate corn plots were tilled at three depths—plow depth, 16 inches and 24 inches — producing a rather surprising variety in results.

The field day program is scheduled to start at 1:00 p. m. The farm is a mile south of Kanawha.

Livestock Council Chides Farm Bureau For "Biased" Query on Check-off Plan

A sharp protest has been lodged with the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation and with the Wright County Farm Bureau by the Wright County Livestock Council, accusing Farm Bureau leadership of inviting opposition to the proposed livestock check-off plan that was widely approved by stockmen of the county last year. At that time, 81 per cent of 1,1551 stock raisers polled in Wright county expressed approval of a proposal to promote red meat by means of funds raised by a voluntary check-off similar to that employed by the dairy industry.

The protest evolved from a recent meeting of members of the livestock organizations of the county held at Clarion to discuss a resolution included in the recently circulated Farm Bureau Resolutions Opinionaire. It is the contention of the stockmen that the question on the livestock check-off was deliberately slanted to encourage Farm Bureau members to reject the check-off proposition.

W. P. Tyrrell, president of the Wright County Beef Producers association, says that the livestock council regarded that material in the opinionaire dealt in a clear-cut and concise manner with the problems facing agriculture on local, state and national levels, with the one exception.

However, it was the feeling of the council that the background material, questions, and/or lack of accurate, reliable information in the meat promotion section — used as a guide to drafting a Farm Bureau resolution on the matter — was misleading, confusing and aimed at creating a false impression. This section, concerned with the aims and purposes of the National Livestock Promotion Board, states:

"At the present time, the promotion of red meats is done largely by the National Livestock and Meat Board. This organization was formed in 1923 and is financed by a voluntary deduction of 2c a head on cattle, two-thirds cent per head on hogs and calves, and two-fifths cent on sheep and lambs. The packers match the amount they collect. This organization emphasizes consumer education and research projects and does public relations in the interest of red meat.

"The budget of the National Live Stock and Meat Board is slightly over $1 million, but it is estimated that the board gets approximately $7 million value in free newspaper space and radio and TV time. They do not buy commercial advertising space. In addition, it is estimated that meat packers and retailers spend $100 million annually in advertising and promoting meat.

"A new meat promotion plan has been proposed, to be financed by an additional national deduction of 10 cents per head on cattle, five cents on hogs and calves, and 2½ cents on sheep. Part of these additional funds would go to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, part to a National Meat Promotion Council and part to a State Meat Production Council.

"Question 1. In your opinion, would the formation of a new council jeopardize the free promotion, publicity, and information now being received by the National Live Stock and Meat Board?

______ Yes ______ No

"Question 2: Do you think producers should enter the direct advertising field?

______ Yes ______ No

"Question 3: Do you favor the proposed additional check-off on cattle, sheep and hogs?

______ Yes ______ No

Members of the local livestock council expressed the belief that the above resolution was so worded for the purpose of registering a negative expression of opinion.

In its protest to the Farm Bureau, the council stated: "We reiterate the aims an purposes of the National Livestock Promotion Board as adopted at its meeting at Ames, Iowa, July 12, 1956 as follows: 'The National Livestock Promotion Board hereby organizes as as representative board of cattle, hog and sheep producers to further the objectives of those segments of the livestock industry in their efforts to increase the sale and consumption of livestock products through research, education, promotion and merchandising methods. This program to be producer financed and producer directed.'

"The Livestock Promotion Board heartily endorses the outstanding work done by the National Live-stock and Meat Board and desires to expand rather than jeopardize their work.

"We the Wright County Livestock Council, feel that the dairy and poultry industries have profited greatly from their check-off program and we, as livestock producers, also wish to improve the quality of our products and promote them through a self-help program."

Mrs. Bert Heykants Writes About Experiences During European Tour

(The following letter of general interest was received last weekend by The Independent from Mrs. Bert Heykants, who is currently touring Europe with her husband and son.)

Dear Belmond Friends:

Just a few lines to let you know how much we have enjoyed the hometown paper. I think few people know how much this can mean to one in a strange land.

We have been having a very interesting and most enjoyable trip. We landed in Rotterdam on July 28th and our first aim was to visit Bert's home in Germany.

We had to drive through Holland and were very much impressed with the beauty and the cleanness of the land. Every home was surrounded by beautiful flowers. It was Saturday and so many people were out in the streets in front of their homes sweeping, scrubbing and cleaning. Many were still wearing the traditional wooden shoes.

On arriving in Germany, Bert noticed many changes that had taken place in the 28 years he had been gone. Much building had been going on. But the effects of the war are very noticeable in Germany. Many of the larger cities such as Emden, Frankfort, Berlin and Munich still have many ruins.

We also visited Switzerland and were much impressed with the beauty of the scenery. We spent some time in Zurich, Lucerne and Berne and took a tour into the Alps. One notices immediately that Switzerland has not felt the effects of war.

Visited Hitler's mountain retreat in Berchtesgaden. This, to us, was a very interesting experience. It seems Hitler is a person the German folks would like to forget.

The section of Austria we visited was much like Southern Germany. The people are very primitive; many times we saw them driving a team of oxen or even one cow and trying to get some farm work done.

As a whole, the highways throughout Europe are much in need of improvement, especially in Germany. The Autobahn, built in the time of Hitler, is quite good, but it also is in need of repair.

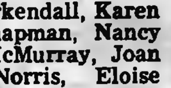
All of Europe has been having a very cold and wet summer. Farmers are having a very hard time to harvest their grain and dry their hay.

We drove into Belgium, left our car at Brussels, and flew to London. Here we spent some time sight-seeing and visiting the countryside. Our hotel was only a five-minute walk from Buckingham Palace, House of Parliament and Westminister Abbey. We also went out to Stratford on Avon and attended a showing of "Hamlet" at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre. Also visited the old Washington Home and Ann Hathaway's cottage. These old homes contained much of interest to us.

Visited Windsor Castle and Warwick and had also visited several old castles on the continent. Some of these dated back to the 12th century.

We are planning to sail for home the latter part of September. We will be looking forward to seeing our Belmond friends before too many more weeks.

HELLO WORLD!



Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Miller of Klemme are parents of a 7 lb. 11¾ lb. daughter, Deborah Ruth, born Sept. 12.

Barbara Beth is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bamman of Klemme for the 9 lb. 2½ oz. baby girl born to them Sept. 13.

A 7 lb. 15 oz. son was born Sept. 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gobeli of Goodell. He has been named James Leonard.

On Sept. 15 a baby girl, weighing 8 lbs. 5¼ oz., was born to Mr. and Mrs. James O. Johnson of Des Moines. Her name is Marcia Janine.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sheriff of Thornton became parents of a 7 lb. 14½ oz. daughter on Sept. 18.

Although Yoshi had shop instruction in Japan several years ago, the use of machinery in carpentry and cabinet-making is entirely new to him. The patient Japanese rely on hand tools to produce their masterpieces of woodworking art — beautiful specimens that our time and labor-saving machines could never match.

That Yoshi is well on his way toward being "Americanized" was very apparent when your reporter called at the Cate Griesy home, where Yoshi is living while attending BHS, to have the pleasant, young man identify the members of his family as they appear in the photograph.

Yoshi was attired in the nether uniform of the American teen-ager, a well-worn pair of faded jeans. Our curiosity as to how he'd "broken them in" so quickly was laid to rest with the explanation that they had been borrowed from a neighbor — so Yoshi could be properly attired for out-of-school hours.

Lloyd Lewis New Local Cubmaster

Last Friday the Cub Scouts of Belmond's Pack 16 were registered for the current year and for the year 1957, 44 strong, and new pack leaders and committee members were appointed. Lloyd Lewis agreed to succeed Leland "Joe" Jenison as Cubmaster and A. K. Ketchum accepted appointment as Lewis's assistant. Mr. Lewis was assistant Cubmaster last year.

Dr. R. E. Misner was named the pack's institutional representative. Pack 16 is sponsored by the Belmond Parent-Teachers association. L. A. Collier will continue as a member of the pack committee and Mr. Jenison and Luin Cox were chosen as new committeemen.

Four Den Mothers have consented to continue in that capacity during the present school year: Mrs. Glenn Eccles, Mrs. Gail Thayer, and Mrs. Robert Misner and Mrs. Leland Jenison, the latter two sharing responsibility for one den.

More Den Mothers are needed very badly, in order that the new year of Cub activities can be launched as soon as possible, Dr. Misner says. Mothers of Cubs who would be willing to serve in that capacity are urged to call Dr. Misner or Mr. Lewis.

CHICKEN DINNER TUESDAY

Annual chicken dinner of the St. Olaf Lutheran church will be served next Tuesday. Serving times will be 5:00, 5:45, 6:30, 7:15 and 8:00 p. m.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

The Ladies Aid of St. John Lutheran church is holding a bake sale Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Tip Top Super Valu store.

Panel Will Discuss Health Problems At County Forum Monday at Clarion

Dr. Clyde M. Berry, associate director of the Institute of Agricultural Medicine at the University of Iowa, and Dr. S. P. Leinbach, Belmond physician who is a member of the Iowa state board of health, will be members of a panel of four that will discuss medical matters at next Monday evening's Wright County Health Forum. The meeting will be held at the Clarion grade school gymnasium, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Discussion will deal with questions on general health, farm injuries and how to prevent them, diseases of animals on the farm and their relationship to human ill health, and new advances in treatment of prevalent sicknesses. Completing the panel that will discuss these matters will be a Wright county veterinarian and a representative of the Iowa State Medical Society.

Mr. Berry possesses the title of "doctor" by virtue of a Ph. D. degree in industrial hygiene granted him by SUI in 1941. A graduate of McKendree college, Lebanon, Ill., in 1933, he was awarded a Master's degree in biochemistry by the University of Illinois in 1936. In 1933-34 he taught in a county school and in 1936-38 was a high school instructor at Freeburg, Ill. He attended the University of Iowa 1938-41, receiving a Master's degree in chemical engineering the year before he completed requirements for his Ph. D.

From 1941 through 1948, Dr. Berry was employed by the U. S. Public Health Service and engaged in a number of studies in the field of industrial health. From 1948 through 1955 he was chief industrial hygienist for Esso Standard Oil company and set up an industrial health program for the firm that is regarded as one of the finest in American industry.

He returned to Iowa in 1955 to become associated with the Institute of Agricultural Medicine, the first organization of its sort in the nation. The institute is still in the formative stage, but is expected to provide the answer to many perplexing farm-health problems in the years to come.

Dr. B. L. Basinger of Goldfield, president of the county medical society, says this is the first time that a forum of next Monday's type has been held in an Iowa county so small in population as Wright. He and other members of the society hope that a good-sized crowd will attend.

It would be helpful, he adds, if questions could be sent in advance by mail to the society's secretary, Dr. Robert F. McCool of Clarion. They may cover any of the mentioned fields of interest. Written questions can also be handed in during the forum and the master-of-ceremonies will direct each to the proper panelist for answering.

Republican Women Pick New Officers

Mrs. R. C. Allbaugh of Eagle Grove was elected to serve a two-year term as president of the Wright County Council of Republican Women at a meeting of that organization held last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Christie. Leona Bras of Belmond is the retiring president.

Other officers elected were Mrs. C. W. Sankey of Clarion, vice president, and Mrs. Ed Ellsworth of Eagle Grove, secretary.

Forty-five women from Eagle Grove, Clarion and Belmond attended the meeting. Speakers were Mrs. James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, wife of the U. S. Representative from the 6th Congressional district; and Alberta Moellering of Woolstock, who gave an interesting report on a recent trip she took to Washington, D. C. Miss Moellering is a senior student in home economics at Iowa State college.

After the talks, lunch was served by a committee and a question and answer period was held.

$20 HOSPITAL GIFT

It is reported by Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen of the Hospital Auxiliary's memorial gift committee that Belmond Community hospital lately received the sum of $20 as a memorial to Herman Tulp. It was given by relatives and friends of the Rowan man, who was a Belmond resident in his early years.

Jake Smidt Dies At Age 92 Years

Funeral services will be held this (Thursday) afternoon for Jake Smidt, 92, who died Tuesday morning at Belmond Community hospital. He had made his home in the Belmond vicinity for 73 years.

Brief rites are to be held at 1:30 at the Smidt home and at 2:00 o'clock at the Immanuel Reformed church, Rev. Johann Schmidt of Latimer officiating. Johnston Funeral home is in charge and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Smidt died after only a brief illness. His death followed that of his wife by barely more than 2½ months. She passed away on June 29.

Born in Germany, Mr. Smidt came to this country in 1883 and settled in the Belmond community. On Oct. 12, 1893, he was married to Etta Steenberg of Belmond and they made their home on a farm near here. They retired from farming and moved to town 33 years ago.

Surviving are three children, all of this community: John, Mrs. Herman (Rena) Kuhlers and Mrs. Herman (Minnie) Daniels. Besides his parents and wife, he was preceded in death by two sisters.

Jury Can't Reach Verdict on Bush

A hung jury resulted in the trial of Herbert Bush, Woolstock, on a charge of incest that opened Monday of last week in Wright county district court at Clarion. There was a 7-5 split among the jurors regarding Bush's guilt, as charged. County Attorney Ralph Austin did not state whether the majority was for conviction or otherwise.

Arguments of the counsels for both the state and defendants were concluded Thursday morning and the jury spent the better part of two days in trying to reach a decision. Friday evening the jury members reported that they were unable to agree on a verdict and were dismissed by Judge Harvey Uhlenhopp.

Marie Boelman of Belmond was among the members of the jury. The others were: Daryl Akers, Olive Kluss, Merlyn Didio and Amy Ladman of Clarion, Richard Poundstone of Dayton township, Marjorie Roper, Genevieve Olson, Azaline Skinner and Ethel Oldaker of Eagle Grove, Maurice Gangsted of Troy township and Theron Welzein of Dows.

Mr. Austin said the first of this week that it is his intention to demand a re-trial during a later term of court.

MRS. H. B. JANSSEN

Newlywed Groom Stricken on Way To Home in Iowa

Happiness that marked the marriage on Friday, Aug. 31, of childhood sweethearts was clouded with sorrow only a few days later when the groom suffered a paralytic stroke. Victim of the stroke was S. E. Rumsey of Evansville, Ind., who three weeks ago Friday took as his bride Mrs. C. Floe Lauderdale Peters of Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey were en route back to Alexander to make their home and had made a stop at the home of his oldest son, Eschol Rumsey, when the elder Mr. Rumsey was stricken and had to be taken to the Sherman hospital at Elgin, Ill. Last Saturday his wife went to Elgin with an ambulance and brought her husband to Belmond, where he is now a patient at Belmond Community hospital.

Mrs. Peters, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lauderdale, and Mr. Rumsey, son of the late Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Rumsey, were married by Rev. Alden Deaton at the Methodist church at Gloconda, Ill. They had known each other ever since their respective families were residents of Eddyville, Ill., when the newlywed couple were children. Attendants at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lauderdale of New Burnside, Ill., brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Barkema and family were Sunday visitors in the Bill Anderson home at Ringsted.

ARDITH JOHNSON WED TO MARLIN JENISON AT TRINITY CHURCH

White baby pom pons and white chrysanthemums decorated Trinity Lutheran church Sunday afternoon, Sept 9, for the wedding of Miss Ardith Johnson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Johnson, and A3/c Marlin Jenison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenison. Rev. O. M. Severseike read the double-ring ceremony.

The pews were marked with white bows and blue streamers. Traditional wedding music was played by Eloise Johnson, who also accompanied Kathryn Andreesen of Olin as she sang "Because," "Oh! Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, Elizabethan collar and finger-tip sleeves. Her finger-tip tulle veil fell from a crown of sequins. She carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Janelle Johnson, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Meredith Jenison, sister of the groom, and Ileen Johnson of Sheffield, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. All three wore identical waltz-length gowns of blue taffeta and blue headbands trimmed in tulle. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations.

Merrill Jenison served his brother as bestman and the groomsmen were Ervin Johnson, brother of the bride, and Samuel Leinbach. Paul Ness of Story City, Airell Clark and Roland Jenison were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for about 200 guests. Dining room hostesses were Mrs. Melvin Richardson of Clarion and Mrs. Herbert Hill. Mrs. Ralph Jenison cut the five-tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with blue and white with white bells.

Mrs. Sanford Ness of Story City and Mrs. Harold Olsen served the coffee. Waitresses were Marlene Smith, Patricia McMurray, Peggy Finn and Mrs. Richard Christensen. Mrs. Jens Johnson, Arlotte Clark and Gladys Eliason were kitchen hostesses.

Elna Jenison was in charge of the guest book. Lorna Kniese of Rolfe, Verda Thompson of Olin and Mary Lou Berhow of Huxley opened the gifts. Receiving the gifts at the door were Steven Olsen, Jerry Ness of Story City and Harley Johnson of Sheffield.

The bride is a graduate of Belmond High school and is attending Luther college at Decorah for the second year. The groom also graduated from Belmond High and is at present serving in the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill.

Go to the ant, thou sluggard; Consider her ways, and be wise. — Prov. 6:6.

"AS MAINE GOES" MEANS REPUBLICANS GOTTA GO TO WORK TO WIN THIS ONE

Outcome of that Maine election will probably do more than any and all of the developments of the two national political conventions to stir up a rattling good election campaign between now and November's E-Day. Not since the old Republican rule of thumb, "As Maine goes etc. etc." was embarrassingly altered to, "As Maine goes, so goes Vermont," have the voters of that particular state won themselves so much attention.

While there seems to be some justification for the Republican claim that Governor Muskie and Frank Coffin of the 2nd Congressional District achieved election more on their own personal merits than due to any specific dissatisfaction over the GOP administration, the election results hold more significance than that.

We pass along what the Christian Science Monitor calls "one jolting bit of mathematics" that suggests the Republican might well re-evaluate the job ahead of it if it is to realize success in November. The Monitor reports: "Historically, when the Republicans get less than 60 per cent of the combined congressional vote (in Maine) they are in trouble nationally. In 1954 the figure was 55.5 per cent, and the Democrats captured Congress. This year it fell below 52 per cent."

Despite this unsettling hint of possible things to come, there is reason to believe that the GOP might turn the Maine outcome to its own advantage if it's regarded as a warning rather than a reason for discouragement. It certainly should serve as proof that Republican party workers have their job cut out for them. Voters must be convinced that the Eisenhower administration has served their best interests well — AND, thus persuaded, they must be gotten to the polls.

Of course, the clock has now made a complete turn and the Democrats will be happy enough to believe that, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." With the same flick of the whip serving to make one party "run scared" and the other gallop to keep ahead, it should be a mighty interesting race!

THEY MAY NOT WIN 'EM ALL, BUT WE LIKE THE LOOKS OF THOSE BRONCOS

While watching the Bronco football team go through its paces for the first time this season last Friday night, it was most pleasing to this writer to note the desire to play that was evident among the boys — all of them. That, and the equally evident good physical condition that practically all of the players are in.

We couldn't help but reflect on the unhappy circumstances that prevailed not too many years ago, when stars of the team often seemed to feel it was a test of their manliness to prove how lightly they could regard training rules and still put in their share of time on the gridiron.

At that time, this situation had persisted for so long that it was all but taken for granted. Then came a coach who insisted, "No train, no play!" And the pendulum made an abrupt swing in the right direction.

This year's Broncos many not win 'em all, but we predict you'll never find them out of condition or short on determination. We're proud to have a bunch of young men like this year's crop of gridders representing Belmond.

SO MAYBE THE MARTIANS ARE CURIOUS ABOUT THAT QUEER PLANET EARTH, TOO

William H. Stringer, staff correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, suggests that while our astronomers have been inquisitively eyeing Mars lately, it could be that we're as much peeped at as peeping. He imagines that an inter-space message might be intercepted one of these days, translating approximately like this:

"Dispatch from Tars Tarkas, your Mars-trotting correspondent, to Zoodanigan Daily Bugle, covering the astronomical observatories witnessing the near approach of planet Earth to Mars:

"Is earth inhabited by intelligent beings? The age-old, perplexing question which has puzzled Martian astronomers down through the ages may at last be settled this year, now that the green-hued planet has approached within 35,000,000 miles of mother Mars.

"A baffling cloud envelope at most times covers this peculiar member of the solar system. At other times, when the clouds disperse, the phenomena which have been observed are either of such peculiar characteristics as to cast doubts on the intelligence of any observable life, or they are subject to other interpretations by our learned ones.

"For instance, a vast network of fine lines, which some of our early astronomers concluded were canals or possibly roadways, has been the subject of much speculation. Some astronmers conclude they are merely cracks and fissures in the surface of a dying planet—some kind of geographical fault.

"Others point out that they terminate at what seem to be crowded metropolitan centers. The fact that beings would choose to live in jam-packed metropolitan centers when vast areas of cool, green oases are observable casts doubt on the intelligence of these creatures, should they exist.

"Recently some very brilliant light-bursts or explosions have been observed over one of the great ocean masses and one of the large land masses. Could these be nuclear developments of the type outlawed on Mars centuries ago?

"Possibly the flying saucers observed hovering over Martian cities in the past decade come from earth—if these earthlings are already sufficiently advanced to develop atomic weapons.

"However, there is serious doubt that earth is inhabited at all. Since large supplies of nitrous chloride are known to be necessary for life, and since the earth's atmosphere contains only minute quantities of this gas, it is difficult to see how any life could be supported. One can conceive a form of life which depends on oxygen for respiration, but this is highly unlikely.

"However, the Martian Government is taking no chances. As usual, during periods of close approach to Earth, the managers of our atmospheric factory are spreading large simulated duststorms over the surface of Mars, and developing the familiar blue haze designed to obfuscate telescopic observation.

"After all, we don't want a lot of little blue men from Earth landing on Mars some bright morning, walking up to one of our beasts of burden, such as a thoat, or zitidar, and saying, "Take me to your President.'

the first time it ball, in as wierd as the Broncos' produce. After the Belmond made its recovered 15 yards three plays Garner's 35. An first down by it was 4th-and-

Jenison galloped to on a keeper— the ball on account and it was 4th-and-12 on the 45. The possibility of punting very plainly never figured in Quarterback Jenison's calculations. On the next play he unleashed a nice pass to Larry Schimp that put the ball just inside the 10. From there, Ron Courson went off left tackle to pay dirt and Bill Murray kicked the extra point to send the Broncs ahead 7-0.

THESE GRIDDERS, members of the BHS freshman-sophomore football squad, will open a four-game schedule Monday evening playing Britt here. They are the boys who will be performing for the Bronco varsity in the next two or three years and local fans can get an interesting peak into the future by watching them go through their paces in the three tilts that they have scheduled at home. Pictured above, left to right, are: front row—Randy Musselman, Marlyn Stoltenberg, Jim Crotty, Roger Ginapp, Gary Porter and Alan Flanagan; second row—Howard Mussell, Roger Hoppel, Merle Robbins, Bob Lerdal, Bruce Leinbach, John Murray, Lynn Jenison and Mike Long; third row—Howard Johnson (manager), Mark Mason, Dean Pals, Dennis Pastour, Jeff Hansen, Merle Anderson, Allen Fuller, Mark McNulty (manager); and back row—Larry Tideback, Clark McNeal, Adolph Ehresmann, Tom McLaughlin, Wayne Boatman, Tommy Hill, Ronnie Kloberdanz and Larry Severson.

Garner Drive Fizzles

After the following kickoff, punts were exchanged and then Belmond got possession as the quarter ended when Gary Ersland covered a Garner fumble on the Cards' 43. Again Belmond was forced to punt and gains of 19 and 14 yards by Allyn Baskerville and one of 10 by Roger Clark, plus nine more on a Clark-Niemeyer pass made up Garner's only sustained drive of the game. It came to an abrupt halt on Belmond's 38 when Leonard Steenblock nabbed a Cardinal fumble.

The ensuing 62-yard march to the end zone by Belmond was featured by a 27-yard ramble by McNulty, a 15-yard Jenison-to-Schimp pass and a final one-foot plunge by Courson for the tally. This time Murray's kick for point went wide—his only failure of the night.

Chandler Intercepts, Scores

Murray kicked off to Garner's eight and Clark returned to the 15. On the first scrimmage play to follow, Jerry Chandler snagged a Clark pass on the dead run and sprinted 30 for the second Purple and White TD in less than a minute of playing time. A Murray kick made it 20-0 for Belmond at halftime.

Where penalties were a constant thorn in the Broncos' hide, fumbles repeatedly caused Garner grief. The Cards fumbled on the first play after the second-half kickoff and again it was Steenblock who claimed the ball—on Garner's 29. Murray hit for four and then 13 to put it on the 12. Another gain of six by Bill was nullified by a holding penalty and the best Belmond could do in the next four plays was return to the 12.

Bronco Penalties Hurt

Garner was forced to punt after making one first down, regained the ball on an interception by Bernie Klemm, and then immediately handed the pigskin back on a fumble that was topped by Merrill Jenison on the Garner's 43. Nice gains by McNulty and Chandler helped advance the ball to the 25 and Rollie Jenison then romped to the eight on a keeper play, only to have another Bronco offside spoil it and give the visitors possession on the 30 a play later.

Murray promptly intercepted a pass on the 45 and returned it to the 22; but at that point Coach Dick Hobbs turned the scoring opportunity over to the reserves and they couldn't get the job done. First came another offside penalty, then a 12-yard loss—the only time Belmond lost yardage from scrimmage during the game. A pass interception by Clark ended the threat.

Murray Sprints 60 Yards

Apparently Murray wasn't satisfied with the way this touchdown opportunity was mishandled, for moments later he took mattters into his own hands. Belmond had the ball on its own 40 when Bill popped through the line on a quick-opener, outsprinted the secondary and raced 60 yards for the final counter. His perfect kick finished the scoring at 27-0.

With second-stringers back in the Belmond line-up, the Cards a desperate effort to post a consolation TD in the remaining minute or so of time, after Murray kicked off into the end zone. They picked up 42 yards and a pair of first downs, but the clock doused their hopes.

McLaughlin Stands Out

Steve McLaughlin, Merrill Jenison and Leonard Steenblock were standouts in the Bronco line, but several of the newcomers to varsity play also showed up pleasingly well. Among them were Larry Stadtlander and Gaylon Roberts. Larry Schimp, playing his first season of football, did commendably both as an offensive end and in the backfield.

Bill Murray, Ron Courson, Jerry Chandler and Tom McNulty all did themselves credit as ball carriers and Rollie Jenison directed operations from his T-quarterback slot very capably.

Roger Clark played a hard game for the losers at quarter and Allyn Baskerville had his moments as fullback. On defense, Linebacker Terry Grieman, Center Jack Diebler and Tackle Bernie Klemm were about Garner's best.

Eagles Lose Grid Ace, D. Rasmusson Via Appendectomy

Britt's hopes for the 1956 football season suffered a stunning blow when Dave Rasmusson, junior halfback, underwent an emergency appendectomy a week ago Friday that will sideline him until late in the season. He was Coach Steve Everett's only experienced ball carrier and very much the sparkplug of the Eagle eleven.

Rasmusson's loss made it necessary for Everett to bring up a freshman, Jim Bartik, to fill out his backfield as Britt suffered a 33-0 larruping at the hands of Clarion last weekend. Sophomores fill two other starting positions as backs, Davey Crocket and Roger Jacobson, at quarter and fullback, respectively. Bob Rasmusson, a junior end, has been drafted for duty at left half.

Coach Everett has apparently resigned himself to a "building year," for he has been using another sophomore as first-stringer in the line—Bob Kahl at end; and is depending heavily on underclassmen for reserve strength. As a consequence, the Belmond Broncos will have a wide edge in experience when they tangle with the Eagles tomorrow night at Britt. Coach Dick Hobbs' biggest concern is that the Eagles' determination to make a good showing despite discouragements might find the Broncs over-confident.

Hobbs says his starting line-up at Britt may find a few changes from that which took the field against Garner. He has named as his starters: Larry Kinseth and either Jon Mehus or Larry Schimp at the ends, Leonard Steenblock and Gary Ersland or Gaylon Roberts at tackle, Steve McLaughlin and Merrill Jenison at guard, John Studebaker at center, Rollie Jenison at quarter, Bill Murray and Jerry Chandler or Ron Courson at the halves and Tom McNulty at fullback.

Jr. Broncs', Colts' Starts Set Back By Garner Move

Start of the Junior Broncos' grid campaign was delayed a week when Garner's coaching staff decided the Cardinal froshmores weren't ready for competition yet and cancelled their game with Belmond scheduled for Monday night. Consequently, the Junior Broncs won't get into action until next Monday evening, when they will play Britt here.

Belmond's junior high gridders also lost out on their opening game, as their tilt at Garner was also dropped. About three dozen junior high candidates have been working out under Coach Paul Hickman, half of them being returnees from last year's squad.

Holthaus, Clarion, Takes Golf Title In Clarmond Play

Golfing activities at Clarmond Country club for the current season were wound up Sunday as final matches were played in both the men's and women's tournaments and prizes were awarded to the flight winners at the close of the afternoon.

New club champions were crowned in both the men's and women's divisions. Clark Holthaus, Clarion barber who was a Clarmond member for the first time this year, edged a fellow-townsman, Bill Wright, to take the men's title. The winner's margin was 3-and-2, as he finished out the 18 to post a medal score of 79.

Mary Gordon Dethroned

Jean (Mrs. Dick) Mueller of Clarion reversed the outcome of her last year's match with Mary (Mrs. Fred) Gordon of Belmond to take the women's finals by a one-up count. In the consolation bracket of the women's tourney, Eva Larson of Belmond was winner over Jane Middleton, Clarion.

Lowest scoring of the afternoon was done in the men's championship consolation finals in which a pair of Belmondites matched shots. Pat Gallagher notched a 75, but was able to edge Dwight Tyrrell only 2-and-1 as both closed with 38's.

Firkens Gets Eagle

Most spectacular finish of the Golf Day finals was that of Ken Firkins, Dows, who was a 5-4 victor over Dr. P. A. Rietz of Belmond in the third flight finals. Needing an eagle three on the 18th hole to break 40 on his closing round, Firkins holed out a long iron from across the CGW railroad tracks to get his 39.

Men's Tourney Results

Other flight results in the men's tournament were as follows:

First flight — Leo Hilton, Sr., defeated Roger Kinseth, 2 and 1.

Second flight — Lyle Oler defeated Frank Patterson, 1 up.

Women's Winners

Consolation winners, as well as first-place and runners-up, were determined in all of the women's flights. Results in this tournament, not previously mentioned, were:

First flight—Audrey Wright defeated Regina Sheffield; consolation — Barbara Christ defeated Marian Gannon.

Second flight — Janyce Kinseth defeated Marion Robson; consolation — Rose Mitsler defeated Beth Row.

Each of the winners in the men's tournament was awarded a steam iron as a prize and all runners-up received a half dozen golf balls apiece. A variety of prizes were presented to the three winners in each of the women's flights.

Elliott's to Stock New Boat Motor

The fisherman and his family will benefit most from mechanical innovations Johnson Motors has built into its 1957 line of Sea-Horse outboards, according to Ellis Elliott of Elliott's Hardware, who recently received information from the factory about the new models he will have in stock soon.

Since more and more families are taking up boating for family recreation, Johnson has boosted the size of its two largest engines to provide the power larger family boats need for efficient operation. Last year's 30 h.p. engine has been increased to a 35 h.p. unit, and an 18 h.p. motor replaces the 15.

VOL. 36 NO. 51 • OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, SEPT. 27, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

BELMOND'S NEWEST office building, which is now near completion, is pictured above. It was built just south of Bowl-Mor bowling alleys for Drs. H. J. Classick and R. E. Misner, veterinarians. Dr. Classick says a little interior work remains to be done but he anticipates he and his partner will occupy the new office in about a month. A rental office will occupy the north half of the building.

$50 Came Tumbling Down

As the autumn leaves began to tumble down this week, two Cash Gift Day awards also tumbled into welcoming hands to place $50 in circulation. Prize winners — both at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday — were Hazel Hembd and Mrs. Fred Asche. Another $300 fluttered, ready to fall, but nobody was there to catch. A total of $350 in CGD moola is again being posted next Tuesday. It will provide four chances at $25 prizes at 2:00 p. m. and five chances at $50 when the clock strikes 3:00.

CHICKEN-AND-BISCUITS

Esther Circle of the Methodist church will conduct a rummage sale and also serve a chicken-and-biscuit luncheon this Saturday at the church basement. Selling of rummage articles will start at 9:00 a.m. and serving of lunch will begin at 11:00 a.m.

ISC Experts Warn Wright County Farmers to Buy Feeder Cattle Cautiously to Safeguard '57 Profits

Farmers attending the fall livestock and feed outlook and management meeting at Clarion last Thursday evening were told that prospects are good for the total United States economy to continue to grow during 1957, but likely at a slower pace. This was the prediction of Dean Brown, Iowa State college farm economist.

Appearing on the program with Brown was Rex Beresford, ISC animal husbandman. The meeting was one of a series being held over the state this fall. It is foreseen by Brown that consumers will have a little more "spendable" income; and he expects this income rise will probably result in a slightly stronger demand for livestock products in 1957.

Cattle Margins Above Normal

Wider feeding margins have resulted from the recent rise in the price of choice and prime slaughter cattle, Brown noted. In fact, margins on cattle being sold this fall are much wider than normal, he pointed out. He commented, however, that feeders would be wise not to expect the relationship between feeder prices and fat cattle prices to hold as favorable as it is currently.

Brown suggested that cattlemen need to do some close figuring this fall to determine how high they can afford to bid for feeder cattle. He believes, though, that if they don't "go off the beam" in bidding up feeder prices there should be moderate profits in cattle feeding in the year ahead.

Sees Cattle Continuing Higher

There will be more long-fed cattle next summer and early fall, according to the ISC economist. Next summer's price rise probably won't be nearly so sharp as this year's, he warns. Heifers aren't likely to sell so close to steers next spring and early summer as they did in '56. However, he anticipates fed cattle to average "a couple" of dollars higher in the first half of next year than in the first half of 1956.

As to hogs, Brown noted that the cutback in the spring pig crop will result in lower slaughter this fall than a year ago. The main difference will come late in the fall, he advised, since most of the cutback was in late spring farrowings. He expects hog prices will average above the levels of a year ago during most of the fall and winter, with the price bottom in Iowa probably around $13 to $14 between mid-November and mid-December.

Feed Production Lower

Winter hog price recovery should be normal, Brown believes, and the hog-corn ratio on pigs farrowed in the spring of '57 should also be about normal. Brown added that the nation's total feed production in '56 was less than the year preceding. The reduction was in corn and small grains; but there is a large carry-over of old grains.

Feed grain prices aren't likely to fall as low at harvest time this year as a year ago, Brown observed. He expects protein feeds will be lower throughout the whole coming year because of the expected bumper crop of soybeans. Brown suggested that if soybeans fall much below loan level at harvest it will pay to store; but he doesn't expect substantial rises over loan rates as likely because the crop is too big.

Heavy Feeders "Risky"

Beresford discussed the outlook for various weight classes of steers, gave feeding tips and summarized research findings on new feeding developments.

He described good to choice heavy feeders (1,000 pounds) as "highly risky" now, stressing they would require large amounts of grain in relation to roughage. He noted that there are now large numbers of heavy steers in lots, and cautioned that a price drop is expected when they are marketed in large numbers early next year.

It was suggested by Beresford that drouth-corn silage may be fed to good to choice yearlings of 600 to 700 pounds, but asserted they would still need considerable grain. Beresford declared there would be less risk involved with this class than with heavy steers.

Choice Calves Best Bet

Medium grade yearlings can be used in feeding programs that include large amounts of roughage, he stated, but emphasized that they must be purchased at a price that will result in a margin when sold. He regards the prices of this grade as too high at present, compared with other grades. He observed that cattle of this type usually sell best in the spring.

Lowest risk operation would be with 400-pound choice calves, in Beresford's opinion. They use feed efficiently, he pointed out; but because increased numbers will be fed, he doesn't expect profits will be as large as those prevailing this fall.

Feeding Advice Given

The specialist advised, in regard to feeding: when feeding low-quality roughage, supplement the ration with protein, minerals, Vitamin A and some energy feed. With vegetable protein relatively low in price, he believes it may be more profitable to purchase low quality hay and supplement it rather than to pay high prices for hay of good quality.

If the grain sorghum crop matures, Beresford recommends that it can best be utilized by combining the grain and feeding it. This grain must be cracked or ground, because of the hard seed hulls. Silage from forage sorghums has about 85 per cent of the value of corn silage, Beresford said.

Uncertain of Antibiotics

As a proven growth stimulator, stilbestrol will increase the rate of gain more than it adds to the cost of the ration, in the opinion of the ISC expert. Silbestrol may be purchased mixed with commercial feeds or straight vegetable meals, he said.

He suggested that antibiotics be considered as still in the experimental stage. They have increased the rate of gain under some feeding conditions at the Iowa experimental station, he said, but results have varied.

BELMOND GRADUATE OF 1940 MAKES INTERESTING REPORT ON LIFE AND TIMES IN MADRID, SPAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jenison have kindly passed on to The Independent, to share with its readers, a letter lately received from their daughter Rosemary (Mrs. Henry) Gillen, who is currently living in Madrid, Spain. She has a job as secretary to the Chief of Production of a U. S. Air Force unit engaged in building air bases. Mrs. Gillen, who is a 1940 graduate of Belmond High school, wrote:

"Here I am in happy Spain, working with all the other happy Americans to build air bases for happy Uncle Sam and Uncle Franco. The per diem rate is terrific (she adds later that her weekly pay runs to $97—plus four weeks of vacation and one of sick leave per year); that's enough about work.

"Now about the trip. The boat trip was lots of fun and, except for the last night, quite restful. We had one day of rough weather, but if I hadn't heard the news announced, I wouldn't have known it. Fortunately, I am a good sailor.

"The train trip from Paris to Madrid took 24 hours, and the train was as bad as the one I rode from Le Havre to Paris—absolutely terrible. I hear there are two good trains in Europe, but these ain't them.

"Madrid is a pretty, overgrown town. It is also quite a boom town now because of the 11,000 Americans living here. The streets and parks are very nice and very well kept. One thing I have noticed about the parks is their cleanliness. I have never seen anyone sitting, standing or walking on the grass, nor are there any bits of paper scattered about. Europeans seem to have greater respect for that sort of thing than Americans.

"All of the new buildings being erected are of very modern design, and present quite a contrast with the ancient ones still standing. The street cleaners (who hose the streets at least twice a day) are very obliging boys—they will also hose your car wheels as you drive by.

"The weather has been marvelous—only four cloudy or rainy days since the middle of June. The sun gets very hot, but the shade must be about 20 degrees cooler. So the solution is simple—stay out of the sun, even if it means standing in the shade of a lamp post.

"And then there are the burros, little, medium and big. The garbage collectors wait in the street every morning for the maids to bring the garbage to their carts. And the braying of the burros is the signal. We wouldn't consider our breakfast a success unless we heard the dear little fellows signal that the world is still right side up.

"We recently moved to another apartment, and are still counting the rooms. So far we have counted 14, which includes the maid's quarters and terrace. It's a rather old but well preserved building, and quite elegantly furnished with heavy, dark, muchly carved furniture; tapestries, brocade drapes, etc.

"There is a buzzer by each bed, and in every other room, for summoning the maid. Maybe I'll develop the habit of having breakfast in bed once we get a maid who can prepare an American style breakfast. A Spanish breakfast is usually pastry and coffee, and that won't get me out of the house. Our lunch hour (?) begins at 2:00 p. m. and ends at 3:30 p. m., and we get off work at 7:15 p. m. Since we start work at 8:45 a.m., it is a long, leisurely day, with a long time between meals.

"The American military personnel stationed in Spain do not wear uniforms. One reason for this is obvious—the Spanish people would feel that an Army of Occupation had arrived. I think there is also an unofficial reason. There are no dirtier, sloppier dressed military men in the world than Spaniards. Of course, there are many reasons for this (the main one being poverty); but the contrast with an American military man would be unbearable for the proud Spaniard.

"I haven't been able to identify all the various police in Spain, but the following is a fairly complete list:

"Civil Guard (equivalent of the Storm Trooper)—sworn to kill anyone the Government considers unessential.

"Traffic Cops—very attractive white-jacketed uniforms with white helmets, usually stand under gaily striped umbrellas; are confusing but very nice.

"Motorcycle Cops—another type of uniform, also unpressed.

"The first shock has worn off, so now I'm as complacent about all these uniformed people as the next person. Some friends of ours once said that when you become complacent about fleas, it is time to leave Europe. Maybe the same is true about unforms, but I'm not leaving just yet!"

Last Friday saw the September term of Wright county district court come to a close, completing one of the busiest sessions from the standpoint of criminal hearings that the court has witnessed in a long time. Judge Harvey Uhlenhopp of Hampton, the presiding magistrate, was called upon to pronounce sentence or assess fines against an even dozen criminal defendants.

Of major interest, though, were two cases which were left unsettled when the juries hearing them were unable to reach agreements. They involved Herbert Busch of Woolstock, being tried for incest, and Norman Davis of Clarion, charged with lascivious acts with a child.

Judge Uhlenhopp recommitted both men to the county jail for another trial. County Attorney Ralph Austin has announced his intention of once more seeking conviction against these two defendants in the October term.

During the September term, six men pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and each was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. They were Harold Richard Hanus and Dean Jule Hanus, both of Clarion; Daniel A. Shadle, Eagle Grove; Wilfred V. Buhr and Jerry Dean Lindstrom, Clarion; and William G. Knox, Belmond.

Thomas L. Arne, Eagle Grove, pleaded guilty to lascivious acts with a child and was sentenced to six months in the county jail. He is to be eligible for parole at the end of four months, if good behavior warrants.

Delbert E. Loux of Clarion, who had been given a parole in January of this year, was heard on a charge of violating that parole and same was revoked. He was committed to the county jail for three months.

Four defendants pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Three were fined $300 each, their driver's licenses suspended for 60 days and they were barred from obtaining liquor books until further order of the court. In this trio were John H. Larson, address not shown; Lillian A. Smith, Rowan; and Oren L. Van Landingham, Wakefield, Kans.

A charge of OMVI filed against Elmer W. Prilipp of Renwick was dismissed when it became apparent to the prosecution that a conviction could not be obtained due to disagreement among the state's witnesses. Prilipp pleaded guilty to a lesser charge in a lower court.

Payne Death Basis Of $75,000 Suit

A petition for damages in the amount of $75,000 has been filed in Wright county district court as an outgrowth of the accident on July 23 near the Galt intersection on Highway 69 that took three lives.

Plaintiff in the suit is W. M. Trowbridge, administrator of the estate of Dennis C. Payne, deceased, and the defendant is H. J. McClatchey of Mapleton, owner of the car which collided with the one in which young Payne was fatally injured.

Besides Payne, 23-year-old proprietor of the Hi Hatt bowling alleys at Clarion, fatal injuries were sustained by his sister Judith and driver of the second car, Everett McClatchey, Mapleton.

It is charged in the petition that negligence on the part of McClatchey was responsible for the collision in which the three young people lost their lives.

JOHN HARBERTS INJURED

Local relatives have been advised than John Harberts, former Belmond resident who now resides at a nursing home at Eagle Grove, broke his collarbone in a fall last week.

Bureau Will Hold Meeting Oct. 2nd

Annual meeting of the Wright County Farm Bureau has been scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 2. President Casper J. "Cap" Hahn has announced it will be held at the Clarion Methodist church basement, starting at 8:00 p.m.

Dan Murphy of the information department of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, who is well known among Iowa farmers for his column in the Farm Bureau Spokesman, will be guest speaker.

Another feature of the meeting will be an illustrated travelogue by "Skip" Westphal, writer and world traveler, who will tell of an African safari in which he participated.

Special music will be provided by Arlene and Ilene Woodley, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Woodley of Rowan. The girls' organ and piano duets have provided entertainment for many farm gatherings.

2 Belmond Wives Granted Divorces

Two divorces involving Belmond people were granted in the closing week of the September term of Wright county district court at Clarion. Shirley Smith was given a divorce from Richard L. Smith and Wanda Mae Mehl from Ernest Mehl.

Mrs. Smith was awarded custody of the couple's minor child, Rickie, and the defendant was ordered to pay his former wife $40 per month child support.

Custody of a minor child, Warren Lee, was also awarded to Mrs. Mehl. Her ex-husband was ordered to pay $65 per month toward the support of the plaintiff and her child.

Both divorces were granted on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

MICHIGAN VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Birdsall of Ann Arbor, Mich., were guests in the Preston Tyrrell home Wednesday of last week.

Dave Long Elected by BHS Seniors 1956-57 Student Council President

• • •

DAVE LONG
Heads BHS Student Body

Dave Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Long, was elected Tuesday by members of the senior class to serve as president of the Belmond High school student council for the 1956-57 school year. He was chosen over two other candidates who, like himself, had earlier been nominated by their classmates. His rivals were Carol Pals and Marlin Daniels.

As a member of the student council last year, when he was one of two representatives on that body named by the junior class, Dave was elected in April as president of the North Central District of the Iowa Association of Student Councils. This honor came to him at the district conference held in April at Mason City, at which 46 high schools from this area were represented.

During his high school career, Dave has earned the respect of his schoolmates by both his versatility and leadership. He has been a three-sport athlete, twice winning major B's in track and once in basketball.

His footbal activity was limited last fall due to an injury, and he failed to win a letter in that sport. This season, however, he is the Bronco varsity's No. 2 quarterback and last Friday night made a spectacular showing at Britt that produced two touchdowns on a pair of runs that totaled 77 yards.

In addition to his other extra-curricular interests last year, he filled a role in the junior class play. Dave also rates well in scholarship and ranks in the upper fourth of his class on the basis of grades.

His outstanding leadership and citizenship were given recognition last spring by his selection as Belmond's delegate to the 1956 Hawkeye Boys State.

CCC Certificates As Soil Bank Pay Being Mailed Out

Issuance of payments earned by Wright county farmers under 1956 soil bank acreage reserve agreements was begun last Thursday. Oscar Hanson, ASC office manager, says that the state ASC office forwarded only about a third of the total drafts necessary under the 773 agreements signed for the present crop year.

The county ASC committee asks that producers who have not received their payments during the past week please be patient. All drafts will be mailed out as soon as they are made available to the county office.

Maximum benefits amounting to $439,883.32 were called for under the agreements, but Mr. Hanson says that actual payments will be less than that figure due to failure or inability of some farmers to meet compliance requirements.

Payments at this time will be made only to farmers who: (1) complied fully with their agreements, or (2) came within 80 per cent of meeting the acreage reduction called for in their agreements. In the latter classification, payment will be made promptly only if the county ASC committee determines that the farmer involved did not knowingly or wilfully fail to comply in full and providing that he met all other acreage reserve requirements.

Agreements of farmers who have not come within 80 per cent of meeting their designated acreage reserve reduction, whether knowingly or unknowingly, will be laid aside for the present. In such cases, determination of violation liability will be made later.

All payments will be made by the county ASC office in the form of Commodity Credit corporation certificates. These certificates are redeemable at once at face value, or later on at 105 per cent of face value in exchange for government owned grain or redemption of grain under price-support loans.

One Agency Left Off of Chest List

Rev. Ralph Meyer, president of the Belmond Community Chest Council, says the name of one new Community Chest affiliate was not included in the list that appeared in last week's Independent.

In addition to the Wright County Association for Retarded Children, the Iowa Mental Health association has been added to the list of organizations that will receive financial support from the Belmond Chest.

Each of these new affiliates is being allowed $100 in the budget that was drafted in preparation for the 1956 fund-raising campaign. As previously announced, the campaign goal will remain at the same sum as last year, $4,900, despite inclusion of the two new agencies.

BACK TO COLLEGE

Bob Barry returned to the parental James T. Barry home a week ago last Saturday after spending the summer working for the Iowa Highway Commission at Sheldon. Last Sunday, he returned to Loras college at Dubuque where he is a junior in the engineering college this year.

NAMES OF NINE FROM BELMOND DRAWN FOR OCTOBER JURY DUTY

Names of petit jurors drawn for the October term of Wright county district court were released this week by Clerk Bessie Johnson. They have been ordered to report at 10:00 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 22. The four-week term will open on Oct. 15, Judge John M. Schaupp of Fort Dodge being the presiding magistrate.

One criminal and one civil jury case have already been assigned for hearing during the October term. The criminal case, involving operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, is the State of Iowa Vs. Russell Edwin Pepper. The civil case involves the will of the late Maude Ross Graffunder, objections to which have been filed by George Trowbridge of Dows.

Only nine of the 75 October jurors were drawn from Belmond or vicinity. They are William Dickinson, Hale Mason, Miriam Gowdy, Mary Hildebrand, Verna Riggs and Lenora Lathrop, Belmond; Reuben Nelson, Belmond township; Minnie Pals, Grant township; and Gerald McNulty, Pleasant township.

Names of other jurors drawn, according to post office address, are: Clarion — Max Lawson, Gladys Southard, Lila Witzel, Cora Killius, Elizabeth Bartlett, Frances Martinson, Joan McGonigle, Novaleen Jenkins, Mae Tillman, Cecil Pate, Madeline Thompson, William Kee, Deloris Olson, Merritt Armour, R. B. Wilson, Joyce Stevens, Burton Ross and Della Lloyd.

Poppy Day This Saturday

Annual Poppy Day of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is to be held this Saturday. As usual, the VFW Auxiliary will be in charge of selling the flowers. Needy families of disabled veterans, as well as the veterans themselves, benefit from the funds derived from Poppy Day. Mrs. Glenn Eccles, president of the auxiliary, urges generous support of the Poppy Day sale so Belmond can give its full share of support to the cause of veteran rehabilitation and support of veteran's widows and orphans.

RITES CONDUCTED MONDAY FOR DOERINGSFELD INFANT

Graveside rites were held at 10:00 a.m Monday at the Belmond cemetery for James Doeringsfeld infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Doeringsfeld. Mr. Doeringsfeld is a member of the Belmond High school faculty and, until her resignation last spring, Mrs. Doeringsfeld was vocal music instructor in the lower grades.

The Doeringsfeld baby was stillborn at Belmond Community hospital last Saturday evening. The services Monday were conducted by Rev. M. L. Jones of the Methodist church. Johnston Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

ON DORMITORY COUNCIL

Carole Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thompsen, has been elected by her fellow residents at Hilleboe hall, women's residence at St. Olaf college, to serve on the dormitory council.

Nels Nelson Rites Held Last Sunday

Funeral services for Nels Andrew Nelson, 70, were conducted Sunday at 1:15 p. m. from Johnston Funeral Home and at 1:30 o'clock from the Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. O. M. Severseike officiating.

Mr. Nelson was stricken very suddenly Thursday, just before noon, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Adolph Thompson, where he had been making his home. He collapsed in the yard after pushing the lawn mower for a short time and died before medical aid could be summoned.

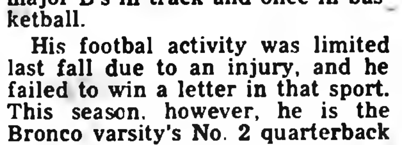
An automobile salesman by occupation, he had been employed at Kanawha, Algona and Fort Dodge. He and his wife moved to Belmond about four years ago and she passed away only a few months later. Mr. Nelson had been in reasonably good health, but had suffered two previous heart attacks.

He was born April 9, 1886, in Polk county, the son of William C. and Caroline Nelson. He was married to Evah Thompson and two children were born to them — Herschel, now living at San Francisco, Calif., and another son, Gerald, who died at the age of nine months.

Surviving in addition to the son are three brothers and four sisters: Hector, Mrs. Adolph (Lottie) Thompson and Mrs. Tolford (Anna) Thompson, all of Belmond; Carl and Pearl Nelson, Minneapolis; Lena Nelson, Evanston, Ill.; and Walter, Houston, Tex.

Burial was in the family lot at the St. Olaf Lutheran church cemetery.

The "Independent," by Any Other Name Might Have Been "Republican," Instead



If the power of the weekly press is all that its publishers would like to regard it, the Democratic party ought to enjoy the heaviest support from the "grassroots" in this fall's national election by something like a 52-48 margin. That is, if there's any significance in names.

The American Press, which identifies itself as "An Independent Magazine for Home Town Newspapers," has just made an analysis of the names of weekly newspapers throughout the country and found that the Democrats appear to have a definite edge in influence.

The name "Democrat" figures in the mastheads of 208 weeklies, whereas only 163 have "Republican" incorporated in their names. The Belmond Independent is joined by 164 other weekly newspapers in nominally claiming a politically "Independent" policy.

Among the "Independent" newspapers, however, 25 per cent admit to Republican leanings and 10 per cent confess that their politics are Democratic. That would bring the number of admittedly Democratic sheets up to 225 and place 204 in the Republican ranks. That would seem to put a shade over 52 per cent of the "committed" weekly press in Adlai Stevenson's camp.

Not surprisingly, 125 of the "Democrat" newspapers are published in 15 southern or border states. Largest total of any state is in that hotbed of Truman Democracy, Missouri, where 27 papers are confessed followers of the donkey symbol.

The largest cluster of politically-named papers in the nation is to be found in the four-state area that includes Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, along with Missouri. Cornbelt publishers seem more inclined than others to take pride in making their politics known.

To partly balance its host of Democratic publications, Missouri has 20 "Republican" weeklies and a couple of "Independents" — a total of 49 papers. Illinois matches that total with 16 "Democrats," 18 "Republicans" and 15 "Independents."

Indiana weekly publishers print 14 papers under the "Democrat" label, 15 "Republicans" and five "Independents." Iowa has eight weeklies that include "Democrat" in their titles, 11 "Republicans" and five others besides Belmond's that are "Independent."

A former Missouri publisher who recently analyzed the attitude of newspapermen toward political tags borne by their papers found that some stick to the name because it actually reflects the political stand of the publisher, but many indicated that they continue to use the name merely because it is the traditional name of an established paper.

The analyst, D. Wayne Rowland, now on the faculty of Southern Illinois university, added: "In American history, politics and newspapers have been closely allied. Editors in the party press period for 50 years, until the 1830's, damned and criticized rival political leaders and journalists in unrelenting, personal and vicious printed blasts.

"Economic changes since have relieved newspapers from this dependence upon financial support of a political party. Higher standards of responsible journalism emerged gradually. Today most metropolitan newspapers and some non-metropolitan newspapers boldly declare their independence of any political party, even if they consistently support one party.

"But many publishers of Democratic or Republican newspapers in Missouri think of an 'Independent' newspaper as one which tries to straddle political fences or ignore politics, is spineless and fickle, or feels no political responsibility and, therefore, shows poor citizenship."

It might be said in behalf of the publishers of this newspaper that they regard their publication "Independent" only to the degree of reserving the right to criticize political policy with which it disagrees, regardless of party. But by-and-large, The Independent admits to Republican preference — and is wholly satisfied to have the fact known.

MESERVEY NEWS

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

PTA Holds First Meeting of Year

A large group of parents, children and school patrons attended the regular meeting of the Meservey Parent-Teachers association held Monday evening of last week at the schoolhouse at which the teachers were welcomed. The new officers of the PTA and Music Mothers club were installed by outgoing PTA President Keith Dunton.

The new PTA president, Mrs. Harry Ostendorf, responded and then welcomed all present. The teachers were presented with corsages and boutonnieres, after which they were personally welcomed by all present.

At the close of the evening lunch was served by a committee of parents.

Joyce Nordman accompanied friends from Greene to a football game at Tripoli Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Quandt were Sunday dinner guests at the Fred Quandt home at Clear Lake. Mrs. LaVern Johnson of Ventura was also a guest.

CLIFFORD BROGAN DIES

Word was received by Meservey friends over the weekend of the death of Clifford Brogan at Rockwell City. A former Meservey resident of some 30 years ago, he had lately made his home at Lake City. Graveside services were to be held this Wednesday at Amsterdam cemetery, Goodell.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Herwig and girls of Aplington were Sunday dinner guests at the Herbert Basener home. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel and their house guests, the Kitsons.

The Helping Hand society served lunch at the Belmond Sale Barn for their final evening of the month of September. The money earned will be used by the society in sending cards and flowers and keeping the parsonage and church kitchen in shape.

Mrs. Hannah Pfaltzgraff accompanied her son, Carl Boeckmeier of Dumont, on Saturday to his home where on Sunday she attended the Golden Age services at the Dumont E. U. B. church. On Wednesday she will attend the 50th anniversary of the Cemetery society of which she is a charter member.

Mrs. Letha Strasburg is a patient in the Mason City Park hospital for medical treatment and observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foss of Hampton were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Enno Ostendorf and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Enderson and Rodney.

Mrs. Nordman Receives Award At 4-H Banquet

Mrs. Viv Nordman and Jeralynn Pals attended the 4-H banquet Monday evening in Mason City in honor of outstanding 4-H boys, girls and leaders. All were guests of Mason City business men. This is an annual affair and only boys and girls who have not attended before and who are senior members may attend.

For her outstanding leadership, Mrs. Nordman was awarded a trip to Chicago in November to attend a national 4-H meeting.

LITTLE CATTLE FEEDERS

Little Cattle Feeders 4-H club met with parents of the members for a pot-luck supper last Thursday evening at the Meservey schoolhouse. Election of officers was held, resulting as follows: Kenneth Schmale, president; Sharon Hall, vice president; Sharon Morris, secretary and treasurer; Donald Gobeli, reporter. Larry Lauen was the retiring president.

Date of the monthly meetings was changed to the first Monday of each month. The next meeting of the club will be held at the schoolhouse on Nov. 5. Two new members were admitted to the club. Other farm boys or girls 10 years of age or older, who are interested in the club's objectives, will be welcomed as members. They are invited to attend the meeting Nov. 5, which will start at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth, Nancy and Dennis of Klemme were Sunday evening visitors at the Virgil Schluter home.

Mrs. Mary Thomas spent Sunday at the Ray Peters home at Swaledale.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Schluter, Sharon and Sandra were entertained at a fish-fry picnic at State Park Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph James and Kathleen. Miss Harris and Melvin James were also guests.

Mrs. Vic Nordman, Joyce and Bobbie visited relatives in Clarksville over the weekend. Mr. Nordman, JoAnn and Dick attended the Great Western railroad picnic at Oelwein on Saturday, going by chartered train. They reported having had a wonderful time. They enjoyed a free dinner and refreshments all day, free rides, bingo, horseshoe, races, ballgames, golf, drawings and tours all free to employees of the railroad company and their families. Approximately 3400 attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Boelman and Rhoda left Wednesday for their home in Tucson, Ariz., after a two-week visit in Minnesota and in Meservey in the parental Ben Boelman home and with other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Cora Ralston spent several days this past week in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ackermann, in Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lage left last week on a trip to Canada and Nebraska.

Shirley Ostendorf attended the Clemons-Nedved wedding dance at Duncan last week. The bride was the former Marian Clemons of Thornton and at one time a nurse in the Belmond Community hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Clemons of Thornton.

E. U. B. CHURCH NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. Dumke and son of Cedar Falls were Sunday guests of Mrs. P. W. Pfaltzgraff. Rev. Dumke was the guest minister in the E. U. B. church both morning and evening.

The Y. F. of the E. U. B. church met Monday evening at the church for their regular monthly meeting with President Della Mae Avery presiding. Spend-a-Days were collected. Following the regular meeting, recreation was conducted by members and lunch served by Sharon Morris and Janet Messelheiser.

Helping Hand Society Met

The Helping Hand Society of the E. U. B. church met on Thursday afternoon with President Barbara Morris presiding. Devotions were led by Mrs. Leslie Pals. Dues and sale barn lunch donations were taken. Reports were heard and during the meeting the ladies quilted on a large bed quilt and on a small baby quilt, the blocks having been made by the late Mrs. Simon Fischer, a former member of the society. These quilts will be sold at the annual bazaar to be held soon. It was voted to hold the bazaar this fall. Following the business meeting, lunch was served by Mrs. Harwood Avery, Mrs. Jesse Althen and Mrs. N. S. Faaborg.

A group of ladies of the E. U. B. church met several days last week and this week at the church parlors where they enjoyed quilting on two quilts being prepared by the Helping Hand Society for the annual bazaar.

Belmond took full advantage of mistakes made by the inexperienced Britt Eagles last Friday night to chalk up its second North Iowa conference win of the season, 39 to 0. As in their win over Garner, it was difficult to estimate the Broncos' actual strength because of the weakness of the opposition. Certainly the Purple and White regulars looked impressive as they capitalized time after time on fumbles recovered from their green opponents. On the other hand, the home crowd had every reason to be proud of the way the young Eagles refused to quit, in spite of continual breaks against them.

Strangely enough, Belmond outdowned Britt only six 1st-and-10's to four, as the Broncos repeatedly scored on long jaunts that didn't show up in the first-down column. Four of the winners' first downs were produced by a 55-yard march immediately after the opening kickoff. Highlights of this series of plays were a 17-yard sprint by Ronnie Courson and a 10-yarder by Rollie Jenison.

Score Called Back

Picking up 52 yards in 11 plays, the Broncs sent Courson over from the Britt three-yard line for an apparent TD only to have the counter nullified by the first of eight Belmond penalties — five of which were for 15 yards apiece. A pass from Jerry Chandler to Jon Mehus made up for the miscue, however, going 18 yards for the first score. Bill Murray's kick attempt for conversion was blocked.

Two plays after the ensuing kickoff, Leonard Steenblock covered a Britt fumble on the Eagle's 21. Belmond lost five yards on an offside and then a 26-yard touchdown ramble by Chandler was made useless by another 15-yard setback for holding. It was only a reprieve for the Eagles, though; for after Jenison made five on a keeper, Chandler found Murray completely in the open with a pass and it was 12-0 for Belmond. The count stayed that way when Murray kicked wide on his conversion try.

Britt came back with its only offensive display of the evening. Starting from the 24 after a 14-yard runback of the kickoff, the Eagles picked up 13 on a Bob Rasmusson to Duane Hansen pass. After three cracks at the line were two yards shy of making 1st-and-10. Rasmusson faked a kick and went for 11 more. Moments later, Britt was left no choice but to punt and Belmond took possession on its own 30.

On the next play, Tom McNulty broke into the open and appeared headed for a TD when he was brought down from behind by Davey Crockett on the Britt 20. Four tries at the line gained 11 yards, but a backfield in motion penalty on the fourth thrust set the pigskin back on the 16 and a re-try failed by a yard to make it 1st-and-10. Britt immediately drew a similar penalty and then Jacobson was guilty of another fumble, which Mehus recovered on the Eagles' three. Rollie Jenison took it over from there and Murray booted the extra point to make it 19-0.

Long Scores on Runback

There were no further fireworks during the remainder of the first half, but the pyrotechnics began again soon after play resumed following the rest period. Murray kicked off over the goal and three Britt plays netted a minus three yards. Rasmusson got off a punt to the 45, which was caught by Dave Long. He got one nice key block to get him on his way, picked up excellent interference at the west side of the field and dashed all the way to the end zone. Murray split the uprights with his kick to make it 26-0.

Three plays after the next kick off, a familiar story was re-enacted. Jacobson fumbled, Mehus recovered, and it was Belmond's ball on Britt's 28. After a 14-yard gain by Murray, the script became all too familiar again as a 15-yard holding penalty marched the ball back to the 32. DaDean Obrecht made nine, and then two; Chandler tossed to Mehus, who made a spectacular catch good for another 13 yards; then Courson knifed off left tackle to pay territory. Murray converted for the third, consecutive time to send the Broncs ahead 33-0.

Substitutes Take Over

Coach Hobbs had substituted more or less sparingly up to this point, but sent a full team of reserves into the fray when Belmond shortly claimed the pigskin on the Eagles' 28 as the result of another Britt fumble — grabbed by Steve McLaughlin. The Broncs stayed true to their role by notching another holding penalty which forced a punt.

Dave Long continued his heroics by covering still another Britt bobble three plays later. Britt held for downs, but then Davey Crockett fumbled a punt by Long and it was Belmond's ball on Britt's 32. On the very next scrimmage attempt Long cut loose on what was perhaps the night's finest run. Pulling away from several tacklers and fancily sidestepping others, the slender quarterback went the full distance to bring the count to 39-0. It stayed that way when a plunge for point misfired.

Steenblock Outstanding

Belmond got still another chance to tally when Britt had to punt from its 14 and Obrecht returned to the 12. A third-down smash by Long left four yards to go for a 1st-and-10, but too much time in the huddle brought a five-yard penalty and this opportunity went up the flue.

Steenblock was the best defensive fineman on the field and probably got more tackles than any other two Broncos. Steve McLaughlin and Larry Stadtlander were also standouts in the forward wall. Chandler turned in one of his best games, from every standpoint.

Murray and McNulty did bang-up jobs defensively, and Long's all-round performance suggested he may be getting in considerably more game time in the future than he has heretofore. Murray's kickoffs were decidedly something to watch.

Bob Rasmussen and Davey Crockett both did creditably in the Britt backfield, and Duane Hansen was Coach Steve Everett's most dependable man in the line.

Deadline for Deer Licenses, Oct. 12

Iowa deer hunters are again being reminded by the conservation commission of the Oct. 12 deadline for shotgun deer hunting license applications. By Sept. 17, the commission had received 1,392 applications for gun licenses and 309 applications for bow and arrow deer licenses. There is no application deadline for the bowhunting licenses.

Commission officials said that no gun deer license applications can be accepted after Oct. 12, and that a limit of 6,000 gun hunting licenses will be issued. An unlimited number of bowhunting licenses will be issued.

Deer hunting license applications are now available from all state conservation officers. They should be completed and returned with $10 to the State Conservation Commission, East 7th and Court, Des Moines.

Northwood Plays Here Friday Night In Key North Iowa Conference Tilt

Belmond football fans will have an opportunity tomorrow night to learn just how good this year's Bronco gridders really are when they play host at 8:00 o'clock to Northwood's defending North Iowa conference champions.

Coach Dick Hobbs reports that the spirit of the Purple and White team has been excellent and the boys have themselves pretty well convinced that "the bigger they are, the harder they fall."

Late in the game last year that Northwood won 13 to 7, Belmond had three chances from the five-yard line to tie or win the contest but couldn't make the distance. As it turned out, that failure deprived the Broncos of a share of the 1955 NIC title—and they would very much like to make amends.

Both Whipped Garner

Little of the two teams' comparative strength can be told from their appearances against Garner. The Broncs beat the Cards 27-0 in their opening game, but penalties deprived them of a couple of touchdown opportunities and generous use of reserves slowed down the Belmond offense during portions of the tussle. Last Friday, the powerful Vikings romped over the Cardinals, 33 to 0.

Laverne Rohlfsen, the new coach at Northwood, has been pleased with the development of his first-string but says the squad doesn't have the depth it did a year ago. One of his brightest line prospects, big Gary Lee, a second team all-conference tackle as a sophomore last year, had a calcium deposit develop in one leg, it is reported, and will be lost for the entire season.

Reyerson A Standout

Mace Reyerson, a 1st team NIC choice last fall as a 165-pound junior, has been shifted from quarter to left half and will unquestionably stack up as one of the hardest-running ball carriers in the loop. Gary Rapp, all-NIC tackle in '55, has been converted to a fullback. He weighs 180. Completing the backfield are 200-pound Jay Gullickson at quarter and Jerry Brunsvold at right half.

The Viking line isn't as heavy as a year ago, but will still outweigh Belmond's. Rohlfsen's starters are: Larry Reeder (150 pounds) or Harlan Sime (145) and Bob Holtan (158), ends; Victor Edwards (180) and Bernie Foss (213), tackles; Joe Bergen (150) and Jerry Hopperstad (168), guards; and Bob Micklick (181), named to the all-conference 2nd team last year, at center.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Belmond's bowlers are getting into "mid-season" form in right short order this year. Several keglers in the men's leagues have already broken into the 600 circle—Ed Albers last week with a 645 and Anson Avery the week before with 648, among them.

Unquestionably the most sensational performance to date, though, was that of Donna Robertson rolling last week with the Rowat-Murray team in the Women's league. She obliterated all previous series records in local women's pin competition with a 243-206-159—608. She started that big game with five strikes in a row, and didn't have a single open frame.

Ralph Jones, busting 'em for The Independent in the Mainstreeters' league last week opened his third line with a pair of spares and then clicked off seven, consecutive strikes! He missed in his final frame, though, and ended up a pin less than Donna's 243.

Kinseth's Hot-Pointers, to their handicap embarrassment, average 187 per line for a net of 2,809 in their very FIRST league start of the season—against The Independent's team, we regret to say. The week following they average 15 pins less per game—but last week they again netted a shade more than 180 per line. That's good bowling ANY time of the year.

Local footbal fans were happy to see the North Iowa conference get some attention last Friday from Brad Wilson in his D.M. Register sports column. Don't know if he got the dope through his own initiative, or if was supplied by the new NIC coaches' association. At any rate, it was nice to have the North Iowa boys get a moment in the limelight. For too many years, it's seemed tat the NIC received not nearly the publicity that it deserved as a good, Class A conference.

Dick Hobbs and Jack Steinberg tell us that the coaches are really resolved that the loop is going to get more publicity in the future than it has in the past. Statistics and the like are being sent in to the secretary of the coaches' organization each weekend, so data can be combed out for forwarding to the press.

This column has been urging a move of this nature for a number of years. We hope the coaches live up to their good resolutions. It will undoubtedly add up to more recognition for NIC stars when annual all-state selections are made. Wilson's run-down on the conference outlook agreed with our own, incidentally; with Northwood and Forest City stacking up as the top contenders for the championship and Belmond's Broncos cast in the role of darkhorse possibility.

That Forest City-Clear Lake game provided Example No. 1247-X9 that statistics don't mean much in the game of football. The losing Lions gained 161 yards to the winning Indians' 138. Yet the score (20-8) quite accurately reflected the difference between the two teams. Clear Lake has 15 lettermen back this year—so Forest City's potentialities are fairly apparent! With break-away runners like Jim Hansen and Ted Nillsen in the ball-carrying department, a team can make a shambles of a game in mighty short notice.

Forest City fans are well pleased with the coaching technique of the new FCHS mentor, Wally Stittsworth. We were interested to learn that Wally has a twin brother who is high school coach at Lyle, Minn.

When Coach Hobbs has his gridiron warriors conclude a practice session with a lap around the new track, it's more strenuous assignment than it might at first appear. Several carloads of loose cinders have been spread on the oval, and they make the jaunt about the equivalent of trotting through loose sand.

We suspect that the maneuver serves a double purpose, so far as Hobbs is concerned. Not only is it a good leg-conditioner, but it'll help to get those cinders packed.

Dick's hoping to see Belmond with one of the finest tracks in the area, by the time the new one is put in top shape. Incidentally, even some local sports fans who have been luke warm toward the new emphasis at BHS on track admit that last spring's sprint training has apparently been beneficial to several Bronco backs.

Further evidence that the NIC coachs ARE on their toes this fall was provided by last Friday's D. M. Register high school football poll. If coaches don't support their own leagues, their teams get NOWHERE in these polls. But among the Class II schools, there in 13th place was Forest City, in 19th was Belmond, and in a tie for 28th, Northwood.

The Indians tallied 79 votes, the Broncs 52, and the Vikings 40.

Farther down in the list was Lake Mills with 26, Buffalo Center with five and even Garner, with one. We don't go along with the ratings — and of course, actually, Forest City and Belmond are both Class I schools by student-body size. Last year, Northwood got virtually NO attention in the poll, despite racking up an undefeated season!

Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves. — Matt. 7:15.

FARM BUREAU WON'T BECOME STRONGER LOCALLY BY BALKING CHECK-OFF PLAN

A relatively "weak" Farm Bureau county for some years, from the standpoint of membership, Wright county is not likely to become any stronger in support of the Farm Bureau Federation if there are many repetitions of such incidents as the check-off wrangle that was reported on the front page of The Independent last week.

It will be recalled that Wright was one of two pilot counties in Iowa chosen for a poll of sentiment on the proposal to promote the sale of red meat by means of funds produced by a voluntary check-off on livestock sales. Of 1,155 stock raisers in this county questioned on the matter, 81 per cent expressed approval of the idea.

When the Farm Bureau Resolutions Opinionaire was to all appearances deliberately slanted to encourage opposition to the plan, the stockmen who have been urging introduction of the check-off were very understandably indignant. They felt that the Farm Bureau, for motives not readily clear, was going out of its way to defeat a proposal that a majority of this county's farmers regard would further their best interests.

The tiff between the Wright County Live Stock Council and the Farm Bureau inspires repetition of an oft propounded question: does the Farm Bureau leadership consider its foremost responsibility that of interpreting and representing farm opinion, or moulding farm opinion? Certainly in this instance it has set out to do the latter.

As excuse for its stand, the Farm Bureau maintains that, with a producer and packer-derived annual budget of just over $1 million, the National Livestock and Meat Board currently wangles AT NO COST approximately $7 million value in free newspaper space and radio and TV time. Let it be said here and now that no part of that FREE publicity is obtained through the good-heartedness of The Independent. We don't like to be gouged — even by your friends; and any handouts we get from the National Livestock and Meat Board promptly go into the round file.

The dairy industry's self-help program, financed by a check-off the livestock raisers of Wright county would like to copy from, has been demonstrably successful. It's promotion of dairy products appears regulary in the weekly and daily press, national magazines and over the air via both radio and TV. It SELLS, rather than "educates." It's doing a job and doing it well.

Obviously, with all its millions of dollars worth of free publicity (and we're extremely dubious of how bona fide that $7 million figure is), the Livestock and Meat Board has NOT been doing a correspondingly good job for the meat industry. Maybe it's because "beggars can't be choosers" as to the KIND of publicity that can be obtained gratis.

At any rate — and NOT because we're influenced by the very modest amount of PAID promotional advertising that might come OUR way, you may be assured—we believe the Farm Bureau is all wrong in discouraging the livestock industry from seeking aggressively a solution to its own problem. So long as such incidents occur, the Bureau will continue to experience difficulty in reaching membership quotas, not only here in Wright county but elsewhere.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS OF FARMERS BROADENED BY REP. DOLLIVER'S EFFORTS

Rep. James I. Dolliver did a good favor for farmers of his 6th Congressional District, and other farmers in general, during the latest session of Congress that may well have gone unnoticed.

Under the Social Security law as it stood after self-employed farmers were first made eligible for benefits, those farmers who handled their accounts on a cash basis were allowed an optional method of figuring their net earnings for Social Security purposes. This option was favorable to them in building larger benefits; but farmers operating on an accrual basis and members of farm partnerships were barred from making use of it.

Now the latter two classes of farmers can utilize the same liberalizing option, to their considerable advantage. Rep. Daniel Reed, top ranking member of the House ways and means committee, wrote to Mr. Dolliver subsequent to the close of 1956 session of Congress: "Again, let me convey to you the appreciation of our members for having brought this matter to the attention of Congress. While I am sure that this is a matter which will be of interest among the farmers of your own district, I know that this change in the law which you sponsored will be of great benefit to farm families throughout the nation."

Farmers interested in learning in greater detail what was achieved in their interest by the Dolliver-proposed amendment can do so by writing to Mr. Dolliver at Fort Dodge for a pamphlet entitled, "The Rights of Farm People under the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Law."

BEAUTIFUL

FORD

FOR 1957

From the road up, 1957 Fords are a complete departure from previous models. They will be unveiled by Ford dealers in 19 body styles, of which this is the four door Victoria, a member of the new "Fairlane 500" series. Fairlane models are nine inches longer and four inches lower than their 1956 counterparts. Though the new models are lower, interior headroom is as great as last year, since the car's chassis and floor are re-designed for a lower center of gravity.

Broncos, Britt Scoreless Tie

gh the Belmond frosh- had to settle for a 0-0 tie in season's opener with Britt Monday night, Coach Jack rg was well pleased with m's performance. He had ar praise for the defensive which held the Eaglets to vir- no gain in the first half.

Comprising this defensive unit Allen Fuller and Jim Crotty, Dean Pals and Bob Kurtz, Larry Severson and John guards. Coach Steinberg made special mention of the of Roger Hoppel and Ron- Kloberdanz and the quarter- of Lynn Jenison.

Belmond once penetrated to 's 20-yard line, but could get closer to a score. Britt put on sustained march of about 45 to the Junior Broncs' 17-yard in the fourth quarter before tiring Belmond line stiffened held.

Coach Steinberg expects the sophomores' offense to improve as get a bit more practice in. next start will be at Twin (Livermore) next Monday a game just lately added to the schedule.

MRS. JAMES BARRY NAMED ON ISEA EXECUTIVE BOARD

Mrs. James Barry of Belmond, of the Alexander school is a member of the exec- board of the Franklin coun- of the Iowa State Educa- association. She and fellow of the board have been ible for planning the coun- ISEA meetings for the current year.

Other members of the board are: Dale Mulford, Sheffield; Supt. Bode, Chapin; Margaret , Hansell; Carl Newman, ; and Supt. Gene Meier, [illegible].

Plans were made for six county ISEA meetings.

Fisherman Backs Up His "Story"

Ted Townsan, back from a couple of weeks of fishing as a guest—with his wife—of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Petersen at their cabin on Lake Mille Lacs, Minn., has been showing Belmond friends some of the fruits of his angling prowess. The evidence makes a "good fish story" unnecessary.

His prize catches were a 23½-lb. Northern and a 10¼-lb. walleye. He said the Northern gave him a 20-minute to half hour battle, but that the walleye was actually the harder to land.

The "smaller" fish took off for yonder in such determined fashion that Ted was fearful he'd run short of line before he convinced the finny monster that the frying pan was inevitable.

Jr. High Eleven Downed by Britt

Hampered by inexperience and lack of size, Coach Paul Hickman's junior high gridders went down to defeat before Britt last Monday night, 14 to 0. The visitors scored in the first and third quarters, the second tally coming after Belmond had fumbled on about its 20-yard line.

The Colts got into gear for one, good march — just before halftime — which found them on Britt's four-yard line when the intermission whistle wiped out the scoring opportunity.

Coach Hickman praised the work of Jack Loeffler as fullback on offense and defensive guard, Jerry Jenison at quarterback and Mike Taylor at end. He believes the Colts may show up better when they've had a bit more game experience.

MR. AND MRS. GREENFIELD

SERGEANT GREENFIELD, JUANITA REIM SPOKE VOWS ON SEPT. 1ST

Cathedral white gladioli, jade greenery and 14 lighted tapers in arched candelabra formed the setting in the First Methodist church at Enid, Okla., for the wedding of Juanita Fay Reim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Reim of Enid, and S/Sgt. Loran K. Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Greenfield. The double-ring ceremony was read at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, Sept. 1, by Dr. Ben Sturdivant.

Mrs. Gerald Hamphill, organist, furnished the nuptial music and accompanied Marjorie Geist as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a brocaded ballerina-length, cotton gown styled with an overskirt of nylon net, round neckline and short sleeves Her matching set of single-strand pearls and earrings was a gift of the groom. Her bouquet of red, sweetheart roses, having a shower of narrow matching ribbons caught with loveknots, was carried on a white Bible.

Helen Loucks, the maid of honor, wore a torso fitted, blue, rayon Cannes faille dress, street-length with round neckline, short sleeves and matching accessories. Her bouquet of white asters and leather fern formed a crescent design and was caught with loops of white satin ribbon.

The best man was Jerry D. Reim, brother of the bride. The ushers were M/Sgt. Clifford W. Drake and Elmer E. Powell.

The mother of the bride wore a navy and white dress with white accessories and a white camelia corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a Dior blue dress with pink accessories and a pink camelia corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered cake decorated in white with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. On either side were tall white tapers decorated with leather-leaf fern, which was also used to surround the cake.

Attending from Iowa besides the groom's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Hagemon, Donna Craig and Cathy of Ames.

After a short wedding trip, the newlyweds are at home at 118½ S. 11th, Enid, Okla., as the groom is stationed at Vance Air Force Base near there.

Old Friends Have Opportunity To Visit With Mrs. J. Benson

A few friends were invited to a "brunch" Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Cato Griesy to have an opportunity to visit with Mrs. Griesy's sister, Mrs. John Benson of New York City.

Mrs. Benson, the former Mrs. Inga Steege of Belmond, was here from Monday until Thursday afternoon, when she went to Des Moines on business and then to West Union to visit in the home of Dr. Carl Griesy and family before returning to New York, where her husband is art director at the television studios of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

A surprise party planned by their three children and held Sunday afternoon in the basement of Veterans' Memorial hall honored Mr. and Mrs. John Modderman on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Actually, their wedding date was three days earlier. They were married in Belmond on Sept. 20, 1916.

Mr. and Mrs. Modderman were presented with a corsage and boutonniere by their children and received many lovely gifts from the 125 relatives and friends that participated in the courtesy.

Planning the event were the Moddermans' two daughters and son, Mrs. Harry Green of Webster City, Mrs. Donald Carpenter and Kenneth Modderman of Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Modderman have lived all their married lives in the Belmond vicinity.

Well-wishers were present Sunday from Iowa Falls, Rockwell City, Latimer, Waterloo, Alexander, Meservey, Hampton, Webster City, Rowan and Goodell, as well as from Belmond.

Birthdays Celebrated At Waddington Home

Insects In Stored Grain Responsible For Costly Losses

Insects in stored grain may be causing spoilage of shelled corn or small grain on many Wright county farms, Extension Director Aaron Bowman warns. He says numerous instances have been reported of weevil and beetle damage to bin-stored shelled corn in the county and urges farmers to check their bins thoroughly.

Bowman advises bins soon to be used for storage of grain should be thoroughly cleaned and then sprayed with two gallons of a five per cent DDT solution or with methoxychlor per thousand square feet of surface.

Where infestation of insects occurs in steel bins or other tight bins, grains can be fumigated safely and effectively to kill insects in the stored grain, with any of several good fumigants. Bowman recommends using five to six gallons of fumigant per thousand bushels of grain, applied on the surface. Lower dosage can be used in very tight elevators, he says.

Farmers are warned to use care in applying the fumigants. An approved gas mask with a fresh black canister should be used to protect the operator.

Bowman says a free pamphlet (No. 205) on "Stored Grain Insects", giving more information, can be obtained by writing or calling the county extension office at Clarion.

Welfare Benefits For Iowans "Up"

Increases in Old Age Assistance, Aid to Blind and Aid to Dependent Children payments in Iowa totaling approximately $204,720 monthly will be available Oct. 1, according to Rolla R. Glenn, chairman of the state board of social welfare.

Old Age Assistance and Aid to Blind recipients will get $4 additional monthly grants, and Aid to Dependent Children family groups an average of $7.00 per month, depending upon the size of the family. The total increase will be approximately $157,808 monthly for OAA, $5,912 for AB, and $41,000 for ADC.

More than 1,100 Aid to Dependent Children larger family groups will receive no benefit through this over-all increase in grants because of the $175 monthly ceiling now in effect on ADC grants, Glenn observed.

This general increase has been made possible by the change in the Social Security law passed last July 27 and signed by President Eisenhower on Aug. 1. This change in the law provides for additional matching funds to be made available to the states in their public assistance programs, and in Iowa these extra funds are being passed on to the recipients.

Glenn said that these additional funds do permit the state to increase food allowances for all groups. As an example, the present food allowance for an aged man living alone and doing his own cooking is $22.98 monthly. Beginning Oct. 1, his food allowance will increase to $26.98 per month.

County Purchases Of Bonds Continue Above State Level

August investments in United States bonds by residents of Wright county amounted to $87,875.

Total for the first eight months was $1,143,166 for 73 per cent of the 1956 quota, higher than Iowa's average of 69 per cent and much better than the national attainment of 63.5 per cent.

Total investments in Iowa during August were $12,078,485, a five per cent drop from August 1955. State total for the eight-month period reached $115,244,745.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, Wright county volunteer chairman for savings bonds, said that sales are holding up remarkably and are better than for any year since 1949, except for 1955. Investments in savings bonds last year were the highest for any year since World War II.

Eight-month sales of Series E and H savings bonds, and per cent of quota made, are shown for other counties in this area: Franklin county, $620,029 for 59 per cent; Hancock, $837,777 for 81 per cent; Kossuth, $1,129,559 for 66 per cent; Hamilton, $1,119,804 for 75 per cent; Humboldt, $736,067 for 74 per cent.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

If anyone doubts that the sudden violence of a traffic accident is sometimes enough to jar reason out of the mind, note these incidents reported by highway patrolmen.

One patrolman will never forget the night he stood on a highway by the burning wreckage of a car, and for five minutes, battled wildly with a man who was determined to climb into the flaming car and "get out of here". He had been thrown out of the car when its driver dozed and sideswiped a truck.

In another accident, a drunken driver came over a hill, crowding the center of the highway and waving his arm out of the car window. The arm was cut off and dropped inside the car he met at the crest of the hill.

A patrolman who came by a minute later found the drunken driver, heedless of his severed arm, struggling to drag a case of beer out of his car, trying hide it in the ditch.

Two patrolmen were called to the scene of a night accident. They found a crushed car with a dead driver and a comparatively uninjured woman passenger. She sat in the front seat holding a baby's rattle.

The patrolmen saw infant's clothes and toys scattered in the back seat of the car. Instantly, they began searching for the baby, tearing out the cushions of the car, running to stop all traffic when they failed to find it, fearing the child was lying somewhere on the highway.

The woman was screaming, "Find my baby. Find my baby." People who stopped at the scene began searching the ditches on either side of the highway, climbing the fences to look in the fields.

In everyon'e mind was the picture of a baby thrown from the car in the accident, perhaps dying somewhere along the dark highway. The search went on for 20 minutes before the woman remembered she had no baby. She had been taking the clothes and toys to a christening as gifts.

● OBITUARY

MRS. H. L. PESCH

Mary Clarissa Tyner Pesch, only daughter of Elijah and Emma Tyner, was born on a farm near Salem, Ia., on March 6, 1897. She attended country school and graduated from Salem High school. After attending Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, she taught in the rural schools of Henry county.

On Dec. 26, 1923, she was married to Herbert L. Pesch. Three children were born to them: Dorothy (Mrs. Paul W.) Kehres, Milwaukee, Wis.; Carl, Iowa City; and LeRoy, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Pesch moved to Rowan in August of 1930 when her husband became superintendent of schools there. During the following years she was a constant companion in helping her husband guide the educational program of the Rowan public school. She also served her family tirelessly and was an inspiration to many.

Mrs. Pesch was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church at Guttenberg, Ia., joining the church in 1923; and was a member of Oak Leaf chapter No. 246 of the Order of Eastern Star of Iowa. She served as secretary of the Ladies Aid society of the Rowan Congregational church and gave freely of her accomplished skill as a musician.

She was taken to Belmond Community hospital early Sunday morning, Sept. 2, and quietly passed away on Sept. 4 at the age of 59 years, five months and 28 days.

She was preceded in death by her parents and one brother. Surviving, in addition to her husband and three children, are two grandchildren, four brothers, other relatives and many friends.

PAST POPULARITY of the Ford station wagon should suffer no decline with introduction of the 1957 models, Louis Tokman and George Heginger of the Belmond Auto company predict. This Country Sedan is one of five models with 19 body styles which Ford is introducing early next month, with six- and nine-passenger capacities.

● ● ● ● ● ●

NEW FORD LINE FOR '57 WILL GO ON DISPLAY WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3

On Wednesay of next week, Belmond Auto company will have on display for the first time several of the 19 new models that are being featured in the Ford line for 1957. Louis Tokman and George Heginger, co-proprietors, urge all their patrons and friends to stop in and see the new cars.

This year, for the first time in its 53-year history, Ford Motor company will produce two sizes of Ford cars. The new line divides into basic sizes, Farilane and Custom, plus the station wagon series, each with its own body and chassis.

In addition, the Fairlane series has been expanded to offer "Fairlane 500" models, which have extra luxury features. The 1957 Fairlane and Fairlane 500 sedans are nine inches longer and four inches lower than last year's comparable models.

The Custom sedans are three inches longer and nearly 3½ lower than the '56 models. Station wagons are 3½ inches lower and nearly six inches longer. The company says, "There has been no sacrifice of headroom inside the cars, in spite of their reduced height," and adds that, "The design and styling are new from the ground up."

On the day following the local showing of the '57 Fords, Mr. Tokman will leave by plane from Des Moines for Miami, Fla., to attend a national convention of Mercury dealers that precedes public showing of the new Mercury line.

Mr. Tokman says he had not planned to attend the Miami meeting, but received virtual summons from the company offices at Detroit and the district office at Des Moines telling him "it would not be right for one of the country's prominent dealers not to be present."

Understandably flattered by the urgency of the invitations, and with the assurance that a hotel reservation was already waiting in his name, Mr. Tokman changed his mind and decided he would take advantage of the outing, after all.

Ris-Van to Build Plant in Minnesota That Will Double Capacity

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Ray Wright, one of the Belmond fellas assigned to General Mills' Rossford, O., plant, recently wrote us giving us a generous helping of what-for because he renewed the Independent subscription of fellow Rossfordite Glenn Martin THREE MONTHS ago—but he hasn't been getting the paper. Ray accuses the local recipient of the stock with having invested the stock proceeds in a game of chance (unsuccessfully) and wants an accounting.

Our most abject apologies to you, Ray. We had some "green" help looking after the circulation files at the time; and what happened, we don't know. But Glenn's subscription card had disappeared from our files entirely.

Ray's been tried—and convicted—in a kangaroo court of his peers, Ray says; said peers being Dick Holgate and Wayne Wolfe, as well as Glenn Martin. This we regret, and we'll try to get him off the hook. We can't help but point out to the boys, though, that this trouble would have been avoided if EACH was getting his own copy of The Independent. We're plumb "agin" these multiple subscriptions. By golly, we are!

Postmaster George Jenison informs us that the week of Oct. 7-13 has been officially declared National Letter Writing Week — and he has been asked by the post office department's powers-that-be to invite local PO patrons to do something about it.

In that connection, George offers the reminder that one of our basic American freedoms is the uncensored transmission of first class mail. In many a nation today, the sanctity of letter mail is NOT so rigidly observed. (By inference the post office department apparently implies that you've got to take your chances of sharing your "wish you were here's" with the postman.)

It's no joke, though that the most of us have relatives and friends who are long overdue to get some news of the family and how things are going. What better time to act on good intentions and get those missives on their way than National Letter Writing Week?

Never has The Independent had a subscription renewal system that worked half so well as the present one that involves the mailing of three, clever (we can say that, since we borrowed the idea) postcards to subscribers whose time has about run out. The first, showing a cartoon of a pelican, advises, "This is a bill." The second is illustrated with a picture of a traffic cop bawling out a motorist and states, "This is a friendly warning." Finally the subscriber gets a card showing The Independent departing from his premises, which tells him, "This is Goodbye!"

We've had folks tell us they hesitated to renew their subscription until they'd received the full series of warning cards, because of the chuckles they provided!

The cards also enable the subscribers to have a bit of fun with us. Last week Jack Finn, from 'way out at Los Angeles, sent that second card along with his check, amended to read, "This is a friendly REPLY!" And Roy Lowman mailed the final one back with his subscription payment with "This is Goodbye!" crossed out and replaced with the greeting, "Hello again!" . . . It tickles us pink to see The Independent's circulation stay so amazingly stable, year in and year out, with no high-powered campaigns necessary to resuscitate it! Many papers aren't so lucky in having such FAITHFUL readers.

Mrs. Galen Johnson called us with an Eisenhower story this week that left her thrilled, even in the telling. She and her husband were among the multitude who visited the scene of the national plowing match to get a glimpse of the President. They had parked their car along a fence row, far from the center of activity.

When Ike had completed his speech and was about to make his departure, the Johnsons escaped from the crowd gathered around the President and the First Lady and returned to their car. When they got there, they found themselves entirely alone.

A few moments later, though, along came the car bearing Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower back to Des Moines. Mamie bestowed a personal wave and a smile on Mr. and Mrs. J. And, with no one else around, the Johnsons figured they'd had a private word with Ike as he cordially called "Goodbye" to them as he passed a few feet away.

Cast for Junior Play Picked Out

Gertrude Hoffman, BHS dramatics instructor, has selected the cast for the annual Junior Class play on the basis of try-outs lately conducted. The young players will present "Don't Take My Penny" on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13.

The leading role is that of a pretty teen-ager named Penny, who will be played by Janice Flanagan.

Sheryl Johnson will portray Penny's mother and Douglas Saunders her father. Bill Halfwassen takes the part of Penny's brother and [illegible] her sister.

Joan McMannus fills the role of Penny's girl friend, Wayne Pals her boy friend, and Eddie Anderson a pal of the latter. Donna Nolan is cast as the inevitable maid, Donald [illegible] as a publicity man and [illegible] Nodland, a French designer.

Paving of Co. K Started

A crew of Hallett Construction company's workmen on Monday of last week got a belated start on the first portion of the Wright county road surfacing project that had been mapped out for this year. Approximately 11 miles of concrete surfacing was programmed by the county engineer's office for 1956, but it is regarded by District Engineer G. H. Doty of Mason City as highly problematical if the work can be completed before cold weather sets in.

It, was Mr. Doty's decision that the first work should be done on the 4½ miles of County K north of the county seat, followed by the 3½ miles on the same road south of Clarion. The stretch from Highway 3 into Holmes is next on the schedule, with the 2¼ miles west of Eagle Grove to the Humboldt county line finishing up the curren year's project.

Only a minimum of grading is required by the slip-form method that is being employed in laying the concrete. This was the method used in widening Highway 69 through Belmond this summer. In fact, the same construction company is doing the work. Because of the small amount of grading needed, it was possible to do the first pouring on the north stretch of County K last Friday.

County Engineer P. T. Struck reported to The Independent that 1,400 feet of concrete was laid on that day; but that a break-down of machinery held up the work on Saturday. Since the slip-form method being used makes it unnecessary to set forms to receive the concrete, it is possible to lay from one-half to three-quarters of a mile of paving daily under good to ideal conditions.

Weather will be a continual threat to progress, though, so no valid prediction can be made regarding how nearly the contract can be fulfilled this fall. The same crew as is on the Wright job was able to get in only five days of pouring during an entire month on a project in Greene county during the summer. This delayed similar undertakings in Hardin and Hamilton counties that the crew had to get out of the way before it could take on the Wright county assignment.

County engineer Struck says he understands that about six weeks' time, under acceptable weather conditions, would be needed to complete the entire 11 miles of paving. Preliminary work will be done only immediately in advance of the concrete laying, so no road will have to be left in a torn-up condition over winter if weather brings a halt to the paving job before it is completed, Mr. Struck added.

Linda Bonte FHA District President

Belmond High school figured prominently at a district meeting of Future Homemakers of America that was held Saturday at Eldora, attended by delegations from 11 schools. Belmond had by far the largest number of delegates present, with between 80 and 90 girls making the trip by school bus.

Mary Alice Studebaker, who is FHA state vice president, conducted the meeting. Linda Bonte, also of the BHS chapter, was installed as district president.

Six Belmond girls took part in a skit, entitled, "Lamplighters," for which Miss Studebaker was the reader. These girls were Betty Ec c'es, Nancy Gallagher, Janice Kalkwarf, Katie Kelly, Lois Riekens and Elaine Tendall.

Schools represented, in addition to Belmond, were Britt, Dows, Clear Lake, Eldora, Forest City, Hampton, Radcliffe, Rockford, St. Ansgar and Stanhope.

METHODIST LAYMEN MEET WEDNESDAY AT KANAWHA

A delegation from the Belmond Methodist church will be among those from a 10-county area that will attend the annual Algona District laymen's rally at Kanawha on Wednesday of next week.

Principal speaker will be Robert Blue of Eagle Grove, former Iowa governor and lay leader of the North Iowa Methodist Annual Conference. His topic will be "Earthly Immortality."

SELL FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Friendly Service chapter of the Future Farmers of America last week made a sales canvass with foam-type fire extinguishers as a money-raising project. They found a ready reception for the safety item and before the end of the week had sold more than 150.

HOSPITAL MEMORIAL GIFT

A memorial gift of $2.00 has been received by Belmond Community hospital from the Mission Fund of the Trinity Lutheran church in the name of the late N. A. Nelson.

Two Slices-Cut from Melon

Seventy-five dollars was sliced off this week's Cash Gift Day melon, Mrs. August Trager, Jr., helping herself to a $25 chunk at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday and Mrs. Lawrence Gealow lopping off $50 at 3:00 o'clock. The CGD committee, hoping to get some fall shopping money in circulation, is replacing the missing dollars to bring the amount of next Tuesday's grab-bag up to the $350 level. Once again four $25 prizes will be laid on the line at 2:00 o'clock and at 3:00 p. m. the draw will be for five $50's.

JAYCEE PAPER DRIVE

Another of their periodical paper drives is to be conducted by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce this Friday evening. Paper should, as usual, be left on the curbing for pick-up. It will be greatly appreciated by the Jaycees if the bundles are securely tied for easier handling.

Lions to Sell Bags-of-Bulbs Next Week

Belmond's Lions club next week will conduct its annual Bag-of-Bulbs campaign, which has become a familiar, charitable fixture in the community in the past few years.

This money-raising venture serves the double purpose of providing townspeople an opportunity to make a very economical purchase of a supply of light bulbs, and of providing financial support for pet projects of the Lions club.

The selection of bulbs that is to be offered for sale will be priced at just about 15 per cent less than customary retail price. The Lions are meeting an objection expressed by purchasers in some years past by including only bulbs of 100, 75 and 60-watt size, most of them in the smaller sizes.

There seemed to be little demand for 150-watt bulbs, so this size is entirely omitted. In each bag, selling at $2.00, will be two 40's, four 60's, two 75's, three 100's.

President Len Collier says that proceeds from this year's Bag-of-Bulbs sale will be divided between the Iowa Lions' sight conservation program, including support of the Lions' Eye Bank at Iowa City; and the local club's current campaign to obtain land in town for public recreation use and as a potential swimming pool site.

"The good done by the Iowa Lions Sight Conservation Foundation is probably too well known to require review," Mr. Collier says. "The club's of the state raise $12,000 annually through their Bag-of-Bulbs sales to further the foundation's purposes, which benefit many sightless persons and others with failing sight throughout the state each year.

"It is less well known, though," he continues, "that the Lions here have committed themselves to acquire, if possible, additional property for public recreation purposes and are earnestly pursuing this project.

"Although the effort last year to raise funds for a community swimming pool by public subscription fell short of success, the Lions have by no means abandonned the hope that Belmond will nevertheless have a pool of its own in the not too far distant future. With the intent of helping to further this hope, the Lions would like to make available a site where such a pool might be built — and a portion of the Bag-of-Bulbs profits will be devoted to this end."

Claire Hildman is chairman of the Bag-of-Bulbs sale. He says that the entire town will be canvassed next week by Lions salesmen. He urges as generous response to their appeal, since a purchase will not only mean a tidy savings to the purchaser but will also lend aid to the worthy projects mentioned above.

Appraisal Figure Of Condemnation Prompts Appeal

Howard Helgevold, Lake township farmer, on Tuesday of last week filed in district court at Clarion a petition on appeal from condemnation award involving land of his acquired last summer for road right-of-way. He asks $3,242 damages.

An appraisal board had set at $437.34 tne amount by which Helgevold should properly be reimbursed for a 33-foot strip of land taken from a 40-acre parcel of land comprising part of the plaintiff's 160-acre farm.

In his petition, Helgevold contends that his farm had a value of $72,000 prior to condemnation of the strip of land for right-of-way, and that loss of .76 of an acre has reduced the farm's value by $2,000.

He asks an additional $1,242 in payment for the necessity of moving fence back along the roadway and other expense.

Jim's Paint and Wallpaper Store Planning to Hold Grand Opening in New Building Friday and Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cairns in this issue of The Independent announce that they will hold the grand opening of their new store on Friday and Saturday of this week. They opened Jim's Paint and Wallpaper store at its old location two doors east of the site just three years ago Monday.

"Belmond has been very good to us," Mr. Cairns says, "and our building of this new store should make clear our intention of calling Belmond 'home' from now on. It also is an indication of our faith that Belmond is going to continue to be a growing community."

Mrs. Cairns is particularly pleased that the new store provides her with more ample space to display her gifts line and to offer a larger selection of drapes than was possible at the former store location.

Two demonstrations are planned by the Cairns as features of their grand opening. Friday morning, Ray Hall of Des Moines will be on hand to show how to make Sasheen ribbon bows for decorative gift wrapping "the simple way." He is a representative of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, producer of Sasheen ribbons. Jim's Paint store has been granted an exclusive dealership for Sasheen ribbons and now plans to retail decorative ribbon for the first time.

R. T. Ketcher of Newton, manufacturer of Old Master's Liquid Wood will demonstrate how his product makes it possible to refinish items of furniture without the drudgery of first removing the old finish. He will be at the store all day Friday.

To show their appreciation for the excellent patronage their store has enjoyed, Mr. and Mrs. Cairns will serve free coffee and doughnuts to all their friends and customers from 10:00 a. m. on, both Friday and Saturday. They also plan to give away several attractive door prizes on the basis of registration.

Mrs. Cairns says that the first 250 women entering the new store on both Friday and Saturday will each receive a shopping bag as a gift. There will also be free balloons for the kiddies.

Jim's PAINT & WALLPAPER

NEW LOCATION OF JIM'S PAINT AND WALLPAPER STORE

JUST A YEAR ago last March, the only storage tank on the grounds of Ris-Van, Inc., adjacent to the Great Western tracks on west Main street, was an 80,000-pound job that was used for storing anhydrous ammonia. Since the firm converted to retailing complete analysis liquid fertilizers in October of last year, tanks have sprouted like mushrooms after a warm rain. There are now nine, large tanks for storing liquid fertilizer awaiting shipment to Ris-Van's dealers. The new Ris-Van plant to be built at Blue Earth, Minn., will very closely resemble the one pictured here in appearance and have the same production capacity.

Fertilizer Concern Plans for 6 Times Initial Production

Roy Carwell, treasurer of Ris-Van, Inc., informs The Independent that contract is being let this week for construction of a new liquid fertilizer plant at Blue Earth, Minn., that will be virtually a replica of the one the company operates here. Building of the new manufacturing unit will start at once, and it is expected it will be ready to go into operation by late winter or early spring.

Opening of the new plant will mark another important stride in the company's growth, which has been little less than phenomenal in the scant 12 months since it began operations here the first of October, last year, in the production of complete analysis liquid fertilizers.

Firm Has 50 Dealers

When Ris-Van first established a plant here in early spring of 1955, it dealt in anhydrous ammonia, exclusively. But just a year ago, the firm added to its staff Dr. John L. Strauss, formerly on the staff of Purdue university's school of agriculture and a nationally recognized pioneer in the development of liquid fertilizers. Simultaneously, the company expanded its facilities in order to start manufacture of complete analysis, liquid fertilizers on a wholesale basis.

Carwell says that the most optimistic hopes held by his associates and himself at that time have been far outstripped during the past year. They originally envisioned setting up a sales organization of some 10 dealerships during their first year of operation as wholesale producers of liquid fertilizers. Instead, Ris-Van now boasts about 50 dealers serving territory in southern Minnesota and nearly half of Iowa, within approximately a 100-mile radius of Belmond.

Capacity Here Tripled

Obviously, when the Blue Earth plant goes into operation the company will be in a position to double its present volume of business. Mr. Carwell says that the capacity of the local plant has about tripled in the 12 months since it was equiped to produce complete anaysis, liquid fertilizer; so the firm's original volume of business may well be surpassed by a six-to-one ratio before it ends its second year of operation in the liquid fertilizer field.

At the time Mr. Carwell joined Ris-Van a year ago, Melvin Hawke of Sheffield also became a shareholder in the firm. The original partners were Kenneth Van Duzer of Mason City and J. A. Risvold of Clear Lake.

When the initial, anhydrous ammonia plant was set up here in March of last year, storage for this nitrogen in liquid form was provided by a giant tank of 80,000-pound capacity. Since then, additional storage tanks — nine in number — have been erected to provide storage for 110,000 gallons of finished product as the plant turns out complete analysis, liquid fertilizer.

New Retail Manager

The plant equipment also includes a building that serves the combined purpose of an office and complete soil-testing laboratory, to which farmers can bring samples to learn what specific fields may require in the way of fertilizer.

While major emphasis is now placed by Ris-Van on its wholesale operations out of the plant here, it still values highly the retail business it enjoys with farmers of the vicinity. So that this phase of its business will not suffer any lack of attention, the company last week employed Ernest S. Schrupp of Sheffield to serve as retail manager of the plant here. Mr. Schrupp has not yet had time to give consideration to whether he will later find it advisable to move to Belmond.

BRONZE RATING AWARDED TO CATTLE JUDGING TEAM

Belmond High school was represented in the state FFA dairy cattle judging contest held Saturday at Waterloo in conjunction with the National Dairy Cattle Congress. The boys competed against 53 other teams from all over the state and were awarded a bronze rating.

Advisor Francis Kelly, who accompanied the team, says he was well satisfied with their performance as he had relatively little time to work with them in preparation for the contest.

On the team were Gary Ruka, Adolph Ehresmann and Gordon Johnson. Dennis Pastour was alternate and David Suntken, as next highest candidate for the team, also made the trip to Waterloo.

Council Passes Restrictive Ordinance To Control Building in Kirkendall Add.

Elsewhere in this issue appears the publication of a restrictive ordinance which was passed by the city council Monday night to place limitation upon the type of structure that may be erected in Kirkendall Addition and along the Rock Island railroad right-of-way that bounds the addition on the west.

The ordinance was passed at the request of propertyowners living in the new residential development. It is reported that all but two home owners in the addition signed the petition submitted to the council, and they were absent from Belmond when it was circulated.

City Attorney Roy Henderson says that a city council is compelled by law to comply with a request for a restrictive ordinance if 60 per cent or more of the propertyowners within a specified area petition for its passage. Mr. Henderson also stated that interest has been shown in some other quarters but that he had no way of anticipating whether the council will actually be receiving further petitions of the same nature.

Major purpose of the restrictive ordinance is to prevent construction of buildings in the restricted area to be used for any other purpose than as a dwelling, school, church or similar purpose. No building for other use will be allowed unless permission is obtained from at least 60 per cent of the real estate owners residing within 200 feet of the proposed building site.

Such an ordinance is often employed as a stog-gap measure preparatory to introduction of zoning and planning in a community, and it is known that many of the homeowners who petitioned for what might be called the "Kirkendall ordinance" have expressed hope that this will follow in Belmond.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce zoning and planning committee met with Councilmen L. C. Long, A. W. Johnson and Ted Behrends on Monday of last week to ascertain what evidence the council would require to indicate local favor towards zoning and planning. The council representatives suggested that a petition asking the passage of a zoning - planning ordinance, signed by a definite majority of Belmond's propertyowners, would be acceptable.

Henry Stokke of the C-of-C zoning and planning committee informed The Independent that the group contemplates circulation of such a petition in the very near future. He added that spokesmen for a number of organizations in town, both women's groups and men's, have offered the help of those organizations in any way that the cause of zoning and planning might be furthered.

Sen. Hickenlooper Coming to Speak At County Confab

One of the biggest, Republican pre-election rallies in county history is to be held on Thursday of next week at Veterans' Memorial building, Eagle Grove. Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper will be the principal guest and speaker at the dinner meeting, which commences at 7:00 p. m.

County Chairman Ben Birdsall of Clarion says that special invitations have also been issued Rep. James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, State Senator John Walker of Williams and State Representative Clark McNeal of Belmond.

Sale of tickets, at $1.50 each, will start next Monday. They will be available through the Republican county committeemen and women in each precinct. Chairman Birdsall observes that a visit by Iowa's senior senator to a county rally is far from a commonplace occurrence and the central committee anticipates a heavy demand for tickets as a consequence.

Committee members from whom tickets may be obtained are: Belmond Ward I—Mrs. C. C. Benson, George Hansen; Ward II—Mrs. Herman Schultz, C. C. Christie; Ward III—Mr. and Mrs. Clark McNeal; Belmond township—Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, Friend Bras; Pleasant—Mrs. S. P. Leinbach.

Belmond and the two adjacent townships have been assigned an unofficial quota of 100 tickets for the dinner meeting. It is the hope of the committeemen and women that the supply will be bought up, promptly.

One election-alert Democrat, on hearing of the phenomenon, remarked, "probably a lousy Republican sow that just didn't give a hoot about farm surpluses!"

One of the piglets suffered a sudden demise when stepped upon by the mother; but the other 19 appeared to be off to a robust start in life. George farmed some of the litter out among his four other nursing sows, since the little fellows' mama wasn't prepared to "set table" for such a large family —quite understandably.

Since then, George fears that there's been a further reduction in the litter. By the best count he can make, he thinks 16 of them survive. The others were carelessly laid upon by the sow in their charge.

The reason for George's uncertainty is that "pigs is pigs," since the other sows farrowed about the same time all of the little porkers look pretty much alike.

Mr. Norris says they're a crossbreed of Hampshire, Duroc and Poland China. With the help of the king-size litter, he has 54 surviving pigs from the five sows. And whether an average of better than 10 saved per farrowing would seem to be contributing to a superfluous pork supply or not, George is quite happy over the state of affairs.

J. Lansing Named As District Agent

Announcement was made Tuesday that Jack Lansing, Belmond agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, has been made district agent for five, northern Iowa counties. His appointment was made known by Lowell P. Schwinger of Waterloo, son-in-law of Ed Bailey, who is the company's general agent for northeast Iowa.

Mr. Lansing will be in charge of two full-time and four part-time agents in Worth, Mitchell, Cerro Gordo, Floyd and Franklin counties. He will have an office at Mason City, but says he will continue to make his home in Belmond.

He became a part-time agent for Northwestern something over five years ago and is now started on his third year as a full-time agent. For the past two years he has led the entire company in number of lives written and is a member of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Birthdays of Mrs. Herman Schultz and Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell were observed Monday by the Birthday club with a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Roy Henderson. Mrs. Cato Griesy assisted as hostess.

Harberts Funeral Held on Saturday

John Harberts, who made Belmond his home for most of the 82 years of his life, died last Thursday at an Eagle Grove nursing home just eight days after he had suffered a broken collarbone in a fall there. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church here, conducted by Rev. M. L. Jones. Burial was in the Belmond cemetery and arrangements were in the hands of Fulton Funeral Home.

Mr. Harberts was the last surviving member of a family of eight children born to the late Rank and Jane Harberts. He was born at Ackley on Dec. 22, 1873. He received his education in the rural schools and while living in this vicinity attended the Immanuel Reformed church.

He was afflicted with deafness from the time of his childhood and was a quiet, kindly person who kept much to himself. He found great pleasure in farming, which was his lifetime occupation. After retiring some years ago, he moved to Belmond. He had spent the past two years at the Eagle Grove nursing home.

Besides his parents, he was preceded in death by three sisters, Helen Harberts, Mrs. Abbie Meinders and Mrs. Jennie Buss; and four brothers, Hio, George, Herbert and Harry. He is survived by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Harberts of Lennox, S. D., and by a number of nephews and nieces, many of whom live in this community.

Lutheran Women's Societies to Hold Circuit Meeting

Fall convention of the Eagle Grove circuit Women's Missionary Federation of the Evangelical Lutheran church will be held Wednesday of next week at the Kanawha Lutheran church, with several hundred women expected to be in attendance.

All women of the three women's organizations in the local Lutheran parish have been urged by their presidents to attend the convention. These organization leaders are: Mrs. Kenneth Severson, St. Olaf Ladies Aid; Mrs. Gerald Swenson, Trinity Mission Guild; and Mrs. Percy Swenson, Trinity Aid.

Guest speakers at the convention will be Shirley Barnes of Minneapolis, national ELC deaconess, and Mrs. Philip Hyland, wife of a missionary to Japan.

The circuit Women's Federation consists of 30 Ladies Aid societies of the Lutheran churches in this area and has a membership of more than 2,100. Its projects include full support of Rev. L. J. Lellelid and family at Ft. Dauphin, Madagascar; and full support of Miss Machi Tokuda, a native parish worker in the Lutheran field in Japan.

ATTEND HARBERTS FUNERAL

Out of town relatives attending the funeral services of John Harberts Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Amendt and J. C. Busch of Melbourne, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Busch and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Amendt of Marshalltown, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Buss of Aredale, Mrs. Hazel Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Johnson and James of Forest City, Gerald Buss of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Menke, Junior Menke and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schollian of Mason City.

Chest Drive Set for Week of Oct. 22

Tom Burdsal, chairman of the 1956 Community Chest fund campaign, announces that the week of Oct. 22 has been selected for launching this year's drive. This week was chosen instead of that of Oct. 15, which earlier had been considered, in order that the local drive will coincide with that of the Wright County Rural Community Chest.

A number of appointments have been made by Chairman Burdsal to assure that plans will be well completed by time for the campaign kickoff arrives. He says that the Newcomers club, of which Mrs. Ray Borgstrom is president, has agreed to be responsible for the residential canvass.

As in years past, the canvass in the residential area will be limited to those homes whose breadwinners will not be contacted at their places of business. Mr. Burdsal regards that the Newcomers deserve especial praise for their willingness to shoulder this assignment, which is one of the more complex ones involved in conduct of the campaign.

Keith Wiggins, office manager of the General Mills soybean processing plant, has agreed to oversee the administrative work involved in preparing for the drive. He will see that workers' envelopes are properly prepared and supplies distributed.

Frank Black and Ed Banning, also of the General Mills "family," will form the outdoor advertising committee. They will see that advertising placards are attached to street light fixtures along Main street to promote the campaign. Guy McClenahan and Russell Porter will serve as captains of the residential canvass. Dick McFarlin and Fred Iverson have been appointed captains of the commercial canvass and will line up workers to solicit both employers and employees in the various business establishments.

Mr. Burdsal says he has been very pleased with the ready manner in which job assignments have been accepted and feels certain that if the same spirit is shown by the general public when the campaign gets underway, this year's drive should experience no difficulty in attaining its goal of $4,900.

FOREST CITY, IOWA

An Iowa Boon

Did you know that in 1956 the Rock Island will pay the state of Iowa $1,317,300.00 in taxes?

That's a lot of money. But then Iowa is a lot of state, and as a good neighbor we expect to do our share in meeting such civic expenses as school operations, road building, even salaries for city, county or state officials.

So we pay our taxes cheerfully and hope to continue doing so for many years to come.

There is this to add:

Whenever you see a ROCKET FREIGHT train roll by loaded with products and materials of all kinds

—or watch a sleek looking ROCKET glide swiftly over the landscape carrying a goodly number of passengers

—be glad!

For, remember, some of the revenue these Rock Island trains earn eventually becomes tax money to be paid to the Hawkeye State to help it continue to live . . . and to grow . . . and to prosper.

SHIRLEY ANN MASON WED TO WM. BEENEN LAST FRIDAY EVENING

The Alexander Community church was the scene of the wedding Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock of Miss Shirley Ann Mason, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mason of Clarion, and William Beenen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Beenen of Alexander. The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. B. R. Price.

Given in marriage by her brother, Walter Mason of Minnesota, the bride wore a white dress of lace over satin with white accessories and a red rose corsage.

Phyllis Wiggs of Clarion cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and also sang the solo "Because". She wore a blue dress with white accessories and a white chrysanthemum corsage. Marvin Draper was the best man. Roger Modderman an Mervin Jaacks were ushers.

Miss Wiggs, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the guest book and the bride's cousins took care of the gifts.

Following the ceremony, a reception, given by the bride's seven sisters, was held in the church parlors. Red roses and white chrysanthemums formed the decorations.

The bride graduated from Clarion High school and has been employed at the State bank at Clarion. The groom is a graduate of Alexander High school, served two years with the US Armed Forces, spending 15 months in Korea, and since his discharge has been farming with his father.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Beenen will be at home on a farm near Clarion.

Guests to the wedding and reception were present from Clear Lake, Latimer, Belmond, Clarion Garner, Iowa Falls, New Hartford, Ackley and Alexander, and from Minnesota.

MR. AND MRS. EHERENFELDT

JANET BEAVERS, GENE EHERENFELDT SPOKE VOWS ON SEPT. 22ND

St. Francis Catholic church was the scene of the wedding of Janet Beavers, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Beavers of Belmond, and Gene Eherenfeldt of Minneapolis, Minn., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Eherenfeldt also of Minneapolis, which took place Saturday morning, Sept. 22, at 10:00 o'clock.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Ormsby before an altar decorated with baskets of white mums. The choir furnished special music for High Mass.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Robert Eherenfeldt. Ushers were James Noun, Minneapolis, Minn., and Roland Pals. The men wore white coats and dark trousers with white carnations as boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress. Both wore corsages of bronze tea roses.

Following the ceremony, a lawn reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Claude Johnson. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table and the bride's colors, blue and white, were carried out in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Eherenfeldt will make their home in Minneapolis, Minn., where Mr. Eherenfeldt will attend the University of Minnesota.

Two pre-nuptial parties honored the bride. Betty Claire Henderson entertained former school friends at a silver shower and Mrs. John Dettman, grandmother of the bride, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the Beavers home.

Honor 76th Birthday Of Mrs. Peter Steenblock

All but one of the children and most of the grandchildren and great grandchildren of Mrs. Peter Steenblock came to her home a week ago Sunday for a belated birthday party in her honor. Mrs. Steenblock's birthday is on Sept. [illegible] but the family was unable to gather at that time.

The self-invited guests brought well-filled baskets for a bounteous dinner. The afternoon was spent visiting and taking pictures. Later cake and ice cream were served by the honoree, who had received many lovely gifts and cards from the group.

Miss McGarvey Tells About Summer Tour of Europe

Marlys McGarvey, Belmond teacher, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Culture Study club held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Gordon Kessler. Ethel Brunes introduced Miss McGarvey, who showed slides she had taken during a trip to Europe this past summer.

Three Meetings Held By Beta Sigma Phi

Beta Sigma Phi sorority had their first fall meeting on Sept. 10 at the home of Alice Jacobmeyer. A memorial ritual was held for Marjorie Roberts.

On Sept. 24th the sorority met at the home of Marcella Cunningham at Goodell. Carol Richards and Imogene Hinman gave the lesson on "Beauty".

ENGAGEMENT of their daughter Hannah to Pvt. LeRoy H. Josten of Klemme has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. George Eckhoff of Belmond. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Josten of Klemme and left last Saturday for an 18-month tour of Army duty in Germany. The wedding plans are incomplete.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE of their daughter Shirley is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Proeger. She will wed Marvin L. Pals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals, Jr., on Oct. 12. Miss Proeger is a graduate of Belmond High school and attended Iowa State college.

Fulton Gives Up Commission Post

Fred Fulton, who has represented this portion of the county on the soldiers Relief commission for about six years, submitted his resignation to the board of supervisors Monday of this week. It was accepted by the board, effective as of Sept. 3.

Ill health prompted Mr. Fulton's decision to resign. In recent months he has been recuperating from a heart attack suffered last spring.

Marv Franze of Eagle Grove, a druggist, was appointed by the supervisors to succeed Mr. Fulton on the commission. His appointment was effective as of the first of October and extends through his predecessor's unexpired term, to July 1 of next year.

Supervisor John Greenlander says the board deemed it logical to have the new appointee from Eagle Grove because a very major share of soldiers' relief goes to that vicinity. Also on the commission are Ted Hartzell of Dows and Frank Champlin of Holmes.

Coffee-for-Coad Party Announced By Demo Women

Monday morning from 9:00 to 11:00 a. m. the local Democratic women's organization will hold a Coffee-for-Coad party at the home of Henrietta Pals. Similar coffee parties are being held widely over the state to help further the campaign of Rev. Merwin Coad, Boone, in his contest for the post of U. S. Representative from the Sixth District.

Mrs. R. W. Courson, in announcing the Coffee-for-Coad gathering, said that the young, Boone clergyman made a highly favorable impression among the voters he greeted during some intesive campaigning here on Wednesday of last week.

As another money-raising undertaking, two Tea-for-Television parties were held last week by Belmond women. Offerings were collected, the proceeds being earmarked for helping to finance Mr. Coad's semi-weekly television appearances on KQTV, Fort Dodge. Mrs. Clarence Johnson was hostess for one of the teas; Mrs. Courson and Mrs. R. E. Misner joint hostesses for the other.

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND—
Carwell Decides, Time to Settle

● ● ●

ROY CARWELL
Rolling Stone Settles Down

In resuming its Who's Who series dealing with Belmond business personalities, The Independent introduces a relative newcomer to this community who's had about as many business "lives" as a cat has leases on life. The gentleman is Roy Carwell, who became affiliated with Ris-Van, Inc., just a year ago and who has made his home in Belmond since June of this year.

Ambition to continually get into "something better," has in the past given Roy itchy feet insofar as business is concerned. He's been out of one undertaking and into another with considerable regularity. But in the complete analysis, liquid fertilizer business, Roy thinks he's found "it." He's in a new field that appears to have almost limitless potentialities—and he LIKES it. So he's figuring to let the moss grow on the formerly rolling stone, if it will.

39 Years Old Last June

Melvin, an Osceola county village about the size of Meservey, was Mr. Carwell's birthplace. He was born on June 1, 1917, was raised on a farm and attended grade school at Sheldon and later LeMars. He was graduated from LeMars High school in 1934. Farming was his occupation for the next 3½ years.

He then accepted a position as delivery-salesman with Swift and Co., that took him to Virginia. Before he departed for the magnolia belt, though, he acquired a wife in June Brantsen, a Sioux Center lass with whom he'd been keeping company. They've since added two daughters to their family — Jane, who's eight years old, and Judy, age five.

Was Army Crytographer

Deciding that driving a meat truck was too much of a dead-end job to suit his fancy, Roy left the meat packing firm and took time off to attend National Business School at Sioux City to obtain some business training. His first position after completion of the course was that of accountant for the new extinct Selby Company chain of produce houses, which had its headquarters at Jefferson.

This was one job that Roy didn't have to pull out of, of his own volition. Uncle Sam gave him a finger wag in 1942, to which Roy responded by enlisting in the U. S. Army. He ended up in sort of a hybrid assignment that found him in the Army Signal Corps, but attached to the Air Force — as a cryptographer.

Steel Businee Beckoned

Roy coded and decoded messages over a great deal of terrain between October of 1942 and the date of his discharge on Jan. 1, 1946. His foreign duty included 18 months in bleak Iceland and a similar period of time spent at various bases in the British Isles and on the continent of Europe.

Donning civilian clothes again, Roy discerned opportunity knocking on a door of steel and forthwith went to work for the Sioux City Brick and Tile company as general manager of its steel division. In 1949, he bought into the North Iowa Steel Buildings company at Mason City, which kept him settled until 1953.

Owned Emmetsburg Company

In that year he sold his interest in the Mason City firm to become a sales representative of the Great Lakes Steel corporation of Detroit, Mich., with all of Iowa constituting his territory. That satisfied him for a year, but in 1954 he decided to go into business for himself and formed his own steel construction company at Emmetsburg.

That brings us up to the point at which J. A. Risvold, one of his present partners, told him a mighty good thing was to be had in the way of an investment in Ris-Van, Inc. Now Belmond has Mr. Carwell, and Roy anticipates that he'll stay glued for some time to come.

Aviation Enthusiast

He's been much to busy, and much to much on the go, to be a "joiner" so his affiliations are small in number. He's belonged to both the Rotary club and Lions, elsewhere, and holds membership (inactive) in the American Legion and 40-&-8, the Legionnaires' fun-making branch. The Carwells attend the Methodist church.

Roy's hobbies are hunting, fishing and flying—particularly flying. He's an ardent amateur pilot and has held a license for about two years. Until a couple of weeks ago he was the owner of a small, Cessna plane. He sold it with a view to buying something a bit larger, but is still in the dickering stage on that project.

Mr. Carwell is a progressive-minded individual of the sort that any community might be glad to possess as a citizen. He's not only ambitious for himself and for his business. He's ambitious for his community. And you can just about count on it that Belmond will benefit by having him added to its residents.

Froshmores Lose To Twin Rivers

Among three offensive systems that the winners used, the Belmond boys were completely unfamiliar with a buck lateral series that clicked for a couple of touchdowns via passes.

Twin Rivers scored twice in the first period and again in the third. The Junior Broncs' tally came late in the third. Three times Belmond receivers dropped passes, after getting well behind the defenders; and near the end of the game the Purple and White twice penetrated to their foe's 12, without being able to go further.

Mike Long produced Belmond's TD on an 80-yard off tackle sprint. Coach Steinberg praised the kicking and ball-toting of Mark Mason, Roger Hoppel's work on both offense and defense, the line-backing of Bob Lerdal and the general line play of John Murray.

ORDINANCE NO. 102
AN ORDINANCE RESTRICTING A CERTAIN DISTRICT TO RESIDENTIAL, SCHOOL, CHURCH AND SIMILAR PURPOSES ONLY, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BELMOND, IOWA:

Section 1: Purpose. The purpose of this ordinance is to establish a restricted residence district in the City of Belmond, Iowa, and to provide reasonable rules and regulations for the erection, reconstruction, altering and repairing of buildings of all kinds, and to provide that there shall be no use in such district except for residences, schoolhouses, churches and other similar structures.

Section 2. Districts. The following restricted residence district is hereby designated and established: Commencing at the Northwest corner of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of the Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of Section Thirty (30), Township Ninety-three (93) North, Range Twenty-three (23) West of the 5th P. M., Iowa, running thence East to the Northeast corner of said Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of said Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of said Section Thirty (30), thence South to the Southeast corner of Kirkendall Addition to Belmond, Iowa, thence West along the South line of Kirkendall Addition to Belmond, Iowa, to the West line of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of the Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of said Section Thirty (30), thence North to place of beginning.

Section 3. Buildings Permitted. No buildings or other structures, except residences, schoolhouses, churches and other similar structures shall be hereafter erected, reconstructed, altered, repaired or occupied within said district without first securing from the City Council a permit therefor.

Section 4. Permits. No permit shall be granted when sixty percent of the real estate owners in said district residing in said City object thereto.

Section 5. Fees. There shall be no fee required for such permit.

Section 6. Plans Required. Plans and specifications of any proposed land use in said district, other than those uses excepted in section three of this Ordinance, shall be filed with the application for the Permit.

Section 7. Special Permit. The City Council, by a three-fourths vote of all the members of the Council, may issue special permits for buildings and occupancy, on condition the applicant for permit files, with the request for such permit, the written consent and approval of a majority of the adjacent property owners residing within said district within two-hundred feet of the proposed building and occupancy.

Section 8. Action to abate. Any building or structure erected, reconstructed, altered, or repaired in violation of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed unlawful and a nuisance and it shall be abated by action in the district or municipal court. Such action for abatement shall be prosecuted in the name of the municipality.

Section 9. Certifying Ordinances. Within five days after this ordinance becomes effective the City Clerk shall prepare or have prepared a plat of the restricted residence district as established by this Ordinance and certify such Ordinance and plat to the County Recorder.

Section 10. Repealer. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 11. Saving Clause. If any section, provision, or part of this Ordinance shall be adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any section, provision or part thereof not adjudged invalid or unconstitutional.

Section 12. When effective. This Ordinance shall be in effect after its final passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

Passed by the Council the 1st day of October, 1956, and approved this 1st day of October, 1956.

19 IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION 56

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1956

For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a mirror; for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

—James 1:23-24

NEWSPAPER WEEK SERVES AS REMINDER THAT FREEDOM OF PRESS IS A "MUST"

This week of Oct. 1-8 is National Newspaper Week. We particularly like the slogan that has been chosen for this year's observance, "Your Newspaper . . . Freedom's Key to Better Living."

It is noteworthy that the initial observance of National Newspaper Week was nearly 20 years ago, when the American press was exposed to one of the periodic threats to its freedom against which it must keep eternally on guard. The National Recovery Act had been passed by Congress and the famous (or should we say "infamous"?) Blue Eagle flew over the land.

At first, the newspapers lent their support to the act, prompted by their never failing belief that the greatest good for the greatest number should be served. But when it became apparent that the Blue Eagle constituted a licensing scheme by which to control—among other things—the press of the country, the war was on!

Ultimately the Blue Eagle and its codes were declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court. But meanwhile, several state newspaper association had started illuminating campaigns to convince the people that their faith in their hometown newspaper as guardian of their freedom, fighters for their right to know, and their way to better living, continued worthy of their respect and acceptance.

These individual efforts to emphasize the integrity and vitality of the American press led to establishment of National Newspaper Week, which provides an annual opportunity for the nation's press to rededicate itself to the principals that have made it and kept it one of the most vital influences of the free world.

During the years that have intervened since the newspapers fought off NRA's challenge to their freedom, they have dramatically extended their potential for serving the nation's welfare. At present, 56 million people spend $3,189,000 each day in nickels and dimes for their daily newspapers, and 18 million grassroots Americans subscribe to their hometown weeklies. This is the highest net paid circulation of American newspapers in history and has been achieved in spite of new competitive media in the field of mass communication that, passingly, have been regarded as threats to the newspapers' position of dominant influence.

The Independent is but one small voice in the press chorus that sings the praises of freedom and stands ready to defend the people's rights when they are threatened from any quarter. But though small our part, we regard our responsibility as great as that of the whole. To be even a tiny fraction of so great a power for good we consider a privilege to be proudly protected.

Although this paper is admittedly Republican in its leanings and believes honestly that the nation's best interests will be served by the re-election of President Eisenhower, we also believe that the two-party system of government is a vital bulwark of our democracy. Any trend toward weakening the two-party system at ANY government level is, to our notion, an unhealthy one. Officials serve best who face the risk of imminent defeat if they fail to fairly represent their constituents.

For that reason, our hat is off to two men whose names will be appearing in the Democratic column when voters go to the polls on Nov. 6. Each is seeking an office that has been virtually conceded to the Republican candidate for all too many years. We refer to Rev. Merwin Coad of Boone, contending with Rep. J. I. Dolliver for the post of U. S. Representative from the Sixth District; and Martin Morrissey of Clarion, candidate for county attorney.

Both of these men made appearances in Belmond last week, earnestly soliciting the support of local voters. Both clearly are conscientious men who sincerely believe they are capable of doing a better job of representing their constituencies than are their opponents. Neither Coad nor Morrissey is going to let victory go to his rival by default, it is very plain to see. It will behoove Mr. Dolliver and Arthur Draheim, Jr., to take their case directly to the people, also, if they want to assure themselves a majority of those x-marks next month.

Insofar as we have become acquainted with the "platforms" of these two, hard-working Democrats, we must confess we have not been overly impressed Both strike us as being idealistic beyond the point of practicality. Some of their promises to voters are unrealistic and ignore hard facts that HAVE to be faced.

Nevertheless, there is merit in the stands taken by both Coad and Morrissey; and it is most praiseworthy that they take their candidacy seriously enough to devote large amounts of time and effort to their pursuit of success. We predict that the contests for Sixth District Congressman and Wright county attorney will be the closest in many a year. Win or lose, the Democratic contenders deserve commendation for their demonstrated belief that the outcome of NO election should be preordained by precedent; and that NO candidate should be allowed the luxury of complacency.

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

Belmond's Broncos were their own worst enemy as they lost a hardfought decision to the Northwood Vikings here Friday night, 18 to 7. Over-taut with determination as the battle got underway, the Purple and White warriors were guilty of three costly lapses in the first five minutes of the fray and — as it turned out — Northwood had the victory wrapped up. Not but what the Broncs made a game of it all the way; for they did.

The Broncos' state of excitement cost them dearly on the very first scrimmage play of the game. Northwood had returned Belmond's opening kickoff back to the 28, and on the initial running play of the evening Mace Reyerson loped over his own right tackle for 72 yards and a TD. The Viking star's kick for point was wide, leaving his team ahead 6-0.

Belmond Fumble No. 1

A Belmond fumble on the first play following the ensuing kickoff — one of five the Broncs committed, of which they lost four — again put Northwood well into Bronco territory, on the 38-yard line. After making a 1st-and-10, the Vikings were momentarily halted by an offside penalty; but then Ryerson shot over right guard and the count was 12-0 for Northwood. His conversion kick was blocked.

All credit should be given the Broncos for not losing spirit over this dismal turn of events. They clearly considered themselves still in the ball game and forthwith marched from their own 35 to the Vikings' six-yard line in a series of nine plays. Jerry Chandler sparked the drive, passing once to Bill Murray for 24 yards and picking up 22 by his own running efforts.

Scoring March Fails

But with first down and goal to go on the six, two more cracks at the line by the tiring Chandler netted only a yard and then disaster struck in the form of a pass interception. Vic Edwards, Northwood tackle, nabbed the ball on the three and raced out to the 15 just as the first quarter ended.

Belmond's next scoring chance grew out of a nicely placed punt by Murray that went out of bounds in mid-period on Northwood's 10. The Broncos held for downs and Dave Long ran Reyerson's punt from the Viking 46 to the 31. On the next play, Roland Jenison hit Jon Mehus with a pass that was good to the one-yard line and then Murray bulled over for the touchdown. He also kicked the extra point, putting Belmond very much back in the ball game with the count 12-7.

Defensive Lapse Costly

Play got off to a disorganized start in the second half with Belmond fumbling away the ball on the third play after the kickoff, and then Ryerson fumbling it back again three plays later. Probably what was the game-breaking play occurred late in the third quarter after Murray had sent a punt to the visitors' 33-yard line.

Two tries by Northwood produced no gain, and it appeared Belmond was destined to get the ball around mid-field for another chance to go into the lead. But on the next play, the Broncos were fooled by a reverse that sent Jerry Brunsvold around left end and the Vikings picked up a 1st-and-10. Plainly dismayed by the sudden change in outlook, Belmond's defense sagged for a moment — and that was fatal.

Pass Sets Up Viking TD

Using Reyerson as a decoy, Northwood sent Brusvold on two jaunts that netted 12 yards, to the Bronco 45. On the next play, a Belmond defender tried futiley to intercept a pass lofted by Quarterback Jay Gullickson. It sailed over his fingertips into the arms of Reyerson, and the Viking horse galloped all the way to the four before he was spilled. On the next down Gullickson went over. Reyerson's pass to End Harlan Sime in the goal zone was dropped on the conversion attempt.

That play ended the third quarter, and the Broncos were never able to mount a serious threat in the final period. The closest they came was about 3½ minutes before the end of the game, when they advanced to Northwood's 33, where they again bobbled the ball away and Guard Lyle Wignes gratefully gathered it in.

Broncos Ran 68 Plays

It was a far closer game than might be indicated by the score. Actually, Belmond had possession of the ball for 68 plays from scrimmage to 60 for the Vikings. And although Northwood outgained the Broncs by 99 yards, 155 yards of their total distance was accounted for by rambles of 72, 33 and 25 yards by Reyerson and a 25-yarder by Gullickson. On their other 32 rushing plays, the Vikings gained only 104 yards. Belmond rushed for 123 in 34 running attempts.

The Broncos' passing game was a disappointment, to quite a degree due to the fact that the passers were given inadequate protection. On the other hand, their pass defense was equally weak — but the visitors took advantage of that fact only twice.

By far the outstanding player of the game was the hard-charging Reyerson. He was ably abetted by Gullickson in the Northwood backfield and Jerry Hopperstad and Vic Micklick in the line. Steve McLaughlin and Merrill Jenison, along with Leonard Steenblock, were defensive standouts in a Belmond forward wall that did itself proud a fair share of the time. Tom McNulty unquestionably did his best plunging to date from his fullback post, and Jerry Chandler both passed and ran well.

Bison Have Star In Lyle Jenkins

Bob Wilson, after scouting Buffalo Center in its 20-13 win over Garner last Friday night, reports that the Broncos will have another dangerous, break-away runner to keep an eye on when they play the Bison tomorrow night at Buffalo Center.

He's Lyle Jenkins, son of the new BS assistant coach, who gave the improved Garner eleven fits in the Cardinals' Homecoming game. On a play very similar to the one that enabled Mace Reyerson to whip Belmond almost singlehandedly last week, the speedy Jenkins scored once on a 79-yard sprint and again from 20 yards. A third tally he scored on a 25-yard jaunt was nullified by a penalty.

Wilson's report also mentioned that Tom Costigan, erstwhile basketball ace of the Bison, was decidedly a stand-out at end; and that his younger brother, Mickey Costigan, did a very competent job at quarterback in spite of being only a freshman.

Next Monday night, Buffalo Center's froshmore and junior high teams are supposed to appear here for a pair of games. At mid-week, however, no confirmation of the arrangement had been received from Buffalo Center and it was still uncertain whether the BC teams plan to come, or not.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

The North Iowa conference probably has more "alumni" playing relatively big-time football this fall than in quite a number of years. Ron Bredeson, the hefty Lake Mills guard, is No. 2 at that spot for the Iowa State Cyclones. Doug Glime, the ex-Forest City speedster, sees plenty of service at half for Drake (he was out of last weekend's game with a bad ankle.) Jon Swenson, Lake Mills, and Bob Brooks, Garner, are on the Iowa Teachers varsity squad as a tackle and halfback, respectively.

Belmond's own Wilbur Daniels and Buffalo Center's Darrell Albers are members of the Central college squad, which last Friday handed Luther a 19-7 defeat—the Norsemen's first loss in 22 games! Arlo Stoltenberg is a newcomer on the Dutchmen's squad at guard.

A drop in Belmond's rating among the Class II football teams of the state is to be expected this week, after the Broncs' 18-7 beating by Northwood. In last week's football poll, Belmond was clear up in 13th place! Lake Mills (for some reason we still can't figure out) held down 17th place and Northwood was in 20th. Respective tallies for the three teams were 70, 62 and 52.

Incidentally, we found out that in the first football poll—which listed Lake Mills 13th (and also in a lower spot)—the team that should correctly have been named in that spot was Lake City. We'd taken a guess that maybe Forest City was intended; but that wasn't the case.

We anticipate that before the season has progressed too much farther, the Lake Mills bubble will burst, like Belmond's. The Bulldogs AREN'T that strong. Buffalo Center is the only other NIC team to get any attention in the poll. The Bison were again, last week, near the bottom of the list with three votes.

With that unhappy venture against Northwood behind them, the Broncos' only remaining hope of figuring in the conference title scrap involves a Homecoming win over Forest City a week from Friday—and a Northwood defeat at Forest City on Oct. 26. The Broncs will have to weed out these defensive lapses between now and then, though, if they're going to give Forest City the business. Insofar as speed is compared, Jim Hansen can run circles around Mace Reyerson—and pick daisies along the way.

Belmond's chances against Northwood were reduced by a sickness that kept Gary Ersland out of school the first three days of last week and left the scrappy tackle in condition to play only a quarter against the Vikings. Coach Hobbs still considers Ersland potentially as fine a lineman as there is on the squad.

The Broncs got away from one bad habit in the Viking game—and picked up another that was just as harmful. In their first two contests, the Purple and White racked up 200 yards in penalties, but compensated for these errors by nabbing opponents' fumbles NINE times. Against Northwood they were penalized only twice, for 20 yards, compared to the Vikings' 75 yards; but they seemed to have contracted fumbilitis and gave away possession of the ball FOUR times on bobbles.

Local nimrods have been buying duck stamps at a lively rate in preparation for the opening of the duck hunting season this Saturday. The Iowa Conservation Commission this week released the schedule of sunrise and sunset hours for the entire season, showing that the legal hour for opening fire Saturday will be 5:45 a. m. and range down to 7:02 a. m. on Dec. 14, closing day. Firing is to cease Saturday at 5:18 p. m. The complete schedule of legal shooting hours may be seen at The Independent.

BY MRS AMOS HANSON

Former Resident Dies at Age 84

Mrs. James Trumbell, 84, of Mason City, a former Goodellian, died at her home Thursday evening, following a long illness.

Carrie Elder Trumbell was born Sept. 16, 1872, at Goodell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Elder. She grew to womanhood in this community and was married here to James Trumbell. They made their home on the Trumbell farm east of Goodell and lived there until 35 years ago, when they retired from active farming and moved to Mason City. Three children were born to them.

She was preceded in death by her husband and two little granddaughters.

Surviving are her children: a daughter, Mrs. Harry (Florence) Pringnitz of Swaledale; and two sons, Sumner Trumbell of Klemme and Harry Trumbell of Goodell. She also leaves seven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:00 p. m. at the Major Memorial Chapel, Mason City, with the Rev. I. G. Egeland, pastor of the Methodist church at Thornton officiating. Burial took place in the Amsterdam cemetery at Goodell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse York of Story City were visitors at the V. E. Harris home Sunday.

Warner and Bill Butts accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kurtz went to Fairmont, Minn., Sunday where they were dinner guests in the home of the former's sister, Olive Butts.

Two From Goodell Attend Meeting As Polio Leaders

"The 1957 financial need for the fight against polio will be $46,900,000 for patient care, rehabilitation, research, vaccination program, professional and public education," it was reported today by Mrs. George Stille and Mrs. Wilmer Hauge, chairmen for Avery and Twin Lake townships, respectively, following their return from a regional conference of March of Dimes leaders in Minneapolis.

"Rehabilitation of those already stricken with polio, and those who will still contract the disease is also a big job which the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis must see through," they said. "To a frightened child depending on an iron lung for the breath of life, the Sauk vaccine is poor consolation."

Along with 450 other polio officials, state chairmen, campaign directors and chapter chairmen, Mrs. Stille and Mrs. Hauge met with Raymond H. Barrows, executive director of the National Foundation, at the one-day meeting.

They pointed out that polio is not beaten yet. There are still millions of unvaccinated persons, children as well as adults.

The National Foundation recognizes the need for vaccinations by families who cannot afford them; Mrs. Stille and Mrs. Hauge were told. To meet this need $10,000,000 has been included in the 1957 budget to be used wherever other resources are not available.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson and two daughters accompanied by the former's sister, Barbara Peterson, spent the fore part of last week visiting in the home of the ladies' sister, Mrs. Leslie Meres, and family at Austin, Minn.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson of Manly visited in the Sandberg-Hanson home a week ago Tuesday afternoon. She was en route to her home from Ames where she had taken her son Donald, who enrolled as a junior in the electrical engineering department of Iowa State college.

Mrs. A. C. Carpenter left Saturday morning via plane from Mason City for Los Angeles, Calif., where she is spending a few weeks visiting in the Richard Carpenter home. She will also visit in the Alfred Carpenter home at San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harberts spent Wednesday evening of last week at Eagle Grove with the former's uncle, John Harberts, who was ill at a nursing home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Roberts of Polo, Ill., came Saturday and visited until Monday in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Toft of Colorado Springs, Colo., spent the past week visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Melvin Buseman, and family.

Howard and Josephine Dominy returned Monday night from an auto trip, visiting from Wednesday until Saturday in the home of a relative, Mrs. John Jordan, at Cherry Valley, Ill. While there the two former and Mrs. Jordan went to Sheridan, Ill., where they spent a day with the former's sister, Mrs. Russell Brignon, and family. On Saturday, the two former went on to Milwaukee, Wis., where they visited in the home of another sister, Marion Dominy, and enjoyed seeing the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs play ball on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede spent a few days the past week at Dows making improvements on the house they possess there.

Mrs. Eugene McCarville and son Charles of Moorland visited in the home of the former's cousins, Howard and Josephine Dominy, Wednesday.

Mrs. Tony Knipp of Salida, Colo., visited among relatives here the past week. She is a niece of Lula and Lester Wilkins and a cousin of Mrs. Lee Robbins, Sr., Marcellus Fuller and William Knisley. The former will be remembered as Nellie Wilkins, living for many years on a farm near here with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilkins.

Mrs. Dale Schreiner of Moville was an overnight visitor in the parental E. J. Schneider home Saturday, coming especially to visit her father who is ill in the Community hospital at Belmond. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schneider of Ames also spent Sunday in the parental Schneider home.

Mrs. Oscar Olson was an overnight visitor in the home of her friend, Odella Anderson, at Wallingford, Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bergeson and children of Gruver made a short visit in the parental O. W. Myers home Sunday, being en route to Ames to visit their son Kenneth who attends Iowa State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hum of Buffalo Center visited friends, the Oscar Olsons, Saturday morning, being en route to Iowa Falls for a visit.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mrs. Laton Avery were her sisters, Mrs. Lee Milsap of Williams and Mrs. Mayme Dillon of Belmond. Saturday evening visitors in this home were friends, Mrs. Ruth Swanson of Olds and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Erickson of Kanawha. The Ericksons are teachers in the Kanawha schools. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chase of Geneva, Minn., visited in Mrs. Avery's home.

Sol Krass attended a meeting of the Sunady school teachers of Trinity church of Belmond held at the Lutheran church in Kanawha Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Krass and sons Conrad and Mark went to Livermore that afternoon where they were supper guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. John O. Hanson. The occasion celebrated Mark's sixth birthday.

Shower Honors Bride-To-Be At Herman Heginger Home

Mrs. Herman Heginger assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Iver Toft and Mrs. John Osnes of Clear Lake, and Mrs. Melvin Evans of Mason City, and her sisters-in-law, Mrs. George Heginger, Mrs. William Heginger of Belmond and Mrs. Ben Heginger, was hostess to a miscellaneous shower party in the former's home Thursday afternoon, honoring Betty Greiman of Chapin. Miss Greiman is the fiancee of Byron Heginger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heginger. The afternoon was spent with contests and socially, followed by the bride-to-be opening her gifts which were many, lovely and useful. This was followed by a tasty luncheon served by the hostesses. About 50 relatives and friends from the Goodell, St. Olaf and Belmond communities were guests at this enjoyable party.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beier and Nancy and the former's mother, Mrs. W. F. Beier, all of Fort Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Clark of Clear Lake spent Sunday at the Beiers house here, making preparations for the sale of the house and the furnishings.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Brunes and sons spent Sunday in the parental J. E. Shelton home at Britt and while there enjoyed a visit with her sister, Mrs. Leo Clark, Jr., and three children of Seattle, Wash., who are making a visit in the parental Shelton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heginger went to Clear Lake Sunday evening where they were guests at the wedding of the latter's nephew, David Toft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Toft of Clear Lake, to Miss Marjorie Wallace, also of Clear Lake. The wedding service was held at the Zion Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Knisley of Rockwell visited among relatives here Thursday, the Willis Knisleys, Lula Wilkins and Mrs. Charles Conklin.

Mrs. Wayne Stille and infant son, Gene Allen, were dismissed from the Community hospital at Belmond Saturday and are spending this week in the parental Martin Burrs home.

BROGAN RITES HELD

Graveside services were held for Clifford Brogan of Sac City at Amsterdam cemetery Wednesday afternoon of last week with the Rev. Park E. Miller officiating. Mr. Brogan passed away at a nursing home at Sac City following a long illness. He was preceeded in death by his wife and is survived by several grown children.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson went to Lake Lillian, Minn., Saturday where they visited in the home of her cousin, Oren Rust, and attended the wedding that evening of the latter's daughter Mary to Bruce Sherwood. They also visited in the home of another cousin, Arthur Rust, at Willmar, Minn., returning home on Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Hughes of Hampton was an overnight visitor Sunday in the home of her sister, Mrs. Anton Boller, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boller and Carolyn. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boller, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Charles Conklin went to Mason City to pay their respects to the late Mrs. James Trumbell whose body lay in state at the Major Memorial Funeral Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson, O. Sandberg and Edith together with Leo Gribben of Clear Lake, Major and Mrs. Carl R. Sandberg, Carla and Bill of Fort Leavenworth, Kans., and the latter's friend, Jim Coonley of Hampton, were supper guests in the H. O. Sandberg home at Clear Lake Sunday. The Carl Sandberg family had come to their home at Hampton for the weekend, transacting business.

Verner Christie of Hartley visited in the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Conklin, Sunday being en route from his home to Lamont where he is employed as the mechanic with a construction company.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bausch and daughter Kris Rae moved to Clear Lake where they purchased a home. The Bausch family formerly lived at Mason City but have been assisting in the Boller home since Mrs. Boller's illness this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropp and Leona Schlichting were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. W. E. Tanner Sunday. After dinner the group went to Corwith to get the latter's sister, Mrs. Lida Martin, and went on to Fairbault, Minn., where they visited the "Mum" gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cline and two children visited Sunday in the homes of his sisters, Mrs. Arnold Jenison, at Marshalltown and Mrs. Henry Hettel, at Ames. The Hettel family moved from Ames, where Mr. Hettel had completed his Master's Degree, to Park Forest, Chicago, Ill., where he is now employed with Armour's research laboratories as assistant chemist. These women will be remembered to local folks as Dorothy and Doris Cline.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carpenter and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Roberts of Polo, Ill., went to West Bend Sunday where they viewed the Grotto and in the afternoon visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlichting at Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropp transacted business at Garner and Mason City Thursday and en route home visited in the home of Mrs. Emil Beier at Klemme and enjoyed a visit with Lydia Beier of Waterloo who was spending that week in the home of her sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Swenson, Jr., of Minneapolis, Minn., visited in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Benson, Sunday afternoon, while en route to their home. Mr. Swenson attends Augsberg college in Minneapolis, and they had spent the weekend at Belmond with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Christie and two children of Charles City, were overnight visitors in the Ione Christie home Saturday. The former family were accompanied here by Mrs. Christie's grandmother, Mrs. Anton Boller, who had spent a week in the home of her son, H. E. Boller, at Charles City.

● Belmond Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Comstock of Eagle Grove visited Saturday evening with the Chester Hill family.

Mrs. Ralph Jenison went to Red Wing, Minn., last Wednesday to attend funeral services for her brother-in-law, George Burch.

Mr. and Mrs. Talferd Johnson returned home a week ago Monday after visiting in the homes of Rev. and Mrs. Dwane Shay of Artesian, S. D., Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Johnshoy at Aneta, N. D., and other friends and relatives in Minneapolis and other points in Minnesota.

VOL. 37 NO. 1 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, OCT. 11, 1956 — 12/15/81 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

In order to save an innocent student from getting behind the eight ball by correcting her teacher, we wish to pass along an item of information for said pedagogue. The body which ultimately "elects" the President of the United States is the electoral college — NOT the electorial college.

We'll say this, the young lady who was mispronouncing the word fought strenuously in defense of her instructor's omniscience (there's one for her to look up). She was willing to concede her teacher must be wrong ONLY after we showed her there was no such word as "electorial" in the dictionary.

We at The Independent ought to get an "A" in civics for this quarter. We had to supply dozens of students with the names of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates appearing on Iowa's ballot. Then there was the question of how many electors Iowa has. We have just 10.

While on the subject of politics, we wonder how many like ourselves were curious from what source came the funds for the Socialist-Labor party to publish a full-page ad in last Friday's Des Moines Register! That takes a goodly chunk of dough; and we're 100 per cent certain the party itself hasn't enough members in Iowa to put up that kind of money. The ad certainly gave capitalism a good raking over! . . . We'd lay a moderate wager that the Socialist-Labor party won't poll as many votes for President in November as there were dollars spent on that advertisement.

Cindy Musselman, as scribe for the most lately formed of Belmond's Camp Fire groups, came in to see us last Thursday with a report on the girls' first meeting of the season. The reason we mention it here, instead of in the news columns, is because we were so impressed by the name the girls had chosen for their group.

We'd always heard that the Indians were people of few words. But Cindy's bunch must have borrowed their name from a not very typical tribe. It's the Wi-co-can-te-waste group, all of which means "Gladness of heart!"

The girls, who advanced from Blue Bird to Camp Fire status as of this fall, also elected officers at their initial meeting held Thursday at the library basement. They're: Kristine Thompson, president; Vicki Smith, secretary; Janice Ubben, treasurer; and, of course, Cindy. Ah yes, and Mrs. Bob Garms (leader) brought treats.

Rather belatedly, we wish to announce that the programs left unused after presentation of the Centennial pageant have at long last come to light. There were numerous inquiries about extra copies right after the celebration. If any persons would STILL like to have some, they're available at the Independent office.

We've made mention periodically in The Independent of the unique writing gift of the famed Bailey of Britt, newspaperman of that community who 40 years ago was among the midwest's most widely quoted editors. The man could WRITE! As a further example we'd like to pass on a panegyric on kissing that came from his pen. Commented Bailey: "Some darned fool has now defined a kiss as being nothing but a thrill. Jerusalem! We remember a little black-eyed girl who stuck her mouth up for a kiss as we left her at her father's door one June evening, and talk about thrills!

"That kiss was composed of three parts chain lightning and seven parts concentrated bliss. It started in little twinkles and ran down our backbone like nectar running out of a jug."

"At every joint it spread out in a spray of unadulterated joy, mixed with the strains of an aeolian harp with bells on every spray. It permeated our whole frame in scintillations and melodies until every hair on our head was a band of music, our very toenails rhapsodies. Ten thousand fairies were dancing a-down our heartstrings with honey on their feet, and a perfume like the attar of roses pervaded the atmosphere. Thrills! Well yes, a million of them all at once. She afterwards married a man with a wart on his nose and feet as big as a ham."

From Mrs. Paul Wessels came a check last week renewing her subscription to The Independent for another year. The Wessels moved from this vicinity to Blooming Prairie, Minn., a couple of years ago. Last year she was inadvertantly charged only $3.50 for her renewal, instead of the correct amount of $4.00. We missed the mistake entirely — but not Mrs. W. She sent along an extra 50 cents this time to correct the error. The testimony of honesty meant a good deal more to us than the overdue four-bits.

A friend of the Mainstreeters' reports that he witnessed a strange phenomenon recently when standing on the bluff of the Iowa river back of the local Boy Scout camp just south of town. He says, "Believe it or not, I could SEE clear to the bottom of the river!"

Not because the river was dry, either; but because the sewage treatment plant is competently achieving its assigned job.

Our reporter added that he's stood in the same spot in previous years and the water there looked thick enough to cut with a knife. The plant's accomplishments are evidenced by greater fish and wildlife activity on and in the river downstream, too, it's said.

JUNIOR CHAMBER WILL SPONSOR "VOICE OF DEMOCRACY" CONTEST

Plans of the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce to participate in the National Jaycees' "Voice of Democracy" contest were announced this week by Leland "Bud" Barkema, president of the local JCC.

Mr. Barkema explained that this contest is a broadcast script-writing and speaking competition which gives high school students an opportunity to think, write and speak on the democratic principles that have made America great.

Any student in one of the upper three grades of high school may enter. Contest entries will be judged on the content, delivery and originality of five-minute scripts on the subject, "I Speak for Democracy."

Following school eliminations about the middle of November, a community winner will be selected to represent Belmond in the state contest. The winner's speech will be tape-recorded and forwarded, with a photograph, for judging at the state level.

The Iowa winner will receive an all-expense trip to Washington, D. C., to compete in the national contest in February. There all the state champions will receive their awards and four U. S. winners will be chosen from among 50 state and territorial qualifiers. Each of the national winners will be awarded a $500 scholarship check and a gold recording of his or her prize-winning script.

Preparation of local entrants' scripts will be under the supervision of Principal Paul Buck. Students interested can obtain full particulars regarding the contest from him.

Sid Williams is chairman of the Belmond Jaycees' "Voice of Democracy" contest committee. Its other members are Roger Johnson and DuWayne Kalkwarf. Judges of the local contest and awards that will go to the winners will be announced later.

"Good Neighbors" Combine Soybeans

Wednesday morning of last week, a host of friends and neighbors descended upon the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Swenson to combine 43 acres of soybeans. Vernon has fallen behind in his harvesting due to suffering a broken collarbone in an auto mishap the middle of September.

Food for lunch and dinner was provided by Mrs. Steve Hinman, Mrs. Loren Bamford, Mrs. Earl Hinman, Mrs. Gerald Swenson, Mrs. Ralph Christie, Mrs. Cleo Wilson and Mrs. Percy Swenson. Three of these women also helped Mrs. Swenson serve the noon meal — Mrs. Earl Hinman, Mrs. Loren Bamford and Mrs. Percy Swenson.

ENROLLS AS AIB STUDENT

Janean Barkema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barkema, has enrolled as a student at the American Institute of Business, Des Moines. A 1956 graduate of Alexander Consolidated school, she will take a junior secretarial course at AIB.

INDEPENDENT MARKS BIRTHDAY—

Starting Our 37th Year

With this issue The Independent launches upon the 37th year of its existence. Since the local press was, for lack of time allowed for preparation, left out of the historical book published at the time of the Belmond Centennial we would like to take advantage of the occasion to review briefly this newspaper's history.

Actually, The Independent has succeeded in a direct line from Belmond's first newspaper, The Mirror, by a chain of consolidations. So its antecedents go back nearly 84 years, to the date that The Mirror was established in 1873.

This first forebear of The Independent was started by G. G. Pritchard and A. M. Allen in January of 1873. In its early days it was printed on the famous Lovejoy press — which some years before had been resurrected from the bottom of the Mississippi river and whose story did appear in the Centennial book.

Among subsequent owners of The Mirror was Rev. J. E. Rowan, who later gained a name for himself in the U. S. diplomatic service. Perhaps the most competent newspaperman to be affiliated with The Mirror was Frank Gates. He'd once been co-publisher of the Webster City Freeman and was recognized as a journalist of considerably more than average ability.

It was Mr. Gates who in 1876 changed the paper's name to the Belmond Herald. The Herald continued a separate existence under several ownerships — the last owner being E. A. Pierce — until it was consolidated with the Iowa Valley Press in 1914.

The late J. D. Baker, father of Glenn, Guy and Ralph Baker, founded the Press in 1895. It and the Herald fought a lively battle for community support until the twin brothers for whom Ramsay school is named — Wallace R. and Walter C. Ramsay — bought the Press in 1900.

Under the Ramsays' guidance, The Iowa Valley Press came to predominate over the Herald. When the two papers were consolidated, upon purchase of the Herald by the newly formed Belmond Printing and Publishing company in 1914, the name of the surviving paper became the Herald-Press. The Ramsay brothers kept a controlling interest in the publishing company, but a number of prominent citizens of Belmond and vicinity were shareholders.

It was in 1919 that R. A. Rankins established The Independent, and Belmond continued a two-newspaper town until 1927. In that year, Mr. and Mrs. Rankins bought the Herald-Press from the Belmond Printing and Publishing company, Wallace Ramsay at the time being local postmaster and his brother, for a number of years Iowa's secretary of state, having died a year or two earlier.

After Mr. Rankins' death in 1929, Mrs. Rankins continued publishing the paper until 1934. She sold to C. W. Sankey, now Wright county superintendent of schools, and he in turn sold to Larry Miller in 1936. Two years later George Hansen, in partnership with Hal Kestler, became owner of The Independent.

In March of 1940, The Belmond Advertiser was consolidated with The Independent. Mr. Hansen had meanwhile purchased his original partner's interest and when the Belmond Publishing company was formed at time of the merger the partners in the business were Mr. Hansen, R. H. Gowdy and W. R. Ramsay. Mrs. Hansen acquired Mr. Ramsay's interest at the time of his death in 1946; and that third of the business has now been purchased by J. R. Gallagher.

Looking back upon the long line of honest, industrious newspaper people who have preceded them in providing Belmond with news of the day and a valuable medium of advertising, the present publishers take pride in claiming them all as forerunners.

Fellow publishers of this area have been kind enough to praise The Independent as one of north Iowa's better weekly newspapers. Today, it runs 1,750 copies a week and prints an equal number of copies of its companion publication, the Belmond Buyers Guide, to give local merchants an advertising medium matched in few communities of equal size in the entire state.

On the news side, The Independent was judged Iowa's top community service newspaper in the weekly field in 1952 and 1954 and placed fourth in the same competition at this year's state press convention.

While our volume number changes to No. 37 with this issue, we prefer to regard that The Independent can justifiably regard that the anniversary of The Mirror's founding next January will see it, in one sense, entering upon its 85th year of service to Belmond.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:45 p. m. at Johnston Funeral Home and at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist church for Ray Brewer, who suffered a fatal heart attack while on a fishing trip last week at Deer River, Minn. The services were conducted by Rev. M. L. Jones and burial was at Belmond cemetery, where Odd Fellows rites were performed.

An ardent sportsman throughout his lifetime, Mr. Brewer had gone last week to Minnesota in company with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Thompson. He had gone onto the lake Friday morning to fish and had just made his first catch when he slumped in the boat, his heart having failed.

Raymond Talmay Brewer was born July 26, 1889, at Grundy Center, son of William and Katherine Brewer. He grew up on his parents' farm and that was his home until his marriage to Emma Louise Gealow on June 25, 1919.

For the next 25 years he ran a cafe here at Belmond, winning an excellent patronage and earning a reputation as a fine cook. His culinary ability was later utilized on many occasions by the Sportsman's club, of which he was a loyal member — and by which he was regarded as a favorite chef on the occasion of fish fries and other feeds.

Ill health forced him to give up the strenuous work of running a restaurant, and the past four seasons he had operated an ice cream stand on Highway 69 in Belmond.

Ray was a member of the Methodist church and also belonged to the IOOF and Modern Woodman lodges, in addition to the Sportsman's club. He was a man of jolly disposition and made many good friends during his years of serving the public. He will be truly missed by all who had come to know him.

Mr. Brewer was preceded in death by a sister, May Hartwig, in addition to his parents. Besides his widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Edna Norris of Rowan, and a brother, Ed Brewer of Liberal, Kans.

BEAVERS BACK IN STATES

FCNC Dwight Beavers, USN, phoned his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Beavers, on Wednesday night of last week to tell her he had just arrived in the States after a six-month cruise in the Mediterranean aboard the USS North Hampton. He told her that at Norfolk, Va., he had enjoyed some time with Dallas Trager, another Belmondite and son of Mr. and Mrs. August Trager, Jr. Dallas was soon to leave on an expedition to the South Pole, his second in as many years.

Not A Drop Fell!

Precipitation of Cash Gift Day dollars this week was about on a par with rainfall of recent weeks. Nothin' dropped! There was $350 to be had; but holders of lucky numbers were very conspicious in their absence. The CGD committee is boosting the total ante to $400 for next week, in search of a winner. There will be the customary four $25 prizes at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday; and SIX $50's at 3:00 p. m.

Traveler Praises Friendly Message On Highway Sign

Mayor Henry Hokel was very pleased recently to receive a polite and appreciative letter complimenting the city of Belmond on the "welcome" sign that stands at the south approach to town on Highway 69. It was written by Don Ross, field merchandising manager for "Successful Farming" magazine.

Commented Mr. Ross: "I would like to congratulate you on that friendly sign that you have posted on the highway just out of Belmond south of the railroad tracks. Instead of making a threat about arresting people who speed through town, I think it is nice that you have a friendly plea to be sane in driving. Most folks react very well to such a plea, don't they?

"Because of such a friendly sign, I always make it a point to stop by in Belmond to get coffee at a restaurant on the east side of the road, or to get gas, oil, or whatever the car needs. I think it is good business on the part of your town to put up such a sign.

"It is the friendliest sign I know between Des Moines and Minneapolis, and I believe it helps label your town as a community made up of friendly folks who appreciate a little consideration . . . as far as the safety of the people are concerned."

The sign which Mr. Ross finds so praiseworthy was erected by the Belmond Chamber of Commerce. A similar one is to be placed on the north approach to town, but this has been delayed until all work on the shoulders — following widening of No. 69 — has been completed.

SWEDE'S TAP MOVES

E. E. "Swede" Smith announces that he has moved the location of Swede's Tap Room from the quarters it has been occupying just east of the P&G grocery to the Hill building on the south side of Main street. He says he will be open for business in the new location Friday.

Farmers May Now Obtain Soil Bank Data on Conservation Reserve Plan

Wright county farmers may now obtain detailed information on the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank at the Soil Bank and Conservation room at the county ASC office, Clarion. Up to this time, detailed information was available only on the acreage reserve part of the soil bank, according to the county ASC committee.

Even though the present crop year is well advanced, farmers will have until Nov. 30 to sign conservation reserve contracts beginning in 1956 and calling for full-year payments for the current year. However, to qualify for conservation reserve contracts beginning in 1956, the designated land must not have been cropped or grazed since the start of this year, even in the drouth areas.

Farmers who wish to sign contracts beginning in 1957 can get the information they need to make their plans for next year with the conservation reserve plan in mind and sign contracts any time between now and next March 15th. The land they decide to put into the conservation reserve beginning next year cannot be grazed or cropped after the start of 1957, even if they delay signing contracts until March 15.

The acreage reserve, which is already in effect in the county, and the conservation reserve, which is now being offered for the first time, are both designed to help reduce present surpluses of commodities by cutting crop production, but there are important differences in the two plans.

While the acreage reserve calls specifically for a cut in acreage of allotment crops — corn and wheat in Iowa — the conservation reserve applies to all regularly used cropland. Acreage reserve agreements are signed for one-year periods only, and payments represent the approximate net income the diverted land would have returned had it been used to raise an allotment crop.

Conservation reserve contracts run from three to 15 years, with the designated land going into conserving practices, in return for which the participant receives an annual payment. In Iowa, the annual conservation reserve payment will average $13 per acre. In addition, the government will meet up to 80 per cent of the cost of establishing approved conservation practices on the designated land under contracts running for five or more years. Through the conservation reserve program, farmers will have the opportunity to receive government assistance in conserving their farm resources and rehabilitating over-cropped or eroded land.

Dickinson Rites Held Last Week

Funeral rites were held Tuesday morning of last week for Mrs. Charles Dickinson, age 70, who died at her home the preceding Sunday after a long illness. Rev. R. A. Ormsby officiated over the services and Fulton Funeral Home was in charge. Burial was in St. Francis cemetery.

Mrs. Dickinson had suffered poor health for many years and had been bedfast the last year and a half of her life. She had made Belmond her home since 1928.

Born at Millersburg on June 21, 1886, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McSwiggin. She was married on Nov. 21, 1905 to Charles C. Dickinson, and nine children were born to them.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are seven of their children; William, Thomas, Lawrence, Dorothy and Lucille, all living at home; Mrs Berl (Margaret) Hawkins of Newton and Mrs Lloyd (Florence) Ulrich of Mason City. She also leaves 11 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. Dickinson was preceded in death by a son Robert, who died in infancy about 1920; and by another son, Donald, who lost his life while in military service during World War II.

Chet Hiddleston Will Leave Belmond To Manage Anthony Store at Atlantic

C. C. "Chet" Hiddleston has announced that he is selling his interest in the local Woodward's store to the C. R. Anthony company, with which it has been affiliated for the past six months, and has accepted an offer to become manager of a new Anthony store at Atlantic. The southwestern Iowa community is county seat of Cass county and has a population of nearly 6,500.

While expressing deep regret over the necessity of leaving Belmond, Mr. Hiddleston says the offer received from the Anthony company represented too good an opportunity to be declined. He has been engaged for a week or two past in buying merchandise for the Atlantic store, but will not take over direct management of it until mid-November. The store will open Dec. 1.

Eugene DeLancey, who has been serving as assistant manager of the Woodward store at Independence, will come to Belmond the first of November to assume management of the store here. Mr. Hiddleston will assist his successor for 10 days to two weeks, while Mr. DeLancey is acquainting himself with his new responsibilities.

Mr. Hiddleston spent most of last week at the Anthony main office at Oklahoma City, Okla., where he had opportunity to discuss the Atlantic offer with the president of the store chain, C. R. Anthony, and the latter's two sons who are vice presidents of the company, Ray and Guy Anthony.

He says he was much impressed with the cordiality shown him and with the enthusiasm that was expressed over the prospects of the new store at Atlantic. Although there are some 250 stores in the Anthony chain and its affiliates, the Atlantic establishment will be the first in Iowa to follow exactly the Anthony format.

The typical Anthony store boasts considerably larger departments than are characteristic of outlets in the affiliated Woodward chain and also carries a full line of men's wear, including suits, top and overcoats and hats. Most of the Anthony stores are located in southern and southwestern United States, while the Woodward group is scattered through the north central and northwest areas.

Location of the Atlantic store will be in quarters that have been occupied for some three-fourths of a century by the community's major department store, Bullock's. The Bullock owners are completely closing out their business and the Anthony store will open with completely new stock, throughout.

A resident of Belmond since February of 1953, Mr. Hiddleston has been extremely active in community affairs. He was president of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce in 1954-55 and it was under his leadership that the very successful division of the Chamber into the present Retail and Civic Bureaus took place. He later served as chairman of the Retail Bureau.

He has also been vice president of the Lions club, is on the official board of the Methodist church and is current secretary-treasurer of the Gridiron club. He served as co-chairman of the Belmond Centennial celebration and earned a generous share of the credit for its success.

In regard to Mr. Hiddleston's imminent departure from Belmond, Don Bunnell, president of the C-of-C, says, "It may be a trite expression, but in this case it is regrettably true that our loss of Chet will certainly be Atlantic's gain. His efforts to make Belmond a better and more thriving town have been outstanding and his contribution to Belmond has been a very real one. I'm sure I can speak for all of his many friends and his fellow businessmen in expressing deep regret that he is leaving our town; and at the same time wishing him the most complete success in his new undertaking."

Party to Observe "Ike's" Birthday Friday Afternoon

President Eisenhower's birthday, which is this coming Sunday, will be celebrated a bit prematurely by Republican women of Belmond and vicinity with a birthday party tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at the Congregational church parlors. Coffee will be served from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. and the general public is most cordially invited to take part in this absentee courtesy to Ike.

As part of the refreshments, cake will be served that has been baked from the President's favorite cake recipe. There will be no charge for the refreshments and no collection of any sort will be taken. The committee emphasizes that the event is being held strictly for the purpose of honoring the President.

Birthday scrolls will be available at the coffee party which well-wishers may sign to send greetings to Ike on the occasion of his birthday. These scrolls read:

"In appreciation of your dedication to our Nation, and the example you have set of devotion to God, family, and your fellow man . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY, IKE.

"You have asked that the coming election be 'The decision of America, not the decision of the minority.'

"Therefore, I pledge to vote, and to do all I can between now and Election Day to encourage my friends and neighbors to vote."

In addition to this general observance of the President's birthday, many loyal, local Republicans are planning TV parties Saturday evening to which they are inviting friends to take part in the nationwide festivities planned in conjunction with Ike's birthday.

A special radio and television (Channel 3) show is scheduled for 8:00 p. m. Saturday, which will feature many stars of stage and screen.

DEMOCRATIC BREAKFAST

As part of the observance of National Dollars for Democrats Day, a breakfast is being served Tuesday morning of next week at 9:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Orphie Anderson. Mrs. Merle Bonte will be co-hostess. All persons interested in supporting the Democratic party are cordially invited.

Aunt Jemima Will Make Appearance At "Pancake Day"

Aunt Jemima, "in person," will pay Belmond a visit on Friday of next week to participate in the "Pancake Day" being sponsored by Belmond Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the BHS Homecoming. This is the second year that the C-of-C has contributed to the Homecoming festivities by setting up free cakes and coffee (milk for the youngsters) for the pre-game crowd.

Dave Kennedy, who heads the Chamber committee-in-charge, says the pancake stand will be set up approximately in front of the Independent office. He's being assisted by Claire Hildman, Harold Johnson and Ervin E. "Swede" Smith.

Believing in being prepared for even the remotest eventualities, the committee states that in case of rain the stand will be placed beneath the awning at the east side of Woodward's store.

Serving will not start until 4:30 p. m., in order to allow ample time for the downtown crowd to concentrate its attention on the Homecoming parade as it passes along Main street. The hotcakes and coffee will be available until 6:30 p. m.

KANSAS VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitkens and sons and Mrs. Nora Fitkens, all of Atchison, Kan., were visitors over the weekend in the Arthur Meyer home.

ASSN. FOR RETARDED CHILDREN—

New Affiliate of Chest Cites Objectives

One of the new affiliates that will share in the funds raised by the 1956 Community Chest campaign in Belmond, to be launched a week from next Monday, is the Wright County Association for Retarded Children. While its appropriation from the local Chest is only $100, the work of this organization is highly important.

Mrs. Charles Keith of Rowan, president of the county association, says that $685 is being raised for the group this by the various Community Chests in the county.

This amount is not nearly adequate to carry on a countywide training program for retarded children, but it will help to promote the long-range objectives of the county, state and national associations. The Wright group is now affiliated with the Iowa Association and soon will be a member of the National Association for Retarded Children.

It is the hope of those interested in the plight of these children that in due time they will receive training through public funds on the same basis that normal children are educated in our tax-supported schools. Meanwhile the funds acquired by local associations to help retarded children will be devoted to the following purposes:

1. Research to find the cause and ultimate prevention of mental retardation.
2. To establish special classes for such children.
3. To expand institutional facilities available to them.
4. To establish scholarships to train teachers for special classes.

Mrs. Keith points out that there are 4,800,000 mentally retarded children and adults in the United States, which represents three per cent of the total population.

She further notes that out of every 100,000 population in this country, there are: 700 suffering from rheumatic heart disease, 300 with cerebral palsy, 300 permanently crippled by polio, 200 are blind—and 3,000 are mentally retarded.

It must be kept in mind, Mrs. Keith emphasizes, that the mentally retarded child will remain handicapped throughout his life, requiring special consideration, special training and continuous care. This is a tragic, human handicap and a major community, state and national problem.

"The retarded child," says Mrs. Keith, "is no less precious than any other child. Today, every child, including the mentally retarded, has the right to happiness, the opportunity to develop the best of his capabilities, and—when it is possible—to lead a productive, community life.

"Everyone should be interested in the retarded child," she adds, "since he may live next door, up the block, or even in your own household."

Through funds provided by the Wright County Health association, a day school for retarded children in the older age brackets was conducted for a six-week period this past summer. It is the hope of the county association for retarded children that the project can be continued this coming year.

While supplemental funds will be required to accomplish this, it and the other objectives of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children will be aided by assuring that the Community Chest drive reaches its goal.

Letters of Small Fry to President Eisenhower Suggest Strong Ground Swell Among Yoyo Set

"And a little child shall lead them," says the Good Book. If the same stipulation involves politics, it looks like a rough year locally for the Democrats.

To the Independent office has come a sheaf of letters written by some Belmond third-graders, which are to be forwarded to President Eisenhower. They certainly suggest a ground swell among the younger generation in favor of the GOP nominee.

All begin, very chummily, "Dear Ike." From there on, we quote several specimens as follows:

Kristin McNeal (perhaps influenced by her environment) — "I went to see you at Colfax. My mother had to lift me up to see you. I wish that I could have shaken hands with you. We are all in third grade. My teacher is a Republican too. (Ed's note: AND Supt. Don Faris?) I like you Ike and Mamie."

Jerry Mennenga — "I am voting for you because I would like you to be president. I would like a picture of your and your wife. My address is 213 3rd ave. SE Belmond Iowa."

Jim Cox — "I want a picture of you and Mamie. Send it to Jim Cox 607 6th ave. NE Belmond Iowa. My family and I are voting for you. (Ed's note — again: These bankers all seem to be Republicans.) A friend made up a club. The name of the club is Junior Ike Club."

Candace McClenahan — "I would vote for you if I was big enough. (Ed, again: Here's a gal who at least recognizes her legal limitations.) We started a Junior Ike club. I hope you win. I would like a picture of you and your wive. I will be 8 years old Oct. 11th."

Joan Leinbach — "I would like a picture of you and wife. I want you to win for President. I have two ponies and a collie. My friends and I are starting a Junior Ike club. I went down to see you at Ames. I enjoyed watching you."

Robert Luin Cox — "I am voting for you. I would like a picture of you and your wife. I will be happy if you win."

Jane Carwell — "I am voteing for you. I would like a picture. (Note, you-know-who: Jane's Dad doesn't waste words, either.)"

With this Ramsay school crowd in there pitching, all we've got to say is that Adlai can count himself lucky that the voting age hasn't been lowered to eight!

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND—

Iowa Land Neil's Stock in Trade

Neil Flanagan, realtor and insurance man who has called Belmond "home" for the past 16 years, first came to this vicinity in 1934 to pick corn during the harvest season. He returned each fall for the next three years and climaxed his seasonal appearances by "picking" a wife, also, in 1937. She was Alice Buterbaugh of Alexander.

The Flanagans have since acquired four children: Larry, who's a BHS senior this year; Janice, a junior; Alan, a sophomore; and Robert, who's in 5th grade.

Lake Andes, S. D., was Neil's birthplace (on Aug. 16, 1912) and he was graduated from high school there in 1930. It was 10 years later than he came to Belmond to live. He got a job as salesman for the Belmond Auto company in 1940, shifting over to the Coast to Coast store the latter part of 1942.

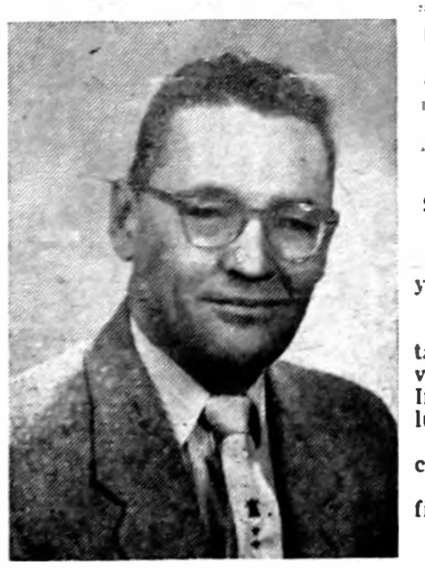
Neil wasn't called for military service during World War II but got in his licks for the cause by working in Alaska on the construction of the Alcan highway during the building season of 1943. On his return, he went back to the Coast to Coast store; but in 1945 he went into the insurance business for himself.

A year later he got his license as a real estate broker, and he finds the two lines of business very much to his liking. Neil admits that he gets "as much kick out of selling good Iowa land" as almost anything you might mention.

Has Held Realtor Offices

He is a member of the National, Iowa and Wright County Real Estate associations and of the National Institute of Farm Brokers. The respect in which he is held by his fellow realtors has been demonstrated by his election to offices in both the National Real Estate association and the Institute of Farm Brokers.

In 1949 he was elected a national vice president in the association, heading a five-state territory in that capacity. He has been on the board of directors of the institute and is currently vice president of Iowa Chapter No. 2.



NEIL FLANAGAN
Came to Pick Corn; Got a Wife

It might be mentioned in passing that Neil is a member of that limitless fraternity holding the right to say, "I was once a newspaperman, myself." He served The Independent as farm reporter for eight or nine months in 1946 and says he thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

Then Business Got Good

Apparently the contacts thus made paid off, for he adds that his insurance business burgeoned so in late fall that he had to give up news writing to concentrate on writing applications.

Neil is a member of the Lions club, Sportsman's club and of the Eagle Grove lodge of Knights of Columbus. He's also a member of the Catholic church.

He's done his share in contributing both time and money to worthy civic causes. He was co-chairman of the pageant during last summer's Centennial celebration and did a fine job on what was a decidedly trying assignment. Neil's been a "good citizen" of Belmond.

His primary hobbies are fishing, hunting and traveling. But he's one of those fellows who gets very thorough enjoyment and satisfaction out of his work and is as happy at it as he would be at a favorite pastime.

Wright 4-H Girls To Have Clothing As Next Activity

Clothing will be the activity program of the Wright county 4-H girls during the 1956-57 club year. Organization of the clubs for the new year was to be set up at a meeting to be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at the Clarion American Legion hall.

Grooming and clothing selection will be emphasized in the club program as well as clothing construction.

Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, reminds that any girl between the ages of 10 and 21 is eligible to take part in 4-H work, whether she lives in town or in the country. The girls' county committee will welcome the formation of new clubs.

Wright county now has 13 girls' 4-H clubs, with recent formation of a new one — the Trojans club of Troy township.

Activities of the 1955-56 year came to a close recently when Deloris Marker and Joyce Callies of the Woolstock Willing Workers represented Wright county at the National Dairy Cattle Congress, Waterloo, on Wednesday of last week as a demonstration team. At the weekend, their placing had not yet been learned. They were the second-place team at the Eagle Grove fair.

4-H Membership "Month" Now On

This month is 4-H membership month, and club leaders of the county are hopeful that a number of boys and girls of eligible age will be joining the 4-H ranks. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 is eligible.

Clothing will be the girls' project work in the county during 1956-57. Farm project members will have a choice of 18 different projects to choose from, according to Gerald Anderson, extension youth assistant. Among the choices are beef, dairy, sheep, [illegible] poultry or grain crops.

Special activity of the farm project clubs will be control of external parasites in livestock. Members will learn ways of controlling lice and mange in swine, ticks and scab in sheep, grubs, lice, mange and fly control in cattle.

Young people interested in club membership should see Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, or one of the club leaders.

Reservists to Get More Information On "Call" Chances

"Congress, in its last session, enacted a law placing upon the Selective Service System responibility of screening the nation's entire standby reserve, both men and Woman, and the reservists are being mailed questionnaires to be filled out and returned to local boards for use in determing their availability in time of national emergency," Col. Glenn R. Bowles, state director of Selective Service for Iowa, says.

In explaining why the standby reservists are receiving these questionnaires, Colonel Bowles pointed out some of the problems which have faced the standby reservist in years past. He recalled, "In time of emergency the standby reservist had no way of judging if and when he would be called to active duty. This was actually less knowledge than most selective service registrants had in regard to their status, since selective service registrants could find out many things regarding their situation, and also had the opportunity of presenting information to their draft boards (made up of local people), who could take action to reclassify the registrants where circumstances warranted it.

"The standby reservist, meanwhile, was trying to judge his vlunerability by watching and listening to news reports. The new law was designed to correct this situation by insuring that each standby reservist would be called to active duty only after full consideration had been given all facts in his case, as well as the weighing of the effect that his entry on active duty would have on the national health, safety, or interest."

Each standby reservist will be placed in one of three categories, based upon the information in his questionnaire: I-R—avaiblale, II-R—deferred for civilian occupation essential to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest, or III-R—deferred by reason of extreme hardship and privation to dependents.

In time of war or national emergency declared by Congress, this will give the standby reservist a clearer picture of his position as regards his or her call to active duty.

The standby reservist has the right of appeal if he is not convinced that his category is correct, but continues to have the responsibility to keep his local board informed of any change of address or status.

The program will provide a service not only to the standby reservist, who will know his emergency recall status, but the armed services, which will likewise know the availability of their standby reserve pools.

17 Chick Raisers Of This Vicinity Gain Recognition

Seventeen poultry raisers in this vicinity have been announced as winners of membership in the Moorman Manufacturing company's national chick-raising honor club through superior care, feeding and management of their 1956 chicks.

To qualify for the "Beat the Experts" Chick-Raising club, each winner raised chicks to eight weeks of age with an average of not more than 2½ pounds total feed per pound of body weight.

National average is four pounds of feed, and poultry experts say that three pounds is regarded as very good and 2½ pounds, outstanding.

Belmond winners of membership in the honor club were Mrs. Glenn Morris, Loren Kalkwarf, DuWayne Kalkwarf, Mrs. Clyde Ambrose, Derl Morris, Glenn Slining, Don Braner and Clair Finn.

Other club members in this vicinity were from: Alexander—Clarence Pals, Mrs. Fred Trager and Elmer Hopkey; Meservey — Loren Mennenga and Mrs. Dick Stadtlander; Kanawha — Lowell Mau and Marvin Knutson; Goodell—Charles B. Larsen; Clarion — Mrs. Roland Reimann.

Brucellosis-Free Pigs for Breeding Offered for Sale

In what is certainly the first countywide sale of its kind in Iowa, and possibly the first in the nation, purebred swine breeders of Wright county next Thursday will sell at public auction 50 head of pigs that are all accredited brucellosis-free. Six major breeds will be offered at this unique sale.

It will be held at the Eagle Grove fairgrounds, starting at 8:00 p. m. Ray Frye of Belmond will serve as auctioneer, along with Roy Umstead. All of the animals will be vaccinated, registered and guaranteed breeders.

The purebred breeders of the county are cooperating with state recommendations on brucellosis accrediting, which enables them to offer to farmers of this area breeding stock that is strictly brucellosis-free. Hog raisers making purchases at the sale can do so with complete confidence that the stock they buy cannot infect their herds with costly brucellosis.

Thirty-five boars and 15 gilts will be offered for sale, representing the following breeds: Berkshire, Duroc, Spotted Poland China, Yorkshire, Hampshire and Poland China. Breeders who will have consignments at the sale are Ivan Krietlow, W. H. Helmke and Son, Donald Engh, Harlan Lewis, James H. Kleen, Doyce Frieow, Don Spangler and Kenneth Trausch.

These men have announced that 4-H and FFA members will be offered free breeding privileges on gilts purchased at the sale.

Schneider Funeral Held on Thursday

Funeral services for Elmer J. Schneider, 77, of Goodell were held last Thursday afternoon at Johnston Funeral Home, Belmond, with Rev. Park E. Miller of the EUB church officiating. Masonic rites were conducted in conjunction with the burial at Amsterdam cemetery.

Mr. Schneider, who had been a farmer of the Goodell community for the past 42 years, died at Belmond Community hospital on Tuesday of last week after a brief illness. He and his wife would have reached their 50th wedding anniversary soon after the first of the year.

Born at Ottawa, Ill., on April 13, 1879, Mr. Schneider was the son of Daniel an Ida Schneider. He was married to Sue Raymond at Ottawa on Jan. 16, 1907. They became the parents of three children — Frederic Raymond, now of Ames; Doris Edith Schreiner, Moville; and Robert Russell, Goodell.

Soon after their marriage, the Schneiders moved to Texas, where they made their home for six years. They then returned to Ottawa for a year before moving near Goodell in 1914.

Besides his wife and children, the deceased is also survived by three grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother.

Mr. Schneider was a 50-year member of the Masonic lodge. All of the pallbearers were Past Masters of King Solomon lodge AF&AM, Belmond. They were: Harold Cunningham, Amos Hanson and J. J. Cook, Goodell; Lloyd Cunningham, Luin Cox and Walt Hotvet, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson spent Sunday in the home of the former's cousin, Forrest Olson at Forest City.

Olson at Forest City.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olson accompanied by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Myers, and the women's brother, Wade Johnston of Estherville drove to Marshalltown last Thursday. There they were joined by Mrs. Bonna McClintock of Des Moines and all attended the funeral of the women's aunt, Mrs. Edna Woodworth, age 80.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Heden of Goldfield visited in the home of his cousin, Mrs. Sol Krass, and family last Thursday while en route to their home from Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Heden had submitted to major surgery.

Belva Brunes of Santa Monica, Calif., came Saturday via plane to spend two weeks of vacation in the parental Herman Brunes home. Other visitors on Sunday were Mr. Brunes' brother, Theo. Brunes, and his wife and son Davis of Fertile.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sheriff and son Bob, joined by their daughter Beverly, who attends Iowa State college at Ames, drove to Des Moines Sunday and were dinner guests in the home of another daughter, Mrs. Dean Young.

Mrs. William Sheriff, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Sherriff, Jr., and daughter Sonja, went to Thornton Wednesday afternoon where they were guests at a party in the home of the elder Mrs. Sheriff's niece, Mrs. Bob Lutgen. The party honored little Sandra Lee Sheriff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sheriff of Thornton, with a baby shower.

The Goodell Fire department was called to the Carl Wille farm north east of Goodell Sunday evening, when fire was discovered in the barn. Several neighboring fire departments also answered the call, but the barn and cattle shed were destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boller and Debra drove to Waterloo Saturday where they were overnight visitors in the home of his brother, Tony Boller. Krista was cared for in the Wesley Boller home at Belmond and Nick was cared for by his grandmother, Mrs. Anton Boller, during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson and daughters visited Sunday in the Roland Peterson home at Hanlontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boller entertained as dinner guests in their home Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bausch and Kris Rae, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson of Clear Lake, Mrs. Nelson's mother, Mrs. Cecil of Ottumwa, and Mrs. Anton Boller. The occasion honored little Kris Rae Bausch, who was baptized that morning at the EUB church services.

MR. AND MRS. DIEGER

DARLENE THOMPSON AND PAUL E. DIEGER WED ON SEPT. 30TH

White chrysanthemums and fuji spider mums decorated the Methodist church Sunday evening, Sept. 30, for the wedding of Miss Darlene Jeanette Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thompson, and Paul Eugene Dieger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dieger. The double-ring ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. M. L. Jones.

White bows marked the pews of the church. Mrs. Ronald Courson, organist, furnished the nuptial music, and accompanied Arnette TerHark as he sang "Walk Hand In Hand", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Eloise Kirkendall, friend of the bride, and Carcl Dieger, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers in the candelabra at the altar. They wore lavender and light green gowns respectively and wrist corsages of yellow carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, Peter Pan color and finger-tip sleeves. Her finger-tip veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with white steamers tied in loveknots on top of a white Bible.

Mrs. William Dieger, Jr., sister-in-law of the groom served as matron of honor and Mrs. Don Thompson and Mrs. Duane Thompson, sisters-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of lavender, yellow and light green respectively with matching headbands and carried cascade bouquets of yellow mums.

Linda Thompson, niece of the bride, served as flower girl wearing a white floor-length gown and carrying a basket of small yellow mums. Ring bearers were Douglas and Leland Thompson, nephews of the bride. They wore white jackets and blue trousers with yellow mum boutonnieres. They carried heart-shaped slipper satin pillows with flowered streamers.

Best man was William Dieger, Jr., brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Don and Duane Thompson, brothers of the bride. They all wore light business suits with white boutonnieres. The groom's red rose boutonniere matched the bride's bouquet. Ushers were Vernon Newcomb of Eagle Grove, cousin of the bride, and Richard VerHelst of Goodell.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church parlors. Mrs. Fred Smith of Thor assisted by Mrs. Wayne Thomason of Eagle Grove, both aunts of the bride, cut the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with the bride's colors of yellow and green. Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Eagle Grove, aunt of the bride, poured.

Waitresses were Mrs. John Rowen of Eagle Grove, Mrs. Robert Benson, cousins of the bride, Shirley Proeger and Mrs. Russell Beenken. Peggy Finn was in charge of the guest book and the gifts were opened by Mrs. Glenn Meints and Marjorie Gruis assisted by Mrs. Clarence Kirkendall.

When the couple left on their trip to Colorado, the bride wore a black suit with green accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dieger are now at home in Belmond where he is employed at the Larro Feed mill and she at the Tip Top Super Valu.

On Friday, Sept. 14, Darlene was honored at a misecllaneous shower at the Methodist church basement with the hostesses being Mrs. Paul Lee, Mrs. James Peterson, Mrs. Don Thompson and Mrs. Duane Thompson. Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen presented some readings and games were played. The bride's colors of lavender, green and yellow were carried out in the table decorations and in the lunch.

OPEN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simerson will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at an open house from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Their friends and neighbors are cordially invited to call during those hours. The Simersons' daughters, Sandra and Sara, are planning the courtesy. It will be at the Simerson home.

Speech Therapy Program Starts In Near Future

Teachers in the schools of Wright county have cooperated in the new speech therapy program being introduced in the county this year by referring about 290 students to the speech therapist, Niel Ver Hoef. These children have taken speech tests and specially planned programs have been set up for each child needing special training.

From the nine town school and 22 rural schools under the jurisdiction of County Supt. C. W. Sankey, more than 80 teachers have given assistance in helping plan the therapy programs. Administrators of the various districts have cooperated by providing time and place for testing.

Part of the over-all speech correction program will involve individual therapy required by some of the children for speech improvement. Mr. Ver Hoef says that most of the children in need of help, though, will receive it through their classroom teacher under his direction.

Supt. Don Faris reports that 11 children in the Belmond Community school system will receive the benefit of individual attention to correct speech defects, either stammering or stuttering. Nine of these youngsters are students at Ramsey school and two attend the Goodell school.

Mr. Ver Hoef says therapy sessions are to be scheduled in the near future. Parents will be notified if their children have been enrolled. Any person interested may feel free to attend these sessions at their childrens' schools, the speech specialist says.

The schedules, by schools, will be available next week. Parents may then make appointments for conferences with the therapist, if they wish.

DEMOCRATIC PILLAR FEEDS $10 INTO REPUBLICAN "KITTY"

Members of the Gridiron club were startled by an incident Monday evening at Clarmond Country club that left them convinced that ANYTHING most assuredly CAN happen.

Each week the members of the Bronco-booster organization draw numbers on the outcome of the next week's game, and those having direct combinations agreeing with the quarter scores win cash prizes.

The two major winners on the Buffalo Center game were Dr. S. P. Leinbach and Ron Courson—a rabid Republican and determined Democrat, respectively. "Doc", picked up $12.50 and Ron, $10.

Expecting only to get a "rise" out of his good friend, Dr. Leinbach declared he'd endorse his check over to the Wright county Republican central committee if Ron weren't too cheap to follow suit.

No response was forthcoming from Mr. Courson—until the meeting was adjourned. Then he cornered Doctor Sam and challenged, "OK, let's sign those checks over! Any time I can cost you $12.50 by spending $10, it's a bargain."

The endorsing ceremonies were gleefully witnessed by a chuckling audience of Gridironers, while Dr. Leinbach grinningly confessed, "I'll be doggoned! I never thought he'd go for it!"

What the reaction of Mrs. Courson, vice chairman of the County Democratic central committee, might have been when she learned of the happening is not known. It was conjectured by Ron's Gridiron friends, however, that Mrs. Courson would be likely to reason the $10 donated by her husband to the Republican cause would justify a much more generous contribution to the party of his choice.

Welfare Office's Commodity Issue Begun Once Again

A week ago Friday distribution of surplus commodities began once again in Wright county. In resuming the distribution, Margaret Bailey, county director of social welfare, had a word of praise for the cooperation she has enjoyed from the American Legion Auxiliaries in the participating communities, saying, "Without their fine cooperation, we would not be able to handle this project."

Current allotments of surplus commodities to this county consist of the following foods: 1,216 pounds of butter, 900 pounds of cheese, 792 pounds of lard, 634 pounds of dried milk, 2,050 pounds of corn meal, 2,800 pounds of flour, 800 pounds of rice and 800 pounds of beans.

Mrs. Bailey, in announcing resumption of commodity distribution, said, "It is interesting to note that Wright county received in the 18 months from January of 1955 to July 1 of this year surplus commodities in the amount of 35,668 pounds with retail value of $12,284.36.

"The delivery cost to the county, which includes delivery of Clarion (storage, freight and similar expense) was just $251.13. The county service involved in packing and distribution to the various towns and individuals is done by county welfare personnel in conjuction with their other duties."

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

There are many pictures in highway patrol files that would cause the most confident driver to question himself—if not miss his dinner. There are pictures taken under wheels of trains of things that look like damp, scattered sacks.

There are pictures of people who seem to be hiding or resting in ditches until you look more closely. There are pictures of people who seem to be dressed entirely in tight, black rubber suits—they have burned to death in wrecks.

But there is one picture that should be seen by those drivers who feel that the natural position of the gas pedal is on the floorboard. It isn't a picture of horror. It is simply a picture of a shoe.

The shoe looks new, shined, and it is fully laced. But there isn't any foot it it. Nor is it where you might expect a shoe to be.

This particular shoe is actually wedged halfway into the floorboard of wrecked automobile. It is just to the right of the gas pedal. The man who wore the shoe came over a small hill at just about the top speed his car could make. He found another car crossing the highway just below the crest of the hill.

He didn't even have time to shift his foot from the gas to the brake. The crash came so suddenly that his foot was still plastered to the gas pedal and the impact was so great that his shoe was driven into the floorboards.

Many pictures in highway patrol files tell more disagreeable stories, but none tells the story of an accident in more pathetic detail than this one picture of a shoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ainger and family and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stadtlander and family spent a week ago Sunday in LuVerne attending a Mason family reunion held in the Community hall. Towns represented were Dubuque, Corwith, Clarion, Garner, Belmond and Lu Verne.

Insurance Brought '55 Iowa Benefits Of $69.8 Million

Payments to living policyholders in Iowa from their life insurance companies were $41,646,000 in 1955, which was 60 per cent of the year's total life insurance benefit payments to the families of this state, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

These payments were in addition to $28,212,000 of death benefits paid to the families of this state and compare with payments of $38,056,000 to living policyholders the year before. The "living benefits" include matured endowments, disability benefits, annuity payments, cash surrender values paid out and dividends to policyholders.

Last year the total of all payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in this state amounted to $69,858,000, compared with $63,471,000 the year before.

"The use of life insurance benefit dollars for the policyholders' own living needs has more than doubled since the end of World War II," Holgar J. Johnson, institute president, commented.

"More and more families have been setting up life insurance programs which call for specific living benefits as well as the basic death benefits. These living benefits have now become an important part of the flow of life insurance funds to American families. For the country as a whole, well over $3,000,000,000 is now going to living policyholders annually as benefit payments."

Of the total living benefits received in 1955 by the families of this state, $7,205,000 was for matured endowments; $1,500,000 for disability benefits; $5,752,000 for annuity payments; $10,107,000 for policy cash surrender value payments; and $17,082,000 for dividends to policyholders.

For the country as a whole benefit payments to U. S. families by all life insurance companies were $5,382,742,000 in 1955, of which 58 per cent — or $3,142,011,000 — was for living benefits and 42 per cent for death benefits.

Scouts to Assist In Goodwill Drive

Hundreds of Cub and Boy Scouts of the Winnebago Council in nine counties will observe their annual "Good Turn Day" on Saturday, October 27th by conducting a Scout Good Turn clothing drive for the handicapped at Goodwill Industries. The 117 non-profit Goodwill Industries throughout the nation employ handicapped men and women whose only income is derived from the work they do in processing clothing and other usable or repairable articles donated by thousands of generous contributors.

Need for material is so great that the Goodwill Industries are now expanding out in the outlying territory. Cub and Boy Scouts will distribute Goodwill clothing bags to every home in Belmond, Goodell and many other cities of the surrounding territory on Saturday, October 20. One week later, on "Good Turn Day", Saturday October 27.

Scouts will return and collect the filled Goodwill clothing bags and take them to designated collection points in their respective towns. Goodwill Industries trucks will pick up filled bags at these collection points during the following week.

The need is particularly great now for such articles as the following: Discarded clothing for men, women and children, unwanted garments which are usable or can be repaired, pieces of cloth, regardless of fabric, shoes, curtains, drapes, linens, bedding or anything made of cloth, regardless of age.

Newspapers and magazines are not to be included in this drive at this time because they can very easily become too heavy for the smaller Scouts to carry.

It is hoped that everyone will be a Good Scout and help the local Cubs and Scouts in their "Good Turn Day" effort of providing work for handicapped men and women who prefer to earn their own living rather than to be supported by charity.

Social Security Change Nov. 1st

Under the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act, qualified retired women workers, wives and widows may receive payments at age 62 instead of waiting until age 65. This new law goes into effect the first of November.

Mary Alice Coady, field representative out of the Fort Dodge district office, will be at the courthouse in Clarion on Thursday of next week to answer questions or assist in filling out applications. She can be seen between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 2:00 p. m.

"If you don't know your rights and status under this new law, don't try to find out about your payments from neighbors, relatives or friends," Miss Coady urges. "Either see me next week, or get in touch with the district office at Fort Dodge."

LEGION AUXILIARY MEMBERS URGED TO OBSERVE "MONTH"

Mrs. Paul Couchman, president of the Belmond American Legion Auxiliary, notes that October is the Auxiliary's membership month and urges an especially good turnout for the regular meeting scheduled next Tuesday.

She asks that all members give thought to the admirable aims and purposes of the Auxiliary and to the good work that it is doing. Participation in its activities by a maximum number of members, she points out, is what makes such an organization a good one.

Mrs. Couchman is anxious to know of any women who are eligible for membership, who have not been contacted to join the local unit. Any who have been missed are asked to phone either her or Mrs. Floyd Doctor.

4 From Belmond At Republicans' $100 Fund Feed

Five representatives of Wright county were present for the $100-per-plate Iowa "Big Elephants" Banquet that was held Tuesday at the Veterans Memorial auditorium, Des Moines. The Republican pow-wow was attended by 650, but more than that number likely were sold. (One Wright county diner held a ticket numbered 1,000 higher than the number actually on hand.)

In the Wright county delegation were: Leona Bras, retiring president of the county GOP women's organization, whose ticket was bought jointly by the Belmond, Clarion and Eagle Grove Republican Women's clubs; Mrs. Clark McNeal, retiring president of the 6th District organization, which had bought her ticket.

Mrs. Russell Schaal, retiring secretary of the 6th District group, who also inherited her ticket from that source; Mrs. Robert Blue of Eagle Grove, who as state membership chairman was given a ticket that had been purchased by the Iowa Council of Republican Women; and State Representative Clark McNeal, who was purchaser of a ticket in his own right.

Typical of many of the diners, Mrs. McNeal reports, was a Grinnell college student who enjoyed a plate of Cornish hen and the attending ceremonies as "front man" for a group of 100 collegians who tossed in a dollar apiece to pay his way.

Duea Duroc Sale Slated Wednesday

Forty-five, fine Duroc boars and gilts will be offered for sale at Thornton's Calara Farm, operated by Joe Duea, formerly of Belmond, on Wednesday evening of next week at 7:30 o'clock. Although this sale was omitted last year, it has become a yearly fixture of the north Iowa purebred hog sale season to which breeders over a large area look forward.

All of the 25 gilts being offered and all but one of the boars are animals that have been bred at Calara by either Mr. Duea or his son Alan. Included will be a boar and two gilts that were in Alan's champion 4-H litter at this year's Iowa State Fair. One was the individual champion boar and another the champion gilt.

Mr. Duea believes his offerings this year are well up to the standard of past Calara sales and anticipates keen interest in next week's sale.

Only consigned animal at the sale will be a boar belonging to L. A. Younge and Sons of Thornton. It boasts the Calara Duroc blood line and took 8th place at this year's state fair 4-H show.

● OBITUARY

MRS. HOYT KLEMME

Funeral services for Mrs. Hoyt Klemme, 48, were held Saturday, Sept. 29, at St. Bernard Catholic church, Osceola. Burial was in the cemetery at Mrs. Klemme's native home, Elkader. Pallbearers included four Belmond friends of the deceased and her husband, C. E. Christie, Clark McNeal, Ed Kennedy and A. C. Hanson; Ted Johnson of Fort Dodge, also a former Belmond friend; and Ted Johnson, Osceola.

Anna Marie Downey was born on a farm near Elkader on June 13, 1909, the youngest in a family of 10 children. She was a graduate of Elkader High school and later received her training for entering the teaching profession at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls. She taught for five years at Belmond and a year at Spencer.

On Aug. 8, 1936, she was married to Hoyt Klemme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ry Klemme of Belmond. They made their home in Belmond for 11 years, then for two years in Arizona. In 1949 the Klemmes built a motel at Osceola, where Mrs. Klemme lived the remainder of her life.

She discovered in June of this year that she was afflicted with cancer, which had advanced to an inoperable stage. Even with the full knowledge that her death was imminent, Mrs. Klemme kept her spirits up and maintained a show of bravery to the end that was an inspiration to her family and friends. She died on Sept. [illegible]

Immediate survivors, in addition to her husband, are two sons: Douglas William, who is 16 years old, and Donald Downey, age 11.

RAYMOND ELLINGSTON MARRIED SEPT. 23RD TO REBECCA JANSSEN

Miss Rebecca Janssen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Janssen of Alexander, and Raymond Ellingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elling Ellingston of Belmond, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, Sept. 23, at 3:00 o'clock at St. Olaf Lutheran church west of Belmond. The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. O. M. Severseike.

Margaret Janssen, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a blue ballerina-length gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums. The groom's brother Leo was best man.

The bride wore a white acetate crepe gown styled with a sweetheart neckline and a net over taffeta skirt. er fingertip veil was held in place by a cap decorated with pearls. She carried an orchid with streamers on a white Bible.

Audrey Schulte played the nuptial music on the Hammond organ. Ushers were Robert Toft, cousin of the groom, and Clyde Janssen, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement for the immediate relatives. The bride's colors, blue and white, were used in the decorations and in decorating the cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom and was cut and served by the groom's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Christenson. The bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Wenzel, Jr., was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Elmer Michelson and Mrs. Loren Fjetland took care of the gifts.

Mrs. Robert Nelson was reception hostess and refreshments were served by four classmates of the bride, Arleen Olson, Jeanie Schulte, Betty Madsen and Janean Barkema, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Kieslich, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Janssen.

Guests were present from Minneapolis, Minn., Woolstock, Eagle Grove, Plainfield, Hampton, Iowa Falls, Sheffield, Belmond and Alexander.

The bride graduated from Alexander High school and the groom from Belmond High school and is now farming with his father and brother near Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellingston are at home in one of the Ralph Jenison apartments at 615 E. Main in Belmond.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS
Please DON'T SHOOT AT INSULATORS
© REDDY KILOWATT

IT IS A SERIOUS SITUATION WHEN WHOLE COMMUNITIES ARE CUT OFF WITHOUT ELECTRIC SERVICE

● Reddy Kilowatt says: "Have all the fun you want these autumn days — and hunt to your heart's content — but PLEASE — spare the insulators on the electric poles!"

Reddy is so right. Lots of folks get a little reckless when they have a gun in their hands and "blaze away" regardless. Don't do that! Be a real hunter — who goes out after game and doesn't use a gun thoughtlessly.

WHAT ARE INSULATORS?

Folks who use insulators for "target practice" undoubtedly have no realization how important this equipment is. The function of the insulators is so important in delivering electric service that their wanton, thoughtless destruction can cause whole communities to lose their electric service!

IT'S ILLEGAL!

There are laws on the statute books which authorize stiff fines or even a jail sentence for destruction of insulators. Reddy doesn't want that to happen to you! He says: "Go ahead and have fun hunting! But please, DON'T shoot the insulators!"

Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock; and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not for it was founded upon the rock. — Matt. 7:24.

WRIGHT COUNTY SOLDIER RELIEF COST REGULARLY AMONG HIGHEST IN STATE

In the October issue of The Iowa Taxpayer magazine, Editor Raymond E. Edwards calls attention to a general, statewide increase in expenditures under the Soldiers Relief program. He notes 1957 amounts budgeted by Iowa counties for this program exceed the total spent in 1952 by 67 per cent. At the same time, though, he observes that actual expenditures during 1957 may not very closely approach the total amount budgeted; quite a number of counties seem to have fallen into the habit of appropriating considerably more for Soldiers Relief than they find it necessary to spend.

For example, in 1955 a total of $2,400,600 was appropriated for the statewide program, whereas only $1,832,200 was expended. This would indicate a 31 per cent margin of error, for the state as a whole, in anticipating the financial requirements of the total program. Here in Wright county, we've been among the leaders in increasing appropriation for Soldiers Relief — but let it be said that we do a pretty good job of spending up the cash earmarked for that purpose.

As far back as 1952, we were among the counties spending most lavishly on Soldiers Relief. Leaving out Iowa's 15 most populous counties, we ranked 7th among the remaining 84 in regard to outlay for this type of relief. By last year, Wright ranked 2nd in this group. The only county surpassing us was Boone, which has a population of 28,136 to our 19,652.

According to 1956 budget estimates, Wright slides down to 4th; and to 6th insofar as estimates for 1957 are concerned. BUT, except for Boone county — among those appropriating more" for Soldiers Relief in 1956 and 1957 than Wright is — all fall into the expecting-the-worst category. For example, Floyd spent only $21,500 on Soldiers Relief in 1955 but has appropriated $39,000 and $44,000, respectively, for 1956 and '57; and Clay spent only $19,700 last year, but has appropriated for this year and next $25,000 and $34,000.

Wright spent $27,100 on Soldiers Relief last year and budgeted $30,000 for this year and also for next. At the rate the fund was diminishing over the first six months of the year, the $30,0000 figure isn't likely to be over-abundant for the current year.

All of these facts and figures point up the simple truth that Wright county, as The Independent has noted periodically in the past, is for no apparent reason far out of line with the average county in Iowa in regard to Soldiers Relief expense. The newly appointed member of the commission, Marvin Franzen of Eagle Grove, could do the county a big favor by exercising more curiosity as to why this is so than the commissioners have been wont to do in the past.

Veterans and their families in need of public relief should enjoy the same consideration in Wright county as elsewhere, certainly. But the taxpayer has a stake in the matter, also. And he has a right to wonder why the NEED for Soldier Relief is so extraordinarily great in this county; and, for that matter, IF it actually IS.

MENTAL HEALTH CENTER OFFERS WAY FOR COUNTIES TO HELP "THEIR OWN"

We read with great envy last week regarding the affiliation of five nearby counties with Cerro Gordo for the purpose of maintaining on a joint and expanded basis the mental health center founded in 1955 by action of the Cerro Gordo county supervisors. Joining with Cerro Gordo as of the first of next year in financing and enjoying the services of the mental health center at Mason City will be Hancock, Franklin. Floyd, Worth and Winnebago counties.

How fortunate these five counties are to have the privilege of associating with their more populous neighbor to provide their citizens with diagnosis of mental ills and therapy to treat them!

Our state mental institutions are overcrowded, understaffed and under-financed. Many a patient — most assuredly including more than a few from Wright county — languishes in one of these institutions today for lack of early care when his condition would have best responded to expert, professional treatment. The best, present answer to the need for therapy and advice that the state often cannot provide SOON ENOUGH, is mental health centers such as the one at Mason City.

In evaluating the wisdom of such a cooperative effort as our six, neighbor counties are joining in, we need bear in mind that ONE out of TEN of our present national population will sooner or later fall victim to some kind of mental illness. This is a statistically infallible fact. And it is equally certain that the ability of our state institutions to cope with the need for mental care seems inevitably destined to decline rather than improve. So it is up to those counties that are unwilling for THEIR OWN victims of mental illness to face a hopeless future to DO something about it individually — or in cooperation with their neighbors, as is being done at Mason City.

Next, a person is bound to consider, "How expensive is this alternative?" Let's take a look at what's been happening to Wright county's expense for state institutional care of its residents in recent years. In 1950, the bill came to $55,085. By 1953 it had climbed to $76,262. Last year it amounted to $95,774! In our county's 1957 budget, $90,000 — more than 20 per cent of the $438,000 that must be raised by taxation — will be needed to pay for the public expense of Wright county patients in state institutions. And a very predominant share of these patients are mentally ill.

If only a moderate number of these patients could have been saved the need — and the stigma — of having to be institutionalized, it would have represented a very consequential financial saving to the county. Against this may be measured the one-tenth mill tax levy (which would amount to only $5,048 in Wright county) that each of the participating counties has been requested to make toward support of the Mason City mental health center.

These joint funds will provide, assuming that qualified personnel can be found available, a full-time psychiatrist and a psychologist, two full-time psychiatric social workers and a secretary. It is what this staff could produce in the way of salvaged lives that makes us frankly jealous of the counties so fortunate as to be affiliated with the center. That it might well mean financial savings in the long run is only frosting on the cake, so far as we're concerned.

We hope the Wright county supervisors will make inquiry into the possibility of becoming an additional partner in the North Iowa Mental Health Center. Should this prove impossible, perhaps they could help instigate forming a similar affiliation of counties adjacent to Webster county, centering in Fort Dodge. We owe such an effort to OUR mentally ill, present and future.

That one-out-of-10 ratio of mental illness is bound to strike close to the homes of a LOT of us, sooner or later!

Visions of another debacle gave Bronco followers an early case of the shudders Friday night at Buffalo Center as the Bison posted a touchdown four plays after they first gained possession of the ball. Tom Costigan kicked the extra point to give the host team a 7-0 lead. But never again did the Bison threaten seriously and the Broncs methodically advanced to a 26-7 victory to post their third NIC decision of the season.

Belmond failed by about a yard to make 1st-and-10 after receiving the opening kickoff and Bill Murray got off a hurried kick that traveled only 11 yards, to the Bronco 46. After one pass failure. Lyle Jenkins made the Belmond defenders look silly by reversing his field behind his own line and racing 21 yards around left end. He followed with a four yard crack at the line. Then Jenkins found Tom Costigan all by himself near the goal line and launched a 21-yard aerial that brought the tally.

McNaulty Goes 58 Yards

Those 46 yards gained in their first series of downs represented more than a quarter of the Bison's total yardage for the evening. After the next kickoff Belmond made 19 yards in three tries, but then fumbled the ball away on their own 40. The Broncs held for downs on the 31 and an exchange of punts killed the rest of the period.

Early in the second quarter Mickey Costigan, Buffalo Center's freshman quarterback, bobbled the ball on Belmond's 39 and Gary Ersland recovered. Murray picked up three, then Tom McNulty barrelled through the right side of the line, received some fine downfield blocking and rambled 58 yards for the Broncos' initial counter. Murray's kick for point was wide, so the Bison still led 7-6.

Jerry Chandler Tallies

That situation didn't prevail for long, though. A Buffalo Center punt soon gave Belmond the ball on the Bison 39. McNulty cracked for two. Then a pass from Jerry Chandler to Roland Jenison, who lateralled off to McNulty, was good for 29 yards. On the next play Chandler bulled his way eight yards to the end zone and Murray followed with a perfect placement to put the Broncs ahead, 13-7.

There was no more scoring in the first half, but Belmond followers were given a couple of bonus thrills before intermission when Steve McLaughlin and later Merrill Jenison claimed possession of BC fumbles. The second one was produced by a vicious tackle of Mickey Costigan by Ersland, which sent the pigskin flying.

McLaughlin "Gangs" 'em

Steve McLaughlin took personal responsibility for throttling a Buffalo Center march as the second half got started. After Murray's long kickoff had been returned only to the 11-yard line, a plunge by Jenkins and a Costigan to Costigan pass — Mickey to older brother Tom — picked up a 1st-and-10, McLaughlin stopped four plays in a row. The first three fell just eight inches short of a first down; but Steve nevertheless halted a quarterback sneak on the fourth try an inch or two shy of the required distance and Belmond claimed the ball on the 32.

Chandler carried for four, McNulty for three, Rollie Jenison for seven, and then Murray raced around left end for the final 18 yards to make it 19-7 for Belmond. His kick for point boosted the count to 20-7.

Hawley Intercepts Pass

Buffalo Center came back with a pair of first downs after the kickoff, with jump passes into the arms of Tom Costigan just over the scrimmage line making most of the yardage. That business was broken up when Kenny Hawley intercepted one of the short tosses on the Bison 49. After notching one 1st-and-10, the Broncs were stopped with only two yards in a couple of tries.

Then a pass from Jenison to Larry Kinseth, good for nine, was nullified by a backfield motion penalty — and on the next play a beautiful aerial from Jenison to Jon Mehus that covered the entire 43 yards to pay territory was scrapped by a Bronco offside. Not to be denied, Belmond came back with a Chandler-to-Jenison pass, fancied up with a lateral to McNulty, that gave the Broncos a first down on the 26.

McNulty Over Again

Murray burst through the line for 11, Chandler for eight and McNulty for a fat six that left slightly under a yard to go for TD No. 4. McNulty slammed over for the tally that brought the count to 26-7 and Murray's ensuing kick went wide.

At this point, the final quarter was just underway. The Broncos were satisfied to hold their foe in check the rest of the way, but provided their followers with a thrill or two. Larry Schimp made a nice pass interception and Jim Stadtlander and Junior Negrete joined forces to capture a Bison fumble as the losers unsuccessfully tried to get another scoring march launched.

Belmond's offense showed the most flair in this conquest than in any game this season. McNulty's work was particularly outstanding and that of Chandler and Murray very nearly on a par. McLaughlin was a thorn in the Bison's side all night. Merrill Jenison and Leonard Steenblock also looked especially good in the line. Hawley, as linebacker, Mehus and Ersland also were responsible for some first-rate play.

Jenkins was BC's main offensive threat and also played good ball on defense. Billy Jensvold, backing the line, and Guard Don Wingert also looked good defensively.

Broncs in "Must" Tilt at Lake Mills

Lake Mills put a different complexion on the North Iowa conference title chase by shocking Northwood last Friday with a 25-7 defeat as the Vikings sought their 13th win in a row. With Northwood's string broken, Forest City appeared the team to beat for this year's grid crown. The powerful Indian offense racked Garner with complete ease, 46-0, as Ted Nilssen scampered for four TD's and Jim Hansen accounted for another two.

Northwood's loss leaves Belmond with a ready-made opportunity to charge back into the thick of the championship race, if the Broncs have what it will take. This Friday they tangle with the rapidly improving Lake Mills outfit, and next week they play host to Forest City in the BHS Homecoming attraction. They'll have to take both to grab any share of the title.

Coach Milo Engstrom had 12 lettermen back from his '55 team to start this season, and it appears that the experience they gained last year is beginning to pay off. In Darrell Kinden and Gordy Hagen the Bulldogs have two of the loop's best backs; and their line — featuring a bunch of Scandanavian monikers like Gesme, Hengesteg, Knutson and Skogen — has stamped itself as one of the toughest in the conference.

Belmond emerged from the Buffalo Center game in good physical shape and should be ready to put forth its best effort of the season, to date. Coach Dick Hobbs is certain that the Broncs will have to do just that to rate a 50-50 chance with the Bulldogs.

As was to be expected, the beating by Northwood resulted in a lower rating for Belmond in the Iowa Prep Football Poll of last week. The Vikings jumped from 20th place up to the No. 13 spot among the Class II schools that the Broncos had occupied the previous week, while Belmond dropped clear to 29th. The Broncs, having handled Buffalo Center OK, should "rise again" if they can whip Lake Mills tomorrow.

Lake Mills' 18-0 win over lowly-rated Nashua impressed the coaches casting votes in the poll sufficiently to keep the Bulldogs in 17th place for the second week in a row.

Apparently more coaches are returning poll ballots, as the total weekly vote has been steadily going up. Last week Northwood had a total of 78 votes — just seven shy of the 85 that gave Lake City bottom place in the first 10. Lake Mills tallied 59. Belmond's total slipped from 70 to 40. Britt and Buffalo Center picked up seven votes apiece and Garner one (EVERYBODY gets in on the act!). It's plain that NIC coaches are voting faithfully.

We noticed Forest City among the ranked Class I teams for the first time last week. The Indians polled five votes — not far below Eagle Grove (10) and Iowa Falls (9), and ahead of such powers of past years as Marshalltown (3) and Fort Dodge (2).

The Broncs had best have their air defense in good working order tomorrow night. Against Nashua, the Bulldogs connected on 12 out of 16 pass attempts — with Darrell "Skip" Kinden doing most of the tossing. That's a completion record that ANY team could take pride in!

Nashua took to the airlanes extensively, too; but with less spectacular success. The losers completed six passes, but saw four others intercepted by the Bulldogs.

Most sensational play of the game developed from one of those interceptions. Kinden nabbed a Nashua aerial on his own 30 and romped 70 yards to score. The Bulldogs returned the other interceptions for a total of 41 yards, giving them 111 yards gained on their FOE'S passes!

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

WSWS Holds Its Annual Guest Day

The W. S. W. S. of the Meservey E. U. B. church held its annual guest day on Thursday afternoon in the church parlors with all women of the church as their special guests, as well as other friends.

The lesson on "Migrant Workers" was given by Mrs. M. C. James, assisted by various members of the society. Products made by the migrants were on display and after the lesson and a skit, a colored film strip was shown depicting the migrants in their homes, schools, churches and at their work.

Following the meeting lunch was served, with Mrs. Frank Nissen and Mrs. Garfield Raecker pouring. The tea table was decorated in fall colors, with a fall centerpiece. Approximately 50 ladies attended.

The next regular meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Vern Schluter, and the district meeting will be Tuesday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Schluter and girls spent Friday at Cattle Congress at Waterloo.

Dallas and Delores Pals who attend college at Le Mars spent the weekend at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pals.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Yakel of Lincoln, Neb., and Mr. & Mrs. Leo Jessen of Hampton were Thursday evening visitors at the Jake Pals home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmidt and children of Alexander were Saturday evening visitors at the Jake Pals home.

Guests Monday at the Herman Lauen home were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Franzen of Rockford, Ill. Mrs. Franzen brought Mrs. Lauen part of a bouquet that the Franzens had received from Hawaii on their 25th wedding anniversary which they celebrated recently.

Mrs. Harland Blewett Hostess To Women's Club

Mrs. Harland Blewett was hostess to the Meservey Federation of Woman's Clubs Friday. Seventeen members were present. Mrs. Jacob Pals led the group in the discussion "Family Living for Civil Defense". Several of the group will attend the Fine Arts Festival at Ames Oct. 18th, which will be held on the campus. The usual order of towels which are hemmed by the blind women of Iowa was sent in. Mrs. Earl Jurgenson and Mrs. Jacob Pals gave a short report of the district convention which was held in Charles City last week. Mrs. Elmer Dorenkamp favored the group with a piano solo "Arabesque" by De Bussy. Meeting adjourned and the hostess served a dessert luncheon.

GRIMES GOLDEN GALS

October meeting of the Grimes Golden Gals 4-H club was held last Friday at the home of Janet Messelheiser. New officers were installed and were presented with corsages made by the hostess. The leader, Mrs. Vic Nordman, was also given a corsage.

After a brief business meeting, the following program was enjoyed: demonstration. "Parts and Care of a Sewing Machine," Marlys Suntken; demonstration, "Different Seams, How Made and Where Used," Janet Messelheiser; report on the Iowa State Fair, Joyce Nordman; discussion, "What We and Our Parents Expect of Each Other," led by Lois Faye Pals.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Joyce and JoAnn Nordman. After the meeting, as a climax to the project year on home furnishings, Agnes Lage conducted the girls on a tour of her new home.

Sunday guests at the parental Frank Guth home were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Frink, Janice and Bruce of New Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth, Nancy and Dennis of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Guth, Gary and Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dorenkamp and family visited at the Bert Heykant home near Belmond on Sunday. The Heykants had just last week returned from their trip to Germany.

Past Presidents Parley Begins Season's Activities

Mrs. F. A. Lemke entertained at the first meeting of the new year of the American Legion Auxiliary Past Presidents Parley at her home Tuesday afternoon where the ladies spent the time tearing and sewing carpet rags for the Veteran hospitals. Present were: Mmes. C. J. Wendel, E. H. Langlitz, Gar Raecker, Dale Smith, R. V. Raecker, Frieda Ruigh, S. Eckhoff, Kate Paul and F. A. Lemke. At the close of the afternoon, a dessert luncheon was served by the hostess.

Birthday Celebrated

Sunday evening visitors at the Herman Stadtlander home were Mr. and Mrs. Onno J. Suntken and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faaborg and Mr. and Mrs. Roman Johnson and children. They helped Herman celebrate his birthday.

● OBITUARY

BEN H. GRUIS

Ben H. Gruis, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gruis, was born in Franklin county, Ia., on Dec. 10, 1903, and passed away Saturday, Sept. 29, 1956, at the age of 52 years, nine months and 19 days.

He grew to manhood on the home farm a mile east of Meservey and the greater part of his life was spent in the Meservey vicinity. He engaged in farming, living first with his parents and in later years with his sister, Mrs. Kate Dirks.

In recent years he had had to discontinue farming due to a heart affliction, from which he suffered for three years and which he bore patiently.

He was married on July 23 of this year to Marie Albers. Surviving besides his widow are two brothers, Edward of Los Angeles, Calif., and Carl of Des Moines; and three sisters, Mrs. Kate Dirks and Mrs. Anna Goeman of Belmond and Mrs. Alma Kirk of Pomona, Calif.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by a brother Herman.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Koenen from Aplington visited Thursday at the parental Bernard Koenen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Koenen, Dixie and Lynn spent Saturday and Sunday on a trip into Wisconsin for sight-seeing. On the return trip they stopped at Spillville to see the clocks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steenhard and children of Rockwell brought their dinner on Sunday to have it with her parents, as Mrs. Hopkey is not very well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel; Mr. and Mrs. George Kuhlers and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Messelheiser attended the north Iowa Girl Scout Council annual dinner and meeting on Wednesday evening of last week at Camp Gaywood, Clear Lake. Representatives were present from Mason City, Britt, Garner, Forest City, Lake Mills, Ventura, Fertile, Cartersville, Rudd, Sheffield and Nora Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker visited Sunday with the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fillenwarrth of Sanborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Diddy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunton left Friday afternoon for the Ozarks where they spent the weekend. They returned Sunday night, making the trip by auto and enjoying the fall foliage.

The Meservey American Legion Auxiliary will meet for their regular business meting Wednesday evening in the schoolhouse at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker and Greg Evan and Mr. and Mrs. Moody Quandt spent Sunday in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota where they followed the Mississippi river and enjoyed the beautiful fall foliage all along the river. Quite a number of duck hunters were about but not many were fortunate enough to bag any.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel and Mrs. Herbert Basener attended the American Legion and Auxiliary fourth district meeting held Sunday at the All Vets club in Clear Lake.

Attending the Ben H. Gruis funeral from out of town were: Ed Gruis of Hollywood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gruis of Des Moines; Mr. Lubbert Koop of Bristow; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Albers of Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. John Albers of Swaledale; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Albers and Larry of Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Danneman and Marlene of Fulda, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Delphin Woitezski and Linda of Worthington, Minn.; Ben Albers of Swaledale; Mr. and Mrs. John Hagadus of Mason City.

Robert Raecker accompanied by his father, Garfield Raecker, drove to Des Moines Tuesday where they attended a General Motors meeting and the showing of the new Chevrolets.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker spent Friday in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hungerford and three daughters, at Osage.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. James spent the weekend in Wisconsin at the home of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry James.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koehler were Sunday evening visitors at the home of his sister, Mrs. Marvin Bredlow, and family at Garner.

VOL. 37 NO. 2 | OFFICIAL CITY PAPER | BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, OCT. 18, 1956 | OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER | THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Belmond, Wright County Rural Chest Drives Underway Monday

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Just a little over a year ago, Fred Vestweber was in the Belmond hospital starting a long period of recuperation after suffering a serious foot injury in a mishap while combining beans. A story elsewhere in this issue indicates clearly that Fred is very much "back on his feet" again now. At least, we can't conceive a cripple getting done the astounding amount of conservation work that Fred achieved on his farm this past year.

Several local friends visited the Vestweber farm near Bradgate, in Pocahontas county, just last week. They report it's truly remarkable what Fred has done in soil conservation in the past season.

Under supervision of the Pocahontas Soil Conservation commission, the following work was accomplished: layout and construction of 65,530 feet of terraces, 130 acres of contouring, five acres of waterways, and 280 rods of fencerow seedings — all between April and September. Long-range plans call for 20 miles of terraces, 200 acres of contouring, 10 acres of grass waterways and construction of a farm pond. Ambitious undertaking, yes?

Postmaster George Jenison offers his annual reminder that the time is nigh to be getting overseas Christmas packages ready for mailing. To be certain that gifts will arrive in time, the sooner these packages are sent, the better. That goes for relatives or friends in military service, attached to the armed forces in a civilian capacity — or just plain folks. Parcels headed for Japan, Korea or islands in the Pacific should be on their way by Nov. 1, at the very latest.

If the receivers mean enough to you that you want to send a gift, they should also mean enough to see that the gift arrives before Christmas, George believes.

He adds a recommendation that particular care be given to preparing Christmas packages for overseas mailing. A good, strong box is the first essential. Good, strong cord for tying is no less important. George stresses that persons mailing via APO addresses shouldn't count on the overseas airlift compensating for procrastination. There's lots of cargo with higher priority than Christmas packages. . . . So if you want it to be a Merry Christmas overseas — get on the ball!

Quite a few duck and goose hunters are reporting good luck so far this season, but the full quota of sad tales is going the rounds, too. Perhaps most woeful of all is that of the Independent's Two-Must-Get-Theirs, Bob Foss and Duane Anderson.

At Morse lake last Thursday morning, they spotted some geese — which Bob assured Duane and also Ted Behrends and his brother Dale, who were nearby, were Paul Trees' tame ones.

Ignoring the geese, Duane and Bob went downshore to investigate three floating fowl that turned out to be mudhens. Disgusted, they abandoned caution—and then nearly died of mortification as a flock of about 40 frightened Canadians and blues took to the sky!

Ted and his brother were pretty disgusted over this "fowl-up" But Ted was even MORE disgusted — with himself — the next morning when he didn't even get a shot at an 8½-lb. honker that he'd been almost close enough to that he could have got him throwing rocks. Ted's explanation: "I didn't think it looked like a goose." . . . When the big bird took off, a hunter ashore (Ted was on the lake in a boat) brought him down; and assured Mr. Behrends later that it certainly WAS a goose!

Don Thompson and George Swaroff went fishing in the Lac Seul vicinity north of the border a couple of weeks ago, and it still gives them a slight case of the tremors to recall one of their experiences. They'd started out early one morning for a day of fishing and were doing some open field running between small islands and through floating logs when they struck an unseen "deadhead" in the water. The jolt threw the motor out of the water and Don into George's lap. George says, "Don went kinda white."

They soon discovered that a hole the size of a baseball or larger had been knocked in the bottom of the boat. Don plunged a couple of heavy gloves into the opening to plug the gap while George — assuming that the motor had been damaged beyond use — rowed for the nearest island for all he was worth.

Upon reaching dry land, they discovered that no apparent harm whatever had been done to the motor—a discovery which miffed the exhausted Mr. Swaroff a bit after his strenuous exertion with the oars. They squared off the hole with a knife, devised a bung from a chunk of drift wood, and mended the boat so effectively that they were able to fish out the rest of the day in it. George admits some periodic bailing had to be indulged in; but they regarded that a small inconvenience, everything considered.

HOOD, HOSICK WOULD LIKE MAIL FROM HOME FRIENDS

Two Belmond enlistees in the U. S. Army are now settled down in training at Fort Carson, Colo., and would greatly appreciate mail from Belmond friends. They are Donald Hood, who is the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hood to serve in the armed forces: and Har[illegible] Hosick.

Lions Set Up Ricky Walrod Fund

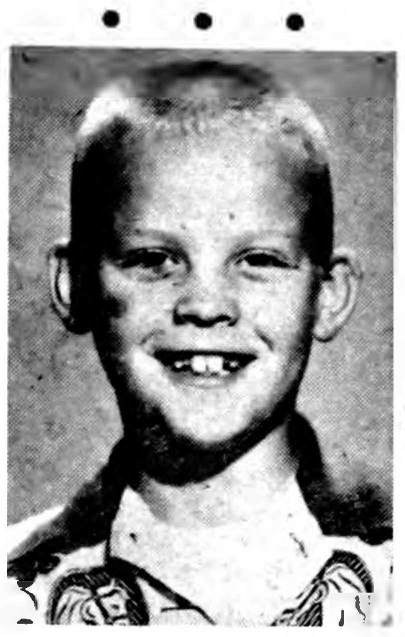
About six weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walrod became deeply disturbed when their eight-year-old son Ricky showed a marked disinclination to engage in play with his neighborhood pals. It wasn't at all like their boy. They also noticed that he quickly showed an ugly bruise whenever he suffered the slightest bump. This, too, perplexed them — and they took Ricky to their family doctor in search of an answer.

That answer was a sad one. Ricky, they were told, was suffering from leukemia — cancer of the blood. They didn't have to be told that it is an ailment that is invariably fatal.

Ricky had attended the first week of school. It was the day after Labor Day when his mother and father learned what ailed him. He'll not be going back to his class.

But as the picture accompanying this story clearly shows, Ricky's not the type of lad given to moping. He knows he's a sick boy. Of course, he's been shielded from the grim truth of what his illness means. A smile still comes readily to his face when his parents or friends visit his hospital room or one of the nurses pops in for a cheerful word.

Since his illness was discovered, Ricky has spent 41 days in the hospital, plus another three days at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., to undergo observation and tests that confirmed the diagnosis of Ricky's doctor. And to combat deterioration in his condition, the plucky youngster must submit to blood transfusions regularly. He's had seven so far — all of the blood donated by the Walrods' friends.



RICKY WALROD
Before Sickness Struck

Ricky's dad has no thoughts of sympathy for himself over the heavy financial burden that his son's sickness will inevitably represent. But at their meeting Tuesday noon at Jones cafe, members of the Belmond Lions club found themselves discussing Bill Walrod's unenviable situation.

They contemplated the fact that the Walrods also have a daughter, Veloice Sue, who's four. They suspected that the family's hospital insurance must be close to running out insofar as coverage for Ricky is concerned (they were right; it pays hospital room benefits for just 70 days). And, unquestionably, each Lion measured his own financial resources against a steady drain such as Ricky's parents are facing.

The end result of all this was a quickly agreed upon plan to set up a Lions club "Ricky Walrod Fund," which was given a good send-off by a club apropriation of $100.

Individual members expressed the wish to contribute personally to the fund, also; and it was suspected that others might share in that desire. Consequently the decision was made that participation in the fund should be opened to the public, with the Independent office designated as a receiving point.

Two personal donations have already been received, bringing the fund total to $120. Checks for $10 apiece were left at the Independent office by Neil Flanagan and L. T. "Bud" Trafford soon after the Lions meeting adjourned.

Further contributions will be gratefully welcomed by the Lions. A weekly report on donors and the amounts given will be published in The Independent. The Lions will be pleased to receive gifts from other groups, as well as individuals. Requests for donations to remain anonymous will be honored in such cases as that wish is expressed.

Latest report from Ricky's doctor is that he's been showing a slight improvement the past few days. The course of his disease is quite unpredictable, except in its ultimate outcome.

Ricky will probably never know about the "Ricky Walrod Fund." It's a good bet, though, that Ricky — friendly youngster that he has always been — would think it mighty nice that his mother and dad and his sister won't face deprivation on his account . . . if that Lions club fund brings the public response that the club members anticipate

TOWN'S YEARLY CHANCE TO HELP—

Firemen's 76th Benefit Dance Tuesday

Next Tuesday evening at Veterrans' Memorial hall the Belmond Volunteer Fire company will play host to Belmond and the surrounding countryside at the 76th in the firemen's unbroken series of annual benefit dances. Tickets for the affair were mailed out last week, and Fire Chief A. W. "Doc" Johnson says members of the department confidently anticipate that response of the public will make the ball the same financial success that it always has been in the past.

Keith Killinger's nine-piece orchestra from Des Moines has been hired to provide the music. This orchestra is reputedly the capital city's best—and most popular. It's appearance at the Tromar ball room and other of central Iowa's largest dance pavilions regularly bring out capacity crowds, testifying to its reputation as one of the midwest's most "danceable" bands. A charming vocalist who is featured by Killinger also contributes to the orchestra's popularity.

"Whether you will find it possible to attend the dance, or not, we hope that all of you who received tickets will remit their price," Chief Johnson says, "since this is the volunteer firemen's only means of raising money for the company's operation that is not provided by taxes and company shares.

"Over the more than three-quarters of a century that the Belmond fire department has served this area, the volunteer members have bought numerous pieces of fire-fighting and safety equipment that didn't cost the taxpayers a cent," he adds. "These purchases were made possible solely by proceeds from our yearly, benefit dances. If we are to continue to keep the company the same, highly efficient one it has always been, it will require the same sort of generous public support we have always enjoyed."

Chief Johnson points out that the excellent protection the fire department has so long provided has been instrumental in keeping fire insurance rates at a very reasonable level in the Belmond territory. The resulting savings, year in and year out, he adds, more than compensate for the outlay required to purchase a couple of Firemen's Ball tickets when time for this annual event rolls around.

Plans Shaping Up for Jaycees' Halloween Fun for School Kids

Plans of the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce for its second, annual program of Halloween parties for local school children were largely completed at a meeting of the Jaycees held Monday night at McCormick's cafe. Harry Nelson is general chairman.

Because the high school football game with Twin Rivers is scheduled to be played here on Wednesday, Oct. 31 — Halloween night — some juggling has been necessary in planning the festivities. This will make it necessary for the parties for the older students to run a little later than last year; but since the state teachers meeting starts the following day and there will be no school, the later hours won't matter so much, Mr. Nelson says.

As was the case a year ago, there will be no party for the youngest children. Instead, treats will be passed out to all the youngsters in kindergarten, first and second grades on the afternoon of Halloween. Ervin "Swede" Smith is chairman of the committee that will order and distribute the treats. He will be assisted by Glenn Sling, Jack Campbell and Paul Trees.

In order that the party for the students in 3rd through 6th grades will not have to run unduly late because of the football game, this affair will be held on Tuesday evening. There will be a program of games at the high school gymnasium for this group, and treats will be handed out.

In addition to his general chairmanship, Harry Nelson will head the committee in charge of the party for the 3rd-through-6th graders. Lending him a hand will be Luther Proeger, Sid Williams, Bob Watermiller, Al Korthas, Pete Followwill, Russ Porter and Ray Borgstrom.

Roger Tendall has been named by Jaycee President "Bud" Barkema as chairman of the junior high party. A hayride is planned for the 7th and 8th graders, immediately following the Twin Rivers game. It will end up at the Odd Fellows hall, where games will be played and refreshments served.

On the planning committee for the junior high party are Duane Johnson, Dwight Whelan, Roger Johnson, DuWayne Kalkwarf and Tom Harty.

Veterans' Memorial hall will be the scene of the high school party, which also will get underway as soon as possible after the game. Much of the planning for this affair is being left up to the BHS Student Council, but the Jaycees are obtaining the orchestra and will supply any assistance with the preparations that may be requested.

Merle Bonte heads the high school party committee. His aides will be Duane Anderson, Lewis Formanek, Dwight Tyrrell, Dale Kessler, George Hinman and Ernest Schroeder. There will also be a decorating committee, headed by Archie Allen and including Floyd Broshar, George Sharp, Don Smith and Roy Pals.

Duncan Will Form Junior Band Class

A beginners band class will be started on Wednesday of next week, according to John Duncan, high school director. On Monday, a representative from Carleton Stewart Music store at Mason City will be at the band room to talk with parents and take orders for the rental or purchase of instruments.

Arrangements for instruments may be made between the hours of 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Mr. Duncan says instruments need not necessarily be obtained from Stewart's, if any parents prefer another source.

Parents of all fifth-graders have been contacted by letter to inform them of the band class. The class won't be restricted to children of this grade, however. If parents of 6th, 7th or 8th grade pupils would like to see their youngsters get a start in band, they will be welcome to confer with Mr. Duncan.

Because of the time required in giving individual and group lessons to members of the high school band, and also for regular band practices, Mr. Duncan will be unable to give the new, junior musicians individual instruction.

However, Mr. Duncan says they can get a good start toward learning their instruments by attending the twice-a-week band class and the group will be converted into a junior band at the end of eight weeks' time.

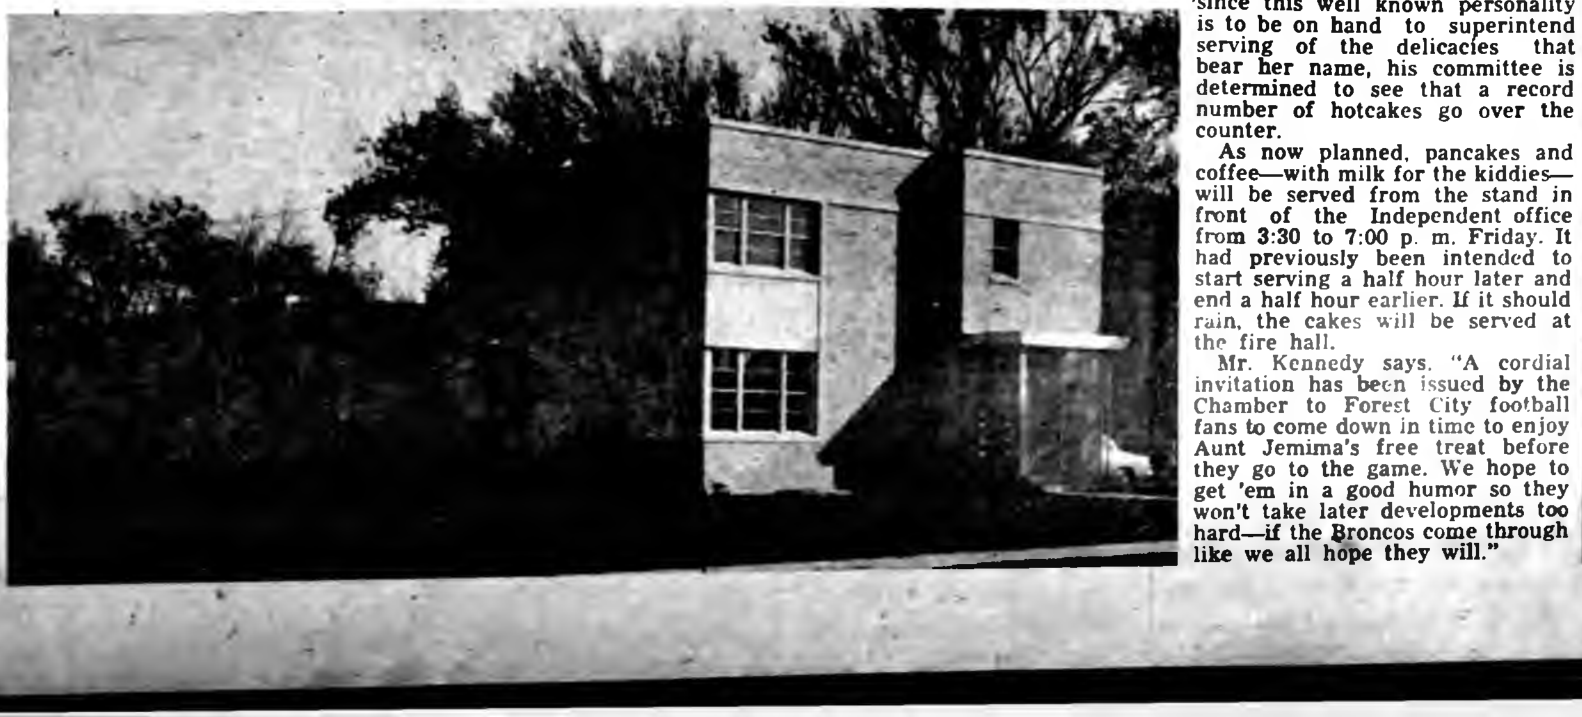
ANDREW L. MEYERS HAD SON BORN AT SEATTLE, SEPT. 25

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Meyers of Seattle, Wash., on Sept. 25 became parents of a second son, Dennis Wayne. He was born at Seattle's Swedish hospital and weighed 7 lbs. 10 oz. The Meyers' other son is Andrew Laurence, Jr., age three.

Paternal grandparents of Dennis Wayne are Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Meyers of Belmond. He has great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harm Meyers, living at Buffalo Center.

The Meyers' oldest son is a pupil at the University of Washington's Institute of Child Development.

ALMOST COMPLETED and ready for occupancy is the new Wright county jail, located in Clarion a block south of the Great Western tracks on County K road. As shown here, the 29x45-foot jail is adjoined on the southwest by a handsome new two-story home for the sheriff. According to Sheriff Bob Blecker, the current inmates of the old lock-up who will "graduate" to the new jail some time next month do not look forward to the change in abode with any keen anticipation. They have been helping with finish-up work at the new jail, Bob says, and fear that it won't lend itself to becoming the relatively comfortable "home away from home" that the old jail has been turned into. The new lockup is designed primarily as a place of detention, and despite its attractive exterior is "all business" on the inside.



Vestweber Cited For Soil Saving

Fred Vestweber of Bradgate, who until this past year was a resident of the Belmond rural area, on Nov. 1 at Sioux City will be honored for conservation accomplishments on his farm in the past year. He currently farms a half section in Garfield township, Pocahontas county.

Choice of Mr. Vestweber as having achieved the greatest total conservation accomplishments in the Pocahontas county soil conservation district during 1956 was made by the county soil commissioners.

Fred will be given recognition at the annual permanent agriculture banquet at Sioux City as a leading soil conservationist in the Sioux City area program for permanent agriculture.

GROUP ON CAMP OUTING

$100 FOUND NEW HOMES

Big smiles brightened the faces of two Cash Gift Day winners this week as they turned in at the Independent office numbers that were worth $50 apiece to them. The lucky ladies were Mrs. Paul Dieger, nee Darlene Thompson, and Mrs. Ed Frohling. Mrs. Frohling was so excited that she didn't think to have the merchant at whose store she discovered her number posted call by phone to say she was on her way. Instead, she sprinted up Main street to make sure of meeting the deadline and was breathless from exertion as well as excitement by the time of her arrival. With that $50 in her hand, she figured it was worth it. Next Tuesday's 2:00 p. m. drawing will again be for four $25 prizes. The number of $50's at 3:00 o'clock will drop to five.

Mike Long Hurt In Grid Practice

Mike Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Long, suffered a serious kidney injury in football practice a week ago Wednesday and has since been hospitalized. By latest reports, he appears to be making progress toward satisfactory recovery and removal of the ruptured organ may prove unnecessary. It was at first feared that this drastic surgery would have to be resorted to.

Republicans Set Up Headquarters

A headquarters for Wright county Republican campaign activities has been established in an office in the basement below Hotel Moore in Clarion, County Chairman Ben Birdsall reports. A large sign will indicate the location.

Campaign material will be available at the headquarters and a telephone installed there makes it accessible to any point in the county. There will be someone in the office each afternoon, 1:00 to 5:00.

Mr. Birdsall says the headquarters will be maintained from now until election time as a coordination center for Republican activities.

WINS CHOIR POSITION

Earle Copes, director of the Cornell college choir, reports that Margo Gowdy has won the position of regular second soprano in the choir. The 48-voice organization sang in a special Parents Day program last Saturday, which Margo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gowdy, went to Mount Vernon to hear.

MYF Lays Plans For "Work Day"

Saturday, Oct. 27, is the date that has been picked by the Methodist Youth Fellowship for its annual "Work Day," an annual money-raising project that was introduced several years ago under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Don Collinson.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Collinson left Belmond to prepare for entering the missionary field in Africa, proceeds from the yearly "Work Day" have been sent to them to assist them in their work.

Having completed their studies at Brussells, Belgium, the Collinsons — with their two daughters— were due to arrive last week in the Belgian Congo. Money raised by the MYF's labors will again be forwarded to the well-loved missionary couple.

They would like the opportunity to help farmers pick up corn, as their "Work Day" project for this year. Any farmers who like to have this job done for them on a share basis should contact the MYF president, Joan Kriens.

C-of-C Will Mail Out Zoning Letter

Information sheets regarding the benefits of zoning and planning are to be mailed to all Belmond property-owners soon after the first of next week, according to Henry Stokke, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Civic Bureau.

This is the first step being taken by the C-of-C zoning and planning committee toward testing sentiment of the property-owners on the subject. This is being done to give the city council an idea of how prevalent the wish is to have an ordinance to those dual ends added to the city's law books.

Several weeks ago, the council agreed to set up a zoning and planning commission here if a satisfactory indication could be gained that a clear majority of the people owning land in Belmond would like to have zoning and planning introduced.

Not long after the zoning and planning information has been disseminated, a petition requesting establishment of a commission will be circulated, Mr. Stokke says.

SANDRA SKOVLIN ASSIGNED TO U. S. EMBASSY, LONDON

Matilda Skovlin recently spent several days in Minneapolis and St Paul visiting friends and relatives. High point of her trip was the opportunity to spend a day with her niece, Sandra Skovlin, who was en route by air to the east where she was to depart for London, England, via Stratocruiser. Miss Skovlin had just ended a four-week vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Skovlin of Enterprise, Ore. Sandra has just been assigned to work at the American Embassy in London, following three years of similar service at Madrid, Spain.

Budget Here Same As in '55; Rural's Increased Slightly

Next Monday the people of Belmond and rural Wright county will be given the annual test of their generosity as teams of canvassers launch the annual drives of the Belmond and Rural Wright County Community Chests. Goals of both organizations are relatively modest by comparison with per capita demands of many other Chests. For this reason the respective campaign chairmen, Tom Burdsal for the Belmond group and March Ihm of Rowan for the rural Chest, express confidence that no trouble should be experienced in reaching their objectives.

Belmond Goal Unchanged

Belmond's Chest goal is the same as set a year ago, $4,900, despite the fact that two organizations have been added to the list of affiliates and an appropriation of $100 allotted to each. The two new agencies are the Wright County Association for Retarded Children and the Iowa Mental Health association.

These same, two agencies have also been added to the Rural Chest "family," with the result that $255 more is needed to meet the budget of that Chest than was required last year. Otherwise, appropriations from the proceeds of the Rural Chest campaign are largely identical to those a year ago.

Rural Budget Slightly "Up"

The Rural Chest has promised the following sums to its member organizations: American Cancer Society $2,940; American Red Cross $3,300; Boy Scouts [illegible]; CROP $1,600; Iowa Children's Home Society $840; Salvation Army $450; Sister Kenny Foundation $840; and United Fund of Iowa $840.

The Association for Retarded Children will receive $300 and the Mental Health association, $245. Another $800 has been set aside for Community Welfare and to meet such expenses as incurred by conduct of the campaign.

Compared to the 10 specific agencies that will share in the rural fund, 13 receive attention in the Belmond Chest budget.

Local Chest Affiliates

Besides the two new ones, these are: American Cancer Society $700; American Red Cross $1,000; Boy Scouts $900; Campfire Girls $300; Iowa Children's Home Society $400; PTA Summer Recreation $300; Salvation Army [illegible]; Sister Kenny Foundation $220; United Fund of Iowa $290; and Volunteers of America $150.

Because local Chest campaigns have regularly exceeded their goals by a modest margin, the Community Chest Council has reduced the amount budgeted for contingency and reserve to only $60 and included the two new affiliates without increasing the campaign goal.

Chests "Convenient Way"

It is emphasized by both campaign chairmen that the people of Belmond and rural Wright county have regularly supported most of the Chest organizations for years. The few agencies that have been added were ones that the Chest Councils were certain would receive support if they conducted private drives.

This all emphasizes the fact that a major purpose behind forming of the Chest organizations was to consolidate the year's giving for many worthy purposes into a single donation made once a year. This has also made it unnecessary to round up canvassers to conduct multiple campaigns, which has further contributed to the public convenience.

Mr. Burdsal and Mr. Ihm join in urging residents of their areas, "Please accommodate the people who are giving of their time to conduct the campaigns by having your donations ready when they knock on your door or call at your place of business. And don't fail to bear in mind that the continued success of our Community Chests depends entirely on your willingness to give enough for ALL of these very worthwhile purposes, while it is made possible for you to give but ONCE!"

PARADE, GAME MAJOR HIGHLIGHTS—

Plans Set for Homecoming Festivities

Climax of the high school's football season will be marked tomorrow by the annual BHS Homecoming festivities and the Bronco eleven's final North Iowa conference game of the year, against Forest City.

Opening event of the Homecoming program will be the parade, scheduled for 3:00 p. m. Included in the line-up will be 10 school floats—seven entered by various high school home rooms, two by junior high rooms and one entered jointly by the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America. A number of business firms are expected to have floats in the parade, also.

Cash prizes provided from the student activity fund will go to the three top place-winners among the student floats. The Student Council provided each sponsoring group with $2.00 toward expense of constructing its float, the remainder of the cost to be made up by the group itself.

The parade will halt at the First State bank corner for a brief pep rally, and then continue east on Main street. The high school band under direction of John Duncan will provide marching music and the Homecoming Queen candidates will be given a place of honor in the line of march.

Contention for the Queen's crown is provided an extra fillip this year by the fact that two of the candidates are sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Soma. The senior class chose as their candidate Phyllis Soma and the freshmen, Eloise Soma. Junior candidate is Sharon Eide and sophomore, Judy Larson. The queen will be chosen by vote of the football squad members.

During the halftime of the football game, the student floats will make a circuit of the gridiron so persons unable to witness the parade will have an opportunity to see them. Also during the intermission ceremonies, the band will honor the queen with a special formation, Her Highness will be identified and winners of the parade prizes will be announced.

At 10:00 p. m. the annual Homecoming dance will be held at the gymnasium, reigned over by the Queen. Alumni and their guests, as well as BHS students, will be welcome at the dance, which will end at 12:30 a. m. Music will be provided by an orchestra consisting of band directors from schools of this area.

Pancake Serving Tomorrow From 3:30 to 7 P. M.

In anticipation of a crowd swollen by the presence of Homecoming visitors, the Chamber of Commerce retail bureau has added another hour to the period during which free pancakes will be served tomorrow afternoon as a pre-game treat.

Chairman Dave Kennedy says there's nothing Aunt Jemima enjoys so much as seeing stacks of her hot-off-the-griddle cakes disappearing down hungry gullets. And since this well known personality is to be on hand to superintend serving of the delicacies that bear her name, his committee is determined to see that a record number of hotcakes go over the counter.

As now planned, pancakes and coffee—with milk for the kiddies—will be served from the stand in front of the Independent office from 3:30 to 7:00 p. m. Friday. It had previously been intended to start serving a half hour later and end a half hour earlier. If it should rain, the cakes will be served at the fire hall.

Mr. Kennedy says, "A cordial invitation has been issued by the Chamber to Forest City football fans to come down in time to enjoy Aunt Jemima's free treat before they go to the game. We hope to get 'em in a good humor so they won't take later developments too hard—if the Broncos come through like we all hope they will."

Four Plead Guilty To Crime Charges

Guilty pleas were entered in four criminal cases heard Monday of this week by Judge J. M. Schaupp of Fort Dodge in Wright county district court at Clarion.

Jerrold Pohlman of Clarion and Glenn H. Davis of Dows were both charged with lascivious acts with a minor. Pohlman was fined $500 and paid that amount. Davis was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail and his driver's license was suspended indefinitely.

A jail sentence was also handed out to Bernard Sweet of Galt, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Judge Schaupp gave him 30 days in the county jail and fined him $100 on the charge and added another 30-day jail sentence for violation of parole.

Melvin Panhoff of Swaledale, arrested last month after an evening spent in Belmond, was fined $300 for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and his driver's license was suspended for 60 days.

EKELAND COW "APPROVED"

Daisy Crest's Pride, an Ayrshire cow owned by Sherman Ekeland, has been given an "Approved" rating by Ayrshire Breeders' association. The rating is given only to cows with high milk-producing ability that have at least two calves that have also met approved production standards.

A REAL BOOST TO FARM INCOME

In fact, the nation's brewing industry last year spent over $250,000,000 for such farm products. This would fill 47,000 freight cars . . . making a train which would reach from Des Moines well past Indianapolis. And, of all these cereal adjuncts used in beer, corn leads the list . . . which also includes soybeans, wheat, barley, and other grains. Later, many of these brewers' grains benefit Iowa farmers again, coming back as vitamin-enriched cattle feed.

Belmond had the ingredients for victory last Friday night at Lake Mills, but the Broncos simply could not blend them into a winning recipe. Consequently, the Bulldogs made their Homecoming crowd happy with a 12-7 decision that kept them top contenders—along with Forest City—for the North Iowa conference football championship.

It was to quite a degree a repetition of the Northwood game, in that the Broncs hurt themselves worse than the opposition was able to. Belmond held the Bulldogs to a complete deadlock, statistically; but a penalty and a fumble at key points, and a costly defensive lapse that never should have occurred, spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Penalty Wrecks TD Chance

Although Lake Mills out-downed the Broncos six to three in the first two quarters, those were the periods that should have seen Belmond with a scoring advantage that could well have meant the game. The first quarter had not even reached its mid-point when the Purple and White lost a golden opportunity to go into the lead.

Larry Kinseth had intercepted a pass flung by "Skip" Kinden and run it back from the Belmond 44 to the Bulldogs' 34. After a nine-yard loss on the first play, Jerry Chandler passed in the left flat to Roland Jenison and Jenison lateralled off to McNulty. Big Tom went all the way to the 10 before he was stopped—but a holding penalty took the ball all the way back to the 38.

Drive Ended by Fumble

Belmond wasn't able to get in gear again, and the opportunity to grab an early lead was lost. In the next period, Lake Mills once advanced to Belmond's 25, but there the Purple and White defense stiffened and held. That was the Bulldogs' only threat prior to halftime.

But the Broncos immediately thereafter launched a march that looked like it might very possibly go all the way. Starting from their 25,, they advanced clear to Lake Mills' 20 in five plays—the key effort being a 36-yard jaunt by Bill Murray. However, the desperate Bulldogs were tackling the ball viciously and on their own 20 they managed to peel it off of Murray; and that ended the excitement for the first half.

LM Scores in 3rd

As play resumed, Belmond picked up a couple of first downs but was then forced to punt and Lake Mills took over on its 47. Loosening the Bronco defense with several successful passes just over the center, the Bulldogs went 53 yards in 12 plays to rack up the evening's first counter. Ross Braland tallied on a final plunge of one yard. Big Loren Moen's boot for point was wide, but the host team was in front 6-0.

Belmond was jolted with a 15-yard holding penalty immediately after the kickoff, and when forced to punt the kick traveled a measley 17 yards. Lake Mills took over on the Broncos' 30. Three plays netted the Bulldogs exactly nothing; then came what was the Broncos' really fatal lapse of the evening.

Moen Gets in Clear

Moen, who runs with all the speed of a tortoise negotiating in cold molasses against a strong wind, ambled out in the left flat unattended by a single Bronco and gathered in a pass that went for a 22-yard gain. Where it had appeared the Bulldogs were going to be stopped short of dangerous territory, they ended up with the ball on the eight-yard line, 1st-and-10.

It took them all four downs to get to the end zone, but on the first down of the final quarter Gordy Hagen went over from a foot out. Moen's kick for point was a blooper that fell far short; but the play was a costly one for Belmond as McNulty suffered a minor injury that finished him for the game.

An ensuing exchange of punts gave Belmond the ball on its own 30, with possibly eight minutes to play. The Broncos ground out 45 yards in nine effective but time-consuming cracks at the line. Then a pass from Rollie Jenison found Larry Schimp behind the Bulldog defense and the converted cage star scampered into the end zone. Murray's perfect placement left Belmond still trailing, 12-7.

Ball Theft Nullified

Murray attempted an on-side boot on the kickoff, which Lake Mills managed to capture. Belmond tacklers ripped the ball from the receiver's hands; but the officials ruled that the theft wasn't achieved until after the whistle had blown. A little over two minutes of playing time remained, but the Bulldogs dawdled through three plays—at the expense of one five-yard penalty for too much time—and wasted most of the precious seconds.

After Kinden finally kicked out of bounds on Belmond's 31, the Broncos had time for only two plays. On the first, Rollie Jenison was rushed into an 11-yard loss. On the next, a long toss from Murray was barely missed by Jon Mehus—but he was effectively covered and would never have been able to go all the way, anyhow.

Bronco Line Proves Strong

It was tough one to lose, and was all the more bitter a pill in that the hard-trying Broncs more or less measured out their own medicine. The Belmond line was at least a match for the Bulldog forward was, with Merrill Jenison, Leonard Steenblock and Jon Mehus the key stalwarts. Until hurt, McNulty performed well as line-backer and also did some good running. Bill Murray had one of his better nights as a ball-carrier, too.

From the positive standpoint "Skip" Kinden's quarterbacking was probably the decisive factor in giving Lake Mills its hard-fought win. He was given valuable aid by Ross Braland, the victors' speedy fullback; and by a line that in general performed very capably in the clutches.

Broncs Must Stop Fast F. C. Backs To Win Tomorrow

With all their hopes of a share in the North Iowa conference football title exploded by that 12-7 loss last week at Lake Mills, the Belmond Broncos will have their last chance to cast a vote as to who IS to be champion tomorrow night. It goes without saying that they'll find Forest City very much "up" for the Homecoming game here, as a clear claim to the crown rests in the balance for the Indians.

The Broncos will get their sternest test of the season, where containing speed is concerned. Jim Hanson last year averaged 11 yards per try on 86 carries and this year up to last week, had covered 503 yards in 62 tries for an eight-yard average. Ted Nilssen is almost on a par with the tow-headed Hanson as a break-away runner; and even the Indians' blocking back, Jerry Dunbar, has a seven-yard carrying average.

All of this augurs a busy evening for the Belmond defense—especially the ends and secondary. No team has made consistent yardage through the middle of the Bronco line, and the Indians can be counted on to seek other areas on a good share of their running plays.

Forest City's 24-7 win over Buffalo Center last week in the Indians' Homecoming game was not overly impressive. But with Belmond, Northwood and Lake Mills coming up in that order, it would be understandable if the Indians had their minds a bit more on the future than on the game at hand.

Big surprise of last week's round of games in NIC play was Northwood's narrow sueak against the down-trodden Britt team. The Vikings could manage only a 27-20 decision. Dave Rasmusson, the Eagles' star, junior back was in the line-up after recuperating from an appendectomy at the start of the season; and his presence clearly made a lot of difference. While they're taking their lumps this fall, Britt is clearly destined to be one of the loop's tougher aggregations a year hence; because the Eagle line-up is really loaded with underclassmen who are learning fast.

Mrs. Albert Anderson and son Luverne of Galesville, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson of Mason City visited a week ago Sunday in the Oren Hanson home.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

"Win" Winbigler, new proprietor of the Bowl-Mor Alleys, is a very quiet and unassuming fellow. Although he'd well established himself as one of Wright county's better bowlers before he moved here from Eagle Grove, you never hear him "talking a good game;" he lets his ball speak for itself. And when he's "on," it speaks loud and clear.

He's been trying to learn how to use a new, shallow-holed, fingertip ball and as a consequence hasn't been bowling up to his usual par much of the current season, so far But he found his "spot" last Thursday night while rolling for the Independent in the Mainstreeters' league.

After an eight-pin "blow" in the first frame, "Win" reeled off EIGHT consecutive strikes before having to settle for a spare in the final frame. That gave him top league game of the season—a robust 256. It also meant his name woud go on the bulletin board at the top of the high-game list. But "Win" had had a 124 just before. "That should go right beside the 256," he mused.

Talk about CLOSE ones! The first game between Knoll's Produce and DeKalb Hybrid in the Kanawha league Wednesday of last week was a corker. Knoll's gatherd in 1,056 pins (with handicap) for the highest team game of the week—EXCEPT for the 1,057 that DeKalb put together! . . . In the same match, L. Espe had a 234 game and 593 series, but wasn't high with either. Teammate Wiert Brower produced a 240 and 601!

The thing that keeps 'em coming back to the bowling alley is the fact that a sour series may always be succeeded by one that gives that inner glow. Take, for example, Anson Avery's two consecutive efforts in league play last Thursday night. On the early shift, rolling with Tip Top, his high game was a stinkin' (for him) 148 and he averaged only 142 for the three lines. On the second shift he pounded the maples for a high of 226 and averaged 185. Same bowler! Same alleys! But an average of 43 pins' difference per game!

Rex Fetrow, bowling for Thompson's office, picked up one of the toughest split combinations last week—and did not even have the satisfaction of seeing the pins fall. He left the 4-7 and 6-10, and on his second ball aimed at the 6-10. Disgusted over his bum luck, he walked away as the ball went down the alley. He got the 6-10 all right. But the No. 6 caromed off the back of the pit, ticked the 10 end tipped it over against the 4. Presto! A spare!

Lake Mills came within two, measly votes of making the top 10 among the Class II grid teams in the Iowa Prep Football last week—the highest rating a North Iowa conference team has achieved since the poll has been conducted. The Bulldogs accumulated 74 votes, just shy of the 76 that gave Earlham the No 10 spot. Their conquest of Northwood earned them 18 votes more than they'd had the week before; and boosted 'em from 17th to 11th.

Forest City, on the other hand, must wonder what you have to do to impress the pollsters. Last week the Indians received just one 10th place nomination in the Class I ratings, good for a single vote. The week before they'd had a total of five votes.

Just why they should have lost ground by virtue of blasting Garner 46-0 does seem a bit peculiar. Incidentally, the Garner Leader's sports writer was rather bitter about Coach Wallie Stittsworth "pouring it on." In the game write-up it was reported that it wasn't until the last minute of the one-sided scrap "when the Indians' coach discovered he had some reserves on the bench and sent in his second team" . . . Well, it didn't net 'em any votes.

That Northwood defeat plunged the Broncos from 19th place, in the first poll, down to a tie for 42nd last week. Like Reinbeck and West Branch, Belmond pulled 27 votes. Oddly enough, Northwood's thumping at the hands of Lake Mills found it only two places lower than where it was in the initial poll—down from 28th to 30th. It will be interesting to see whether the close battle the Broncs gave the Bulldogs improves Belmond's rating—or hurts Lake Mills'.

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

Legion Auxiliary Has 59 Members

Meservey American Legion Auxiliary unit met on Wednesday evening of last week for its regular meeting. Ethel Wendel gave several good points on civil defense and national security, stressing the first aid and home nursing courses available. The membership chairman reported 59 members have joined to date. Pan-American chairman Sylvia Raecker presented Lucille Diddy with an auxiliary album as winner of the Pan-American quiz last month on Haiti.

Ethel Wendel reported on the district meeting held Sunday at Clear Lake. It was agreed to again send candy for Christmas to all Meservey men in service. Lunch was served by Mary Raecker and Blanche Greer at the close of the meeting.

Speech Therapist Tells of Variety Of Defects Found

Neil Ver Hoef, Wright county speech therapist, reports that the program of speech correction that has been set up to aid school children throughout the county is well underway in terms of supervised work being done by classroom teachers. Therapy classes, to provide more personal attention to youngsters with the more serious defects, will commence Monday.

Parents wil lbe notified when their children are to receive attention from the therapist, and Mr. Ver Hoef hopes that these parents will accept his invitation to attend these sessions.

Of more than 250 children referred to Mr. Ver Hoef, 60 have been enrolled for special speech correction work, 129 are receiving help through their classroom teachers, 23 have been or soon will be referred for medical attention and 26 are classified as pending cases. The exact nature of the speech difficulties of these latter children could not be determined at the time of the initial examination.

Mr. Ver Hoef reports that 176 of the children referred by teachers in the town schools are thought to have articulation problems, ranging from "baby talk" and lisping to no speech at all. Forty-one are thought to have voice problems such as too high or too low vocal pitch, harsh or nasal voices.

Twenty-six of the students are regarded to have fluency problems, ranging from simple reptitions of words and sounds to severe stammering. Mr. Ver Hoef adds that seven other types of miscellaneous problems were also referred to him.

2 Rules Changed On Package Mail

Postmaster George Jenison announces two changes in mailing procedures that will be of possible interest to Belmond post office patrons.

One provides that sealed parcels mailed at third and fourth class rates of postage will no longer require an endorsement authorizing opening of the package for inspection.

The other permits envelopes or wrappers enclosing publications mailed at second class rate (newspapers and magazines) to be sealed.

Parcels mailed without authorization for inspection will still be subject to inspection, Mr. Jenison says; simply the endorsement is no longer required. Patrons not wishing such mail to be opened should mark such parcels first class and pre-pay at that class rate.

Also, he adds, authorization to seal parcels does not change the requirement that letters enclosed must be indicated by an endorsement, "Letter Enclosed," and that postage for the enclosed letter be paid in addition to the postage on the package.

Guthries Had Long Careers in Show Business

LAURA GUTHRIE
Married into The Theater

BILLY, THE COMEDIAN
He Wowed 'Em on Tent Circuit

BILL GUTHRIE
Acting Bug Bit Him Early

It's probably generally known [illegible] their local friends and acquaintances that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Guthrie were once in show business, but it's doubtful that many realize the long years of trouping that Bill, particularly, takes pleasure in looking back upon. The Guthries have been proprietors of the Style Shop for the past couple of years; but before that, Bill was engaged in show business in one connection or another for some 45 years.

Quiet, almost shy-appearing, Bill exhibits in ordinary social contacts little of the "stage presence" that made him a highly successful comedian over a span of more than 30 years (he wound up his show career in the "inactive" capacity of manager-owner of the movie theater at Dows).

The theater bug bit Bill early, and hard. His father and several uncles were stagehands for various Des Moines theaters during Bill's boyhood—when stock productions and vaudeville hadn't yet given way before "talking pictures," radio and other modern-day entertainment media. The Guthrie kid delighted in watching shows from the wings in the theaters where his menfolk's employment got him free entry.

Started Acting at 17

By "absorbtion," he already had learned the ropes pretty well by the time he was given his first paying job as a youngster of 17. At that time he joined a medicine show as a blackface comedian. The company carried with it several vaudeville acts, a couple of reels of moving pictures, and an ample stock of root-and-herb medicine that was liberally laced with alcohol.

With this experience behind him, Bill formed a team with another vaudevillian in a blackface act that played major circuits—among them the Orpheum and Sullivan-Considine—over a wide geographical area. Their one-week stands took them from Chicago to Denver and from Duluth to Corpus Christi near the tip of Texas. The act consisted mainly of singing and patter; and Bill admits it was a pretty good one.

Then came a year with a minstrel show, which appeared in many of Iowa's better "show towns," after which Bill made a switch to musical comedy. He was two years with a company which ranged through Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, bringing New York hits to the grassroots. There was virtually no limit to the variety of parts Bill played, but his forte was dialect roles.

Liked Dialect Parts

Bill admits some pride in his talent as a dialect comedian. Whereas few actors are competent in more than one or two dialects, he says he felt very much at home as a Swede, Jew, Irisher, Dutchman or "darky." Quite understandably, he thoroughly enjoyed playing dialect parts. His particular favorite was the role of an elderly, Yiddish gentleman, which he recalls fondly was a real show-stopper.

About that time the tent show was in its heyday, and he decided to go into business for himself by acquiring a partnership in a tent company. He was with his first partner just a year, when Millard Tilton — his associate in the Tilton & Guthrie Players for more than two decades — bought the other half of the business.

Just 30 years ago last week, the T&G Players appeared at the Belmond Opera House — featuring "that funny comedian" Billy Guthrie. Bill's picture as he appeared at that time accompanies this article. The tent season had just ended when the troupe came here, and the players were about to start a winter season stand at Logansport, Ind., where they appeared for two years during the off-season.

Tent Sat Crowd of 850

During the warm months, the group's "theater" was a sizeable, canvas tent that accommodated 600 folding chairs, rather uncomfortable bleachers that would seat another 250 — and, of course, the stage and dressing rooms. Admission was 35c at the door. Then you had the choice of sitting in the bleachers or coughing up an extra dime for a chair seat.

Tilton-Guthrie had on sale the inevitable "prize candy," which helped some of the lower-paid help to paid out their weekly wage with commissions. Bill insists he never did eat any of the stuff, so he can't say whether it was any good or not. (Ed's note: your writer DID sample these "delicious confections" on more than one occasion and can say the candy was lousy!) Bill admits that the lily was gilded a bit in describing the wondrous prizes that were to be found in the candy boxes.

Throughout the summer, the Tilton-Guthrie troupe moved from town to town throughout northern Iowa, from 1920 until 1939. While both comedies and dramas were included in each season's repertoire, it was mainly comedy that the people wanted to see. Consequently, Bill — in the guise of a Toby comedian — was apt to show up in the most unexpected places.

Audiences Loved "Toby"

Bill recalls with a grin that Toby and an ingenue were even shoehorned into "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" — to the keen satisfaction of the spectators. Favorite plays that were welcomed in almost endless repetitions included "Up in Mable's Room," "Getting Gertie's Garter," "Charlie's Aunt" and "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

Each season's repertoire consisted of seven plays, one for each night of the week. There was pretty much of a complete changeover from year to year; but, as mentioned, there was a continual demand for the old standbys.

When cold weather came, the players invariably found a theater in which to display their talents as a stock company during the winter. Bill and Laura (Mrs. G.) played stock in Des Moines with the Hatcher Players for several seasons and appeared on a number of other legitimate stages.

Acquired Leading Lady in '28

As Laura Bashford of Webster City, the present Mrs. Guthrie became enamored of the handsome co-owner and comedian of the Tilton-Guthrie Players when the company made a stand at the Hamilton county seat in 1928. After the tent moved on, Bill found himself returning to Webster City at every opportunity. It didn't take too long for the lovebirds to decide that a lot of travel was being required that would be unnecessary if they got married.

On July 30, 1928, this practical step was taken. Less than three months later, when the company began a winter run at a Sioux Falls, S. D., theater, there was a new leading lady in the person of Laura Bashford. Mrs. Guthrie took to playacting like an old "pro," Bill proudly remembers, and was soon winning audiences' hearts everywhere the company appeared.

She was no stranger to appearing before crowds. She was an adept Charleston dancer and had won a number of contests before Bill came along to "take her away from all that." She'd even competed in a state contest at Des Moines (Bill couldn't remember how she made out).

There only child, a daughter, Their only child, a daughter, Van Gerpen of Woodworth, Minn. —never shared her parents' penchant for the dramatic arts. She was wheedled into playing several walk-on parts as a small youngster; but she says she always nearly died of stage fright and invariably had to be coaxed off the stage by a jingle of change in the hands of her father. Whether her two daughters—Angela Su, age 2½, and Laura Kathryn, who'll be a year old Oct. 26—will be "throwbacks" remains to be seen.

The Tilton-Guthrie partnership broke up in 1939 and Bill had a show of his own in 1940-41. In 1942 he bought the movie theater at Dows and, for the first time since childhood, permitted himself the luxury of growing some roots.

His last professional appearance was two years ago when Tilton, who had continued on the road with a company he had formed—appeared at Dows. Bill dusted off one of the old comedy routines and was delighted to find he had not lost his knack for pleasing a crowd.

Tornado Wrecked Tent

"That funny comedian, Billy Guthrie," looks back with much satisfaction and pleasure upon his who had continued on the road wouldn't change a minute of it.

Well, perhaps that isn't exactly correct. He recalls one night in '33 when the troupe was playing in Dows that a practically new tent was ripped to tatters by a tornado. Fortunately, the Kansas City company from which they'd bought it let them trade it in on another nearly-new one it happened to have on hand and the players missed only one night's performance.

Laura finds a good deal of enjoyment in operating the Style Shop; and Bill's glad she does. He finds ways and means to keep himself occupied without having too much to do with the shop. And if he has nothing better at the moment to occupy his mind, he can always spend a pleasant few minutes reminiscing how he wowed 'em in Dubuque!

Accident Results In 5 Dollar Fine

Hector Nelson of Belmond was fined $5 and costs in the court of Mayor R. C. Bowman at Clarion on Monday of this week as an outgrowth of a rural road mishap northeast of Rowan on Tuesday of last week. He was charged with failure to yield right-of-way.

Employed as a farmhand by Art Nielsen of Rowan, Nelson was driving a tractor with attached trailer out of the Nielsen farm drive to a field across the road when a car driven by Carol Bailey Peterson of Hampton approached from the south.

Mrs. Peterson was unable to avoid slamming into the tractor and her '54 Oldsmobile sedan suffered damage estimated at $700. About $100 damage was done to the tractor. Mrs. Peterson received some minor cuts and bruises about the face, but Nelson escaped injury.

Farm Landlords Now Able to Qualify For Benefits Under Social Security

Thanks to an amendment incorporated as part of the Social Security law this year, Wright county farm landlords may now use farm rental income to qualify for social security benefits under certain conditions, advises Aaron Bowman, county extension director. The determining factor is whether they "materially participate" in the production of farm products or in the management of the farm.

Under the law as it previously stood, a landlord had to operate the farm himself, operate it with labor, or set up a farm partnership with another man as operator. Now, landlords may qualify by "materially participating" in any of four ways.

These qualifying arrangements, as outlined by I. W. Arthur, Iowa State college farm economist, are: (1) the landlord must advise and consult regularlarly on the operation and management of the farm with the person who rents the land; (2) inspect the production activity regularly; (3) furnish all or part of the equipment, machinery or livestock; (4) pay part of the expense of farm production.

Arthur stresses that it is not necessary for the landlord to do all these things in order to qualify. In most cases, he says, it will be sufficient if he has an agreement with his tenant that he will take some part in the management or production—and if he actually does take some part in management and production.

Even if the landlord does no physical work on the farm, he may share in the management of some area of the production program, Arthur points out. This means that a landlord, with any type of farm lease, might qualify as "materially participating," says the economist; and therefore would be eligible to participate in the social security program.

Exceptions would be absentee landlords who seldom visit their farms, or landlords employing a farm management service to represent them in handling the management and business end of the farming operations.

After a landlord has qualified and has established benefits under the social security program, he may reach the place where he wants to retire and accept benefit payments. This may be at the minimum retirement age of 65, or later. To be eligible for retirement payments he would then have to change his position so that he no longer "materially participates," Arthur says.

If he does not take this step, and has a regular farm rental income averaging over $100 per month, the landlord might pay in his social security taxes and still never qualify for retirement benefits, the ISC economist warns.

Blue Ribbon Goes To County Chorus At Ames Festival

The Wright County Women's chorus, which won enthusiastic applause with an appearance here during the Belmond Centennial celebration last August, was a blue ribbon winner in chorus competition conducted last Friday at Iowa State college, Ames. It was one of 22 rural women's choruses that took part in a statewide workshop-festival held at the college.

Judge of the singing competition was Prof. Hodley Crawford, director of vocal and choral music at Simpson college, Indianola, who has won a wide reputation for the excellence of his student choruses. Mrs. Robert Kay of Clarion, director of the Wright chorus, reports that Professor Crawford's critic- that Professor Crawford's criticisms and suggestion should prove very helpful to the Wright county

Chorus members attending the workshop-festival from Belmond were Mrs. Harold Simerson and Mrs. Gerhard Thompson. Also going from this general vicinity were Mrs. Thomas Mathre and Mrs. Melvin Olson of Kanawha.

Mrs. Kay is interested in finding additional women who would like to sing in the chorus. Inquiries may be directed to her. The group will practice the second Monday of each month at 2:00 p. m. at the Clarion Methodist church.

Rev. R. A. Ormsby Entertains Guests

The Forty Hours Devotion conducted by Rev. Herbert J. Kreiger of Colesburg from 8:00 a. m. Mass a week ago Sunday through 7:30 evening Mass on the following Tuesday was well attended, Rev. R. A. Ormsby reports.

The Belmond priest entertained a number of visiting members of the clergy as dinner guests during the devotion period. Monsignors who enjoyed the hospitality of the local rectory were: Patrick J. Malone, Mason City; James E. Slowey, Clarion; W. C. Hradecky, Duncan; and Luke B. Striegel, Garner.

Priests who were entertained included the Reverends: Gerald Steiert, Iowa Falls; Frederick McKinley, Williams; Maurice A. Mullan, Eagle Grove; Thomas B. O'Toole, Corwith; John P. Smith, Britt; John J. Buzynski, Clear Lake; Leo A. Derga, Manly.

Also, Peter Bodensteiner, Mason City; Raymond Bohrer, Rockwell; John Beary, Rockwell; Ronald Axen, Dougherty; Gilbert C. Lattner, Rockford; Claude Norton, Hampton; and Donald J. Hawes, Mason City.

FROSHMORE, JUNIOR HI GRIDDERS BOTH TIE WITH LAKE MILLS FOES

Lake Mills' freshman-sophomore and junior high football teams did battle with the Belmond Junior Broncs and Colts last Monday evening on the local gridiron, but both games ended without a thing having been settled. Result of the froshmore fray was a 6-6 dealock and the junior high set-to ended in a 7-7 tie.

Lake Mills' froshmores started out with a rush, going 40 yards on a reverse on the first scrimmage play of the game and then hitting pay dirt from eight yards out on their next try. An alert Belmond defender intercepted the pass attempt for extra point.

During the rest of the game, the Junior Broncs pushed the visitors all over the field but were able to tally only in the third period. Their TD came on a five-yard end sweep by Ron Kloberdanz. Trying to pass for extra point, Mark Mason had the misfortune to drop the ball and matters remained even-Steven.

Belmond advanced to the Bullpups' five on another occasion and were once more threatening as the game ended. Johnny Murray intercepted a Lake Mills aerial and was downed on the visitors' 30. A pass promptly gaind 10 yards, but the whistle then called proceedings to a halt.

Coach Jack Steinberg singled out Bob Kurtz for special praise for his performance on both offense and defense. He also commended the defensive play of Howard Johnson, who had to wear special protection for a broken nose.

Lake Mills jumped into an early lead in the junior high tilt, also; and like the froshmores, the Colts evened things up in the third quarter. Robbie Courson went 20 yards on a reverse to score and Dennis Anderson went around end for the point. The Colts had another touchdown called back due to an illegal formation.

On Monday of last week, the Junior Broncs were downed by Buffalo Center's froshmores 13 to 0. Belmond gave the ball away eight times on fumbles and had two passes intercepted. The losers once put on a sustained march of 60 yards, from almost on their own goal line to the visitors' 40, but the drive was checked by a fumble. Coach Steinberg was particularly pleased by the work of Howard Mussell and Jim Crotty on defense.

Next Monday, the froshmores and junior high elevens will travel to Forest City for a grid double-header.

DON COLLINSONS NOW IN AFRICA TO BEGIN WORK AS MISSIONARIES

Word has been received by Belmond friends from Mr. and Mrs. Don Collinson that they expected to arrive at their missionary station at Wembo Nyama, Belgian Congo, on Wednesday of last week. The former BHS vocational agriculture instructor and his family left Belgium on Sept. 15 and were to be 15 days aboard ship in reaching Dakar, on the west coast of Africa.

Mrs. Collinson reported that another 10 days would be required to reach their destination. While some of the trip inland was to be made by plane, other stages would require train and truck transportation and travel would be slow toward the journey's end.

One of the Collinsons' daughters, Susan, suffered a severe attack of tonsilitis during the ocean voyage, but her mother wrote that she was feeling much better a few days later.

Eight Protestant missionaries, with four children, were aboard the ship en route to Dakar, including a Salvation Army pair with 17 years of service in Africa behind them. The missionaries had had the privilege of conducting Sunday services for a group of Congolese natives returning by steerage to their homeland and were greatly plased at the ready response the services inspired.

Mrs. Collinson observed that the heat was "terrible" as the ship approached Dakar. She added, "I thank God for those early pioneers in mission work in the Congo, giving their all. . . . The average length of life for a missionary to Africa in those times was less than three years."

Among the achievements of those early missionaries, she said, is a Bible written entirely in Lingala—the "native language of the Congolese—so the people of the Congo are able to read the Scriptures.

After starting to write her letter by hand, Mrs. Collinson finished it on a typewriter in the ship's library, explaining "this sea is rolling so badly that I just can't write. Don is bothered quite a bit by the roll of the sea," she added, "and it is a most miserable feeling, I assure you."

CHET GUNDERSON AUDITIONS CGW TRACKS TO SEARCH OUT TROUBLE

A person seeing C. T. "Chet" Gunderson engaged in the job he performs for the Chicago and Great Western railroad might think Chet was convinced that uranium is to be found along the CGW tracks. However, it's not a Geiger counter that Chet has in hand as he walks the tracks, five days a week and about two miles per day. It's called an Audigauge. And it's not uranium he's searching for; it's trouble.

For four years, Chet has been an Audigauge operator for the CGW. As he covers his beat along the tracks, rain or shine and in summer's heat or winter's cold, he's traveled afoot some 2,800 to 3,000 miles in that time. His job is one that simply can't be mechanized, insofar as the transportation end of it is concerned.

It is Chet's responsibility to see that there are no defects in the joint bars that hold the individual lengths of rail together. A handy little go-cart called a Sperry car tests the rails proper; but it does not learn anything about the joint bars—and a hidden defect in one of these bars could lead to a derailment just as certainly as a bad rail.

So Chet tramps the ties with his Man-from-Mars looking gadget, ferreting out any joint bars that might represent a lurking hazard to the CGW's rail traffic.

The Audigauge is an ultrasonic, electronic device that was developed in France. It sings out a tone of 1,000 cycles per second whenever it comes in contact with a joint bar that is hale and hearty. But if it nuzzles up to a potential troublemaker, the tone drops to a lower pitched 400-cycle note and Chet lets the bosses know that a replacement is in order.

Chet carries the electronic equipment in a pack on his back and touches each joint bar with a connecting, staff-like device that somewhat resembles a wartime mine detector. Either oil or water is used as a wetting agent to provide a good contact between the rail and the search unit.

A bad bar is reported to the operator in three ways. A loudspeaker carries the hum produced by the contact and Chet also wears headphones that deliver the electronic note directly to his ears. An output meter is also visible to the operator, which indicates visually the same information that the electronic tone produces audibly.

Chet is one of three track walkers who test rails in the Oelwein district of the CGW. More than one derailment has been traced to a defective joint bar, and the Great Western wants none of that on its line Chet and his fellow Audigauge operators make it highly improbable that any CGW train is going to unexpectedly take to a cornfield because a joint bar has failed to do its duty.

County Boasts 26 Active 4-H Clubs

During 4-H Membership Month, young people of Wright county will find they have a choice of 26 local clubs to which they can belong to enjoy the benefits and pleasures of club work. Any boys or girls over the eligible age of 10 years interested in 4-H activities are invited to contact the leaders of the club in their vicinity to make inquiry about membership.

Fifty-six adult leaders give general guidance to the club officers and members. 4-H members are required to attend meetings regularly and to actively carry on one or more approved projects.

Active farm project clubs in the general vicinity of Belmond and their leaders are: Pleasant Pioneers, Jim Payne and Richard Eckhoff; Iowa Hawkeyes, Raymond Aldrich and Loran Hadley; Norway Ramblers, Herman Hiemstra and Donald Engh; Grant Growers, Robert Feller and Wilbur Sebert.

Home economics project clubs of this area and their leaders are: Belmond Busy Bees, Mrs. Carol Miner and Mary Alice Studebaker, the latter a junior leader; Iowa U-Go-I-Go, Mrs. Larry Aldrich and Mrs. C. M. Myers; Norway Jolly Joy Makers, Mrs. Clarence Johnson and Mrs. Orville Eliason; Grant Go-Getters, Mrs. Lloyd Drury and Mrs. John Smith.

Mrs. Dale Conklin of San Diego, Calif., came Monday for a visit in the home of Mrs. Charles Conklin. She had the pleasure of making the trip with friends who came to St. Joseph, Mo. She will spend part of her time in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morris at Kanawha.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson had as dinner guests in their home Sunday, their son Harry Anderson of Chicago, Ill., their daughter, Leila from Thompson, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Smith and children, their daughter Ila Anderson and friend Ann Berg all of Garner, and Tom Waddingham of Klemme

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Martin went to North Liberty Saturday where they were overnight visitors in the home of their son, Carl Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kee and son of Gilmore City were supper guests in the home of her mother, Mrs. Nels Bock, Sunday.

Wright Remains On Bond Schedule

With 76 per cent of its entire 1956 savings bonds quota reached at the end of September, Wright county has one of the better records in Iowa The state average was 74 per cent, while the national average was 69 per cent.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, Wright county volunteer chairman of the savings bonds program, said that the county's September purchases of series E and H bonds amounted to $45,792, making a nine-month total of $1,188,958. Adams, Chickasaw, Appanoose and Clayton counties already are over their 1956 quotas.

September investments in savings bonds throughout Iowa were $8,579,011, and sales for the nine-month period reached $123,823,757.

"Iowa investments in savings bonds for the first three quarters of 1956 are 30 million dollars, or 32 per cent, above the five-year average for the like periods of 1951 through 1955," the chairman said "However, this year's sales to date are running slightly behind the first nine months of the 10-year record set in 1955."

Nine-month total sales of savings bonds, and per cent of quotas reached, are shown below for adjacent counties: Hancock county, $879,646, for 85 per cent; Franklin, $655,189, for 63 per cent; Hamilton, $1,165,361, for 78 per cent; Cerro Gordo $1,513,368, for 55 per cent.

INTEMPERATE AND HALF-TRUE CHARGES DISCREDIT IOWA HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

We received in the mail last week what was as flagrantly distorted, emotionally hysterical and all-around misleading a piece of propaganda as it's been our misfortune to fall heir to in many a month. And in an election year, with its rampant charges and counter-charges, that's saying something!

It was a brochure from the Iowa Hospital association in regard to the fight it has been carrying on with the Iowa State Medical society, plus several enclosures bearing on the same subject. It all added up to a dramatic performance that would make "East Lynne" look like a bedroom farce.

Basically, the disagreement between SOME members of the hospital association (who blithely take it upon themselves to speak for ALL) and the medical society is this: the big city hospitals have for some years enjoyed a master-servant relationship with a handful of medical specialists, greatly to the profit of the hospitals, and they plainly would like to embrace MORE specialists in the same status to the hospitals' further benefit.

For example, some metropolitan hospitals have for years employed radiologists and pathologists. While these hospitals were satisfied to make no encroachment upon the professional independence of additional graduate medical specialists, the doctors were apparently inclined to concede this limited usurpation of their traditional status of dealing always directly with their patients.

But as it became unmistakable that these large hospitals were determined to make hired hands of more and more medical specialists, the physicians foresaw a serious threat to their professional integrity. Consequently, they asked that the legality of the practice of hiring medical specialists of professional status be examined. As could well have been expected, the state attorney general's office—and later the courts—ruled that a master-servant relationship is NOT permitted by law between a hospital and such specialists.

As is so often the case in such squabbles, the picture isn't entirely white on one side and black on the other. Profiting on the services performed by these specialists has enabled the big hospitals to lower costs on other services. And since competition for "business" exists even among hospitals, those with constantly busy radiological departments and pathological laboratories have been happy to have financial aid from these sources to level off other patient costs.

But what troubles the doctors is the price at which this lowering of certain hospital charges is achieved. The doctor-patient relationship traditionally has found the American physician owing responsibility ONLY to the individual who comes to him for advice or treatment. In nations where this relationship has been weakened or hampered, the quality of medical service has suffered seriously.

In a hospital like our own, when a visiting radiologist comes to serve its patients they forthwith become HIS patients. He is not expected to turn a profit for the hospital. His only obligation is to serve the patient to the very best of his professional ability. This, the doctors believe, is as it should be. And we agree.

We would like to emphasize that these comments were NOT solicited by either the local hospital administration or anyone on its medical staff. We believe the Iowa Hospital association is conducting a below-the-belt campaign that is highly inappropriate to the principles at stake. Totalitarian propaganda machines have used the same method of screaming half-truths. They're a poor example to copy!

COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK REPRESENTS A TEST WE MUST NEVER FAIL TO MEET

Next week is Community Chest Week in Belmond. It is to be expected that the people of Belmond will respond to the appeals of the canvassers in the same generous manner that has made each Chest drive successful since the organization was formed here in 1951.

The Community Chest has always struck us as a particularly typical American institution. In a day when large segments of the public are deluding themselves with the belief that "government aid" is converted from thin air into cash by a fairy wand, the Chest stands as a vestige of the rugged individualism that made American what it is.

Every year, many millions of dollars are freely given by the American public to foster youth organizations, to finance vital medical research on a private basis, to help the unfortunate and needy. We give to the Community Chest with a generosity and we'll-do-it-ourselves purposefulness that refutes the charge that we're losing the independence to stand our own feet.

So long as Community Chest drives continue to "go over the top," we'll believe that the strong fabric from which the American character was cut is still intact, even if a bit baggy at the knees and in need of an occasional press job. But if the day ever comes that we've so abandoned our personal responsibilities that an appeal like that of the Community Chest doesn't makes us respond like Americans, we'll concede there's a "rip in the seat" that's beyond mending.

Times Have Changed

ITEMS FROM THE FILES OF YESTERYEAR

TEN YEARS AGO—

Rev. Leslie J. Tuck, who comes to Belmond from Avon, Ill., on Wednesday of this week took up his duties here as pastor of Sands Memorial church.

—1946—

Henry H. Larsen sailed Oct. 1 from Newport News, Va., for Poland aboard the SS Mexican. He is one of 5,000 "nautical cowboys" recruited by the government to care for 200,000 head of farm animals being shipped abroad this year. He will visit in Denmark before returning to the States after the first of the year.

—1946—

Wright County Farm Bureau will elect officers for the coming year at a meeting to be held Tuesday at the Clarion IOOF hall. Present officers are: Laurence Woodley, president; Charlie Trask, treasurer; Maurice Mechem, secretary; and William McCormick, voting delegate.

—1946—

—1946—

Lorraine Wessels and Gwen Bohning left this week for Mason City, where both of them obtained jobs. Lorraine will work at the Green Lantern cafe and Gwen at Vance Music company.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

J. E. Arends of Toledo, Ia., a graduate of Drake university law school, will open a law office in Belmond on Nov. 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arends of Alexander.

—1936—

—1936—

The football game scheduled with Webster City for Friday night has been cancelled by mutual agreement. The extra week before the Garner game will be welcomed by Coach Rigby and the team, as the injured players will more likely be able to compete against Garner.

—1936—

Walter Sharp, local day marshal and street commissioner, has tendered his resignation to the city council in order that he can resume work as fireman for the CGW. At their meeting Monday night, the councilmen appointed Ben Smith as street commissioner and Charlie Johnson as day marshal.

—1936—

Outbreaks of hog cholera have been reported in the vicinity of Belmond. Dr. H. A. Seidell, state veterinarian, has warned farmers of this area to take immediate steps to protect their hogs against the disease.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Lester Herman Johnson, son of Mrs. Lena Johnson of Route 2, recently won an Expert Rifleman rating in Marine Corps target practice. In recent weeks he has been s[illegible] aboard the USS California.

—1926—

Friend Bras, who is now located in Des Moines and engaged in insurance work, last week came up for a week's visit with relatives here.

—1926—

A one-act play was the major feature of this week's program of the high school literary society. Mildred Jacobson and Jessie Wallace certainly made realistic inmates of an old ladies home. Their costumes alone were worth the price of admission.

—1926—

The Baker Dairy has purchased the dairy business of James Kurtz and has combined the two routes. The Baker Dairy now has one of the largest milk routes ever established in Belmond, about 50 cows being required to furnish the milk.

—1926—

—1926—

The World Series now being over, to the satisfaction of a large majority of the Belmond fans, attention can now be turned to other lines. The St. Louis Cardinals won by whipping the New York Yankees 3 to 2 in a sensational finish.

FORTY YEARS AGO—

The ever increasing demand for living accommodations which has not, up to this time, been supplied in Belmond is a good indication that our city is on the growing list and will continue to grow for years to come. It also brings forcibly to mind the fact that a modern apartment house has almost become a necessity.

—1916—

Val Griesy & Son are showing the new Overland touring car, a beautifully finished and luxurious car with 4-inch tires and six-cylinder motor that sells for $795, FOB Detroit.

—1916—

—1916—

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gaskill and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Oelke had a mishap last Sunday as they were returning to Corwith after having dinner in the Dr. H. L. Gowdy home. Mr. Gaskill's car collided with a bull head-on. The car lights were burning brightly, but as the bull carried no headlight he was not seen in time to prevent a collision.

It is reported that the Crist-Martin-Rosecrans party en route to Illinois had only four blow-outs between this place and Ackley, where they spent the first night. A lot of Belmond people owning cars with defective tires will be anxious to loan their cars to Uncle Heine, for he would doubtless return them with a brand new set of tires.

FUTURE OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY?

Contributed by Mrs. Ronald W. Courson,
Democratic Vice Chairman,
Wright County

The Democratic Party of imagination, and 20 years ahead of its time, is now being forced to play a most frustrating role. Some of its most cherished and Christian principles are now being smoothly incorporated and quietly usurped into the Republican Party, for which I am grateful. It is like unto a father who instilled altruism and a world consciousness into a rebellious son, who when grown to manhood, denounced his father as radical, while claiming sole credit for the NEW ideas that the father had been striving for 20 years to give him.

Roosevelt, with all his weaknesses, which the opposition has somewhat exaggerated, has already been recognized by historians as the Father of a NEW ERA, whether we like the new era or not. It is an era of an active conscience for our fellow men, a diminishing of isolationism, and discovering we have brothers on the other side of the Atlantic and the Pacific. Since 1932, if one segment of our people is suffering, we individually and collectively, as a government have wished to alleviate their distress.

We now believe Jesus, when he said "If thy brother hath need of thy coat, give him thy cloak also." Call it Socialism, if you wish, but the Republican Party is now an active part of so-called "creeping Socialism".

For those who are terrorized by the word "Socialism", may I quote from the World Book Encyclopedia: "Socialism is a much abused word. It does not mean equal income for everyone, but it does imply more equality in income than is now common. It does not mean common ownership of personal belongings, such as toothbrushes, or shoes; nor does it mean political dictatorship."

Democrats must not be cynical that the Republican Platform now includes INCREASED Social Security, FEDERAL aid to housing, FEDERAL aid to schools, FEDERAL aid to roads, and FEDERAL aid to under developed countries, or that the Republican Platform is now almost identical with the Democratic Platform of 1936.

For the harmony of our country, we, as Democrats and Republicans, must not in small egotism quarrel, claiming that this idea, or that program is ours alone; but, in humility, thank God of All and be grateful that His Kingdom is creeping slowly upon the whole world.

It matters not which party gets the credit, for we are all one in His sight. In God's Kingdom, He will not ask you if you are a Republican or a Democrat, but "Do you love your brother?" He may even ask, "What have you done for your brother?"

VOL. 37 NO. 3 | OFFICIAL CITY PAPER | BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, OCT. 25, 1956 | OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER | THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Iowans, in general, took interest and pride in the selection last weekend of Jean Seberg, Marshalltown, for the title role in Producer Otto Preminger's filming of George Bernard Shaw's play, "Saint Joan." But far more EXCITED than most was Clarence Kirkendall, local insurance man, who is a full cousin of Jean's mother. The Kirkendalls have visited in the Seberg home many times; and they were there about a month ago when a call came from Hollywood informing Jean she'd been picked among the final candidates for the role and was asked to appear in New York City to audition before Mr. Preminger, himself.

Always a sweet and affectionate girl, Clarence says that Jean always had a kiss for his cheek when the Kirkendalls were leaving the Seberg home for the return trip to Belmond. Clarence admits he never dreamed that a movie-star-to-be was bestowing those kisses.

Jean's application for the part was originally submitted by her high school dramatics instructor, without the youngster's knowledge. It was one of some 18,000 that were received. From this group 1,200 girls were called to Chicago last month to try out in person. Her selection from a final field of three was announced over Ed Sullivan's TV show Sunday night. Clarence immediately phoned his aunt — Jean's grandmother, who lives with the Seberg's — to tell her of his happiness over Jean's good fortune. The young actress's parents were in New York with her. Clarence says Jean will have a starting salary of $250 per week — with much more in prospect.

Arguments are reportedly rampant in some circles these days as to how a ballot may be correctly marked. There seems to be no question over the propriety of simply X-ing the circle at the top of a party column to vote a straight ticket. And it's agreed that voting across party lines can be accomplished by putting an X before the name of the favored candidate for each office. But there's a third alternative, and it's the one that causes all the debates.

It IS permissable to mark a party circle and then drop over to any other column and scratch the individual square of any particular candidate or candidates preferred from ANOTHER party.

This effects a vote for every candidate on the marked party ticket EXCEPT where an individual X has been scratched in for an opponent. Uncertainty about marking a ballot in this manner is the reason candidates for major office always pull more votes than lesser candidates. Too many scratch voters START marking individual squares, then "tire out" before reaching the bottom of the ballot. Marking a circle—AND squares in another column—does NOT spoil a ballot.

A customer asked Don Nolan the other day, in way of seeking a recommendation, what brand of vitamins he and his family take. Don grinned and admitted "Those that don't sell."

Now, we think Don's defeatist attitude in this matter is all wrong. The bloom of health and beauty on the cheeks of the ladies in his household should be testimony enough to unload those poor sellers. We suggest he simply make up a display of the pills with a sign stating, "The Nolans take THESE."

Of course, a stunt like this could backfire. Don might end up with 50 losers on the shelf and the Nolans would all turn pale and wan from having to go without vitamins, entirely.

One result of the intensive, national campaign of the Freedoms Foundation to get out the vote in the up-coming election has been to disturb quite a number of rural voters on the proposition of registering. Having been urged so repeatedly via TV and radio, "DON'T FAIL TO REGISTER," some folks hereabouts have become worried that perhaps they've jeopardized THEIR franchise because THEY haven't registered.

Actually, this is a qualifying step that need be taken only in cities of such size that election boards are likely to be confronted with many people asking for ballots who are complete strangers to poll judges and clerks.

Out here in "the sticks," registration is not required. We can vouch that in Belmond, the eagle-eyed election boards are well qualified to prevent individuals from voting in their precinct who don't live there. Gathering election data, Ye Ed has more than once volunteered to cast ballots in "foreign" wards — with the altruistic purpose of helping them pad slim totals. It's never worked yet!

"Coffee" Planned For J. I. Dolliver

Congressman James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge plans to be in Clarion on Wednesday of next week and a "coffee" is to be held for him by the Republican Women's club of the county seat.

Mr. Dolliver will be happy to meet as many of his constituents as possible at that time. The courtesy planned for him will be at the [illegible] Legion hall at 10:00 a.m. Sponsors of the "coffee" emphasize that this is not intended as exclusively a women's gathering. Men will be most welcome to come and greet Mr. Dolliver, also.

IEL&P'S MOBILE SUBSTATION "IN THE HARNESS"

IEL&P MOBILE SUBSTATION KEEPS JUICE FLOWING DURING SHUTDOWN

Things were kept humming — electrically — in Belmond last Wednesday and Thursday although the local substation of the Iowa Electric Light and Power company was temporarily out of commission while changes in the transformers were being made to increase its capacity.

A 5,000-kilowatt mobile substation that IEL&P purchased in February of this year at a cost of $75,000 "pinch hit" for the local station while the work was being done on it.

Had it not been for this traveling unit, Manager Cecil Carstens says that power would have had to be shut down at Coulter, at Alexander, Swaledale, Thornton and Meservey, while work at the substation was in progress.

This mobile substation stands ready to supply power to any IEL&P district when a substation is temporarily out of order due to damage or changes in equipment. It is headquartered at Cedar Rapids when not in use; but it has been in use almost constantly since the utilities company acquired it.

Work here involved increasing the capacity of the substation's transformers from 600 to 1,000 kilovolt amperes. Mr. Carstens says customers don't need to bother their heads about what a KVA is, except that the station will now be prepared to serve dependably the steadily increasing demand for power in Belmond.

He says that the local substation had for some time been required to operate at peak capacity to satisfy the power demand. Now, it's fixed up for a good while into the future. From here, the mobile unit was going to Rowan, where similar work to increase substation capacity was slated.

Although a very sizeable piece of equipment, the portable unit is hauled from place to place by a truck-tractor such as pulls a large "semi." It has no regular tractor; instead, one is rented in the district in which the mobile substation happens to be operating.

It is so powerful that it provided power and light for all of "Conservation City," when the national plowing matches took place.

$50 Went To Meservey

Mrs. Henry Boelman of Meservey found a trip to Belmond worth just exactly $50 Tuesday afternoon. That was her reward for being on hand with one of the five Cash Gift Day numbers posted at 3:00 o'clock. None of the four $25 numbers that were posted at 2:00 p. m. were presented. The C&D committee is pouring another $50 into the pot for next week to keep the total at $350. Once again there will be four chances at a $25 prize at 2:00 o'clock and five chances to pick up $50 at 3:00 p. m.

Smith to Union's National Parley

Luverne Smith is to leave for Seattle, Wash., tomorrow to represent the General Mills Local No. 25, American Federation of Grain Millers, at the union's 5th Constitutional Convention that is being held at Seattle next week.

This is the second time Mr. Smith has been chosen as the Belmond local's delegate to a Grain Millers convention. They are held every two years, and he represented the GMI union at Chicago in 1954. He expects to be back in Belmond a week from Saturday.

EAGLE GROVE MAN GUILTY ON DELINQUENCY CHARGE

Last Thursday in Wright county district court at Clarion, Gary Lee Miller of Eagle Grove pleaded guilty before Judge J. M. Schaupp on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. An Eagle Grove High school girl was involved in the charges.

Judge Schaupp sentenced the defendant to serve a 30-day county jail sentence and pay a fine of $100. Additional jail time of one day for each $5 of fine was to be served if the fine were not paid. At midweek it appeared Miller intended to "lay out" the additional 20 days in jail.

TWO LIVES WERE LOST and four other persons were critically injured in these two, demolished automobiles. Shown above is the Gerald Draper car, in which Mr. Draper's youngest son and daughter—Timothy Raymond and Nancy Ann—were fatally injured, and his wife and six-year-old daughter Kathleen were badly hurt. Below is the Harlan Jotten car, in which the Clarion farmer's wife and five-month-old granddaughter, Rebecca Lester, sustained multiple injuries as the two vehicles collided on a rural intersection northwest of Belmond.

Draper Children's Lives Taken; Four Others Badly Hurt

Wright county's 1956 traffic toll mounted to a tragic, 10-month total of 17 last Thursday afternoon as two little tots lost their lives in a collision at a rural intersection two miles north and two west of Belmond. Killed were two children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Draper — Timothy Raymond, age one, and Nancy Ann, four years old.

A broken neck brought instantaneous death to the little boy, who loved to stand on the front seat beside his mother when they went riding. A similar injury, a dislocation fracture of the neck just below the skull, caused his sister's death at 12:10 a. m. Friday — some seven hours after she had been brought to Belmond Community hospital.

BULLETIN

The Independent was informed at press time Wednesday that the condition of three of the survivors of last Thursday's auto collision northwest of town continues "critical." In this category are Mrs. Gerald Draper and her daughter, Kathleen, and Mrs. Harlan Jotten. The report from Belmond Comunity hospital stated that the condition of Mrs. Jotten's granddaughter, Rebecca Lester, who for a time was also on the critical list, at midweek was regarded as "improving."

All Survivors Badly Hurt

All of the other four occupants of the two cars involved in the accident were also hospitalized here in conditions ranging from serious to critical.

It was apparently some time between 4:15 and 4:30 p. m. that the accident took place at the intersection that is familiarly known as "Christie corner," just south of the Ralph Christie farm. Mrs. Draper, 29, was driving north, accompanied by Timothy, Nancy Ann and another daughter, Kathleen, age six.

Approaching the intersection from the east was Mrs. Harlan Jotten, 50, a Clarion farmwife. With her was her five-month-old granddaughter, Rebecca Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lester of Goldfield.

Cause of Crash Unkown

What was responsible for the collision, the investigating patrolmen and Sheriff Bob Blecker were unable to say. Land adjacent to the corner is level and no crops obscured vision to any degree. The two cars crashed almost exactly at the center of the intersection and then veered toward the northwest corner.

The Jotten car remained upright and came to a stop in the west ditch adjoining the north-south road. The Draper car careened into a telephone pole at the corner as it rolled over and ended up on its top crosswise of the north ditch beside the east-west road.

Two Have Fractured Skulls

All of the survivors of the crash suffered major injuries. Mrs. Jotten sustained a fractured skull, multiple rib fractures on her left side and a fracture of the right collarbone. Little Kathleen Draper was severely lacerated about the face and scalp, suffered a brain concussion and her right hip was broken.

Mrs. Draper was extensively cut and bruised on her right knee and was also lacerated on the neck. In addition, she suffered internal injuries. Tiny Rebecca Lester came out of the mishap with a fractured skull and a fracture of the lower, left leg.

Funeral Held Sunday

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday at Trinity Lutheran church after brief rites held earlier at Fulton Funeral Home. Rev. O. M. Severseike conducted the services. Young people who served as pallbearers were Craig Watne, Danny and Bobby Nelson, Georgie Riekens, Ted Watne, Joey Brady, Roger Story and Gary Draper. Burial was made at the Belmond cemetery.

Nancy Ann Draper was born April 2, 1953, and was baptized in the Lutheran faith on Feb. 20, 1955. Timothy Raymond Draper was born Aug. 28, 1955, and was baptized Dec. 7, 1955.

Surviving the two children, in addition to their parents and the sister who was also injured in the accident, are an older brother and two older sisters, Larry, Linda and Judith.

OUT-OF-TOWNERS GIVING, TOO—

Walrod Fund Up to $534

Last Friday morning little Marietta Schaal, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schaal, told her mother that she and two playmates were going out to see if they could raise some money for the Lions club's "Ricky Walrod Fund."

Not wishing to discourage so thoughtful an impulse, Mrs. Schaal a bit reluctantly OK'ed the project. Marietta and her young brother Lewy, along with five-year-old Patty Brady, daughter of erstwhile Belmondites Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady, now of Des Moines, set forth on their mission.

Before noon they were back at the Schaal home, their eyes open wide in surprise. Gasped the ringleader, "Why, Mommie, they've been giving us DOLLARS!"

That's the manner of response that has prevailed ever since announcement was made in last week's Indpendent of the plight of Ricky Walrod, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walrod. It touched the community deeply. It brought forth a determination that Ricky's father shall not want for the funds necessary to make the lad's last months, weeks or days — as the fates shall decree — as comfortable as the best of medical care and hospital attention can make possible.

The tragedy of a young life raveling out in such untimely fashion due to deadly leukemia has made a host of fellow townspeople friends, indeed, of their unfortunate friends in need — the Walrods. Not too surprisingly, responses have come from neighboring communities, as well as Belmond. Gifts had been sent in from Goodell, Alexander, Clarion, Meservey, Latimer and Humboldt, too.

It was surprising, though, that the 44 donations received before the end of the week averaged more than six dollars apiece. In this regard, Lions President Len Collier was quick to emphasize, "This generosity has been most gratifying to the Lions, as sponsors of the 'Ricky Walrod Fund.' However we wish to emphasize that well-wishers who can't afford contributions in $5 and $10 amounts should not hesitate to share in this neighborly undertaking for that reason. All gifts, regardless of size, will be most gratefully accepted."

With the $100 send-off the fund was given by the initial cash contribution from the Lions club, the total amount received as of Wednesday noon was $534.30. That included $5.30 brought in by the trio of sympathetic, young canvassers who'd made the rounds of the Schaal neighborhood. Donations made by individuals, business places and organization were listed at press time as follows:

Difficulty Found In Drawing Jury

Minnie Pals of Belmond Route 1 was one of 12 jurors impanelled Monday to hear a case against Donald M. Caquelin of Woolstock on a charge of rape. It took most of the day for the lawyers in the case to agree upon personnel of the jury and the actual hearing did not get underway until 3:30 p. m.

Other persons selected on the jury were: Frances Martinson, Novaleen Jenkins and R. B. Wilson of Clarion; Katherine Keppers, Lenore Diggins, Louise Erlander and Rachel Cole of Eagle Grove; Elsie Clowes, Renwick; Viola Larson, Goldfield; Harry Studley and George Anderson, Dows.

As conduct of the hearing continued through Tuesday and Wednesday morning, it appeared that another day or two might be required before the case would go to the jury. The charge against Caquelin grew out a statement given to Sheriff Bob Blecker by a 16-year-old Woolstock girl. She was a principal in several other morals cases that have already been heard in the Wright district court and one or two others that are still pending.

Before Judge J. M. Schaupp opened the Caquelin case Monday morning, he heard Russell E. Pepper of Webster City on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Pepper pleaded guilty, was fined $300 and his driver's license was suspended for 60 days.

COME FOR FUNERAL

Mrs. Verdie Wilson of Concord, Calif., Roger Nelson of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Mrs. Elmer Allen of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived Saturday morning at the Marson Nelson home. They came especially for the funeral of Timothy Raymond and Nancy Ann Draper and because of the serious injuries suffered by Mrs. Gerald Draper and Kathleen in last Thursday's accident. Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Nelson are sister and brother of Marson Nelson and Mrs. Draper, and Mrs. Allen is a daughter of the Marson Nelsons.

Receipt of a $50 memorial gift from Mrs. E. J. Schneider of Goodell in the name of her late husband is reported by Belmond Community hospital.

ONE MAN DRAFTED

Danny Ray Schipull of Goldfield was inducted in the U. S. Army on Monday of this week to fill Wright county's draft-quota for the month of October.

CHURCH BAZAAR TONIGHT

Ruth and Mary Circles will hold a bazaar and serve lunch at the Methodist church this evening. The sale of articles will start at 7:00 o'clock.

Treats on Norums At Grand Opening

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Norum, present owners and proprietors of what used to be Mosiman's Texaco Service and Cafe, have announced they are holding open house at Norum Texaco Service and Cafe on Saturday of this week.

They invite the public to drop in and enjoy free doughnuts and coffee from 8:00 to 11:00 o'clock in the morning or between 1:00 and 5:00 p. m. There will be treats and free hats for the children, also.

On the basis of registration during the day, 10 door prizes are to be awarded. Mr. Norum says the drawing for prizes will be held at 8:00 p.m.; presence unnecessary.

WHAT A HOMECOMING THAT WAS!—

Broncs Ate Indians Alive; 2,500 'Cakes Consumed

What with the hungry public consuming more than 2,500 pancakes during the afternoon — and then the Broncos eating Forest City alive in the evening—last Friday's BHS Homecoming celebration was a very satisfying proposition from start to finish.

Festivities were launched by the Homecoming parade. The fine array of floats was judged by Marvis Tideback, Rev. M. L. Jones and Russell Dougherty, who were in most unanimous agreement that the general excellence of the entries made selection of just three prize-winners most difficult.

They finally ended up with four money-winners, being unable to make a choice for third place and declaring a tie. First prize of $10 went to the senior class float, which depicted by means of a giant spray gun and three tiny, costumed "insects" the declaration, "We'll Knock 'em Off Like Flies."

The freshmen's second-place float used the slogan, "It's in the Cards to Win." It presented a couple of brawny Broncos and a couple of under-sized Indians seated at a card table, at which the Redmen were clearly having their troubles. This prettily decorated float earned $5.

Third prize of $3 was shared by the eighth grade and the joint entry of the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of Ameriea. In cartoon style, the junior high class illustrated their slogan, "We Smell Defeat of the Indians," with a pair of naked feet faced by a finger-clasped nose. A giant Aryle sock of conventional paper-napkins construction illustrated the FFA-FHA accurate claim, "Argyles'll Beat 'em."

After a pep session at the First State bank corner, the parade passed on its way (unfortunately, by an unannounced route that deprived some waiting spectators from the opportunity of seeing the floats), Aunt Jemima and members of the Retail Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce began dealing out pancakes over the counter erected on Main street.

Volunteer help was provided by four of Belmond's clergymen—the Reverends M. L. Jones, William Schorman, William Heinzig and Ralph Meyer. Practically all hands were kept busy until well into suppertime, baking the cakes and serving the hungry public.

Dave Kennedy, who was in general charge of the promotion, reports that more than 1,250 plates of hotcakes were served—each containing two or more of Aunt Jemima's specialties. While only 10 gallons of coffee were served, the kids had a field day drinking the free milk provided by Belmond Co-op Creamery and had guzzled some 480 half-pints before the demand and supply fortunately ran out more or less simultaneously.

The creamery also donated 30 pounds of butter to add to the deliciousness of the cakes and 35 gallons of bulk milk for the 'makin's"; Staley's provided 48 quarts of syrup; the C-of-C, itself, kicked in with a case of eggs for the batter; and lumber for the generous expanse of counter space was loaned without cost by Fullerton Lumber company.

When game time arrived, the Broncos laid the scene expertly for the gala halftime ceremonies by cheering the crowd with a 20-0 lead over the visiting Forest City gridders. A full account of the game appears on the sports page.

A circuit of the playing field was made by the school floats and then the Homecoming Queen candidates mounted the rostrum. Dave Long, president of the Student Council, divulged that the senior class nominee, Phyllis Soma, had been chosen by the Belmond gridders to reign over the Homecoming proceedings. The other three candidates were: Eloise Soma, the Queen's sister, freshman; Judy Larson, sophomore; and Sharon Eide, junior.

Her Highness's crown was placed upon her head by Steve McLaughlin and she was presented with a royal bouquet of roses by Merrill Jenison, the two Bronco gridders drawing this duty by virtue of being team captains for the game. Fitting music was provided by the BHS marching band under the direction of John Duncan.

BELMOND GIRLS "CAPPED"

Mr. and Mrs. John Henn and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Didio attended the "capping" of their daughters, Marcia Henn and Sandra Didio, last Friday afternoon at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Sioux City. The girls returned home with their parents to spend the weekend.

Pvt. Roger Lathrop phoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hartie Lathrop, on Tuesday of last week from Fort Dix, N. J., to tell them that he was to embark for Germany on the following day.

PTA of Ramsay To Meet Monday

First unit meeting of the current school year will be held by the Ramsay School Parent-Teachers association at 2:00 p. m. next Monday at the high school auditorium. The program will consist of a panel discussion on the topic, "Parent-Teacher Conferences."

Three teachers and four mothers will comprise the panel. The teachers will be Mary Formanek, Lorraine Seim and Helen Haupt, elementary instructors. Representing the parents will be Mrs. Pat Gallagher, Mrs. R. B. Thompson, Mrs. Gene Griffin and Mrs. Robert Misner.

This is the second year that a trial has been made in holding parent-teacher conferences in the lower grades at the end of two quarters of the school year, in lieu of report cards. The customary cards are issued at the end of the second and fourth quarters, but are supplanted by conferences at the end of the first and third.

Last year the experiment was introduced in kindergarten and first grade. This year, second grade was added. It is the theory, says Supt. Don Faris, that the parents can gain a better understanding of the manner in which ther children in the lower grades are progressing if conferences are alternated with the issuance of report cards.

Belmond Has Four At Library Parley

Librarian Faye Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schaal and Matilda Skovlin last Thursday and Friday attended the annual meeting of the Iowa Library association at Des Moines. Both Miss Skovlin and Mr. Schaal are members of the local library board and the latter is chairman of the Iowa State Traveling Library board.

Theme of convention was, "Library Service for All Iowa." The delegation reports that a fine program was presented, featuring some exceptionally excellent speakers. Among the headliners was Paul Engle, noted Iowa poet.

On Thursday, Gov. Leo Hoegh and the traveling library board gave a reception for the new director of the Iowa State Traveling Library, Ernestine Grafton. Mr. and Mrs. Schaal stood in the receiving line.

Mrs. Colby says she repeatedly heard expressions of praise for the fine job Mr. Schaal is doing as chairman of the traveling library board.

WHO'S WHO IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD—

In Goodell 2 Years -- and Emmett's Mayor!

One of neighboring Goodell's newest residents is Emmett King, supervisor of the state police radio station on Highway 69. Mr. King has lived at Goodell just two years. How thoroughly he and his family have become attached to the little community, and how completely it has accepted them, can be appreciated from the fact that since Aug. 1 Mr. King has been Goodell's mayor.

His predecessor, J. J. Cook, suffered a heart attack in July and was obliged to resign the office due to his health. Goodell is no different from most small towns in that the mayorship is a job most of the businessmen hesitate to accept. None of the council members would accept an appointment to fill the vacancy. It was the consensus of opinion that there was just one man ideally fitted to fill the position. Emmett accepted.

Like Small-Town Life

Mr. King and his family like small-town life. He's a native of Pierson (population 453) and his wife comes from Washta (403), just a few miles away. They were married on Sept. 12, 1946, and now have a family of two daughters and a son — Marilyn Jean, who'll be nine next Sunday; Steven, age seven; and Kathryn Joann, who's five years old.

Emmett worked as a farmhand for a couple of years after his graduation from Correctionville High school in 1939 and was then manager of a branch hatchery at Anthon for about the same length of time before enlisting in the U. S. Navy in September of 1942.

It was in the service that he became interested in electronics. As an Aviation Radioman he became a communications specialist and was assigned to the Naval Air corps.

Saw 22 Months' Foreign Duty

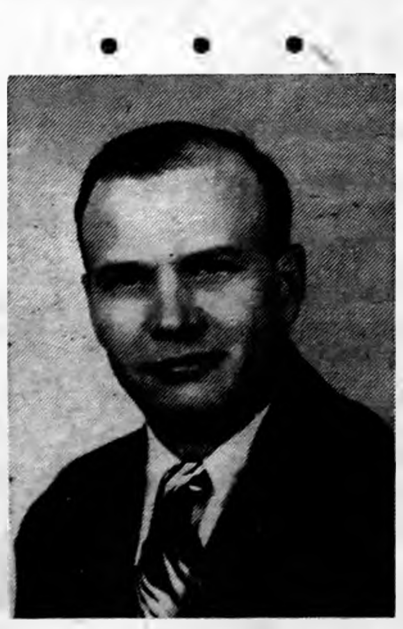
He was assigned overseas in May of 1943 and saw about 22 months of foreign duty. He followed the progress of Allied advance across the Pacific, first being based an Noumea, New Caledonia. Later he jumped to Esprito Santos, in the New Hebrides and from there made stays that ranged from stopovers to duty of several weeks or months at Guadalcanal, Munda, Finchhaven, Hollandia, Owi and Morati.

His duty ran all the way from a brief spell as mess cook aboard a minesweeper that had been drafted for convoy duty to a couple of tours of duty with patrol bombers. Mainly, though, he was engaged in radio repair and maintenance and by the time he returned to this country on Feb. 21, 1945, he held the rating of Aviation Radioman 2/c.

Attended Radio School

He was discharged from the service at Jacksonville, Fla., on Sept. 26, 1945, and returned for a season to his old occupation of farming. By then he had decided that his future lay in the radio game, and he enrolled for a nine-month course at Omaha's Electronic Radio and Television Institute.

While waiting for an opening in his chosen field, Emmett worked a few months at Spencer in a machine and welding shop, an experience that gave him a lot of handyman knowledge which he says has repeatedly been valuable since then. In November of 1947 he was given an operator's job at the state police radio station at Storm Lake. Since his supervisor was absent from the job quite frequently at Storm Lake, Emmett had a good deal of opportunity to act as head man at the station and was well prepared to accept the position of supervisor at the Belmond station when it went into operation in the fall of '54.



EMMETT KING
Rose to Mayor—Pronto

His station handles communications involving all types of crime — by no means just traffic violations. Any and all kinds of messages involved with law enforcement and the public safety are channeled through the police radio network. The Belmond station, in addition to handling state messages, serves as relay point for all police radio communications in and out of Minnesota.

Tragedy—and Comedy, Too

With lives being so freely harvested on the highways, his job often is tinted with tragedy. Emmett says this has made a cautious driver of him and that he is always concientious in his personal observance of traffic laws. He knows too well what the price can be of ignoring regulations made to enhance personal safety on the public highways.

On the other hand, comedy is not infrequently introduced as the radio operators pursue their jobs. Emmett recalls with amusement an incident that occurred before his transfer from Storm Lake. Some Texas desperados, who'd committed several murders with a submachine gun, were thought to be headed north and in the station's area. All patrolmen had been alerted to be on the lookout, and radio reports had also informed the general public to keep watch for the criminals.

"Fugitives" Spotted

Then a man excitedly informed the law that he'd passed a car as an individual in the front seat was in the act of handing a machine gun to a companion in the rear. At once a dragnet was set up, involving about six or eight patrolmen and as many sheriffs and deputies, and the search was on.

Soon afterward a patrolman reported he had the suspected car under surveillance, but he was told not to tackle the fugitives alone. He kept the car in view as the net tightened, and when it fled from the highway onto a gravel road the trap was about ready to be sprung. Moments before his fellow officers were due to converge with him on the pursued auto, it pulled into a rural school yard.

Its three occupants disembarked in business like fashion, they placed a ladder against the side of the schoolhouse, climbed it — and proceeded to make repairs on the roof. One of them was "armed" with the "sub-machine gun" — which in actuality turned out to be a saw.

Red Mercury Meant Trouble

Emmett also recalls the time a Marine committed several murders in the Dubuque area, riding in a red Mercury convertible he'd stolen from another victim whom he'd killed in Ohio. With police communication as effective as it is today, he says that life simply wasn't worth living for the owner of a red Mercury convertible until the murderer was apprehended.

Mayor King has formed a genuine affection for Goodell, likes his regular job fine, and foresees that his municipal office will prove an interesting one. He sincerely hopes, anyway, that the latter will prove true. He realizes there isn't much competition for small-town mayorships; and he has a suspicion that he might be mayor of Goodell for some time to come.

Louie and George Issue Invitation To Try New Ford

Louie Tokman and George Heginger are proudly inviting their friends to drop in at Belmond Auto company to test drive the new 1957 Ford, which this week was announced to have a corner on virtually all the speed and endurance records that a stock car can hold.

These records were set in September at the Bonneville, Utah, Salt Flats, where a team of eight professional race drivers took turns at keeping a new Ford humming for 20 consecutive days.

Over that span of time, Mr. Tokman reports, the '57 Ford maintained an average of 108 mph while covering a distance of more than 50,000 miles. It ended up with a total of 458 new national and international stock car records.

Pit time and time needed to change drivers was counted as the new Ford knocked off all existing records up to 24 hours by averaging 120 mph the first day of its test.

Mr. Tokman calls attention to an explanation of Crew Chief Danny Eames regarding the purpose of the rugged, Bonneville trials: "This kind of test is designed strictly to improve the breed of cars — to test their durability. We're not after more speed; we certainly don't want people to go this fast, unless they're racing drivers and performing on a race track.

"The big thing in this sort of test is to torture the engine, the chassis, the body and all the thousands of parts with high speeds for tremendous distances. We have an all-new car and we wanted to prove to ourselves, as well as the American people, just what we had."

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

We step aside this week and give place to an unknown Japanese who managed to give a safety message more charm—if less grammar—than any we have ever read.

This is reprinted from Public Safety magazine and was taken from "an old Japanese digest of traffic laws and ordinances."

"At the rise of the hand of policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him.

"When a passenger of the foot hove in sight, tootle the horn trumpet to him melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with more vigor and express by word of mouth the warning 'Hi, Hi'!

"Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by, or stop at the roadside till he pass away.

"Give big space to the festive dog that make sport in the roadway. Avoid tanglement of the dog with your wheel-spokes. Go soothingly on the grease-mud, as there lurk the skid-demon.

"Press the brake of the foot as you roll around the corner to save the collapse and the tie-up."

Here the excerpt ends. Some of the advice is good and some of it impractical. We can't see, for example, pulling to the side of the road and waiting for a horse to die.

But we like this easy, poetic view of traffic and wish it were possible today. What a happy situation if all "tootles" were melodious; if we could all "go soothingly by."

FALL NITROGEN APPLICATIONS MAY GO ON FIELDS NOW, EXPERT SAYS

Fall applications of nitrogen for corn in 1957—in amounts that will be needed above that supplied in hill or row fertilizer—can be applied now, says J.A. Stritzel, Iowa State college agronomist.

Soil temperatures are usually down to around 50 degrees in central Iowa at this time, and will be decreasing.

Stritzel explains the importance of soil temperature this way: urea and ammonium forms of nitrogen applied in soils that are too warm are rapidly converted to the nitrate form. In nitrate form, nitrogen is subject to downward movement by water, and may be moved down out of the root zone.

Safe Temperatures

However, when soils have cooled to 50 dgerees or below, the rate of nitrogen conversion to the leachable nitrate form is relatively slow. So where soils have reached safe temperatures, urea and ammonium forms of nitrogen may be applied without much risk of leaching loss.

Nitrogen in the nitrate form, however, is not necessarily undesirable, adds Stritzel. Where soils are dry to a considerable depth, movement of nitrate nitrogen downward will be slow. The reason is that a relatively large amount of water will be needed to re-wet the dry soil.

Fall applications of nitrogen fertilizers have been found just as effective as spring applications, says the agronomist. He says this fact has been established in experiments over the last several years.

Recommends Ammonium Form

Although nitrate forms of nitrogen fertlizer may be applied in the fall under dry subsoil conditions with good results, Stritzel recommends using urea or ammonium forms of the fertilizer. The reason is that most of the nitrogen will remain in the ammonium form until spring—if applied after soil temperatures, have cooled. For that reason, a farmer has more insurance against possible leaching losses.

Nitrogen may be applied in the fall in dry, liquid or gas forms, says Stritzel. If dry forms are used, they may be broadcast on the surface and plowed under. And nopressure liquid nitrogen may be sprayed on the surface and then turned under.

Stritzel says anhydrous ammonia or nitrogen solutions which contain free nitrogen should be injected into the soil. He stresses that a good seal should be obtained during the application process.

Getting a good seal prevents escape of the free ammonia. Ammonia loss may be detected by its odor.

"PUBLIC OPINION" HAS MADE UN THE POWER IT'S BECOME IN JUST 11 YEARS

This is UN Week, marking the 11th anniversary of the establishment of the United Nations. It's a good time to think a bit on what the achievements of the United Nations have been in the 11 years of its existence.

Although the UN has its critics—and many of them are rabid critics— there are few thinking individuals who will deny that the United Nations is the greatest deterrent of war and the greatest force for permanent peace that the modern world has known.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says flatly, "I believe we would be in or committed to another war if it had not been for the United Nations."

It is significant that it is a GROWING force for peace and freedom. This year the UN admitted 16 new member nations. The force of opinion for which it provides a channel has brought freedom to 90 million people—without war. By practicing democracy, its very existence weakens dictatorship.

Because the United States contributes so generously to the UN's economic programs, superpatriots have been sharply critical of these undertakings. But these programs create much more wealth than they expend; and certainly we do better to invest these sums in underprivileged countries to constructive purpose than to belatedly cast them a financial life preserver in the way of relief funds if their lack of self-sufficiency produces distress we CANNOT ignore.

By constituting a perpetual conference in which grievances can be aired and judgment expressed, world opinion is brought to bear on creeping flames of contention and contain them before they break out into conflagrations of open war. Eleven times when war has threatened—in Iran, Kashmir, Indonesia and elsewhere—the peace has been kept through United Nations action.

But the power of the United Nations to perform its appointed duties will never be any stronger than the mandate given it by the peoples of the world. Individually we must give it our interest, our support and our blessing.

In this connection, we'd do well to contemplate these words of Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature: "No greater fallacy exists in the modern world than that the individual in a free society is helpless. Certainly the individual is NOT helpless. He can think, he can talk, he can write, he can associate, he can make his opinions known. . . . The question for him is not whether he possesses any power but how to use the power he possesses."

SINCE WHEN'S A MILLION DOLLAR BUDGET "SKIMPY" IN A RURAL COUNTY IN IOWA?

A neighboring paper, commenting on developments following on the heels of the recent Hancock county budget reduction, observed: "Just another instance that proves that any school district, municipality or county which wants something in the way of permanent construction can't do it on a skimpy budget."

Here's the situation that brought forth this dubious observation. Hancock county's supervisors proposed total budget expenditures for 1957 of $1,354,840 (to Wright's $920,104). This required tax askings of $739,190 (compared to the Wright budget's $474,000). In view of the fact that the corresponding expenditure proposal and tax requirements in Hancock's 1956 budget had been $1,126,706 and $656,206, a group of aroused taxpayers decided it was time to call a halt and protested the budget.

The end result was that $233,690 was pared from the tax askings for 1957—which still left the level of proposed expenditures up at $1,121,150 and tax askings at $505,500. Even after revision, the Hancock budget required $31,500 more in tax money than Wright's and the proposed expenditures remained $201,046 more than ours.

When farmers east of Klemme petitioned for black-topping of the road from that community to the Cerro Gordo county line, the Hancock engineer told them that deletion of $233,690 from the 1957 county road budget put this project out of the question. How completely accurate this reply might have been, we're not in a position to say.

We know that Hancock county has had to replace a large number of obsolete bridges and many undersized culverts and has done a good deal in the way of stabilizing road base preparatory to later black-topping.

But our neighbors to the north still have for 1957 road construction $212,000 from county funds and another $125,000 coming in farm-to-market funds—a total of $337,000. Wright is counting on $140,000 in farm-to-market allotment plus $165,000 from taxes—$305,000. Out of this amount, our supervisors are pledged to spend $285,000 on 12 miles of black-top.

There are some factors involved in comparison of the two counties' situations that we're not too well informed on. We do know that our county board, since THEIR budget estimate for 1952 was slashed like Hancock's was this year, have convinced themselves that road money can be stretched to cover a lot more ground by watching P's and Q's.

They've learned that a road budget of $475,000 definitely is not "skimpy" in terms of what it can accomplish. Our Wright county road operations are still a generous cut short of efficient; but they're vastly improved over what they were in the near past.

Maybe the Hancock supervisors were biting off more than they could reasonably expect to chew in a single year—hence deletion of the Klemme black-top. Or maybe their viewpoint as to what IS a "skimpy" budget has become distorted, as had become the case here in Wright a few years back.

We just hope that our Hancock neighbors won't be deluded with thinking such as that indulged in by our fellow scribe. The $505,500 STILL asked in taxes by the Hancock budget amounts to $33.53 for each man, woman and child in the county (Wright's per capita tax requirement comes to only $24.12). There's nothing "skimpy" about that. It's enough to produce significant accomplishment during 1957—road-wise as well as otherwise.

Bronco power that had been evident by fits and starts in earlier games meshed smoothly into gear in last Friday night's BHS Homecoming joust with Forest City, giving the Purple and White a solid, 20-7 victory over the Indians. It was Forest City's first defeat of the season and left the Indians needing wins over Northwood and Lake Mills to salvage a share in the North Iowa conference gridiron title.

Belmond's first-half predominance over the visitors was almost unbelievable. Forest City made a single first down (with the aid of a Bronco penalty) to the winners' seven; completed no passes and gained only 28 yards on rushing attempts. Belmond's defense dumped the Indians for 17 lost yards, giving the guests a net of 11 yards for the half.

First Half—209 Yards to 11

Meanwhile the Broncos were rolling up a total of 201 rushing, picked up another 11 on a pass and were thrown for a single, three-yard loss for a net of 209 yards prior to intermission. Forest City had the ball for only 18 plays to Belmond's 28, and simply couldn't move the pigskin when they did get possession.

The first time Belmond got the ball, it moved to the Indians' 29 by covering 38 yards in six plays; but the drive then bogged down and Forest City took over on downs. Forest City was promptly forced to punt and the ball sailed out of bounds on Belmond's 45. It took only seven plays to go the 55 yards to pay dirt, Tom McNulty going 37 yards on three carries and helping gain 11 more after taking a lateral following a Bill Murray to Rollie Jenison pass.

McNulty Scores Twice

This counter shortly preceded the quarter whistle. A 15-yard holding penalty derailed what looked like the start of another sustained drive early in the second period. After Jim Hanson ran a Murray punt from his own 28 to the 39, the Indians made their only 1st-and-10 of the half.

Elation of the FC followers was short-lived, though for the next three Indian plays produced a loss of 11 yards and on fourth down Hanson was unable to get a kick launched, Belmond taking possession on the Forest City 40. Murray accounted for 30 of those yards in two, consecutive bursts through the out-charged Indian line; McNulty cracked through center for the final four. Murray's conversion boot was wide, leaving the score 13-0.

Hardly a minute of time remained as Belmond's kickoff was downed on the visitors' 27. On the first Forest City play, Larry Schimp intercepted a pass by Terry Dunbar on the Bronco 43. Dave Long gained four yards, and as the final seconds ticked away Murray got away for a 53-yard touchdown run that provided the evening's top thrill. A key block by Long sprung Bill loose when it appeared he might be trapped after only a modest gain. Murray boosted the count to 20-0 with another good kick.

A Belmond fumble on the second scrimmage play of the last half gave Forest City the ball on the Broncos' 41. Hanson faked a fourth-down punt that failed to make necessary yardage on the 49, but the defensive achievement was lost on a Belmond offside. On the next down, a Dunbar to Tom Oswald pass went all the way to the Bronco nine. This FC threat folded when the Indians lost 15 yards for holding and Leonard Steenblock tossed Hanson for a nine-yard loss.

Broncos Held on Nine

With McMurray and McNulty carrying the freight, the Broncs marched 71 yards in eight plays to set up a 1st and goal on the Indians' nine. A fumble at that point, although recovered, seemed to upset Belmond's momentum and after two more plays went for naught a field goal try by Murray was blocked.

Taking the ball on Belmond's 18, Forest City on two long passes, a 15-yard Bronco penalty and two cracks at the line went 72 yeards to score its lone tally, Nilssen converted on a place kick to pull the Indians up to 20-7. After picking up one 1st-and-10 following the FC kickoff, the Broncos were unable to make ground and the Indians launched a final scoring try from their own 29 when Murray kicked out at that point.

The Belmond line, loosened up by Forest City's earlier passing display, gave up 23 yards on five running plays and then saw Jim Hanson get loose for his only major gain of the game. He fumbled after sprinting about 15 yards, but End Denny Hanson scooped up the bounding ball and went 11 more to the Bronco 18.

Indian Threat Stopped

An Indian pass good for nine was nullified by a backfield motion penalty and when the contest ended three plays later, the losers had been backed up to the 28.

Steve McLaughlin, Steenblock, Merrill Jenison and Jon Mehus were standouts in the stalwart Bronco line, which Friday night stamped itself as without peer in the North Iowa conference. But there wasn't a man in that forward wall that didn't deserve a full share of credit for the remarkable line play exhibited by the Purple and White.

Murray Averages 11 Yards

When it is noted that Murray averaged slightly over 11 yards per carry on 15 tries and McNulty averaged better than seven-per on 13 running efforts, the reason for Belmond's offensive display is clearly explained. Both boys were charging terrifically hard; but they benefited by terrific blocking, too. It may sound trite to say it was in the last analysis, though, a team victory — but that's what it was.

Forest City's vaunted break-away runners were well contained most of the evening. Nevertheless, Jim Hanson and Dunbar both played well. Tackles Ronnie Hanson and Chuck Levad, plus Jim Hanson as a line-backer, were the Indians' best on defense.

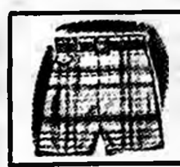
Lake Mills Holds Inside Track Now In NIC Title Race

Lake Mills took over exclusive possession of first place in the North Iowa conference football standings last weekend by lacing Britt 38-0 while Forest City was coming a-cropper at Belmond, 20-7. This state of affairs very much gives the Bulldogs an inside track to this year's NIC championship; but they'll still have to down Forest City in their final game of the season to gain exclusive claim to the title.

Who will be standing by to grab a share of the crown if Lake Mills falters will be decided tomorrow night when Northwood travels to Forest City for a key game with the Indians.

If a scheduling advantage lies with any one of the title contenders, it is certainly Lake Mills. The Bulldogs had easy pickings at Britt last Friday when the Eagles' star, Dave Rasmusson, was unable to play due to a sprained ankle. Hard luck has been dogging the chunky speedster all season, as he'd previously had only one game in uniform after a pre-season appendectomy.

This week, Lake Mills should again have things its own way when it entertains Garner. In contrast, Forest City figures to have a rugged go with Northwood even though the Vikings have been faltering in recent games. Since the Indians' wind-up battle with the Bulldogs will see Lake Mills playing at home — where those Bulldogs are always tough to handle— Forest City must unquestionably be cast in the underdog role in this crucial finale.



—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

In retrospect, Belmond football fans can regretfully see where the Broncos might very easily have been the North Iowa conference kingpins this year without too much change in the script that was followed. Ensuing games clearly established the fact that Northwood Vikings had no business winning from the over-anxious Broncs as they did. And certainly the decision at Lake Mills could have been reversed had the Purple and White made just one less mistake than they did. But that's spilled milk.

As matters stand, Belmond's NIC season is now completed and might-have-been's butter no bread. So we're going to end up right where we did a year ago in the final standings, in third place with that 4-2 mark; or possibly share the runner-up spot, if Forest City trips Northwood but loses to Lake Mills.

One thing is certain, though. This year's Belmond team stacks up as the best BHS has produced in quite a stretch of years. It has shown some decidedly outstanding defensive play; and that offensive average to date of three touchdowns per game is certainly a far cry from several seasons back when the Broncs could hardly buy a score. Since no rivalry with their new foes has been established, the Broncs will likely take the St. Edmond and Twin Rivers tilts pretty much in stride. . . . But there's Clarion yet!

The Cowboys have been enjoying only a so-so season in North Central conference competition, with a 2-3 mark through last week. But their losses were to Humboldt, Iowa Falls and Webster City. All are tough outfits, and Clarion pushed the latter two to the limit. The Broncos can still make the '56 season one of their best by up-ending Clarion!

This just MIGHT be the week that would see a North Iowa conference team among the top 10 in the Iowa Prep Football Poll of Class II aggregations. Lake Mills was No. 11 again last week. While the Bulldogs were racking up their 6th win for the season, 6th place Lake City was being tumbled by unranked Laurens, 13 to 10. Other teams in the top 10 came through with victories, except that 4th-place Sanborn bowed to 10th place Hartley, 14 to 6. That should help Hartley without dropping Sanborn too far down the line. Actually, we suspect that the Bulldogs would win their share of games if they had and opportunity to do battle with the teams that out-rate them.

Belmond's narrow defeat at the hands of Lake Mills helped the Broncos pull seven more votes in last week's poll than the week before, 34 compared to 26; and raised their place in the standings from a tie for 42nd place to a tie for 34th. Lake Mills' total was one vote higher, 75; but eight under 10th place Hartley. Northwood slipped below Belmond, on the Vikings' mediocre showing against Britt — from 30th down to a tie for 35th on a total of 33 votes.

Your scribe must confess that he was expecting Northwood and Forest City to develop more rapidly than Lake Mills as the season progressed — and several weeks ago predicted as much. But in view of recent play, it appears that Northwood was simply a bit over-rated at the season' start, and that Coach Milo Engstrom at Lake Mills has done a better job of bringing his team along than some of his fellow mentors. If any one thing accounts for the Bulldogs' success, more than another, we'd say it's the fact that they've played more nearly up to the top level of their ability — game after game — than any other team in the conference. . . . It's not how good you POTENTIALLY are, but how well you actually play that pays off!

BRONCOS MEET ST. EDMOND HERE FRIDAY, TWIN RIVERS WEDNESDAY

Belmond's Broncos will meet two entirely new gridiron foes this Friday and next Wednesday in teams representing St. Edmond High school of Fort Dodge and Twin Rivers Community school, in that order.

The latter is coached by George Tideback, former BHS football luminary. Twin Rivers is a consolidation of the former Livermore, Bode and Ottosen school districts.

Only one common foe has been faced by both St. Edmond and Belmond. The Fort Dodge eleven tangled with Forest City three weeks ago and came off with the short end of a 12-6 score.

In six games to date, St. Edmond has posted three victories. They had wins over Woodward (18-6), Emmetsburg Catholic (26-12) and Twin Rivers (26-0). Besides the loss to Forest City, the Catholic school has bowed to Dowling of Des Moines (38-13) and St. Mary's of Waterloo (21-14).

Tideback's team has found the going a bit rougher. Twin Rivers nosed out Dows, 19-18; and tripped Renwick, 12-0. Their four losses were to Humboldt (47-7), Ventura (13-6) and Gilmore City (20-0), along with the one to St. Edmond.

On the basis of the meeting between these two up-coming Bronco foes, it would appear that if Belmond can take the measure of St. Edmond, a victory over Twin Rivers should follow if the Purple and White warriors play up to par.

Coach Dick Hobbs' biggest concern in preparing for the St. Edmond tilt is whether he can get the Broncos "up" sufficiently after their stirring win over Forest City. He says that scouting reports credit the Fort Dodge team with being big—and plenty tough, despite their relatively mediocre record so far.

Game time for both the Friday and Wednesday frays will be the customary 8:00 p. m.

SHIRLEY PROEGER AND MARVIN PALS SPOKE VOWS OCTOBER 12TH

The Methodist church was decorated with baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and decorated candelabra for the candlelight wedding a week ago Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Shirley Proeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Proeger, and Marvin Pals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals, Jr. Rev. J. Heber Miller of Manchester officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ronald Courson provided the nuptial organ music and accompanied Mrs. Roger Johnson as she sang "Oh! Promise Me", "Because" and "Oh, Perfect Love." Carol Pals and Linda Bonte were the candlelighters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper satin gown styled with a fitted bodice of Chantilly - lace with insets of seed pearls and having an illusion neckline and long tapering sleeves. The skirt fell into a chapel-length train. Her finger-tip net veil was attached to a cap dotted with seed pearls. She carried a sheath bouquet of white spider mums.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. A. L. Conner of Rome, Ga., who wore a floor-length gown of bronze crystalette over satin and carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

The bridesmaids were Patricia Govern of Des Moines and Carol Carlson of Burt. They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of yellow crystalette over satin and carried colonial bouquets of bronze and yellows mums.

Barbara Proeger, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length yellow gown of brocaded taffeta with a yellow net headpiece and carried a cascade basket of yellow mums. Gregory Conner, nephew of the bride, acted as ringbearer wearing a white jacket and dark trousers with a yellow rosebud boutonniere.

Arnold Barkema, cousin of the groom, served as best man and the groomsmen were Johan and Alvin Pals, brothers of the groom. Ushers were Leonard Conner of Rome, Ga., and Virgil Munsel of Rockford.

Kathlyn Proeger, niece of the bride, and Beverly and Barbara Pals, nieces of the groom, received the gifts and Florence Nixt, Olive Meling and Bonnie Head, all of Mason City, opened the gifts. Mrs. Paul Dieger was in charge of the guest book.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore blue dresses with corsages of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Sema Helland as hostess. Mrs. Harold Nelson, assisted by Mrs. Frank Patterson, cut the four-tiered white wedding cake. It was decorated with yellow roses and, with bronze leaves, formed the centerpiece on the coffee table. Mrs. Alvin Pals poured.

The bride's table was decorated with a low bouquet of bronze and yellow mums as a centerpiece, and candles. The waitresses were Sondra Kamm, Mary Alice Studebaker and Meredith Jenison.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a white spider mum corsage. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pals are now at home on their farm a mile north of Belmond.

There were three pre-nuptial showers for the bride.

Three Hostesses Entertain At Dessert-Bridge Party

Sixteen tables of bridge were in play following a dessert luncheon at Clarmond Country club last Friday at which Mesdames A. P. Thompsen, George Keleher and L. B. Oberhauser were hostesses. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ellis Elliott for high score; Mrs Guy McClenahan second high; Mrs William Guthrie, travel; Mrs. Roger Johnson, door; Mrs. Ray Klemme, low.

Marlys Jean McLaughlin Honored On 10th Birthday

Mr and Mrs J T. McLaughlin were hosts at a birthday dinner on Wednesday evening of last week honoring their daughter Marlys Jean on her 10th birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs C. D. Lester, Leland and Edward and Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Lester and Janice, all of Clarion, and two of Marlys Jean's classmates, Kathy Soma and Carol Watkins, who also were overnight guests of the honoree. Marlys Jean received some lovely gifts.

Harold Simersons Observe 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simerson observed their 25th wedding anniversary a week ago Sunday with an open-house at their home. The 170 guests came from a number of towns in Iowa and some from other states.

The Simersons' two daughters, Sandra, who attends St. Olaf college at Northfield, Minn., and Sara, who is a junior in high school, planned the courtesy. Ellen Clark, who also attends St. Olaf and is a member of the choir there, sang several solos during the afternoon.

Taking turns pouring were Sandra and Sara and Mrs. Simerson's mother and aunt, Mrs. Henry Lien and Mrs. Kari Lucas, the latter of Kanawha. Mrs. Albert Hanson cut the wedding cake.

17th Birthday Party Honors Myrna Strait

About thirty-five young people were guests at a surprise party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pruisman Saturday evening honoring Myrna Strait on her 17th birthday. The honoree received many lovely gifts and lunch was served by the hostesses, Karen McMurray and Wilma Pruisman.

The secretaries of the office at General Mills, Inc., held a farewell supper-party Monday evening at the Blue Bell tearoom for Mrs. Richard Christensen. Those present were Mrs. Myron Trager, Mrs. Barbara Feller, Mrs. Pete Pals, Mrs. Arlotte Clark, Barbara Mariga and Mrs. Ray Pals. The honoree received personal gifts from the group.

Honor Choir Director

St. Olaf choir members and their guests were entertained in the Robert Erickson home Thursday evening. After the regular choir rehearsal a birthday lunch was served honoring the choir director, Mrs. Thomas Mathre.

Birthdays Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sturgeon and family of Dows, Mr and Mrs. Gaylen Johnson and family of Kanawha and Mrs Florence Sturgeon were Sunday dinner guests in the Duane Jenison home. Several birthdays were celebrated which occur in October. Gene Sturgeon and daughter Sandra, Mrs. Gaylen Johnson and son Anthony and Mrs. Duane Jenison.

Mrs. Mary Polmateer Honored At Surprise Birthday Parties

The 76th birthday of Mrs. Mary F Polmateer was honored Oct. 4 when relatives and friends presented her with gifts and cards. Then on Oct. 8 a group of ladies from the Missionary Society of the Baptist church came to her home with a gift and luncheon. They gave her words of cheer, Mrs. Orie Johnson of Goodell sang "God Will Take Care Of You" and after Scripture verses and prayer, the lunch was served.

Mrs. Polmateer will enter Good Samaritan Home at Mason City the 1st of November because of her poor health.

JAYCEES SPENDING NEARLY $300 ON KIDS' HALLOWEEN FUNFESTS

Nearly $300 will be spent by the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce in providing, for the second, consecutive year, Halloween entertainment or treats for all school children of the community. President "Bud" Barkema says that Halloween vandalism has really not been a problem in Belmond in recent years, so the parties are more in the manner of a reward than an effort to keep malicious mischief down to a minimum.

While no party is planned for kindergarteners and little tots in first and second grades, they will be remembered with Halloween treats during class time next Wednesday afternoon.

In order to avoid late hours for the children of 3rd through 6th grades, their party has been advanced one day because of the football game with Twin Rivers on Halloween Night. It will be held at the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening, starting at 7:00 p. m. There will be plenty of refreshments and prizes will be awarded for various games and contests.

As announced last week, festivities for the junior high and high school students will follow the football game. A hayride will precede the junior high party at the IOOF hall with hayracks at the athletic field to pick up these boys and girls immediately following the Twin Rivers tilt. At the Odd Fellows hall, games and refreshments will be the order of the evening.

Keith Rollinger of Goldfield and a group of fellow band directors from this general area will comprise the orchestra that will provide music for the high school dance at Veterans' Memorial hall. This band played for the Homecoming dance and was well received by the students and alumni who attended. Refreshments, of course, will be amply provided.

Harry Nelson, general chairman of the Halloween party committee, says he hopes all the school youngsters will plan to participate in the fun. Jaycees and their wives will direct the parties and chaperone the dance, and an evening full of fun is promised.

First Leader-Training Session Will Soon Launch Family Living Program

First leader-training meeting under the current year's extension Family Living program in Wright county will be held on Wednesday of next week at the Legion hall in Clarion, at 2:00 p. m. Leaders attending this session will be given information on "Use of New Fibres in the Home," which they can later pass on to their own groups.

Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, says it is through this method that the major part of the Family Living program will be carried out. An exception will be a series of open meetings on the subject of "Understanding Social Security," which will be presented at several points in the county.

Speaker on the subject of Social Security will be Mary Alice Coady, field worker out of the Fort Dodge Social Security office. All men as well as women who are interested in the topic will be welcome to attend the meeting in their locality. One of Miss Coady's appearances will be at Belmond, at a time and place to be announced later.

First of the Social Security meetings will be at Eagle Grove on Nov. 2 at 2:00 p. m. At the same hour, Miss Coady will appear at the Dows Legion hall on Nov. 5 and at the district courtroom in Clarion on Nov. 19.

"It's Your Food Dollar — Why Waste It?" will be the topic for the December leader-training meeting at Clarion. Groups wishing to have a representative at the instruction session will be informed later as to where and exactly when the meeting will be held.

Attendance at a special three-day workshop in February will be by sign up, only. The subject will be "Refinishing Old Furniture and Finishes for New Wood." This workshop will be open to 10 women — or more, if two are working on a single piece of furniture. Women interested should submit their names to the extension office at Clarion.

On March 28, Gladys Tarr, Iowa State college extension landscape architect, will be instructor at a leader-training session on "Landscaping." Detailed information on time and place of this meeting will be mailed to leaders of participating homemaker groups.

Mrs. Steele emphasizes that these extension lessons on Family Living are open to all Iowa homemakers and their families — town women as well as rural women. Any groups interested in sending leaders to the training sessions should so inform the county extension service at Clarion as soon as possible.

"The latest research and information comes out from Iowa State college and the U. S. department of agriculture to give help and guidance," says Mrs. Steele. "This tax-supported educational program is for you, individually or through a group of neighbors or friends."

Scouts to Pick Up Goodwill Articles

Boy Scouts will pick up bundles for the Goodwill Industries this Saturday. Householders are asked to have their bundles sitting on the front porch, where they can be seen from the street. Old clothing, shoes, blankets and similar items are wanted. No furniture or large items can be used, nor should the clothing be so badly worn as to be beyond repair.

Large paper bags were distributed last Saturday by the Cub Scouts. The supply was exhausted before the entire town had been covered, so residents who did not get a bag are asked to use feed bags, shopping bags or boxes.

The Goodwill Industries is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization which gives employment to men and women who are handicapped. These handicapped workers sort out the material which is donated, repair some of it, and put it on sale at their salesroom in Sioux City. In this way, employment is given to some who otherwise might be on relief. Also, people with a marginal income are provided with a source of second-hand clothing and household goods at a low cost.

Gift from Wright To Help Finance SUI Heart Study

More extensive knowledge as to the causes and how to combat hardening of the arteries may produced with the help of the $1 000 research grant made not long ago to the Iowa Heart association by the Wright County Tuberculosis and Health association.

It was learned this week that the money from Wright county is going to be used toward developing a laboratory unit at the cardiovascular research laboratories at the University of Iowa which will permit launching of a research project in the field of aterioscIerosis.

Dr James W. Culbertson, director of the laboratories, wrote that the $1 000 donation is to be used as a basic fund for buying the initial equipment for research into this widely prevailing disease of elderly persons.

The research project will be under the supervision of Dr William Connor, an instructor in internal medicine and Research Fellow of the American Heart association.

It is announced by the county Tuberculosis and Health association that this year is the last that the Heart association will be participating in the State Tuberculosis and Heart association program. A separate heart fund campaign is planned in February of next year. Funds for the fight on tuberculosis will continue to be raised by the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

3rd Grade Class Visits Independent

A third grade class from Ramsay school paid the Independent office a visit Tuesday afternoon and saw this week's issue of the newspaper in process of production. They were accompanied by their teacher, Marion Peterson.

Marilyn Waltzing, as "secretary" of the group, left the following thank you note: "We enjoyed the visit to the Belmond Independent. We are making booklets about the newspaper. Thank you for telling and showing us how a newspaper is made, and for printing our names."

The note was adressed to Duane Anderson of the back shop force, who served as guide. He's also the father of one of the class members, Suzanne Anderson.

NAME LEFT OUT

In the list given The Independent last week of girls who spent the previous weekend at the Camp Fire Girls' Camp Hantesa, near Boone, the name of Carnita Trager was inadvertantly omitted.

Belmond Locals

Joe DeWard of Britt visited his sister, Serena DeWard, in the Nelson-Packard home Sunday.

The Herbert Basener family were dinner guests Sunday in the Lawrence Marty home at LuVerne.

Cerro Gordo County Sheriff's Office Given Peace Officers' Honor Plaque

Members of the Wright County Peace Officers association and guests, numbering approximately 40, heard special honor paid the Cerro Gordo county sheriff's office at the association's annual awards banquet held Tuesday night at the Clarion AA hall.

Sheriff Bob Blecker, as program chairman, praised the cooperation that has for many years been given neighboring counties by the Cerro Gordo county sheriff and his staff. He said that he and other sheriffs of this area have never called upon their fellow officer and his aides for help of any kind and been refused.

In recognition of the debt owed as a consequence, a plaque was presented to Sheriff Jerry Allen, present head of law enforcement in Cerro Gordo county, by O. B. Buchan, Clarion policeman who is president of the county peace officers association. Attending the banquet with Mr. Allen was his chief deputy, Duane Mayfield.

Inscribed on the plaque was: "Cerro Gordo County, Iowa, Sheriff's Office—For their outstanding contribution of equipment and manpower in aiding neighboring counties in law enforcement—Wright County Peace Officers Association."

An interesting program was presented by a panel made up of representatives of five different branches of law enforcement, each of whom described the responsibilities falling to his particular division.

On the panel were: Sgt. Lloyd Meyers of Fort Dodge, in charge of District 7 of the Iowa Highway Patrol; "Tommy" Thompson, who was a resident of Eagle Grove before moving to Des Moines upon appointment as a field agent for the State Bureau of Investigation. Lew Halla of Fort Dodge, agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Jim Wolfe of Des Moines, state narcotics agent; and Ed Litchwick of Fort Dodge, federal postal inspector.

Following their brief talks, each of the law enforcement specialists answered questions directed to them by peace officers present.

As part of the awards program, plaques were presented to the officers who won first places in the annual pistol shoot of the association. In addition, gifts from the association were received by Ben Birdsall of Clarion, former Wright county attorney, and Ralph Austin, Clarion, present county attorney.

M. C. Parley Set On Family Life

Mrs. Martin Qualen, president of the Federated Women's club of Belmond, calls attention to the fact that on Monday of next week at Mason City a Family Life conference is to be held. It will be under co-sponsorship of the American Home department of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs and the Iowa Council of Family Relations.

The Mason City conference, which will be one of six scheduled in various parts of Iowa during the week, will be held at the First Methodist church.

Speakers scheduled to appear on the program include: Prof. Lloyd L. Lovell of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station at the State University of Iowa; Dr. Leonard C. Murray, director, Division of Health Education, Des Moines; and Agnes McCreery, executive secretary of family service, Traveler's Aid, Des Moines.

Women interested in attending should contact Mrs. Qualen.

RIG SMASHES INTO FARM GROVE AS TRUCKER DOZES MOMENTARILY

A moment's doze very nearly brought death to a 32-year-old Des Moines truck driver about 5:15 a. m. Tuesday, three miles south of Belmond on Highway 69. Sheriff Bob Blecker was told by Gene F. Pyers, driver of a large tractor-trailer owned by the Midwest Burlap and Bag company of Des Moines, that he momentarily dropped asleep and as a result left the road.

His heavy rig tore through a grove of trees in front of the J. D. Campbell farm, leaving the trailer on its side in the shattered timber and crushing the cab of the tractor into a wad of steel.

Amazingly enough, Pyers avoided being crushed, himself, and although he had one leg very badly broken was able to extricate himself from the cab. The tractor shortly afterward burst into blaze. The fire was put out by Jack Campbell and Don Ramlo, the latter a Hormel truck driver from Austin, Minn., who happened along.

Belmond Fire department was summoned to the scene and soaked down the area to safeguard against flames in the surrounding leaves and brush spreading. It remained on standby duty until all danger from fire had passed.

Several large trees were snapped off by the machine. The cab crumpled an 18-inch walnut and came to rest against another tree.

Veteran Minister Will Preach Four Times at Bethany

Rev. B. T. Vander Woude, Sr., who for 40 years has been active in the ministry of the Reformed church, for the next four Sundays — starting this weekend — will bring special messages to the congregation of the Bethany Reformed church.

During that period the regular pastor, Rev. Ralph Meyer, will fill appointments elsewhere in Pleasant Prairie classis, preaching twice at Parkersburg and once each at the Reformed churches at Meservey and Allison.

Most members of the local Reformed church are familiar with the guest minister, who at present is retired and making his home at Edgerton, Minn. Mr. Meyer says, "Although old in years, Mr. Vander Woude is young in spirit and full of vitality and still loves to preach and talk to the people."

Asked about his sermon topics, Mr Vander Woude stated, "I have only one message. Namely, the Christ we preach is the Lord Jesus, who demands all, who forgives all, and who promises all."

During his years of active ministry. Mr. Vander Woude filled pulpits in four states: at Newton, Ill., Portage, Mich., Edgerton, Minn., Oak Harbor, Wash., and Woodstock, Minn.

In 1952, he retired; but the retirement proved brief. He explains, "The only true enjoyment I find is in preaching the Gospel, whether to a church full of people or just one individual. I didn't like retirement, which is only for those who have lost their health."

After nine months away from the pulpit, he served as supply minister at Conrad, Mont., during 1953-54, and Faith and Lyndon, Wash., in 1954-55; and most recently preached at Alexander, following departure of his son, B. T. Vander Woude, Jr., from that community to accept a call to Greenleafton, Minn.

Interested persons will be most welcome to share in these special messages with the Bethany congregation, Mr. Meyer says.

TO THE VOTERS OF WRIGHT COUNTY

In the confusion of approaching national elections we often find ourselves forgetting the most important matters and it takes a little straight thinking to get us back on the right path.

Voters in Wright county, with very few exceptions, have always strongly supported the Republican party and its candidates for office. This is not just coincidence or tradition. There are many, many good reasons and they are as real in this 1956 election as ever before.

Certainly one of the most important is the fact that we are basically an agricultural community. Almost all of us are dependent on farm prosperity.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS THE IOWA FARMER'S PARTY.

It always has been: It is today: It will continue to be in the future.

DON'T EVER LET ANYONE TELL YOU DIFFERENTLY.

We are a people who live here because this is our permanent home; we are honest, hard working, sincere, independent and Christian; we try to be thrifty, maintain good credit, "pay as we go", and run our own lives; we do not ask for too much, but we like to know where we are going.

These principles of ours have no place in the Democrat party which follows a policy of SPEND, SPEND, SPEND, with no thought to a budget or the future consequences; a party whose record clearly demonstrates what can happen when government is by Crisis, Crony and Corruption; a party which would have our government socialistic and the farmer dependent on temporary, year by year, "give-away" legislation for his entire livelihood; a party whose major interest in agriculture has been political only. Surely the same old whiskered program of high price supports for immediate income can lead to nothing but more surplus and eventual agricultural disaster.

Every high school student in our county knows that the Democrat party is absolutely controlled by two strangely different groups: The Solid South and The Big Labor Bosses. No Democrat can deny this. No candidate can become their nominee without this support and they cannot win a nnational election without these forces. Ask yourself—what do I have in common with either of these two elements. NONE. There is a direct conflict between their interests and what we want in Wright County, Iowa. We know that and have seen it demonstrated time and time again.

Many of us from Wright County had the thrilling experience of seeing President Eisenhower at the Field Days this fall. We sensed the spontaneous affirmative response to his statement that surely no person could doubt his honesty. I am certain that none of us will.

I am not a candidate for any office. I am not a paid employee of any Republican organization. I am interested only in the future of our community, state and nation. I urge you to THINK TWICE before you VOTE. This is an important election. YOUR VOTE COUNTS. Then VOTE REPUBLICAN.

Motion by Trotter, seconded by Greenlander to adopt the following

RESOLUTION

Whereas under date of August 19th, 1939, W. H. Rice and Augusta Rice, husband and wife, executed a mortgage to Wright County, Iowa, covering Lot 1, Block 7, Scott's Highland Park Addition to Eagle Grove Junction, Iowa, and which was recorded on August 21, 1939 in Town Lot Mortgage Record 21 at page 625 of the records of the County Recorder of Wright County, Iowa, and,

Whereas such mortgage was given to secure Wright County, Iowa, for all relief funds then advanced and to be advanced to the said mortgagors and,

Whereas subsequent to the execution of said mortgage the said mortgagors received old age assistance from the State of Iowa and liens were placed against this property as security for such old age assistance and,

Whereas the old age assistance liens were of sufficient size as to exceed the value of the property and,

Whereas the said property has now been sold to Chapman Oil Company by W. H. Rice, surviving spouse, and it is now necessary that a release of the mortgage to Wright County, Iowa, be executed and placed on record in order to clear the title from the lien of such mortgage

Now therefore be it resolved that Albert Christopher, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, be and he is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and acknowledge a release of the mortgage recorded in Town Lot Mortgage Record 21 at page 625 of the records of the Wright County Recorder for and on behalf of said county and under its corporate seal which the County Auditor is directed to affix and attest.

Motion by Greenlander, seconded by Hill to adopt the following

RESOLUTION

The following resolution was introduced and read. Whereas Howard Helgevold is appealing from the award granted him on the content of certain of his real estate for road purposes by Wright County, Iowa, and, Whereas the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, desires to employ Leslie Archerd of Clarion, Iowa, to assist the County Attorney in the defense of such law suit.

Now therefore be it resolved that Leslie Archerd of Clarion, Iowa, be and he is hereby employed by Wright County, Iowa, to assist in the defense of Wright County in the matter of the appeal by Howard Helgevold.

The foregoing resolution was moved by Greenlander, seconded by Hill. Thereupon the roll was called with the following Vote: AYES: Christopher, Greenlander, Trowbridge, Hill, Trotter. NAYS: None.

Thereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

Albert W. Christopher, Chairman

Belmond Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Dillion Strait and Imogene of Dayton were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Virgil Nolte home.

Mrs. Henry Holland of Thompson visited last week in the homes of her sisters, Mrs. Emma Johnson and Mrs. Helmer Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith attended funeral services last Thursday at Garner for Mrs. Clifford Anderson.

Mrs. Charles Kennedy returned home last Thursday after spending five weeks in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roger Wagner, and family at Carpentersville, Ill.

Belmond Locals

Mrs. Jim Cairns visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Eaton, at Austin, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Schlatter of Nickerson, Kan., were weekend guests at the home of her brother, Harold Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes were Des Moines callers Monday and also returned his mother, Mrs. William Grimes, Sr., to her home at Woodward after the latter has spent the weekend in the home of her son.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Miner spent weekend before last visiting the Robert Arthur family at Spirit Lake. Sue Arthur celebrated her 6th birthday while they were there.

Belmond Locals

Mrs. Joseph Thams and Mrs. Kenneth Lindoerfer of Elgin, Ill., mother and sister of Mrs. Cecil Winbigler, arrived Tuesday for a visit in the Winbigler home. A phone call received by Mrs. Lindoerfer on Tuesday evening informed her that her husband had had to undergo an emergency appendectomy, so the guests had to return home Wednesday night.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF RIGHT OF REDEMPTION

To: Robert L. Whistler, person in whose name the property described below is taxed, and to H. E. Hammond, person in possession of said real property:

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that the following described real estate, situated in Wright County, Iowa, to-wit:

Lots Six (6) and Seven (7) and and the West Half (W½) of Lot Five (5), all in Block Five (5) in Bartholomew's Second Addition to the Town of Belmond, Iowa, was sold for taxes of the year 1952, on the 7th day of December, A.D. 1953, to Roy A. Henderson, and that the right of redemption will expire and a treasurer's deed for said land will be made, unless redemption from such sale be made within ninety (90) days from the date of completed service of this notice.

You will govern yourselves accordingly.

Dated this 9th day of October, A. D. 1956.

What Iowans Like About
HICKENLOOPER'S
Farm Record

Senator Hickenlooper has been a member of the Senate Agricultural Committee for the past 8 years. It is in this key committee where the basic work on farm legislation is done and Iowa has a strong, dependable voice to advance a sound, non-political agricultural program. During his 12 years in Washington, Hickenlooper has supported in committee and championed on the floor of the Senate, among many others, measures to:

1. Expand Soil and Water Conservation programs.
2. Advance Rural Electrification.
3. Expand and improve rural telephone service (co-sponsored bill).
4. Establish the soil bank, designed to reduce surpluses and conserve the soil (a sponsor of the bill).
5. Reduce agricultural surpluses through foreign markets. (Public Law 480 increased foreign exports by $3 billion).
6. Develop new uses for farm products with better domestic distribution and marketing.
7. Establish a system of agricultural representatives in foreign countries to promote the sale and use of farm products. (Author of this amendment).
8. Increase the base corn acreage in the commercial area from 43 to 51 million acres. (Accomplished by the Hickenlooper Amendment).
9. Provide for a referendum by corn farmers to give them a voice in passing on their program like producers of other basic crops.
10. Secure federal gas tax refund for farmers amounting to $46.56 average per Iowa farm permit holder.

And scores of others.

Iowa born and educated, (Iowa State College, State University of Iowa) Hickenlooper has a time-proven grasp of farm problems. He is dedicated to the principles that farmers must have freedom from paralyzing controls and have a non-political farm program under which farmers can receive a full share of the national income. Never before in history has anything built by man traveled so far in so short a time
—by land or sea!

United States Auto Club
Sports Commission
CERTIFICATE OF PERFORMANCE

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before – in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Possible Record Voter Turnout in County Seen for 1956 Election

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Class will now come to order. The topic for today is how NOT to spoil your ballot when voting in next Tuesday's general election. In spite of periodic seminars-in-print, such as this, each election sees quite a handful of voters losing the effect of their vote because they make some technical error in casting their ballot. So here goes:

Mark circles or squares with an X-mark—NOT with a check (√) or with a cross that resembles a plus-sign; (2) keep your X-mark within the circle or square; (3) in voting on a special issue—such as the Korean veterans' bonus, this year — just put the customary X in the preferred square, do NOT write "yes" or "no" in it; (4) do NOT sign your ballot or put on it any mark that could conceivably serve as an identification of who cast it; confine yourself strictly to X-ing such circles and/or squares as serve your voting purpose.

And bear in mind that the simplest way to "scratch" your ballot, if you wish to vote OTHER than a straight ticket, is to X the circle of the party of your choice and then X the individual squares of such candidates in other columns as you want to vote for. This IS — repeat, IS — legal and does NOT spoil your ballot, despite widespread belief to the contrary.

Two other things to keep in mind when voting are: (1) when the ballot specifies "Three to be elected," as in the case of state supreme court judges, or "Vote for two," as in the case of township JP's or constables, the square of EACH preferred candidate must be marked IF party lines are crossed; and (2) if you WRITE IN a candidate's name, be sure to place an X in the adjacent square to give him a valid vote.

To elaborate a bit on point (1), if you should vote for one Democratic candidate for supreme court judge, then you must indicate by X's the two Republican candidates you wish to vote for — OR NO GOP candidate for that office will receive benefit from your ballot.

Each election sees enough ballots thrown out due to voting errors that they could easily determine a close contest. And don't think that they never get THAT close in Wright county. Back in 1936, Robert D. Blue of Eagle Grove edged R. E. Lee Aldrich of Iowa township for the post of state representative by THREE votes, 3,820 to 3,817. So, you see?

Sheriff Bob Blecker, who has to do considerable traveling in performing the duties of his office, is convinced that Wright county is one of the "hottest" spots in the state in this election year of 1956. He says he has had to travel in the past week or so to Sioux City, in one direction, and clear down to Muscatine, in the other.

Nowhere, Bob says, has he seen so much campaign material on display, so much campaign literature in evidence, or such keen interest in the election as right here at home.

The Republican headquarters at Clarion has been hard-pressed to keep placards, signs, buttons, literature and what-not on hand in sufficient supply to satisfy the demand. The Democrats have been determinedly active, too. Could it possibly be that this is a year that will see more than 10,000 Wright county voters at the polls?

The Independent front office got in the bad graces of the back shop Monday afternoon when John Qualen, whose visit to Belmond is reported elsewhere in this issue, paid us a call. Seems Bob Foss and Duane Anderson are quite ardent admirers of the veteran character actor, who appears on TV as well as in the movies and lately had a leading role in "Climax."

We didn't think to take Mr. Qualen to the back shop to introduce him around, which brought forth bitter remarks to the effect that, "You'd think we had movie stars in here every day of the week!"

There's no doubt but what John Qualen would have been happy enough to make the acquaintance of a couple more of his fans. A "regular" fellow, very obviously. Ye Ed remarked that it seemed strange to hear Mr. Qualen talking in anything but one of the dialects he speaks so competently—and was rewarded with a sample of Swedish and bit of rich, Barry Fitzgerald brogue.

There are those who will say that Herschel Loveless pulled the smartest maneuver of his political campaign in backing out of his scheduled debate with Clark McNeal next Saturday night.

Arangements for the verbal dual had been made by the Clarion Jaycees. The Democratic gubernatorial candidate had agreed to match words with Clark after an effort to line up Governor Hoegh as Loveless' opponent failed.

It would have been a mis-matched contest; there's no question about that. Mr. McNeal has few peers in the general assembly in the art of rhetoric, Still, it would have been quite an attraction!

If a person can be "humbly proud," that would describe the feelings of the Mainstreeters in regard to the part The Independent has played in promoting the Lions club's "Ricky Walrod Fund."

By press time this week, donations had been received from 14 communities in six states, including Belmond and [illegible]. All of the gifts have resulted from a direct contact made by The Independent.

Brochure Topic: Planning and Zoning for Belmond

The following information, in the form of a brochure, will be mailed by the Chamber of Commerce committee on planning and zoning to all Belmond residents sometime next week. Careful study of the outline is urged, as its dissemination is a preliminary step to circulation of a petition to ascertain the community's will in regard to establishment by the Belmond city council of a planning and zoning commission.

Appointment of such a commission, in turn, would preface the passage of a zoning and planning ordinance for Belmond. The city council has expressed its willingness to take this action, recommended by the Chamber committee, if a definite majority of the residents of the community petition for it be taken. All residents, rather than property-owners alone, are being queried to give the broadest possible cross-section of opinion.

WHAT IS A PLANNING COMMISSION?

It is a group of Representative Citizens appointed by the City Council to Plan for the Development of a Community and its Future Needs. They are an Advisory Body whose recommendations are Subject to the Approval and Acceptance of the City Council.

WHAT IS PLANNING?

1. A Complete Study (Survey) of existing community facilities and land uses by a Competent Engineer set forth in facts and figures for the use of the Planning Commission in the development of a Master Plan.

2. Development of a Master Plan which is a pattern for the Growth, Development and Progress of a Community for the next year, five years from now, and even 10 years hence. It provides a pattern for Orderly land use and public facilities for Community Improvement as they are Needed and on the most Economical basis. Such facilities as Schools, Parks, Sewage Disposal, Water Works, Sidewalks, Curb and Gutter, Paving, Traffic and Parking Facilities, Future Dwelling Areas and others; all of which Increase the Value of All Property.

3. It is Continuous Study by the Planning Commission to revise the Master Plan if and as necessary and to make new recommendations to the City Council.

NOTE: To relieve the community of the initial expense involved in adopting Planning and Zoning, the Belmond Chamber of Commerce has voted unanimously to finance the cost of the Initial Survey in the amount of $1,650.

WHAT IS ZONING?

1. Without Affecting Existing Land Use, it is the Division of a Community into areas Most Suitable for Light Industry, Commerce, and Residences based on a Complete Study.

2. It is supported by a Zoning Ordinance passed by the City Council, Subject to Appeal by Anyone before and after passage.

3. It is patterned to fit the needs of a Particular Community and the People in That Community.

WHAT DOES PLANNING AND ZONING DO FOR A COMMUNITY?

1. It provides an interested and civic-minded group of people to plan for the future, and thereby relieves an already over-burdened City Council of this work.

2. It Assures the Community of Public Facilities as they are Needed and also assures Orderly Growth of the Community.

3. It protects the property rights of All the People and Enhances the Value of All Property.

SOME MISCONCEPTIONS

1. Costs a lot of money? No! It saves money by avoiding mistakes and duplication of effort, and by maintaining property values and attracting new industry.

2. Assumes some of the City Council's Powers? No. A planning commission is only an advisory body whose recommendations are subject to approval and acceptance by the City Council.

3. Zoning affects present conditions and land uses? No. It applies only to new buildings and future uses.

4. A Zoning Ordinance is rigid and can be discriminating? No. If a person has a just grievance, he can appeal to the Board of Adjustment, whose duty is to relieve undue hardship under certain conditions and assure fair treatment for all.

Governor Contest, Race for Congress Hold High Interest

Interest in next Tuesday's general election this week appeared to be building up to a level locally and in Wright county that might very possibly bring a turn-out of voters that would eclipse the record total of ballots cast in 1952. At that time, 1,143 Belmond voters went to the polls and the total in the county reached 9,852.

Prior to 1952, the largest Wright county vote had been cast when Wendell Willkie vied with Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency in 1940. That race inspired 9,314 voters to exercise their franchise. In 1944 the county total slipped to 8,152 and in 1948 a bit farther, to 8,053.

Democrats Unusually Active

This year, however, has seen Democratic campaign activity in Wright county and in Iowa reach a high hardly exceeded in New Deal days; and with close contests anticipated on both national and state levels — plus two races for votes within Wright county, itself — a total vote surpassing the 1952 record would not be surprising.

Polling Places

Polls will open to accommodate voters at 8:00 a. m. next Tuesday and remain open until 8:00 p. m. All polling places in Belmond will be the same as in the past, except the one for Pleasant township. It has customarily been at Belmond Auto company. This year, voters from that township will cast their ballots at the IOOF hall. Other polls will be located as follows: Ward I, city library; Ward II, city hall; Ward III, high school; Belmond township, the township hall on Main street and Highway 69.

As in that year, GOP candidates for national and state offices seem likely to predominate in traditionally Republican Wright county. But in '52 the Democratic candidate for governor of Iowa, Herschel Loveless of Ottumwa, actually out-polled incumbent Gov. Robert Beardsley in Belmond — 531 votes to 521 — and trailed the late governor in the county by barely more than 500 votes, 4,553 to 5,055.

Loveless Candidate Again

This was interpreted, at the time, more as a protest against certain policies and practices of the incumbent governor than a stamp of approval for Loveless. This seemed particularly true in view of the fact that Dwight Eisenhower out-polled Adlai Stevenson, [illegible] to 3,286. Since Gov. Leo Hoegh's term just ending is generally regarded as a praiseworthy one, he doesn't seem apt to face the personal opposition that Governor Beardsley did in seeking re-election to a third term. The Democratic candidate is, of course, again the same Loveless.

Next to the presidential and gubernatorial contests, Wright county interest will be focused on the battle between incumbent J. I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge and his Democratic rival, Rev. Merwin Coad of Boone, for the U. S. Congressional post from the Sixth Iowa District. Against the fact that Coad has conducted the most vigorous campaign a Sixth District Congressional candidate of his party has in many years, if not ever, must be measured the fact that Dolliver has always held great popularity in Wright county.

Dolliver Top Vote-Getter

In 1952, while Eisenhower enjoyed a resounding 3,280-vote advantage over Stevenson, Dolliver was chalking up a plurality of just one less than 3,500 votes over his opponent, Francis Cutler of Boone. With no apparent reason for dissatisfaction over Dolliver's conduct of his office during his current sixth term, it seems reasonable to expect that Wright county voters will again favor him by a comfortable margin.

Another contest in which the especially active campaigning of one candidate may be a factor is that for county attorney, between Arthur "Newt" Draheim, Jr., and Martin Morrissey, both of Clarion. Morrissey, the Democratic candidate, has campaigned much more aggressively than his GOP rival; but barring an unexpected, general swing to the Democratic column in this county, it's doubtful Morrissey has given enough straight Republican voters cause to scratch their ballots in his behalf to jeopardize Draheim's chances of a relatively easy win.

McNeal Seeks 4th Term

Rep. Clark McNeal of Belmond finds himself opposed for his reelection to a fourth term in the state legislature by Marion Robinson of Clarion. Mr. McNeal has stamped himself as one of the most outstanding representatives Wright county has ever sent to the general assembly and anything less than an overwhelming vote of confidence from his constituents would be unexpected, indeed.

All present incumbents of Wright county offices are running for reelection without opposition excepting the coroner, Dr. Robert Eaton of Clarion, who was not a candidate in the primary and did not receive enough write-in votes for re-nomination. All members of the county board of supervisors, except George Trowbridge of Dows, are also running unopposed.

While Iowa would be one of only six or seven states that have passed measures approving a bonus for Korean war veterans, it seems likely that this special issue will be OK'ed by a majority of Iowa's voters next week. They will be asked to act on a proposition to issue $26 million in bonds for payment of the bonus.

Popular Character Actor Pays Brother, Martin Qualen, Visit

Many a person who saw Martin Qualen on the street last Sunday or Monday with a companion at his side viewed said companion with a speculative look that clearly stated, "Now where have I seen THAT fellow before?" It is not surprising that the face was familiar, for it belonged to John Qualen, veteran character actor who has appeared in scores of movies and many a TV show (right, above, with Martin).

John, accompanied by his wife, made a stop-over here to visit his brother while en route back to Hollywood after a pleasure trip to New York City. Mr. Qualen said his daughter Kathleen is an American Air lines stewardess and that the company provides free vacation passage to parents of its stewardesses.

"The price was right," John explained, in telling of the flying trip he and Mrs. Qualen were completing. They were taken to Des Moines on Monday afternoon by Martin and his wife and from there left on the last leg of their journey home.

Probably best known for his portrayal of Papa Dione in the movie about the famous Canadian "quints," John quite understandably recalls that as his favorite role. He's played almost an endless number of character parts and has an unusual gift for speaking a wide variety of dialects. This facility keeps him in constant demand to fill both film and television roles.

He'll be appearing on the screen of the New Belmond theater Nov. 18-19 in the latest John Wayne epic, "The Searchers." Mr. Qualen told that for this movie the cast went on location in remote Monument Valley, which lies in the northeast corner of Arizona and northeast corner of Utah.

"It's really out in the wilds," he said. "It's 185 miles from the nearest railroad and 25 from the nearest post office. The scenery is simply fabulous."

C. V. "Sonny" Whitney, the famed race-horse fancier, was the producer and financer (to the tune of three million dollars) and the director was John Ford, whom Mr. Qualen regards as by all odds one of Hollywood's best.

The robust action of the film required inclusion of 15 stunt men in the supporting cast — and a rough and tumble outfit they were, John said. He reported that a minor knifing brawl developed from a card game one evening, much to the distress of Mr. Whitney. That gave Wayne and Ford an idea for providing their tenderfoot Eastern boss an extra-curricular thrill.

As the producer was headed for the long, dining tent one evening, a hassle got underway that was really a beaut. A tray of steaks went flying through the air, fists

Nothin' Fell; $400 Comin' Up

Unaccustomed to rain as people in these parts are, Tuesday afternoon's light precipitation and threat of more seemed to keep a lot of folks at home. As a result, not one of the nine numbers upon which Cash Gift Day prizes hung were turned in. Since the entire $350 in award money remained intact, the CGD committee is boosting the total for next week. Again there will be four $25's at 2:00 o'clock; but at 3:00 p. m. the boodle will amount to SIX $50 prizes. Either chunk of cash is of a useful size. But you can't pick up the money unless you are on hand with a number!

Car Crash Victim Still Unconscious

Mrs. Harlan Jotten of Clarion, one of the four surviving victims of the accident northwest of town that on Oct. 18 took the lives of Nancy Ann and Timothy Draper, this week remained unconscious at Belmond Community hospital. She suffered brain damage in sustaining a fractured skull.

She has had to be given nourishment entirely by a tube leading to her stomach, ever since the collision of the car she was driving with that driven by Mrs. Gerald Draper. Her physician says her condition must still be considered "serious."

More favorable reports are made on the other survivors, however. In the best shape is Mrs. Jotten's granddaughter, little five-month-old Rebecca Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lester of oGldfield. It was expected she could be released from the hospital today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Draper and her six-year-old daughter Kathleen were reported "progressing satisfactorily." No immediate estimate could be given, though, as to when they would be sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital.

Jr.-Sr. High PTA Will Meet Monday

The junior and senior high school unit of the Belmond Parent-Teachers association will hold its first meeting of the current school year next Monday at 8:00 p. m. at the high school auditorium.

After a brief business meeting, over which Mrs. Duane Jenison will preside as unit president, the parents will devote the remainder of the evening in attending "sample classes" in the same subjects their children are studying.

Mrs. Jenison says this type of program has proved popular in other years. The PTA officers hope that a large number of parents will avail themselves of the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the type of class work their own children are engaged in.

Camp Fire Group Helps Rake Park

Members of the Iyo-Wa-Ki-Ya Camp Fire group met at the city park last Friday after school. With their leaders, the girls raked leaves and then enjoyed a picnic supper.

Girls who helped with the leaf-raking were: Connie Soma, Nikki Killius, Thonda Erdman, Vicki Pals, Judy Kellerman, Janie Mennenga, Marlys and Marilyn Beavers, Theresa Quigley, Bonnie Rogalla, Donna Griffin, Jolene Harris and Jo Ann Ubben.

A guest, Terry Townsan of Albert Lea, Minn., also helped.

Dr. John Strauss, Originator of Liquid Fertilizer for Farm Use, Joins Ris-Van

Announcement of a very distinguished addition to the circle of Belmond businessmen was made last weekend by Ris-Van, Inc., who revealed that Dr. John L. Strauss of Blair, Neb., has joined the executive staff of the liquid fertilizer company. Mr. Strauss has been affiliated with Ris-Van in an advisory capacity since the firm went into the manufacture of complete analysis liquid fertilizer a year ago last month.

In his new status, though, Dr. Strauss plans to sever other business connections he has in the liquid fertilizer field and devote his full time to his new responsibilities with Ris-Van, Inc. He will hold the office of vice president in charge of research and development.

While it had been his original intention not to move his family here from Nebraska until next summer, Dr. Strauss says Ris-Van's recent expansion and the resulting increase in its business activity have forced a change in this plan. Because his time will be so completely monopolized by his new duties, Dr. Strauss is now looking for satisfactory living accommodations in this vicinity and will bring his family to Iowa as soon as possible.

In addition to his wife, Mary Anne, the Strauss family includes seven children — six sons and a daughter, ranging in age from 14 years to 18 months. John, Jr., or "Jay" is the oldest and Timothy, the youngest. In between are Robert, James, Thomas, Steve and Mary Anne.

DR. J. L. STRAUSS
Scientist Joins Ris-Van Staff

Dr. Strauss is a nationally recognized authority on complete analysis liquid fertilizers. He was the first person to develop methods by which the manufacture of liquid fertilizers for use on a farming scale was possible. Previously, liquid fertilizers had been produced, but by methods that made their use feasible only in modest quantities for application on lawns and gardens.

In addition, Dr. Strauss planned and supervised the building of the first complete analysis fertilizer plant in this country. This plant of the Liquilizer Corp., was constructed at Vincennes, Ind., in 1952. In 1954 he was responsible for establishment of a similar plant at Blair, Neb. He has held a financial interest in both of these businesses, but is disposing of these interests in order to concentrate his attention entirely upon his duties with Ris-Van.

Raised on a farm not far from Youngstown, O., Dr. Strauss has had a life-long interest in agriculture. However, it was not until after he had graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State university and had received a two-year fellowship to Virginia Polytechnical Institute that the possibility of industrializing liquid fertilizer captured his interest.

He received his degree from OSU in 1940 and had been at VPI for only a year when he enlisted in the U. S. Army. He was advanced from his original rank of Second Lieutenant to Lieutenant Colonel in the 101st Airborne division before being discharged in 1945. While in uniform, he became a good friend of Kenneth Van Duzer of Mason City, a fellow paratrooper, who was one of the founders of

Verdict of Jury "Not Guilty" In Case of Caqueiin

A verdict of "not guilty" was returned last Thursday by a district court jury in the case of the state vs. Donald M. Caquelin of Woolstock on a charge of rape. The case went to the jury about 4:45 p.m. After adjourning for their evening meal, the jury members reported their verdict about 7:30 o'clock through their foreman, R. B. Wilson of Clarion.

While no formal statement was obtained from any of the jurors, it was understood at the courthouse that the jury regarded the charge too severe in consideration of some of the circumstances surrounding the alledged crime. Conviction for rape carries with it a penitentiary sentence of 25 years to life

On Monday a jury was impaneled to hear the case of the state vs. Herbert L. Bush of Woolstock on a charge of incest. Twenty-five additional veniremen had been drawn Friday on the order of Judge J. M. Schaupp because the number of eligible jurors had been so greatly reduced by excuse and private concern with cases on the October term criminal docket.

Monday afternoon 12 jurors satisfactory to counsel for both the prosecution and defendant were sworn in and hearing of the trial commenced. On the jury are: Max Lawson, Harold Stromquist, George Mechem and Lyle Clemson, Clarion; Clara Clark, Dayton township; Glen Nickell and Helen Amundson, Eagle Grove; Reuben Nelson, Belmond township; Viola Larson and Glen Trotter, Goldfield; Veva White, Dows; and Lloyd Christensen, Norway township.

Hearing of Bush on the same charge in the September term of court resulted in a hung jury.

PARTY BAGS FIVE DEER

L. W. Murray, with Al Martin of Ames and Clarence Barnes, Stan Zenor, Aaron Grieman and Leon Lemke, all of Garner, spent last week vacationing and hunting at Morrison, Ontario, Canada. They bad the good luck to bag five deer.

$40 IN MEMORIAL GIFTS PRESENTED TO HOSPITAL

Three memorial gifts have been received in the past week by Belmond Community hospital, according to a report from Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, chairman of the Hospital Auxiliary's memorial committee.

From Mrs. Ray Brewer came a gift of $25 in the name of her late husband. Mrs. Carlton Johnson gave $10 in memory of little Nancy Ann and Timothy Raymond Draper. And friends and neighbors of the late Herschel Johnson gave $5 in his name.

HOME FURLOUGH

A2/c Marlin Jenison arrived in Belmond last week from Scott AFB in Illinois to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenison, and his wife Ardith, who is a student at Luther college, Decorah. On Nov. 25, Airman Jenison will report at Seattle, Wash., and from there go on to Ladd Air Force base at Fairbanks, Alaska.

ONE BROKEN LEG was all that Gene Pyers, Des Moines, emerged with when he struggled out of this mess of crushed steel (below). It was the cab of his tractor-trailer rig before smashing into the grove of trees in front of J. D. Campbell's farm home early Tuesday morning of last week. Frank Long is shown viewing the wreck, and wondering how Pyers got out alive. The trucker was taken to a Des Moines hospital the day following the accident. His one leg was horribly mangled and he will require many months of hospitalization and a good deal of reconstructive surgery before he's able to be about again. He was by no means ENTIRELY lucky.

FUND FOR RICKY OVER $800—

Walrod Contributions Still Pouring In

Contributions to the Lions club's "Ricky Walrod Fund" continued to pour in to the Independent office during the past week, bringing the total received by Wednesday up to $807.30.

Donations had been sent in from 13 other communities, in addition to Belmond, and from five states besides Iowa, as word of Ricky's plight got around. Added to the list of neighboring towns mentioned last week—Goodell, Alexander, Meservey, Clarion, Latimer and Humboldt—were Klemme and Swaledale.

Also not-so-neighboring San Francisco, Calif., Miami, Fla., Bossier City, La., Carpentersville, Ill., and Minneapolis, Minn.

From the Golden Gate city came a check for $5 from Mrs. Eunice Walton, who is Mrs. Ted Behrends' mother. A note accompanying her contribution said:

"I read in the Belmond paper that my daughter (Mrs. F. H. Johnson) gets out here about Ricky Walrod's sickness, so wish to make a contribution and think it a very kind and generous thing for the Lions club to do. Hoping this little donation will help some."

Since it was discovered early in September that Ricky, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walrod, was suffering from leukemia—a cancerous condition of the blood — he has spent 55 days in the hospital. The family's insurance covers just 70 days of hospitalization from a single illness, so another two weeks will find Ricky's father faced with a steady, financial drain while the boy continues his courageous battle against the inevitably fatal disease.

It will be recalled that the Lions club launched its "Ricky Walrod Fund" with a $100 contribution. All other donations have been brought to or mailed to the Independent office, without solicitation other than outlining the purpose of the fund.

Gifts received since last week's report are as follows:

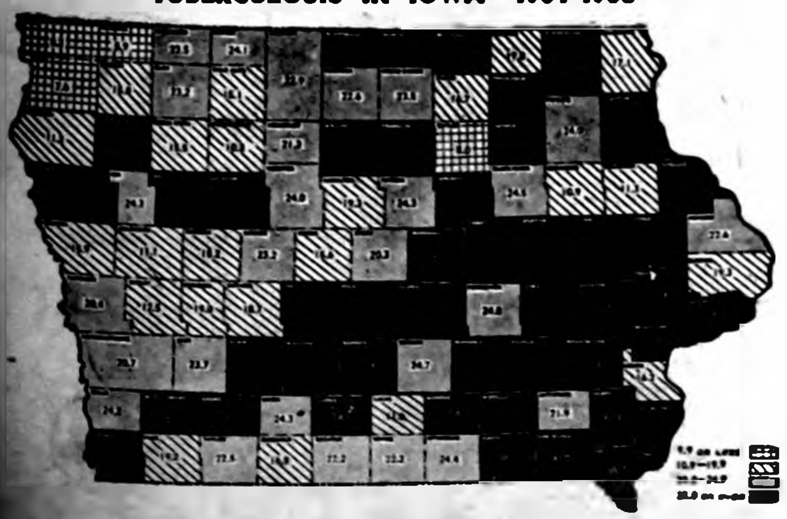
TUBERCULOSIS IN IOWA—1951-1955



Tuberculosis remains a major health problem in every community in [illegible] says the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health Association—and has this [illegible] to prove it. This map shows the case rate by county of residence per [illegible] population of newly reported cases of tuberculosis within the last [illegible]—1951-1955. A total of 3,479 new cases of TB were reported [illegible] years, according to the division of vital statistics, State De[illegible] of Health.

Tuberculosis Not Beaten as Health Problem in County

DES MOINES—That tuberculosis is a continuing health problem can be seen by the map above, which ← shows the new cases of tuberculosis reported in Iowa during the past five years.

In bringing attention to this map, the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health association points out that tuberculosis is still widespread throughout the state. The new-case rate is figured on the basis of the number of new cases per 100,000 population.

Why 100,000 as a population figure? It is a statistical device which permits large counties to be compared with smaller counties on an equal basis.

For example: there were 13 new cases of tuberculosis reported during 1951-55 in Ida county and 22 in Wright county. But Ida's county case rate is almost as high as Wright's because its population is almost 9,000 less than Wright's 19,652. It will be noted that the Ida rate was 24.3 per 100,000 and Wright's only 2.2 more, nothwithstanding its nine more cases.

Thus, Ida county has almost as serious a tuberculosis problem as Wright, despite its lower incidence of the disease. In any county, the higher the rate figure, the more serious the TB problem.

Of the eight counties that adjoin Wright, only Franklin had a higher rate of new tuberculosis cases—and it exceeded Wright's by only half a case.

Further indication that Wright county has a greater than average problem with tuberculosis for its geographical area is the fact that it is one of only 15 out of the 42 northernmost Iowa counties having a case rate of 25 or over for the five years.

Incidence of the disease runs higher in the 57 southern counties, with 29 in the 25-or-over bracket.

The 1956 Christmas Seal campaign formally begins Nov. 15, the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health association notes. It adds that the best way to achieve a reduced new-case rate is to give generous support to the seal drive.

Clothing Pick-up By Scouts Brings In Many Bundles

Last Saturday 10 Boy Scouts did their "good deed" for the day by collecting bundles of used clothing for the Goodwill Industries. The Goodwill Industries is a non-profit organization providing employment to handicapped persons.

Cub Scouts had distributed sacks the previous week. It had been requested that the sacks and bundles be left on the front porch so they could be seen from the street. Unfortunately, a few families overlooked this request, and as a result their contributions were not collected at this time.

Two trucks and a trailer were used, and many bundles were collected. These will be hauled to Sioux City by truck.

Scouts who took part were: Danny Nelson, Bobby Whipple, Gary Luick, Dennis and Cecil Eccles, Jeff Hruska, Dennis Steenblock, Dennis Gallagher and Dallas Hopkey, plus one or two others who worked part of the morning. Henry Larsen and Larry Stadtlander drove the trucks.

This week the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts are distributing "Get-out-the-Vote" reminders to every home. This is part of a nationwide project of the Scouts that is intended to see Liberty Bell hangers left on the front doorknobs of 35 million homes, urging the occupants to vote next Tuesday.

"Social Security" Speaker's Subject

Under sponsorship of the county extension office's Family Living program, Mary Alice Coady of the Fort Dodge social security office will speak here next Wednesday on the subject, "Understanding Social Security."

She will give her talk in the council chambers at the city hall, starting at 2:00 p. m. Anyone interested in learning more about social security or having a question to ask on the subject will be most welcome to hear Miss Coady's remarks and ask questions afterward.

Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell, local member of the Family Living committee, says the information Miss Coady will present should be of very general interest and it is hoped that a good-sized audience will take advantage of the opportunity to hear the important subject of "Social Security" reviewed.

Chest Goal About One-Half Attained

Chairman Tom Burdsal reported Wednesday that approximately one half of the 1956 Belmond Community Chest goal had been reached. He was a bit undecided whether this achievement indicates that the drive has been progressing satisfactorily, or not.

The campaign is fairly well on schedule, in comparison with past years; but Mr. Burdsal urges canvassers to complete their assignments and make their reports as promptly as possible so a better estimate of the drive's success can be made.

He suggests that workers who have not yet made all their contacts should turn in what money they have to date. That will enable the campaign committee to tell better how close an approach to the goal has actually been made.

It is Mr. Burdsal's hope that a very large part of the canvassing will be complete by the end of the current week.

were pumping and the movie's star and director were in the thick of the mayhem apparently trying to break it up.

Mr. Whitney stood in the tent opening aghast as one of the stunt men raised a chair that appeared to have as its target the valuable cranium of John Wayne. The producer bleached white, foreseeing the need of a new star — or at least a long delay while Wayne recuperated in a hospital.

At this point, Ford sternly said, "That's enough, boys. Break it up!" And the combatants all quietly returned to the table as if nothing had happened.

Mr. Qualen says Whitney appeared in a state of shock for some time afterward. Staring unseeingly into space, he started helping himself to the potatoes — heaping spoonful after spoonful onto his plate, until Mr. Qualen innocently inquired "You like potatoes?"

John Qualen's visit to Belmond created quite a stir. It would appear that he has a lot of fans hereabouts.

They'll undoubtedly have many another opportunity to admire his work in the films and on the television screen. His latest movie, which will without question find its way to Belmond in due time, he had just completed before his eastern jaunt.

It is "Buffalo Grass," starring Alan Ladd, Virginia Mayo and Edmund O'Brien. Mr. Qualen, who knows the value of a "plug," urged, "Watch for it at your favorite movie theater!"

2nd Meeting Held By Engineer Assn.

Robert Rosene of the staff of Rowat-Murray, Engineers, who is serving as temporary secretary-treasurer of the Iowa Association of Consulting Engineers, reports that a second organizational meeting of that group was held recently at Marshalltown.

Twenty-four consulting engineers from over the state attended. The organization is seeking membership of all registered professional consulting engineers in Iowa, excepting public employees and sales representatives.

T. E. Roche, P. E., of Minneapolis, who is a national director of the Consulting Engineers Council, described the functions of the national organization. He also told how the Minnesota association has improved the quality of engineering services to the public and brought about closer cooperation among the engineers, themselves.

Mr. Rosene says the next meeting will be held in November, at which time permanent officers will be elected an da constitution and by-laws will be adopted.

VISITING KIN FETED BY BAKER FAMILY

The Baker family reunion was held Sunday, Oct. 28, at the IOOF hall with 75 present. It was held in honor of Mrs. Blanche Stevenson and Mrs. Mable Goodenow of Los Angeles, Calif., who have been visiting relatives and friends here the past two weeks.

It had been four years since Mrs. Stevenson had been back and 23 years since Mrs. Goodenow had visited here. Mrs. Goodenow was Mable Farman, a sister of the late Mrs. John Baker and widow of the late Dr. Norman Goodenow of Goodell.

Seven of the eight children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Baker were present with their families. The youngest son, John D., and his wife of Sun Valley, Calif., were not present.

Two grandsons of the late J. D. Bakers who were not present were Duane Baker of Washington C. H., Ohio, and Curtis Baker of Kansas City, Kan. One great grandson, Donovan Baker, who is in service and stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas was unable to attend.

Relatives present from a distance, besides Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Goodenow, included: Mr. and Mrs. Max Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker of Walker, Minn. Mrs. Earl Kahl and children of Holstein, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman and Carol of Humboldt, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Baker and daughters of Grinnell, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baker, Jr., and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tice of Ames.

Other guests besides the immediate relatives from here were Mr. and Mrs. Cal Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Luick, Mrs. Jessie Bras, Leona and Friend Bras.

A short program followed the noon pot-luck dinner.

Besides the J. D. Baker children mentioned above—Max Baker, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Hoffman — those participating in the courtesy, with their families, were Mrs. William (Frances) Vestweber of Rowan, Guy, Glenn and Ralph Baker of Belmond.

Camp Fire Sale Of Candy Starts

Annual candy sale of the Belmond Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds was to get underway today, with free or half-expense paid periods at Camp Hantesa as the reward in prospect for the top salesmen. All girls who sell 10 or more boxes will be eligible to attend the annual Candy Party at Des Moines in January.

Last year the Camp Fire Girls sold over one thousand boxes of candy. This year, 960 boxes of Johnson's fancy chocolates have been ordered. They sell at the regular price of $1.00. Of this amount, seven cents goes to the local Camp Fire council and the same amount goes toward the camp expenses of the girl making a sale, if she attends Camp Hantesa for a period next summer.

Last year, two Belmond girls sold 100 or more boxes and thereby earned expense-free periods at camp; they were Karen Swenson and Donna Griffin. Selling 50 or more nets a girl half of her camp costs; Vicki Pals easily met this qualification by selling 75. A total of 48 girls earned the right to attend the Candy Party. Unfortunately, bad weather made it necessary to hold a local party instead of taking the group to Des Moines.

About 70 girls will be selling Camp Fire candy this year, representing the membership of three Camp Fire groups and one Bluebird group.

Wright County Gravy Train

Private Firms are hired for County Law Business at Taxpayer expense. Is the County Attorney that busy? Here is the record:

In ten year period, September, 1946 to September, 1956, eight cases were tried. Trials resulted in five convictions, three failures. Average 62½%.

This Fall there has been much greater activity. Three cases tried so far. All have resulted in failures to convict. One of the cases is being retried at this writing. Fall record either All Failures or three failures out of 4 trials depending on outcome of case being tried.

NOTE: ONLY ONE ACTIVE PERIOD IN OVER 10 YEARS.

I reformed the procedure of the Employment Security Commission by my victory over Commission in Supreme Court. I feel I could reform the County Attorney Office NOT because I am more capable than others, but because I have a new aprpoach and terrific incentive.

REASONS Why the People of Wright County Should Elect Marion Robinson as State Representative on the DEMOCRATIC TICKET

1. Born and raised on a farm in Wright County and is still engaged in farming. He understands farm needs and problems from a practical point of view.
2. Father of four school age children and is vitally interested in maintaining and improving our schools.
3. Owns and operates a small manufacturing business in Holmes and understands problems of small business.
4. TAXES . . . Wright County has not been receiving its fair and just share of the State TAX DOLLAR. In the most recent years that figures are available, they show that Wright County only receives back 60% of the tax money that we send to Des Moines. Our 4 neighboring counties, Humboldt, Hancock, Hamilton and Franklin receive back 82%. These are not counties in southern Iowa but are counties adjoining our own. Their tax problems are very similar to our own. MARION ROBINSON has pledged the people of Wright County to do everything possible to get a more equitable share of OUR tax dollar back to operate our own school systems, build our own roads, etc. The above figures were obtained from the Iowa State tax commission.
5. Marion Robinson will work for and support any legislation that is beneficial to the people of Wright County.

Corn Picked Up By Church Group

A group of young people from the Reformed church last Saturday as a fund-raising project picked up fallen corn on a 40-acre field at the Dell Friesleben farm and on 15 acres at Carl Barkema's farm. By 4:00 p. m. they had gathered nearly 100 bushels.

Four wagons and tractors were used. Louie Dirksen directed the work group. Dinner was served by the mothers of the boys and girls in the basement of the church after their chore was completed.

BLUEBIRDS 4-H CLUB

October meeting of the Alexander Bluebirds 4-H club was held at the home of Delorus Hopkey, with 14 members, three leaders and eight visitors present. New officers for the coming year were installed.

The club voted to accept an invitation to a square dance that was to be held at Franklin Consolidated school on Oct. 26. Members were also invited to attend the Community Methodist church on 4-H Sunday, Nov. 4.

Sewing is to be the club's project this year, so plans were discussed by the girls as to what they are to make. It was Mrs. Hopkey's birthday, and the club recognized the occasion by singing "Happy Birthday." Lunch was served by the hostess.

The Bluebirds, their mothers and leaders recently enjoyed a day touring points of interest in Mason City. They went through Decker's packing plant and the Sweetheart bakery, then had lunch at the Town House.

In the afternoon they visited the State Brand creamery and brick and tile plant and then viewed the televising of the Super Valu show over KGLO-TV. A movie in the evening completed the day's outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Aldinger visited in the Earl Kotz home at Mason City Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Heitland and Mrs. Klaas Steenbard of Thornton and Mrs. Louise Oltman of Sheffield were Monday dinner guests in the Dick Schmidt home and afternoon visitors in the Otto Ostendorf home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ostendorf and daughter of Rockwell City were Saturday evening visitors in the Otto Ostendorf home.

AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE STATE OF IOWA TO BECOME INDEBTED IN THE AMOUNT OF TWENTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS ($26,000,000) AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUE AND SALE OF BONDS OF SAID STATE IN EVIDENCE THEREOF, TO PROCURE FUNDS FOR ANY PAY SERVICE COMPENSATION TO PERSONS WHO SERVED IN THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES AT ANY TIME BETWEEN THE TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1950, AND THE TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF JULY, 1953, BOTH INCLUSIVE OR THEIR SUCCESSORS IN INTEREST, PROVIDING FOR A BOARD TO ADMINISTER SUCH PAYMENTS, PROVIDING FOR THE IMPOSITION, LEVY AND COLLECTION OF A DIRECT ANNUAL TAX SUFFICIENT TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON SAID BONDS, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ACT; PROVIDING FOR THE APPLICATION OF ANY SURPLUS TO THE RETIREMENT OF THE INDEBTEDNESS HEREIN CREATED; AND PROVIDING FOR SUBMISSION OF THIS ACT TO THE PEOPLE TO BE VOTED UPON AT THE GENERAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE YEAR 1956.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA:

Section 1. The state of Iowa is hereby authorized to become indebted in the amount of twenty-six million dollars ($26,000,000) and in evidence thereof there shall be issued and sold negotiable coupon bonds of said state as hereinafter provided, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the treasury of the state to be expended for the payment of service compensation to the persons defined in section four (4) of this act, or for the benefit of such persons as prescribed by section four (4) of this act, and for expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. The treausrer of the state is hereby directed to cause to be prepared negotiable coupon bonds of this state in the amount of twenty-six million dollars ($26,000,000), such bonds to bear interest at the rate of not to exceed two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum which interest shall be paid semi-annually, such bonds shall be issued so that said indebtedness shall be payable in twenty (20) equal annual installments, the last of which shall be within twenty (20) years from the date of issue, bonds to be callable in numerical order on six (6) months notice at one hundred one and one-half percent (101½%) of the par value. Said bonds shall be signed by the governor under the great seal of said state, attested by the secretary of state and countersigned by the treasurer of state, and the full faith, credit and resources of the state of Iowa shall be pledged for the payment thereof. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the lithographed facsimile signatures of said officials. The treasurer of state shall sell said bonds to obtain funds to carry out the provisions of this act, and to make the payments hereinafter provided, such bonds shall be sold at not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest thereon to the highest and most responsible bidder after advertising for a period of twenty (20) consecutive days, Sundays excepted, in at least two (2) daily newspapers printed in the state of Iowa. Advertisements of sale shall recite that the treasurer of state, in his discretion, may reject any or all bids received and, in such event, he shall readvertise for bids in the form and manner above described as many times as in his judgment may be necessary to effect a satisfactory sale. If any of said bonds are not presented for payment within ten (10) years after maturity they shall be barred.

Sec. 3. The proceeds of such bonds so paid into the treasury of state shall constitute a service compensation fund and shall be distributed to the persons entitled thereto as hereinafter prescribed. Said twenty-six million dollars ($26,000,000) is hereby appropriated out of said service compensation fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Sec. 4. Every person, male or female, who served on active duty, in the armed forces of the United States, at any time between June twenty-seventh, 1950 and July twenty-seventh, 1953, both dates inclusive, and who at the time of entering into such service was a legal resident of the state of Iowa, and who had maintained such residence for a period of at least six (6) months immediately prior thereto, and was honorably separated or discharged from such service, or is still in active service in an honorable status, or has been retired, or has been furloughed to a reserve, or has been placed on inactive status, shall be entitled to receive from the service compensation fund ten dollars ($10.00) for each month that such person was in active domestic service, and twelve and one-half dollars ($12.50) for each month that such person was in active foreign service, all prior to July 27, 1953, not to exceed a total sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00), provided that such person served for a period of not less than one hundred twenty (120) days prior to November 25, 1953. Compensation for a fraction of a month shall not be considered unless it be sixteen days or more in which event it shall be computed as a full month. No person shall be entitled to such compensation who received a bonus or compensation of like nature, as provided in this act, from another state. No person shall be entitled to such compensation who being in the service of the armed forces of the United States, subsequent to June twenty-six, 1950 refused on conscientious, political, religious, or other grounds to subject himself or herself to military discipline. Service in the merchant marine shall not be considered for the purposes of this act. The surviving unremarried widow or widower, child or children, mother, father, or person standing in loco parentis, in the order named and none other, of any deceased person, shall be paid the compensation that such deceased person would be entitled to under this act, if living; but, if any person has heretofore died or shall hereafter die, from service-connected causes incurred between June twenty-seven, 1950 and July twenty-seven, 1953, both dates inclusive, and who has not received the benefits of this Act, the first of survivors as hereinbefore designated and in the order named, shall be paid five hundred dollars ($500.00), regardless of the length of such service, and provided further that if such eligible beneficiary is a minor at the time such compensation is payable, same may be paid to a custodian duly recognized by United States Veterans Administrration.

Sec. 5. Active duty in the armed forces of the United States shall include all time for which credit is received in the computation of terminal leave, including such leave time as provided for by federal statutes, including Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, and attendance at an armed forces school including such schools conducted at a college, university, or similar institution of learning but excluding any period he was assigned by the armed forces to a civilian institution for a course of education or training which was substantially the same as established courses offered to civilians, or as a cadet or midshipman, however enrolled, at one of the service academies.

Sec. 6. There is hereby created a board to be known as the "Service Compensation Board" to consist of the state auditor, state treasurer, and the adjutant general. The board shall maintain its office at the seat of government in Des Moines, Iowa.

Sec. 7. Duties. It shall be the duty of the said board to administer the provisions of this act, to examine all applications and approve or disapprove the same and make any investigation necessary to establish facts. In the event an application is disapproved by the board, the claimant shall have the right of appeal to the district court of the state of Iowa in and for the county of his legal residence within a period of thirty days from date of mailing by registered mail of notice of such disapproval. The appeal shall be perfected by filing in the office of the board, a written notice of appeal setting forth the order or finding appealed from and the grounds of the appeal. Within thirty (30) days after the filing of such notice of appeal the board shall make, certify and file in the office of the clerk of the district court to which the appeal is taken, a full and complete transcript of all documents in the proceeding, including any depositions, a transcript or certification of the evidence, if reported, including the notice of appeal. The clerk shall forthwith docket such appeal. The appeal shall be heard in such district court as in equity de novo. Appeal may be taken to the supreme court from any final order or judgment or decree of the district court. When any application has been approved by the board, payment shall be made to the applicant in accordance with the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the board to prepare vouchers and transmit the same to the state comptroller in payment of the bonus claims provided for herein and other necessary administrative expenses; said state comptroller shall issue a warrant for the amount stated therein and the state treasurer shall pay such warrants out of said bonus fund. The board is hereby empowered to employ such assistants and incur such other expenses as may be necessary for such administration and carrying out of the provisions of this act, and the funds necessary for such administration and carrying out the provisions of this act shall be expended from said compensation fund; such assistants as said board may determine shall give bond in such amount as may be fixed by said board, and shall, whenever practicable, be persons within the classes as defined in section four (4) of this act. The board is hereby empowered to make, adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations for the carrying out of the provisions of this act as it deems necessary and expedient and which are not inconsistent with any provisions of this act.

Sec. 8. Before receiving any compensation under the provisions of this act, the claimant, or his successor in interest, shall file with the service compensation board, application on forms provided by said board; such application must be so filed on or before December 31, 1960. Such application shall state facts sufficient to establish the status of such applicant within a class as defined in section four (4) of this act, and shall be duly verified.

Sec. 9. Whoever knowingly makes a false statement, oral or written, relating to a material fact in supporting a claim under the provisions of this act, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, and shall forfeit all benefits he or she might have been entitled to under this act.

Sec. 10. All payments and allowances made under this act shall be exempt from taxation and from levy and sale on execution and all bonds issued hereunder shall be exempt from taxation.

Sec. 11. To provide for the payment of the principal of said bonds so issued and sold and the interest thereon as the same become due and mature, there is hereby imposed and levied upon moneys and credits and other intangible personal property subject to taxation at other than the general property rate direct annual tax of one (1) mill upon the dollar, which shall be additional to all other taxes levied upon such intangible personal property, any other provisions of the Code notwithstanding, for each of the years said bonds are outstanding. There is also hereby imposed and levied upon all other taxable property within the state of Iowa, in addition to all other taxes, a direct annual tax for each of the years said bonds are outstanding, sufficient in amount, together with the receipts from the tax imposed upon moneys and credits and other intangible personal property, for the payment of principal of said bonds as it shall become due, and sufficient in amount to produce additional sums as may be needed to pay the interest on said bonds each year for twenty (20) years. The one (1) mill tax upon moneys and credits and other intangible personal property shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes upon money and credits and intangible personal property and shall be remitted to the treasurer of state and applied to the payment of the principal and interest of the soldiers' bonus bonds. The treasurer of state shall annually certify to the state tax commission prior to the time for levy of general state taxes the amount of money required to be raised to pay the principal and interest on such bonds maturing in the ensuing year, and said state tax commission shall annually fix the rate percentum necessary to be levied and assessed upon the valuation of the taxable property within this state to produce funds sufficient to pay the principal of and interest upon such bonds as the same become payable, taking into consideration the receipts to be derived from the one (1) mill tax imposed upon moneys and credits and other intangible personal property, and such additional annual direct tax shall be levied, certified, assessed and collected at the same time and in the same manner as are taxes for general state purposes. If any funds remain after the final payment of all legal claims and expenses, they shall be transferred to the general fund of the state of Iowa.

Sec. 12. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of the act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment has been rendered.

Sec. 13. This law, after legal publication shall be submitted to the people of this state at the general election to be held in November, nineteen hundred fifty-six, and shall not take effect unless at such election it shall receive a majority of all votes cast for and against it. Separate ballots shall be provided for the electors which shall be in substantially the following form:

(Notice to voters: For an affirmative vote upon any question submitted upon this ballot, mark a cross mark in the square after the word "Yes". For a negative vote, mark a similar mark in the square following the word "No".)

"Shall the following public measure, being an act of the 56th General Assembly, be adopted and approved?"

Yes ( )

(Here insert in full this law)

No ( )

Sec. 14. This Act shall take effect immediately upon its adoption and approval at such election.

DO YOU WANT THE RIGHT TO GRIPE? EARN IT BY VOTING NEXT TUESDAY!

Bear this in mind, you good people who like to coach and quarterback from the curbstone. When you're paying taxes to help hire the coach, perhaps you have a proprietary interest to some degree and thereby gain an inherent privilege to second-guess the mentor and the team. The coach and players might argue the point; but at least you've got a "right" of sorts to stand up for. You "belong" to the school district.

But just paying taxes doesn't give you a right in the world to critize a federal, state or county administration that YOU didn't help put in power—or try to keep out of office. So if you want the privilege of bellyaching, earn it by paying a visit to the polls next Tuesday. . . . As the man says, "Vote as you wish—but VOTE!"

HOEGH AND DOLLIVER DESERVE YOUR VOTE ON THEIR EXPERIENCE, RECORD

Two contests that next Tuesday's election will decide give The Independent particular concern. We have faith—which we devoutly hope is not misplaced—that the American people will demonstrate their confidence in President Eisenhower by awarding him the second term that he deserves to further implement the policies and principles he has fought for But on the state level, there promises to be stern opposition against the re-election of two officials whom we regard by all all odds to have ability to offer than far surpasses that of their rivals.

It's our completely honest opinion that Iowa would be making a horrible mistake to place a man of the calibre of Herschel Loveless in the governor's chair. Despite the prominence he has attained as an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for major offices, he has actually held only two governmental positions. He was briefly superintendent of streets at Ottumwa; and he served two terms as mayor of that community.

Charges of gross mismanagement of municipal affairs during the time that he headed the Ottumwa city government have been prominently aired. Is it not significant that Mr. Loveless has had no rebuttal to offer? And does it not seem likely that a man incompetent to direct the administration of a city of 33,000 is hardly a logical candidate to head the government of a state with over 2½ million population?

Another thing we don't like about the Democratic gubernatorial candidate is the widely recognized fact that he's the "front" for Iowa's professional labor leaders. This backing hasn't been openly acknowledged; and possibly it's unknown among much of the rank and file of the state's honest working people who are organized to protect and enhance their personal interests. These labor leaders have turned the key that made accessible to Mr. Loveless a great share of the funds needed to carry on his campaign. And they aren't being so (silently) helpful for nothing.

Des Moines has lately had a labor-dominated government (specifically, with labor LEADERS calling the tune). Frankly, we'd certainly hate to see the Des Moines "experiment" extend to the state level!

Opposed to the dubious background and financial sponsorship of Loveless, Governer Hoegh's accomplishments — in road-building, increased money for schools, attracting industry to Iowa, and in numerous other regards—are indeed impressive. Furthermore, in his first term Leo Hoegh's administration has been characterized by forth rightness, sincerity, objectiveness and integrity. The choice between these two gubernatorial candidates should be crystal clear!

For vastly different reasons, we believe the choice between the two candidates for Congressman from the Sixth Iowa District should be equally easy to make.

No one can rightfully question the sincerity or good intentions of Rev. Martin Coad, the 32-year-old Boone minister who is attempting to try his political wings in the relatively rarified atmosphere of the U. S. House of Representatives.

Mr. Coad has never held a political office nor been active in public life. His adult experience has been confined largely to the ministry of two churches. Certainly no responsible citizen should be discouraged from seeking public office; but there is no substitute for practical experience insofar as effectively filling a Congressional post is concerned.

In contrast to his opponent, James I. Dolliver has served with distinction in the House for 12 years. Before that, he held the office of Webster county attorney, served on the Fort Dodge school board, was a leader in Veterans' affairs—including being state commander of the American Legion. In six terms in his present office, Mr. Dolliver has gained invaluable experience and knowledge which will be most helpful in meeting the serious problems which lie ahead for the district, state and nation.

Mr. Coad is to be commended for the worthy motives that unquestionably prompted his candidacy. But Mr Dolliver shold be RE-ELECTED on the grounds of his immeasurably greater experience and proven record.

Dear Sir:

It is estimated that more than 50 million voters will not bother to go to the polls to vote Nov. 6, as they say there is no difference between the two major parties. They are right that there IS no difference in the foreign policy of these parties.

But it is no longer necessary for Iowans to stay home. We have the American Constitution Party on the ballot. T. Coleman Andrews, a Democrat from Richmond, Va., and director of internal revenue under Eisenhower until October of 1955, when he resigned in protest against the unfair tax system, is the party's presidential candidate.

Thomas H. Werdell, a former Republican Congressman from Bakersfield, Calif., and who has led many a campaign against Communism, is the vice presidential candidate.

Conservatives on Nov. 6 will ignore the circles at the top of the ballot and place a cross in front of the names of these two men, then switch to other party tickets and place crosses before the names of candidates below these men.

Let's compare the new party policy with the Democratic-Republican policy The Constitution Party stands for — Patriotic Nationalism, No Foreign Give-Aways, States' Rights, Free Enterprise, American Independence. The Democratic-Republican policy is—Internationalism, Unlimited Foreign Aid, More Central Government, Government Interference, and Letting UN Run Government Affairs.

The Constitution or States Rights Party ticket is on the ballot in 14 states, including Iowa, all having the same two candidates. Only four of these are northern states, so no doubt more Democrat than Republican votes will be picked up by the conservatives.

There are nine states that do not permit write-in votes and their laws make it difficult for a new party to get on the ballot. In 14 states, write-ins are permitted. In California and extensive write-in campaign is planned.

Don't stay home on Election Day. Vote.

The hard-fighting Gaels of St. Edmund, Fort Dodge, last Friday night outdowned the Belmond Broncos 12 to 7; they held possession of the ball 50 per cent more of the time than the Purple and White, for 66 plays compared to 44; and were obliged to punt only three times, whereas Belmond had to boot five times. But the visitors went home with the short end of a 34-7 score.

Belmond reversed the script which a few weeks earlier had found the Broncos knocked off balance when early, Northwood outbursts sent the Vikings into a prompt and permanent lead. And in so doing, the Broncs gave their fans quite a ball game to watch!

Broncs Score on 2nd Play

On the second play that Belmond had the ball, Bill Murray raced off right tackle and — aided by crisp blocking, which was characteristic of the Broncs' offensive operations much of the evening — galloped 52 yards for a score without a Gael laying a hand on him. His conversion boot made it 7-0.

Hardly four minutes of the contest had elapsed when the Purple and White lightning struck again. This time it was the forward-lateral pass act of Jerry Chandler, Rollie Jenison and Dave Long that did the trick, covering a total of 62 yards. Again Murray placekicked the point and it was 14-0.

Quarter Score, 270

Only seconds of the first quarter remained as Belmond kicked off, Murray sending one into the end zone. On the next play, St. Edmond fumbled on its own 23 and Gary Ersland recovered. A pass from Jenison to Jon Mehus yielded touchdown No. 4 just as the period ended. This time Murray missed his extra point try for the only time during the evening.

It would have been understandable if the Gaels had been completely demoralized by this time; but they were far from it. Taking the kickoff at the start of the second stanza, St. Edmond marched from its 23 clear to Belmond's 20 before the Purple and White forward wall stiffened and held. Play remained in neutral territory the rest of the half. In this quarter, the Gaels had possession of the ball for 21 plays, the Broncs for six!

Aerial Act Tallies Again

Early in the third period St. Edmond found itself in trouble after Murray had lofted a 38-yard punt to the Gaels' 14 and a holding penalty put the ball just a yard shy of the end zone. St. Edmond got a kick out to the 45; but three plays later that Chandler-Jenison-Long forward-lateral act paid off with a 38-yard TD. Murray split the uprights and it was 34-0.

Coach Dick Hobbs, who'd been sprinkling in substitutes earlier, began to make wholesale use of reserves and the visitors had things pretty much their own way during the next 10 or 12 minutes. They started a drive from their own 29 midway in the last period that went clear to the Bronco 11 before Chandelr halted the march by recovering a St. Edmond fumble.

Courson, Obrecht Scamper

Belmond reeled off 49 yards in four plays — Courson going for 16 and DaDean Obrecht for 20 — but then got called for a roughness pena ty and the 15-yard penalty seemed to put the Broncos out of gear. A short punt gave the Gaels the ball on their 31 and a Belmond offside advanced it to the 36. After one pass attempt failed, Jim Kern connected with Ron Oberbroeckling on an aerial that yielded 64 yards and the visitors' lone tally. Kern kicked the point that fixed the final score at 34-7.

St. Edmond attempted an onside kick on the kickoff that gave Belmond the ball on its own 44. Jon Mehus dropped a pass from Jenison when tackled hard by Jon Cook, then a Chandler-Jenison toss was good for 11 and one from Jenison to Courson added 24 more. Courson skirted left end for six, to the Gaels' 15, as the game ended.

Gaels Didn't Quit

All credit is due the visitors for making it a battle, after that dismal (for them) first quarter. Oberbroeckling was the Gaels' biggest gun, offensively, with Line-Backer Cook, Guard John O'Brien and Tackles Bob Brabbit and Mike Yetmar their best defenders.

Leonard Steenblock turned in his usualy sparkling performance in the Bronco line. Steve McLaughlin and Ersland were outstanding, also. As a tackle replacement, Bob Kurtz did some excellent work. All the backfield regulars performed capably, while Courson and Obrecht demonstrated that Belmond should still have plenty of offensive punch next season.

Steenblock and McLaughlin both suffered leg injuries that seemed likely to keep them sidelined most, if not all, of last night's game with Twin Rivers to get them back in condition for the season-finisher with Clarion.

BHS Cagers Have 17 Tilts on Slate

Belmond High school's basketball card for the 1956-57 season was released this week, showing a total of 17 games and one "new" foe who has not appeared on the Bronco schedule for a number of years. Clear Lake is the added foe. Belmond has not met the Lions since they used to be members of the North Iowa conference.

Otherwise, the Broncos face the same teams they did last season, when just 16 games were slated. Eagle Grove and Algona will appear on the local floor, as will Clear Lake in its clash with the Purple and White. Clarion and Holy Family of Mason City play host to the Broncos.

Home-and-home contests with each of the six other NIC teams will complete the Belmond schedule.

When Coach Dick Hobbs issues his first call for practice, he'll have five lettermen reporting as nucleus of his squad. They are Jerry Chandler and Larry Schimp, who'll both be playing varsity ball for the third season; Dave Long, Bill Murray and Larry Kinseth.

Top contenders for varsity berths from last season's froshmore squad will be Tom McNulty, DaDean Obrecht, Bill Kaufman, Jon Mehus and Ron Courson.

Following is the 1956-57 schedule.

Nov. 20—Algona, here.
Nov. 27—Eagle Grove, here.
Nov. 30—Britt, there.
Dec. 4—Northwood, here.
Dec. 7—Lake Mills, there.

Feb. 22—Clear Lake, here.
Feb. 25-28—Sectional tournament.
March 11-16—District tournament.

Game at Clarion Friday, Nov. 9th

Supt. Don Faris calls attention to the fact that the date of the Clarion-Belmond football game at Clarion has been changed from that which appeared originally on the Bronco schedule.

It was thought, when the schedule was drafted, that the state teachers convention was to be the weekend of Nov. 8-10, and consequently the game with the Cowboys was slated for Wednesday, Nov. 7.

Subsequently it was learned that the teachers convention was to be held a week earlier (this weekend) and the Clarion game was changed to Friday night, Nov. 9.

So the Broncos will be endeavoring to tthrow the Cowpokes on Friday of next week, not on Wednesday.

Oscar Shaw of Rowan and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shaw of Eagle Grove were Sunday afternoon callers in the Oscar Nelson home.

GAMES THIS WEEK

Forest City at Lake Mills
Britt at Garnar
Ventura at Buffalo Center
Clarion at Eagle Grove

Northwood finished its North Iowa conference card last Friday night with an unexpected 14-13 upset of Forest City that left the way open for the Vikings to salvage a share of the title they held last season — IF the F. C. Indians can pull an upset of their own this week.

The Indians have the last chance to put a blot on Lake Mills' record. But with the Bulldogs playing at home, and having the championship in the balance whereas Forest City is now out of contention, Coach Wally Stittsworth's boys are certain to find Lake Mills really "up" for this one.

Forest City saw its chance for a piece of the championship go aglimmering when penalties twice did the Inians out of TD's in their battle with Northwood.

Lake Mills, on the other hand, brought its point production for the last two weeks up to 97 points by lacing Garner 59-0 after trouncing Britt 38-0 a week earlier.

Finishing off the NIC card of the year, Britt and Garner tangle in a battle of the cellar-dwellers to see who is going to be sole occupant of the basement. If Britt's Dave Rasmusson has recovered from his ankle sprain of a couple of weeks back, the Eagle seem the likliest to take the step up.

2 Losses End Jr. Bronc, Colt Cards

Belmond's froshmore and junior high elevens closed out their seasons last week at Forest City by absorbing a pair of defeats. The Junior Broncs were dumped 33 to 0 and the Colts took the short end of a 27-8 score.

Coach Jack Steinberg's froshmore aggregation was weakened by the absence of a couple of regulars due to sickness and also lost Bob Kurtz on an injury early in the game. The Junior Broncs threatened to score a couple of times, but couldn't get across the double-stripe.

Dennis Anderson tallied the Colts' lone counter and the junior high boys added a safety to bring their total to eight.

Despite the froshmore's very mediocre season, Coach Steinberg believes several players who will be advancing to the varsity ranks next fall will be serious contenders for first-string positions.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Quite a few local football fans have asked, just out of curiosity, how it came about that St. Edmond of Fort Dodge appeared on the Broncos' football card. Supt. Don Faris says that revamping of the North Central conference schedule was responsible. Belmond lost Hampton as a foe when this was done, because mutual open dates could not be found by the Broncs and Bulldogs (same thing happened to the rivalry between Forest City and Hampton).

St. Edmond, a newly organized school, is in only its second year of football. It's a Class I school and within a couple of more years will likely be meeting opponents of larger size than Belmond. But during the transition period, it was looking for some competition of North Iowa conference level and signed two-year contracts with both Belmond and Forest City.

The Fort Dodge school will possibly be on the Bronco schedule for only the two years. Twin Rivers was signed in similar fashion. The Broncs will be playing on the TR gridiron at Bode, next season. Mr. Faris is not the only NIC school administrator who regretted seeing competition with North Central elevens eliminated by the latter loop's altered schedule. Forest City found itself unable to continue gridiron rivaly with Clear Lake, as well as Hampton.

That Forest City game week before last was not only a success athletically speaking, but financially as well. Mr. Faris tells us that the "gate" was close to $650 — far above the average. To the best of his knowledge, it was surpassed only by a game with Clarion here three years ago. . . . Football is regularly a money losing proposition, locally. Don is hoping that more adequate seating facilities at the new field may cure the situation.

Last week Lake Mills hiked its vote total in the Iowa Prep Football Poll to its highest level to date (83), but nevertheless dropped one place in the Class II ratings, from 11th to 12th. This left the Bulldogs just three votes shy of a place in the first 10 — but a couple behind Manilla, which drew 85 votes.

Belmond's solid win over Forest City netted the Broncos four more votes than their previous week's 34 and enabled them to climb from 34th to 29th place. Northwood's unimpressive victory over Buffalo Center caused the Vikings to lose further ground; they got three less votes than their previous 33 and dropped from a tie for 35th to a share of 37th place in the Class II rankings.

It's interesting to note that as the season progresses, more and more coaches and officials are returing poll ballots. Total votes cast are currently running ever so much higher than at the outset of the season; thanks to the more successful coaches drumming up support for their particular teams, no doubt.

—Sports writers of the North Iowa conference were tentatively planning last weekand to gather for their annual all-conference selection bee at Forest City tomorrow night. Your scribe is looking forward to the get-together with much more anticipation this year than a year ago.

With the host of good ball-carriers in the loop this season, it may be tough to get top recognition for any of the Bronco backs — but when the subject of line play comes up, Yours Truly is going to have plenty to talk about.

Against five NIC foes (omitting Northwood), Belmond held the opposition to an average of only 80 yards per game on running plays! Those few, long runs of the Vikings made the average against all six loop rivals a bit less impessive; but it was still only 117 yards. That's DEFENSE!

On the other hand, Belmond averaged better than 200 yards per game on ground gains against conference opposition. Passing was pretty much of a break-even proposition. Their six North Iowa foes made 329. yards in the air against the Broncs. Belmond made exactly the same total in its first five NIC tilts. The Broncos added only 11 more yards in the Forest City game, hitting one out of three tries. In that one, they didn't HAVE to pass.

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

If the Rev. Merwin Coad of Boone does as well at the collection plate as he did in receiving contributions toward his campaign to unseat U. S. Rep. Jim Dolliver, his church must be uniquely devoid of financial worries. The young clergyman has reported to the Clerk of the House at Washington, D. C., that donations to aid him in carrying on his campaign came to $5,688.23.

That was $3,353.23 more than his opponent spent from contributions. It was more than twice as much spent by any other Iowa Congressional candidate, in fact — Republican or Democratic.

We doubt that all this money flowed into the Coad campaign coffers simply due to respect for his profession (and sympathy for the proverbially modest income of a minister). He held still another distinction among the congressional candidates. Unquestionably he was the hardest-working in the bunch. That fellow covered enough geographical territory for FIVE men!

With red faces, we pass on a request we were asked to print last week. The American Legion Auxiliary wants names of local servicemen, AND their addresses, so they may be sent Christmas boxes. Time is fleeting, so phone the information promptly to either Mrs. Paul Couchman (8511) or Mrs. Chris Wagner (465). Overseas boxes should be on their way next week, so . . .

Yes, those fire extinguishers sold last fall by the Belmond Future Farmers were the same as prompted the big hullabaloo in last Sunday's Des Moines Register. A lot of purchasers (about 200 were sold in and around Belmond) have been wondering. And many were frightened by all the ruckus. The gadgets are not so completely bad as they were made out, though. They can be used without danger inside if a thorough airing follows their use.

Keith Royer, chief instructor of firemanship training at Iowa State college, was quoted as saying, "Anyone buying a fire extinguisher should buy one bearing the label of the Underwriter Laboratories." . . . Fact of the matter is, innumerable, widely-sold extinguishers so labeled (including the familiar Pyrene brand) contain 25 per cent carbon tetrachloride!

This is the fluid that the squirtcan extinguishers contain that caused all the hubbub. They SHOULD, FFA Advisor Francis Kelly readily acknowledges, be kept where children can't experiment with them. And if used indoors, the room SHOULD be thoroughly ventilated afterward (smoke would undoubtedly prompt this, anyway). Fire Chief "Doc" Johnson adds that carbon dioxide and sodium-type extinguishers are preferable, but much more expensive. However, the cans will serve their described purpose — and safely if used sensibly.

After looking in on the Jaycee's Halloween party for grade-schoolers Tuesday night of last week at BHS gymnasium, your Independent photographer decided two things: (1) it requires the grit and resiliency of youth—which those Jaycees have—to tackle a wingding like that two years in a row (whew!); and (2) a press camera is the wrong kind of photographic equipment with which to try to capture the action. A movie camera would have been more to the point. Such energy those kids have!

Get out those pans, and fill up; and DON'T plan on doing laundry Friday afternoon. Water Supt. Glen Eccles says the city water supply will be shut off tomorrow (Friday) at approximately 1:00 p. m. while the fire hydrant located on the site of the new D-X service station on Highway 69 at 1st street is moved.

Glen says the job may take only half an hour. Then again, if unexpected complications arise, the taps may be dry for two or three hours.

He's keeping his fingers crossed and hopes that the half-hour estimate will hold good. If bad weather should make it necessary to postpone the job, the water department will aim to get it done Monday starting at the same hour. . . . Just stack those lunchtime dishes and take a nap, ladies.

We note in the state conservation commission's report on deer killed so far this season by archers that one was taken in Hancock county by a bowman from Forest City, Robert Bungam. We're pointing this out for the special benefit of Coach Dick Hobbs, to inform him what's being done by bow-and-arrow experts of this vicinity. Dick is a very competent archer and has done well in north Iowa meets; he's also an avid sportsman. . . . How about some venison for the pot, boy?

IEL&P COMPLETES IMPROVEMENTS IN GAS LINES AT $11,000 COST

Improvements Iowa Electric Light and Power company has made in the natural gas lines into Belmond, which were completed recently, will increase their delivery capacity to meet any volume demand in the foreseeable future, according to Manager Cecil Carstens.

He adds that a new odorizer system was also installed that will provide a greater margin of safety for local users than they have enjoyed in the past. While the previous system was "safe," Mr. Carstens says the new one is "super safe."

Northern Natural Gas company installed at its station west of town a larger outlet to feed gas to Belmond users, which permits the town to be serviced by dual, four-inch feeder lines instead of a single one, as in the past.

Addition of the new line provides a safeguard against interruption of service in case a break or other trouble should develop in one of the lines. It also makes certain that pressure can be kept up to a satisfactory level during winter's coldest weather, whereas delivery capacity was pushed to the limit during the most severe cold snaps last winter, Mr. Carstens explains.

Speaking of the new odorizer equipment, he added that the expense of the odorant almost approaches that of popular brands of perfume. It is purchased in 55-gallon drums that cost $500 each. The new equipment has an odorant capacity of 80 gallons, compared to the old's 10-gallon capacity.

The new system also differs from the old in that the odorant is released into the natural gas in gaseous form. The old was "dribbled" into the gas, drop by drop. The new odorant is much more concentrated and gives the gas a smell that is much stronger and more penetrating than the former odorant produced.

Mr. Carstens says the new system will have the advantage of indicating much more quickly the fact that a valve has been left partly open or that a leak of any other nature exists. Total cost of the new odorizer system and expanding the line's delivery capacity ran to nearly $11,000, the local IEL&P manager stated.

Sign-up for Junior Band Totals Thirty

Band Director John Duncan was highly pleased with the interest demonstrated in organization of a junior band, which resulted in 31 fifth and sixth grade youngsters signing up for the beginners class. He says that, insofar as he can learn, this is the largest enrollment from the lower grade level that the Belmond instrumental music department has ever had.

Director Duncan says no more junior band students will be accepted until another beginners class is organized next spring.

FEWER ABSENT VOTERS

County Auditor Myron Price reports that, despite the high level of interest in Tuesday's general election, the demand for absentee voters' ballots this year ran well behind that of 1952. Absent voter ballots were cast by 336 persons, compared to 499 four years ago. Of the latter number, 118 were in the armed forces.

3 Adjacent Twps. To Pick Extension Council Directors

Terms on the Wright County Extension Council will expire for members from eight townships next month, and election meetings in these townships are to be held in the near future to vote upon their successors. Included among the townships that will hold elections are three in the Belmond vicinity, Belmond, Norway and Iowa townships.

Belmond and Norway townships will both hold their elections on Nov. 19, the former at the home of Garfield Halverson, Jr., and the latter at the community club building at Norway Center school. Each is scheduled for 8:00 p. m. Iowa township's election will not be held until December, upon a date yet to be announced.

Nominating committees have been appointed to choose at least two candidates for council member from their respective townships. In the three adjacent townships members of these committees are: Belmond — Garfield "Gus" Halverson, Jr., Steven Hinman and Loren Bamford; Norway — Mrs. Herman Christians, Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Art Rietema: Iowa's committee has not yet been announced.

In each township, a chairman and secretary are being selected, also, to handle the elections. In Belmond township these positions are being filled by C. A. Didio and Ralph Christie, respectively; and in Norway by John Rietema and Mrs. Abner Toftey. Iowa's election officials are as yet unnamed.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

A bake sale will be conducted at the Tip Top grocery Saturday by the Ladies Aid of the Immanuel Reformed church. Selling will start at 10:00 a.m.

Chest Apparently Falling Far Short Of Goal for 1956

After five years of annual success in reaching and surpassing its campaign goal, it currently appears that the Belmond Community Chest may fall short by quite a margin in its 1956 endeavor to raise a fund of $4,900. This was the report of Tom Burdsal, campaign manager, the middle of this week.

He stated that only $3,100 had at that time been turned in by solicitors. While enough workers had still not reported to raise the total by perhaps $500 or $600, Mr. Burdsal confessed that the likelihood of reaching this year's goal seemed very dim.

This year's fund objective was the same as last year's. In 1955 the goal was $1,000 more than the previous year, due to inclusion of the Red Cross among the affiliates. But last year, as in the four previous years since the Chest's establishment, the needed amount was raised with a little margin to spare.

If the Chest Council finds it necessary to pro rate appropriations to the affiliated agencies, they will automatically have the right to conduct individual drives to supplement the amounts received from the Chest. While not all might exercise this prerogative, it can be expected that several — the Boy Scouts and Red Cross among them — will utilize that privilege.

Mr. Burdsal says that the response to canvassing in the residential area, where families not contacted through business or professional connections are seen, was especially poor this year.

He asks all workers who have not completed their solicitations to do so as promptly as possible; and also urges any persons who were overlooked to turn their contributions in at the First State bank so the probable deficit can be reduced to a minimum

Officers Elected By Concert Band

Conclusion of the home football season on Wednesday of last week brought to an end the BHS band's fall organization as a marching unit and on Thursday the musicians held their first practice as a concert group.

Election was held by the concert band, with the following being voted into office: Paul Nassen, president; DaDean Obrecht, vice president; Shirley Pals, secretary; Wilma Pruisman, treasurer; Joan Kriens, reporter; and Kathy Dorr, sergeant-at-arms. The staff of officers will serve as a discipline cabinet and advisory board, in addition to each officer fulfilling his or her personal duties.

All of the officers are veteran members of the band except Miss Dorr, who for the first year will be playing the tympani or kettle drums. The others' instruments are as follows: Paul Nassen, baritone horn; DaDean Obrecht, trumpet; Shirley Pals and Joan Kriens, flute; Wilma Pruisman, clarinet.

TURKEY SUPPER TONIGHT

Martha and Esther circles of the Methodist church will serve a turkey supper at the church parlors this (Thursday) evening. Separate settings will be served starting at 5:00, 5:45, 6:30, 7:15 and 8:00 p. m.

Leroy Green, Son Badly Injured in Gas Explosion

Leroy Green, who is in charge of maintenance at the General Mills Larro feed plant, and his nine-year-old son Paul were severely burned Sunday about 4:30 p. m. by an explosion of gas in the basement of the Green home. Both are at Belmond Community hospital and, while reported Wednesday morning to be holding their own, face long periods of recuperation.

During the two days following their injury, Mr. Green had to be given blood transfusions five times and his son twice. On Tuesday a plasma substitute was ordered by their physician to replace blood for further transfusions. Their doctor said that both victims suffered second and third degree burns over about 30 per cent of the area of their bodies.

Their burns were mainly confined to their upper bodies. Mr. Green was wearing a work shirt and the boy a jacket and cap, but the tremendous heat of the explosion nevertheless burned deeply. Paul apparently ducked at the first sound of the explosion, separating his jacket from his trouser top and permitting the flames access to his back.

The explosion apparently centered in Mr. Green's basement workshop. He had been doing some work with his son on an article needed for a Cub Scout project. He'd stepped out the shop door for something and paused to light a cigaret, the match flame igniting gas that seemingly had accumulated in the shop.

For several days the Greens had thought they detected the odor of gas and on Friday had investigated the premises for a leak. They had returned from a trip to the country to visit relatives Sunday afternoon just before the mishap occurred. Leroy told his wife after the blast that the presence of gas had been noticeable enough in the cellar that the very instant he lit the match he thought it had been a mistake.

Sawdust on the workbench of the shop was burned by the explosion, the plastic handle of a screwdriver was completely melted and the rafters and door of the shop were scorched, as were the clothes the father and son were wearing.

On Monday, the Green residence was carefully inspected by officials of the Iowa Electric Light and Power company. In the party, directed by Manager Cecil Carstens of the local office, were: Al Pfeffer, gas supervisor out of IEL&P's general office at Cedar Rapids; Ted Lewis of the legal department, also of Cedar Rapids; and Len Brogan, district operations manager, Iowa Falls.

They found an underground break in the lead-in pipe that carried gas to the house, but believed it was probably caused when the house was raised by the explosion. The whole building was lifted from its foundation and the sill sealer blown from between the foundation and upper walls.

An underground electrical lead into the workshop had been installed not long ago, and the IEL&P officials thought gas possibly could have been introduced into the workshop via the conduit through the foundation if there was an outside leak.

The Greens' physician's latest word to The Independent before press time was that the condition of both father and son was improved over what it had been the first two days following the accident. Both will have to undergo an extensive amount of skin-grafting, the doctor said, and it will be a couple of weeks before this phase of their treatment can be started.

Christopher Case Decided by Jury

Members of the jury were drawn and counsel for both the plaintiff and defendant completed their testimony Monday in the case of Albert W. Christopher et al vs. Wright County. The case was an appeal from a condemnation award to the county supervisor from Eagle Grove, who requested a jury trial.

Christopher had been allowed $712.42 for a strip of land condemned for road right-of-way by the appraisal board and asked, instead, $2,424. The case went to the jury at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Just before press time, the Independent learned that Christopher's allowed damages were increased to $842 and that his son Russell, as tenant, was allowed $50 instead of $41.28.

Selected to serve on the jury were: Harold Stromquist, George Mechem, Clara Clark and Frances Martinson, Clarion; Lenore Diggins, Helen Amundson, Louise Erlander and Margaret T. Myers, Eagle Grove; Mildred Tysdal, Doris Charleston and Augie Yoder, Dows; and Joyce Abbott, Woolstock

FHA-FFA Hold Joint Initiation

Joint installation was held last night at the high school gymnasium by the BHS chapters of the Future Homemakers and Future Farmers of America. During the candlelight ceremonies, 29 girls became members of the FHA, 14 boys received the FFA Greenhand degree and another dozen were elevated to the rank of Chapter Farmer.

Parents of the newly initiated members of the two organizations were guests at the ceremonies and lunch was served by the FHA at the end of the evening.

FFA members who became Greenhands were: Dennis Barkema, Duane Dorenkamp, Gordon Johnson, Richard McLaughlin, Gary Ruka, Russell Tendall, Ronald Thompson, Jim and Larry Crotty, Terry Kuhlers, Charles Soma and David Suntken.

Boys who received the Chapter Farmer degree were: Charles Didio, Donald Hanson, Arnold Allen, Ronald Kloberdanz, Gerald Thompson, Larry Severson, Larry McLaughlin, Tom McLaughlin, Tommy Hill, Dennis Vanness, John Henn, Jr. and Harold Buseman.

Junior Class Play Next Wednesday

Wednesday night of next week at the high school auditorium a cast of 16 will present the annual BHS junior class play. This year's production will be a three-act comedy, "Don't Take My Penny." The title role is being taken by Janice Flanagan.

Mrs. Gertrude Hoffman, dramatics and speech instructor, is directing the play. Because the play is somewhat longer than usual, it will start at 7:45 p.m. instead of the customary 8:00 o'clock.

HEADED FOR JAPAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Koppernagel, Sharon and Allen took their daughter and sister, Mrs. Richard Christensen, to Des Moines a week ago Wednesday evening to board a plane on the first leg of a trip to Tokyo, Japan. Her husband, A/3c Richard Christensen, is stationed there with the USAF.

Eugene DeLancey Takes Up Duties As Store Manager

Eugene DeLancey, lately of Independence, on Saturday of last week assumed management of the local Woodward's store. He succeeds C. C. Hiddleston, who will spend part of his time here until mid-November helping the new manager become familiarized with his job and will then take over management of a new Woodward's store at Atlantic.

A native of Anamosa, where he graduated from high school in 1945, Mr. DeLancey had been assistant manager of a Woodward's store at Independence for four years before his move to Belmond.

Soon after his graduation from high school, Mr. DeLancey served 18 months in the U. S. Navy, his duty including some months as a crew member aboard an oil tanker in the Pacific. He was discharged with the rating of Storekeeper 3/c.

Following his service time, the newcomer gained mercantile experience working first in a shoe store and later in a variety store at Anamosa. He attended the University of Iowa during the 1951-52 school year, immediately prior to accepting a position with Woodward's.

Mr. DeLancey is married and he and his wife planned to move this week into the residence on east Main street owned and lately occupied by Curt Luick. They have no children.

2 Crash Victims Said 'Doing Well'

Word from their physician this week was that Mrs. Gerald Draper and her daughter Kathleen, injured in the auto accident northwest of town on Oct. 18, are both doing well at present. Both have been patients at Belmond Community hospital since the mishap, which took the lives of two younger children of Mr. and Mrs. Draper.

The report on Mrs. Harlan Jotten of Clarion was not so favorable. She has to some extent regained consciousness but is unable to speak and there is some question as to whether she can hear what is said to her.

Clarion Girl New Nurse for County

Cheryl Schutz of Clarion, winner in 1953 of a nursing scholarship from the Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society, on Monday of this week was appointed by the board of supervisors as public health nurse for Wright county. She will assume her duties on Dec. 15.

Miss Schultz graduated from the Mercy hospital school of nursing at Mason City last August and was approved by the state examining board as a registered nurse Friday of last week.

Currently, Miss Schultz is working with the Winnegabo county nurse to obtain some practical experience in public health nursing before taking up her new position.

Car Total Wreck; 2 Slightly Hurt

Gordon Morris, 20, lost control of his car about 12:20 a.m. Sunday a mile and a half north of Belmond on Highway 69 and the vehicle was damaged beyond repair as it rolled several times and came to rest in the ditch east of the roadway.

Myron Waage, 23, who was with Morris, was held overnight at Belmond Community hospital for observation to determine if he had suffered a concussion. He was released the next morning. Waage came out of the mishap with a head laceration and Morris with a badly bruised left knee.

Morris could give Patrolman Jerry Kramer no explanation for the cause of the accident other than that he'd lost control of the wheel when rounding the mild curve at the point where the car rolled.

4-H Award Night Set for Nov. 14

Annual Award Night for 4-H farm project members will be held at the Clarion IOOF hall at 8:00 p.m. on Nov. 14, the Wright county extension office announced this week.

Farm project club members who are to receive free trips to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago will be announced at that time. Also, achievement awards will be presented to 4-H'ers who have done outstanding jobs with their projects and record books.

The long-time leadership of some farm project club leaders will be recognized with presentation of 4-H clover awards.

County officers will be elected on Award Night, each farm project club having two voting delegates. Special entertainment, to be announced later, has been arranged for the evening.

Local Vote Total Hits Record High; Draheim Winner

Wright county did not desert the Republican ranks in Tuesday's election to the extent that prevailed in many other parts of Iowa, but the Democratic ticket nevertheless ran much stronger than in a "normal" year.

President Eisenhower out-polled Adlai Stevenson, 5,512 to 3,866, which was appreciably less than the plurality produced four years ago when he defeated his Democratic opponent 6,566-3,268.

While Iowa was voting Gov. Leo Hoegh out of the statehouse, Wright county stuck by the incumbent governor by a narrow margin, 4,756 to 4,526 for Herschel Loveless. In 1952, the then governor Robert Beardsley edged Loveless by a somewhat wider margin, 5,055 to 4,553.

Dolliver Over Coad

Voters turned out at the polls in record numbers here in Belmond, ballots being cast by 1,178. The previous high total was in 1952 when 1,143 voted here. Wright county did not match Belmond's enthusiasm over the election. The effective vote cast for president (excluding the few spoiled ballots and the handful that voted for neither presidential candidate) was 9,378. This was the next-to-highest county vote in history, but trailed the 1952 total of 9,852.

SEE VOTE TABULATION ON PAGE 5

Representative of the trend toward a stronger Democratic vote was the drop in plurality received by Congressman J. I. Dolliver. Whereas he outstripped Francis Cutler of Boone in '52 by 5,980 to 2,481, this time he enjoyed less than an edge of 1,100 votes over the Rev. Merwin Coad, also of Boone. Their tallies were 4,969 and 3,883, respectively.

"Hick" Edges Evans

Sen. B. B. Hicklenlooper had even stronger opposition in this contest with "Spike" Evans of Spirit Lake for the U. S. Senate seat. The Republican incumbent lost 17 out of the 28 Wright county precincts but ran strong enough in the others to win by 4,806 to 4,366.

In view of the Democratic uprising, State Rep. Clark McNeal received a very fine vote of confidence in his race with Marion Robinson of Clarion. Although Mr. McNeal lost five precincts, he was an easy victor with 5,286 votes to his rival's 3,402. This sends him back to the legislature for a fourth term.

Draheim Runs Strong

Most phenomenal vote-getter in the county ballotting, other than President Eisenhower, was Arthur "Newt" Draheim, Jr., of Clarion, GOP candidate for county attorney. He completely snowed under his Democratic opponent, Martin Morrissey of Clarion, 5,436 to 3,217. It is noteworthy that in Mr. McNeal's home precinct, Belmond's Ward 3, Draheim drew a heavier vote than either the state representative or President Eisenhower.

Local election boards were in agreement that this year's election saw what must have been a record amount of ballot-scratching at the Belmond polls and those in Belmond and Pleasant townships. Completely straight tickets were the next thing to an oddity as voters skipped from column to column in x-ing their squares.

Bonus Heavily Approved

As in 1952, Sheriff Bob Blecker polled the most votes among the unopposed GOP candidates for reelection to county offices. He drew a total of 6,061, considerably short of the 6,960 that gave him the same distinction four years ago. Write-in votes returned Dr. Robert Eaton of Clarion to the office of county coroner. There were no candidates for the post.

As in Iowa as a whole, the Korean bonus proposition carried heavily in Wright county. The special issue was approved on 6,216 ballots and opposed on 2,200.

School Directors To State Meeting

All members of the Belmond Community school board and Supt. Don Faris are at present planning to attend the 11th annual convention of the Iowa Association of School Boards at Des Moines on Thursday and Friday of next week. Major speaker will be Carlos P. Romulo, ambassador from the Philippines to the United States.

Harold Simerson, who is on the association's board of directors representing the north central district of the state, will be chairman of a panel discussion on the subject of school reorganization.

TWO HITS Eight Misses

Finders of two lucky numbers were keepers of $50 Tuesday afternoon, as eight other good-for-cash numbers stayed home. Mrs. Dick Blau found a trip from Alexander paying off to the tune of $26 in Cash Gift Day money and Mrs. Francis Sandry picked up a similar amount at 2:00 o'clock. Not one of the half dozen 3:00 o'clock numbers produced a winner. The CGD committee is replenishing the jackpot to the extent of $50 to keep next week's prize list the same as this one's. That'll make four $25's at 2:00 p. m. next Tuesday; six $50's at 3:00 o'clock.

RICKY HOME FOR AWHILE—

Lions Fund Very Near to $1,100 Mark

Although they are not in a financial position to give to the Lions club's Ricky Walrod Fund in the manner that they would like to, the Belmond American Legion and VFW posts and their Auxiliaries are determined to make a contribution of some consequence.

To this end, they propose to take advantage of opening of the pheasant season Saturday by providing hunters with a good breakfast to start their hunt on. Pancakes, sausage, coffee and milk will be served by the groups at Veterans' Memorial hall on Saturday morning from 6:00 to 10:00 a. m.

Needless to say, businessmen and other townspeople will also be most welcome to have their morning meal at the hall, and help a worthy cause. No set amount will be charged for the cakes and sausage. Plates will be set out to receive whatever the diner would like to give and the entire proceeds will be delivered to the Ricky Walrod Fund.

By press time Wednesday, gifts to the fund had reached a total of nearly $1,000—to be exact, $1,097.80. This was an increase of $290.50 since the last previous report. There has been remarkably little slow-down in giving despite the large number of persons who have brought or sent donations to the Independent office already.

Last week was a happy one for young Ricky Walrod. First of all, from his fellow Cub Scouts of Den 2, he received a spanking new Cub uniform—the purchase price of which was provided by the Lions club (not from the fund). Then, on Friday, he was feeling so much better for the time being that he was permitted to go home.

The eight-year-old leukemia victim is, needless to say, delighted to be home for a while. And he thinks that new uniform is just plain wonderful.

Jury Pronounces H. L. Bush Guilty

Herbert L. Bush of Woolstock Wednesday of last week was found guilty of incest by a Wright county district court jury. Sentence is to be passed by Judge J.M. Haupp of Fort Dodge on Friday of this week. An earlier hearing of the case, during the September term of court, had resulted in a hung jury.

County Attorney Ralph Austin was assisted in prosecution of the case by his predecessor in that office, Ben Birdsall of Clarion. Kay Kjellberg of Clarion were counsel for the defense.

Testimony in the case was completed Monday afternoon and it was turned over to the jury at [illegible] p. m. Tuesday. Members of the jury convened at 11:45 a.m. the following day and the verdict was delivered by Foreman Max [illegible] of Clarion about 6:30 p.m.,

Three Belmond gridders were placed on the first team and one on the second as sports writers of the seven member towns met Friday evening at Forest City to make their annual North Iowa all-conference football selections. Leonard Steenblock was unanimous choice as the No. 1 tackle in the league, Steve McLaughlin was unopposed as a first-string guard and Bill Murray's versatility won him assignment to the first team utility backfield position. Tom McNulty earned a second team backfield appointment without argument.

In addition, the Broncos were assigned five places on the honor roll. These additional players were cited for above-average play: Rollie Jenison, Dave Long, Jon Mehus, Gary Ersland and Merrill Jenison.

An oddity of this year's selections was the fact that, while both first and second team backfields averaged right at 165 pounds in weight, the first team line slightly more than 18 pounds per man less than the second. The lighter-weight boys were, in many instances, more aggressive than their beefier rivals.

Murray an Early Choice

Whereas the utility back is sometimes the last to be chosen in the first team backfield, this time—quite significantly—it was the first spot to be filled. It was agreed that no backfield man in the conference could match Murray's versatility. He averaged 7.7 yards per carry against NIC foes, scored 42 points including 12 of 18 extra points tried, did the Broncos' kicking, was both a passer and pass receiver, and was a fine defensive player both as a line-backer and in the line as tackle.

With Bill in the backfield was as sparkling an array of talent as the loop has boasted in many a year. Lake Mills' flashy Darrell Kinden scored 10 touchdowns, averaged 6.8 yards carrying and connected on 39 out of 77 passes. Jim Hanson of Forest City was the loop's top ground-gainer with a total of 744 yards in seven games (statistics of the game with Lake Mills had not been included). Both these boys were tough on defense, too.

Reyerson Second-Timer

Big Mace Reyerson, Northwood's ace, was sparkplug of the runner-up Vikings and one of the hardest men in the league to stop. Both he and Hanson are first team carry-overs from last year. Completing the all-star backfield was Lyle Jenkins, the Buffalo Center speedster. He was only a notch behind Hanson as a break-away runner.

A testimony to Lennie Steenblock's selection as the best of the NIC tackles is the fact that he was given the nod over Gary Rapp of Northwood and that no less than seven tackles won berths on one of the two first teams. Rapp was a second team choice as a sophomore and was on the first team last yetar. But Steenblock's consistency—he never had a bad game—caught the eye of every coach and sports scribe in the conference. Among his achievements were 56 exclusive tackles in NIC play (78 in eight games!) and recovery of four opposing fumbles.

Duden Chosen Again

Steve McLaughlin, at guard, was rated just behind Ed Duden of Forest City, who missed two games due to a shoulder separation. Duden was out of the Belmond game, but so impressed the opposition in those he did play that he was a first team choice for the second year in a row. McLaughlin was credited with 46 tackles in NIC play and was a sound performer on offense as well as defense throughout the season.

Tom Costigan, Buffalo Center's fine wingman, was the only junior to make the first team. Members of the Belmond eleven say he was the best end they faced all season, defensively. He was also an excellent pass receiver. Harlin Sime of Northwood, like Costigan, is a lightweight; but he played his position well on both offense and defense and was rated just behind Costigan in the exceptionally good crop of NIC ends.

Knudson Edges Micklick

Ron Knudson, Lake Mills center, developed so rapidly during the season that he edged Bob Micklick of Northwood for the first team center assignment. Micklick was second team choice last year, too, and was regarded only a shade behind the Bulldog pivot. Lake Mills' excellent tackle, Jim Gesme, was given the nod for utility lineman. He's the only "big" boy on the first team, at 200 pounds.

In the second team backfield, both Tom McNulty and Forest City's Jerry Dunbar would have been regarded as of first team calibre in a large majority of years. The champion Bulldogs' two pony backs, Gordon Hagen and Richard Thompson, along with Ted Nilssen of Forest City—like McNulty, a junior—were undisputed picks to fill out the second backfield McNulty incidentally, averaged 6.7 yards per carry against NIC foes.

Mehus Barely Misses

Belmond's Jon Mehus was highly respected at end, but was nudged by Jim Hanson's brother Denny and the Lake Mills behemoth, Loren Moen, for a second string wing position. Among Moen's accomplishments was receiving 27 passes that went for a total of 303 yards. He played guard on defense.

In many a season, players like Jim Shortenhaus of Buffalo Center and Ron Hanson of Forest City would have easily made first team at tackle—but not this year. Shortenhaus was on the second team last year, also. Hanson's bid for a first team berth was hampered by the fact that broken leg kept him out of the Indians' last two games.

Bernie Foss was teamed with Lake Mills' Fred Johnson at guard on the second line although the Northwood stalwart regularly played at tackle. He was regarded too worthy of mention to be relegated to the honor roll. His fellow tackle on the Viking team, Vic Edwards, drew the second team utility spot by a narrow margin over several other candidates.

Belmond's Broncos mixed enough impressively excellent football in with stretches of mediocre play Wednesday night of last week to mark up an easy 33-0 victory over Coach George Tideback's Twin Rivers Pirates. As in the St. Edmond game, the Broncs held possession of the ball a good deal less than their share of the time—running only 32 plays to 56 for the visitors—but they averaged exactly nine yards per try on running plays and picked up 84 yards on two passes completed out of three attempts.

Ron Courson set the pace for the evening when he took a handoff from Rollie Jenison on the opening kickoff and scampered 85 yards for Belmond's initial score.

It appeared that Twin Rivers might even matters up in short order after they got control of the pigskin. The Pirates promptly picked up a couple of 1st-and-10's after the ensuing kickoff, but their drive was abruptly ended when Jenison captured a fumble on the Bronco 30.

Pass to Mehus Gains 51

A pass from Jenison to Jon Mehus than launched Belmond's second scoring march, covering 51 yards. Three plays, including a nine-yard gain by Dave Long, advanced the ball to the Pirates' nine. A backfield motion penalty momentarily delayed progress, but Courson immidately zipped around left end for the final nine yards and Murray placekicked his second successful conversion to make the score 14-0 with the quarter about half over.

Belmond's play for the remainder of the half was something less than sensational. The Broncs had the ball for only nine plays, while the Pirates had it for 26. But the only sustained march Twin Rivers was able to muster sputtered out on Belmond's 21 when a Pirate pass receiver was jolted loose from the ball and Gary Ersland recovered it.

Broncos Bog Down

When play resumed in the third quarter, it was clear that Coach Hobbs had had a heart-to-heart talk with the boys during intermission. The Pirates promptly found the going tougher, and after Larry Kinseth nabbed a Twin Rivers pass on the visitors' 28 it took the Broncs just five plays to push over their third tally. McNulty went the last 15 yards in two plunges, the scoring jaunt going from the eight.

Courson Scores 3rd Time

After the kickoff, the Pirates were pushed back 12 yards in three plays and had to punt. Belmond went 48 yards in two plays, DaDean Obrecht sprinting for 15 and Courson then pulling away from a cluster of Pirate tacklers to pick u phis third score on a 33-yard canter. Murray, who'd missed the previous boot for point, again sent one wide to leave the count at 26-0.

Once again the Broncs held for downs, after kicking off to Twin Rivers, and three plays later Belmond had traveled from its own 43 to the double-stripe. McNulty did the honors this time, blasting through the visitors for 48 yards. Murray's placement for point upped the score to 33-0. It was only two plays after the next kickoff that McNulty broke loose again, romping 37 yards to the end zone with a stolen pass—but a Belmond offside nullified the TD.

Stadtlander Covers Fumble

Although Coach Hobbs substituted liberally the rest of the game—in fact, reserves were used freely throughout the last half—the Pirates could get no drive started. First, Jim Stadtlander stopped a Twin River advance on Belmond's 30 by covering a Pirate fumble; and after the Broncs had fumbled the ball back again, Merrill Jenison broke through to throw a TR carrier for 14 yards' loss and Belmond regained the ball on downs.

Needless to say, ball-toting honors for the night went to McNulty and Courson, although Murray, Obrecht, Rollie Jenison and Long all had their moments. Lenny Steenblock was, as usual, outstanding in the Bronco line. Mehus and Larry Kinseth looked good at their end spots. Murray, who's been playing defensive tackle in recent games, got some good licks in; and both McNulty and Larry Hawley, who is only a sophomore, did some nice line-backing.

Ron Coleman was the losers' major offensive gun and with Wayne Knudson and Tom Sawyer, fellow line-backers, accounted for most of the tackles for the Pirates.

Broncs Will Try To Toss Cowboys Again Tomorrow

Although boasting a better record than their rivals for the current season, 6-2 compared to 4-4, Belmond's Broncos are likely regarded as the underdog in tomorrow night's annual tangle with the Clarion Cowboys. The county seat team has been impressive in meetings with some of this area's top e evens and has not lost a game by more than a touchdown margin.

It was a single TD that brought them defeats at the hands of Iowa Falls, Humboldt and Eagle Grove. And against the North Central conference defending champs, undefeated but twice tied Webster City, the Cowboys lost by the meager margin of three extra points, 27-24

Only point of reference by which Belmond and Clarion can be in any way compared is early-season games played against Britt. The Cowpokes downed the Eagles 32-0 an dthe Broncos, 39-0. Against admittedly weaker opposition, Belmond has scored 193 points in eight games compared to Clarion's 119, and has surrendered only 51 points while Clarion has been touched for 65.

Clarion has several fast backs, led by 140-pound Eugene Hunst; but no faster than the Broncos have met in NIC competition. The lines will be approximately even in weight. Coach Dick Hobbs believes his team should stand a very definite chance to win, particularly if they play as they did against Forest City.

Two years ago Belmond marked up a 6-0 victory over the Cowboys on their home gridiron, the Broncos' first decision over Clarion in 13 years. The Broncs could make their '56 season one of Belmond's finest in a decade by repeating that conquest Friday night. No doubt a poll among the players themselves would indicate they think they can do it.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

As defeats among the state's top-ranked Class II football teams sent several spinning out of the first 10 in the Iowa Prep Football Poll last week, Lake Mills finally ascended to the charmed circle with a total of 113 votes. It was a long haul for the Bulldogs, who were generally under-rated on strength at the season's outset. In the first poll, in mid-September, they were ranked about 40th with only 26 votes.

Although we're frankly envious of Lake Mills' high estate and don't believe there is really a nickel's worth of difference between the Broncos and Bulldogs from the standpoint of potential, we're mighty happy to see the North Iowa conference gain the limelight. Further, we'd say that the Bulldogs' mentor, Milo Engstrom, certainly deserves Coach-of-the-Year designation in the NIC for the VERY excellent job he did with the Gold and Purple gridders.

Belmond's resurgence was recognized in the poll by a boost from 29th to 24th place. Their 45 votes totalled seven more than the previous week. That the Broncos are generally regarded as a team superior to Northwood, despite their loss to the Vikings, is indicated by the latter's 29th-place rating with 36 votes. Buffalo Center's hard-working eleven gained some scattered support to share 72nd place with 11 votes

—PSS—

In your scribe's humble opinion, the average ability of the five top teams in the conference this past season was the highest in the seven years we've been covering NIC sports. When a team of the calibre of Forest City can do no better than 4th, the going is TOUGH. And we've seen years when an eleven as good as Buffalo Center's would have won more games than they lost. . . . Just for argument's sake, we'll add that we regard the 1956 Broncos as the best Belmond outfit since 1949. A break or two at the right time and they'd have had at least a piece of that championship.

—PSS—

BOWLING NOTES: Observe that the Goodell team of Woodford-Wheeler in the Quint-City league last week won its first game of the season—after losing 22 games and seven series in a row. Now that the Lumbermen are getting the hang of it, that fat handicap of 247 pins per game can be expected to produce more frequent victories in the future. . . . Vern Dippel, rolling for Kinseth's in the Main Street league last Thursday, produced the first "triple" of the current season. He wasn't very happy with the trio of 168's, however; he carries a 180 average in the league. . . . Belmond Greenhouse and Rowat-Murray, perennial challengers for the Women's League title, are moving into contention here of late. They are now 2-3, after Johnston's. The Furniture Gals show no signs of making it easy for the bidders, though.

—PSS—

Asked for recommendations as to all-conference nominations, prior to Ye Ed's trip to Forest City last Friday for the annual picking session of the NIC sports scribes, the Broncos had only three players to mention as line candidates. Which makes it clear they ran up against few opposing linemen during the season whom they did not feel they could handle with comparative ease..

Their nominations were Gary Rapp of Northwood, defensive tackle; Tom Costigan, Buffalo Center, end; Bob Micklick, Northwood, center. Coaches Hobbs and Steinberg put in a special word for Denny Hanson, Forest City end.

Sports writers of the loop always look forward to these selection bees; and it's surprising how amiably matters are settled. Usually there is very general agreement on most of the choices, and "horse trading" is indulged in only over spots where no really outstanding candidates are involved. We might add that that situation doesn't develop very frequently, either.

DID YOU EVER WONDER ABOUT THOSE
Sewing Machine Ads
YOU ARE CONSTANTLY SEEING IN THE BIG CITY PAPERS

For some strange reason, a good many folks have the mistaken idea they can always get a "FANTASTIC DEAL" on a Sewing Machine. That idea is fostered by the kind of hit-and-run ads you see so often in the big city papers — and, we are sorry to say, it appears enough unwary people go for these "deals" to keep the practice going.

We have had enough disappointed people come to us — AFTER getting involved in one of these "deals", and tell us of their disappointment — that we feel impelled to publish this word of caution. These people have been rather amazed when we told them that any "deal", if it has merit, CAN GENERALLY BE MATCHED LOCALLY, and can be made with a local business you know and trust.

The retail sewing machine business, we are sorry to say, has come to attract a lot of "characters" — from ordinary peddlers to larger operators — and the country is populated with women who have fallen for these "deals", and then rued the day they did. We know, because we have had the sad "story" told to us. Perhaps you don't know, because it's a rare customer who admits she "bit."

• • •

In all seriousness, and for your own protection, we advise that you think twice when you hear or read about a "wild offer" that looks almost irressistible, especially if it's on SEWING MACHINES.

GET THE CORN BORER WITH AN OLSON ROTO RAKE

Looking backward from seat of plow, photo (left) shows rake and caster wheel of three bottom plow. Photo (right) shows how Roto Rake puts straw and stalks in the furrow where next round will cover it and the corn borer.

The Olson Roto Rake is amazingly effective in corn borer control. The pest is covered and smothered to death at the bottom of the furrow. This alone makes the Roto Rake worth its moderate price. But read how it pays its way on the farm in other ways, too.

11 MORE REASONS why every farmer should own an OLSON ROTO RAKE

1. Plow without stopping to clean the plow of corn stalks, straw and weeds. This time saved is money earned.
2. It covers as if a corn stalk chopper had been run over the field before plowing.
3. The time and expense of a chopper is saved in most cases. This pays for an Olson Roto Rake quickly.
4. Puts the loose vegetable matter back into the soil where it will convert to soil building humus.
5. It is quickly attached to any plow by means of a chain that is hooked around the beam of the plow.
6. It is easily hauled to and from the field by being placed on top of the plow.
7. Works equally well early in the morning while the field is still wet.
8. It helps to pulverize the plowing therefore eliminating double discing many fields.
9. It is priced so low you will lose its cost many times if you plow without it.
10. The Rake has been completely field tested over a period of years and is guaranteed to fulfill all our claims.
11. Built of high carbon steel to last a lifetime.

PAYS A MAN TO BEHAVE!—

Law Has Many Arms; Here Are Some of Them

Just how many arms the law has for protection of the public safety — or to reach out and clamp down on a fellow who doesn't "fly right" — was suggested by the variety of law enforcement personnel gathered at the recent Awards Night dinner of the Wright County Peace Officers association.

Five of these arms are depicted in the accompanying picture, taken at the conclusion of the meeting held at Clarion's AA hall. The representative of still another law enforcement division, Lew Halla of Fort Dodge, agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, excused himself from the group with the explanation the the FBI does not permit its field employees to be photographed.

Also present in considerable number were peace officers of the local level, police chiefs, policemen and town marshals — including Belmond's Chief Doug Walrod and Officers Gil Paxton and Harold Erdman.

One representative minion of the law, with whom a number of armed individuals have become acquainted since opening of the duck season, was not present. He was Game Warden Bill Ayres of Goodell. When gunning for pheasants starts this Saturday, careless hunters will have further opportunity for private conversations with this gentleman.

AH YES, THE LAW H S MANY MINIONS!

ASC Sees Increase in Cost-Sharing Conservation Work in Wright County

The Wright county ASC committee announced this week that the cost-sharing conservation program for 1957 will offer all of the practices needed to meet the soil and water conservation problems most frequently found on the farms in this area.

The general cost-sharing program autorized for the state in 1957 contains provisions which should bring an increased volume of farm conservation work in this county next year, the Wright ASC committee believes. Funds will be available in sufficient amount to permit operation of a strong and effective program.

Arrangements will be made to give farmers an opportunity at community or township meetings in December to file applications for cost-sharing practices to be carried out in 1957. Farmers are urged to watch for announcements as to dates and places for such meetings. However, the privilege of filing applications may be had at any time during the program year by caling at the county ASC office.

The Wright county ASC committee and office personnel — as well as county representatives of other federal and state farm agencies — will attend a district ASC meeting at Estherville on Tuesday of next week to receive detailed instructions on the Iowa ACP Handbook for 1957. The next step before holding sign-up meetings will be for the county committee to confer with community ASC committeemen and local representatives of other agencies to determine which practices authorized in the state handbook should be included in the county program.

In summarizing the statewide program for 1957, as announced by the Iowa ASC office in Des Moines, the committee called attention to increases in some cost-share rates and the fact that several seeding practices will be offered to encourage farmers to divert land from crop production. Other highlights of the 1957 program follow:

1. The state's apportionment of national ACP funds for 1957 has been fixed at $9,185,000, or about the same as for 1956. Each county will receive an original apportionment on the basis of productivity needs, comparative erosion hazards, drainage needs and the amount of ACP work completed in 1954 and 1955. A state reserve fund will be set up to meet requests of counties having need of additional money after work gets under way. Wright county's original apportionment for 1956 was $83,000.

2. All practices offered in 1956 will be offered again in 1957.

3. The 1957 program will go even further than that of 1956 in encouraging construction of terraces. In 1957, as much as 70 per cent of the cost of this practice may be met with cost-sharing. In 1956, the limit was 60 per cent.

4. The 60 per cent maximum rate in 1956 for erosion control dams, livestock water ponds and sod waterways will be permitted again in 1957.

5. The maximum cost-share rate on all other practices will remain at 50 per cent.

Jones Co-Director Of Church Parley

Rev. M. L. Jones of the Belmond Methodist church is co-director of a Methodist Bi-District Missionary Institute that is to be held at the Humboldt Methodist church on Tuesday of next week. Representatives of some 100 churches, including those of the Methodist denomination in Wright and 17 other counties, will take part in the meeting.

Major speaker will be Dr. George W. Harley, a missionary to Liberia since 1925 and affectionately known in his mission area as the "Good Witch of Ganta."

In addition to doing extensive medical work, Dr. Harley has developed a brick and tile factory and a sawmill and taught the natives to operate them. He's also done surveying, directed road-building and mapped many remote areas of Liberia for the first time.

BELMOND BUSY BEES

Regular monthly meeting of the Belmond Busy Bees was held Oct. 20 at the clubhouse with 13 members, nine visitors and a senior and junior leader present. Highlight of the meeting was installation of the new club officers by the Wright county officers.

Those taking office were: Myrna Strait, president; Mary Alice Studebaker, vice president; Nancy Halfwassen, secretary; Marcia Stoltenberg, treasurer; Faye Homervold, historian; and Nadine Rabe, reporter. Each of the new officers and the installing officers was presented with a white carnation.

President Myrna Strait named the following standing committees for the year: calling — Linda Hinman and Marcia Stoltenberg; gift— Faye Homervold; picture — Mary Alice Studebaker; expense books— Janis Kalkwarf; coming events — Marjorie Johnson; recreation—Nadine Rabe and Theresa Quigley; reading lists — Katherine Finn; flag bearer — Carolyn Wenzel.

Two panel discussions were heard. Nancy Halfwassen was moderator for a discussion on "Safe Living on a Farm," with Myrna Strait, Theresa Quigley, Jane Studebaker and Linda Hinman comprising the panel.

Moderator of the second panel, whose topic was "Learning to Understand Our Neighbors," was Marjorie Johnson. On the panel were Mary Alice Studebaker, Karen Bohning, Katherine Finn and Janis Kalkwarf.

For workshop, Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., and Mary Alice Studebaker explained the making of a simple apron. The girls are to bring materials to make aprons at the next meeting.

Recreation was led by Faye Homervold and Jane Studebaker. Lunch was served by Faye Homervold and Karen Bohning, with the help of their mothers.

Nadine Rabe, Reporter.

77 From Wright At ISC, Including 16 BHS Alumni

AMES — Wright county has 77 students registered at Iowa State college for the fall quarter, figures from the Office of the Registrar show. Total enrollment at the college is 9,673, an increase of 500 over the fall of 1955. Figures in the fall of 1957 are expected to be still higher.

Higher birthrates in the late 1930's and through the 1940's have made the present college-age population of the state sharply higher. In addition, the percentage of the state's young people which goes to college becomes larger each year. More college students continue on with graduate studies, too.

At Iowa State, the high demand for engineers has swelled enrollment in the division of engineering to 3,342 this fall. The division of agriculture has 1,835. Agricultural engineering, which enrolls students from both agriculture and engineering, has 130.

The division of science has 1,545 students, the division of home economics 1,493 and the division of veterinary medicine 257. These figures are for undergraduates. Graduate students at the college number 1,071.

Sophomore — Jerry Quigley, civil engineering. Juniors — Francis Chapman, home economics education; Leslie Classick, veterinary medicine; Jerry McMurray, aeronautical engineering; Vernon Meyer, civil engineering; Alan Trees, electrical engineering. Seniors — Don W. Faris, physical education; Ronald Ketchum, forestry;

Local Girl Wins Third in Contest With Wool Dress

Mary Alice Studebaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., was recently winner of third place in the statewide "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest sponsored by the Iowa State Sheep association. The contest involved making garments of wool and modeling them in district and state competition.

Miss Studebaker entered both a dress and a coat in the district contest at Osage, one of 10 held throughout the state. Her dress was chosen as the best garment entered and entitled her to go to the state contest in Des Moines a week ago last Saturday.

Her winning entry was a Dutch blue basie sheath dress, which she wore with a white velour cloche-type hat, white gloves, gold jewelry and navy opera pumps when she modeled it for the state judges.

While there were only four entrants at Osage, some of the districts had at least 30 girls competing. The contest was divided into two divisions — senior, for girls from 18 to 21; and junior, for girls under 18. Miss Studebaker was third-place winner in the latter division.

As her prize in the district contest, Miss Studebaker recieved a yard and a half of wool fabric from Pendleton Mills; and at the state contest she was presented with 3½ yards of material.

First and second place winners in the state junior contest were a pair of twins from Storm Lake. They had entered two different district contests in order that both would have a chance to advance to state competition. It proved a sensible precaution, Miss Studebaker observes.

FFA at Kanawha Active Once More

Kanawha High school's chapter of Future Farmers of America was reactivated recently. Garner FFA officers initiated the new members as Green Hands. Kanawha had had an FFA some years ago, but it had been inactive for some period of time.

Installed as officers of the chapter were: Keith Halfpop, president; Eldon Thompson, vice president; Gerald Asche, secretary; Leland Halfpop, treasurer; Gary Steenblock, reporter; Paul Tesdahl, sentinel. Mr. Currie is the FFA advisor.

Members of the former Kanawha FFA were guests and presented the chapter with a gavel. Larry Arends of Stanhope, state vice president, gave a talk and a welcome to the FFA in behalf of the school was expressed by Supt. F. M. Hartung.

Wilmarth Discovers Hybrid Corn Filling Increasingly Important Role as Livestock Feed in Central Europe

Charles Wilmarth, research director for Tomahawk Corn company, reports that hybrid corn is having a very material effect on livestock feeding practices in those parts of Europe where it is being grown in steadily increasing amount. He just recently returned from a visit to four European countries, on which he was accompanied by George Strayer of Hudson. Mr. Strayer is secretary of Associated Hybrid Producers, an affiliation of Iowa hybrid corn growers.

At present, hybrid corn shipped abroad by the Associated Producers is planted most widely in Germany; but Mr. Wilmarth and Mr. Strayer also inspected plantings in Czechoslovakia and Austria and intended to look over some fields in Poland. Their visit to Poland was cut short, however, because the uprising that broke out soon afterward was clearly brewing at the time they were in Warsaw.

Basic use of corn in Germany is as a source of ensilage, Mr. Wilmarth says. Except in the southern part of the country, he explains, the growing season just isn't long enough for the grain to mature. However, that is only part of the reason that ensilage is the preferred use to which corn is put.

At present, German farmers cut about 70 per cent of their corn as green fodder, not even waiting for it to reach maturity as ensilage. Corn is being promoted by the Associated Hybrid Producers as a substitute for fodder beets, which is the traditional stock feed of the central European area where hybrid corn planting is being introduced.

Labor in this area has in the past been very inexpensive, which permitted wide use of the beets. Now, though, labor costs are rising and this is making corn highly competitive with fodder beets. Planting, cultivating and harvesting of the beets are exclusively hand processes and German farmers are finding it less and less profitable to grow this crop for stock feed.

Since corn is planted by the old-fashioned broadcast method rather than mechanically, the Associated Hybrid Producers have found in Europe a good market for unsized seed grain that is not well adapted to mechanical planting. The off-size, however, has no detrimental affect on the yields obtained from this seed and food value per acre produced by the hybrid seed in the form of silage runs 20 to 35 per cent higher than from open-pollinated seed, Mr. Wilmarth discovered.

He adds that it is his opinion and that of Mr. Strayer that mechanical methods of panting perhaps can be adapted to the unsized kernels, and certainly could be introduced in the harvesting of the ensilage, that would give corn a still greater advantage over fodder beets.

Although this was Mr. Wilmarth's first inspection tour in Europe, Mr. Strayer had made similar visits abroad in 1949, 1952 and 1954. He says the corn crop in central Europe is the poorest this year that he has seen. A wet, cold season was experienced that set corn well behind its normal pace of development.

En route to New York prior to their departure, the two Iowans stopped at Washington, D.C., to obtain special visas from the Polish and Czecholsovakian embassies that would permit them to enter those countries. They made their entire trip by air.

They spent two weeks in Germany, four days in Austria, two in Czechoslovakia and just one in Poland. Domestic turbulence was rife in Warsaw and Mr. Wilmarth reports that "no one would accept American money;" apparently because anyone in possession of U. S. currency would be suspect in the eyes of the Communist regime. The Belmond traveler says hybrid corn plantings are few and very scattered in Poland, anyway, so he and his companion were happy enough to depart without lingering.

Altogether, the inspection tour was a satisfactory one. Mr. Wilmarth and Mr. Strayer foresee a growing demand in Europe for the Associated Hybrid Producers' unsized seed that is unmarketable in this country for growing purposes. One also gathers that they returned home with a renewed thankfulness that they are Americans.

GREENLANDERS BACK HOME AFTER 17-DAY TRIP EAST

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenlander returned home last Wednesday from a 17-day trip which took them to Waynesboro, Va., where they spent a week with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCracken.

They also visited Monticello, and from there went to Washington, D. C. to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Scoville, cousins of Mrs. Greenlander. There they took a tour of the city and also visited Mt. Vernon.

The Greenlanders proceeded to Pittsburg, Pa., to spend a weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Beaber. Tuesday night they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harbraugh at Muscatine before returning to Belmond.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1956

Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thy hand to do it.—Prov. 3:27.

ANY SOLICITOR CAN INFORM YOU WHY THE CHEST IS FINDING IT A ROUGH GO

As this was being written, success of the 1956 Community Chest drive appeared seriously in question. Why?

We can cite several very good reasons. But first of all, bear in mind that an even dozen, worthy agencies are to share in the proceeds of our wavering Chest campaign.

Here's a gentleman who reluctantly tossed a couple of dollars to his solicitor, while admitting that four of his immediate kin have died of cancer. No duplicate canvasses of a family are intended, but by oversight this man's wife was seen also, and gave a dollar. Outraged, the donor of the two bucks demanded them back (and got them). There'll be 12½ cents from this household for the American Cancer Society to apply on its research to unravel the riddle of the dread disease that struck four times in this one family!

Another dollar was given by a young lady who receives a very decent weekly wage, has only herself to look after—and is doing it to the almost complete exclusion of a moment's thought for the innumerable others far less fortunate than herself.

Here's an independent businessman who might normally be expected to give $5 to the American Red Cross alone. His total contribution of that amount figures out to less than 42 pennies apiece to the 12 agencies currently affiliated with the local Chest. Ordinarily, donors in this category must be depended upon to bring the average UP; but 42 cents won't do it.

An experience like we've just been enjoying by virtue of the magnificent response to the Walrod fund leaves us thinking that people are pretty darned nice, by and large. Then along comes an established RESPONSIBILITY to be met, like giving to the Community Chest, and you wonder where all THESE jaybirds came from!

THEY are WHY the Chest campaign, as of last weekend, was in the doldrums. As the guy said, "It takes all kinds . . ." And by golly the Chest drive sure flushes some odd ones out of the bushes!

DO YOU WANT A PLANNED FUTURE FOR YOUR COMMUNITY? SIGN THAT PETITION

Within the next few days the people of Belmond will be given an opportunity to express their attitude toward the appointment of a zoning and planning commission and adoption of an ordinance to put zoning and planning in effect in this community. The petitions that are to be circulated will be a strictly "unofficial" manner of ascertaining the public will; but they will have a very direct bearing on the decision of the city council as to going ahead with zoning and planning.

Primarily under the auspices of the civic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, the proposal to give Belmond the benefit of a "planned future" has been under consideration by the council for a period of months. While zoning and planning is a bit unusual in a community of this size, it is by no means unique. But the council, understandably, has wanted to be sure of its ground; and the petition is the Chamber's way of making clear to the city fathers whether or not they have a mandate from their constitutents to proceed.

Certainly the spirit that prevails should augur well for success of the Chamber's proposal. Members of its zoning and planning committee have tested sentiment on an informal basis as well as they could and feel sure that a very definite majority of Belmond's residence appreciate what the suggested ordinance could mean in the way of continuing civic progress. For its part, the council has said that if the people want zoning and planning they should have it.

Actually, zoning controls new building only to the degree that good judgment and respect for others SHOULD control it in the ABSENCE of legal restrictions. But it makes certain that the general good of the community is not infringed upon through thoughtlessness or selfish motives. Further, it assures a controlled use of land that is a "must" for any locality interested in attracting new industry.

The planning phase of a zoning and planning ordinance is more or less self explanatory. Normally, the busy men who comprise a city council have little time to devote to examining future needs of their community. Their time in the council chamber is too completely monopolized with administrative affairs of the moment. That's where a planning commission fits into the picture.

This group is in a position to constantly evaluate up-coming needs, to outline plans for steady, methodical improvement of the community —in effect, to project civic thinking into the future. Progress at economical cost is the key purpose of a planning commission.

If you are interested in seeing Belmond become a continually better community in which to live, in seeing its land put to the best of possible uses, and its busy administrators kept alert to growing municipal problems before they become crises, there's a place for YOUR name on one of the planning and zoning petitions.

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car—it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957 —soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

STRAIGHT OUT OF TOMORROW

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

On the tide of the greatest landslide in American political history, President Roosevelt swept to easy victory in Tuesday's general election. Only on the county level did the Republicans experience any success, and even here the races were close. Robert Blue of Eagle Grove edged R. E. Lee Aldrich of Iowa township by just three votes in the contest for state representative. Former Belmondite G. R. Hill, Clarion, was elected state senator by a 510-vote margin over Oscar Ulstad, Clarion, in the Wright-Hamilton-Hardin senatorial district.

—1936—

The Belmond Broncos bucked their way out of a prolonged losing streak Friday night by defeating Britt by the narrow margin of a safety, 2 to 0.

Mrs. Matt Smith and her sister, Mrs. Louise Johnson of Belmond, entertained the members of the EUB church choir, together with several guests, in the former's home Friday evening.

Sale of Christmas Seals Undertaken Again by Auxiliary

There was good attendance at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Peterson, with her niece, Barbara Peterson, as assistant hostess. Several guests were present, also: Mrs. John Leebrick and daughter, Mrs. Jim Peterson, Belmond; Mrs. Norman Peterson, Corwith; and Mrs. Ernie Woiwood, Garner.

Members of the unit agreed to oversee the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals, as in past years, with Mrs. Earl Ver Helst to serve as chairman of the project. Other business action included appropriation of $2 toward the nursery project at Woodward state hospital and to make candy and send it to local men in service as a Christmas remembrance.

The women will meet this (Thursday) evening at the V. E. Harris home to pack the candy. Christmas stockings will also be made by the members again this year.

A gift exchange among the members is planned for the December meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Deiger purchased the Mrs. W. F. Beier house last week.

Mrs. M. J. Kearney, who had been a patient in the Community Hospital at Belmond for several weeks, was able to return to her home last week.

Dinner guests Sunday in the John Watne home were Mrs. Watne's father, Floyd Case, his brother, Bernard Case, with his wife and two children and Mrs. Letha Hansen, all of Clarion; and the men's sister, Mrs. Amy Case Peterson of Los Angeles, Calif. Afternoon visitors in this home were Mr. Watne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Watne, and Norman of Eagle Grove, and Mr. Watne's cousin, Torri Kvindlog of Wilmington, Del. The latter group brought Susan and Phoebe Watne to their home, they having visited in the Oscar Watne home over the weekend.

Mrs. Edward Halfpop, Mrs. Roy Halfpop, Mrs. Dale Brede, Mrs. Harm Katuin, Mrs. Art Zeigler and Carol, Mrs. Art Pringnitz, Mrs. Lloyd Halfpop, Mrs. Donald Burk and Patty were guests Monday night of last week at a post-nuptial shower honoring Mrs. Keith Halfpop, held at St. John's Lutheran church near Kanawha. Keith Halfpop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Halfpop, and Malene Anderson of Kanawha were married Oct. 23. At present they are staying in the parental Edward Halfpop home.

The Twin Lake 4-H club held its annual tea and regular meeting in the Arthur Lowenberg home Saturday afternoon. The girls invited their mothers and several other guests. Nora Eliason showed pictures of her travel in Norway last summer and Elsie Mae Van Wert gave a discussion on "Keeping Record Books." Mrs. Richard Lauen will serve as assistant leader for this club. Nora Eliason is the leader.

Mrs. Bonna McClintic of Des Moines visited from Friday night until Sunday night in the homes of her sisters, Mrs. Oscar Olson and Mrs. O. W. Myers. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Myers entertained as dinner guests in their home their son, Lester Bergeson, and family of Gruver, Mrs. McClintic and Mr. and Mrs. Olson. Late afternoon visitors were their cousin, Judy Beyer of Buffalo Center, and friend Connie Schrader of Ledyard, the girls being en route to Cedar Falls.

Mrs. V. E. Harris, Mrs. Ira Langlitz, Mrs. Sol Krass, Barbara Peterson, Mrs. W. E. Tanner and Mrs. John Peterson went to Garner Tuesday afternoon where they attended the Hancock county Legion Auxiliary meeting.

1 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning (if desired)
½ cup shortening
1 cup water

® Registered trade names
* At the dairy case

Dip cut-up frying chicken in ½ cup Pet Milk, roll (or shake in a bag) in mixture of flour and seasonings. (Set aside remaining flour mixture for gravy.) Melt shortening in 13x9-inch pan. Add chicken, skin side down. Bake uncovered in hot oven (425°) until tender, basting occasionally. (Average cooking time 40 to 50 minutes.) Turn chicken and move to end of pan. Arrange drained peach halves on chicken. Open can of Ballard OvenReady® Biscuits. Separate and put in other end of pan. Bake 15 minutes, until biscuits are brown. Remove peaches, chicken and biscuits to hot plates. For gravy: Blend 3 tablespoons of set-aside flour mixture with pan drippings. Gradually stir in water. Boil and stir 2 minutes. Stir in 1 cup Pet Milk. Heat but do not boil. Add salt, pepper to taste. Serves 4.

VOL. 37 NO. 6 | OFFICIAL CITY PAPER | BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, NOV. 15, 1956 | OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER | 10 PAGES THIS ISSUE

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

There's probably few people in the state better "up" on the Iowa political scene than George Mills, the Des Moines Register's top political writer and the gentleman who writes the column "On Capitol Hill" for "The Newspaper Iowa Depends On." (Duane Dewel, the Algona Advance sage, always calls it — with some justice — "The Newspaper That Depends on Iowa.")

Anyway, a piece in Mills' column Monday morning was a scource of much delight and satisfaction to the many admirers of Clark McNeal, who regard the Wright county legislator as Iowa's young politico "most likely to succeed." Wrote the R&T pundit, "Stung by the loss of the governorship, Iowa Republicans already are plotting to recover that post in the 1958 election. Mentioned as possible candidates so far: Lieutenant Governor-elect W. H. Nicholas and State Representative Clark McNeal (Rep., Belmond)." . . . Well, the FIRST prime requisite is to be CONSIDERED as a candidate!

Ye Ed anticipates that the time's coming when his friends (who knows, maybe even his family) will discuss nothing but the weather in his presence for fear their comments may appear in Main Street. When we hear a good story, though, we feel helplessly compelled to pass it on. The one about the couple and their electric blanket, we WILL have the good grace to repeat anonymously.

Seems these friends of ours experienced that common disparity of so many couples who share a bed. When he's too hot, she's chilling. The obvious answer seemed to be a dual-control electric blanket, which was duly acquired. And it DID seem to provide the solution — until one night . . .

"Sure hot," said he, and gave his thermostat control a twist. "I'm cold," she responded, and upped her switch. A moment's silence. "Gettin' hotter by the minute," growled he, fitting deed to the thought. "Br-r-r!" she shuddered, doing likewise. Act III — same scene, same characters, same business — followed minutes later. About this time both were pretty durned disgusted.

A light was switched on. A duck-bumped hand emerged from one side of the blanket to investigate the control. A sweat-damp palm was extended toward the second switch. Then light dawned. Apparently the cleaning lady, in making the bed, had gotten the blanket on wrong-side-to. Result: the shivering frau had been steadily cutting the heat on her side; her perspiring mate had been whooping it up on his. With the blanket turned over, comfort reigned. Just goes to show you, though, how this complex civilization can throw you a curve if you don't keep a firm and KNOWING hand on the controls!

An analytical friend of the Mainstreeters has passed on to us some mathematical doodling he did with the Wright county election results. He thinks the figures thus produced indicate that the farm area of the county is perceptibly less friendly toward Ike than the town folks.

The townships of Liberty, Iowa and the East half of Blaine gave Eisenhower 64.5 per cent of their vote. He considers them at least urban-inclined, because a major portion of their populations are centered in Goldfield, Rowan and Dows, respectively. Belmond ballots were marked 63.7 per cent in favor of Ike, Eagle Grove's 61.5 and Clarion's 60.6.

But in the strictly rural townships, Eisenhower got only 51.3 per cent of the vote. It WOULD appear that there were appreciably fewer farm buglers on the Eisenhower band wagon than town tooters. Those same townships were 64 per cent pro-Eisenhower in the 1952 election. . . . Hm-m-m-m!

R. E. Lee Aldrich, Jr., paid the Mainstreeters a call Monday to remonstrate over a 'Way Back When item that appeared in last week's Independent. It recalled an election bet "Fox" had made with Peter Barendregt on the 1936 election. We'd credited "Fox" with being the loser (who had to push the winner along Main street in a wheelbarrow from the CGW tracks to those of the Rock Island).

Mr. Aldrich politely called to our attention that he was the gent IN the wheelbarrow. He'd bet his Republican friend that Nels Kraschel would be the next governor of Iowa. Since Kraschel nicked George Wilson by about 3,500 votes, "Fox" got the free ride.

He didn't do so well on an election wager last week. He bet Hal Nourse a new Stetson that "Ike" would not be the next President. Hal went down to Thompsen & Keleher Clothing to order the chapeau, but George Keleher threw a technicality at him. He insisted that Eisenhower won't be the next president until he's inaugurated; and considering Stevenson's concern over Ike's health, Hal's gotta wait.

There's a bit of a story behind one gift to the Ricky Walrod Fund, which is listed in this issue. It was received from Mr. and Mrs. Orville Arends and their two children, Ray and Marilyn, of Alexander. The Arends have a particularly soft spot in their hearts for the Walrods and know only too well what Ricky's plight must mean to them. Ray, you see, was born at the old Steele Memorial hospital on the same hour of the same day as Ricky's birth.

LEAVES FOR VIRGINIA

Mrs. James Baumgardner (nee Phyllis Kriens) and daughter Debby left last Thursday morning for Norfolk, Va., to be with her husband, who stationed there.

EIGHT OF 15 COUNTIES GAVE HIM EDGE, BUT—

His Home County Beat Dolliver

While unofficial returns indicate that Iowa's Sixth Congressional district will be represented in Congress next term by Rev. Merwin Coad of Boone, the final and official compilation of votes cast in last week's general election, will probably not be available for a time yet.

On the strength of Coad's present narrow margin of just 220 votes, the incumbent Congressman, Hon. J. I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, declared he would ask a recount with the official canvass.

This met with approval from the Democratic ranks, also; for Donald J. Mitchell of Fort Dodge, Democratic national committeeman, had requested FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to impound all ballots in the sixth district preparatory to conduct of an investigation.

Mitchell charged that there were "irregularities in connection with the handling of absentee ballots" throughout the district. The committeeman has also announced there is a chance that the matter will be reviewed by the house committee on elections.

Meanwhile, the election results show Dolliver with a plus margin in eight of the district's 15 counties, but Coad with an edge in count of more than 200 votes. It is noteworthy that the apparent winner's second biggest plurality was gained in his home county of Boone, where he held a 1,345-vote margin over his rival, 6,473 to 5,128.

In contrast, Dolliver lost his home county, Webster, to his opponent by 10,741 to 9,108. The deficit of 1,622 votes was the largest polled against the Fort Dodge attorney in any of the district's counties.

Dolliver enjoyed his next-to-largest margin of victory (after Winnebago) in Wright county. Here he defeated Coad by 1,021 votes, 5,016 to 3,995. Nevertheless, this was in sharp contrast to the 3,731 plurality that Wright gave him over Francis Cutler of Boone in 1952, when he drew 6,430 votes to his rival's meager 2,699.

It is interesting to note that 367 Wright county voters who cast valid ballots in the presidential contest failed to scratch for either Dolliver or Coad in the congressional race. This was 24 less than by-passed both of the congressional candidates in 1952's heavier balloting (when 9,852 valid presidential votes were cast, compared to this year's 9,377), but possibly was more costly to the incumbent.

Margins for Coad in the five counties besides Boone and Webster that favored him in the election were: Carroll 710, Crawford 464, Kossuth 370, Palo Alto 760, Pocahontas 458.

In the seven counties other than Wright that Doliver won, he had the following margins: Calhoun 91, Emmett 977, Greene 612, Hamilton 811, Hancock 761, Humboldt 212 and Winnebago 1,193.

Dolliver has been a heavy vote-getter in the past. In 1952 he did not lose a county to Cutler; and in 1954 he was edged by Lumond Wilcox of Jefferson in only two — Carroll by 25 votes and Greene by 12. Dolliver's home county margin in 1952 was 12,666 to 6,772 and in 1954 was 7,948 to 5,560.

Belmond last week provided a good demonstration of the importance of a handful of votes. Dolliver was given relatively solid support locally, out-polling Coad by 246 votes, 679 to 433. But the total of 1,112 votes cast in the congressional race was 44 less than were cast for president. If those 44 voters were negligent in the assumption that Dolliver had "a cinch" without their help, they could have contributed importantly toward losing the election for the veteran law-maker.

Kelly Leaving Job On BHS Faculty

Announcement was made last week by Supt. Don Faris of the resignation of Francis Kelly, BHS vocational agriculture instructor for the past two years. He will continue on his job here through the balance of the month and then take up new duties as manager of an experimental farm for the Foxbilt Feed company.

Mr. Kelly will be in charge of the Foxbilt farm just east of Des Moines at the junctions of Highways 6 and 64, where the feed manufacturing firm carries on research in swine nutrition and genetics. About 1,000 pigs annually are employed in the study of genetics and it is in this field that Mr. Kelly will be mainly occupied.

According to Mr. Faris, there appears to be a good possibility that a successor to Mr. Kelly can be obtained from the Iowa State college class in agricultural education that will be graduating in mid-December. These students are currently engaged in practice teaching and applications for the local job have been received from about a half dozen members of the class.

Mr. Faris believes he can probably obtain release of the approved candidate from the balance of his course, in order that he may report here the end of this month. The superintendent admits the school board would normally prefer a teacher with experience, particularly in a special course such as "voc ag.," but nevertheless deems it fortunate that a choice of applicants will be available at this time of year.

MARY ALICE STUDEBAKER HEADS BHS HONOR ROLL—"A" AVERAGE

Just one BHS student won a place on the first-quarter honor roll with a straight-A average, but 52 won places on the roll with B averages. Mary Alice Studebaker, a senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., was the lone A-student.

Principal Paul Buck released the honor roll this week, showing 16 other seniors besides Miss Studebaker earning recognition for scholarship, 15 juniors, nine sophomores and 12 freshmen.

Grade-point totals of the honor students were not made known, as has been past practice, so the lists that follow are arranged simply in alphabetical order.

Juniors—Ronald Courson, Linda Davenport, Donna Nolan, Judy Oberhauser, DaDean Obrecht, Ruth McLaughlin, JoAnn McMannus, Marlin Pals, Charlotte Rokke, Douglas Saunders, Sara Simerson, Sandra Soma, John Studebaker, Sharon Swearinger and Donna Walters.

Sophomores — Donna Barkema, Daryl Bohning, Linda Bonte, Karen Chapman, Karen Dannewitz, Charles Didio, John Henn, Howard Mussell and Gloria Rogalla.

As is usually the case, the percentage of students earning a place on the honor roll ran much higher in the upper two classes than in the lower two. Over 25 per cent of the seniors rated scholarship recognition, almost 20 per cent of the juniors, just over 13½ per cent of the sophomores and slightly under 16½ per cent of the freshmen.

On the junior high honor roll of students with B averages appeared the names of 10 out of the 71 eighth grade pupils and nine out of 73 seventh graders.

WATNEM 2ND LIEUTENANT

Paul Watnem on Wednesday of last week was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the National Guard. He went to Des Moines for the ceremony, accompanied by his wife and her mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Classick. He joined the Guard upon his discharge from the regular Army last May and is a member of the company at Humboldt. He held the rating of sergeant when discharged from the Army.

RICKY'S FUND OVER $1,400—

Vet Pancake Feed Netted Over $125

Last week the Ricky Walrod fund received the biggest, single shot in the arm since the Lions club launched the project with a $100 donation. Net proceeds from the Saturday morning pancake breakfast sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries came to $126.20.

Helping materially toward assuring a maximum "take" from the affair was the fact that the necessary butter, milk and cream were provided free by Belmond Co-op Creamery and all other food supplies were provided at cost by the Tip Top grocery.

In addition, very close to the entire cost of putting on the breakfast was met by the $25 which a certain Belmond auto dealer, well known for his generosity toward worthy causes, paid for his helping of flapjacks, sausage and coffee.

A stream of individual contributions continued to come in to the Independent office, in addition, bringing the fund total up to $1,441 by press time this week. That represented an increase of $354 since the last previous report. Included among the donations was another one from far afield, sent in by former Belmondites Jerry and Lorraine Jordan, now living in Denver, Colo. They mailed a 10-spot for the fund.

An unusual source of revenue for the fund has been turned up in a quantity of five-gallon paint cans that Tomahawk Corn company had emptied and had no further use for. These are being auctioned off at the regular weekly sales at Belmond Sales pavilion. Last week and this, about 25 of the pails—they have wooden handles and are fine for chore work on the farm—brought the fund $14.

LAWSY! HOW the money poured in! Public Welcome to Inspect New Jail Saturday, Sunday

Wright county taxpayers will have an opportunity to inspect their new, $68,000 piece of real estate this weekend when open house is held at the newly completed county jail at Clarion.

Issuance of bonds to erect the structure was approved by the voters in the 1954 election. Land for its site was first purchased at the east edge of Clarion; but later this was deemed an unsatisfactory location and instead the jail was built on property already owned by the county about three blocks south of the Rock Island tracks on County K.

When bids on construction of the jail were first solicited, all were turned down because the total cost would have run some $14,000 in excess of the funds available. This was on April 21 of last year.

On Nov. 1, 1955, bids were again solicited and this time contracts were let for a total of $61,509. The general contract went to Jack Mayer of Clarion. Meanwhile, the property originally bought as a site had been disposed of at its purchase price and the board of supervisors felt confident that the new structure could be paid for—including the architect's fees and other incidental expenses—out of the bond money.

The new jail is looked upon in Iowa law enforcement circles as an excellently planned and equipped lock-up. It was recently visited by a delegation from Washington county, where a jail bond election was being planned (it was subsequently voted down).

Handsome, new quarters for the sheriff and his family adjoin the jail in the form of a two-story addition to the front.

An invitation to the general public to inspect the jail and sheriff's residence is extended in this issue of The Independent by the county supervisors and Sheriff Bob Blecker. It will be open for inspection both Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1:00 to 6:00 p. m.

The good-looking, modern appearance of both the jail and sheriff's home are in marked contrast to the living quarters and lock-up that they replace. The old, combination structure has been standing for well over 70 years and had been repeatedly condemned by Wright county district court grand juries as deteriorated beyond the point of repair.

VOCAL SOLOISTS AND ENSEMBLES CHOSEN BY BHS MUSIC DIRECTOR

Vocal Director Ivan Kortkamp has announced selection of the BHS singers he will train as soloists and who will comprise the small vocal groups. He is introducing several innovations among the groups, compared to the vocal units that BHS has previously had in the past.

One of these innovations is what he describes as a radio-type ensemble, which will take the place of a boys' double quartet. The group will also bear what might be called a radio-type name, "Seven Hits and Two Misses." Its personnel includes Janice Flanagan, Meredith Jenison, Douglas Nodland, Bob Smith, Paul Nassen, Ted Thompson, Bill Ayers, DaDean Obrecht and Marlin Mehl.

Instead of a girls' trio and sextet, Mr. Kortkamp has formed a girls' quartet that is comprised of Sondra Kamm, Gloria Rogalla, Karon Bohning and Marjorie Johnson.

The vocal director is continuing the madrigal group, having chosen for this unit Linda Hauge, Sondra Kamm, Gloria Rogalla, Sara Simerson, Janice Flanagan, Douglas Nodland, Ronnie Courson, DaDean Obrecht and Marlin Mehl.

Singled out as soloists for the first semester are: Gloria Rogalla, Donna Nolan, Sondra Kamm, Sara Simerson, Marjorie Johnson, Sheryl Johnson, Phoebe Bucalstein and Paul Nassen.

Marleen Meyer, grade school vocal instructor, is developing singers for the "varsity" ranks by giving special attention to a pair of boys' quartets and two girls' sextets.

In one of the sextets will be Lynn Boller, Linda Pickle, Nancy Halfwassen, Janet Howell, Judy Gordon and Karen Shahan; and in the other, Betty Johnson, Karen Pringnitz, Linda Hanson, Kathy Jones, Faye Homervold and Nadine Johnson.

C-of-C Announces Decoration Contest

More than double the prize money that has been offered in any previous Christmas decorations contests under sponsorship of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce will be awarded in the contest the Chamber has announced for this year.

President Don Bunnell says that $150 in cash will go to nine winners, compared to the $70 in money and merchandise prizes that was posted a year ago. Earlier announcement of the contest is being made this season in the hope that more townspeople than ever before will make plans to enter.

Prizes this year will be made by wards, each of the three in town to receive an equal share of the $150. The money will be divided into three prizes for each ward, $25 for first, $20 for second and $5 for third.

There will be no restriction on the type of display that is eligible for judging, and no formal entry will be required. If you have your lawn, porch or windows decorated, the display will be given consideration by the judges.

The panel of judges has already been selected, Mr. Bunnell reports. Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell will serve as chairman and others will be Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, Mrs. S. P. Leinbach and L. T. "Bud" Trafford. It is the present plan that displays will be judged on Saturday, Dec. 22.

Chamber Honors Chet Hiddleston At Noon Meeting

C. C. "Chet" Hiddleston was honored by the Belmond Chamber of Commerce last Friday noon at a luncheon at Jones cafe Pine Room. Both the retail and civic bureaus participated in the courtesy, which was a farewell gesture in recognition of Mr. Hiddleston's imminent departure from Belmond to assume management of a new Anthony store at Atlantic.

Speaking for the Chamber, President Don Bunnell expressed the appreciation of that organization and of the entire community for the many civic services performed in behalf of Belmond by Mr. Hiddlesston during his residence here. He is a past president of the Chamber and also served as co-chairman of the Belmond Centennial.

As a memento of the occasion, Mr. Hiddleston was presented with an engraved pen and pencil set. He responded with a word of thanks and said that he and Mrs. Hiddleston studied carefully the opportunity that was opened to him at Atlantic before regretfully deciding to leave Belmond.

As a matter of business at the special meeting, the Chamber voted lifetime membership in the organization to Jim Adams. He was for some 40 years a druggist before selling his store two years ago and remains active in his profession as a pharmacist on the staff of Nolan Drug.

Auxiliary to Hear Doctor Leinbach

Quarterly meeting of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary will be held Wednesday of next week at 2:00 p. m. at the library basement, with Dr. S. P. Leinbach the speaker. He will present some information on the Iowa Eye Bank at the University of Iowa. He had been scheduled to appear at an earlier meeting but found it impossible to be present.

Another feature of the program, according to Mrs. R. H. Gowdy, president of the auxiliary, will be a panel discussion on "The Visitor Problem at a Hospital." Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser will be moderator.

Views on the problem will be presented from the standpoint of a nurse, the hospital administrator, a visitor, a patient and a doctor. Members of the panel have not yet been completely selected, but Doctor Leinbach and Administrator Stuart Kutz will be heard in their respective capacities.

Yesterday, a delegation representing the Belmond Auxiliary, accompanied by Mr. Kutz, was to attend the annual regional meeting of the Iowa Association of Hospital Auxiliaries and Administrators at Waterloo.

Pheasant Hunters Get Into Trouble

Two men from Perry, Ill., currently employed on an elevator construction crew at Buffalo Center, shot themselves 18 pheasants at approximately $26 per bird last Monday.

They were apprehended near Greyhound station by District Conservation Officer Basil Downing of Spencer with their super-abundance of ringnecks and carrying improper licenses.

Hailed before Mayor R. C. Bowman of Clarion after their arrest, each of the men was charged with two counts of possessing over-limit birds and with one count of hunting without proper license. Both exhibited Iowa, rather than out-of-state licenses.

ART DISPLAY ARRANGED

Vivien Cairns believes that Jim's Paint and Wallpaper store has an attraction coming Monday that will be of interest to a good many people. From the Georgia Art Supply company has been obtained a display of 144 art prints, many of them copies of familiar works of famous artists. The exhibit will be on display for only a short time, and she hopes that as many persons as can possibly do so will take advantage of the opportunity to see the pictures while they are here.

Peewee Runabout Not for Sale; Marked for Elliott's Grandson

One of the major attractions of the parade held in conjunction with the recent BHS Homecoming was the under-sized auto which pinch-hit as a "float" for Elliott's Hardware. Although the vehicle was a fairly familiar sight on Belmond's streets 10 years or so ago when Ellis Elliott's son Dick used to drive it about, it nevertheless created quite a sensation when Ellis put it in public view again.

Mr. Elliott wishes he had a supply of diminutive jitneys. He says he could find a ready market for them, explaining, "I'll bet 50 fellows have wanted to buy it off of me."

The tiny runabout is largely Ellis's own handiwork. He made it when he was an employee of the Automatic Washer company at Newton. The body was made from sheet steel by a fellow worker who'd once been an auto body repairman. The rest, Mr. Elliott fabricated out of "this and that."

It is powered by what was originally a 2½-hp Briggs-Stratton gasoline engine, which "should get about 60 to 80 miles to the gallon." However, Ellis "souped" it up with a five-horse power carburetor and other refinements which played hob with the gasoline mileage.

As a result, though, the Tom Thumb jaloppy will make up to 40 mph—"given enough time to work at it," Ellis says.

Dudley Thompson (son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Thompson), who rode with Mr. Elliott in the parade —and is pictured with him below —was quite the envy of all his contemporaries. Which in large part explains why the car isn't for sale.

"I worked on that thing evenings and Sunday for the better part of nine months, back about 1940," E. J. recalls, "and I know I couldn't sell it for anything near what all that time would call for.

"But the main reason it isn't for sale," he admits, "is the fact I might have a grandson one day. When and if I do, the car's to be HIS."

ELLIOTT AT THE WHEEL; THOMPSON, RELIEF DRIVER

'56 Road Paving Work Completed

Phase No. 1 of Wright county's 10-year road surfacing program "beat the weather" and was successfully completed by Hallett Construction company of Crosby, Minn., about 10 days ago.

Profitting by the abnormally dry weather and lengthy Indian summer, the road crews got their job done with dispatch. Last weekend was to see the '56 projects wound up with filling of the expansion joints in the latest laid concrete paving with tar.

A temporary shortage of tar delayed for a while completion of the work, to the dismay of Holmes residents, who were virtually isolated while the single road through town was under construction. Truck traffic in and out of the community was brought to a standstill for a time, but auto traffic was continued on a highly hampered basis via the roadside ditches.

This year saw a 3½ mile stretch of County K north of Clarion and 4¼ miles to the south paved by the slip-form method; also the stretch of about a mile into Holmes from No. 3 and a 2½-mile piece on the road west of Eagle Grove, to the Humboldt county line

On the road-surfacing program for next year, as initially planned is the blacktopping of 5½ miles of county road to the south of Dows and of 6 3/4 miles north of Goldfield.

BUSH GIVEN 25 YEARS

Sentence was passed last Friday on Herbert L. Bush of Woolstock, who on Oct. 31 was found guilty of incest by a Wright county district court jury. Judge J. M. Schaupp sentenced Bush to serve a term not to exceed 25 years in the Iowa state penitentiary for men at Fort Madison. Bush was taken to Fort Madison the same day by Sheriff Bob Blecker to start serving his time.

SMITHS HAVE NEW SON

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith on Monday of last week obtained for adoption a baby boy. Little Jay Leroy was just two weeks old when he moved into his new home.

TWO GOT $75

Two tasty samples were sliced off the Cash Gift Day melon this week — a $50 portion going to Mrs. T. A. Thompson and a $25 chunk to Mrs. L. E. Wessels. What with Christmas-shopping time just around the corner, and all, the CGD committee would be happy to see the money go in a steadier stream. They're "putting back" the $75 departed dollars, so there will again be $400 to go for next Tuesday afternoon. That will permit four $25 numbers to be posted once more at 2:00 o'clock and a half dozen $50's at 3:00 p. m. All number-holdes who don't need extra money for Christmas buying, stay home! That's the best way to make sure of not being embarrassed with unexpected wealth.

st-Sharing Conservation Programs ring Increase in ACP Participation

A marked increase in soil and ter conservation work on Iowa ms through the federal gover- gram (ACP) was reported this by Max M. Soeth, chairman the state ASC committee. He ted that Iowa farmers received 90,869 in 1955 under the ACP of sharing the cost of prac- most needed to conserve ir soil and water resources. was $1,610,769 greater than 1954. Farmers of Wright coun- earned $57,858.16 in cost-shar- conservation payments in 1955.

Latest available reports on 1956 -sharing conservation opera- ns in the state, Soeth said, wed that more than twice as ch authorized work had been completed by Oct. 1 as in the cor- ponding period of 1955.

Earned cost-sharing this year, up to Oct. 1, he said, amounted to approximately $5,600,000 as compared with $2,152,000 by the same date in 1955. Earned cost-sharing in Wright county up to Oct. 1 was $15,217.80, compared with $1,-794.75 by the same date in 1955.

84,000 Application on File

As further evidence of increasing ACP activity, the state chairman mentioned that 84,000 applications for cost-sharing projects have been filed with county ASC offices in Iowa so far this year, or 11,000 more than in the same period of 1955.

"If weather permits completion of authorized work," he declared, "total accomplishments under the cost-sharing program this year will substantially exceed those of 1955".

Increases in farm conservation work have resulted principally from drouth problems, diversion of land from crop production through acreage allotment programs, and widespread evidence of the value of sound practices. Mr. Soeth predicted that these factors will bring even greater conservation accomplishments under the 1957 cost-sharing program, which will be announced in the near future. Iowa's share of national ACP funds for 1957 has been fixed at $9,185,000, or about the same as for 1956.

46,676 Iowa Farms Involved

The 1955 cost-sharing program provided that not more than 50 per cent of the cost of carrying out ACP practices could be met with government funds. Since cost-share payments for the year amounted to $7,390,000, the total cost of work completed on Iowa farms that year was around 15 million dollars. ACP work was done on 46,676 farms.

In 1955, a majority of county ASC committees in the state followed a policy of determining the practices most needed in their communities and placing special emphasis on getting that kind of work done. To encourage use of the emphasized practices, the committee approved requests for assistance on such work in amounts and at rates which were sufficient to influence applicants to carry out their projects.

This system was a big factor in raising average cost-sharing payments to $158 per participating farm in 1955, as compared with $104 in 1954 and $96 in 1953.

More Pooling Agreements

Success marked ASC efforts in 1955 to have farmers use ACP pooling agreements to get complete conservation jobs as well as maximum benefits from expenditures. Ninety-three pooling agreements involving 254 farms in 23 Iowa counties were carried out in 1955, as compared to 32 agreements involving 113 farms in 13 counties in 1954.

All of the 21 regular ACP practices offered in Iowa in 1955 were of a permanent or enduring type, with a major portion of the cost-sharing accomplishments consisting of construction or establishment of terraces, sod waterways, livestock water dams or ponds, erosion control dams and open farm drainage ditches, and establishing or improving vegetative cover (grasses and legumes) in pastures and on rotation cropland. Use of these practices was far greater in 1955 than in 1954.

The seeding practices, which were of particular value on land diverted from crop production in the acreage allotment program, were used on 94,000 acres in 1955, as compared to 19,000 acres in 1954.

Extensive Terracing Done

With ACP assistance, 2,905 miles of standard, level and basin terraces were constructed in the state last year, as compared to 2,746 miles in 1954.

Over 188.8 million square feet of sod waterways were established through ACP in 1955, or nearly 48 million square feet more than in 1954. A total of 2,594 livestock water dams or ponds were constructed in 1955, or 255 more than in 1954. The 719 erosion control dams erected in 1955 exceeded the 1954 figure by 29.

The amount of earth work done in 1955 in constructing or improving open farm drainage ditches — 2,271,723 cubic yards — exceeded that of 1954 by 447,000 cubic yards. Tiling done in 1955 — 1¼ million rods — was 310,000 rods more than in 1954.

Wayne county led the state in 1955 in the amount of cost-sharing earned by farmers for completing ACP practices. The amount was $175,855. Next highest counties were: Fayette, $168,946; Ringgold, $164,473; Poweshiek, $156,956; and Harrison, $145,171. Farmers of each of the following counties received payments totaling between $100,000 and $143,000: Adair, Appanoose, Benton, Clarke, Decatur, Iowa, Jefferson, Lucas, Madison, Tama, Taylor, Union and Warren.

IOWA U-GO-I-GO

Iowa U-Go-I-Go 4-H club's annual Mother's Tea was held at the Rowan schoolhouse Nov. 3. To begin the program, Carmen Rietz read a poem "Little Things." Gloria Arends, Collene Sellers, Bonnie Frohling, Marjorie Olinger, Karen Azeltine and Lynne Arends installed the following as officers: Arlene Woodley, president; Illene Woodley, vice president; Deanna Azeltine, secretary; Carmen Rietz, treasurer; Sandra Phifer, historian; and Janet Andrews, reporter. To conclude the program, Mrs. Mae Meyers gave a short talk.

Committees were appointed for the December meeting, which will be the club's Christmas party. They are as follows: recreation—Carmen Rietz, Mary Kapka, Elizabeth Boyd and Kathy Box; food—Pattie Smith, Bonnie Vestweber and Karen Azeltine; and to send the gifts to Woodward—Deanna Azeltine and Leola Hill. Each girl is to bring a gift costing between 25 and 35 cents and something for lunch.

Karen and Deanna Azeltine and Carmen Rietz and their mothers at the November meeting served lunch to about 40 mothers and girls.

PICTURED ABOVE is the newy acquired campsite of the Winnebago Council of Boy Scouts of America on which will be established the Scout camp that is to replace Camp Roosevelt, near Ventura. The site is three miles northwest of Marble Rock in Floyd county. It will be recalled that an area of Tyrrell grove, south of Belmond, was tentatively under consideration for this purpose several years ago. The Marble Rock site was purchased in August of this year. With assistance of Soil Conservation Service technicians, the Floyd County Soil Convervation district is currently preparing contour maps of the area, which will be used in developing total plans for the site. Nelson Dangremond, BSA consultant engineer on camp development, has been conferring with the Council's camp development committee this week in projecting plans for building the new camp.

Iowa Division, ACS, to Again Award 50 Nursing Scholarships Next Year

[illegible] CITY — Continuation in 1957 of the nurses' scholarship program of the Iowa division of the American Society has been announced by Henry B. Hook of Davenport, president. For the ninth consecutive year, 50 nursing scholarships will be made available to young women. This represents six per cent of the annual Iowa first year nursing student classes.

First in the nation to set up such a program, the Iowa division now has 140 nurse trainees attending 24 nursing schools in Iowa. In addition, 204 nurses granted scholarships in 1949-53 have been graduated. Aimed at relieving the critical nursing shortage in Iowa, the scholarships are part of a long range program to expand the society's service for needy cancer patients.

Those who have been graduated from this area include: Mary Negrete, Belmond, now nursing at SUI Hospitals, Iowa City; Margaret Thul, Clarion, Clarion Memorial hospital; M. Ruth Thompson, Clarion, Iowa Lutheran at Des Moines; Cheryl Schultz, Clarion, Wright county public health nurse; Bettie Lowenberg Jindrich, Goodell, St. Joseph's at Mason City; Betty Dempsey Belmond, Belmond Community hospital.

Girls from this area now in training under ASC scholarships are: Maxine Stille, Goodell, Iowa Lutheran at Des Moines; Sheila Telford, Clarion, SUI, Iowa City; Joyce Carolus, Galt, Iowa Methodist, Des Moines.

The awards grant tuition, fees, books and uniform (but not to exceed $5000) for three full years of training, beginning in the fall of 1957, at any accredited Iowa nursing school. Applicants must meet these requirements: rank in upper third of class scholastically; high school graduation in 1957 or earlier; age at least 17 years at date of entrance to nursing school; passage of pre-nursing tests; acceptance by approved Iowa nursing school.

They must also promise to practice the nursing profession in Iowa for two years immediately following graduation; must need financial assistance; and possess personal qualities essential to becoming a good nurse.

Judging is on the basis of 100 points — 45 points for need of financial assistance, 45 points for scholarship as shown by school grades and pre-nursing test and 10 points for essay, appearance and application.

Applications must be received by March 25, 1957. Pre-nursing tests must be taken so that results will be available to the scholarship committee prior to April 1. Complete information regarding these scholarships may be obtained by contacting county ACS chapter chairman, or by writing to the Iowa Division, American Cancer Society, Mason City.

Wilmarth Speaker Monday Evening At Farm Meeting

Garfield "Gus" Halverson, Jr., who will be host Monday night to the Belmond township meeting scheduled for election of a new township representative on the Wright County Extension Council, says that a special program is planned in conjunction with the meeting.

Charles Wilmarth, research director for Tomahawk Corn company, will tell some of his experiences during the trip he made to Europe last month. Mr. Halverson believes Mr. Wilmarth's remarks will be of very general interest and issues a special invitation to women as well as men to attend the meeting.

It will be held at the Halverson home at 8:00 p. m. Gerald Anderson, county youth assistant, will also be heard on the program. Mr. Halverson adds that two candidates for the council have been named for Belmond township, Vernon McLaughlin and L. B. Oberhauser, who will figure in the evening's election.

On the same evening, Norway township will hold a similar election meeting at the community club building that was formerly Norway Center school. It is planned for 8:00 p. m., also.

HELLO WORLD!

Mrs. Anna Jenison received word that she is great grandmother to a little girl born Nov. 10 at Fort Worth, Tex., to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hooker. Mrs. Hooker is the former Diane Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Hopkey are parents of a 6 lb. 7½ oz. baby boy, Dennis De, born Nov. 12.

Jacqueline Rae is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Dorenkamp of Alexander for the 7 lb. 5½ oz. daughter born to them Nov. 10.

A 7 lb. 12½ oz. son was born Nov. 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ausborn of Goodell. They have named him Harvey Richard.

KANAWHA CHAPTER, FFA

Kanawha's new FFA chapter met on Monday of last week with 26 members present. It was voted that a member be charged 25 cents fine every time he misses a meeting without a good excuse.

Arrangements are being made to pick up corn as a money-making project. The members also discussed the possibility of collecting used toys to be repaired and given to poor children to provide them a merrier Christmas.

Missionary Emory Van Gerpen Will Speak 3 Times at Baptist Church

Rev. Emory Van Gerpen, on furlough from his missionary assignment to Nigeria, Africa, will conduct both morning and evening services Sunday and the evening service next Thursday at the Fundamental Baptist church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Gerpen of Belmond.

The public is invited to attend any or all of these services and especially the one Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Mr. Van Gerpen will show colored pictures of his work in the field.

Sunday night, following the evening services, the Van Gerpens will be honored at a fellowship luncheon served by the ladies of the local church. All of Mr. Van eGrpen's friends are asked to be present for this occasion.

Mr. Van Gerpen graduated from the local high school with the class of '45, after which he attended the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, graduating in 1948. He then enrolled at the Northwestern Schools in Minneapolis, Minn., where he earned his A. B. degree. In April of 1952 Emory was married to Phyllis Zylstra of Sibley, They have two children, both of them born in Africa.

In 1952 Mr. and Mrs. Van Gerpen applied to the Sudan Interior Mission and sailed in November of the same year to take up their work as missionaries. They spent nearly four years with the Moslems in Nigeria before coming home on furlough.

Mrs. Van Gerpen is a registered nurse and, in addition to caring for the children and their home, is in charge of the dispensary, which gives about 30,000 treatments a year. The natives are treated for such ailments as ulcers, malaria, sore eyes, infected ears, yaws and dysentary.

Trekking, which is one of Rev. Van Gerpen's duties, takes him out into the country and villages where he teaches and preaches the Word of God to the natives. He also has pastoral duties of a native church, as well as being the administrator of the compound or station.

The Van Gerpens hope to return to Africa by late summer of next year. They are now doing deputation work and preparing a four-year supply of equipment for the work in the field for their coming term.

Mr. Van Gerpen was ordained to his work by the local Baptist church in 1949. Rev. Harry McKinney, pastor of the church, says, "We of the church are extremely happy to have these folks back home again, and our prayer for them is for a restful stay at home and then for a fruitful ministry in Africa."

Paper to Publish Pictures of Young "World Builders"

To give its readers a good look at the "World Builders" of tomorrow, The Independent has made arrangements with an expert in child photography to take pictures of children in this area for publication in the newspaper. He will set up a temporary studio at Veterans' Memorial hall on Tuesday, Nov. 27, between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m.

Only pictures taken at that time will be used in the "World Builders" feature, as photos of standard size and quality are required. There will be no charge to parents for having the pictures taken and they need not be subscribers to The Independent.

Neither will there be any obligation whatsoever to purchase pictures taken at that time. Orders will be taken by the photographer if the parents wish, but it will be entirely up to them.

The Independent simply wants pictures of youngsters to run as a news feature, and all mothers and fathers in the Belmond area are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to see their children's photos in print.

Appointments may be made, if desired, by phoning Mrs. Lee Mussell (308).

Little Doubt Now That Chest Failed

Little more than $150 was added to the proceeds of the current Community Chest drive by late collections turned in during the past week, Campaign Director Tom Burdsal reports. This leaves the drive about $1,600 short of its goal, whereas just a year ago the '55 campaign had gone sailing "over the top."

Mr. Burdsal is at a loss to explain the apparent, drastic failure of the 1956 campaign to reach its $4,900 objective—the same amount that was attained in approximately three weeks' time last year.

He is hopeful that a fair amount of donations are still in the hands of solicitors and have not been accounted for at the First State bank, where the money is to be turned in He also suspects that some contacts remain to be made, which may bolster the total.

Nevertheless, it now seems a virtual certainty that the Community Chest drive this year will be the first to which the word "failure" can be applied. And from a standpoint of past performance and civic pride, Mr. Burdsal considers this outcome as regrettable, indeed. He points out that, heretofore, Belmond citizens have had every reason to take pride in their generous response to the annual Community Chest appeal.

Mr. Burdsal once again urges all canvassers who have not completed their rounds, or who have not turned in their collections, to do so immediately. Just what the exact status of the fund drive is—and what can be done about it—cannot be ascertained until reports are completed, he says.

Scouts of Council Pick Up 19,449 Bags of Clothing

Winnebago Council Cub and Boy Scouts established two all-time records in their recent annual Good Turn Day clothing drive for the handicapped men and women at Goodwill Industries.

The Scouts covered 50 towns in the nine-county council. This is the largest number to towns ever organized into one Goodwill Industries drive on council-wide basis for any of the Goodwill Industries in the nation.

The Cub Scouts delivered 21,651 Goodwill clothing bags to homes in the 50 towns on Saturday, Oct. 20th. One week later the Boy Scouts returned and collected 19,449 full bags and took them to a central collection point in their respective towns. They averaged an 89.82 per cent full-bag return. This is the largest percentage of full-bag return on Good Turn Day on councilwide basis by any Scout council in the United States.

The town of St. Ansgar scored high with a 158 per cent bag return. The Cubs delivered 250 bags in their town and when the Boy Scouts collected the bags, they brought back enough extra boxes and sacks to fill 395 bags.

Belmond Cubs distributed 500 bags and the Scouts picked up 392 full ones for a 78.4 per cent return. The number of full bags turned in in other nearby communities and the return percentage achieved were: Dows, 302 for 134.22 per cent; Thornton, 127 for 127 per cent; Meservey, 90 for 120 per cent; Goodell, 65 for 86.66 per cent; Clarion, 456 for 72.72 per cent; Rowan, 51 for 68 per cent; and Eagle Grove, 672 for 67.2 per cent.

Winnebago Council in the Mason City area includes the nine counties of Cerro Gordo, Winnebago, Mitchell, Butler, Wright, Floyd, Hancock, Worth and Franklin.

Stanley Siesmer, Garner truck line operator furnished the 10 semi-trailers required to transport the 19,449 bags to Sioux City.

Winnebago Council Cub and Boy Scouts will make the rounds again next fall, hoping to defend their national honors.

VISIT ACTRESS'S HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kirkendall last Sunday were guests in the home of his cousin, Mrs. Ed Seberg, and family at Marshalltown and attended the recognition service held at the Trinity Lutheran church there honoring the Sebergs' daughter Jean. She is the young actress recently awarded the title role in the forthcoming film version of George Bernard Shaw's, "Saint Joan."

Gladys G. Barnes, Belmond Native, Dies at Garner

Funeral services were held at St. Boniface Catholic church, Garner, last Saturday for Mrs. Clarence Barnes, nee Gladys G. Rosecrans. A native of Belmond, Mrs. Barnes died suddenly Tuesday of last week at her home. She had suffered from a heart ailment for some time but was thought to be on her way to recovery.

Born here on Sept. 2, 1888, Mrs. Barnes was the daughter of William I. and Catherine Finch Rosecrans. She was married on Feb. 21, 1916 to Clarence E. Barnes, Garner automobile dealer.

Mrs. Barnes was a civic leader throughout her 40 years of residence in Garner. She was a charter member of the Garner Women's club, the Catholic Daughters of America and the American Legion Auxiliary.

She was long active in the American Red Cross and was one of the founders of the Hancock County Tuberculosis and Health association.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two daughters — Catherine Ross and Betty Lou Yurigan, both of Garner; and a brother, Leo M. Rosecrans, Los Angeles, Calif. She also leaves five grandchildren.

TIME OF SOCIAL SECURITY VISIT AT CLARION CHANGED

COMMERCIAL BEEF CLASS RULES CHANGED FOR EAGLE GROVE FAIR

New rules covering the commercial beef class at the Eagle Grove District Junior Fair have been announced by Gerald E. Anderson, county extension youth assistant. The purpose of the rule change is to make the class more practical. 4-H members will not be required to break the animals to lead or to clip or curl them.

Three animals will be shown and appraised in pens, premuims will be awarded on the basis of adjusted rate of gain as well as margin of purchase price over apraisal price. Rules governing the method of judging and sale of these animals have not been worked out yet, but will be set forth at a later date.

Entries from eligible members can be accepted any time from now until Jan. 1. Entries must be made as soon as animals are purchased. The fair board reserves the right to limit entries if they exceed the number of pens available for this class.

1. Class shall consist of 3 steers or heifers. a. Heifers must follow fair health rules.
2. There will be a limit of one pen per exhibitor.
3. Animals must be tattooed by Jan. 15
4. Members must obtain their animals and start their projects between Sept. 1 and Jan. 1.
5. Either calves or yearlings may be used, as there is no weight limit.
6. Animals must be purchased at a place where there is more than one bidder. The fair board reserves the right to investigate with this rule.
7. A bill of sale is required, showing the following: a. Weight; b. Price per hunderweight; c. Date; d. Seller; e. Purchaser (purchaser to be exhibitor).
8. Animals in this class cannot be shown in any other class.
9. Exhibitors must be members of a 4-H club or FFA club.
10. Animals may be washed, but not clipped or curled. There is no need to have there animals halter-broken.
11. An entry fee of $5 must be paid when entry is made. Entries must be made at the extension office as soon as animals are purchased. The entry fee will be refunded if the calves are show at the Eagle Grove District Junior Fair.
12. Exhibitors must have reach their 13th birthday by Jan. 1, 1957.
13. The fair board reserves the right to limit entries.
14. Any member exhibiting in this class is limited to one other halter entry (one baby beef).
15. No calves shall be shown that have previously been offered for sale at a public auction.

Charles Kramer Accepts Chairman's Job for County's 1957 Heart Drive

Chuck Kramer, Clarion, will be the chairman for the 1957 Heart Campaign in Wright county according to Dr. J. W. Culbertson, Iowa City, president of the Iowa Heart association The Iowa Heart association, which is affiliated with the American Heart association, will conduct is annual fund-raising drive from February 1st through 28th.

The campaign will reach a peak on Heart Sunday, Feb. 24th, with a door-to-door collection conducted by scores of Heart Fund volunteers. This will be the first year Iowans will be able to contribute voluntarily directly to the Heart Fund. During the past several years, it has been partially supported through the Christmas Seal campaign.

A major portion of the funds will be used in Wright county and in the state to support local heart programs. The Iowa Heart association's major activity during the last few years has been the establishment and continued support of the Cardiovascular Research Laboratories at the State University of Iowa.

In addition, it has worked very closely with the State Service for Crippled Children to develop a statewide rheumatic fever prevention program.

"The purpose of the annual drive," Mr. Kramer announced after accepting the appointment, "is to support the association's research, lay and professional education, and community heart programs."

"I am proud to have been selected to head the Heart Fund drive because I think the heart disease problem is a leading threat to the nation's health and most deserves the support of the people of our community and nation," Mr. Kramer said. "But equally important," he added, "it is the health field that the people in the community and in communities throughout the country must know more about."

"The heart disease accounted for more deaths last year than all other causes of deaths combined. Moreover, one in 16 persons in the United States suffers from a heart or cardiovascular ailment," Mr. Kramer stated. "With the stakes so high, each of us has the responsibility to serve our Heart Association actively as a volunteer, if possible, and certainly as a contributor to the forthcoming drive,"

Research is the primary weapon in the attack on the Heart problem, Mr. Kramer pointed out. An average of 40 per cent of all funds raised by Heart associations throughout the country last year was allocated to scientists and scientific research, he said.

BELMOND GETS $28,728 GENERAL STATE SCHOOL AID FOR 1956-57

Probably due to reorganizations that made a few more Iowa school districts eligible this year than last, settlement of claims for state general school aid came to a bit less for the 1956-57 school year than for 1955-56. County Supt. C. W. Sankey announced last week that the total of general aid received by Wright county schools was down slightly, from $119,338.16 to $115,270.72. In addition, six school districts in the county shared supplemental aid to a total of $3,099.31.

Claims for general aid this year were settled at the rate of 93.38 cents on the dollar, compared to last year's rate of 97.5. This resulted in Belmond Community School districts share dropping from $30,279.84 a year ago to $28,728.75 in spite of slightly higher enrollment upon which to qualify for state assistance.

Schools receive 17 cents per day for elementary pupils in average daily attendance and 20 cents per day for high school students. School systems having junior colleges receive an additional 25 cents per day on the average daily attendance of college students. This comprises the "general aid."

Districts that cannot raise $90 per elementary pupil and $145 per high school pupil on a given millage levy, due to large school population compared to assessed valuation, also receive supplemental aid. The specified millages are: 17 mills for independent districts with high schools, 10 mills for consolidated districts and other high school districts and seven mills for strictly elementary districts.

Supt. Sankey points out that since Wright county districts benefit by comparatively high assessed valuations, little supplemental aid is received here. Belmond receives a modest amount of supplemental aid — $467.94 — because it has a large student body in comparison to tax valuation.

General aid to districts in this county, in addition to Belmond, was as follows: Clarion $16,816.74, Eagle Grove $23,028.68 (plus $3,312.12 for the junior college), Dows $13,307.46, Goldfield $8,820.04, Rowan $4,972.20, Galt $1,135.81, Woolstock $1, 638.24.

Blaine township $571.69, Dayton $4,070.55, Wall Lake $2,991.05, Woolstock township $2,629.49, Lincoln rural independents No. 2 $398.04, No. 4 $374.18, No. 6 $424.44 and No. 9 $438.73, and Vernon rural independents No. 3 $631.69 and No. 5 $615.23.

Besides Belmond, supplemental aid went to: Galt $965.23, Woolstock Independent $962.20, Blaine township $15.15, Vernon No. 3 $294.52 and No. 5 $394.27.

Under the state law that went into effect last year, a school district must have a tax levy of at least 15 mills to be eligible for either state general or supplemental aid.

Ver Hoef Informs WRARC Parents Of Speech Work

A large group of parents and friends were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children held Wednesday of last week at the Rowan school. They heard Niel VerHoef, county speech therapist, tell about children's speech difficulties and what is being done to correct them.

After the regular program, the audience had the privilege of hearing from Mrs. Ruth Hannah of Kilmarmock, Scotland, who is currently visiting in Rowan. She told many interesting facts about the schools in Scotland and England and how their special education programs for retarded children are conducted.

Next monthly meeting of the association will be held Dec. 5 at Eagle Grove.

Grimes 4-H'ers Get Recognition At Award Banquet

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gobeli, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meints, Jerry Meints, Donald Gobeli and Dale Ruiter attended the 4-H banquet at Mason City on Nov. 5.

Members of the Grimes Little Feeders Club to receive awards were Jerry Meints, a Chicago trip, on his outstanding achievement in 4-H work, sponsored by the Lions club of Meservey; Donald Gobeli, a Chicago trip on his outstanding record book, sponsored by the Thornton bank.

Also Dale Ruiter, a poultry producer medal on his poultry project; Sharon Morris, a trophy from the Shorthorn Breeders association on her grand champion Shorthorn beef heifer.

The club also received $12 for having the largest laying flock project in the county, given by the Copley Hatchery of Clear Lake.

Sunday dinner guests of the Albert Pals were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rickards and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barnes and Stan, all of Clear Lake. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuhlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Messelheiser, Janet and Robert and Mrs. Frieda Messelheiser returned home last week after visiting relatives in Chicago and with Mrs. Ella Hulsebus in Janesville, Wisc., and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Piotrowski, Jr., Lou, Marcia and Debra Boelman in Milwaukee. Dean Messelheiser stayed with his grandmother, Mrs. Letha Strasburg.

The W. S. W. S. of the E. U. B. church packed four sacks of used clothing for Church of World Service in observation of World Community Day.

The ladies of the E. U. B. Helping Hand Society spent the past week quilting in the afternoons at the church parlors.

Mrs. Frieda Messelheiser visited from Wednesday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Drewes in Chicago.

Baby Daughter Joins Leonard Wiemann Family

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wiemann have a new daughter, Carmen, born last week in the Belmond Community hospital. They have one son, Gordon. Mrs. Wiemann is the former Lida Koenen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake K. Koenen of Meservey.

GRIMES CLOVER BELLES

The Grimes Clover Belles met on Saturday, Nov. 10. We put our programs together. We had a lesson on the gathered skirt and putting on waist bands also a discussion on choosing patterns.

Last Monday night the following attended the County 4-H banquet held at the Holy Family church in Mason City: Mary Kay Brown, Kathleen Diddy, Charlotte Dorenkamp, Sharon Morris, Bertha Shaw, Marianne Vierkant and our leader, Mrs. Lovell Diddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunton and Mrs. Lovell Diddy spent Tuesday in Des Moines on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Delay and Marty of Jewell spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins are enjoying a visit from the former's father of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker received the news Saturday morning of the birth of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. James Hungerford of Osage. They now have four girls and the Raeckers have five granddaughters. Mrs. Raecker went to Osage Friday morning to care for her granddaughters, Cheryl, Brenda and Debra. Mr. Raecker returned home in the evening.

MHS Girls' Cage Prospects Bright

Coach Lovell Diddy sees a possible return of his Rockettes to the heights that Meservey girls basketball teams attained just a few years ago as the current cage season gets underway. He will be able to field an almost entirely veteran sextet this year, with Guard Donna Kuhlers the only starter who is short on experience.

In the Rockettes' front line will be Carole Greer, Lois Smit and Janean Lieberknecht and teaming with Miss Kuhlers at guard will be Bonnie Lou Suntken and Marian Pals. A year ago the Meservey girls posted a very respectable 21-6 record. A tip-off on their current strength was provided by the Circle Lake jamboree last week, in which the Rockettes drubbed Hanlontown, 26 to 8.

In contrast, the boys' jamboree made evident that Coach Vance Paulsen has a big rebuilding job ahead of him. The Meservey five clearly showed its inexperience in bowing to Scarville, 14-6. Five of the six boys who carried most of the load last season were lost by graduation, only Gary Diddy remaining.

Other seniors on the varsity squad are Vernon Pals, Charles Rutkowski, Jerry Suntken, Lawrence Suntken and Arlyn Vierkant. Advancing to the varsity ranks as juniors are Jerry Meints, Dale Ruiter, Vernon Schmale and Gary Wood. Completing the roster are a pair of sophomores, Glenn Greer and Vernon Steenhard.

Following is the Meservey schedule:

Nov. 13—Alumni, here.
Nov. 16—Thornton, there.
Nov. 27—Rock Falls, there.
Nov. 30—Swaledale, here.
Dec. 4—Rowan, here.
Dec. 7—Plymouth, here.
Dec. 11—Alexander, there.
Dec. 14— Grafton, there.
Dec. 21—Kensett, here.
Jan. 4—Joice, there.
Jan. 8—Swaledale, there.
Jan. 11—Hanlontown, here.
Jan. 14-19—Conference tourney.
Jan. 25—Thornton, here.
Jan. 29—Alexander, here.
Feb. 1—Hansell, there.

IOWA BENEFITS MANY TIMES OVER

...from the Brewing Industry

In Employment...

Nearly 23,000 Iowans are employed in the brewing industry. These people and their families, living in literally every section of the state, make their daily contribution to the wealth, growth and welfare of our communities.

In Farm Income...

More than $250,000,000 worth of grain (with corn heading the list) is purchased each year by the brewing industry. This steady demand for basic grains is an important item which Iowa farmers can always count on.

In Taxes...

A total of over $25,000,000 in taxes is paid by the brewing industry every year on beer sold in Iowa. All Iowa benefits from this, because it means a reduction by that much in our individual taxes. Yes, in so many, many ways . . .

Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God — Mark 10:14.

EDUCATING THE RETARDED CHILD WILL COST MONEY—BUT ALSO SAVE A-PLENTY

Members of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children observed with much interest the proceedings at a meeting of the Council for Retarded Children of Hancock and Winnebago Counties that was held recently at Algona. Purpose of the meeting was to hear outlined by Don Potter, director of special education for Kossuth, Hancock and Winnebago counties, progress being made in respect to establishment of classrooms for the education and training of mentally retarded children.

These classrooms are to be under the public school systems and are being set up for the benefit of children whose degree of mental retardation is such that they are nonetheless educable and trainable. Mr. Potter noted that Britt has established a class for the mentally deficient this year, which has a present enrollment of six and an anticipated later enrollment of some 12 to 15 children.

The Council, itself, currently sponsors two classes in Winnebago county for mentally retarded children; but Mr. Potter emphasized that organization of such classes is to be regarded a purely stop-gap measure. The declared objective of the Council is to have adequate classroom facilities and teachers made available in the three counties under the aegis of the public schools.

This program has much in common with the one in speech correction that was introduced this year in Wright county on a cooperative basis. It is the philosophy behind both projects that the handicapped or mentally deficient child is owed the same obligation by the public that has for so many years provided free education and training for the normal child.

By receiving special attention, the less severely retarded child can often derive a great deal of benefit from the regular course of school study, master "the three R's," and equip himself to fill a useful and self-supporting role in society. Such attention cannot be given by the presently overburdened teachers in our public school systems, and the result is that the future of these borderline children most often is sacrificed to the predominating interest in and attention to his unhandicapped classmates.

Certainly the tri-county Council for Retarded Children and the schools in those counties that are making a real effort to cooperate with the Council's program are to be commended. It is most understandable that the Wright County Association for Retarded Children has hopes of seeing a similar program launched here.

How much better to help these children, who have the minimum mentality to do so, become self-sufficient members of society rather than lifetime charges of society! Tax pennies wisely invested to this end will prevent pound profligance over a span of many years in the case of each child salvaged.

WHA' HOPPENED TO HOEGH, DOLLIVER? HERE'S A COUPLE OF SECOND-GUESSES

We're disinclined to "analyze" the reasons for the voter revolts against Gov. Leo Hoegh and Rep. J. I. Dolliver. Goodness knows, there have been as many explanations offered as there have been persons undertaking the role of analyst. Probably each and every one of the reasons proffered accounted for some of the switch votes.

However, considering the emphasis which Herschel Loveless put on taxes and spending during the course of his campaign against the incumbent governor, we're inclined to believe that no other issue exerted MORE influence in accounting for Governor Hoegh's defeat. In effect, we'd say that Leo paid the price of defeat for being forthright in facing the fact that Iowa has a tax problem and must do something about it.

Outside of criticizing what the retiring administration has done in this regard, Loveless had no suggestions to offer—certainly no constructive ones. The best he could do was suggest that liquor-by-the-drink might be the "open Sesame" to untold riches if someone smarter than himself can but figure out the ways and means. But people very apparently don't like to be forced to think about taxes; and they've voted a man into office who'll no doubt be happy enough to let this sleeping dog lie until such time as stern reality kicks it in the haunches.

By and large, we regard that Dolliver's defeat —assuming the recount will confirm it—is much more simply explainable. The public doesn't like complacency; and it doesn't like to be taken for granted. With all the energy of his youthful years, Rev. Merwin Coad hustled through the hustlings like a town crier telling one and all that he was FOR them, that he would take great and sincere pleasure in serving them—and he told them TO THEIR FACES.

In contrast, Mr. Dolliver made himself available at meetings, coffee gatherings and the like; but it was mainly up to his constituents to SEEK HIM OUT if they wished to hear from him. A lot of people clearly preferred — and were flattered by—the Coad approach.

Times Have Changed

—1946—

At the concluding meeting of the Gridiron club for the present season, held Monday evening, Roy Henderson was elected president, succeeding Clark MeNeal. R. H. Gowdy was named secretary-treasurer.

—1946—

Only two lettermen are back to form the nucleus of this year's BHS basketball team, after graduation of nine veterans last spring. The returnees are Ronnie Hunter and Glen Meints.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

—1936—

The barn on the Percy Bamford farm a mile and a quarter northwest of Belmond, tenanted by Ed Halfpop, was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning.

—1936—

Cornerstone of the new Sands Memorial Congregational church will be laid Sunday afternoon. It replaces the edifice, built in 1905, that was completely destroyed by fire a year ago.

—1936—

Belmond High's gridders closed their poorest season since 1927 with a 6-0 loss to Lake Mills yesterday, Armistice Day. Local fans were brought to their feet by a 65-yard kickoff run-back by John Packard late in the game. It went to the Lake Mills 15 and the boys advanced to the two as the game ended.

—1936—

Roy Henderson, chairman of the Belmond chapter of the American Red Cross, says plans are complete for the annual roll call drive that it to be conducted Saturday.

—1936—

Five lettermen have reported to Coach Rigby for high school basketball practice. They are John Packard, Merle Obrecht, Jake Crass, Roger Brady and Kenneth Anderson.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Smith Dyer Martin, father of A. E. and A. W. Martin of Belmond, died at the former's home Monday at the age of 84. The Civil War veteran would have been 85 on Nov. 28. He moved to this vicinity in 1871 and served two terms as Wright county treasurer.

—1926—

The Dixie Ramblers orchestra entertained at a special high school assembly. The budding musicians and singers were Alvin Hauge, Leo Ayers, Eugene Barry and Leonard Johnson. Leonard and Alvin played the banjo "ukes."

—1926—

—1926—

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Barry are the very happy parents of a 10-lb. son, born on Armistice Day.

—1926—

The small son of Christ Rise had a very narrow escape from serious if not fatal injury Saturday when he was knocked down by an automobile. Fortunately the boy fell between the wheels. The car stopped within a few feet and the lad crawled out and ran for home uninjured but decidedly scared.

—1926—

FORTY YEARS AGO—

The new hotel at Clarion was opened last week to the traveling public.

—1916—

The corn yield in this locality this fall, at the price being paid for it, is far and away a more profitable crop than sugar beets.

—1916—

Mrs. Ella Moody and Victor Cleveland surprised their friends this week by going to Clarion, where they were united in marriage. They expect to open a hotel and boarding house in the Sorenson house on Filbert street.

—1916—

E. F. Bailey was proudly displaying a fine string of ducks this week. He declined to say where he got them, but Dite Packard, an old hunter, examined them and claims there were two tame ducks in the bunch. Nobody knows how much they cost

—1916—

Thirty-five absent voter ballots were cast at the auditor's office for the recent election. Most of them were them were the votes of railroad men who expected to be off on their runs on election day.

—1916—

An early winter started last week and the ground was covered with snow. The coal situation is serious and promises to become more acute before the holidays.

—1916—

It is evident from the election result that Wilson made a hit with the women voters, whether because of his matrimonial alliance or because of the idea that he kept us out of war, none can say. The fact remains that he was beaten by over half a million votes outside of the southern states.

——*(Author's Name Below)——

One foolish way to worry is to think you have some sickness, and then to do nothing about it. Some people are afraid to go to a physician because they are afraid he might tell them they have the trouble they are worrying about.

Relieve your mind quickly. Visit your physician immediately if you think something is wrong. Don't try to treat yourself. Get his expert advice, and the odds are that not only are your worries unnecessary, but under his skilled treatment you will get better quickly if you really have something wrong with you.

A SINCERE THANK YOU

We have had a great Republican victory in Wright County. If ever any election indicated the importance of local precinct organization it was this one.

We want to thank all of the persons, and most of all the WOMEN who had a part in "getting out the vote" — those who acted as "checkers", those who made so many phone calls, those who served as baby sitters.

Wright county had a great percentage of eligible voters to the polls. In the words of our great President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, "America needs only to fear government by the minority and not the majority." We had the majority in Wright County.

Belmond's Broncos took everything Clarion could dish out Friday night and the game's end found the Cowboys sprawled on their own gridiron holding the short end of a 19-0 score. It was a wonderfully fitting finale to the best BHS football season in more than a decade and sent a horde of Belmond partisans home proud to the button-bustin' point.

It was TD's by DaDean Obrecht, reserve halfback, and Rollie Jenison (a pair of 'em), plus a conversion kick by Bill Murray that gave Belmond its winning count. But it was inspired play on the part of the whole herd of Broncos that produced the decisive victory. It was a game in which one team was bound to buckle—and it WASN'T the Purple and White.

First Kickoff Almost "Goes"

Belmond almost got off to a breath-taking start when Rollie Jenison took the opening kickoff passed off to Ron Courson, and the junior speedster came within one block (body block, that is) of going the distance. As it was, the last available tackler brought him down on Belmond's 42 — and the battle was drawn.

The first quarter was all Belmond. Without allowing the Cowboys a single first down until the final play of the period, the Broncs very much monopolized the spotlight; but it wasn't until the quarter was half gone that they were able to get into gear for their first scoring drive.

Schimp Intercepts Pass

Larry Schimp set up the opportunity by stealing a Clarion pass on the Cowpokes' 46. Bill Murray accounted for 31 of the intervening yards in five carries, with Dave Long, McNulty and Jenison spelling him. It took just nine plays to go the distance, Obrecht circling left end for the final nine. Murray's conversion kick was wide, but the Broncos were in front 6-0.

It was in the second stanza that the Purple and White scrappers were given their sternest test; and it must be admitted that a couple of breaks helped them meet it. Following the Belmond score, the Cowboys came back plainly gunning for bear. Five plays advanced the ball from their 41 to the Broncos' 33.

Penalty Nullifies Clarion Tally

On the next play, speedy Eugene Hunst wended his way through the Belmond secondary in a beautiful exhibition of open field running and crossed into pay trritory. But just before he hit the end zone, a team mate was very foolishly and needlessly guilty of clipping and the penalty wiped out the score and put the ball back on the 18.

Larry Lindstrom thereupon launched on a demonstration of line plunging that was really something to see. The hard-hitting fullback crunched through the Belmond forward wall for two, then for five, then another eight. But on the third carry he fumbled, McNulty recovered on the three, and Clarion's last serious threat of the night had been staunched.

Quick Kick Goes 54 Yards

A quick kick by Murray that sailed from Belmond's 11 to the Clarion 35 — an impressive 54 yards — got the ball out of dangerous territory. A later Cowboy march fizzled when McNulty grabbed a Clarion aerial and the half ended with Belmond still in charge with its precarious 6-0 lead.

Clarion wasn't yet whipped, as the third quarter got underway. Hunst returned the second-half kickoff from his 11 to the 36. Three plays ate up 12 yards and then a pass, with a lateral tacked on the end went all the way to Belmond's 23. But again a clipping penalty tripped up the Cowboys, giving them 1st-and-10 on the 38 instead of the 23.

Cowboy Fullback Injured

Three passes went for naught — the last one, which would have made yardage for a new series of downs, being caught out of bounds. A short gainer by Hunst wasted the other down and it was Belmond's ball on the 36. Three plays later Lindstrom was hurt in a bruising bit of line play and he was out for the balance of the game. Whether from mere coincidence or otherwise, Clarion never looked the same from there on.

Murray's fine punting kept the Cowboy attack well neutralized for the rest of the third quarter, and early in the fourth the Broncos started to march again. Taking off from their own 35, they went downfield to Clarion's eight in just eight plays. There the drive sputtered, but on last down Murray found Chandler in the end zone with a pass.

rons Lose Score, Too

A backfield in motion penalty erased the TD and an unsuccessful aerial gave Clarion possession on the 11. After a short, completed pass to Hunst, McNulty swiped the Cowboys' next effort by air on the 30 and a roughness penalty against Clarion advanced the ball to the 15.

Tom bulled for six, Rollie Jenison gained seven more on a beautifully executed keeper and then went the final two on a repeat of the same maneuver. Again Murray's kick was wide, but only four minutes of playing time remained and the Broncs were ahead 12-0.

After the kickoff, Clarion fruitlessly indulged in four desperation passes and Belmond took over on the Cowboy 37. It was largely a one-man show by Rollie Jenison that produced the ensuing and final touchdown. Mixing in handoffs to confuse the foe, the Bronc quarterback made the keeper work to perfection for gains of seven, five, and finally 12 yards—the latter hitting pay dirt.

This time Murray booted the point, and Belmond kicked off with less tan a half-minute to go with a very satisfying 19-0 lead. As a fitting conclusion to the evening, Long intercepted a pass on the first scrimmage play and time expired with the Broncs trying for another tally on a long pass, which failed to connect.

Lenny Steenblock added another exceptional line performance to his record and enjoyed noteworthy support from Jon Mehus, Kenny Hawley and Larry Kinseth. Belmond's defensive play was generally good. Honoreson and Kelling were standouts in the Cowboy line.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

With presumably only one more week to go on the Iowa Prep Football Poll, the North Iowa conference last week was pretty well represented among the state's top Class II teams. Lake Mills had ascended to 7th place, although the Bulldogs got five less votes (108) than the previous week, when they were ranked 10th.

Belmond clung to 24th place, though slipping in vote total from 45 to 40; and Northwood advanced from 29th to 26th place although the Vikings' total remained at 36.

Having three teams in the top three divisions of 10 marks the NIC as one of the better Class II conferences in Iowa. This recognition came about because the loop coaches bestirred themselves to support the conference teams in the poll this year. We'll bet it pays off when all-state selections are made, too

What "reputation" can do for a team is indicated by the high rating of Manning, despite THREE defeats. The Buldogs stayed in the top 10 although they'd taken two lickings in a row! . . . All of which proves there's not too much rhyme or reason to such polls. Nevertheless, if they're GOING to be conducted, a conference had just as well go out after what prestige it can garner from 'em.

We can all forget football now, for another nine or 10 months. Algona is one community that is no doubt only too willing to forget the whole business. The AHS Bulldogs scored nary a point in '56 and allowed their foes an average of better than 40 per game. In their season's finale, the Algonans caught Humboldt just after the latter had had its nose rubbed in the dirt by Webster City, 41-6. The Wildcats were after red meat, and carved up plenty of it. The final score — Humboldt 78, Algona 0, and the winners had TWO touchdowns called back on account of penalties

Competition in the Women's Bowling league this year promises to be the sharpest in the eight years the league's been in operation. Too often, there's been a one or two team run-away. But look at the current standings! With 11 rounds of play completed, five teams are within three games of 1st place—and three others are not more than five games off the pace!

Did you notice that Darrell Kinden was "Back of the Week" in Iowa prep gridiron circles last week? That was quite an achievement, not only for the deserving Mr. Kinden but for the entire NIC. The Bulldogs ace carried for one TD and passed for the other in the Bulldogs' 13-7 decision over Forest City that won them the conference title and closed out an undefeated season for the champs.

Shades of the past! Supt. Don Faris, who not too many years ago was recognized as one of the finest coaches in Iowa girls basketball, is going to be one of the "guest experts" at a girls basketball clinic that will be held Dec. 1 at Lime Springs. Apparently there's enough of the old-timers around to realize that the old fox still possesses the savvy that made his teams among the state's best, year after year.

General Mills' bowlers are to participate this season in a GMI nationwide pin league that will include teams from coast to coast. In the league will be keglers from GMI establishments ranging from New York to Florida, Minnesota to Texas and Tacoma, Wash., to Vallejo, Calif. The league will compete over a 15-week schedule on a handicap basis, all scores being mailed to Minneapolis for matching. . . We'll bet "the General" will find it has few pinbusters the nation over who can hold a candle to Belmond's Eddie Albers.

Cagers in NIC Jamboree Tomorrow Then Open Against Algona on Tuesday

North Iowa conference basketball fans will have their first opportunity to judge how the 1956-57 title chase is likely to go when the annual NIC cage jamboree is held tomorrow night at Forest City. Belmond's Broncos will play in the second half-game of the evening with Lake Mills' powerful Bulldogs providing opposition.

Forest City and Manly, the guest team, will open hostilities at 7:30 p. m. The third set-to will send Britt against Buffalo Center and the evening's wind-up will see Garner challenging Northwood's defending champions.

Belmond's crew will be performing under somewhat of a handicap since they were unable to workout as a squad until after last Friday's final football game with Clarion. Other teams in the loop got better than a week's jump on the Broncos in this regard.

Lake Mills will have back Loren "Man Mountain" Moen and nifty Darrell Kinden as the backbone of their 1956-57 contenders. With enough reserves from their high-scoring outfit of last year to fill out the vacancies more or less capably, the Bulldogs look like the team to beat, at the season's outset.

If Britt's Eagles can tighten up defensively, they should also rate in the championship picture. Coach John Holmen has seven lettermen back, including four men measuring six feet or better. They'll be paced by 6-4 Dick Schutzer and should have excellent offensive balance.

Belmond and Garner appear about next in line, on paper. The Broncs will have five lettermen a nucleus, headed by Guards Larry Schimp and Jerry Chandler. Garner will have back Bob Brooks, Craig Niemeyer and Allyn Baskerville, all of whom were "regulars" last year.

Forest City may be headed for another worse than average campaign (last year was the first in NIC history that the Indians finished last). Just J. Hanson and Godden return from among the '55-56 starters. Mace Reyerson is the only first-liner remaining from Northwood's title-winning crew, but the Viking have some pretty good reserves from their championship outfit.

Buffalo Center seems slated to have another middlin' team, but will possess one of the finest players in the entire league in Tom Costigan. Brother Mickey, though only a freshman, will probably be playing varsity ball, too; and the pair should make the Bison worthy of almost any foe's respect.

On the heels of their jamboree appearance, the Broncos will open their regular campaign next Tuesday on the local hardcourt with Algona providing the opposition.

Last year the Bulldogs tripped Belmond 52-51 in the season's starter. Algona had only two lettermen back and both of them held reserve status a year ago. However, Coach Harold Shugart has several likely looking prospects advancing from the '55-56 froshmore team and is not too discouraged about the Bulldogs' prospects.

VOL. 37 NO. 7 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, NOV. 22, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER 10 PAGES THIS ISSUE

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

If you thought there was a heck of a lot of travel on Highway 69 the early part of this month, you were 100 per cent right. "Barney" Dillon reports to us that between 10:00 a. m. Nov. 5 and the same hour on Nov. 13, a total of 29,650 cars were counted by the highway recorder north of town.

Our back shop statistician, Jim Stadtlander, figures that would have averaged a car going by the intersection of Main street and No. 69 every 30 seconds during the period covered. Since he was on the honor roll for the first quarter, we didn't check on his mathematics.

We do know that the vehicles were clustered considerably closer together than that immediately preceding and for the weekend following the opening of the pheasant season. Anyone who waited at Main street stop sign for several minutes before making it into the flow of traffic can tell you that.

Best quip to come out of the recent election: "Iowa Democrats elected a Republican president, and Iowa Republicans elected a Democratic governor. If they don't cut that out, they're going to ruin the two party system."

Martin Qualen was reading to us last week from a letter he'd received from his actor brother, John Qualen, to whom he'd sent a clipping of the feature story we recently wrote about him. Martin had also sent along the item from Main Street in which Bob Foss and Duane Anderson's disappointment at not having had the privilege of meeting John was reported. He had some kind things to say about the feature article — and added that a picture of himself and John Wayne, autographed by both of them, was on its way to the backshop hermits to make up for the neglected introduction!

Before we'd even gotten our Thanksgiving turkey digested (two weeks before, in fact) we received the first in the series of Letters to Santa annually directed to The Independent. It came from Kay Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Murray. It will appear in print after our 9th annual Letters-to-Santa Claus contest gets under way in the near future.

Last week Clarion's Community Chest campaign had brought forth more than $8,500 in cash (mainly) and pledges, for a per capita average of $2.70 for every person in the county seat. Simultaneously, Belmond's Chest drive appears to have bogged down with only a little more than $3,250 contributed—a shameful per capita average of $1.50.

Last year it required an average of $2.16 per person for us to reach the goal (same as this year's) of $4,900 — and we did it in just three weeks' time, with some to spare. After reaching campaign goals here five years in a row without too much difficulty, it's hard to understand why so much trouble is being experienced this year.

It's a sad commentary on community spirit when the needs of others are so lightly overlooked as we of Belmond seem to be guilty of doing. Because not all of these needs lie close to home does not make them less real. Let's not let such a failure be a blot on our record. Let's STILL put that Chest drive OVER! It's not too late.

Remark overheard as a prominent Clarionite departed from the new county jail Sunday after an inspection tour of the premises: "Nice place to visit—but I wouldn't want to live there."

Quite of few Belmond men in service are going to miss a Christmas package or two this year unless their parents give 'em a break by passing along the service addresses wanted by the American Legion and VFW Auxiliaries — and, in a number of cases, the young men's churches.

Our recent appeal to have addresses phoned in to Mrs. Paul Couchman (8511) or Mrs. Chris Wagner (465) brought a response from just SIX parents. A year ago, the Legion Auxiliary mailed close to 45 packages. The women suspect the number SHOULD be about the same this year; but it's going to be far smaller unless those needed addresses are forthcoming, PRONTO!

No less than in war-time, a package from home means a lot to any serviceman currently in uniform. But military addresses change continually, and old lists soon become obsolete. If YOU have a boy in service, won't you please get his address in to the proper parties promptly?

Lions' Bulb Sale Goes Over Well

It was reported at Tuesday's meeting of the Belmond Lions club at Jones cafe that a total of 715.36 was realized from the organization's recent Bag-of-Bulbs sale.

Cost of the bulbs sold in the residential area came to $360.72. A final report on the cost of special bulbs and fluorescent tubes sold to business establishments had not yet been made, but Chairman L.B. Oberhauser believed that close to $800 would be netted from the project.

Half of the net proceeds from the bulb campaign will go to the Lion's Iowa Eye Bank at Iowa City.

PACK MEETING NOV. 28

The seven dens of Belmond's Cub Scout Troop 16 will hold their pack meeting Wednesday of next week, 7:00 p. m., at the school house. Each Cub is to bring a can of food to go into baskets for the needy.

Ricky Receives Recognition as Iowa's Millionth Blue Cross Case

AS WALROD FUND MOUNTS TO MORE THAN $1,535—

Story Told of Strange Blessing Bestowed on Ricky

Deeply grateful though the parents of Ricky Walrod are for the kindness that has been shown their leukemia-stricken son through the medium of the Lions club's fund for the youngster, it has reached such proportions that they wonder if it might come to represent an embarrassment of good fortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walrod refuse to relinquish their hope that Ricky may defeat his deadly malady. They will tell you how, in late September, their son spent a few happy days at home—then had to be hurried back to the hospital, so ill that his life was despaired of a short time later.

It developed that he had mysteriously contracted chickenpox. There were no other known cases in town and Ricky's symptoms were so far from typical that doubt was harbored for some time as to whether he actually did have chickenpox.

What bolsters the Walrod's hope is the fact that a severe, infectious disease is the only known factor that is capable of delaying the progress of leukemia in a child. Leukemia is, very simply put, a cancerous disease of the blood that causes completely uncontrolled production of white blood cells. An infectious disease brings white blood cells into battle against it, and the cells are destroyed in great numbers.

Since more often than not such an infectious disease will, itself, bring death to a leukemia victim, doctors never deliberately expose a sufferer from leukemia to such disease in hope of combating the cancerous growth of cells. But Ricky survived the ravages of his disease, and when his younger sister Veloice came down with chickenpox about 2½ weeks later it became certain that that was the ailment with which he had been afflicted.

As he made a complete recovery from the pox, a simultaneous improvement was noticeable in his general health. Clearly, progress in the development of the earlier malady had been arrested for the time being. Tomorrow, Ricky will have been "back home" for three weeks, since improvement in his condition permitted his release from the hospital.

He seems quite his old self—in good spirits and able to enjoy many of the normal pleasures of an eight-year-old boy. And despite the fact that the medical profession can hold out no precedent for hope, his parents cannot but cling to the hope that their son may prove a miraculous exception to the rule.

Whatever transpires, neither Walrods nor their doctor have any basis for anticipating what the expense of Ricky's illness—over and above costs reimbursed through medical and hospital insurance—may come to. It is certainly not beyond the realm of possibility that all that has been given into the Ricky Walrod Fund could be needed, and more. On the other hand, the amount already on hand might turn out to be more than ample.

What disposal could most appropriately be made of any balance left in the fund, should such a thing occur, has been a nagging concern to the Walrods. The youngster's father says, "It's Ricky's money, not mine. And if there's any left over, I'd like to see it used to a purpose that his mother and I feel confident Ricky would approve of.

"For that reason, we would like to see arrangements made whereby a Ricky Walrod Memorial Fund would be created from any money that might NOT be required to assure him of the best of medical and hospital care as long as he needs them.

"As we see it, the purpose of this fund would be to do for others —in Ricky's name—just what the many, many kind people have done for him. If money is left to make up such a fund, we'd like to see it administered by the Lions club in behalf of other unfortunate families. It would make us very, very happy to think that our boy was the means of doing for some others what has been done for him."

Recognizing that whether or not there might be a residue to form a fund is entirely problematical at this time, President Len Collier of the Lions club says that his organization will be most happy to abide by the Walrods' wishes. If it turns out that money IS left to create a Ricky Walrod Memorial Fund, a trustee board or committee will be appointed to administer it—with Ricky's mother and father to be consulted on all appropriations from the fund, if that should be their wish.

"Being so uncertain as to what Ricky's personal needs will actually prove to be, it would be a great comfort to his mother and me to know that no matter what amount might be generously donated to the fund, it will ALL fulfill the exact kind of purpose for which it was given.

"And more than that, we feel very sure that this would please Ricky immensely, too. He's been a good son, and a youngster thoughtful of others. As an eager Cub Scout, we suspect he'd regard it about the finest Good Deed that any boy could be a party to."

So, in compliance with the wishes of Rick's parents, a portion of the Ricky Walrod Fund may one day convert into the Ricky Walrod Memorial Fund—if circumstances dictate that money for the purpose exists. Meanwhile, all donations received into Ricky's fund

Des Moines Daily Register Relates Details in Feature

Another unusual angle to "The Story of Ricky Walrod"—which has already been distinguished by so many unusual circumstances—was due to break today (Thursday) in the Des Moines Register. In a "Thanksgiving feature" story, the particulars of Ricky's illness and the generous response of the public to the Lions club's Ricky Walrod Fund were to be related—plus the fact that Ricky happens to have been the millionth case benefiting by Blue Cross hospital insurance protection in the state of Iowa.

It was a matter of great satisfaction to Ann Lachner, public relations director of Iowa's Blue Cross office at Des Moines, that the millionth case happened to have the many dramatic aspects that have set Ricky's above the ordinary.

Kutz Provides Information

Newspapers — and particularly metropolitan dailies—are usually inclined to be skeptical of handout information that smacks of commercial promotion to any degree. Consequently, it was with some reservations as to what her reception might be that Miss Lachner contacted the Register news department with the suggestion that she had a truly unusual story to submit for consideration.

But the promotional character of the Millionth Patient story was promptly discounted when the nature of "The Ricky Walrod Story" was divulged. One of the Des Moines paper's top feature writers, Walter Shotwell, was assigned to the story.

Mr. Shotwell was provided complete facts regarding Ricky's unusual case, marshalled by Stuart Kutz, Belmond Community hospital administrator. In those facts lay the material for a "natural," as a Thanksgiving feature.

All Iowa Knows

As a result, the entire state of Iowa now knows of the circumstances that gave rise to the Ricky Walrod Fund and the heart-warming response it brought from a community ready to help a friend in need.

A straight news story regarding Ricky's being Iowa's millionth Blue Cross case was to appear in the D.M. Tribune this evening. And from Blue Cross headquarters, publicity also went out to all weekly papers in the state regarding the "millionth case."

In the accompanying story on Ricky and the current total of contributions to his fund, it is related that his parents have refused to relinquish hope for their son's ultimate recovery. It is also told how a near-fatal attack of chickenpox about six weeks ago had the effect

AN ESTIMATED 1,500 persons took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the new Wright county jail and sheriff's residence at Clarion last Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Visitors were impressed by both the comfortable living quarters that Sheriff Bob Blecker and his family will soon be moving into — after nearly six years of housekeeping in the rickety, outmoded accomodations they were provided in the 70-year-old "jail house" that is being abandoned — and by the modern facilities of the new jail. At left above is a view of the "bull pen" in the new jail, as Deputy Dale Walrod was explaining to a group of open house guests it various features. It is capable of providing detention for 10 prisoners. More could be handled if the 10 bunks were augmented with cots. The jail also has separate quarters for women prisoners and juveniles. On the right is pictured the good looking, two-story apartment that will serve as the sheriff's home.

GRAVESIDE RITES HELD FOR KELEHERS' BABY SON

Graveside funeral services for Jim Keleher, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keleher, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Graceland cemetery, Webster City.

The baby died at Belmond hospital shortly after birth, Monday. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Georgia.

Rev. William Schorman, pastor of the Congregational church, conducted the rites and Johnston Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

HEAVY SNOW BRINGS HIGHWAY GRIEF—

George Hake, Wife, Daughter Injured

Treacherous driving conditions that were produced Tuesday by the first heavy snow of the season were responsible for injuries to three Belmond people in an accident on No. 18 east of Garner and a mishap involving a Mason City banker a short distance south of Tyrrell bridge on No. 69.

Injured in the Garner accident were Mr. and Mrs. George Hake and Mr. Hake's daughter, Mrs. Arnold Mennenga. They were on their way to Mason City, where Mr. Hake was to enter Mercy hospital. All three were brought by ambulance to Belmond Community hospital following a collision with a second car.

Mr. Hake suffered a skull fracture and multiple abrasions and contusions. Mrs. Hake, the former Henrietta Gartz and who was married to Mr. Hake about three weeks ago, suffered a broken nose, severe facial bruises and bruises about the chest. Mrs. Mennenga had a hip dislocated, received numerous lacerations and possibly sustained internal injuries, also.

Mrs. Hake was driving the car carrying the Belmond party and the second auto was driven by Hoyle Ginther of Rockford. It was about 2:30 p. m. and the Hake party was three miles east of Garner when their car slipped off the concrete and Mrs. Hake lost control of it as she turned it back onto the paving.

The '54 Plymouth skidded across the road, reports Patrolman Irwin Schroder of Garner, and struck the left front end of Mr. Ginther's westbound '55 Cadillac. He had pulled onto the north shoulder, after seeing the approaching car was in difficulty. Officer Schroder estimated damage to the Ginther auto at $1,000 and to Mr. Hake's at $800.

A.M. Halsor of Mason City skidded off Highway 69 about 10:00 a. m. Tuesday. He was headed north, but his auto slewed across the paving and overturned in the west ditch. He was brought to Belmond community hospital to receive first aid for a slight scalp wound and x-rays revealed he also had four ribs broken. After receiving medical attention, he was released. Extensive damage was done to his car when it rolled over.

Rites for Wessel Braner Conducted

Wessel Braner, 65, who had been a resident of the Belmond community throughout his lifetime, died Sunday evening at Mercy hospital, Mason City. He had been in failing health due to a heart ailment for the past several months and had been in the hospital since the early part of November.

Memorial services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Wessels home and funeral services were held at 2:00 o'clock at the Immanuel Reformed church. Rev. Ralph Meyer of the Bethany Reformed church officiated, assisted by Rev. Johann Schmidt of Chapin. Fulton Funeral Home was in charge and interment was in the Immanuel Reformed cemetery.

Born at Belmond on May 14, 1891, Mr. Braner was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Braner. On Jan. 17, 1917, he was married to Magdalene Mennenga. Three children were born to them. The Braners resided on a farm near Belmond until four years ago, when they moved to town.

Mr. Braner was a member of the Immanuel Reformed church, having joined by confession of faith on May 16, 1915.

Surviving in addition to Mrs. Braner are two daughters—Mrs. Dale (Velma) Hauge and Mrs. Robert (Phyllis) Cullinan; and a son, Alvin M. Braner, all of Belmond. Mr. Braner also leaves nine grandchildren; a brother, Harm Braner; and a sister, Mrs. Harmka Gruis.

Preceding him in death, besides his parents, were two sisters, Lena and Angelina.

$25 CLAIMED

Only one Cash Gift Day number was turned in Tuesday. It brought Mrs. Oranna Quigley $25. It was the second time that Mrs. Quigley has struck "pay dirt." Incidentally, she never fails to be on hand with her number—in which their may lie an object lesson for others. Next week's CGD awards will be the same as this one's were: four $25's next Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. and six $50's at 3:00 o'clock. That's $400 in Christmas shopping money!

Kamm Takes 1st In JCC Contest

Sondra Kamm, a BHS junior who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kamm, was awarded first place in the first annual Voice of Democracy contest held Monday afternoon under sponsorship of the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce. She contended with five other entries for the $5.00 first prize.

She also received a certificate from the Jaycees denoting her achievement and will have her name inscribed on a plaque that will be kept in the high school trophy case.

Second prize of $2.50 was awarded to Maria Ehresmann, who with her family came to this country as a refugee from Germany following World War II. The other contestants were Mary Alice Studebaker, John Studebaker, Kay Skarr and Kathy Dorr.

Sometime in the near future the Jaycee committee will take Miss Kamm to Mason City to have a recording of her speech made.

In 2nd Quarter of Current Year--

Belmond Trade Again Over $1 Million

An indication that the business boom that Belmond has been enjoying for the past couple of years is showing signs of leveling off was provided by state retail sales tax figures released last week for the second quarter of the current year.

No drastic drop was experienced in local trade—in fact, the volume of retail business made the second quarter of 1956 the fourth best Belmond has ever experienced—but it was down 4.9 per cent from the corresponding quarter of last year.

Specifically, Belmond's retail trade in the quarter ending June 30 totalled $1,041,692, which was $53,746 less than the $1,095,438 gross business done in the second quarter of 1955. Both figures exclude new car sales.

Previous quarters that surpassed the March 31-June 30 period, in addition to the second quarter of '55, were the final quarters in 1954 and 1955. In those periods local retail trade came to $1,087,300 and $1,185,000, respectively.

A general drop in business was experienced in competitive trade areas, also, in the second quarter of this year; but elsewhere the relative decline was not so large as in Belmond.

Clarion saw its retail trade drop a matter of $56,009 from its second quarter of '55 down to $1,404,692; Eagle Grove showed a very minor drop of $8,558, down to $1,486,452; and Garner's volume was off only $723, giving it a second-quarter figure of $1,062,488.

This was the first time in six quarters that Garner's retail business has surpassed Belmond's, although prior to the final quarter of '54 Belmond had never beaten the Hancock county seat in business gross.

Business figures for rural Wright county, which includes all retail firms not located in the three largest communities, showed a very sizeable decline in trade for the two quarters under comparison. Whereas in the second quarter of this year the rural sales volume was only $973,901, the same three months of 1955 produced retail sales totalling $1,124,240. The difference of $150,901 represented a drop of 13.4 per cent.

Since Belmond's first-quarter retail sales this year were nearly $915,000—a very healthy total for that particular period—the trade figure for the first six months of '56 stood at $1,956,621. If business during the last half continues on a comparative par, it seems certain that 1956 will see Belmond do in excess of $4,000,000 in retail business for the second year in a row.

Coad's, Dolliver's Totals Unchanged

County Auditor Myron Price reports that the canvass of Wright county votes conducted in connection with the close election race between Congressman J. I. Dolliver and his apparently successful challenger, Rev. Merwin Coad of Boone, brought no change in the official tally.

Final, official count in the contest between the incumbent and his Democratic opponent for the 6th District seat in the U. S. House of Representatives was 5,016 for Dolliver and 3,995 for Coad. These figures gave Dolliver a margin of 35 more votes in this county than had been produced by the unofficial returns posted at the auditor's office on election night.

Mr. Price says that this difference was the result of mathematical errors made in the rush of preparing the early returns. Dolliver's final and official plurality in Wright county was 1,021.

Wright county voters deserted the major parties in very few instances, Mr. Price also reported. T. Coleman Andrews, the presidential candidate on the American Constitution party's ticket, received only 11 votes in the entire county — two of them being cast locally in the Third Ward.

Children's Photos Taken Tuesday

A reminder is offered by The Independent to parents of its circulation area that next Tuesday is the day upon which they may have their children photographed without cost for the newspaper's "World Builders" picture series. A specialist in child photography will be at Veterans' Memorial hall from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

The Independent wants photos of as many youngsters as it can get for this special feature. It is planning to introduce to its readers the boys and girls who will be our responsible citizens of tomorrow. The more, the better.

It often seems that children are little one minute and grown up the next. A clipping of your child's picture from the newspaper will be a valued keepsake in later years, for this reason.

There is no charge for having the pictures taken. Nor do parents have to be subscribers to The Independent. Purchase of prints from the photographs taken is optional, also.

Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Lee Mussell, dial 308.

Courson, McNeal In PTA Debate

November meeting of the local elementary unit of the Belmond Parent-Teachers association will be held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

Highlight of the program will be a debate on "Advantages and Disadvantages of Television in the Home," between Clark McNeal and Ronald Courson.

Mr. Courson will uphold the negative side of the topic and insists that he regards as no handicap to presentation of his case the fact that his household has never been "afflicted" with television.

LOREN GREENFIELD HOME AFTER USAF DISCHARGE

Mr. and Mrs. Loren K. Greenfield arrived Friday from Enid, Okla., where he had received discharge from the U. S. Air Force at Vance AFB on Nov. 11. "Sonny" had attained the rating of Staff Sergeant at the time of his release from service. He was in uniform for four years.

He and his wife plan to make Belmond their home. "Sonny" says he has nothing more important than a bit of pheasant hunting on his mind for the next few days. He says his plans beyond that are a bit indefinite at this time.

STATE'S 1957 PLANS ANNOUNCED—

3 Wright Projects in Road Program

Last weekend the Iowa State Highway commission, in accord with a policy it established in November of last year, made public the complete construction-letting program it proposes to follow during the coming year.

The outline includes three construction projects in Wright county, one in Hancock and two in Hamilton among those in this general area that might be of more than casual local interest. Chairman Robert K. Beck says the program for 1957 was formulated after months of study by members of the commission and its engineers.

"In drawing up the program," he announced, "the commission faced the immediate problems and also the long-range objectives of providing a primary highway system which will meet rapidly increasing traffic demands."

The huge program, entailing tentative contract lettings in the amount of $116,545,000, combines the commission's proposals for a frontal attack on the deficiencies in the state's vast primary system with proposed lettings for the "super highways" of Iowa's portion of the interstate system.

Included in the program are all projects intended for letting between Oct. 1, 1956, and Dec. 31, 1957. According to the highway commission, it not only dwarfs any one-year Iowa program of the past, but also overshadows any two-year program in the state's road-building history.

Of the total sum in contracts mentioned above, $71,000,000 is accounted for by the first interstate contracts to be let for construction. This will eventually produce a system of four-lane super highways exceeding 700 miles in total length and crossing Iowa east and west and north and south.

Among these is the one tentatively scheduled to pass to the east of Belmond. The commission emphasized that the '57 program will put into full use all federal aid funds. A policy of fully controlled access will be applied to all roads constructed as part of the new interstate system.

All new primary roads outside the interstate system — a category into which widened No. 69 falls—will be under partially controlled access. This policy already affects No. 69 through Wright county and restrictions implementing it have been filed at the recorder's office.

The program for improvements in the regular state primary system calls for contract lettings during the 15-month period amounting to $45,545,000. Should the next

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS UNDERWAY—

Culture Study Club Again in Charge

When the mail carriers of Belmond made their rounds last week they were accompanied by a couple of children, eager to meet each family on the route.

They are the children who parade across each sheet of the 1956 Christmas Seals, and they bring with them an appeal to buy and use Christmas Seals to fight tuberculosis. As representatives of the Wright County Tuberculosis and Health association, they carry with them the red Double-Barred Cross, symbol of the crusade for health.

A goal of $600 has been set for Belmond as a part of the Iowa goal of $555,000 for the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale. That tuberculosis is a continuing major health problem, is evident from this fact: last year 506 cases of tuberculosis were reported among Iowans.

"When we think that tuberculosis is a long-term illness, and when we realize that every family in which TB strikes is disrupted and torn apart for the duration of the illness, the significance of 506 new cases is impressive," observed Dr. Robert McCool of Clarion, county Christmas Seal chairman.

The Christmas Seals you buy will work all year long for you, for your neighbor, for your community to bring good health to all, Dr. McCool said. In discussing the efforts to control tuberculosis, the chairman said that medical research may hold the long awaited answers to prevention, to cure, and to rehabilitation of those who have TB.

Dr. McCool said that, as for a number of years past, the Culture Study club is in charge of the Christmas Seal campaign-by-mail in Belmond. Mrs. A. W. Johnson is president of the club and she has named Mrs. Charles Wilmarth as chairman of the campaign committee.

"The research MUST be done," Mrs. Wilmarth stresses. "We, here in Belmond can help with this vital, life-saving work through generous contributions to Christmas Seal Sale. Be sure to put both the boy and girl Seal on all your Christmas mail."

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

School Committee Will Consult With Alexander Group

Represenetatives of various Meservey organizations met Thursday evening at the schoolhouse to form a committee to meet with the Alexander Citizens committee. These groups have been formed to consider the effect of recent state legislation governing aid to schools and how it may apply to the Meservey and Alexander school systems.

Persons at the local gathering included: Mrs. Harry Ostendorf, president of the Meservey Parent-Teachers association; Lovell Diddy, Meservey superintendent of schools; Rev. P. W. Pfaltzgraff, Frank Guth, Marvin Hindman, Mrs. Marvin Morris, Mrs. Robert Raecker, Lewis Dorenkamp and Mrs. Alfred Meints.

Mrs. Robert Raecker was chosen as chairman of the Meservey committee. Plans were made to meet on Monday evening of this week with the Alexander group at Alexander following a business meeting of the local PTA.

Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Genevieve Suntken and Jerry were Mrs. Henrietta Wilkins of Belmond and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crafford and family of Sheffield.

Mrs. G. E. Jurgenson and Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Slusher returned home Sunday after several weeks spent in Kentucky on business and visiting relatives and friends. The parental Slushers make their home with the Jurgensons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Buterbaugh and daughters of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs Leonard Schmidt of Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vierkant and daughters enjoyed an oyster stew and supper at the Clarence Schmidt home Friday evening.

Sunday visitors at the Bertus Stadtlander home were Mr. and Mrs. John Meinders of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dykuis of Latimer.

Helping Hand Society Meets

The Helping Hand Society of the E.U.B. church met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors for their regular month meeting with Barbara Morris presiding. Devotions were led by Voral Schluter. Plans were made for the bazaar to be held Friday evening, Nov. 23, at 7:30. Money was allowed for the Christmas Cheer Fund and bills paid. Lunch served by Agnes Lage, Anna Faaborg and Katie Pals. Committees were named for the bazaar.

Dale Lage Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lage entertained in their home Friday evening the following couples: Maxine and Bill Fischer, Shirley and Carroll Morris, Joye and Bob Ostendorf, Joan and Donnie Ruiter, Betty and Donnie Dorenkamp, Alice and Ronnie Ruiter, Dorothy and Luvern Ruiter, Phyllis and Merlin Ruiter and Marilyn and Dave Enderson.

Officers Re-elected By Cemetery Society

Cemetery Society held their regular meeting at the Dale Smith home Tuesday afternoon. Election of officers for the new year was held. All the old officers were reelected. This was the last meeting. The next meeting will be in April. Mrs. Smith served.

The Victor Nordman family went to Clarksville Monday evening where they attended a shower for their niece, Donna Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuhlers are now making their home in their newly purchased and remodeled home formerly owned by S. P. Fischer. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kuhlers are residing on the home farm vacated by the Henry Kuhlers.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Kampmann of Ackley visited one day this past week with friends and former parishioners.

Mrs. Amelia Zimmerman received the news from her son, Leland of a new baby girl that arrived at their home Sunday, Nov. 18. This is their first child and Mrs. Zimmerman's first grandchild. They have named her Julie Rae. The Leland Zimmerans live in Florida.

Dennis Johnson was ill in his home last week with a case of the measles as are many children in the near vicinity and the neighboring towns of Belmond and Alexander.

Mrs. Frieda Ruigh has been staying in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Muhlenbruck, of Hampton and becoming acquainted with the new infant daughter, Kathy born last week in the Hampton hospital.

EUB Children's Groups Have Christmas Tree Service

The Little Heralds and Mission Band of the EUB church met Sunday morning for their regular meeting at which time they had a Christmas tree and brought gifts to be mailed to the children in the migrant camps in the United States. Many brightly colored packages were beneath the tree and following devotions, worship and story time, the children were served lunch by their leaders.

CHARLES HALL WED TO ELISABETH BENI AT DALLAS CENTER

Elizabeth R. Beni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Beni of Dallas Center, became the bride of Charles H. Hall of Des Moines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hall, Sr, of Meservey, in a double-ring ceremony performed at the Church of the Brethren at Dallas Center. The pastor, Rev. Meredith V. Rogers, officiated before an altar lighted by candelabra and flanked with festoons of yellow mums and white asters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white lace and net with fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow roses.

Jean Cronk of Dexter, as bridesmaid, wore a waltz-length gown of green taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Jerome Hall of Meservey. Ushers were Robert Brewer and J. H. Burnett of Dallas Center.

Organ music preceding the ceremony was played by Mrs. Meredith Rogers of Dallas Center, who also provided accompaniment for Melvin Deemy, Dallas Center, as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Jeanette Hall of Meservey, sister-in-law of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake at the reception held at the church parlors following the wedding. Mrs. Robert Brewer was hostess and Mrs. Odessa Longmire and Mrs. W. E. Ickes poured, all being hometown friends of the bride.

Inara Palevics of Des Moines presided at the guest book and in charge of the gifts were Mrs. Colleen Studins and Joyce Bentall of Dallas Center, Sharon Hall of Meservey and Mrs. Irma O'Brien, Des Moines.

Following a brief wedding trip to the Ozarks, Mr. and Mrs. Hall are now at home at 1807 12th treet Des Moines. Mr. Hall is employed by the Auto-Matic Service company of Des Moines and Mrs. Hall by the Bankers Life Insurance company.

C. K. Johnson is a patient in the Mason City Mercy hospital where he has been the past week receiving medical aid and treatment.

Darcy Vierkant's 3rd Birthday Celebrated

Little three year old Darcy Vierkant was honored Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vierkant, the occasion being her birthday. Dinner guests were her uncle, Marvin Meinders of Belmond, Diane and Robert Lauen and Mike Hopkey.

Sunday evening guests in Darcy's honor were Mr. and Mrs. Elfred Meinders and Dwane of Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. George Wenzel of Belmond, Mrs. Lester Hopkey, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Arends and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lauen.

Girls' Team Gets Off to Good Start

Meservey High school's girls basketball team got their season off to an impressive start last Friday night, swamping Thornton's sextet 67 to 28. Janean Lieberknecht topped the scorers with 28 points.

The MHS boys had less luck in their opener, losing at Thornton 50-32. Vernon Schmale was top point-getter for the losers with 12 points.

A disappointing crowd turned out Tuesday evening of last week for the benefit cage double-header sponsored by the Meservey Lions club. All proceeds from the game went to the Lions' Eye Bank project.

MHS Alumni gained a split for the evening, the boys trimming the present varsity by a 51-45 score and the girls bowing to the Rockettes, 30 to 19.

Last night the MHS cagers played their second, regulation games of the season at Franklin Consolidated. Results were not obtainable for this issue.

Two Honors Come To Larry Suntken

He appeared on an afternoon panel and in the evening was the youngest delegate seated on the convention floor to hear the address given by Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, former secretary general of the United Nations and now Ambassador Extraordinary to the U. S. from the Philippines.

Another honor recently came to Larry when he was given the "Best Actor" award for his performance in the Pella school's homecoming play, "The Mousetrap." Larry is the son of Mrs. Onno Suntken.

Mrs. Keith Dunton entertained in her home last Monday evening the following ladies at dinner: Mmes. Robert Perkins, John Brown, Lovell Diddy, all of Meservey, and Mrs. Ray Miller of Hampton. They were joined by their husbands following the local Lions club meeting and dinner. The Ray Millers are newcomers to Meservey as he is the local manager of the First State Bank of Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie R. Vierkant were Sunday visitors at the Mrs. Gladys Biers home at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boeckemeir of Dumont called on Mrs. Hannah Pfaltzgraff Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker drove to Osage Sunday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. James Hungerford, Cheryl, Brenda, Debra and tiny Susan and with Mr. and Mrs. James Hemming. Mrs. Hungerford returned to her home Wednesday with the new baby.

American Legion Auxiliary Met

American Legion Auxiliary Unit met Wednesday evening at the school house for their regular monthly meeting conducted by President Lucille Diddy. Donations were made to the Girl and Boy Scouts of America and to send a Thanksgiving box to the unit sponsored child at Woodward state hospital. It was decided to begin the unit meetings at 7:30 from now on. Mrs. Diddy informed the unit of a hospital bed now owned by the unit available at any time necessary and at the present time used at Garner by a patient there. We were reminded to bring our coffee strips to the next meeting. Birthday and lunch money was collected. Lunch was served by Elaine Perkins and Sylvia Raecker.

AHS Girls Down Hansell 47 to 29

After staying in contention for the first half, which ended with Hansell in front only 26 to 20, the AHS boys basketball team was outclassed in the final half of its game last Friday and took a 58-32 whipping. Ken Dorenkamp led the losers in scoring with 12 points.

Better fortune was enjoyed by the AHS girls, who surged into a 28-10 halftime lead and enabled Coach Jim Carroll to give his reserves some floor time after intermission. Final score of this game was Alexander 47 and Hansell 29. Judy Larson hit the hoop for 23 points for scoring honors.

In the Alexander teams' opening double-header a week ago Tuesday with Dows, the boys took the short end of a 46-25 score and the girls were defeated 55-39.

The teams were to travel to Chapin on Tuesday evening of this week.

Kenneth Myers with other men are in Des Moines to attend the R. E. A. regional district meeting of three states.

Mrs. Fred Trager and Mrs. John Hill attended the Iowa Homemakers meeting Tuesday in the Hugh Whitten home at Rowan. Mrs. Ruth Hanna of Scotland was guest speaker. Mrs. Knutson and Mrs. Burt gave the lesson on new fabrics.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jackson of Popejoy were Tuesday afternoon callers in the Fred Greenfield home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Markwardt and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Schulte and Barbara attended the wedding Sunday of Gladys Brekken and Verle Siems in St. James, Minn.

Rudy Grof of Pawhuska, Okla., visited from Tuesday until Friday in the Kenneth Myers home.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

Al waited a few seconds while the chill, foggy mist seemed to seep into his backbone. He leaned on the hood of the car and peered in at the driver through the smeared windshield.

"Worn out," he shouted. "Won't take this stuff off." He pulled the windshield wiper across the glass and the driver's face disappeared behind a gray blur.

The driver rolled down his window and gave Al a "no sale" grin. "Wouldn't want to keep you out on a night like this," he said. "I'm just going home anyway."

"Just take a minute if you want one," Al said and gave up the sale. He wiped off the windshield with a rag, collected the two dollars for gas and ducked for the coal stove in the office as the tail lights of his late customer dimmed away in the dripping night.

At almost the same moment, an elderly man named Jacobs placed a newspaper back on the rack in the library reading room, snapped his gold-framed glasses into a worn case and stepped almost blindly into the night. His eyes, he always said, took a long time "coming back" after an evening with the papers.

Al still tells the rest of the story. Most of his customers have heard it more than once. He likes to dramatize it by holding a new windshield wiper in his hand and waving it under the nose of his listener.

"You wouldn't believe what a little strip of fresh rubber is worth, would you," he says. "If that guy had let me hang one of these on, he might have seen the old fellow in the street."

"How about it? Just take a minute."

Wright County's Bond Purchases Over $1¼ Million

At the end of October, Wright county was continuing as one of Iowa's pace setters in purchases of United States savings bonds and had attained 82 per cent of the entire 1956 quota.

Total investments in Series E and H savings bonds for this county during the 10-month period were $1,278,340, and the annual quota is $1,566,284. Ten counties are over the 100 per cent mark. Exactly 50 of the state's 99 counties have better records than Wright as of teh end of October, but a large majority of those have lower quotas.

Savings bonds investments throughout Iowa for the first 10 months were $133,974,079 for 80 per cent of the state's goal of 167 million dollars. National average attainment for the 10 months was 76 per cent.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, county volunteer chairman, made the report and praised the patriotic and thrifty spirit of the county's citizens who helped make this outstanding record possible.

Purchase of saving bonds and per cent of 1956 goals reached at the end of October are shown for other counties in this area: Hancock, $919,065 for 88 per cent; Franklin, $702,415, 67 per cent; Hamilton, $1,252,318, 85 per cent; Humboldt, $841,281, 84 per cent, and Kossuth, $1,373,874, 80 per cent.

Ronald Swenson of Lincoln Leaders Elected County 4-H Boys' President

Ronald Swenson of the Lincoln Leaders was elected president of the farm project 4-H clubs of Wright county as voting delegates of the various clubs chose officers for 1957 as a highlight of 4-H Award Night. The annual event was held Wednesday night of last week at the Clarion IOOF hall.

Headed by Jim Larrick of the Grant Growers, retiring county officers installed Swanson and the other boys elected to fill offices for the coming year. The others honored with county posts were: Larry aKstler, Woolstock Junior Stockmen, vice president; Francis Larry Kastler, Woolstock Junior treasurer; and Kenneth Jury, Blaine Livewires, historian.

Ten Given Award Medals

Among the 4-H'ers given recognition during the Award Night program were Kenneth Halfpap, Arlen Pals and Larry Mennenga of the Pleasant Pioneers. They, along with LeRoy Watts of the Dayton Dynamiters, received special awards as members who have now reached the age of 21 and are no longer eligible to be in 4-H.

Achievement Award medals were presented to 10 farm project club members by Laurence Woodley of Rowan, 4-H county committee chairman. These were given on the basis of outstanding projects and record books. They went to the following: Virgil McCormick and Leslie Meechem, Lincoln Leaders, and Gary Fischer, Eagle Grove Eager Beavers — Producers Beef award given by Chicago Producers' Commission association.

Cecil Hill A Winner

Dale Lewellyn, Lincoln Leaders —Producers Pig award; Eugene Ryerson, Eager Beavers—Producers Lamb award; Cecil Hill, Iowa Hawkeyes — Community Service award of the Portland Cement association; Paul Waters and Bryce Collins, Blaine Livewires and Vernon Victors, respectively — Dairy Awards given by General Mills, Inc.; Leslie Meechem — Leadership Award, given by Wilson Packing company.

Jim Weld, Lincoln Leaders — Meat Animal award, given by Edellyn Farms; Dean Nelson, Douglas Bosworth and Melvin Bosworth, Liberty Pathfinders, and Gary Grandgeorge, Eager Beavers — P. A. G. corn ribbons; Rolland Martin, Vernon Victors — show halter given by Wright County Holstein Freisian association.

Leaders Get Recognition

Ten-year, clover-leaf 4-H awards were presented by "Cap" Hahn, Wright County Farm Bureau president, to Raymond Aldrich of Iowa Hawkeyes and Virgil Martin, Vernon Victors. Five-year awards went to Laurence Murphy and August Grandgeorge, county 4-H committee members. These awards consist of certificates provided by the state extension service and lapel pins given by the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation.

Gerald Anderson, county extension youth assistant, explained how record books are kept and reported on the top record book scores in the county. Entertainment feature was the showing of slides by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hall of Ames and an account of recent, unguided tour of Europe they enjoyed.

Chicago Award trip winners, and the business firms who donated money for the trips, were announced by Aaron Bowman, county extension director.

Free 4-H Trips to Chicago Awarded To John Studebaker, Tedmar Thompson

Two 4-H farm project members who are Belmond High school students were among 13 Wright county 4-H'ers who are to leave from Mason City this evening for Chicago as special trip winners for club achievements. John Studebaker, who belongs to the Pleasant Pioneers club, and Tedmar Thompson, Norway Ramblers, are the local boys winning this recognition.

Their expenses for transportation and lodging are being met by C. C. Christie of Christie and Larsen, livestock buyers, and by the First State bank. They and other members of the county delegation will travel aboard the special train chartered by KGLO radio and television stations of Mason City and the North Iowa Fair board to carry some 300 to 400 4-H club members from 13 north Nowa counties.

Highlight of the trip is attendance at the International Livestock Exposition. Special tours of the Windy City and other types of entertainment are also arranged for the 4-H party. Mrs. Russell Delano of Dows and Merle Poolman of Galt will chaperone the Wright county group. Both home economics and farm project county committees make a selection of members to enjoy the free trip, based on 4-H records and activities.

Girls who were awarded trips for home economics activities are: Gloria Arends, Iowa U-Go-I-Go club; Jane Baker, Norway Jolly Joy Makers; Sharon Hilpipre and Phyllis Marshall, Lincoln Lassies League; Ellen Smith, Grant Go-Getters; and Janice Hill, Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners.

Other farm project trip winners, besides Studebaker and Thompson, are: Dean Duitscher, Lake Leaders; Frank Mechem and Jim Weld, Lincoln Leaders; Leonard Noack, Dayton Dynamiters; Nile Smith, Eagle Grove Eager Beavers.

Firms donating expense money for the award trips, in addition to the two from Belmond, were: Wright County State bank, First National bank, McNeal Grain company, Farmers Co-operative Elevator and Isenberger Hatchery, Clarion; Bank of Galt; Farmers State bank and Byron "Barney" Meyer, Dows; Farmers Co-operative Elevator, Holmes; Goldfield Co-operative Creamery; and Kanawha Commercial club.

Extension Director Aaron Bowman notes than Eagle Grove firms are not solicited to finance award trips because of the backing they are asked to give the Eagle Grove fair annually. He adds that the 4-H committees do not always solicit the same business concerns elsewhere in the county each year, but that some other firms have given in other years and a few of the above make donations practically every year.

CHRISTOPHER POINTS OUT WRIGHT COUNTY MUST PAY TRIAL COSTS

County Supervisor A. W. Christopher of Eagle Grove made a request to The Independent last week that a more complete review of his suit against Wright county be published than that which appeared two weeks ago after trial of the case by jury.

Petition was filed by Mr. Christopher in late August after he found unsatisfactory the amount of damages allowed him following condemnation of a strip of land on a farm he owns near Eagle Grove, for road purpose. A 33-foot strip along the north side of a quarter section was condemned for right-of-way.

Initially, Mr. Christopher was offered $520.47 by the appraisal board and on that basis he decided to file suit. Later, however, it was discovered that a mathematical error had been made in figuring the damages and the sum was amended to $712.47, plus $41.28 to Christopher's son Russell, as tenant, for crops destroyed.

The supervisor admits that the the $192 increase in the amount did not dissuade him from his determination to sue for higher damages, and his petition requested that a jury hear his appeal for increase of the sum to $2,424 for himself and $100 for his tenant.

On Nov. 6, after considering the case for parts of two days, the jury found in favor of the plaintiff and increased Mr. Christopher's damages by an additional $130—up to $842—and brought the allowance to the tenant up to $50.

Mr. Christopher informed The Independent that he did not seriously expect to receive the full amount specified in the appeal, but had hoped for a sum of between $1,000 and $1,100. An effort to compromise with the board of supervisors at such a level prior to trial of the suit, he said, had been unsuccessful.

It was Mr. Christopher's particular wish, he said, to have it noted that all costs of the county's unsuccessful defense of the amended condemnation allowance devolves upon the taxpayers. What the total amount of court costs and attorney fees will come to will not be known for some time yet.

● MILLIONTH—

One in A Million

After the latest chapter of Ricky's story was related Tuesday noon at the regular meeting of the Lions club, the comment of one member probably summed up the thoughts of most of his fellow Lions.

"Well," he said, "considering that Ricky's case is literally one in a million, maybe his folks have more reason to hang onto their hopes than medical science allows. It would, surely, be a wonderful thing . . ."

He didn't complete the sentence. But the many people who have been touched by Ricky's plight will know full well what he meant.

● ROADS—

legislature not extend the additional two cents motor vehicle fuel tax which the last general assembly passed and which will expire next June 30, it will be necessary to reduce that sum to $36,695,000.

Projects outlined for Wright county include: widening of No. 3 from Clarion to Greyhound junction; widening of the bridge adjacent to the Clarion cemetery; and widening and resurfacing of a portion of No. 60 inside the city limits of Eagle Grove.

In Hancock county, the stretch of No. 18 extending from its Highway 69 junction to Britt — regarded as one of the roughest pieces of paving in the entire state in regular use as a primary road — is due for reconstruction.

Among five projects listed for Hamilton county are included the resurfacing of No. 20 from No. 69 junction to Webster City and resurfacing of No. 69 from the same juction south to Jewell.

No surfacing work on No. 69 from the No. 20 junction north to Forest City is immediately proposed, but the program does call for widening of the highway through Forest City, combined with building of curb and gutter.

● RICKY—

This week the total of contributions to the fund for Ricky went sailing over the $1,500 level. Biggest boost during the past week was in the form of a $50 check from the Belmond Volunteer Fire department. Other donations received since the last previous report was made have been as follows:

MEMORIALS COME TO $52.75

It is reported by the memorial committee of the Belmond Hospital Auxiliary that memorials in the amount of $52.75 have been received by the hospital in the name of the late Mrs. Carlton Johnson. Forty dollars was given by members of her family, $10 by friends; and $2.75 by the children in Belmond 8-B home room who are class mates of one of Mrs. Johnson's grandchildren, Karen Shahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shahan.

Broncos Wnners Over Algona By 75 to 56 Margin

Belmond turned back the challenge of Algona's Bulldogs on Tuesday evening with a second-half splurge that produced a 75-56 victory margin. But at the same time, the Bronco cagers clearly showed that they still have a good ways to go before becoming a smooth-working team. The fact that they had little more than a week's practice under their belts was quite apparent.

On the positive side, though, the Purple and White showed the promise of good scoring balance and plenty of desire. Also, the Broncos showed that they won't be a team that discourages easily.

Algona Leads at Half

They went into an 18-14 quarter lead in their opener Tuesday, then saw the Bulldogs come back to gain a halftime advantage of 38-37. In fact, Belmond trailed 38-38 before the comeback was launched. When play resumed in the third quarter, the Broncos zoomed to a 22-point lead, 65-43, before the visitors were able to keep pace again.

Coach Dick Hobbs used every man on the bench in the closing stages of the game, and Algona managed to stay even with the reserves. Larry Schimp topped Belmond in scoring with 19 points, Jerry Chandler following close behind with 16 and Larry Kinseth and Bill Kaufman following up with 13 each. Bill Murray contributed five, Tom McNulty four, Jon Mehus three and Dave Long two.

Officials Call 58 Fouls

Lanky Jerry Rupp was the Bulldogs' standout with 20 points. He received good support from Bob Slobe, who netted 15. The officials held the ball almost as much of the time as the players as they blew the whistle for 58 fouls. Algona had four men benched with their quotas filled, while Kaufman, Chandler and Schimp were all retired in like fashion. The Broncs showed they could use some practice at the foul line, converting on only 23 of 44 chances.

Belmond's froshmores trailed the visiting Bullpups 20-2 late in the second quarter and were never able to make up a major part of the slack. They pared the deficit to 13 points early in the fourth quarter, but finally bowed by a 38-17 margin.

Two-Year-Old Tot Swallows Tack

Little two-year-old Keith Alan Nutt narrowly escaped the need for surgery last Thursday night after he had swallowed a thumb tack. His mother, Mrs. Richard Nutt, says she was amazed how Keith Alan was able to convey to her that he had swallowed the tack.

His parents took him to the Belmond Community hospital, where x-rays showed the point of the tack down. In spite of the blizzard conditions, Dr. Arlo Pitcher took Mr. and Mrs. Nutt and Keith Alan to Rochester, Minn., where more x-rays were taken.

These showed that during the trip the tack had somehow turned about and entered the stomach tract, head down, so surgery was not necessary.

The Belmond party returned home after 6:00 o'clock in the morning—just shortly before Dr. Pitcher was due to begin on his daily duties at the hospital.

If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, and the judges judge them; then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.—Deut. 25:1.

"AVERAGE" IOWA FARMER HASN'T BEEN DOING TOO BAD, THE FACTS INDICATE

Two news releases that came to the editor's desk last week would seem to suggest that neither is the farm outlook so dreary nor the farmer's discouragement so complete as talk in this election year of 1956 would have us think. Particularly here in Iowa, faith in the future of agriculture remains high; and there is good reason why this should be so.

First of the releases we refer to was received from the information department of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation. It conclusively scotched the myth that farmers in large numbers are abandoning their occupation due to the post-war gollywobbles that have been causing the farmer temporary anguish.

From an 86-county study of recent farm land sales, the IFBF found that only 8.8 per cent of [illegible] farms sold found their way into the hands of investors from outside the established community or trading area. In other words, a thriving local market for farm land prevails. And, as a result, land prices have continued to climb despite the drop in farm income since 1951. Furthermore, slightly over 27 per cent of the farms were bought for investment purposes, which hardly indicates any lack of confidence in the future that lies in store for agriculture.

Then what about the claim that long-established farmers are "getting out?" Well, it was found true that more than 16 per cent of the sales resulted from the owner-operator's decision to quit farming—BUT, it was also pointed out that the 1954 farm census showed 19.8 per cent of Iowa farm owner-operators to be 65 years of age or older. And a farmer looks forward to retirement like any other businessman.

In addition, the MAJOR REASON—above all others—for selling farms turned out to be the need to settle estates. More than 27 per cent of the sellers gave this reason. And the major reason for BUYING farms (32 per cent) was "to add to the size of present operations." Only four per cent of the farms were sold because the seller planned to go into other work or leave the state. Does that sound as if the tillers of our soil are as pessimistic as they'd have you believe?

Then we looked over the Iowa News Bulletin published weekly by the Iowa Development Commission and we began to see the light. The IDC reported that in 1955 the average realized net income per Iowa farm was $4,034—77.8 per cent HIGHER than the U. S. average of $2,268. Iowa was one of only eight states in the nation whose farmers averaged better than $3,500 in net income; and Nebraska (with a $3,656 average) was the only other cornbelt state.

Iowa' farm net income average was higher than Minnesota's by $1,160, than Wisconsin's by $1,600, than Illinois's by $1,213; than Missouri's by $2,281, and than North Dakota's by $2,706.

How much did our "average farmer" gross to end up with that net of $4,034? The report put the average gross income at $11,522; which is $4,934 greater than the U. S. average of $6,588.

We well know it hasn't been all beer and skittles for our farm friends the past five years. And we sincerely hope that their relative "hard times" will soon be replaced by out-and-out "good times." But, bro-o-other! Matters could be so MUCH worse!

MORE UNBIASED AND HONEST ANALYSIS MIGHT CLARIFY WORLD ATMOSPHERE

In these days of confused and confusing international relations, it is refreshing AND enlightening to see a frank, SELF-critical review of one nation's role in the drama. More, honest soul-searching would certainly help to resolve the multiple crises that exist on the world scene—such as the following that lately appeared in The London Observer. Three cheers for the Britisher who wrote:

"Conscious of our good intentions, we are tempted to seek explanations of our difficulties in the mistakes or original sin of others. The Middle East has, of course, its share of human wickedness and folly which contributes in some degree to the present turmoil. But the decisive fact is that troubles over Suez and Jordan are part of a deep and prolonged crisis of confidence between the Middle East countries and the West, principally Britain. . . .

"Our information on the state of mind and political forces of the Middle East is often inaccurate, or when accurate is lost in the Whitehall machinery until it is too late. Our policy itself is not framed in such a way as to stir imagination or hope; insufficient trouble is taken to explain it to the people of the Middle East in language they can understand. Behind this failure lurks one of the deepest faults of our policy—an assumption still lingering from the days of imperial power that it is not necessary to explain or persuade.

"Our main material interest in the Middle East is continued access to its oil at a reasonable price. This depends on ensuring a cooperative relationship with the people of the Middle East, so that as far as possible their political evolution follows a path harmonious with our own. But oil can be only a by-product of this process, not its proclaimed purpose.

"Britain does not stand for oil any more than she stands for coal. She stands—or should stand—for freedom, and for the peaceful evolution of new international institutions to replace the anachronisms of both economic and political nationalism. If we proclaim and stand by these principles in the Middle East the oil will continue to come, though there will be many risks and alarms on the way. If we do not, then we shall lose the oil and face even graver risks to no constructive purpose."

Rarely in the American press have we seen such an honest evaluation of our OWN motives, interests — AND shortcomings. It no doubt serves a state department's purposes best to be devious at times; but that shouldn't prevent our pundits from studied efforts to cut through the haze and pass unbiased judgment on the methods employed and objectives sought.

GAS Smells WORSE TO MAKE IT SAFER!

Gas Leaks Are Now Easier to Detect

To protect our gas customers, we are currently increasing the amount of odorant in the gas you use. Should you notice any gas odor in your home, please call us at once and one of our trained crews will inspect your home immediately. With this increase in odorant, even the most minute leak will show up.

We have done this because of a unique combination of the forces of nature. A period of extreme cold, and dry ground, may cause unusual ground movement with enough force to damage even our newest and most modern distribution pipes. It has placed great stress and strain on our entire system and this increased use of the odorant will make it easy to detect any break in your area. Since the top layer of ground is frozen, any gas released from a break travels underground, following natural or man-made faults in the earth. These faults often lead to the foundations and basements of homes, and the slightest crack in these walls will admit the gases.

We urge you to check your entire home and basement for any gas odors. If such an odor is present, call us immediately and we will have our experienced men on the spot at once to investigate the source of the odor.

Broncos' 7-2 Grid Mark Best for BHS in 12 Years

SEASON'S RECORD

Belmond 27, Garner 0
Belmond 39, Britt 0
Northwood 18, Belmond 7
Belmond 26, Buffalo Center 7
Lake Mills 12, Belmond 7
Belmond 20, Forest City 7
Belmond 34, St. Edmond (Fort Dodge) 7
Belmond 33, Twin Rivers 0
Belmond 19, Clarion 0

Although the Broncos' football gear has been stowed away in the mothballs until next fall, their followers will contemplate with satisfaction for some time to come the BHS gridiron season of 1956. It was a might-have-been season from the standpoint that the Purple and White could very well have shared in the North Iowa conference championship, had the script been subjected to minor changes in a place or two. But nevertheless, it was the best year Belmond has enjoyed in football since 1945.

Twelve years ago, the Broncs lost only 2 (Hampton and Clarion) and went through their NIC card unbeaten and allowed only 6 points. Since then, though, BHS has had no gridiron machine match the seven victories against two defeats that was the achievement of the current year's Broncos. They allowed only eight touchdowns and a total of 51 points while scoring 32 in their nine games and rolling up 212 points.

Far Outgained Opponents

Belmond's offensive strength is further indicated by the fact that they traveled an average of 100 yards per game, on rushing and passing, more than their foes—274 to 174. Forgetting that Northwood game (which all Bronco partisans WOULD just as soon forget), the Purple and White yardage average was 283 for eight games compared to 157 for their opponents.

A good measure of the Broncos' stature at the end of the campaign lay in their 19-0 conquest of the Clarion Cowboys. It was the first time the Cowpokes had been held scoreless and the only game they'd lost by more than one touchdown. In fact, Clarion had bowed to Webster City—co-champs of the North Central conference and 12th ranked team in the state—by only 27-24!

Murray Totalled 56 Points

An exceptional factor in Belmond's scoring power was the manner in which the touchdown production was divided. Nine different players scored one or more TD's; and 16 of the 32 tallies were produced by boys who will be back in BHS uniform next fall.

Bill Murray led all the point-getters with 56, hitting the end zone for six counters and converting on 20 out of 30 place-kicked attempts at conversions. Other senior scorers were; Dave Long, 24 points; Roland Jenison, 18; Jerry Chandler, 12; and Larry Schimp, six. Juniors who accounted for the balance of the scoring were: Tom McNulty, 42 points; Ron Courson, 36; Jon Mehus, 12; and DaDean Obrecht, six.

Graduation Taking Toll

Loss of Murray (NIC 1st team choice), Rollie Jenison and Long (NIC honorable mention), Chandler, a decidedly valuable spot-player, and Schimp will be keenly felt by Coach Dick Hobbs. But a smile comes to his face in contemplating that he'll have back McNulty (NIC 2nd team), Courson and Obrecht, along with Mehus — who developed into a first rate pass-catching end—and Kenny Hawley, a sophomore back who was used almost exclusively on defense.

In Lenny Steenblock, the Bronco ranks will be losing one of the finest tackles in BHS history; and little Steve McLaughlin's absence from guard (he, like Steenblock, made the NIC 1st team) will be sorely felt. Gary Ersland, tackle, and Merrill Jenison, guard, both made the all-conference honor roll and will be hard to replace. Larry Kinseth, who was a vastly improved player at end by the season's close, will also leave a gap.

Mehus, Studebaker Back

Other players who made contributions to the teams success and will be graduating next spring include Jim Fetrow, Simon Negrete, Duane Lowenberg, Larry Flanagan, Gordon Sandman, Jim Stadtlander, Clem McLaughlin, Bud Lerdal and Marlin Daniels.

But besides Mehus, Coach Hobbs will have Center John Studebaker back from his first-string line, along with such dependable reserves as Dave Crawford, Bill Ayers, Larry Stadtlander, Gaylon Roberts, Terrill Baker and Bob Kurtz, the latter only a sophomore. Other promising substitutes who saw less action will also be on hand again.

So the curtain can be rung down on the 1956 season leaving the crowd with reason to hope that the next act may be just as exciting and satisfying as the one just finished.

Eagles Will Play Here on Tuesday

When Eagle Grove visits Belmond for a basketball clash with the Broncos next Tuesday night the Eagles' star of a year ago, Kurt Sunner, will be missing. He led his team to a 53-49 verdict over the Broncs last season with 24 points. But though he's departed via the diploma route, the Eagles will be well supplied with veterans.

Back for another crack at Belmond will be Bob Van Sickle, who tallied nine points against the Broncs last season; Paul Sunner and Stan Cupp, who garnered eight apiece. Varsity game time will be at approximately 8:00 p.m., preceded by a froshmore game.

BRONCOS' SUPPORT IN GRID POLL FADES STRANGELY IN LAST WEEK

Subsequent to the observations made in this week's Sports Shorts regarding Belmond's standing in the final Iowa Prep Football Poll, a phone call was received by The Independent from Brad Wilson of the Des Moines Register sports staff, who is the poll's director.

He reported that in the final tally of votes the Broncos received a total of only 25, which lowered them to 41st place in the Class II team standings.

Mr. Wilson was at a loss to explain what happened to the Broncos' support; particularly in view of their impressive, concluding victory—19 to 0—over Clarion. He conceded it was a puzzling development, since it was the first time the Class I Cowboys had been blanked during the season and the first time they had been beaten by more than one touchdown.

Logically, Belmond should have been receiving the bulk of its support from the same coaches and officials who have been backing Lake Mills and Northwood. And the fact that both the Bulldogs and the Vikings climbed in the final poll to the highest rankings they had attained all season, despite having been inactive the previous week, made the Broncos' strange fate all the more perplexing.

Belmond had been rated about five places above Northwood with regularity during the closing weeks of the season; and on that basis, it would have been logical to expect them to advance—perhaps even into the top 20—in the final poll. The Independent is led to state that "polls" can move in mysterious ways, their wonders to perform—and frequently do!

NIC "South" Teams Lose 101 to 100 In Jamboree Despite 29-6 Britt Win

As a result of showings at the North Iowa conference jamboree last Friday night at Northwood, Coach John Holmen's Britt Eagles had the league cage fans in attendance revising their earlier assumptions that Lake Mills would stand as "the team to beat" this coming basketball season.

With a host of talent at his disposal, Holmen is clearly destined to produce the best team that Britt has had in many a year. He can alternate a dozen players without affecting the quality of play too seriously; and that's what he did Friday in handing Buffalo Center a 29-to-6 pasting.

In the annual NIC hardcourt civil war between the "North" and the "South," the North forces emerged the winner by only a single point, 101 to 100, although Britt was the only team on the defeated side to win its portion of the jamboree.

Manly Whips Forest City

Manly's guest quintet took the measure of Forest City, 34-26; Lake Mills finished strong against Bronco reserves to rim Belmond 33-22, and Northwood edged Garner 28-25. The loser, in each case, was in the southern ranks.

Forest City gave its partisans little reason to hope for a much better season than last year—one of the worst in the Indians' history—by its showing against the Railroaders. Veteran Jim Hanson gathered six points for Forest City, but the Indians' performance was rather unimpressive, top to bottom.

In the second "game," Belmond held close to Moen-Kinden & Co. during much of the fray but faltered when Coach Dick Hobbs gave his bench reserves a whirl.

Schimp Looks Good

Larry Schimp looked as good as any player in the conference as he dumped in four baskets and turned in an excellent floor game. Bill Kaufman contributed six points, Jerry Chandler four, Bill Murray and Larry Kinseth two each as the Broncs failed on all five of their freethrow chances.

Coach Hobbs was frankly displeased over the apparent poor condition of a couple of the boys and issued a post-game warning that they will have to get in shape fast or resign themselves to "watching" a lot of basketball.

Loren Moen pitched in nine points for the Bulldogs and "Skip" Kinden seven. Lake Mills was effective on out-shooting, but didn't look as good as it had been expected to appear in comparison with the other teams.

Eagle "Shorites" Star

Dale Nielson and Dave Rassmuson, the two shortest boys on an otherwise rangy Britt squad, led the Eagles in scoring with six apiece as they ran roughshod over Buffalo Center. The Britt boys showed poise, know-how and desire to win that spelled trouble for their NIC foes in the coming campaign.

Buffalo Center, under a new coach, seemed lost in its effort to adjust to a new style of offense. Tom Costigan snared the lone field goal the Bison managed to get. The losers trotted out a 6-5 center who may be a help to them as the season progresses.

Northwood looked good as it ran up a 17-10 lead on Garner in their first quarter of play, but the Cardinals rallied to make a game of it after the intermission. The Vikings' big Gary Lee, another six-fiver, is out of condition due to a football injury but will probably come along. Mace Reyerson looked good for the winners and both Craig Neimeyer and Bob Rockwood for Garner.

Belmond was obviously handicapped by lack of practice, having had opportunity for only four sessions since close-out of the football season a week earlier. The Broncos will be laboring under a height disadvantage against most of their loop rivals and will have to make up for it with a polished floor game if they are to be in contention for title honors this year.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Guess your scribe "made" Brad Wilson's column in the D.M. Register Thursday, all right, all right! The "plug" for the unidentified player over which friend Wilson pulled the rug out from under Ye Ed was, of course, intended for Lenny Steenblock. We called Brad up Thursday afternoon—collect—to provide the missing information.

Meanwhile, we were able to add that Lenny ended the season with credit for 90 exclusive tackles, in spite of the fact that he had not more than a half dozen in the first two games due to generous use of substitutes by Coach Dick Hobbs. ALSO, that the bustin' Bronco has been on the BHS grade honor roll for the past 10 quarters! No "dumb athlete" is Lenny!

Even our embarrassment over being caught in a cardinal journalistic sin (omission of "who") will be easily forgotten if our efforts have helped the Purple and White line ace obtain the all-state recognition he deserves. If he can wind up in an all-state team position, some college offers should be his —with that scholastic record . . . and if he's interested.

When we talked to Brad, he said that at the moment he was up to his ears in compiling the final results in the Iowa Prep Football Poll. Guess we must have interrupted him just at the time he was toting up Belmond's vote total—and that the distraction "knocked him off his bench," as an old aunt of ours used to say when her thoughts were derailed. Anyway, the Broncs didn't appear in the final listings AT ALL, though they'd been in 24th place a week earlier. Lake Mills advanced to 6th place among the Class II teams on the concluding poll, and Northwood from 29th to 24th. Wonder where we SHOULD have been?

An anenymous "Football Fan" had a letter in last week's Lake Mills Graphic raking the NIC sports writers over the coals because Loren "Man Mountain" Moen failed to make the all-conference 1st team at end. Admittedly, the scribes did a bit of soul-searching before reaching their decision to place him in no better than a 2nd team berth. But it was their final decision that, as a man among boys, the blond behemoth didn't commit himself with particular distinction.

Our critic made particular point of the fact that Moen caught 27 passes—some of them in key situations. But considering the big boy's ungainliess, the writers regarded this more of a testimony to "Skip" Kinden's passing ability than to Moen's adeptness at receiving. And to face the facts, Moan wasn't worth a tinker's dam on defense except as a road block. Don't believe he made ONE tackle against Belmond.

Actually, the scribes were reflecting the coaches' estimate of Moen as much as their own. There wasn't one mentor (other than his own) who recommended the big "Scandahoovian" for 1st team. There's no denying he was an important asset to Lake Mills; but as a football player, he wasn't a patch on Tom Costigan, the 150-lb. star from Buffalo Center, who was unanimously regarded the loop's No. 1 wingman. We sympathize with the letter-to-the-editor writer, but can't agree with him.

Ye Ed was unable to take in NIC cage jamboree Friday; our first miss in eight seasons. So we won't be missled by this pre-season exhibition as we sometimes have been in the past. Last year, for example, the BHS five looked like one of the best in the lot. Then the misguided Broncos suffered steady deterioration until the reorganization at the start of the second semester. Sight unseen, we're guessing on Lake Mills, Britt, Belmond, Northwood as the probable 1st division teams; and we predict that beating the Bulldogs' Moen-Kinden combination is going to take some doin'. . . . But we hear Britt may be the bunch to do it.

Two former BHS gridders had the privilege of sharing in the glory that came to this year's Central college football team in winning the Iowa conference championship. They were Wilbur Daniels and Arlo Stoltenberg. The Dutchmen were clobbered in their season opener by Simpson, 32 to 6; then reversed their field and won seven in a row, allowing no other opponent more than one touchdown. If memory serves us right, it was Central's first conference gridiron title in 24 years!

● OBITUARY

ADINA JOHNSON

Adina Johnson, daughter of Andrew and Caroline Hefte, was born on a farm near Kanawha on Sept. 15, 1895. She passed away on Nov. 9, 1956, at Belmond Community hospital. Her death, at the age of 61 years, one month and 25 days, was caused by cancer.

Baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith, she was member of the St. Olaf Lutheran church before moving to Kanawha in 1948. In 1954 she was accepted as a member of the Kanawha Lutheran church.

On Nov. 6, 1912, she was married to Carlton Johnson. They started their married life on a farm northwest of Belmond and resided there 35 years before moving to a farm west of Kanawha. A year after the death of her husband in May of 1953 she moved to her home in Kanawha.

Eleven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Besides her husband, she was preceded in death by two sons, Clair and Stanley. Surviving are five daughters and four sons; also 16 grandchildren, one great grandchild, three sistres and a brother.

The surviving children are: Mrs. Telford (Laura) Simon, Winnebago, Minn.; Mrs. Stanley (Edith) Shahan, Belmond; Mrs. Earl (Carol) Christenson, Bricelyn, Minn.; Mrs. Don (Wilma) Friesleben, Belmond; and Aileen, who teaches at Clear Lake; Gaylen and Dudley, Kanawha; Arland, Forest City; and Gary, Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

Funeral services were held Monday, Nov. 12 at 1:30 p. m. at Hanson Funeral Home, Kanawha, and at the Kanawha Lutheran church at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Perry Sampson officiating. Interment was in the Belmond cemetery. Pallbearers were Marson Nelson, Leonard Nelson, Joseph Tegland, Roger Johnson, Gilman Soma and Howard Johnson.

● Belmond Locals

FACTS
For all of us . . .

If you don't do anything else today, please read this letter

Dear Driver:

A few weeks ago, I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a father race toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw all the plans that had been made for her dashed and I saw the look of despair that came over his face. I could only offer a prayer that such a thing might never happen again.

Today my daughter, who is 5 years old, started off to school. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is Scoot, watched her leave and whined his belief in the folly of education.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, a girl with yellow curls, and about the boy across the aisle who makes faces; about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the school yard and the big girl who does not believe in Santa Claus.

We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital and unimportant things.

When her doll gets broken or her finger gets cut or her head gets bumped, I can fix them. But when she starts across the street—then, Mr. Driver, she is in your hands.

Much as I wish I could, it's not possible for me to be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her home, her clothes, her education.

So, Mr. Driver, please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully. Please drive slowly past schools and at intersections. And please remember that sometimes children run from behind parked cars.

Please don't run over my little girl.

With deepest thanks for whatever you can do for her, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) FATHER

Cards of Thanks

A sincere thanks to relatives and friends for remembering me during my stay in the hospital; also to the doctors and nurses for their fine care. Johanna Albers. 7t1

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many relatives, friends and neighbors who lightened our sorrow by their kindness upon the death of our mother. Especially we thank Dr. Leinbach and the other doctors and nurses who gave our mother such wonderful care in the hospital. We're also grateful for all the cards, letters and flowers she received. Thanks, too, to Reverends Sampson, Severseike and Heinzig for their comforting words and to those who sent floral offerings, memorials and brought in food.

The family of Mrs. Carlton Johnson. 7t1

I wish to thank all who remembered me with gifts, cards and visits while I was in the hospital. A special thanks to all nurses and doctors. Mrs. Albert Olson. 7t1*

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schwab, whose newborn baby was unable to survive surgery at Mayo Clinic last week to correct a congenital deformity of the diaphragm, emerged from the sad ordeal convinced that everything humanly possible to save their child had been done. They were particularly impressed with the extravagant praise that the specialists at Rochester, Minn., heaped upon the Belmond Community hospital and its medical staff.

These medical experts, Mrs. Schwab tells us, were openly amazed that an accurate diagnosis of the baby's difficulty was arrived at so very quickly. Also, that a hospital in a community of Belmond's size should possess the x-ray equipment—AND the skilled technicians—to promptly confirm the diagnosis. The Mayo Clinic even found it unnecessary to take additional x-rays prior to performing surgery in its effort to save the baby's life. The x-rays taken here were so completely clear and technically perfect that they were wholly satisfactory to the surgeon as a guide to performing the operation.

In addition, the hospital's Baby Haven incubator made it possible to transport the infant to Rochester without delay, giving him a maximum chance for survival. The operation was completely successful and high hopes were held that the baby would live. Only the fact that the little tyke was so "new" and was unable to overcome some unavoidable post-operative affects led, finally, to his death. It was a supremely "good try."

When little Billy Lee Schwab arrived at the famous clinic in the Baby Haven, it was necessary only to attach a fresh tank of oxygen and he was left right there until time for the operation. Afterwards, he was put in an identical Baby Haven which the clinic, itself, HAD JUST RECENTLY OBTAINED.

It was admitted that Belmond Community hospital had as part of its nursery equipment this newest development in the incubator line SEVERAL MONTHS BEFORE Mayos' acquired ITS first unit!

This impressively confirms that medical service available at the local hospital far surpasses that obtainable in most rural communities; and more often than not will rank on a par with that offered ONLY at large metropolitan centers! Make you feel kinda proud?

Mrs. Augusta Bier, who for nearly 70 years was a resident of the Meservey vicinity, had her picture in the Sleepy-Eye (Minn.) Herald-Dispatch three weeks ago as she made her first visit to the polls to vote in an election. She is 92 years old. She's been living with her children since the death of her husband 25 years ago and last year moved to Sleepy Eye to make her home with her son Charles and his wife.

The Herald-Dispatch said Mrs. Bier confessed she hasn't felt any particular enthusiasm about elections in the past. But this time, when her son and daughter-in-law urged her to accompany them, she very willingly went along.

She said she'd taken a liking to President Eisenhower and wanted to vote for him. Mrs. Bier had nephews in World War I, a grandson in World War II and another nephew who was wounded in the Korean conflict. . . . Her decision to cast a ballot this year — for the first time since women "got the vote" 40 years ago, may be fairly regarded as fresh testimony that it's always a woman's privilege to change her mind!

We're indebted to our good friend Ferdinand Lemke of Meservey for the above item. Which reminds us that the SUREST way to avoid disappointment over omission of a story from The Independent that you'd like to see printed is to get in touch with us and see if we KNOW about it. We DON'T, always; and we have not a crystal ball that's in working order.

Thanksgiving was not the happy day it might have been at the Ray Ainger home, because of the departure of an old friend. "Spot," Ray's canine companion of 22 years' standing, disappeared last Thursday and has not been seen since. Presumably, true to canine tradition, the aged dog left home to die.

He had been very decrepit and totally deaf for some time; but he held a warm place in the hearts of all members of the Ainger family, and he'll be missed. He'd been Ray's steadfast companion since his owner was 10 years old.

Ray and his father Del would appreciate it if anyone knowing the whereabouts of "Spot's" body would give them a call so they can give their pet a proper burial. He was white with black spots. No particular breed — just "dog."

GAME DINNER DEC. 5TH

A game dinner is to be served next Wednesday evening at Veterans' Memorial hall by the Belmond Sportsman's club from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. The menu will feature elk, deer and antelope. The meat is being provided by John Chapman from a stock that he and a party of hunting friends brought back from an excursion to Wyoming in late October.

Zoning, Planning Petitions Now Out

Three dozen petition-bearers began making their rounds of Belmond this week, seeking signatures to a request that the city council appoint a zoning and planning commission and enact an ordinance to put zoning and planning into effect here.

The canvassers were guests of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening at a dinner held at Blue Bell tea room. At that time, they were briefed on the Chamber's zoning and planning project and urged to cover their assigned territories within a week's time.

Contact is being made with renters as well as property-owners, to obtain the widest possible opinion regarding the proposed introduction of zoning and planning. Henry Stokke, head of the C-of-C civic bureau, says it is the intention of the zoning and planning committee to visit every family in Belmond, where absence from town does not prevent.

SALE DATE CLAIMED

Raymond E. Pals has claimed the date of Wednesday, Jan. 9, to conduct a closing out sale.

NINTH ANNUAL LETTERS-TO-SANTA CONTEST GETS UNDERWAY TODAY

A glance at the calendar this week showed that it is once again that time of year to be getting letters off to Santa Claus to inform St. Nick what boys and girls are going to be expecting in their stockings and under the tree.

For the ninth, consecutive year, The Independent and 10 other Belmond business firms are co-operating with Santa by offering cash prizes for the best letters directed from this area to the North Pole. So it will not only pay to get at that annual letter from the standpoint of giving Santa plenty of advance notice, but for the contest winners it will pay off with a nice check.

Thirty-five dollars in prize money will be divided up amongst the half dozen best letter-writers. The boy or girl whose letter is judged best of all will receive $15. The next two letters will be worth $7.50 and $5.00, respectively; and each of the next three places will pay off at $2.50 each.

All boys and girls up to and including 10 years of age may enter the contest. Fancy letters aren't required. Santa much prefers a straight-from-the-heart message that is simple and really means what it says. Either pencil or ink are all right. Neatness will count a good deal in judging the winners.

Little tots too young to do their own writing may be helped by mother or another member of the family, but the words should be those of the boy or girl sending the letter. Any youngster old enough to write or print will stand a better chance of a prize if the letter is in his or her own hand. Letters should not be over 100 words long.

Because Christmas falls on Tuesday this year, letters may be in a bit later than usual and be eligible for the contest. Only those received by 6:00 p. m. on Saturday, Dec. 22 will be judged.

The Independent will try to publish as many of the letters as possible. But the last ones in may be crowded out, so if you want to see your letter in print, better get at it right away.

Joining with this newspaper in sponsoring the contest are the following business places: Belmond Co-op Creamery, Belmond Greenhouse, Farmers Grain company, Farmers Implement store, First State bank, Followwill Implement and Feed company, Iowa Electric Light and Power company, Meints Produce, Mello Maid Ice Cream shop and Rowat-Murray, Engineers.

Belmond's Tax Levy for Present Year, Collectable in 1957, Up by 2.77 Mills

With the matter of the Korean bonus — which might add another half-mill — still unsettled, County Assessor Myron Price says that compilation of tax millages for the coming year indicates that taxpayers in Belmond, Clarion and Eagle Grove will all be paying at slightly higher rates next year (for 1956) than prevailed during the current year.

Belmond's millage, which was 57.045 on '55 taxes paid this year will go up to 59.813. The biggest increase falls to Eagle Grove's property-owners, who will find the past year's 62.563 mills replaced by a millage of 68.476. Clarion's increase will run a bit lower than Belmond's, the county seat millage going up to 60.009 from 57.936.

Municipal millages at Clarion and Eagle Grove will trail Belmond's by quite a margin — 19.880 and 20.846, respectively, compared to 25.88. But the mill rate needed to support operation of Belmond Community School district falls well below school millages of the other two communities: Belmond 26.792, Clarion 32.988 and Eagle Grove 40.489.

Making up a part of all district's millage totals is .440 for state service compensation (World War II bonus) and 6.701 in county levy for corporations and 11.615 for the rural area. These figures compare to '55 millages for similar purposes of: .450, 5.965 and 10.88.

The trend to slightly higher taxes affected other taxing divisions in Belmond Community School district as follows: agricultural land in Belmond corporation, up from 33.204 to 33.493; Iowa township, up from 38.696 to 39.431; Belmond and Pleasant townships, up from 38.119 to 38.847; Norway township, up from 38.259 to 39.171.

All of the above millages will be increased by the amount needed to meet payments on the Korean service bonus bonds, when and if the state gets bonding arrangements made for paying the bonuses.

Western Singer To Appear Here

Fans of western singing will have an opportunity to hear one of their favorites in person Saturday afternoon and evening when Jerry Smith, known as "King of the Cowboy Singers in Iowa," pays a visit to Elliott Hardware.

This is one of a number of visits to Iowa communities that Jerry is making to entertain and talk with his many listeners and friends under sponsorship of the Iowa Retail Hardware association.

Ellis Elliott says his guest will be happy to sing request numbers, "So feel free to ask for your favorite numbers. Jerry will be at our store from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m."

During that time, Mr. Elliott plans to make it a double attraction by having free peanuts on hand for the pleasure of visitors to his store. He says, "Dig in and eat as many as you want—so long as you leave the shucks on the floor."

Elliott Hardware is one of some 1,400 independently-owned Iowa hardware stores affiliated with the IRHA, which presents the "Jerry Smith Show" on several Iowa radio stations.

Jerry began his radio career at Yankton, S. D., moving from there to Shenandoah, where he became a favorite over KMA. Later he was a member of the "Barn Dance Frolic" cast over WHO, Des Moines, for eight years.

For the past several years, his own show has been heard over several midwestern radio stations and an estimated million listeners hear him every week—in addition to the thousands who enjoy his music in the course of his personal appearances.

SPEECH THERAPIST ATTENDS 4-DAY CHICAGO CONVENTION

Niel VerHoef of Clarion, Wright county speech therapist, last week attended the national convention of the American Speech and Hearing association held at Chicago. Sessions opened Sunday afternoon and continued through Wednesday.

He reports that outstanding specialists in almost all fields of speech and hearing therapy and training appeared on the program and he found the wide variety of symposiums both stimulating and highly informational.

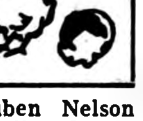
A2/c Marlin Jenison has provided his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenison, with a change in his service address, as follows: AF17460-906, APO 731, 1930th AACS Squad,. Seattle, Wash.

"Doc" Nelson Here 25 Years

It is called to the attention of the many friends of Dr. A. M. Nelson that Saturday of this week will mark the 25th anniversary of his arrival in Belmond. The popular osteopathic physician has been active in innumerable civic undertakings during his quarter century here and has performed many public and private services—a goodly number of them unknown to his fellow townsmen, in general. "Doc" enjoys an excellent practice and is a member of the medical staff in Belmond Community hospital.

HELLO WORLD!



Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Nelson are parents of a 7 lb. 7¾ oz. daughter, Beth Eleonore, born on Nov. 21

Jody Lynn is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartzell of Klemme for the 8 lb. 2½ oz. baby girl born to them Nov. 24.

A 7 lb. 2½ oz. girl was born on Nov. 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Borchers of Garner. They have named her Karen Lea.

DUEA STEER PLACES HIGH

Alan Duea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duea of Thornton, added another to the family's long line of achievements in the livestock ring by taking sixth place at the International Livestock Exposition last Saturday in the junior cattle feeding contest. The son of the former local farmer and one-time Belmond postmaster competed in the Hereford division.

BOB JENISONS TO N.Y.

Robert Jenison, with Mrs. Jenison and their son Ricky, left Sunday for Endicott, N. Y. There he will be studying custom engineering and working at the International Business Machine company plant. The Jenisons have spent the past five weeks in Belmond, following his discharge from the U.S. Air Force.

REDMOND IN ARIZONA

Clelan Redmond, who last summer completed training in Linotype operation at the Midland school, Charles City, has recently accepted a position on the staff of the Ajo Copper News at Ajo, Ariz. He worked at Parkersburg for several months before the move south.

E. G. Cagers Lose To Broncs 63-44

Belmond High's cage crew Tuesday evening marked up their second easy conquest of the new season, defeating Eagle Grove by a 63-44 margin. The Eagles were victors over Forest City last Friday, 56 to 41.

The Broncos steadily drew ahead as the game progressed, holding quarter advantages of 14-8, 30-18 and 48-31. Although their play was occasionally ragged, they showed to considerably better advantage than against Algona a week earlier.

Balanced scoring provided the winner's offensive punch. Bill Murray netted 15 points, Jerry Chandler 14, Larry Schimp 12 and Bill Kaufman 10. Starter Larry Kinseth played only a half, having acquired four fouls by the intermission. He tallied four points, Tom McNulty six and Jon Mehus two.

Larry Strain and Paul Sunner were standouts for the losers with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

The Belmond froshmores evened their won-and-lost record with a 27-20 win over the Eaglets, making a 17-9 halftime advantage stand up. Kenny Hawley topped the scorers with 14 points.

Amount in Walrod Fund Almost Equals That Paid for Ricky's Hospital Care by Blue Cross

Contributions to the Lions club Ricky Walrod Fund edged up toward $1,600 this week, although the flow of gifts was very perceptibly slowed down in comparison to the steady stream received in previous weeks. By press time, the fund total had mounted to $1,573.60.

By coincidence, this is less than $15 from the amount that the illness of young Ricky has cost in hospital bills to date. That figure stands at $1,587.63, as revealed in the Blue Cross hospitalization publicity released last week in conjunction with Ricky's being Iowa's millionth Blue Cross patient.

Thanks to membership of the Bill Walrod family in the Blue Cross organization, Ricky's father has had to foot just 18 cents of the hospital cost thus far; and Blue Shield has taken care of $183 in medical expense.

What contributors to the Walrod fund, past and prospective, might bear in mind is that 58 of the 70 days of hospitalization available to Ricky under his family's policy have been used up. By provisions of the policy, he would not be eligible for another, similar period of hospitalization unless NOT a patient for three months after his present period of eligibility has been completely depleted.

Consequently, it doesn't test the imagination too much to realize that hospital expense approaching—or even conceivably surpassing—the amount that has already been paid, could ultimately become the obligation of Ricky's family. So many uncertainties are involved that they defy any future predictions.

Meanwhile, Ricky—despite his continued affliction with leukemia, in an arrested state—will tomorrow have been "back home" a full four weeks. And he's currently about as happy a "sick" youngster as you'd want to see.

Latest contributors to the fund for Ricky have been:

Corn on Allotment or Soil Bank Plan? Growers to Make Own Choice Dec. 11

Corn growers of Wright county and all other counties in the nation's commercial corn producing area will be given opportunity on Dec. 11 to decide by ballot the kind of government corn program they prefer in 1957. They will vote whether they want a return to the old corn acreage allotment plan used prior to this year or to see the soil bank acreage plan continued, as introduced this year.

If at least two thirds of the growers in the commercial area cast ballots favoring the base acreage plan, it will be followed again in '57. Under this plan, the national base acreage would be 51 million acres. That acreage would be apportioned among producers in the commercial area.

Also under this plan, price support would be available at a national average of $1.31 per bushel to those who plant within their base acreage allocation and put cropland equal to at least 15 per cent of their allocation in the soil bank. The national average support rate of $1.31 represents 74 per cent of last Oct. 15th's corn parity price of $1.77 per bushel.

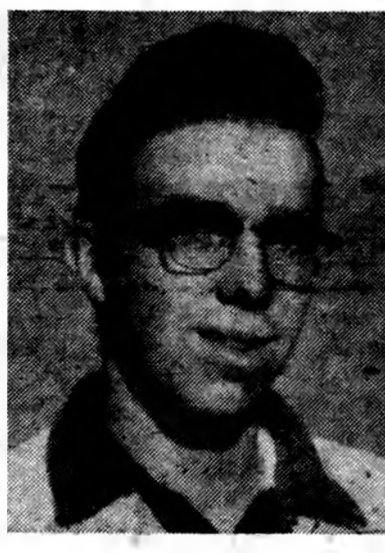
Unit rate for determining payments under the corn soil bank acreage reserve has been fixed at a national average of 90 cents per bushel, same as this year. In Iowa this means a county-by-county range of 85 to 90 cents per bushel, making an average reserve payment of about $44 per acre.

If more than a third of the referendum voters favor corn allotments, the national '57 allotments for the 894 commercial corn counties in 24 states will be 37,288,889 acres. This national allotment would be nearly six million acres less than announced for '56, when only 840 counties in 23 states were classified in the commercial corn producing area.

Under the allotment plan, price support at a national average rate of $1.36 per bushel would be available to those complying with their individual allotments, representing 77 per cent of last Oct. 15th's parity price. Under this plan farmers would not be required to participate in the soil bank to qualify for price support.

Notices of individual corn allocations for '57 under both plans will be mailed to all farmers not later than Dec. 7 to help each determine which plan is best for him. Also, information on both plans will be mailed to all corn producers prior to the referendum; and further details can be obtained from the county ASC office.

Location of referendum voting places and voting hours will be announced as soon as arrangements are completed.



Rikansrud Rites Held Last Friday

Funeral services were held last Friday at Trinity Lutheran church, following brief services earlier at Johnston Funeral Home, for Thorleif Rikansrud, age 68. He died Tuesday of last week at Veterans' hospital, Des Moines, where he had undergone surgery and treatment during the past month. Burial at Belmond cemetery was accompanied my military rites.

Mr. Rikansrud had made his home in Belmond since his marriage to Clara Barkema of Story City on Aug. 21, 1955.

Rev. T. J. Alvestad of Story City officiated over the funeral services. Pallbearers were Luther Johnson, Clair Hanson, Howard Nelson, James Skare, Paul Barkema and Gary Severseike.

Originally a native of Belmond, Mr. Rikansrud was born here on Oct. 2, 1888, the son of Ole and Hilda Rikansrud. He spent his early life on a farm near Kanawha, later attending St. Olaf college at Northfield, Minn., and Highland Park college at Des Moines. He managed a lumber yard at New Richland, Minn., for approximately 30 years, and later spent four years at Story City as caretaker of Sunset Home. He served his country in the First World War and saw action in France and Germany.

Mr. Rikansrud was confirmed in the St. Olaf church at the age of 13. His association with the Lutheran church and his pastors since that time has been very close. The Chaplain at the Veterans' hospital, who visited him often, praised his firm faith.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife Clara, three brothers, Sigurd of Kanawha, Hector of Des Moines and Laurence of Minneapolis; and three sisters, Mrs. Hannah Forristall of Moorhead, Minn., Agnes of Mason City and Thelma of Kanawha.

He was preceded in death by his parents, three brothers, his former wife Agnes, and an infant son.

County Delegates At 1956 Parley of IFBF at D. M.

Approximately 25 Wright County Farm Bureau members were in Des Moines this week for the 38th annual convention of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, which opened Monday and came to a close yesterday. John Evans of Williams was Wright county's voting delegate.

He met Wednesday with voting delegates from the other 99 Iowa counties at which each delegate voted on state policies in accord with his county's stand as indicated at the local, annual meeting of each.

Three general sessions of the convention were held at KRNT Radio Theater. Speakers at these sessions were: the Hon. Walter Judd, Congressman from Minnesota; Mrs. C. C. Inman, chairman of the IFBF women's committee; Fletcher Knebel of the Des Moines Register's Washington staff, whose column, "Potomac Fever," appears daily in that paper; and IFBF President E. Howard Hill.

At the special conference on livestock, speakers included three specialists in the field of promoting agricultural products.

Other Wright county delegates to the state convention, in addition to Mr. Evans, included: President Casper Hahn and Mrs. Hahn, Vice President Jack Burt and Mrs. Burt, Agency Manager William Kopps; Cornelius Thompson, alternate voting delegate, and Mrs. Thompson; Mrs. Gladys Woodley, women's chairman; Mrs. Fred Bruhl, women's vice chairman; Dwight Seckman, fieldman, and Mrs. Seckman; Ruth Bingham, office assistant.

ALL-STATE HONORS came last weekend to these three gridders who played their final season of football for BHS last fall. Leonard Steenblock (left) was rated one of the state's eight best, prep tackles by the Iowa Daily Press association, which placed Lenny on its 4th all-state team at that position. He was given honorable mention by the Des Moines Register, as were Steve McLaughlin (above, right) and Bill Murray, at guard and backfield position, respectively. McLaughlin also received honorable mention from the IDPA. See complete story on all-state choices on sports page.

Waring and Band Make Stop Here

Wednesday of last week Belmond unknowingly played host to one of the nation's most distinguished musical organizations, Fred Waring and his troupe of musicians and entertainers.

The group was en route to Omaha for an evening performance when they made about an hour and a quarter stop-over to eat at the Belmond and Alderson cafes.

Repairs to the bus door, which was sprung by a blast of wind as the musicians were emerging, caused some delay in their departure. A number of the troupe kept warm in the Western Auto store while waiting. Lloyd Stevens says the feminine members were by no means wanting in pulchritude.

GAS RANGE DEMONSTRATION

Lloyd Lewis, proprietor of Belmond Hardware, announces in this issue that a demonstration of the Hardwick gas range will be held at his store next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock. Several prizes will be awarded on the basis of registration and free coffee and doughnuts will be served throughout the afternoon, starting at 1:00 o'clock.

IVERSONS MOVE SOUTH

The Fred Iverson family moved from Belmond a week ago Saturday to Fort Worth, Tex. Roger Hanson and Cleo Wilson took their furniture there by truck.

Two Picked Up 75 Dollars

A bundle of Christmas shopping money was picked up Tuesday afternoon by a couple of Cash Gift Day number-holders. At 2:00 o'clock, $25 went to Emma Liekweg, a newcomer to Belmond who is employed at Belmond hotel. Neoma Johnson was a $50 winner at 3:00 o'clock. There will be the same number of awards to shoot at next week as this—four $25's at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday and a half dozen $50's at 3:00 o'clock. You can't get 'em without coming after 'em!

Corn Referendum Topic of Meeting; Banks Sponsoring

As information of corn loan rates and acreage allotments comes from Washington, interest in the forthcoming corn referendum is growing, ASC Office Manager Oscar Hanson reports.

A big crowd of farm operators, landlords and interested townspeople is expected for the referendum outlook meeting scheduled by the Eagle Grove State Bank and the Wright County State Bank at the I.O.O.F. hall, Clarion, Wednesday evening of next week.

The speaker will be Dewey Cornell, state administrator of the ACP and allotment program, from the state ASC office at Des Moines. Cornell started on the farm program as a township committeeman back in 1934. He was later a member of the county ASC committee in Warren county. From 1941-44 he was a farmer-fieldman, working out of the state ASC office. In 1948 he assumed his present duties.

He formerly operated a 450 acre farm near New Virginia and at present his son operates a 200 acre farm near Grimes.

Cornell will come informed on the latest available information of alternatives open to farmers. Following his prepared remarks, the banks have asked him to answer individual farmer questions in regard to the program for 1957.

A week after the meeting — on December 11 — farmers will vote in a USDA election to decide whether they want the old acreage allotment plan or the new Soil Bank. Two-thirds of those voting must approve the Soil Bank to put it into effect.

Eagle Grove Man New Ag. Teacher

Darwin Schroeder, Eagle Grove High school and junior college graduate, has been engaged by the Belmond Community school board to succeed Francis Kelly as BHS vocational agriculture instructor and advisor of the Future Farmers of America.

The new teacher has just completed his college work at Iowa State, Ames, from which he will receive a B.A. degree in agricultural education at the end of the current quarter. He started on his new duties this week.

Mr. Kelly is assisting the newcomer briefly, to help him get acquainted with his duties. An ex-Marine, Mr. Schroeder is married and currently looking for living accommodations here.

Extension Staff To State Parley

Wright county's extension staff in agriculture and home economics will attend the annual Iowa extension conference at Iowa State college, Ames, next Monday through Thursday of next week.

Intending to be present are Extension Director Aaron Bowman; Mrs. Geraldine Steele, home economist; and Gerald Anderson, youth assistant.

This conference is held each December, bringing together the more than 400 county extension workers in the state and Iowa State college extension leaders. New developments in agriculture and homemaking are reviewed and plans of work for the coming year drawn up.

Mayo Operation Unable to Save Tiny Babe's Life

Billy Lee Schwab, two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schwab, died Tuesday of last week at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., where he had undergone surgery the day before to correct a congenital deformity of the diaphragm.

After his birth on Sunday, it was noted by his physician that the infant was suffering from an internal abnormality and the diagnosis of an imperfectly formed diaphragm was promptly confirmed by x-ray.

Most of the child's abdominal organs were crushed into his chest cavity by his prenatal position, making it impossible for his heart and lungs to perform properly. He was quickly placed in Belmond Community hospital's new Baby Haven incubator and arrangements made to transfer him to Rochester, Minn., where an operation could be performed by a Mayo specialist.

The operation was pronounced a complete success and high hopes were held for a time the baby would live. However, the lungs were underdeveloped due to the congestion of organs in the chest and were not able to function satisfactorily due to unavoidable post-operative affects and death claimed the tiny tot the following day.

Dr. A. M. Nelson and the baby's father accompanied Jack Fulton on the urgent trip made to the famous Minnesota medical center.

Final rites for Billy Lee were conducted Wednesday at Fulton Funeral Home, followed by burial in Belmond cemetery.

In addition to his parents, the infant is survived by two sisters, Berna Lee and Bobbie Lee, and a brother, Michael Lee. The mother is the former Bernadine Algiey.

Former Resident Here Obtains New Son by Adoption

Mrs. T. A. Townsan returned home Sunday from New York City with her son, Capt. Reece Townsan, and his family. She had gone to New York by plane Nov. 1 to visit her daughter, Mrs. S. E. (Veona) Finkelstein, and the Finkelsteins' newly adopted son Jamie.

A German orphan, now about 10 months old, Jamie was adopted by Captain Townsan by proxy in behalf of his sister and brother-in-law last May and came to this country in the custody of an off-duty airline hostess by plane on Sept. 6.

Captain Townsan, his wife and three children—the youngest born in Germany—returned to the U.S. Nov. 20. He and his family are stopping over for 10 days at the parental Townsan home en route to Camp Carson, Colo., by car.

A company commander in the 9th Army Division, lately transferred to the States from Germany, Captain Townsan will now be stationed at Carson.

HANSONS ENJOY PLANE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanson returned home last Wednesday from a two-week visit with their son Daryl and family at Geneseo, N.Y. The Hansons made the trip by plane and stated they enjoyed flying very much.

AT FOOTBALL BANQUET—

Gridders to Hear Luther Coach Speak

Edsel Schweizer, Luther college football coach, will be speaker at the annual banquet of the Gridiron club for members of the high school and junior high football squads. The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock Monday night of next week at the school hot lunch room, with presentation of letters to members of the varsity and froshmore gridiron squads another of the evening's highlights.

Mr. Schweizer is recognized as one of the best of Iowa's small college coaches. His Norse gridders have been outstandingly successful in the Iowa conference and are almost perennial challengers for the title. This past season they did not enjoy the success they have in some previous campaigns, finishing with a 5-2-1 record to share second place.

Prior to this year, however, the Decorah team chalked up a string of 17 games without a blot on their record before being unexpectedly tied by Iowa Weslyan 6-6 at the end of their '55 season. Don Bunnell, chairman of the Gridiron's banquet program committee, says that Coach Schweizer has attained his enviable reputation as a coach despite a philosophy that the game and what its participants get out of it is much more important than victory, in itself.

Coach Dick Hobbs has announced that 25 varsity squad members will receive football letters. That he will be faced with the necessity of very largely rebuilding the Bronco line next fall is evident from the fact that only three linemen earning monograms will be back for further competition next season.

All the other players who lettered at line positions during the excellent season just concluded will be among the 18 seniors who are to receive major B's. The senior letter-winners are: Larry Kinseth, Gary Ersland, Leonard Steenblock, Steve McLaughlin, Merrill Jenison, Roland Jenison, Bill Murray, Jerry Chandler and Dave Long, who rated as "regulars."

Also Marlin Daniels, Jim Fetrow, Larry Flanagan, Roland Lerdal, Duane Lowenberg, Clement McLaughlin, Larry Schimp, Jim Stadtlander and and Gordon Sandman, who played important roles in compiling the fine, 1956 record by competently relieving the first-stringers.

A half-dozen juniors earned major awards: Tom McNulty, Ronnie Courson and DaDean Obrecht, who displayed their talents in the backfield; and Jon Mehus, John Studebaker and Larry Stadtlander, linemen. Only sophomore to letter was Kenny Hawley, who played regularly as a defensive linebacker.

At the banquet, Steve McLaughlin and Merrill Jenison will be introduced as honorary co-captains of the Broncos for the 1956 season. They were elected by members of the squad in recognition of their leadership and outstanding play. McLaughlin was named on the all-North Iowa conference first team at guard and won honorable mention by the Iowa Daily Press association and Des Moines Register. Jenison was on the NIC honor roll, also as a guard.

ANNUAL IDPA SELECTIONS

Steenblock Makes 4th All-State Team

SPORTS

Leonard Steenblock, Belmond High's finest football lineman in many a season, won for the Broncos their first all-state gridiron recognition in a dozen years when the Iowa Daily Press association last Friday published its all-state teams for the 1956 season. Lenny was placed at tackle on the 4th team, on which Darrell Kinden of Lake Mills was awarded a backfield position.

A year ago the North Iowa conference managed to get only two honorable mentions out of the IDPA selections and five men on the Register's honor roll. The greater attention accorded the NIC in football recognition this year indicates that the new, organized efforts of the conference coaches to publicize the North Iowa loop is paying good dividends, in the opinion of Dick Hobbs, BHS mentor.

Moen on North's 2nd Team

Jack North's Des Moines Register all-state choices saw the North Iowa conference gain one place on the 2nd team and two on the fifth. Oddly enough, it "Man Mountain" Moen of Lake Mills who got the high berth, although he got insufficient support among NIC sports writers and coaches to do better than make the 2nd all-conference team. Northwood's Reyerson was on the 5th team backfield and Forest City's Duden at guard.

Steenblock and Kinden, generally regarded the pick of NIC's linemen and backs, respectively, were able to rate no better than honorable mention with the Register.

North seemed to consider weight a prime factor in picking his tackles. The players at that position on his seven "all" teams averaged 212 pounds (Steenblock hits only 180) and only two were under the 200 mark. Moen's choice over Kinden as the Bulldogs' "key man" would seem to be a matter of "potential" getting more consideration that "performance."

14 Get Register Mention

From the standpoint of honor roll mention, the North Iowa loop did better than fair in the Register. Fourteen NIC gridders got recognition, including six backs: Bill Murray, Belmond; Lyle Jenkins, Buffalo Center; Jim Hanson and Jerry Dunbar, Forest City; Gary Rapp, Northwood; and Kinden.

In addtion to Steenblock, other NIC linemen on the Register honor roll were: ends—Tom Costigan (BC) and Harlin Sime (N); tackle—Vic Edwards (N); guards—Steve McLaughlin (Belmond) and Jerry Hopperstead (N); centers—Richard Knudtson (LM) and Bob Mickelick (N).

Actually, the NIC might have been expected to do better in the way of honorable mentions than it did with the IDPA. Only five conference players were cited on the honor roll; and, all told, only six of the gridders on the North Iowa all-conference 1st team so much as got a nod.

Steve on Both "Rolls"

Steve McLaughlin, Belmond's watch-charm guard, and his NIC 1st team running mate, Ed Duden of Forest City, both made the honor roll. Neither of the ends placed on the 1st team — Harlin Sime of Northwood or Tom Costigan of Buffalo Center — got any attention; but Lake Mills' Loren Moen was on the honor list of wingmen.

Although sports writers of the loop considered the NIC as well endowed with good tackles this past season as in several years' time, Steenblock was the only one singled out for mention. And some mighty fine backfield men were everlooked by the IDPA when it accorded honor roll places only to Mace Reyerson of Northwood and Jim Hanson of Forest City, in addition to Kinden.

NIC Prestige Goes Up

Nevertheless, the NIC gained a more prominent place in the football spotlight this year than in a long while. Kinden was once given recognition as Iowa's high school back of the week; and the Lake Mills eleven was in 6th place among the Class II schools at the season's end.

It's Coach Hobbs' belief that if his fellow mentors keep up the efforts they exerted this year to win their conference the pominence it deserves, the "step up" taken this season will be only the first of a number.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

One of the hottest bowling duels of the season resulted when Kin- After a so-so first game, Tip Top Top Grocers locked horns in a make-up match last Friday night. After a so-so first garme, Tip Top warmed up with a 1,012 gross in the second to go ahead 2-0 and grab a 41-pin lead for series.

Although Ed Albers had a 236 and Maynard Holmgaard a 230 for Tip Top in the final game and the Grocers notched a very respectable 1,010, they lost the game — and the series! — when the Hot-Pointers steamed home with 1,012 NET pins and a gross of 1,095. Rog Kinseth contributed a 236 and Dave Robertson 233, folloed by Vern Dippel's 202, Ron Courson's 172 and Kenny Kinseth's 169.

If your scribe remembers correctly, a net game score exceeding 1,000 has been rolled only two other times at the Bowl-Mor in league competition. Seems Kinseth's did it once before; and Tip Top turned the trick another time. Ed Albers copped the individual glory in the hot match with a fancy 629.

—PSS—

The North Central conference out-did the North Iowa somewhat in the IDPA selections — as usual — although this corner is inclined to believe there isn't too much to choose between the top level teams of the two loops any more. The NCC got only one team position — but that was John Gregory, Webster City guard — on the 1st eleven.

While NIC got both Kinden of Lake Mills and Steenblock of Belmond on the 4th team, the North Central wound up with 12 on the honor roll to North Iowa's five.

Three Webster City backs made the honor roll! We're a bit dubious that the NCC co-champs had a trio of backs ALL better than the Broncos' Bill Murray and Forest City's Jerry Dunbar, North Iowa 1st-teamers who were overlooked completely. Tackle Paul Sunner was Eagle Grove's only IDPA honor roll gridder; and Guard Maynard Mosher, Clarion's.

—PSS—

Central college is counting heavily on Ken Loats, former Bronco cage star, and Alexander's Eldon Schulte to give the Dutchmen a good basketball mark this season. Kenny was the highest scorer last year of any sophomore in Central's athletic history. Schulte is slated as a center candidate, but may be shifted to guard when the Dutchmen's No. 2 backcourt veteran ends his eligibility at the close of the first semester. Only one starter is lost from the 1955-56 team that finished strong to wind-up with an 8-12 record.

—PSS—

Coach Jim Carroll's Alexander girls' basketball team, after two rounds of play in the Iowa Westfork conference, was in the unaccustomed position of sharing top spot in the standings. Jim isn't convinced at this point that he has a title contender; but he pipes up with great enthusiasm when he talks about his junior high cagerettes. Says they push the varsity, right now; and should make a great team when THEY attain varsity status.

—PSS—

Sports coverage didn't used to be so complete in The Independent as it is now (we'd like to do better, particularly by neighboring communities, if space permitted), so when we thumb through the files for athletic history we are often badly frustrated. There was a period about 30 years ago when stories on football games more often than not even neglected to mention the score!

What prompts this comment was our search to find the last time a Bronco gridder earned a position on an all-state team. The ONLY other one, insofar as we know, was Les Classick of the powerful BHS eleven of '45. He was a 4th team choice at tackle on Jack North's D. M. Register "pick."

Belmond has done better in the past few years in gaining all-state attention than ever before, what with Ken Loats and Ronnie Hansen making the grade in basketball — and now Steenblock in football. We've a sneaking notion that there's one Bronco gridder who JUST MIGHT duplicate Lenny's achievement next fall, if he develops to the extent that we anticipate. Ain't a-sayin' who.

BHS Faces Stiff Test in League Opener at Britt

What has often figured as more or less of a "warm-up" game in past years as the Belmond Broncos opened their NIC basketball season against the Britt Eagles promises to be a far cry from a practice session this year.

Friday night the Broncs travel to Britt to launch their North Iowa conference campaign, and Coach Dick Hobbs is anticipating the sternest sort of opposition. The Eagles were highly impressive in thumping Buffalo Center 29 to 6 in the recent NIC jamboree and chalked up their easy decision in spite of making generous use of reserves.

Of the five starters who keyed the 58-53 Britt victory over Belmond here last February, all but Forward Harold Wallen are back this season. Dale Nielsen and Wallen each tallied 16 points in that game and Dick Schutzer, now 6-4, gathered 14 from his pivot post. Bob Olson (6-2) and "Mighty Mite" Dave Rasmusson (5-7) completed the line-up.

Unhappily, the Broncos will be forced to play for one, last time in the Britt "cheesebox" gym, as the new gymnasium won't be ready for use until shortly after the first of the year. Even when Belmond has had highly favored teams, they've sometimes experienced a lot of trouble on the Eagles' floor because of its limited dimensions.

Dennis Clark and Bob Rasmusson, a pair of six-footers, also lettered last year so Coach John Holmen has seven veterans to choose from. Belmond will enter Friday's contest in the unaccustomed role of under-dog. They'll need to disprove the accuracy of that casting if they're to be considered contenders for the NIC title this season.

TAX STUDY GROUP RECOGNIZES NEED FOR UP-DATING COUNTY GOVERNMENT

How many untold hundreds of thousands in tax money is wasted annually by the obsolete form of county government that exists in Iowa is a matter of pure conjecture. But the Iowa Taxation Study committee, in its recent report, made clear that its members confidently believe that very considerable savings could be effected if an effort were made to introduce some sound business practices into the administration of county government.

Unfortunately, the committee refused to take the bull by the horns and limited itself to a recommendation that the legislature take full responsibility for working out the means of modernizing our county form of government. No doubt was left, though, that one particular aid to this objective should be provision of an optional form of county manager government.

If the committee's general suggestion is followed, it will be up to a legislative interim committee to work out the details and propose specific changes in the code. Nevertheless, the study group DID point up some of the major faults that lie behind the existing inefficiency and extravagance that characterize the vast majority of our present systems of county administration.

For one thing, it is the general practice of the boards of supervisors simply to collect the fund requests of the various county offices and base the annual budget on the composite figure. Little or no analysis is indulged in to determine if the requests are justified. An example is Wright county's soldier's relief appropriation, which has been rising annually with no effort on the part of the supervisors to investigate why.

Road expenditures have been another source of absurd extravagance in many counties. Wright county has, in the past, been one of the worst offenders in this regard; but the road-surfacing program undertaken this year should inject some common sense into our budgeting for the next decade. Either that, or it will fail miserably. One major recommendation of the tax study committee was it be made mandatory that bids be required on all machinery or supply purchases of $500 or more. This ostensibly sound practice has been almost wholly ignored in our county.

Further, the study committee urged that the county engineer be given sole responsibility for direction and supervision of ALL road construction and maintenance. This would limit the supervisors' authority to policy-making and eliminate in large part the wastefulness inherent in "competition" between districts for road machinery and manpower.

Wright county has had road machinery "running out of its ears" and for more full-time labor than actually required, because of its five-supervisor system. It certainly would benefit by autonomy of the engineer's office in getting more for its tax money.

Because the tax study committee passed the buck to the legislature, in the matter of a specific recommendation that the proposed changes in county government be invoked, probably nothing will be done during the upcoming general assembly. However, the shortcomings of present county government were recognized for what they are; and for that, the committee certainly has due a vote of thanks.

SUPER-HIGHWAY WILL ULTIMATELY GO WHERE GOOD CITIZENSHIP LETS IT

While there has been much talk about the possibility that the new super-highway paralleling No. 69 will cut its course through this area, not far to the east of Belmond, it is no pre-ordained certainty that that WILL be its route. Preliminary investigation of the willingness of involved property-owners to part with land needed for right-of-way has forecast some difficulty in buying needed roadsite. There is no question but what too much opposition could force the highway's construction elsewhere.

While this might seem a good thing from the immediate viewpoint of some farmers, the exercise of a little far-sightedness may change the appearance of the problem.

Even as the owner of farm land has no right to disregard sound conservation practices and permit its fertility to deteriorate at the expense of future custodians of the property, it is questionable if he has the right to stand in the way of progress for the general welfare such as a super-highway represents. Good citizenship sometimes requires that a man risk his very life for his country. Year in and year out, we must pay taxes for those innumerable services which only the government can provide us. Emphasis sometimes falls on the general good rather than our immediate, private interests; but our nation has become what it is because the general good is the predominating consideration when a conflict of interests occurs.

It can be confidently expected that very fair prices will be paid for all land required for the roadway and that every effort will be made to reduce inconvenience to a minimum where farm properties must, of necessity, be split. Stewardship of the land will unquestionably change with the passing years, so adjacent properties are consolidated into farms that are unaffected by presence of the highway. But it is true that, for the time being, some property-owners may be required to endure temporary inconvenience to abet the general good.

Along SOME route, farm owners MUST take the unselfish and long-range point of view that will permit the super-highway to be built. We will be extremely proud of our neighbors to the east if their good citizenship permits the prevailing plan to be carried out.

SNOWTIME POINTS UP THE NEED FOR US TO GET SOME NEW SIDEWALKS BUILT

A friend last week handed to the writer of this column a clipping from a Decatur, Ill., newspaper in which an editorial pointed up the need for sidewalk construction on residential blocks devoid of that improvement.

That need is very evident in Belmond these winter days when there are no sidewalks on many blocks, with the result that children going to school are forced to face the hazard of walking on the street and expose themselves to the dangers of auto traffic.

Similar danger to school-age pedestrians exists the year through on those same streets; but it is heightened during these days when the icy street surface can send a car spinning out of control without a moment's notice.

It's within the city council's province to order sidewalks laid where a perceptible need for them exists. And because of the extensive residential buliding in late years, there IS a genuine need for many new sidewalks in town NOW where it was a matter of much lesser importance a decade ago. The city fathers would be doing the community a great favor if during the winter they would make a survey of blocks that obviously should be provided with sidewalks — and when weather permits next spring, launch a program of walk-building.

The street's no place for children to be walking to school; nor for little tots to be operating wagons and "trikes" for want of a safer place to play.

Public Forum

Editor
Belmond Independent
Dear Sir:

I would like to address the following remarks to the Belmond High school seniors, and particularly to those who have studied vocational agriculture.

There is a shortage of good men in agriculture, according to Dr. Roy Kottman, assistant Dean of Agriculture, Iowa State College. Of 62 million employed Americans, 25 million work somewhere in Agriculture—10 million on farms, six million produce for and service farmers, and nine million process and distribute farm products.

In addition, a quarter-million scientists directly serve agriculture. This amounts to about 40 per cent of all jobs in America, jobs important to everyone, jobs with futures, jobs with financial and personal rewards.

You could actually count more than 500 distinct occupations in the eight major fields of agriculture. Recent surveys indicate that these eight fields each year would and could employ about 15,000 new college graduates . . . 15,000 with agricultural training, if they were available! But at present, our land-grant agricultural colleges graduate only about 8,500 trained persons to fill those 15,000 jobs.

The eight major fields of agriculture are: agricultural research, agricultural industry, agricultural business, agricultural education, agricultural communications, agricultural conservation, agricultural services, and last, but far from least, farming and ranching.

The major areas of agricultural research are in the fields of genetics, plant and animal diseases, entomolgy, soils and chemistry. About 1,000 graduates are needed in this field every year.

Agricultural industry could employ somewhere in the neighborhood of 3,000 graduates in the field of agricultural engineering and agricultural sciences. They might be employed in any of these major industries: machinery, equipment and supplies, food processing, grain and seed processing, meat and poultry packing, fertilizer and lime, pesticides and herbicides, feed manufacturing, dairy processing, fats and oils, textiles and fibers, building and utilities, and lumber and forest products.

Agricultural business is another expanding field. At every step from farm to consumer, agricultural businessmen work to finance, insure, buy and sell, store and distribute agricultural products. Agricultural colleges report an increase in the number of attractive and responsible positions for men and women who know agricultural, business and economics. Conservative estimates indicate that more than 3,000 new agricultural graduates can find jobs in the agricultural business field each year.

Agricultural education makes farm facts and formulas familiar to others by teaching the know-how, the know-why, and the know-where of agriculture. For nearly 20 years, the need for educated workers in agricultural has exceeded the supply of well-qualified persons. At the present, it has been estimated that there is a need for 3,000 graduates in this field.

The highest paying field of agriculture is agricultural communications. The average starting pay runs between $450 and $500 per month, and highest offers run up to $700 per month. Few people possess professional training in both agriculture and journalism or communications. As a result, the demand exceeds the supply by six to one.

Agricultural conservation is one of the most rewarding and satisfying fields in agriculture. It is the job of conserving and building up our natural resources. Careers in this field are of two types, government and public service, and private service. Within either you may hold such jobs as forest ranger, fishery biologist, naturalist, sawmill operator, wood technologist, land use planner, park superintendent or soil conservation service technician.

Agricultural public and private services employ about 1,500 graduates per year. Most of these jobs are in the United States department of agriculture, although many persons are employed by states. Veterinary medicine comes under this field and is a quite rewarding field, not only spiritually, but financially.

The important job in agriculture is farming and ranching. Rapid increases in our population make farming and ranching the business with a growing market. This market needs trained producers. Farming no longer is just a job, it is a profession. You can become a successful farmer with a high school education, but you can improve your chances for success with a college education in agriculture.

You take a big step forward in your life when you enroll in college. You begin investing four or more years of your life as some money in a new venture, a new experience.

Make a wise investment. If you see the bright future ahead for those with an agricultural education, and how you fit into this future, then invest wisely by enrolling in an agricultural course at Iowa State college or another land-grant college.

Sincerely,
Ronald Ketchum

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many relatives, friends and neighbors who lightened our sorrow by their kindness upon the death of our beloved little son and daughter. Our thanks especially to Rev. Severseike for his comforting words and to those who sent flowers, memorials and brought food. Also our thanks to those who remembered us while in the hospital with cards, gifts, flowers and visits and to Doctor Pitcher and the other doctors, nurses and nurses aides for their wonderful care. Your thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Draper and family. 8t1

Words cannot express our heartfelt thanks to all those who helped lighten our burden of sorrow by their acts of kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father. Especially for the food brought in, the floral offerings and memorials. A special thank you to Rev. Meyer for his wonderful words of comfort.

Mrs. Wessel Braner and family. 8t1

Thanks so much to all my rural patrons and friends who surprised me on my birthday with a shower of cards, gifts and a beautifully decorated cake. It was all a most pleasant surprise. Melvin N. Smith, Rural Carrier, Meservey. g8t1

May I use this means to reach all my congregational members and friends with a hearty thank-you for the many prayers, visits, cards, letters and flowers received during my recent illness and doubled-up hospitalization. My appreciation to Doctors Leinbach and Pitcher and the splendid staff of helpers both at the clinic and hospital. A very special thanks to the various church organizations for their checks and the St. Olaf congregation for their free will offering last Sunday. Through it all we can only praise the Lord for His marvelous goodness. Pastor O. M. Severseike. 8t1

I wish to thank everyone for the cards, letters and gifts sent to me and for the many acts of kindness shown my home folks while I was a patient at Mercy hospital, Mason City. Mrs. Amos Hanson, Goodell. 8t1*

We wish to thank our friends and relatives for the cards, gifts and visits while we were in the hospital and since returning home. A special thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Miller and Rev. "The Voice of Democracy"

The following radio script on the topic, "The Voice of Democracy," was written and delivered by Sondra Kamm, BHS senior, in winning first place in the patriotic speaking contest conducted last week by the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce. A recording of the speech is being made that will be forwarded for judging in the state contest.

Democracy is a voice. It speaks to everyone. You have heard it many times; actually it is heard every day of your lives. Recently you heard Democracy's voice on television, radio, street corners, debate halls; anywhere mentally alert and interested people gathered to discuss the coming election.

This is Democracy speaking. It is speaking of the right of free and uninhibited speech and of the right to assembly. At times, Democracy's voice is not so clearly audible—sometimes it is only a whisper of gentle winds among the tall pines in our peaceful mountains where the tired and weary may go to refresh their spirit in peace and beauty. This also is a freedom of men in a Democracy—the right to go where you please and do what you wish so long as you do not hurt others.

In a Democracy, religious freedom is inherent. Each person is entitled to go to the church of his choice. When our nation was first established, the church was one of the first buildings to rise, and today a church can be seen in almost every town, no matter how small it may be.

Democracy cannot only be heard, but also seen and felt. It is the car you drive, the food you eat, the school your children attend and the home in which you are safe from unreasonable searches and siezures.

In the courts of law in our great nation, Democracy's voice is heard almost every day. Each person is guaranteed a trial by jury, whether he ran a traffic light, or shot his wife.

Democracy speaks of many things: of freedom, of responsibilities, and of the future of the citizen in a democratic nation. When it speaks of freedom, it tells how each man may vote for the man he wishes, or—if he choose—run for office himself. He may work at the job he wishes, go where he wants and live where he likes as he likes.

When Democracy speaks of responsibilities it tells how every man is responsible not only to the state and nation, but to himself, for his actions. He is responsible for the national parks, highways, and, in general, the beauty of the countryside.

Not just an abstract someone, but a definite I is responsible for these privileges, conveniences, and the beauty of the land. It is each person's responsibility to keep trash from the roadside, litter from picnic spots, and to keep matches in the car, so that shady forest glen in which you just lunched will be just as cool and inviting to the next person as it was to you.

Democracy speaks of a golden future, a bright, shining goal in the distance awaiting all who desire it. Democracy is tomorrow, it is yesterday, and it is today. It has always existed in the hearts of free men; it lives on today in actuality, and it will always live in the minds and souls of free thinking men everywhere, who will speak of it and dream of it as long as men live and dream.

Yes, even I speak for Democracy, for I am of the citizens of our great nation. Mine are the responsibilities and the privileges of the citizen. My voice reflects my country and surroundings even as does yours.

My voice is proud, for my land is free and proud; humble, for my nation can be gentle and kind; yet, strong, for my country is strong. My United States of America is all these things for it is a Democracy.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

The Great Ice Follies of 1956 is about to begin. It will be the biggest show on the road for the next few months. If you drive, you're going to be part of the cast so, for that first day you travel on hard-packed snow or ice, here are some tips:

Realize first that it takes about 5 times more distance to stop your car on ice or snow than on dry pavement. If you drive on ice without chains it will take at least 190 feet to stop from a speed of only 20 miles an hour.

For the quickest, safest stop on ice, "pump" the brakes. Holding the brake pedal down may lock the wheels and start an uncontrollable skid. Friction between tires and ice is greatest at the moment the brakes are applied but decreases quickly.

Keep a steady foot on the accelerator when driving on ice. A sudden letup or push at the gas can be enough to overcome the weakened friction between tires and ice and start the skid. Round icy curves under slight, steady engine power. This helps prevent side skids.

If you do start to slip, turn your wheels in the direction of the slide to make a recovery. This maneuver takes room, however — more room than you may have on the highway.

Lowering the pressure in tires or placing weight over the rear wheels does not help control the car on ice, the safety testers say. The practice simply causes tire wear and increases the chance for a later blowout.

MESERVEY NEWS

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

Central Students Conduct Service At Reform Church

Two young ministerial students from Central college, Pella, conducted the morning services at the First Reformed church Sunday. They were Larry Suntken, son of Mrs. Genevieve Suntken, and Wilbur Daniels, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Daniels of Belmond.

Mr. Suntken was in charge of the song service, read the Scripture and offered the prayer. Mr. Daniels delivered the sermon. The former is a sophomore at Central and the latter a senior.

Evening services were in the charge of the Rev. Mr. Holtrop, pastor of the Kanawha Christian Reformed church.

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. N. Unverferth had the misfortune to fall down the basement steps recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Kuhlers. She suffered a broken arm in the fall.

Past Presidents Parley Met

The Past Presidents Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary met Tuesday with Audre Nissen. The ladies spent the afternoon sewing carpet rags after which the hostess served lunch.

Larry Suntken and roommate, John Jowers, both students at Central college, Pella, spent the Holidays with the former's mother and brother, Mrs. Genevieve Suntken and Jerry. John Jowers is from the Virgin Islands and the boys have been roommates both years they have been at Central, and they spend the holidays in Meservey since it is impossible to return to the Islands for the short holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morris had all of Mrs. Morris' relatives at their home for Thanksgiving.

Anniversaries Honored At Walter Braga Home

Mrs. Walter Braga celebrated her 74th birthday Sunday and on Monday she and Mr. Braga observed their 53rd wedding anniversary. Sunday dinner guests at the Braga home were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Morris, and their grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Morris and daughter. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Buseman of Alexander.

MAIL CARRIER'S BIRTHDAY HONORED

Meservey's rural mail carrier, Melvin N. Smith, was most pleasantly surprised on his birthday Friday when his many patrons showered him with cards and gifts. He was also presented a beautifully decorated cake by Mrs. Paul Lauen and Mrs. Elmer Dorenkamp when he returned from his route that morning. Mel has carried mail for 37 years on the same route. His patrons were successful in concealing their plans and completely surprised him, Mr. Smith admitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Guth had as their Thanksgiving dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth and children of Klemme, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Frink and children of New Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Suntken entertained at Thanksgiving dinner Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nannaga and girls of Klemme, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dorenkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuhlers, Elaine, Edward, and Marlyn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Suntken, Mrs. Genevieve Suntken and Jerry and Larry and Larry's friend, John Jowers, both of the latter attend college at Pella.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker left early Sunday morning for Osage where they spent the day with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hungerford and four daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. James Hemming.

Mrs. Andrew Boelman was a medical patient in the Mason City hospital the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunton, Deanna and Gary, Mr. Dunton of Rock Falls and Melva Kuhlers spent Sunday in the parental Thomasen home near Lacona.

Entertain At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pals entertained at a seven o'clock buffet dinner in their home Tuesday evening followed by an evening of entertainment. Guests included the following couples: Lucille and Lovell Diddy, Elaine and Robert Perkins, Barbara and Mervin Morris, Agnes and Earl Lage, Sylvia and Robert Raecker, Elizabeth and Herman Fischer, Irene and Enno Ostendorf, Dorothy and Vic Nordman and Dorothy and Keith Dunton. The hostess also served lunch before the guests departed for their homes.

Bazaar Brings In $230 to Church Women's Society

The Helping Hand of the EUB church held its annual bazaar Friday evening at the church. Gar Raecker acted as auctioneer, assisted by Mervin Morris.

Handwork, art work, aprons, candy, and many other items from the "Country Store" were auctioned. There was a grab-bag booth for the children and also candy and popcorn for sale. Following the sale, lunch was sold by the women of the organization.

In spite of the bad weather and absence of some townspeople due to the holidays, the society received approximately $230.00 to be used throughout the year for its many projects: remembrance of the sick, care of the church kitchen, sending of Christmas boxes to the servicemen, remittance to the Christmas Cheer Fund, and many other community projects.

Mrs. Mary Thomas had as guests for Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jontz and Dennis and friend, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peters and children and Mrs. Sinkie Peters, all of Swaledale.

Sunday guests at the Frank Guth home were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Frink and children of New Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth and children of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Guth and boys.

Larry Suntken and roommate, John Jowers, from Pella, were at Mason City Friday where they visited at the Hoffman home. The Hoffmans have a son who is in a wheel chair and Larry called on him often when he attended college at Mason City two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Schluter and Mrs. Rosa Strasburg were Thanksgiving dinner guests at the Clarence Groesbeck home at Garner. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nicolet of Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Groesbeck and boys of Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Prestholt of LeMars spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Kuhlers, Sharon and Melva and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Meyers and Cyneva.

Dallas and Delores Pals returned to their school work at Westmar college Monday afternoon after having spent the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pals, Gary and Larry.

Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pals celebrated their wedding anniversary Sunday. They had as their dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Herman Willandorf of Clear Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Heykants and son of Belmond, Mrs. H. Pals, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Pals, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pals and sons and Dena Kuhlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stadtlander entertained Thanksgiving Day at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schmidt of Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Horn and boys of Latimer and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stadtlander.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker and Greg were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at the parental Moody Quandt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Braga with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Buseman of Alexander were Thanksgiving dinner guests at the Mervin Morris home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sorenson of Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hansen and son Daniel of Cedar Rapids were Friday dinner guests at the G. Lauster home.

Thanksgiving Day guests at the Henry Wendel home were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Foss, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Foss and daughters of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Enno Ostendorf and Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Enderson and Rodney.

Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at the Henry Kuhlers home were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oltman and boys and Dena Kuhlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Messelheiser and children were Thanksgiving Day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Groen, Donna and Diane.

The following were Thanksgiving guests at the Mrs. Lizzie Hopkey home: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkey, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Koenen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Hopkey and children of Belmond and Mr. and Mrs. George Steenhard and family of Rockwell.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lauster were entertained at Thanksgiving dinner at the Walter Lauster home.

F. Lester Brown returned to his home Thanksgiving morning after having spent several weeks in the Mason City Mercy hospital.

Monday evening, Mrs. Lizzie Hopkey entertained at supper in honor of Lester Hopkey's birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hopkey and Mike and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin N. Smith spent Thanksgiving Day with the latter's mother, Mrs. Fred Loats, in Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris entertained at their home Thanksgiving Day their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willand and girls, and Mrs. Willand and son Orin, all of Joice.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lauen had as their Thanksgiving dinner guests Mrs. H. Lauen and Christopher Lauen.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Morris and daughter were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at the parental Zerbel home at Mason City.

ANOTHER FORD FIRST

A 1957 FORD CAR offering the advantages of both the hardtop and the convertible represents the first revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago. To change the hardtop into a convertible, the driver simply presses a button and the all steel top automatically slides into the trunk where it is completely concealed. It's equally simple to raise the top. The center picture shows the top in operation. Production of the car, a Ford first, will start in January.

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

It was Bob Foss who last week had passed on from Ray Ainger the request that the Mainstreeters make known that Ray's aged dog, Spot, was missing. Ray figured his pet had died, and wanted to give him a proper burial. We can now report that Spot's body WAS found. It was none other than Bob who discovered Spot's remains while he (Bob) was making a pre-season trapping survey of the Iowa river last Saturday morning.

Foss was seeking likely looking trap sites in the vicinity of the M. & St. L. railroad bridge north of the General Mills plant when he almost stumbled upon Spot's frozen body.

Apparently the 22-year-old canine had fallen through thin ice on the river, either after a tumble from the bridge or when simply walking along the river bank. His head and shoulders extended above the frozen surface of the river and it looked as if he'd been trying to paw his way to safety, only to find that his tired, old muscles weren't up to the job. At last, Spot died contentedly making "his rounds."

A friend of the Mainstreeters dropped in the other day to say—pretty indignantly, — that he'd been completely unable to contact the local police Sunday when he wanted to get ahold of an officer. He wanted to register a complaint over firearms being used, none too sensibly, near his home and within the city limits.

He couldn't, of course, make his report at the city hall (386); and for some reason he was unable to get a response from Chapman's Service (596), the other police number listed in the phone book. The only other alternative — the state police radio station — didn't occur to our informant.

It might be a good idea for YOU to make a note in the front of your phone book, right now, that a call to the radio station (511) should at all times serve to put you in contact with the police PROMPTLY. The radio service should be used ONLY when time is of genuine importance; but it's available when you REALLY need it.

Three chubby, cuddley kittens are available to first-comers at Ye Ed's abode—plus the mother, who should make a good farm cat. The latter made one social error too many to suit the lady of the house, and the decision was, "She goes, TOO!" All the felines are longer-haired than average; red and white in color. Phone 6107 if you're interested.

Hale Mason ran onto Dr. Arlo Pitcher the other day and informed him he'd stopped at the Pitcher home to fix the TV set and asked if it was now working OK. Since the Pitchers had lately been keeping their set in operating order by hitting it periodically in one, particular spot with a book, Arlo was well aware it had been in need of "fixing."

But "throwing the book" at it had been keeping it in operating order. Arlo allowed as how, to the best of his knowledge, the set IS working all right; but he didn't know a repairman had been called and inquired who the summons had come from. Hale wasn't sure. He said somebody'd simply phoned and said Arlo Pitcher's tube was out of whack.

Some investigation revealed that Mrs. Arlo Stoltenberg had called Belmond TV Service, and stated, "Arlo's picture tube's out of whack." Her last name hadn't been caught when she identified herself, and "Arlo Pitcher's tube" was the way the message had been interpreted. . . . We imagine the Pitchers will kinda miss those do-it-yourself repairs with the book.

Gridiron Speaker, Edsel Schweizer, Makes Big "Hit"

In stirring fashion, he related how his teams are taught that victory is a highly important objective—but never so important as to be won "at any price." With a five-year record at Luther that stands approximately the .750 mark in wins and losses, his philosophy has clearly paid off.

No victory and no championship is worth winning if it can't be won fairly by means of hard, clean play, he emphasized. He cited examples of athletic conquests attained "at any price;" and assured the boys that in every case such conquests actually cost the conqueror more than he truly gains from them. His remarks inspired unusually enthusiastic applause.

Coaches Dick Hobbs and Jack Steinberg announced letter-winners on their respective varsity and sophomore football squads, and reviewed their achievements and potentialities. As a gesture of appreciation for the excellent season through which Mr. Hobbs led the Broncos in 1956, the Gridiron club presented him with a Remington pump-shotgun equipped with a leather case.

Gifts were also presented to Mr. [illegible] Paul Hickman, junior manager, and Bob Wilson, who scouted Belmond opponents during the season. From members of his squad, Mr. Hobbs received a fountain pen and a football autographed by the letter-winners. Gifts were presented Mr. Steinberg by [illegible] by members of

WHICH ALLOTMENT PLAN'S BEST?—

ASC Gives Farmers Data on Corn

All the facts required by corn growers to determine the kind of government corn program they want in 1957 are now available, according to the Wright county ASC committee. It appealed to all farmers and crop-share landlords of the county to study the facts carefully so that they can vote in "their own best interests" in the referendum to be conducted next Tuesday in the entire commercial corn producing area of the nation. The commercial area consists of 894 counties in 24 states, including all of Iowa.

In the referendum, corn raisers will choose between two plans for controlling production and supporting prices of corn in 1957. One plan is the soil bank base acreage program, such as used in 1956. The The other is the corn allotment plan used in all prior allotment years. If two-thirds or more of the votes cast in the commercial area are in favor of the soil bank base acreage plan, it will be in effect in 1957, 1958 and 1959, under present law. If more than one-third of the votes are for the allotment plan, it will be used.

Tuesday's voting places for this area of the county are as follows: Belmond township, township hall; Iowa township, Rowan Lumber and Grain company office; Norway, Center schoolhouse; Pleasant, Helland and Long Implement store. These polling places will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

Eligible voters are all commercial area farmers who were engaged in the production of corn in 1956, including owner-operators, landlords who share in the crop, tenants and members of qualified partnerships. No eligible voter may cast more than one ballot, regardless of how many farms he has an interest in or where they are located. There are special rules covering absent voters' ballots and votes for such entities as corporations and estates.

This week farmers were to be mailed notices of their individual corn acreage allocations under both the soil bank base acreage and allotment plans. However, each individual farmer can figure out right now just how each plan will affect him by applying the following information and instructions to his own farm.

Soil Bank Base Acreage Plan

Under the soil bank base acreage plan, present law provides that the national base for the commercial area would be 51 million acres in 1957, 1958 and 1959. Iowa's share of the base would be 9,386,093 acres for 1957, or 2.87 per cent less than the state's share of 9,664,165 acres for 1956, as a result of the commercial area for 1957 being larger than that of 1956. This means that the average farmer, for advance figuring purposes, can get a close estimate of his farm's 1957 soil bank corn base by reducing his 1956 soil bank base acreage by 2.87 per cent.

Under the soil bank base acreage plan, price support in 1957 would be at a national average of $1.31 per bushel. This would make the probable rate of $1.23 in Wright county, or 19 cents per bushel less than the $1.42 cent rate for 1956.

To qualify for this price support, the farmer would have to participate in the soil bank to the extent of 15 per cent of his soil bank corn base acreage. He could: (1) plant his full base acreage to corn and put cropland equal to 15 per cent of his base in the conservation reserve for which he would receive a per acre soil bank payment of about $13.00 per year; or (2) he could reduce his corn planting to 15 per cent under his base, put cropland equal to 15 per cent of his base in the acreage reserve and receive an acreage reserve payment averaging about $47.00 per acre in Wright county; or (3) he could use a combination of the acreage reserve and conservation reserve.

Corn Allotment Plan

Under the corn acreage allotment plan, the national allotment for 1957 would be 37,288,889 acres, as computed under existing law. Because of the present record supply of corn in the nation, this 1957 national allotment would be nearly six million acres less than the national allotment announced for 1956, even though the commercial producing area for 1957 is larger than that of 1956.

Iowa's share of the national allotment for 1957 would be 6,862,686 acres or 16.3 per cent less than the 8,201,379 acre state allotment for 1956. This means that the average farmer, for advance figuring purposes, can closely estimate his farm's 1957 corn allotment by reducing his 1956 allotment by 16.3 per cent.

Under the allotment plan, price support for 1957 would be at a national average of $1.36 per bushel. This would make the probable rate in Wright county $1.28 per bushel or 14 cents less than the $1.42 rate for 1956. To qualify for price support under this plan, the farmer would have to limit corn production to his allotment. He would not be required to participate in the soil bank, but he could do so by meeting acreage reserve or conservation reserve requirements.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that there are no plans to offer price support on 1957 corn which is not produced in compliance with whichever acreage adjustment plan is approved in the referendum.

FARM BUREAU STRONGLY BACKING SOIL BANK IN CORN REFERENDUM

The Wright County Farm Bureau today urged farmers to consider carefully the advantages of the Soil Bank corn base, when voting in the corn referendum next Tuesday.

"The Soil Bank corn base will let Iowa farmers make more income next year, and it also has the best chance of actually adjusting feed supplies," declares John O. Evans of Williams, official voting delegate of the Wright County Farm Bureau.

"We are working to obtain higher land rental payments for the Soil Bank," said Mr. Evans, "so that more farmers can afford to join in the control program. We've learned, in the past 20 years, that allotments do not reduce the amount of feed.

"At best, the allotment only serves to drive feed production to other areas of the country. Our corn allotments continue to drop, until they are so low few farmers can comply.

"But," Mr. Evans said, "the Soil Bank base program would set a floor of 51 million acres under corn. It would give us the kind of protection wheat and cotton already have. And we in the Farm Bureau believe that we must either establish a workable adjustment program, or we risk losing the farm program entirely.

"Under the Soil Bank base, Iowans can raise 38 per cent more corn, and still contribute some land to the Soil Bank. The choice, from both a dollar and a control standpoint, is quite obvious. We urge all farmers, landlord and operator, to vote Dec. 11."

RED CROSS TO AID OF HUNGARIANS

BELMOND CHAPTER of the American Red Cross has been asked to take part in the special Red Cross campaign to raise $5,000,000 for Hungarian relief. Rev. M. L. Jones, chapter president, says that President Eisenhower has expressed his personal plea that "all Americans generously support the special disaster appeal to aid in emergency relief both in Hungary and to Hungarian refugees in Austria." Above is shown a Hungarian refugee, one of thousands fleeing to the USA from their strife-torn native land, being fitted with a coat by a Red Cross worker before leaving Camp Kilmer, N. J. Since the beginning of the anti-Communist uprising, the Red Cross has been distributing food, medicine, clothing and other necessities in Vienna and Budapest. Persons in the Belmond chapter area, which also includes Pleasant, Belmond and Norway townships, may leave money for Hungarian relief with Treasurer B. C. Hewlett at the First State bank. The local quota is $108.

Story Lies Back Of $10 Donation To Ricky's Fund

Total of the Lions club's Ricky Walrod Fund crept closer to the $1,600 mark this past week as two more $10 contributions were received to bring the level of the fund to $1,593.20. The latest donations came from Mr. and Mrs. Don Nolan and from Ray Starfelt of Maplewood, Mo.

Mr. Starfelt served for 3½ years in the Navy in the same outfit with Ricky's father, Bill Walrod. The two have maintained a correspondence and Bill's former buddy visited here two years ago and plans another trip to Belmond next summer.

The trying times that Mr. and Mrs. Walrod have been going through, with Ricky fighting against leukemia, can be well appreciated by Mr. Starfelt and his wife. Not too long ago they lost a daughter at the age of five, who had been an invalid from the time of her birth.

A mutual friend of Bill and Ray had informed the latter of Ricky's plight and of the fund that had been set up in his behalf. The check for $10 was promptly mailed by Bill's friend to help the cause.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

Mary Circle of the Methodist church will hold a bake sale this Saturday at the Tip Top Super Valu grocery. Selling is to start at 9:30 a. m.

Nobody Needs Shopping Money?

Ten Cash Gift Day buckets were sent to the well this week—and each came up dry as a bone. Which is one way of saying that not one holder of a lucky number showed up Tuesday afternoon to claim the money he (or she) had coming to him (or her). Fine thing, with Christmas just around the corner! NONE of you people need spending money? Next Tuesday's prize total is being boosted by 50 bucks, to $450, as the CGD committee tries to turn up some winners. There will once again be four $25's at 2:00 p. m.; but the number of $50's at 3:00 o'clock will be boosted to SEVEN!

A POPULAR SPOT for ambulatory patients at Belmond Community hospital is this corner where a variety of items is offered for sale by the Hospital Auxiliary. Articles forgotten in the rush of departure from home—such as toothbrushes and combs— can be bought; and right now, as the accompanying story reports, Christmas gifts are much in demand. Shown left is Mrs. Kenneth Dreyer of Latimer, with the purchase of a magazine in mind. With her is Mrs. Paul Quigley, inspecting a nurse doll as a possible gift.

Auxiliary Needs Donated Gifts For Sale to Hospital Patients

Members of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary, and friends who might be interested in lending the auxiliary some assistance, can do both the hospital patients and the auxiliary a service by contributing items that might be fitting as Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Stuart Kutz, who is in charge of the display racks that are kept filled with a variety of items for the convenience of the patients, reports that the supply of gift items has been greatly depleted by pre-Christmas buying.

At all times, toiletries, magazines and comic books, toys and games, and a variety of similar articles are kept in supply so patients can fill their own needs for these items without sending relatives or friends on errands "downtown" to get them. These, incidentally, are all purchased from local stores, Mrs. Kutz says.

But in addition to these stock items, she says, there is a ready sale for handiwork of various sorts that is donated for display and sale. These comprise a source of modest profit for the auxiliary to help finance its sundry services in behalf of the hospital and its patients. And it is need for these items that comprises the present problem.

Baby bootees, dresses, bibs and similar articles of baby wear are always "best sellers." Stuffed toys, dolls with home-sewed wardrobes and fancywork of almost any nature would be most welcome, also, Mrs. Kutz says. In fact, homemade gifts of almost any type might find a ready sale, she suspects.

Persons who would like to donate articles of this type to the auxiliary for sale from their display racks may either leave them at the hospital or phone Mrs. Kutz to have them picked up. It is important that they be obtainable as soon as possible, as there will be special need for them during the next two weeks.

A new rack was recently supplied the auxiliary's volunteer services committee by Nolan Drug store. It will enable the committee to expand its display stock to quite a degree, so a greater quantity of gift items can be exhibited for the patients to choose from.

FIRST CHOICE AS SITE UNPOPULAR—

Location for Grain Elevator Sought in Belmond

An extraordinarily large turnout of members attended a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Friday noon at Jones cafe, at which a matter of major importance to Belmond was the subject of discussion. It concerned the proposed establishment of a large grain elevator here and obtaining a satisfactory site for its construction.

On Wednesday of last week it became known that Ronald Brede, manager of the Olaf elevator, and some associates were interested in building an elevator on the Rock Island railroad right-of-way south of Third street NE and east of the tracks.

When the proposal became common knowledge among residents of Kirkendall addition and the general area surrounding the suggested site, they expressed immediate objections to the elevator being located there. Opposition was also expressed by Supt. Don Faris, speaking for the Belmond Community school board, on the grounds that it would be an undesireable enterprise to have so near the site of the proposed new high school building—across Third street from Kirkendall addtion—and would introduce an increased traffic hazard to children going to and from that school.

When acquainted with these objections, Mr. Brede met with the industrial development committee of the Chamber's civic bureau and also with key members of the retail bureau to see if a mutually satisfactory solution to the problem could be worked out. It was later deemed advisable by Chamber President Don Bunnell that the matter be aired before the organization as a whole, and the Friday meeting was called.

Those present at the meeting went on record as unanimously in favor of making every effort to find an acceptable location for the elevator. The group also unanimously approved a motion that the Chamber stand in opposition to its construction in a residential area.

It was brought out that the Rock Island right-of-way between Third street and First street lies within an area restricted to residential development by a city ordinance passed earlier this year. This type or ordinance has been well tested in the courts, an inquiry had indicated; and if legally valid, the ordinance—in itself—would prohibit industrial building in the restricted area.

Mr. Bunnell reported that Mr. Brede had asked for assurance that if he and his associates gave up the idea of building on the Rock Island site, no competitive business could acquire it later for building purposes. It was pointed out that the restrictive ordinance seemingly would provide that assurance; and that if the current move to have zoning and planning introduced in Belmond is successful, that would also effectively prevent industrial building in any area designated as "residential."

Reportedly, the proposed elevator would be a sizeable operation of about 250,000-bushel capacity. It would consist of five concrete storage tanks some 80 to 100 feet

80 PUPILS GETTING PERSONAL AID—

Speech Therapist Tells Work Aim

It is the belief of Niel Ver Hoef, Wright county speech therapist, that the complexities of modern-day living and the pressures that they bring to bear are responsible in large degree for many of the speech problems that are handicapping today's school children.

Mr. Ver Hoef spends about four hours each week (on Mondays) in Belmond giving attention individually or in small groups to local children who are troubled by some type of speech problem, another hour and a half in consultation with teachers—or, occasionally, with parents. He also spends a couple of hours on Monday afternoon at Goodell.

He works directly with some 80 children, over the county, endeavoring to remedy their individual problems. His efforts in this connection are supplemented by assistance given by the teachers in class room contact with these children.

Altogether, he had over 300 students referred to him by teachers when he took up his work in the county at the start of the current school year—which he says is a high number for a total school population of approximately 4,500. The 80 he is now working with, personally, are boys and girls whose speech problems he regards might be a source of social suffering if not dealt with.

Mr. Ver Hoef sees to it that remedial assignments made to these children are pleasant. Often they take the form of games. Not infrequently he and a child will work out an assignment jointly. Progress, he says, is more certain and more rapid if the special training is fun, rather than a chore.

He judges that 80 per cent of the children receiving the major share of his attention at present are endowed with functional rather than organic problems. When an organic or physical handicap is involved, he urges the parents to confer with their doctor or dentist for professional advice. In such cases, some physical correction may be required to eliminate or minimize the source of the problem before material headway can be made to overcome it.

As improvement is made in the cases requiring individual attention, Mr. Ver Hoef plans to direct his efforts more and more in other directions He says that his special education work in speech might be divided into three categories:

(1) Remediation, such as presently monopolizes most of his time; (2) prevention, by spreading influence for better speech as widely as possible by public education; (3) conservation, through teachers' efforts to maintain speech quality standards at a high level.

This makes the broad aim of such a special education program that of improving the level of speech quality throughout the county. That may seem a very ambitious objective, Mr. Ver Hoef admits. But he says that as high school students who have been impressed with the importance of good speech graduate and become the next generation of parents, they will be equipped to train their children better than they were themselves.

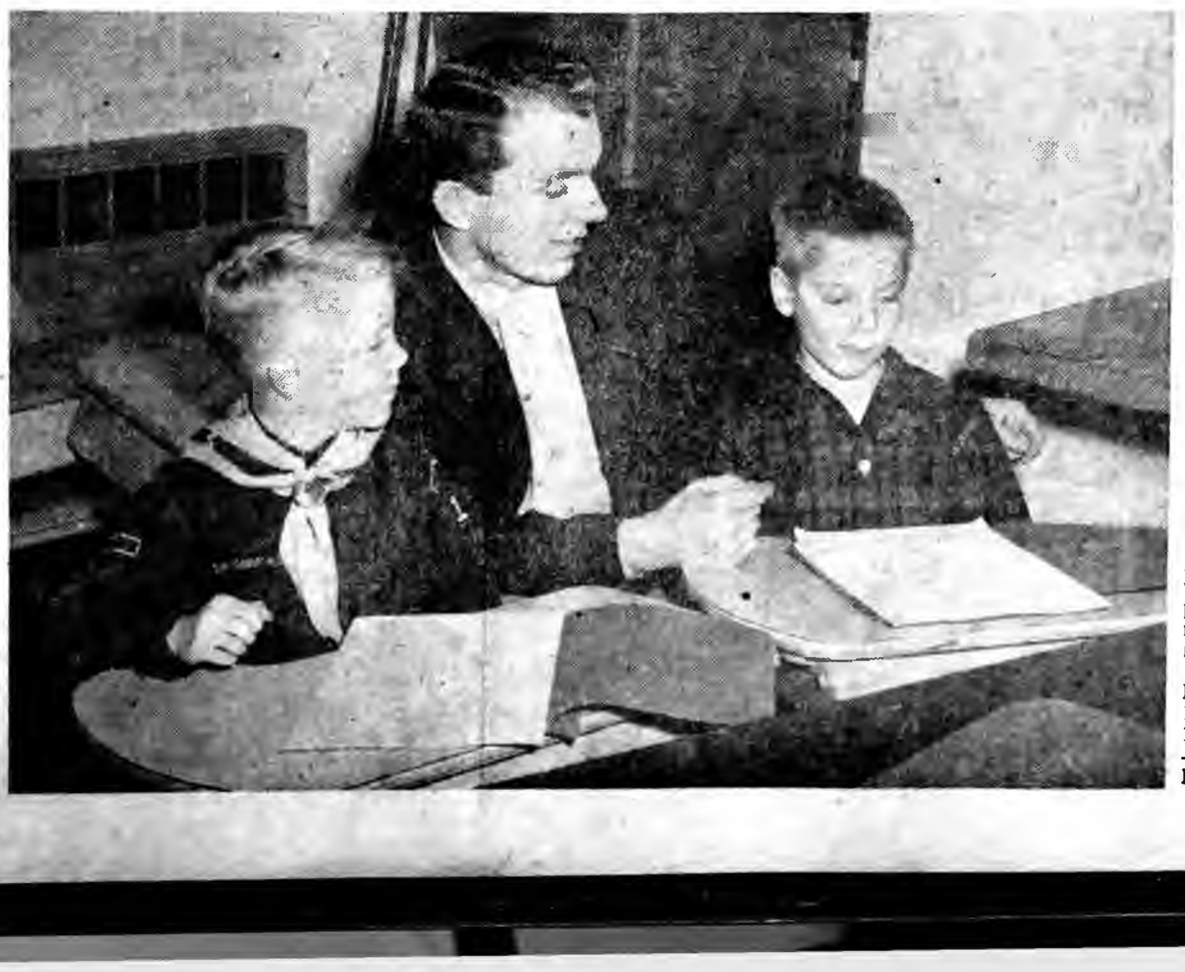
MAKING A GAME of eliminating a lisp, these two youngsters shown with Niel Ver Hoef, county speech therapist, were plotting on a Parchesi-like board words that begin with the troublesome "s" when this picture was taken. Such games are taken home, where family participation can help the child make headway on his speech problem. Mr. Ver Hoef says parental cooperation with his efforts have been very gratifying. Pictured with Mr. Ver Hoef are Bob Cox and Leslie Peterson.



"Ag" Night School Course Scheduled

It has been the decision of the Adult Education Council to limit the night school program this year to a class in agriculture, due to the diminishing interest that has been shown in the night classes the past few years. Agriculture has consistently attracted at least fair enrollment, however, so a 10-week course for farmers has been scheduled for the winter season.

First meeting of the agriculture night school class will be held next Monday at 8:00 o'clock. Darwin Schroeder, new vocational agriculture instructor at BHS, will be in charge of the course. He says arrangements were made by Francis Kelly, his predecessor, for a guest speaker Monday. His topic will be "Petroleum Products," but his identity wasn't made known to Mr. Schroeder.

An enrollment fee of only one dollar will be charged for the agriculture course. Each Monday night session will start at 8:00 o'clock and a coffee hour will follow. Mr. Schroeder believes an interesting and helpful course has been planned and is hoping to see a good regisrtation.

Schedule for later meetings is as follows: Dec. 17—Bert Heykants will show slides depicting European agriculture; Jan. 7—outlook meeting; Jan. 14—talk on fertilizer; Jan. 21—crop varieties for 1957; Jan 28—to be announced; Feb. 4—swine management; Feb. 11—machinery adjustment Feb. 18—tractor maintenance; Feb. 25—talk by Chuck Wilmarth on European trip.

42 Firms Taking Part; Santa Claus Visits Scheduled

Another festival of gifts is to feature the holiday shopping season in Belmond this year, with 42 business places participating. According to the retail bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, some $1,500 worth of gifts will be given on the basis of registrations conducted at the stores and other business establishments taking part.

With quite a number of the firms offering more than one gift, there will be close to 100 separate gifts, altogether. No numbered tickets will be involved in determining the winners and no purchases will be necessary to participate in any of the drawings. Shoppers are asked simply to register with each firm whenever they are in the place of business and the names of the winners will be drawn the morning of Monday, Dec. 24.

Names Will Be Posted

These names will be conspicuously posted in the store or office window at noon on that date. A tour of the business district will inform you if you're a winner. Names of all the participating firms will be found in a C-of-C advertisement concerning the Christmas Shopping Festival which appears in this issue.

First of the free movie programs provided annually by the Chamber as a holiday treat for the kiddies will be shown at the New Belmond theater this Saturday at 1:30 p. m. There will be another free film program a week from Saturday, Dec. 15.

Santa Visits Arranged

Arrangements have been made for Santa Claus to appear on downtown Main street on Thursday. Friday and Saturday afternoons, Dec. 20, 21 and 22. Parents are urged to give their youngsters an opportunity to have a chat with old St. Nick and particularly to see that the kiddies are on hand to receive the free treats that Santa will pass out on Saturday, Dec. 22, at 1:30 o'clock.

The retail bureau chairman, Lloyd Lewis, says that Belmond's storekeepers sincerely believe they've never had a finer or wider selection of Christmas merchandise on hand than jam-pack their stores this year. They feel confident that shoppers will be able to find anything they are looking for in the gift line right here in Belmond, without the expense and inconvenience of looking elsewhere for ideas.

PLANNING TO DECORATE?

A reminder is offered by the Chamber of Commerce that prizes in this year's home decorating contest for the Christmas season are to be bigger than ever—and that there will be more of them. A total of $150 in cash will be awarded to nine winners. Judging will be by city wards, with a 1st prize of $25, 2nd of $20 and 3rd of $5 in each. It is hoped by the Chamber President Don Bunnell that a host of good ideas are a-borning right now in the minds of local residents and that lawn, porch and window decorations will begin to make their appearance in the near future to help give Belmond a festive appearance for the holidays.

First Step Taken Toward Replacing Old Street Lights

Iowa Electric Light and Power workmen last week completed the first step toward increasing the night-time illumination of Belmond's streets by installation of new lighting fixtures along Highway 69 and on east Main street.

Taller poles (15 on the highway and 10 on east Main), plus more powerful lights and modern reflectors, have more than doubled brightness of the illumination that the old lighting system provided, Manager Cecil Carstens says.

There have been some complaints that the new, wooden poles are rather unsightly; but Mr. Carstens says that as they weather he believes this objection will be overcome. It has been suggested by some of the complaintants that painting the poles—possibly an unobtrusive, dark green—after the weathering process is completed, might comprise a desireable improvement.

The shipment of steel poles to hold the downtown lights has been received, but these will all have to be painted and Mr. Carstens anticipates that it will be several weeks before they can be erected.

Once the Main street installation has been completed, new bulbs will be placed in the street lights throughout the residential areas of town, plus new reflectors for these that are in poor condition. The new bulbs will give two and a half times the light provided by those presently used.

Mr. Carstens says the discarded poles from the business district will be sold at scrap prices to anyone interested. Ten of them have been promised to Belmond Community School district for lighting the parking area adjacent to the new athletic field. Several others have bought by individuals. Altogether, 36 of the metal poles are going into discard.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, November 5, 1956

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in regular session at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, with the following members present: John Greenlander, Harland E. Hill, Geo. S. Trowbridge, Roland Trotter. Absent: Albert W. Christopher with the county auditor in attendance. Motion by Greenlander, seconded by Trowbridge to appoint Roland Trotter as acting chairman. Motion carried.

Claims against the county were read and ordered paid.

Eagles Hand Broncs First Loss, 56-48

SPORTS

An eagle-eyed marksman by the name of Dale Nielson and a half-pint gadfly tagged Larry Weiland formed a combination the Bronco cagers couldn't handle last Friday night at Britt and the Purple and White absorbed its first defeat in three starts, 56 to 48.

It was Belmond's disorganized play in the very first quarter that ultimately told the story. Clearly afflicted with a case of cheesebox-itis, which opponents so often suffer on the Eagles' under-sized basketball court, the Broncs watched Nielson nail eight points in this frame to lead his mates to a 16-6 lead.

Britt Lead Reduced

Several times the losers pared the deficit to only a few points. Once in the second quarter the Broncs sliced Britt's lead to 23-20 and at halftime were behind by only five, 27-22. Again the third period a meager three points separated the two teams at 34-31; but Britt then piled in 11 points while the Broncs were notching only two.

Even when the last quarter found the Eagles once again with a 10-point edge, 45-35, the Belmond battlers refused to say die. They chopped away half the bulge to make it 47-42, but Britt shifted into a control game and the Bronco rally was snuffed out.

Kaufman Tallies 17

Bill Kaufman had a good night offensively, tying with Nielson and Weiland—a fiesty junior whose diminutive size make look no more that an eighth-grader—for scoring honors with 17 points. Larry Schimp played his heart out in the losing cause, tallying 12 points and doing some fine rebounding. Jerry Chandler pitched in 11 points, Larry Kinseth four, Bill Murray and Rollie Jenison two each.

With a bit more level-headedness abetting their efforts, the Broncs might well turn the tables on Britt when the Eagles appear here. There really wasn't too much to choose between the two teams.

Belmond's froshmores poured it on in the second half to take the curtain-raiser, 40 to 29. At the intermission they led by only 19-17. Kenny Hawley played a fine, all-around game and was chief scorer with 12 points. Lynn Jenison helped the Junior Bronc effort with 10.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Willie Gabrielson, the Goodell groceryman, called us to task last week for crediting the 1956 Bronco football team with having the best BHS gridiron record since 1945. Tain't so, he said—and called our attention to the fact that the '48 Bronco eleven, on which he played as center, won six games while losing only one and tying one. That wou'd give his outfit a season's percentage of .8125 against the '56 Broncos' .778.

We checked the files, and Willie's 100 per cent right.

The '48 team lost to Britt in the season's opener, 6-0 (after a 76-yard runback of a pass interception by Duane Tideback was called back due to clipping—and cost Belmond at least a tie). Later the boys had to settle for a 13-13 tie with Clarion, after leading 13-0 at halftime in a game played in the rain.

That '48 crew was the scoringest bunch of Broncos, ever. They ran up 245 points in eight games, compared to this year's 212 in nine. The 1945 BHS team that scored 208 points in eight games was the only one (according to The Independent on Nov. 10, 1948) ever to approach that offensive mark. But Britt won the NIC title in '48 with no defeats against it. . . Anyway, our '56 Broncs are apparently one of only two BHS grid teams ever to win seven games in a season.

A minute or so in the second quarter hed elapsed Friday night before Britt acquired its first foul in the Eagles' game with the Broncs. They made up for lost time thereafter, though, and by the end of the battle had 19 infractions marked up against them to 18 for the Belmond brigade. Neither team, incidentally, distinguished itself from the free-throw line. Belmond made good on only 12 out of 25 chances and Britt on a dozen out of 27 tries.

One of the cleverest cagers we've seen in some time was Britt's Larry Weiland, who must be more than a foot shorter than the Eagles' lanky, 6-4 center, Dick Schutzer. His never ceasing aggressiveness brought him 10 freethrow opportunities. He converted on NINE of them, while his team mates were sinking only three out of 17 attempts! . . . On the Britt froshmore team was a less-than-five-foot peewee who was quite a ball player, too. Basketball (especially in high school) isn't EXCLUSIVELY a big boy's game — if you're good enough.

When big Loren Moen got that 2nd team berth in the D. M. Register's all-state selections, the Lake Mills Graphic observed, "This long overdue recognition stamps Loren as one of the top gridders in the entire state." Jack North, in his sketch on Moen, related, "he . . . racked up the opposition with his vicious tackling."

That statement is the laugh of the season in NIC football circles, closely challenged by the claim that the blond behemoth is "a big-time prospect."

Against Belmond, it's doubtful if Moen laid a hand on a Bronco ball carrier more than a couple of times in the entire game. The big boy's failure to capitalize on his size (6-6 and 233 lbs.), except in gathering in "Skip" Kinden's accurate passes, accounted for his utter lack of support for even an NIC 1st team position.

As fitting recognition of the generally excellent play of the North Iowa conference's upper division teams during the past football season, TWO of the league coaches were nominated for the D. M. Register's Coach of the Year honors. Understandably, one of the mentors was Lake Mills' very competent Milo Engstrom. And just as appropriately, the other was Belmond's own Dick Hobbs. Both men were highly deserving of the nominations and The Independent's congratulations go to each of them.

Mrs C. C. Christie spent a week at the John Shepard home in Iowa City On Thanksgiving they were joined by Mr. Christie. While there they attended the Iowa-Notre Dame football game.

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Hood and Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hood and daughter Carleen of Loves Park, Ill., were Thanksgiving Holiday visitors in the parental A. J. Hood and Lawrence Kelley homes and at the Clarence Morman home at Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morman and their daughter and son-in-law of Hampton were supper guests a week ago Saturday in the A. J. Hood home.

Broncs, Bulldogs Clash Tomorrow

Tomorrow night the Belmond High basketball team will find itself facing its third make-or-break battle in a row against North Iowa conference opposition. This test pits the Broncos against Lake Mills and poses the perennial problem (this is the last year for it) of stopping big Loren Moen.

On the basis of early-season play, Britt, Northwood and Lake Mills stacked up as the teams Belmond would have to handle in order to keep any hopes of a conference championship alive. Results of the first two "must" games are reported elsewhere in this issue.

There is little question but what Moen-Kinden & Co.—"Skip" Kinden being the junior partner—have in mind adding the NIC cage title to the gridiron crown they acquired last fall.

Kinden and Moen are the only "regulars" remaining from the Bulldog five that finished in the runner-up spot a year ago; but Lake Mills is well equipped with first-line reserves from the 1955-56 squad. Tomorrow night they will have the advantage of playing at home, in addition to having the stratospheric Moen presenting the usual defense problem.

Next Tuesday the Broncos have an open date. They'll resume their NIC campaign a week from tomorrow, playing host to Buffalo Center.

Postmaster Jenison Offers Tips On Best Handling of Pre-Holiday Mail

Postmaster George Jenison repeats his annual reminder to patrons of the Belmond post office that they can do a lot towards improving the safety, speed and sureness of Christmas mail deliveries out of Belmond by observing a few basic recommendations.

With the Christmas rush just around the corner, he urges that the 10 postal points listed below be kept in mind:

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly or print plainly. Where applicable, use zone numbers. Avoid using abbreviations which might confuse mail distributors.

2. Always use a return address in the upper left hand corner of both letters and packages. When you do so, you prevent undelivered mail going to the "dead letter" office.

3. Do not enclose coins or hard objects of any kind in letters, without marking the envelope for hand stamping. High-speed cancelling machines can not process such letters, often jam and damage letters.

4. Do not mail cash. For safety's sake. use Postal Money Orders or checks.

5. Make certain parcels are well packed and securely wrapped. Enclose a card with your return address and recipient's address. This precaution permits delivery of your package if the wrapper is damaged. Also, remember that a letter may be enclosed in parcels and postage paid on outside of package. Just endorse "First Class Mail Enclosed" near address on package.

6. Double check to make sure your mail has the correct amount of postage. "Postage Due" may delay letters; and bear in mind that much better service is assured by using First Class postage (3c) on cards. They can then be forwarded or returned, if necessary, and will receive the most expeditious handling.

7. To speed letters through cancelling machines, be sure stamps are in upper right hand corner.

8. Insure parcels. Register letters of real value. Use certified mail for letters of no intrinsic value where only proof of delivery is required.

9. Mail early and often. Earlier mailings mean earlier deliveries because your letters or other mail catch earlier trains, planes or other transporters of mail. Large mailers should separate mail into local and out-of-town bundles.

10. Make sure your correspondents have your correct address. Be certain your correspondents are notified of any change of address.

A newly invented and inexpensive Tes-Tape, dipped into a urine specimen, will immediately disclose if sugar is present. This is important because a sugar reaction would indicate a possible diabetes. For a positive diagnosis further tests would have to be made by your physician.

Are you profiting by this drug invention? If you are overweight, or there is any history of diabetes in your family, it is wise to frequently make this easy test.

Remarkable New Ford Model Soon Will Go on Sale

Louis Tokman of Belmond Auto company says the local Ford agency will soon have available to its customers a remarkable car that represents the first really revolutionary new idea in automotive design since introduction of the closed car 40 years ago. It's a hard-top model with a fully retractable steel top, which at the touch cf a button slides automatically into the car's trunk.

In an "ad" in last week's Independent, Belmond Auto company published a picture of the Ford Retractable. It is a six-passenger, two-door car and is scheduled to go into production in January. Mr. Tokman says it is confidently expected to be a sensation of the New York Automobile show, which opens a week from Saturday.

Operation of the Retractable, which combines the advantages of both the hard-top and convertible, is deceptively simple, Mr. Tokman says. A button on the instrument panel is touched to raise or lower the top; electric motors do the rest in a matter of seconds. Years of research were required to perfect the design, the Ford dealer says.

Before the new model was pronounced ready for the market, it was tested by means of a rugged program that involved operating one of the units approximately 10,000 times—the equivalent of 30 years of normal service.

REMEMBER THE
—CORN REFERENDUM—
DECEMBER 11
Vote Your Own Convictions—
But Consider These Facts:

1. The Soil Bank Corn Base
Will permit you to grow up to 38% more corn in 1957 than the corn acreage allotment.

2. The Soil Bank Corn Base
Would establish a 51-million acre minimum for 3 years. (Under the other plan, corn acreage allotments may decrease each year.)

3. The Soil Bank Corn Base
Provides for some production control (15% of base in the Soil Bank). (The Acreage Allotment plan only shifts production.)

4. The Soil Bank Corn Base
Will result in a higher net income than the Allotment plan. (Figure it for your own farm, including extra corn that can be produced, plus the Soil Bank payments)

5. The Soil Bank Corn Base
Will pave the way for requiring cotton and wheat farmers to participate in the Bank, and help control competition from diverted acres.

6. The Soil Bank is the only effective cross-compliance mechanism.

● ● ●

The Corn Acreage Allotment—
(The Alternative)
Does provide 5c per bushel higher support, but the allotment is so low that it appears there will be very little participation.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

The things a man leaves behind him are usually inherited by those who are close to him. Too many persons have inherited things on our highways that had none of the real or sentimental value the term implies.

Take the case of the motorist who one morning a few winters ago was following a semi-trailer truck approaching an Iowa town. The highway was covered with a thin layer of fresh snow. Beneath the snow were ice patches left by a previous storm.

Though the driver was almost hcme, he decided to pass the truck. He went around leaving behind him a trail of swirling snow that temporarily blinded the truck driver.

Then our motorists decided — sensibly, but much too late — that he was driving too fast for road conditions. He took his foot off the gas and his car slowed down abruptly.

The big semi came on from behind through the snow cloud. The driver could not see that the car ahead had slowed down so suddenly until he was almost on top of it. He had to hit the air brakes sharply on that snow and ice.

That was enough to jack-knife the truck. The trailer slid across the left side of the highway and an approaching bus hit it head-on. The engine of the bus was driven back even with the front axle.

The driver who had created the accident situation was untouched by the violent crash. Those who had been close to him on the highway inherited the tragedy of his mistake. He left behind him one man who lost both legs, 12 other injured persons and thousands of dollars in property damage.

Ten Servicemen Sent Gift Boxes

American Legion Auxiliary met Friday evening in the V. E. Harris home with Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Mike Kurtz, the latter of Belmond, as hostesses. A Christmas gift exchange was enjoyed. The organization voted to serve lunches at the Roberts Brothers farm sale Wednesday of this week.

President Barbara Peterson reports that 10 boxes of candy were sent to servicemen from this community, one box to the sponsored child and one box to George Rust at the Good Samaritan home at Mason City. Fourteen Christmas stockings were made and sent and Gift Shop items were sent, the latter going to the Veterans hospital at Des Moines.

Three dollars was given to the USO through Community Chest. The members also voted to send a Christmas gift to the sponsored child at Woodward, and four dollars that he may spend for Christmas gifts.

GREIMANN-HEGINGER NUPTIALS PERFORMED AT SHEFFIELD CHURCH

Zion-St. John Lutheran church at Sheffield was the scene of a wedding Saturday when Miss Betty Jean Greimann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Greimann of Chapin, became the bride of Byron J. Heginger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heginger of Goodell. Rev. R. J. Huck, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with lighted candelabra and twin baskets, trimmed with orchid bows, of white and orchid chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Viola Dittberner, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied a quartet composed of the bride's four brothers—Milo, Lewis, Carl and Paul Greimann, as they sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" before the ceremony and "At Cana, Lord, Thou Didst Appear" after the ceremony. Mrs. Dittberner also accompanied the bride's cousin, Shirley Schaefer, as she sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The bridal gown was made with a Chantilly lace bodice over satin with a Peter Pan collar, and the full satin skirt extended into a chapel train. The full circular fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was edged with a dainty pattern of silk French imported lace. It was held in place by a lace tiara, decorated with hearts outlined in tiny seed beads. The bride carried a white Bible, gift of the groom, covered with a cascade arrangement of yellow roses and centered with a lavender orchid. She also carried the same handkerchief which her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Schaefer, carried at her wedding 55 years ago.

Donna Cockram of Belmond was her cousin's maid of honor and wore a waltz-length gown of pale orchid net over taffeta, styled similar to the bride's gown. She wore matching mitts and headband and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid and white mums. Delores Toft, Clear Lake, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a yellow gown made identically like the maid of honor's. She also carried orchid and white mums.

Flower girl was Ruth Ann Shaffer of Spirit Lake. She wore a floor-length dress of light green with matching mitts and a band of white flowers in her hair. She carried a miniature colonial bouquet matching the other attendants. Her twin brother Richard was ringbearer and carried the rings on a white heart-shaped pillow with an orchid and white crocheted covering fringed in white satin ribbon. He wore a white linen jacket and navy trousers.

Bestman was the bride's brother, Floyd Greimann, and the groom's other attendant was his cousin, Eugene Evans of Rockwell. Ronnie Greimann, brother of the bride, and Robert Evans of Mason City, cousin of the groom, were candlelighters. Ushers were Lawrence Hansen of Chapin and Kenneth Langlitz of Goodell.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, which were decorated in the bride's chosen colors of white and orchid. The bride's table was centered with a white and orchid four-tiered wedding cake. On the table was the same tablecloth as the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Schaefer, used at her wedding. Mrs. William Heginger of Belmond, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Merle Hansen of Chapin cut and served the wedding cake.

The groom's aunt, Mrs. Heginger of Goodell, was in charge of the guest book. Lucille Moehle of Mason City and Mrs. Nathan Pals of Meservey helped the bride and groom open their gifts.

The bride's mother wore a blue and aqua dress with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a dress of medium blue with white and black accessories. Both had corsages of red roses and white carnations. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Schaefer, wore a black dress and had a corsage of white and pink carnations.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Missouri and Arkansas. Upon their return, they will be at home on a farm half-mile north and one mile west of Chapin. Mrs. Heginger is a graduate of Chapin High school, attended Hamilton School of Commerce in Mason City and is employed in the offices of Carl D. Foster, attorney, and E. C. Schroeder, insurance agent at Sheffield, where she will continue until spring. Mr. Heginger is a graduate of Belmond High school and has been farming with his father.

Out of town guests were from Chapin, Mason City, Clear Lake, Belmond, Goodell, Meservey, and Spirit Lake.

Many folks from this community attended the Open House and Smorgasbord held and served by the Hensel Produce and Hatchery of Alexander Wednesday of last week.

McNutt Receives Naval Promotion

Gene McNutt has informed his parents, Mr and Mrs. Robert McNutt, that his Navy rating was recently advanced to that of ET2/c. He is on the crew of the USS Cree.

A "wonderfull" Thanksgiving dinner was served aboard his ship at sea, Gene wrote. He added that the Cree has since reached Japan, and he expects to spend Christmas there this year.

This will be the second year in a row that Gene has found himself in Japan for the Yule holidays.

Mrs. Walter Boller accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Savogue, went to Clear Lake a week ago Wednesday afternoon where they visited in the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Elmer Bausch.

44TH ANNIVERSARY MARKED

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Lowenberg were surprised at their home on Tuesday evening of last week by a group honoring them on their 44th wedding anniversary. The families of Philip Lowenberg, Raymond Lowenberg and Ed Obrecht and Mrs. Harold Wolfe were present. They served the lunch and presented the honorees with a beautiful lamp.

Gus Taylor Takes New Salesman Job

Maynard E. "Gus" Taylor, for the past six years a salesman for Belmond Auto company, announced last week that he has resigned from that position to become agent for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company in the Hampton area.

It will be a return home for Mr. Taylor, as he was born and raised at Hampton. He plans to take over his new assignment at once, but does not intend to move his family from Belmond until some time after the first of the year.

Gus came to Belmond in 1950 from Riceville, where he was a member of the high school faculty. At Hampton, he will be in the Northwestern Mutual territory of which Jack Lansing was recently made supervisor. He will be in the general agency of L. P. Schwinger of Cedar Rapids, son-in-law of Ed Bailey.

Food Purchasing Topic for Lesson

"It's Your Food Dollar, Why Waste It?" will be topic of the Family Living extension lesson to be given local leaders next Monday at the Clarion Legion hall.

Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county county home economist, emphasizes that any women's group interested in the lesson may participate by sending to the extension office at Clarion the names and address of one or two women to represent them at the meeting.

"This lesson is one which the women of the county felt was important," says Mrs. Steele, "since with lowering of farm income they need to know how to get the most for the money they spend for food."

The lesson on "good buymanship" will be passed on by local leaders at the meetings of their groups held in January.

HOM MISS UNIVERSE stands on the subject of U. S. Savings Bonds is clearly suggested by this picture taken at the Universal-International studios at Hollywood. Carol Morris of Ottumwa, in real life, is the proud owner of a number of savings bonds given to her by her parents on special occasions through the years. She also plans to invest some of her movie earnings as the "world's beauty queen" in more savings bonds, which she believes are the safest and smartest investment an American can make.

24 BHS HOMEMAKERS TAKE PART IN GMI BETTY CROCKER CONTEST

Girls in the Belmond High school homemaking department joined this year with 300,000 others throughout the United States in observing "Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" on Tuesday of this week.

Simultaneously in more than 11,600 of the nation's high schools, senior class homemaking students tested their knowledge and aptitude as homemakers in a written examination. A total of $106,000 in scholarships is being offered by General Mills in this 3rd annual Betty Crocker Search for America's No. 1 Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Twenty-four girls took the examination here. It consisted of answering 150 objective questions and writing a 10-minute essay on the subject, "What Will Tomorrow's Homemaker Be Like?"

Papers from Belmond and the other 510 Iowa chools choosing local winners from among 7,383 contestants are all being sent in to Betty Crocker headquarters at Minneapolis for judging. Names of the school winners will be released from there at a later date. The girl with the highest score in each school will be named Homemaker of Tomorrow for that school and will be awarded a pin designed by Trifari of New York.

Her test will be entered in competition for $1,500 and $500 scholarships to each state Homemaker of Tomorrow winner and runner-up, respectively. The school of each state winner will receive a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Also, the state winners next spring will all receive an expense-paid educational tour to Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. At New York, on May 2, the 1957 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. Scholarships in the total amount of $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 will be awarded the top four place winners.

Each girl taking the Homemaker test was presented a new aid to self-analysis called "Betty Crocker's Homemaker Profiler and Guide to Homemaking." DeOn Nelson, BHS homemaking instructor, conducted the test here.

Carbon Monoxide Constant Threat In Cold Weather

Do you know what carbon monoxide is? It's a poisonous gas which can kill in a few minutes. Produced when any burning fuel containing carbon (such as oil, gasline, kerosene, coal, coke or wood) does not have enough air, it has no odor or taste to warn of its presence.

Last year 10 Iowans were killed accidentally by carbon monoxide poisoning . . . when the good, free air would have saved them.

It is impossible to be overcome by carbon monoxide when there is a sufficient amount of oxygen (air) in a closed space. So should the presence of carbon monoxide be suspected, open the door or window AT ONCE!

Some people believe they can smell carbon monoxide and the absence of odor means there is no gas escaping. It isn't so. You may NEVER be aware of its presence.

These cold winter days when automobiles are given a chance to "warm-up" before being driven it is especially important to be aware of the danger of carbon monoxide. Killing quantities of carbon monoxide can be built up in two or three minutes when car engines are allowed to run in a closed garage. This is especially true when the choke is used to start the motor.

Always remember to open the garage doors before starting the car, if it is to be given a warm-up.

And . . . if you become sleepy or notice a headache while driving, open a window AT ONCE. Carbon monoxide may be seeping into the car through a leaky exhaust connection and without fresh air you could be overcome quickly.

It's been said that "the best things in life are free." Whether you believe that statement or not, believe this: free air can save your life.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS TREES PLANNED BY BELMOND JCC

Leland "Bud" Barkema, Junior Chamber of Commerce president, says the Jaycees have made arrangements to sell Christmas trees this Saturday and again on Tuesday of next week from the Main street location formerly occupied by Swede's Tavern.

In addition, they plan a door-to-door sales canvass with trees the middle or latter part of next week. All proceeds from sale of the trees will be invested in the Jaycees' various community service projects.

● THERAPIST—

Nothing is a better guarantee of proper speech habits than a good model for children to go by, the speech therapist says. And while it is difficult to evaluate the exact social and economic benefits of good speech, the handicap of speech faults in individual cases is often clear to be seen.

As his remediation program advances, Mr. Ver Hoef will work more extensively with younger age groups to nip developing speech flaws in the bud; and also spend more time in consultation with the teachers to broaden the speech conservation effort in the schools of the county.

In summary of his remarks, when interviewed by The Independent, Mr. Ver Hoef observed, "As the total educational program is a dynamic process, this special education program is also dynamic. The speech program will change as the existing need changes. While we are starting with a speech program to help those with the most severe problems, the ultimate goal is to provide a speech program for ALL children in the county schools."

A graduate of Spencer High school with the class of '52, Mr. Ver Hoef received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Iowa State Teachers college at the end of the summer quarter this year. He took two extra quarters of work to obtain special training in his chosen field of speach therapy. Speech correction and public speaking were his major subjects. His minor courses included English, economics and sociology.

Humphreys Rites Held on Monday At Eagle Grove

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Kastler Funeral Home, Eagle Grove, for Edith Belle Humphreys, mother of Mrs Galen H. Johnson. She had made her home here with the Johnsons for about 12 years, until she became a patient at the Crickmore-Askvig Nursing Home at Eagle Grove last February.

Death came to her at the nursing home on Friday of last week at the age of 82 years, seven months and 23 days. Final rites were conducted by Rev. Dale Brown of the First Congregational church of Eagle Grove. Interment was in the family lot at Rose Hill cemetery, Eagle Grove.

All but one of the pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased: Richard Humphreys of Hampton, Leslie Humphreys of Dubuque, James Humphreys of Humboldt, Richard Husz of Hampton and and Donald Klier of Des Moines; the sixth, Dale Frank of Eagle Grove, was a grand-nephew.

A special Eastern Star ceremony was performed by officers of Eagle Chapter 114 of the O.E.S., with Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Past Worthy Grand Matron, participating. Mrs. Humphreys had been a member of the O.E.S. and also of the Congregational church.

Edith Belle Oliver was born April 7, 1874, at Cuba, Kans., the seventh of eight children born to Anderson and Eliza Oliver. At an early age she moved with her family to Eagle Grove, where she spent most of the remainder of her life.

On Sept. 9, 1903, she was wed to William A. Humphreys and two children were born to them—Leslie C. Humphreys, now of Webster City, and Ardith, now Mrs. Galen H. Johnson. Mr. Humphreys preceded his wife in death on Jan. 15, 1935.

In 1944, due to declining health, Mrs. Humphreys came to Belmond to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter. On June 21, 1942, she suffered a paralytic stroke; but her daughter continued to take care of her until it seemed advisable for her to enter the nursing home early this year.

In addition to the two children, Mrs. Humphreys is survived by a step-son, Ralph Humphreys of Hampton; one sister, Mrs. Lou Moon, Erie, Kans.; nine grandchildren, five great grandchildren and other relatives.

Attending the funeral were relatives and friends from Hampton, Dubuque, Des Moines, Humboldt, Ringstead, Fort Dodge, Webster City, Galt, Clarion and Goldfield, as well as from Belmond and Eagle Grove.

● Belmond Locals

Mrs. D. D. Pals visited from Tuesday until Saturday of last week at the home other son Carl and family at Wesley. While there they celebrated the first birthday of her grandson Dennis on Tuesday.

Poor Rebounding, Stuttering Offense Costly Faults as Vikings Take Win

Mediocre rebounding and inability to set up scoring chances cost the Belmond Broncos their second North Iowa conference defeat Tuesday night as Northwood took home a 42-38 victory. The Vikings led throughout the game, except for brief moments in the second and fourth quarters when Belmond edged ahead, only to falter and fall behind again.

The Broncos' lack of drive on offense is made apparent by the fact that they drew only six Viking fouls in the entire contest, while Northwood's aggressiveness induced the losers to foul 15 times. It was the resulting freethrows that were fatal to the Purple and White cause, despite the fact that Northwood was something less than impressive from the foul line.

Broncs Score Most FG's

Belmond actually outscored their foes from the floor, 16 field goals to 15. But the Vikings picked up 12 points on charity chances out of 23 while the Broncs got only 10 opportunities, of which they made good on six.

Northwood jumped into an early 10-2 lead, but Belmond gradually took up the slack and at the outset of the second stanza went ahead 11-10. The Vikings again went in front, leading once by 20-13, only to see Belmond rebound to a 26-26 dealock mid-way in the third period. Early in the final quarter the Broncs gained a 34-31 advantage, but it was soon lost as long shots at the hoop went astray.

Kinseth Performs Well

Three baskets by big Gary Lee in the waning minutes decided the issue in favor of the visitors. He topped the Vikings in scoring with 11 points, followed by Hal Johnson with nine, Jerry Brunsvold and Mace Reyerson with eight each and Jay Gullickson with six. Larry Kinseth turned in a fine performance for Belmond and was high scorer with 14 points. Larry Schimp also played well, contributing 12 points and doing commendably on defense. The other Broncs were pretty much off form.

Belmond froshmores chalked up their third win in four starts, whipping the Junior Vikings 32 to 23. Lynn Jenison hit for 12 points and Mark Mason for 10.

● ELEVATOR—

in height for federal grain storage, plus a half-dozen bins for day-to-day operations. The set-up would also include a headhouse containing machinery used in the grain handling and an office building.

Committee Investigating

Mr. Brede told Chamber representatives that he was hopeful that a site agreeable to both the backers of the elevator and the community can be found, as he already has pledges of grain from the surrounding countryside that would fill close to three-fourths of the storage capacity.

Members of the C-of-C industrial development committee were assigned by President Bunnell responsibility for working with Mr. Brede in investigation of site possibilities. Not only the Rock Island, but the M. & St. L. and Great Western railroads, also, were to be contacted regarding alternate sites and inquiries were to be made as to what facilities would be offered the elevator sponsors.

Courson Chairman

R. W. Courson was named by Mr. Bunnell to serve as chairman of the group. Its other members are L. W. Murray, Stuart Kutz, Bob Garms and Trev Williams.

Mr. Bunnell says that the Chamber is determined to spare no effort in its attempt to satisfy all parties concerned in the elevator matter, as the members recognize that it is a primary responsibility of the civic group to work toward community betterment as well as to encourage new industry at every opportunity.

Vocalists to Give Program Dec. 16

Ivan Kortkamp, BHS vocal music director, has announced that a program of sacred and Christmas numbers will be presented at the high school auditorium a week from Sunday, Dec. 16 at 8:00 p. m. There will be no admission charged.

Three singing groups will be introduced: the junior high school chorus, of which Marlene Meyers is director; the a capella choir and the madrigal singers.

A highlight of the program will be a skit depicting the celebration of Christmas 300 years ago, featuring the madrigal group.

Clarion Attorneys Form Partnership

Announcement was made in Clarion last week of the formation of a new law partnership, under which Arthur F. "Newt" Draheim, Jr., will be associated with Leslie Archerd and Ben C. Birdsall. The new firm of Archerd, Birdsall and Draheim will become formally established as of Jan. 1.

Mr. Archerd is one of the county seat's veteran attorneys and Mr. Birdsall's family has been prominent in Clarion legal circles for many years. Mr. Draheim, who will take office as county attorney the first of the year, has practiced in Clarion only since the early part of this year.

Following his graduation from the Drake university law school in 1954, Mr. Mr. Draheim was for two years referee for the Iowa Employment Security commission for two years before returning to his home town to enter private practice.

All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.—Matt. 7:12.

SOIL BANK PLAN APPEARS LIKELIEST BET TO KEEP CORN PRICE BOLSTERED

Miiford Beeghley, president of the Farmers (cooperative) Grain Dealers Association of Iowa, last week provided a perfect example of why "the farm problem" remains with us . . . and remains—and remains—and remains.

His organization has come out for defeat of the soil bank plan in the up-coming corn referendum. They don't like the straight acreage allotment program, either; but are giving it their support as "the less of two evils."

Then Mr. Beeghley says: "It's time administrators and legislators stopped passing the buck on the responsibility for these two 'gold bricks' they have offered farmers; and start working toward a bold new program. This is a time when somebody needs to step forth with some dynamic thinking that offers some prospect of solving these farm problems."

Unfortunately, Mr. Beeghley can't think "dynamically" enough to come up with the answer. At least, he hasn't a single, solitary hint to offer as to what approach to the problem this "bold new program" should follow.

It's an effective repeal of the law of supply and demand that's needed. And what troubles "administrators and legislators,"—just as it stumps Mr. Beeghley, though he doesn't come right out and say so—is the fact that the law of supply and demand lends itself to repeal no more readily than the law of gravity.

So . . . it appears quite obvious that we'll have to struggle along with some sort of "gold brick" program that can only alleviate the problem, without pretense of solving it. And so far as the "gold bricks" are concerned, it strikes us that Mr. Beeghley is NOT recommending the best buy in urging a return to straight acreage allotment.

Under the old pre-bank program, according to existing legislation, a good, 160-acre farm would be allowed about 43 acres of corn. Under the soil bank acreage reserve program, the allotment would be probably 49 to 51 acres—with a corn acreage base of 60.

How many farmers feeding livestock would settle for that 43 acres? It's our guess, not many. More likely, they'd refuse to comply—and probably plant upwards of half their cropland in corn. Or if they SHOULD decide to comply, the entire balance of acres withhheld from corn would be put into another feed crop that would further contribute to the feed surplus AND have the end result of lowering the corn price.

BUT, if the soil bank plan is retained, the farmer will be PAID for keeping 10 or 11 acres of potential feed-producing land OUT of production, AND compliance is much more probable. Here is a DOUBLE advantage that the soil bank plan offers, to our notion; for the LIKELIER compliance simultaneously would REDUCE feed supplies—to the benefit of corn prices.

Like Mr Beeghley, we'd like to see a permanent solution to the problem. But we're very much afraid there ISN'T one, other than sufficient growth in the population to use up the annual corn corn crop and its products.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS ARE NOT LIKELY TO ARISE IN A "ZONED" COMMUNITY

On page one appears a story that points up about as well as anything could, the value to a community of the zoning provisions of a zoning and planning ordinance.

Belmond is anxious to see new industry locate here; and it is to be sincerely hoped that a site for the proposed new grain elevator, satisfactory to Ronald Brede and his associates, can be found. Every effort in that direction will be made by the Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee, to make clear to Mr. Brede that the new business would most decidedly be welcomed here.

In a well planned community, though, there should be a place for everything—residential expansion, commercial development, and new industry; and it is highly desireable that everything be kept in its place. It would be just as disadvantageous for residential building to encroach on area designated for industry as for industry to encroach on area that is distinctly residential.

Controlling community development to the end of KEEPING things in their proper places is a major purpose of zoning. No opening is left for misunderstanding and disappointment when it is clearly known WHAT CAN GO WHERE.

There is good reason to believe that Belmond will be potentially a BETTER town, will be recognized as a more PROGRESSIVE town, and—by and large—will be a HAPPIER town if zoning and planning are put into effect. For then, property-owners can be confident that their best interests, as a group, are secure from violation.

Early reports from persons circulating the petition that asks the city council to pass a zoning and planning ordinance have showed that a heavy majority of residents contacted favor this step. If the same sentiment is reflected in the other areas canvassed, there seems little question but what Belmond will enjoy the advantages of zoning and planning in the near future.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa:
I am five years old and I want a bride doll and a thing to wash babies in and a doll high chair. Bring my sister Dixie something too and all the boys and girls who don't have a mama and daddy some toys. I would like to see your little helpers and your long white beard. My house is gray.
I love you Santa,
Cathy Carstens

Dear Santa Claus
I want a stroller and a doll buggy. I have a nice doll that you brought me last year. So take my doll to some poor little girl, and then next year I can have a new doll.
I love you,
Kay Murray

Dear Santa:
Thank you for stopping at our house last year. I'm nine years old. I would like a new combine and plow. Also a boy doll, a train car and some toy cars. Please remember all the boys and girls all over the world, especially Susan, Virginia, Mary and Don Collinson, who are in Africa. You will find cookies and a glass of milk by our tree. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
Sincerely
Lawrence Basener

Dear Santa Claus:
Thank you for stopping at our house last year. Do you have a washing machine for me? Please bring one if you can. Also an ironing board, an iron, a toy piano. I am six years old. Please remember Virginia and Susan Collinson and their mother and daddy in Africa. You will find a surprise under our tree. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I hope you don't get the measles.
Sincerely
Velma Basener

Dear Santa,
Thanks a lot for what you brought me last year. I am three and a half years old. Please bring me a train and a caboose. Also a grinder. Remember all the boys and girls all over the world this Christmas. I am leaving a cup of cocoa by our tree for you. My brother, Lawrence, is writing this for me.
Sincerely
David Basener

Dear Santa Claus,
Thank you for stopping last year. Please remember all the kids in Africa and all over the world. I am five years old. Please bring a comb, an iron, ironing board, a little doll suitcase and a ball. Look by our tree for a candy bar and a glass of chocolate milk for you. Merry, Merry Christmas to all the boys and girls.
Goodbye
Evelyn Basener

Dear Santa:
I want a marionette with strings and a Robin Hood suit. Thank you.
Louis Chosed
Age 5½

Dear Santa Claus,
Here it is Christmas again and I am 10 years old this year, so I have a chance to write and tell you what I would like you to bring me First of all I would like to thank you for what you brought me last year. I would like to have a View-Master and a toy sewing machine. Please bring my sister and two little brothers something too. I am sure anything you pick out for them will be fine. We will have something to eat for you and your reindeer.
Your friend
Zelda Mae Heginger
Goodell, Iowa

Dear Santa Claus,
My name is Norma Watne. I am nine years old. Last year I got a sewing machine for Christmas. So this year I want a big doll to sew clothes for. I also want a pair of black suede shoes for Christmas. I would like a can-can slip also. Well that's it. Good-by Santa Claus.
Sincerely,
Norma Watne
Goodell, Iowa

Dear Santa Claus,
I will like a new toy train if you will give it to me for Christmas. Thank you for your Mr. Santa Claus.

HY-LINE® EGG PRODUCTION SHOOTS UP ANOTHER 6 TO 12 EGGS PER HEN - MEANS MORE PROFIT!

NEW HY-LINE LAYERS EVEN BETTER

Two brand-new Hy-Line layers — the 934-A and 123 — are boosting the already high Hy-Line egg production even higher — up another 6 to 12 eggs per hen, according to exhaustive testing. These two new Hy-Line varieties are for sale in quantity for the first time this year.

The new white egg layer, Hy-Line 934-A, outlays its famed predecessor, the 934, say Hy-Line breeders. The new bird increases production another 6 to 12 eggs per hen. That's on top of the 2 to 3 dozen egg advantage 934 held over other chickens.

The 4¼ lb. Hy-Line 934-A is rugged, too. Lives as well as 934, noted for its livability. The 934-A is a feed-saving, thrifty bird, packs more profit into every dozen eggs she lays. She adds up to a top profit-maker for poultrymen in white egg markets.

The new cream-egg layer, Hy-Line 123, has poultrymen excited, too. She boosts production another 6 to 12 eggs, lives even better than previous "100 series" layers. In addition, the Hy-Line 123 layer slashes your egg production costs even further. According to extensive tests, 123 uses even less feed per dozen than previous "100 series" layers. And these older Hy-Line varieties saved a pound of feed per dozen eggs laid.

The extra high production, the extra high livability, the extra high efficiency make Hy-Line 123 a real profit maker for your poultry farm or ranch.

The "word" about Hy-Line 123 and 934-A is getting around fast. Order yours while you still have a choice of hatch dates. In fact, order your Hy-Line chicks today.

TWO GREAT, NEW PROFIT-MAKERS FOR POULTRYMEN. On the left, the new cream-egg layer, Hy-Line 123. On the right, the new white-egg layer, Hy-Line 934-A.

YOU ENJOY INCREASED HEADROOM—made possible by recessing the floor within the frame, and by the unique, straight-line design of the roof. Mercury's outside height is a sleek, shoulder-high 4 feet 8 inches.

Texas-big all over! Far longer, wider! Bigger in every important dimension!

Here, by far, is the most spacious Mercury ever built. Even with 6 big passengers, there is no "hemmed in" feeling. There's move-around comfort for all.

BIGGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—The new Mercury is over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Close to 2 tons big. The doors are much wider for easier entrance and exit. The passenger compartment alone is almost 9 feet long. Headroom has been generously increased. THE BIG M is family-car big—with much more leg room, shoulder room, and elbow room for all the family.

FAR GREATER VISION—You are surrounded with up to 4,122 square inches of glass—more glass area than a picture window 3 feet high and 9 feet long. The corner posts are so slim you scarcely know they're there.

DREAM-CAR STYLED—An entirely new look—shared by no other car. Clean-cut, lean, dynamic, it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

BIGGEST VALUE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Never before has so much bigness and luxury cost so little. Check the price tags—and our easy terms—at our showroom. You will be amazed at how little more it costs down—and per month—for a big new Mercury than for the lowest priced cars.

YOU'LL SEE DREAM-CAR FEATURES WHEREVER YOU LOOK
- V-angle Tail-lights, Jet-Flo Bumpers, Color-keyed Rear Projectiles
- Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control that outdates ordinary push-button transmissions
- Power seat that "remembers" your favorite driving position
- Power-Booster Fan, in Montclair series, saves power other cars waste
- Full-Cushion shock absorbers and 3 other bump-smothering advances give you Mercury's exclusive Floating Ride
- New 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8 engine (optional), 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 engine (standard)

Two Girls Given Curved Bars For Work in Scouting

Highest rank in Girl Scouting, denoted by the Curved Bar, was presented last Thursday evening to Scouts Janet Messelheiser and Dorothy Waddingham at a Court of Awards held at the Meservey schoolhouse dining room. The badges were presented by the leader, Mrs. C. J. Wendel, to the girls' mothers, who in turn presented them to the two Scouts.

Badges were also awarded to other Girl Scouts by their leader, Mrs. George Kuhlers, as follows:

Janet Messelheiser — Weather, Basketry, Dressmaker, Tree, World Trefoil, Campcraft, Adventure, Pen Pal, Pioneer, Hospitality, Interior Decoration. For Curved Bar — Child Care, Homemaker, Personal Health and Conservation.

Dorothy Waddingham—Tree and (for Curved Bar) Weather, Child Care, Health Aid and Personal Health; Charlotte Dorenkamp — Homemaker and Hospitality; JoAnn Nordman — Outdoor Cook, Home Health and Safety, Homemaker, Hospitality, Seamstress; Susan Jurgenson — Seamstress, Cook, Wild Flowers, Hospitality and Homemaker.

Sharon Kuhlers—Outdoor Cook, Hospitality, Home Health and Safety and Home Gardener; Dixie Lee Koenen — Outdoor Cook, Seamstress, Cook, Hospitality, Cat and Dog, Homemaker, Home Health and Safety and Home Gardener; Kathleen Diddy — Home Health and Safety, House Keeper, Swimmer, Cook and Hospitality.

Mrs. Wendel awarded attendance stars to the troop and five-year pins to those who have been in Scouting for that period of time. A candlelight service ceremony was followed by a short talk on Scouting by Mrs. Gertrude W. Fick, executive director of the North Iowa Girl Scout Council.

Members of the troop acted out the story, "Tar Baby," as one of the requirements for a badge on which the whole troop is working. A film on the Scout Chalet in Switzerland was shown by Joan Valentine, field director of the council. Meeting closed with refreshments served by the troop committee.

VOL. 37 NO. 10 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, DEC. 13, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER 12 PAGES THIS ISSUE

Chester Luick Giving Swimming Pool to City

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Many a Wright county Republican still remains perplexed as to what happened to their party strength in the November general election, which saw more than one Democratic candidate pulling down votes in unseemly (from the GOP point of view) numbers. As of Tuesday's corn referendum, we believe we possibly can shed a ray of light on the matter.

By 9:00 a. m. on Tuesday, a certain disgustingly loyal Democrat of these parts had cast no less than SEVEN ballots in the referendum. In fact, he was about to mount his horse and take off for hither precincts to cast further votes when he learned he was not qualified to vote AT ALL!

Seems the gent — whose name we won't mention but whose initials are Ron Courson — was laboring under the misapprehension that a farm manager was entitled to vote for clients whom he serves in that capacity. He desisted after that seventh ballot, we understand, snorting with satisfaction, "How're they going to pick out those votes that are n g?"

Now let's have the truth, the whole truth and nothing but, friend! Just how many precincts did you vote in last Nov. 6th?

Population at the new county jail reached its highest peak to date last Friday night when five, Fort Dodge juveniles brought the number of inmates to an even dozen. The youths were released on bond the following day; but the other seven prisoners—all of whom are "doing time"—remained in Sheriff Bob Blecker's hostelry.

Deputy Dale "Pinky" Walrod was giving us this data. He added that it's a big improvement to have separate detention facilities for juveniles. But the sudden influx of teen-age "customers" overflowed the juvenile section (capacity, two), filled the women's cell (similar capacity) and required that a cot be set up in the latter.

In the old jail, there was no provision for separating juveniles from the drunks, check-hikers and general miscellany of adult criminals tenanting the lock-up. "Pink" admitted, though, that he doubted whether association with hardened criminals could have done much harm to the bunch of young punks on hand last week.

County Treasurer Harold Sullivan says there's been something less than a rush of motorists coming to his office for auto license tabs. There's no hurry to get preferred numbers, as when new plates are being issued; and no new plates noticeable along the street to serve as a reminder that re-licensing time's at hand. It happens this way every year that tabs, only, are used to up-date old plates. . . . So Harold's resigned to a last-minute rush of mob proportions—with people strung all over the courthouse hallway, impatiently waiting their turn, these last few days before the deadline.

One of the prettiest Christmas decorations you'll find in town is the "copper-plated" Christmas tree in the window of Jim's Paint and Wallpaper store. Decked out in shiny, green balls, it's really an eye-catcher.

Jean Thayer, who wielded the paint sprayer that created the masterpiece, says the idea was original insofar as she's never seen a tree similarly coated with metalic paint before. The tree, itself, is a little Chinese elm.

When we first noticed the decoration, we imagined somebody dabbing each minute twig with a paint brush—which would REALLY have been an undertaking. But Jean says that, with the spray can, about 20 minutes did the whole job.

This week we got a nice note of thanks from a recent hospital patient, saying how much she'd enjoyed receiving a copy of The Independent "hot off the press" while she was in the hospital. Each week, enough copies are taken over to the hospital for us by Louise Johnson to provide one for each adult patient. They're delivered Wednesday evening, even before the paper's general distribution by mail.

Words of appreciation are regularly expressed to Mrs. Johnson, personally, so we were quite surprised to receive the written acknowledgment. This is to assure our friend that she was most welcome to the courtesy copy.

Probably 800 to 900 Independents are taken to the hospital annually to accommodate the patients. Once in a great while, when the folder takes a notion to rip instead of fold, we're obliged to ask that some of the patients share their paper with others. We're glad to say this doesn't happen very often. If the recipients get half as much satisfaction out of getting the papers as we do out of providing them, we're repaid a thousand-fold.

IN "MESSIAH" CHORUS

Two 1956 graduates of Belmond High school are members of the 450-voice choir that will present Handel's "Messiah" at the Luther college C. K. Preus auditorium on Saturday and Sunday evenings of this week. They are Connie Hill and Phyllis Lee. Eight soloists will be featured with the choir, which will be supported by a 50-piece orchestra.

$5 GIFT TO HOSPITAL

A memorial gift of $5 has been presented to Belmond Community hospital by Mrs. Leslie Smith in memory of her mother, the late Mrs. Agnes Grim.

County Votes Down "Soil Bank" Plan

Farmers of Wright county failed by a considerably larger margin than the state as a whole to give the soil bank base acreage plan the margin it needed in Tuesday's referendum to be retained in place of the corn allotment plan.

Whereas Iowa voted 59.5 per cent in favor of the soil bank — 6.5 per cent less than enough to keep it in effect next year — Wright county was almost evenly divided in its vote on the two plans. The soil bank received 567 votes and the allotment plan 566 out of the 1,133 cast.

Nine of the 16 townships in this county had majority votes in favor of the old allotment plan, but heavy margins for the soil bank—plus a majority of the absentee ballots—made the final count virtually even.

In the immediate Belmond neighborhood, Pleasant township favored the soil bank 41 to 22, Belmond township 47 to 39; while Norway gave majority support to the allotment plan 56-34 and Iowa township by a 37-26 edge.

Other townships that voted to retain the soil bank were: Blaine, by a 43-13 count; Boone, 35-26; Vernon, 48-15; Troy 40-26; and Wall Lake, 26-18. Absentee voters favored the soil bank 14 to five.

Townships that voted down the soil bank, besides Norway and Iowa, were: Dayton, 40-31; Eagle Grove, 40-38; Grant, 49-29; Lake, 52-24; Liberty, 56-36; Lincoln, 43-28 and Woolstock, 29-17.

Voting throughout the state found the soil bank supported on 50,469 ballots and opposed on 34,424. Ballots of 2,291 voters were challenged. Support for the soil bank ran higher in a number of the other major corn producing states than in Iowa.

Illinois favored the soil bank plan by 80.5 per cent; Indiana, 74.6; Ohio, 71.1; and Michigan also gave it more than the required 66 per cent of its votes. Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, like Iowa, gave more than a third of their votes to the allotment plan.

One More Gift to Walrod Fund; Ricky's Back in Hospital Again

A single gift to the Lions club's Ricky Walrod fund was received during the past week—a $5 contribution that came all the way from Overland, Mo. Donor of the gift was another former Seabee friend of Ricky's father, Loyd Bugele, who served with Bill Walrod in the Navy during World War II. That brought the fund total to $1,598.20.

Ricky's parents had reason this week to view that generous sum gratefully—for last Saturday their son returned to Belmond Community hospital. By today, less than a week's protection remained under the Walrod's Blue Cross hospital insurance policy. Of the 70 days' hospitalization allowed him under its provisions, Ricky had used up 64.

His physician informed The Independent only that the little leukemia victim's condition "is not so good as it has lately been." A transfusion had been prescribed to help balance his blood cell count. The course of Ricky's ailment—which has defied logical prognosis in recent weeks—appeared once again difficult to predict.

While still enjoying his stay at home, Ricky last Thursday shared his pleasure with a number of friends by playing host at a going-away party for Philip and Bobby Rise. A story elsewhere in this issue reports plans of the Rise family to spend the Yule holidays in France.

Beside the honored guests, those present at the farewell party were: Craig and Keith Boller, Junior and Jeff Quigley, Steve Taylor, Ricky and Veloice Walrod. Mrs. Wesley Boller assisted Ricky's mother in conducting the party and serving the refreshments.

Asked yesterday if it was the intention of the Lions club to keep the fund open, President Len Collier assured, "For the time being, at least, donations will continue to be welcomed. The basis of contributions will remain the same as from the outset—entirely free will."

Five Fort Dodge Youths Arrested For Assault on Clarion H. S. Girl

Five Fort Dodge youths, three of them with previous convictions for delinquency, were free on bond this week awaiting trial in Wright county district court on charges of rape. They were bound over to the grand jury as a result of a criminal assault upon a Clarion High school girl on Tuesday night of last week.

The accused are, according to Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod: Ronald Oberbroeckling, age 15; Lyle Weiss, Roger Grove, Eugene Thoma and Donald McCough, each 16 years old. Walrod says that Oberbroeckling and Thoma are currently on parole under jurisdiction of the Webster county juvenile court and Weiss was on parole a time back, but it has since been lifted.

On the night of the assault, the five youths had gone to Eagle Grove ostensibly to attend a basketball game but left the gymnasium before the varsity contest between Eagle Grove and St. Edmond High school had begun. Driving about town, they picked up three high school girls from Clarion and drove into the country southwest of Eagle Grove with them.

A stop was made at a school yard, where the boys pulled up a flag pole, did damage to some playground equipment and broke several windows out of the schoolhouse. When they returned to the car, they made advances to the girls and the latter ran away and started to walk to town.

Later the youths gave the girls assurances that induced them to get into the car once more, but they were given the same kind of treatment as before and two succeeded in making an escape again. The third girl was forcibly held in the auto and the assault committed while she tried to defend herself by biting and scratching her assailants.

Heard last Friday morning in the court of Mayor R. C. Bowman at Clarion, the youths were bound over for hearing of the charges against them, likely in the next term of district court. Bond for each was set at $2,500. They were freed Saturday after their respective families had posted the required bonds.

$125 Was Handed Out

Welcoming hands were extended to receive $125 in Cash Gift Day money this week, which brought broad smiles to three faces. The happy winners were Stanley Ahlstrom, who took home $25; Ed Esk and Lester Stoffer, who picked up $50 apiece. Still, there was $325 equally available that stayed put because holders of the pay-off numbers weren't on hand to claim their cash. The CGD committee is building the kitty back up to $400 for next Tuesday, to permit the posting of four $25 prizes at 2:00 p. m. and six $50's at 3:00 o'clock. Wouldn't it give Santa Claus a boost if some of that came YOUR way?

Management Job At Farmers Grain To LeRoy Hayes

LeRoy Hayes, 27, who is currently assistant manager of a cooperative elevator at Highview, near Webster City, on Jan. 1 will become manager of the Farmers Grain company's elevator here. He has been employed by the Highview elevator for the past six years.

A native Wright countian, Mr. Hayes was brought up on a farm near Woolstock. He is married and has a son, age four. The family will live in the residence just east of the Congregational parsonage.

Mr. Hayes will relieve Ted Buchanan as manger of the local elevator. The latter assumed management of the business upon retirement of George Elder as manager last spring. Mr. Buchanan this past fall bought a farm near Marcell, Minn., and his family moved onto it last Oct. 20. He will join his family soon after the first of the year.

Mr. Buchanan has been an employee of the Farmers Grain for more than 20 years. He succeeded an official of even longer tenure when he replaced Mr. Elder. The latter had been manager of the company for nearly 30 years, since Farmers Grain was chartered in September of 1928.

Mr. Elder continues to serve the company in the capacity of secretary, another position held by him since the firm was organized. Its other current officers are: W. P. Tyrrell, president; and Dick Barkema, vice president.

An advertisement in this issue calls attention to Farmers Grain company's change in management.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

Special holiday foods will be featured at a bake-sale to be conducted Saturday by the Woman's Fellowship of the Congregational church. It will be held at Tip Top grocery, selling to start at 9:30 a. m.

Johnson Re-named Chief by Firemen

Members of the Belmond Fire department at their annual election meeting Monday night refused to accept the declaration of A. W. "Doc" Johnson that he was not a candidate for the chief's job and reelected him to that position for the 11th time.

Under Chief Johnson's leadership during the past 10 years, the department has consistently lived up to its reputation as one of Iowa's best small city fire-fighting aggregations. The company's efficiency and the resulting favorable experience Belmond has maintained as to minimum fire losses have been instrumental in helping keep fire insurance rates at modest levels in the community.

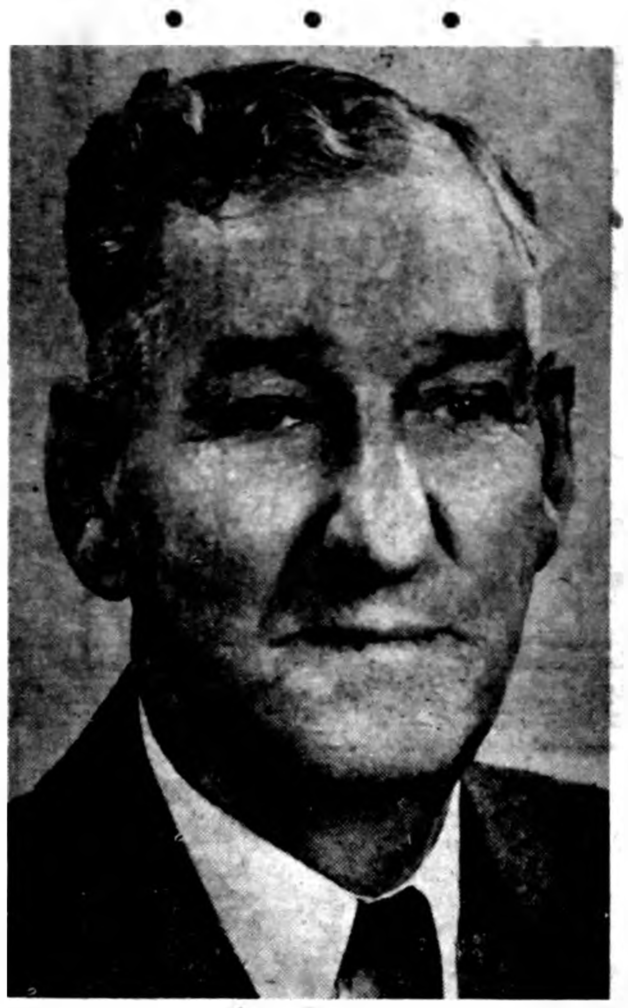
All of the other retiring officers, like Chief Johnson, were returned to their posts for another year. They are: L. C. "Lem" Long, assistant chief; Wallace Cramer, secretary; and R. B. Thompson, treasurer. The retiring directors —Dr. R. E. Misner, R. G. "Bud" Packard and Ray Thompson—also were elected to new terms.

Larson Services Set for Friday

Mrs. Walter Larson of Osage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeiger, died Tuesday evening at Belmond Community hospital after a long period of illness.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock at St. Francis Catholic church.

Fulten Funeral Home will be in charge.



CHESTER P. LUICK
In His Home Town's "Stocking," A Pool

Trustees Appointed To Oversee Project

Legal arrangements were completed Monday of this week that will bring the city of Belmond a municipal swimming pool through the generosity of Chester P. Luick. This latest benefaction of the prominent son of one of this community's founding families will make a reality of a dream that Mr. Luick has long nourished. It is his wish that construction shall be finished in time that the pool will be ready for the public's use during the coming year.

Mr. Luick set up the Chester P. Luick Memorial Swimming Pool Trust as the medium for overseeing the planning and building of the pool and has named Dr. H. J. Classick and L. C. Long of Belmond and William H. Sheriff of Goodell as trustees to shoulder the administrative responsibilities. It is a provision of the trust that the pool and its site shall be deeded to the city, when its construction is completed.

Farm Will Be Sold

Source of the trust's funds will be an Iowa township farm of approximately 280 acres, which is to be sold by the trustees to finance acquisition of a site and to build and equip the pool. This farm, tenanted by Dick Dorenkamp, lies just east of the 400-acre farm which in 1952 was the base of a $100,000 trust set up in favor of Belmond Community hospital by Mr. Luick and his late wife, Vida Luick.

In the words of the trust articles drafted at Mr. Luick's request: "The purposes of this gift in trust are to acquire a site for and to construct and equip a Municipal Swimming Pool and related facilities for the use and benefit of the City of Belmond and surrounding community, in order to furnish swimming pool facilities which have not been provided by the private and municipal resources of the City, and for such other scientific, educational and charitable purposes for the public welfare as the Trustees in their discretion shall determine, and for no other purposes."

Deed Goes to City

A contingent provision of the gift is that the city will accept ownership of the pool and make proper provision to operate and maintain it. Upon being informed of Mr. Luick's generous act, Mayor Henry Hokel said, "I feel sure that prompt action will be taken by the city council to qualify the city for acceptance of this marvelous gift. We are indeed a fortunate community to have as one of our citizens a man so public-spirited and so unstinting in his generosity as Mr. Luick.

"Surely I can unhesitatingly speak for the city of Belmond and all the territory around it that will equally benefit by his kindness in saying that this wonderful gesture is most deeply appreciated. The many years of pleasure the pool will provide the entire community will be a constant reminder of the great affection in which Mr. Luick held his home town and his fellow townspeople."

Trustees Express Views

Doctor Classick joined in this sentiment, adding "I feel extremely humble that I've been asked to play a part in this grand thing being done for our community. I can think of nothing that could bring more happiness to our children."

"Lem" Long contributed the thought that "this pool will be a great asset to Belmond from any number of standpoints. It will give us even more reason to take pride in our town. And we can take equal pride in the fact that it's being provided us by one of our very own citizens."

"Bill" Sheriff pointed out, "It's very like Chester Luick that the generosity of his gift extends to 'the surrounding community'. It makes me very proud to count him as a good friend; and I feel very honored that he has asked me to take a hand in seeing the pool built."

Negotiating for Site

It is agreed by the trustees that proceeds from sale of the farm should prove ample to build a pool capable of serving very well the needs of both Belmond and the neighboring rural community. While they made public no estimate of the farm's value, they did note that it consists of fine land that should bring a good price.

Inquiry has been made regarding the purchase of a site which the trustees consider would be excellent for the pool. Negotiations have been entered into, but no definite arrangements had yet been made for buying it at the time that terms of the trust were made public.

While the trust is a firm commitment as of release of the trust provisions, City Attorney Roy Henderson says that transfer of title to the farm will not be fully consummated until shortly after the first of the year. Meanwhile, the trustees will be able to begin study of the manner of pool that would best fit the local need and have preliminary groundwork well started by the time the farm has been sold and the proceeds put at their disposal.

2ND BIG GIFT TO CITY

Gift of a municipal swimming pool to the city of Belmond is the second benefaction of decidedly major proportions that this community has received from the hands of Chester P. Luick. The Chester P. Luick and Vida Luick Memorial Hospital Trust, set up in March of 1952 with a 400-acre farm as the source of its income, has played a highly important part in making Belmond Community hospital one of the best equipped small city hospitals in the midwest, if not the nation. It has made possible the purchase of a number of pieces of equipment that would have been simply beyond the hospital's means; and in other instances enabled the staff to fill obvious needs much more promptly than would otherwise have been possible. Among the important acquisitions through Luick Memorial Trust funds have been: air conditioning for the surgery section; highly versatile, new x-ray equipment; Baby Haven incubator; spectrophotometer with flame attachment; Dictaphone for medical transcriptions; two new bassinettes for nursery. The trust also financed necessary remodeling to give convenient access to the new Rowan Room.

5 BOOKS OF LASTING INTEREST—

Woman's Club Makes Gift to Library

City Librarian Faye Colby reports that the library board would like to acknowledge the gift of five new books recently presented to the library by the Belmond Woman's club. All of the books, says Mrs. Colby, are volumes of lasting interest that should be useful to patrons of the library for many years to come.

The gift books were:

"Strange Career of Jim Crow," Comer Woodward—New facts and interpretations of the history of race relations. This account covers Jim Crowism from the time of the Southern resistance before 1898, up to the present fight against segregation.

"The World of Albert Schweitzer," Albert Anderson—The author and photographer have caught the spirit that pervades the life and work of the great humanitarian who gave up an outstanding personal career to serve as a Christian medical missionary in the African jungle.

"American Music," Gilbert Chase—The author describes and evaluates our American music from Puritan hymns, Indian tribal music, Negro spirituals and folks songs to jazz. It includes material on individuals and groups who have contributed to our musical heritage.

"Bartlett's Familiar Quotations," John Bartlett—For a hundred years this has been one of the most treasured books in American life. Its supremacy as a reference work is equalled only by its sheer reading pleasure. This is a new edition, completely revised.

"Fine's American College Counselor and Guide," Benjamin Fine —Offers up-to-date information on admission requirements, college life, tuition, scholarships, degrees, professions, employment, etc. Designed for use by students, parents and guidance counselors.

Legion Christmas Party Plans Set

American Legion and Auxiliary members will hold their annual Christmas party next Monday evening at Veterans' Memorial hall, starting with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 o'clock.

On the committee in charge of preparations are Viola Dempsey, Evelyn Mason, Marie Baxter, Mary Smith, Cecilia Holtzbauer and Bessie Thompson. Making up the program committee are Carrie Gellett, Ruby Lerdal, Betty Barkema and Bessie Lieuwen.

There will be a 50-cent gift exchane. All Legion and Auxiliary members and their families are invited to attend the party.

CURTIS RISE FAMILY WILL SPEND CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS IN FRANCE

To steal a phrase from Ed Sullivan's familiar TV introduction, the Curtis Rise family this year is looking forward to a Christmas that will be "REALLY big!" They will be spending the holidays with Mrs. Rise's family in a small village in Alsace-Lorraine, France.

It will be the first visit home in 10 years for Mrs. Rise, who was a "war bride" and came to this country in November of 1946 to wed her soldier fiance. Not only her husband but both of her sons—Philip, age eight, and Bobby, seven — will make the trip with her by air.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dorenkamp took Mr. and Mrs. Rise and the boys to Mason City on Tuesday to leave by plane on the first leg of their aerial journey. None of the Rises had ever been aloft in anything but a small plane, so they were looking forward with keen anticipation to their travel by airliner.

Mrs. Rise's parents farm in Alsace-Lorraine and she has two sisters still living at home. A brother is now living in Switzerland, but will be present for the family reunion.

Neither Curt nor either of the boys has acquired more than a few words of French, so Mrs. Rise anticipates that she will be kept busy as an interpreter as the youngsters converse with their grandparents and Curt with his in-laws.

It is the plan of the Rises to return to Belmond about mid-January.

Lutheran Choirs In Yule Concerts Sunday Morning

The junior and senior choirs of the St. Olaf and Trinity Lutheran churches will present programs of special Christmas music at the time of the regular morning services this Sunday. The St. Olaf service is at 9:30 a. m. Trinity's at 11:00 o'clock.

St. Olaf's junior choir is under the direction of Mrs. Adean Johnson and the senior choir under that of Mrs. Thomas Mathre. Both of the Trinity choirs are directed by Mrs. Don Bunnell.

These concerts are annual Yuletide events and this year are being given in connection with "Mission Sunday," when special offerings will be received for the church benevolences.

Contest Prize Won By Janis Kalkwarf

Janis Kalkwarf, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kalkwarf and is a Belmond High school senior, has been announced in the December issue of Seventeen magazine as among the regional winners in a doll contest sponsored by that publication.

Each girl entering the contest was supplied with a doll face of plastic and a long, white stocking out of which to make her doll. Each contestant was then to dress and name her doll, the finished products being distributed at orphanages after being judged. Janis entered the contest early last fall through the Boston store at Fort Dodge.

As a winner, Miss Kalkwarf was awarded a gold "17" charm and a piece of luggage. She says that perhaps her most gratifying reward, though, was a greeting card from the staff of Seventeen magazine, on which was written:

"We're dreaming of a bright Christmas for the little girl who receives your wonderful doll. We are proud of you and the time you spent for such a worthwhile cause. We thank you and know your Christmas will be merry, too, knowing you have made some lonely child happy."

The national winners in this contest appeared several weeks ago on Ed Sullivan's Sunday night show.

IVAN KORTKAMP, MARLEEN MEYERS DIRECTING—

Concert by BHS, Junior High Singers Sunday Night Will Feature Yule Music

Voices of close to 150 boys and girls will be heard in the Christmas vocal concert that is to be presented at the high school auditorium Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Belmond High school a capella choir and madrigal singers will be under the direction of Ivan Kortkamp and the junior high school chorus under Marleen Meyers.

Mr. Kortkamp is a nationally known authority on choral singing, has written widely on the subject and won enviable reputations for the vocal music departments at Nevada and Decorah, before coming to Belmond. Miss Meyers is in her sixth year as a vocal music instructor and has been doing extraordinarilly fine work in the local grades and junior high.

Supt. Don Faris predicts that the audience at Sunday night's program will find it an unusually enjoyable one and will find it interesting to witness what is being achieved in the Belmond vocal music department by the two newcomers to the faculty.

The junior high chorus will open the concert with a group of five numbers: "Good Christian Men, Rejoice," by Nyquist; "Over Bethlehem's Town," Mueller; "Merry Christmas Time," Luvaas; "Santa Claus is Comin' to Town," arranged by Frey; and "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas," arranged by Swift.

Nancy Halfwassen, Frank Mussell and Dwight Mennenga will be heard as soloists in the second number. Shirley Pals will provide piano accompaniment.

Six numbers will be presented by the a capella choir and the madrigal singers will offer an interlude dividing this set of numbers, in the form of a skit. The latter, to the music of "Fair in Face" by William, will depict how madrigal singers marked the Yuletide 300 years ago.

Comprising the a capella program will be the following selections: "Light Everlasting," Olaf Christiansen; "The Cherubim Song," Tkach; "Eternal God," Dieterich; "Jingle Bells," arranged by Samuelson; "How Far Is It to Bethlehem?" Paul Christianson; and "Silent Night," arranged by Wetzel.

ONE MAN DRAFTED

Wright county's December draft quota was filled with the induction of Douglas A. Beisell into the armed forces at Des Moines on Tuesday of this week. Formerly of Goldfield, Beisell lately has been living at LeRoy, Minn.

GOODWILL VISIT JAN. 5

Mrs. Clyde Jennings says the Goodwill Industries truck will make one of its periodical visits to Belmond Jan. 5. She suggests it's not too early to be looking around the house for give-able items.

L. M. Hands Broncos 3rd Straight Loss

Guess you might say the Bulldogs "Moen-ed 'em down" Friday night when the BHS basketeers invaded Lake Mills. The big, blond pivot had one really big quarter, and that spelled an easy 70-to-50 victory for the host team. Chairs or stepladders not being permitted on the floor, there seemed nothing the Broncos could do to attain an elevation where they could cope with the Lake Mills giant.

In the early stages of the game the Broncos surprised everybody, most certainly including the Bulldogs, by more than playing their much taller opponents even. The first quarter found Belmond ahead 13-11 and the Purple and White ran the count to 19-15 — before the bottom fell out.

Moen Goes on Rampage

After having been held to three points in the opening stanza, during which he took few shots at the hoop, Moen went on a one-man rampage in the second period that produced 19 points! After acquiring that four-point lead, Belmond was able to add only eight more points during the balance of the half while Lake Mills rained in 25 to make the intermission margin 40-27 in favor of the Bulldogs.

In their concentration on the havoc being raised by Moen, the Broncs permitted "Skip" Kinden too many open shots in the final half and the versatile gent rammed in 14 points to make his evening's total 26 — only four short of Moen's. Belmond trailed by 28 — 66-38 — when Moen fouled out with 4:26 left in the game. The Broncs took up a little slack thereafter, but the barn door was wide open and the horse was gone.

Schimp Hits 19 Points

Larry Schimp made a yeoman effort to stem the tide with commendable floor play and a total of 19 points, but Belmond was simply out-manned. Bill Murray got 10 points — eight of them in the first half that helped the Broncs stay in the ball game during their brief spell of glory; but his defensive lapses helped the Bulldog offense mesh later on.

The rest of Belmond's scoring came from: Jerry Chandler, eight; Rollie Jenison, four; Larry Kinseth three; Bill Kaufman, Jon Mehus and Tom McNulty, two each. Kinseth made a noble try at containing Moen in the early part of the fray, but picked up frequent fouls for his trouble and filled out his quota early in the last quarter. Chandler fouled out mid-way in the third.

The Belmond froshmores lost their second decision of the season when their offense fizzled in the last quarter and allowed the Bullpups to win 31-29 in overtime. The Junior Broncs had led 8-2 at the quarter, 14-13 at halftime and 25-19 going into the last stanza. Lynn Jemson topped the losers in scoring with 11 points.

Cagers in Need of Wins Over Bison, Indians to Escape Conference Cellar

After showing up well against a pair of North Central conference foes — Algona and Eagle Grove— the Belmond High cagers find themselves firmly entrenched in the cellar of the North Iowa conference standings with three straight losses against them. Rather than setting their sights on the title, it appears that the Broncos wil have to concern themselves with escaping a bottom division berth in the loop standings as their 1956-57 target.

What their chances are in this regard wil be made fairly clear in the next two rounds of play, when they take on Buffalo Center and Forest City. They oppose the Bison on the latters' court tomorrow night and next Tuesday play host to the Indians.

Lake Mills' championship hopes received an early jolt when the Bulldogs were outplayed by Garner a week ago Tuesday and sent down to a 56-54 defeat. It is evident that Lake Mills doesn't have the balance this season that the Bulldogs have boasted for the past couple of seasons; and any team that can defense towering Loren Moen effectively should stand an excellent chance of handling the '55-56 NIC runner-up team.

Both Britt and Northwood each have a pair of tall men with whom to bracket Moen, and if they can rob him of a share of the easy tip-ins he's accustomed to harvesting every game the Eagles and Vikings could prove to have the Bulldogs' number.

On the record, Belmond should be able to break into the conference win column Friday night at Buffalo Center. Coach Lester Jenkins has only one letterman back from the Bison team of a year ago, plus his son Lyle, who is a fine, all-around athlete. But even in "off" years, the Bisons are invariably tough on their home floor and the Broncs can count on a battle.

Forest City seems to be plumbing unaccustomed depths in basketball currently; and a loss next Tuesday to the Indians would most assuredly be the tip-off that Belmond's basketeers are headed for a long, hard winter

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Although up to his ears in basketball right now, Coach Dick Hobbs' enthusiasm for track is such that he spares a thought now and then to his plans for the spring sport. And one problem in that connection had been bothering him. BHS has never had an entry in the state indoor met at Iowa City; but Dick has some pretty promising runners and field artists in prospect next spring and he hoped to take a representative squad to the indoor classic.

However, the athletic budget being none too flush, there seemed small prospect of being able to finance the trip for a squad of decent size — until a break came the Broncos' way last week.

Wally Schwank, former Iowa university freshman football coach who is now Coe college athletic director, paid Belmond a visit. In the course of a conversation with Dick, the latter mentioned his hopes for the indoor meet and that they were likely doomed to disappointment. Whereupon the visitor from Cedar Rapids issued an invitation for the entire BHS squad to spend the night at a Coe dormitory and be guests of the college. So it looks as if the Broncs are all set!

It speaks well for the progress that Dick has made in developing track in the three years he's been here. Pre-Hobbs, BHS squads would have attracted little attention from college "prospectors." Already, though, Belmond's gaining a north Iowa reputation as a power on the cinder path; and there are several boys coming up who would delight the heart of any small-college track coach. . . . They give scholarship help for TRACK ability, TOO, you know.

According to statistics that appeared last Thursday in Brad Wilson's D. M. Register sports column,- the North Iowa conference had two of the ablest passers in Class II football this past fall — Lake Mills' Darrell Kinden and Belmond's own Jerry Chandler. Although he was used only as a spot passer, Jerry's total yardage (403 yards) ranked him 20th among the Class II pigskin-heavers. Kinden's 456 yards put him in 14th place.

Jerry's completion percentage, .486, was 6th best among the 20 rated passers — he connected on 17 of 35 tosses — and his average gain of 27 yards per pitch was SECOND best of the lot!

Kinden had a completion percentage of .524, next-to-best in Class II ball, on 44 hits out of 84 attempts. He had six interceptions against him, or one out of every 14; while Jerry had only one pass stolen out of the 35 he tried. The Lake Mills ace directly accounted for six TD's with his passing. Chandler's tosses went for four scores. These statistics were produced from data mailed in weekly by the coaches this year. . . . Good work!

Just 20 years ago, Clear Lake withdrew as a member of the North Iowa conference in order to affiliate with the North Central loop. Ever since that time, the NIC has had to go along with seven members — and the old number has been something less than ideal from several standpoints.

We're happy to be able to say that there is good prospect that the North Iowa may again be an eight-school league, starting with the 1957-58 basketball season. An invitation has been extended to a school with a student body comparable to those of the NIC members, although the community's somewhat larger. A reply from the school was expected yesterday (too late to be reported in this issue of The Independent); and there was high hope among the NIC school administrators that it would be favorable one.

The potential, new member has belonged to a league comprised of considerably larger schools and as a result has found the going uncomfortably rough in recent years. Being a doormat now and then is to be expected — but ALL the time is no fun. And the newcomers should be able to hold their own in the NIC.

Two of the best team bowling performances of the year were turned in last Thursday night as the Boardsplitter league had at it. The Northwestern Mutual five crashed through with a 3,035 series, made up of 2,690 actual pins and a 345 handicap.

Every member of the team was comfortably over 500: Harold Nelson 541, Leo Hilton 549, Bud Trafford 533, Louis Mennenga 523 and George Sharp 544. Oddly enough, nobody had a really HOT game, Sharp's 202 being tops.

It was Spahn & Rose that stole game honors, however, with a robust 1,108 gross. The lumbermen had 946 actual pins, aided greatly by a 234 rolled by Bob Voyles and a 207 by George Butterbaugh. Even so, the hot-shots gained only a 2-2 split with Mello Maid for the night!

NFO WILL DO FARMER LITTLE BENEFIT AS A COLLABORATOR WITH UNION LABOR

What has happened to many another well intentioned organization seems to have been the fate of the National Farmers Organization, according to a report in the December issue of the Farm Journal. The NFO appears on its way to being gobbled up by axe-grinders who have a lot more interest in USING the farmer than in BENEFITING him.

This is, unhappily, not an unusual turn of events for an organization of militant bent. While the NFO was by no means a primarily radical group, and was relatively temperate in its demands, there can be no denying that the manner of its early activities had a particular appeal to malcontents and — let's face it — farmers who wouldn't be particularly successful if the whole deck was stacked in their favor.

Says the Farm Journal, "Judging by what was seen and heard at the NFO's annual meeting in St. Joseph, Mo., last week, it has become largely a front for a midwest labor union-farmer tie-up"

Its founder, Jay Loghry, an ex-feed salesman from Corning, declares flatly that the present NFO is no longer run by farmers, but from the top down. He and other men who were influential in its early growth are washing their hands of the whole mess and crossing it off the list of legitimate spokesmen for the farmer's cause.

Significant, indeed, is the fact that two of the major speakers scheduled on the convention program were Jack Livingston, organizational director of the AFL-CIO, from Washington, D. C., and Pat Greathouse, vice president of the United Automobile Workers Union. Livingston, who failed to show up, claimed he got his dates mixed. But Greathouse came through with a yeoman effort in behalf of close farmer-labor cooperation in legislative efforts.

It is also revealing that one of the major objects of scorn that got the treatment at the NFO meeting was the American Farm Bureau Federation. For all its faults and its too-great diversion into the field of business, the AFBF remains up to now the farmers' best hope for unified effort in their own behalf. And, to our notion, constructive criticism rather than carping stands the best chance of shaping the Farm Bureau into the sort of organization the farmer could and SHOULD have to represent him.

With the switch NFO is taking from its original purpose, we predict it is destined to join the Farm Holiday association and like, ill-fated farm movements that have enjoyed their brief day and then passed into limbo. The average farmer is a good American, first and foremost, and he isn't going to be USED to further ANYBODY'S ulterior motives.

PARENTS GIVING ADOLESECENT PROBLEM A REAL TRY WON'T FIND IT SO TOUGH

We parents are pretty indignant when one of our children runs into a problem in homework, takes a feeble crack at it with no real effort to understand it, and shrugs it off with, "Shucks, I can't do THAT!" But the Iowa Child Welfare Research station at the University of Iowa suggests that we're often guilty of exactly the same defeatist attitude when it comes to dealing with our adolescents.

Quoting from an incident that took place during a recent study group session, the research director reports one mother asking "Don't you think a 17-year-old boy ought to obey you when you tell him what time to be in at night?"

The leader responded to the belligerent question with, "Have you talked it over with your son?" . . . The questioner looked amazed. "Why—why, NO, I haven't," she confessed.

She had clearly put the problem in the I-can't-do-that category without even an honest stab at it. That this isn't unusual might be inferred from the recent experience of a local Sunday school teacher. He thought a joint session between his group of teen-agers and their parents might lead to some mutual understanding of common parent-child problems. All but a couple of the 21 youngsters in the class were on hand—and three parents!

During the rather unbalanced discussion that was possible under the circumstances, a young fellow who is a freshman in college quarreled over the suggestion that responsibilities of a youth of his age should rightly include duties around the house. This brought up the question of just how "responsibility" might be defined and he was asked for his definition.

He made a stumbling effort, then admitted he simply couldn't define "responsibility!"

Unless parents and their youngsters can arrive at a common plane of thought, involving cooperation, mutual trust and a sincere desire for mutual understanding, it's not surprising that an adolescent might be in honest doubt as to exactly where his or her responsibilities might lie.

Particularly in this complex age, adolescents NEED to be depended upon and NEED to be trusted. Or, as the SUI child welfare director says, "Adolescents need an adult world that retains its own sense of inegrity, its interest in fair play, and its regard for each individual."

When a child senses a lack of those qualities in his parents, the familiar problems stemming from apparent disobedience are pretty certain to occur. Surely the first step towards solving them is to honestly put the blame where it belongs.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa.
I want a Army gun with a sticker on it and Army suit. I want some building blocks too. I am six years old.
Larry Nelson

Thornton, Ia.

Dear Santa:
I am a little girl 7 years old in the second grade in school. I haven't learned to write but can print. I am having my sister write for me. I have two brothers and 1 sister older than I. I would like a set of dishes and a doll. But Santa please remember all the children, the orphans and crippled ones too. So they may have a "Merry Christmas." Thank you.
Goodbye
Cheryl Kuhlers

Hallo Santa Claus
Here we are close to another Christmas and I was pleased with what you brought me last year. Please bring me an army set and a fire engine and a yak yak gun and please remember all the little children and orphans.
Timmie Roberts

Dear Santa,
I am five years old. I am in kindergarden. I would like you to bring me a electric train and a tunnel and any thing else you want to bring me. I'll leave some cookies for you underneath the Christmas tree.
Love,
Leland Thompson

Meservey, Ia.

Dear Santa Claus,
We are glad to have you. I am four, Steven is two, Jimmy is nine — but Jimmy isn't here. He is at the Children's Retreat in Grand Rapids. If you bring me my toys I will be good. Some times I am good now. I want a big doll and some paint sticks. Steven wants a gun. Thank you.
Love,
Becky Jo Schmidt

Dear Santa,
I am 7 years old. I am in second grade. I would like a doll a record player and a suit-case. Please remember Lynne and Leslie.
Love,
Linda Thompson

Thornton, Ia.

Dear Santa,
I would like for Xmas a doll bed, buggy, electric game, tiny tears doll. I have been a good girl. Bring my sister a doll or teddy bear. She is a good girl too.
Sincerely,
Kristine & Koleen Kriens

Preston wants a cork-gun and Preston wants a pair of guns and Preston wants a bow and aroow. And I'll leave the rest up to you Santa.
[illegible]ton and Jeff Kessler

And Preston wants a telephone like the one at Daddy's that dings at the store.

Klemme, Ia.

Dear Santa Claus,
How are you? I am fine. I am almost 8 years old. I'm in the second grade. Do you know what I would like for Christmas? A doll and a doll suit case and a toy type writer. Bring something for Marvin and Donald. And bring something for Calvin he is in the air force. They are my big brothers. I have been a good girl. I will leave you some cookies and cocoa. So long.
Love,
Sharon Sandry

Meservey, Ia.

Dear Santa,
I live north east of Belmond when you come to Iowa. I want a woodburning set, bicycle and a model airplane. I have tried to be a good boy this year.
Your friend
Merlin Wenzel

Meservey, Ia.

Dear Santa
Will you stop at my place, Im 4 years old. I want some boxing gloves and a typewriter. Don't forget my mamma and papa.
Your boy
Gene Wenzel

Dear Santa Claus,
My name is Janell and I want a nice doll that can walk, can sit and I can fix her hair any way I want. I would like some musical bells, and my sisters Rochelle, Sharon and I would like a bulletin board. Thank you a lot.

Winged Performance and a Floating Ride make The Big M the road-hungriest car ever built BIGGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Mercury is now over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Wheelbase is a big 122 inches. Inside there are inches more headroom, leg room—as much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars.

Co-op

3-WAY POWER CHOICE

New 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8—Wait till you feel its silk-and-dynamite performance! Optional on all Montclairs and Montereys.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 with Power-Booster Fan—A Mercury "first" in the Montclair Series. The engine fan coasts when not needed for cooling. You save horsepower other cars waste, enjoy a far quieter ride.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8—Dream-car performance in the Monterey Series—Mercury's lowest priced line! Features another Mercury "first" which you get at no extra cost on all BIG M engines for '57—a Thermomatic Carburetor. It automatically controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—helps keep it uniform summer and winter. Engine starting is easier, usable power and economy are increased.

YEAR'S MOST IMPORTANT RIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Exclusive Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers—One of Mercury's great Floating Ride features. The first shock absorbers in the industry to give such amazing bump-smothering control on rough roads without sacrificing a soft, satin-smooth ride on average roads.

New Swept-back Ball-Joint Front Suspension—Mercury introduces a new improved version of its famous suspension system. Because of the new swept-back design, the front wheels are now, in effect, pulled gently over bumps, rather than pushed into them.

New balanced weight distribution greatly reduces nose dipping on sudden stops and lurching on fast starts.

New road-hugging center of gravity—Everything is lower. Car height, passenger compartment, frame, and rear axle. You enjoy an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves.

You've got to feel Mercury's new Floating Ride to believe it. We invite you to do just that, today, at our showroom.

STRAIGHT OUT OF TOMORROW MERCURY for '57 with DREAM-CAR DESIGN

MESERVEY NEWS

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

Hungarian Relief Clothing Mailed By Church Group

WSWS of the EUB church met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Enno Ostendorf, with Mrs. Virgil Schluter presenting the Christmas devotions and lesson.

It was reported that four large sacks of clothing were sent to the Church of World Service for Hungarian relief, amounting to approximately 150 pounds.

A thank-you was read from the Espanola, N. M., hospital acknowledging toys mailed by the members of the Little Heralds.

It was decided to sponsor another clothing drive for Hungarian relief with the deadline being on Thursday noon of this week. Delivery should be to the EUB church basement.

Following the business meeting, lunch was served by the hostess. Guests were Mrs. James Faaborg, Mrs. Jacob Pals and Mrs. Dale Smith.

LITTLE CATTLE FEEDERS

Little Cattle Feeders 4-H club met on Monday, Dec. 3, at the Meservey schoolhouse with 17 members present. Kenneth Schmale gave a talk on "Feeding Western Cattle." A demonstration on "How to Inoculat Legume Seed' was given by Donald Gobeli and Dale Ruiter.

Jerry Hall was presented and his hog project for one of the club members was discussed. Jerry Meints and Vernon Schmale will give a demonstration and a veterinarian will give a discussion on swine diseases and their control at the Jan. 7th meeting.

Lunch was served by Mrs. C. Morris and Mrs. A. Meints.

Donald Gobeli, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker drove to Osage Sunday where they spent the day with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hungerford, Cheryl, Brenda, Debra and Susan.

Frank Nissen has been confined to his home with illness but is slowly improving and hopes to be out soon.

Fred Quandt of Clear Lake was a Wednesday afternoon visitor at the home of his brother, Moody Quandt, and also called at the Bonnie Vierkant home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hopkey and Mrs. Towle of Hampton and Mrs. Lizzie Hopkey were Sunday dinner guests at the Lester Hopkey home.

Attend Pre-Christmas Dinner

Pre-Christmas dinner guests Sunday at the Mervin Groesbeck home at Garner were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Schluter and Mrs. Rosa Strasburg, Meservey. Others there were the Skada family of Cresco, Lowell Groesbeck of Kanawha and Eugene Groesbeck and family of Geneva.

BAKE SALE BRINGS $25

Approximately $25 was realized from the bake sale conducted Saturday at the Meservey Hardware by the Youth Fellowship of the Meservey EUB church. The money will be contributed to the special EUB swimming pool project at the church park and camp near Cedar Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Vierkant and Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin and son of Belmond visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker and Greg Evan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pals, Jeff and Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pals and Kent visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pals of Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pals and Kent visited Sunday in the parental Wayne Donat home in Cedar Falls.

Garfield Raecker drove to Thornton Saturday to get James Hemming whom he to took to a Mason City hospital where he remained for treatment and medical care. Mrs. Hemming returned home from Osage Saturday evening.

James Hungerford of Osage visited for a short time in the parental Garfield Raecker home Saturday en route home from Thornton. He had taken Mrs. Hemming back to her home there after she spent the past four weeks in the Hungerford home near Osage helping care for the new daughter, Susan Marie, and the other three girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Diddy were Des Moines business callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stadtlander and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Pals accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker Tuesday evening of last week to Mason City where the men attended a Chevrolet meeting at the S & R Garage and the ladies enjoyed the Little Theatre production of "The Three Foxes", after which they all enjoyed dinner at Costa's.

Mr. and Mrs. Heiko Janssen left last Thursday and spent the weekend in Nebraska with relatives. They also attended a wedding while there.

Mrs. Kate Pals of Thornton was a Sunday visitor at the Lillie Faaborg and Jack Faaborg home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stadtlander and children were Sunday visitors at the Carl Stadtlander home at Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Waddingham had as their dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Kolb of Latimer and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kolb.

Birthday Celebrated

Sunday guests at the Lewis Dorenkamp home were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pals, Larry and Gary and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Waddingham, Janice, Dorothy and Allyn. The occasion honored Charlotte Dorenkamp's 14th birthday.

Offering of $40 Approved by YF

Forty dollars to the quarterly project-appreciation offering was approved at a meeting of the EUB church Youth Fellowship held at the church parlors last week. Twenty-six members were in attendance.

It was decided that the YF's contribution to the quarterly offering should be made on an individual basis. The group also voted a contribution of $10 to the Stan Short Memorial Fund at Westmar college, LeMars.

Devotions at the meeting were led by Karen Younker. George Grosz and Larry Pals were in charge of recreation. Lunch was served by Janice Waddingham and Johnine Brown.

GRIMES CLOVER BELLES

Regular meeting of the Grimes Clover Belles 4-H club was held Dec. 1 with President Charlotte Dorenkamp in charge. Plans were made for the club Christmas party. Charlotte gave a talk on "Choosing Fabrics." The girls spent the remainder of the time working on their projects. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mary K. Brown.

Suzanna Vierkant
Reporter

Janean Lieberknecht and Joyce Nordman spent the weekend with Delores Pals at LeMars where Delores is attending college.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nordman, Joanna, Dicky and Bobby spent the weekend at the parental Harris home at Clarksville.

Sunday evening visitors at the Mervin Morris home were Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Buseman of Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Morris and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Pals, Mrs. Genevieve Suntken and Jerry and Mrs. Henrietta Wilkins were at Pella Monday where they attended a presentation of the Messiah at the college that evening. Larry Suntken was one of the singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freie and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Muhlenbruch of Latimer were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Mrs. Lizzie Hopkey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schmidt were Sunday guests at the Barney Frey home at Dows.

Sunday dinner guests at the Henry Kuhlers home were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ostendorf of Alexander. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oltman and boys.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hammes and family of Chapin visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pals and Kent.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT
To All Farmers
In This Vicinity!

The board of Directors of the Farmers Grain Co., announces the resignation of Ted Buchanan as manager of the elevator effective January 1, 1957. Ted was forced to make this decision because of health reasons and will move to his new home in northern Minnesota soon.

We are pleased to announce at this time that LeRoy Hayes, now of Webster City will become the new manager of the Farmers Grain Co. after the first of the year. Mr. Hayes has been assistant manager at the Highview elevator in that vicinity for 6 years. He is experienced in buying and selling grain, feed, seed and fertilizer. In other words he knows his business.

IN ORDER THAT THE NEW MANAGER MAY START WITH A CLEAN SLATE, AND THE FORMER MANAGER END WITH ONE, THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RESPECTFULLY REQUEST THAT THOSE NOW OWING THE FARMERS GRAIN COMPANY TO PLEASE SETTLE THEIR ACCOUNTS BEFORE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR.

P. S. It is also time to talk about seed and fertilizer for your spring planting. We are booking orders now for immediate or spring delivery so STOP IN AND TELL US WHAT YOU WILL NEED.

THANK YOU

Officers Elected By Masons, OES

Annual elections were held last week by King Solomon Lodge A.F. &A.M. and the Order of Eastern Star on Tuesday and Wednesday night, respectively. Harold Haugen of Alexander was named by the Masons as their Worshipful Master and the Star elected as Worthy Matron and Patron Mrs. C. A. Whitten of Rowan and Mr. Whitten.

Ervin Halverson of Dows is retiring Master of the Masonic lodge and leaving the offices of Worthy Matron and Patron of the O.E.S. are Mrs. H. T. Williams and Lloyd Cunningham.

Other officers elected by the Masons were: Rodney Moore, Senior Warden; Alfred Mueller, Junior Warden; C. C. Benson, treasurer; and C. I. Williams, secretary.

Chosen to fill Star offices for the coming year were: Mrs. Cleo Wilson, Associate Matron; Mrs. Helmer Svendsen of Kanawha, Conductress; Mrs. Ardell Johnson, Associate Conductress; Rhea Campbell, treasurer; and Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand, secretary. The person elected as Associate Patron declined to accept so that office remains to be filled.

Joint installation of the two lodges will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Labels for Card Bundles Will Aid Handling of Mail

Belmond post office this week is distributing to all of its patrons two kinds of labels which Postmaster George Jenison says can greatly expedite the movement of mail through the post office during the Christmas rush. They read "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery."

These labels were first introduced here last year, Mr. Jenison says, and they were very helpful insofar as they were put to use. He would, however, like to see them more extensively used this season.

These labels are issued for use in conjunction with Christmas card mailings. Mr. Jenison asks that all patrons of the post office bundle their cards according to whether they are for local or out-of-town delivery and place an appropriate label under the cord with which each of the bundles is tied.

"It will be a tremendous help to the postal clerks if it is unnecessary for them to separate Christmas card mailings according to local or out-of-town destination," Mr. Jenison points out. "Time saved in this way will enable them to handle the vast amount of additional Christmas mail much more rapidly, to the benefit of all our patrons."

Two copies of each label are being placed in each mail box, town and rural, and in each post office box serviced by the local post office. If additional labels are needed, they can be readily obtained at the post office. Mr. Jenison says.

The postmaster adds that windows at the post office will be kept open until 6:00 p. m. on the next two Saturdays, Dec. 15 and 22, instead of closing at the customary hour of 12:00 noon.

4 BHS Speakers Given Division I Ratings in Contest

Division I ratings were awarded four entrants in the BHS elimination speech contest conducted on Wednesday of last week to pick the students who will represent Belmond in state speech competition after the first of the year.

The top-rated contestants were: Kathy Dorr and Joan Kriens, dramatic declamation; Linda Stevens, humorous declamation; and Mary Alice Studebaker, interpretive reading.

Other entrants who became eligible to participate in state preliminary competition by their showings in the home contest were: Sondra Kamm and John Studebaker, radio speaking; Kathy Dorr, original oratory; Bill Halfwassen, oratorical declamation; Betty Lauden, interpretive reading; and Mary Ennen, humorous.

Miss Kamm also qualified to advance in dramatic declamation, but must choose whether to compete in that division or radio speaking. If she decides on the latter, Patty Burk will be able to go on to the state preliminary meet as the first alternate in dramatic declamation. Miss Dorr has indicated she will likely continue in the dramatic rather than original oratory division.

During the second semester, the state preliminary contest will be followed by district and state finals, with only Division I winners advancing to the state level.

Farm Class Will Hear B. Heykants

Bert Heykants, Belmond farmer who this past summer enjoyed an extended tour of Europe with his family, will be speaker at the second session of the adult education class in agriculture Monday night. The class meets each Monday at 8:00 p. m. at the new shop building. Next week's session will be the last until after the holidays.

Mr. Heykants took a number of pictures in color during his trip, many of them depicting agricultural methods followed on European farms. Darwin Schroeder, BHS vocational agriculture instructor, believes Mr. Heykants' slides and remarks will be of very general interest. Enrollment charge for the night school course, he reminds, is just a dollar.

Wives are cordially invited to hear Mr. Heykant's talk Monday night.

Oat Yield Tests Will Help Farmers Pick Best Variety for '57 Planting

A summary of oats yield tests conducted by Iowa State college for the five-year period of 1952 through 1956 is available to Wright county farmers at the county extension office at Clarion, to help them in selecting seed oats for 1957 planting, according to Extension Director Aaron Bowman.

New oat varieties are compared in yield and other qualities with standard varieties commonly grown in this area. Mr. Bowman says that he has had many requests for information on Burnett, Newton and Garry oats from farmers who are considering the purchase of a different variety of seed oats for 1957.

Burnett, a mid-season oat, is a new variety that will be released to Wright county farmers in 1958. Only a limited number of farmers will grow the oats for increase in 1957, for distribution in 1958. The Burnett is resistant to both crown and stem rust. It has a very good test weight and had an average yield of 82 bushels per acre the two-year period it has been on trial. The yield in north Iowa was 80 bushels per acre.

Newton is another mid-season oat, with a little lower test weight. It carries about the same disease resistance as Burnett but is not resistant to race 8 of stem rust. It is a little stiffer strawed than Burnett and had an average yield in North Iowa of 75 bushels per acre over a two-year test period. Its yield in North Iowa was 67 bushel per acre. This oat was released by the state of Indiana.

Garry is a late oat released by the Canadian experiment station. It is a tall oat with good disease resistance but is one of the lowest in test weight. The average yield of Garry oats in general Iowa trials for a three-year period was 73 bushels per acre and its yield in north Iowa was 72 bushels per acre.

Cherokee, Bonham and Nemaha are early varieties commonly grown in Wright county. In a five-year test period these oats have good test weights and have had average yield in Iowa of: Cherokee 68 bushels; Bonham, 72 bushels; and Nemaha, 70 bushels per acre. The yields in Northern Iowa have been: Cherokee, 64 bushels; Bonham, 68; and Nemaha, 67 bushels.

Two other mid-season varieties grown in Wright county, Clarion and Clintland, had average yields in northern Iowa of 76 bushels and 68 bushels per acre, respectively. Mo.-0-205 was high for northern Iowa with 84 bushels per acre, but has some color objections.

Farmers can write or call for pamphlet 385, "Iowa Oat Trials Summary," at the county extension office at Clarion.

Christmas Tree Fire Could End Yule Joy, Pronto

Don't overlook important steps in the fire prevention when bringing your Christmas tree into the home, warns Aaron Bowman, Wright county extension director. Tree moisture evaporates rapidly at indoor temperatures. Consequently the longer you keep the tree outdoors, the longer it will retain its sap and green color. Trees that are kept as fresh and green as possible aren't as apt to be set afire.

When the trees is ready to be brought into the home for trimming, Bowman advises cutting two or three inches, diagonally, off the butt end and placing the tree in water. The water will partly compensate for increased evaporation at room temperatures.

Tree stands with compartments for providing water can be purchased at most local hardware stores. A homemade stand can be made by anchoring the tree in a waterproof bucket filled with coarse sand or gravel. Enough water should be added daily to keep the filler material saturated.

Norval Wardle, extension safety specialist at Iowa State college, reports no reliable tests have been made which show that spray materials will adequately fireproof Christmas trees.

Wardle warns that special decorations containing carbon tetrachloride have been sold as readily available fire extinguishers. Applying this liquid to heat or flame produces poisonous fumes which could become concentrated enough to be toxic to humans.

Bowman adds that the tree shouldn't be kept too long after Christmas. When the needles start to drop off, the tree is drying out and should be taken down. Also, he advises using only Underwriter's Laboratories approved electrical fixtures and decorations. The "U. L. approved" seal should appear on both the fixture and the wire.

BELMOND BUSY BEES

Annual Christmas party of the Belmond Busy Bees 4-H club was held at the clubhouse last Saturday at 12:30 p. m. with Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, and the girls' mother as guests.

Committees for the party had been named at the November meeting, as follows: menu—Janis Kalkwarf, chairman, Carolyn Wenzel and Jean Finn; decorations—Shirley Pals, chairman, Nadine Rabe, Julie Eckhoff, Rochelle Fuller, Nancy Halfwassen, Betty Just, Sue Wilmarth and Marcia Stoltenberg.

Recreation — Karon Bohning, chairman, Kathryn Finn and Theresa Quigley; gifts—Faye Homervold, chairman; program—Marjorie Johnson, chairman, Linda Hinman and Jane Studebaker; invitations—Mary Alice Studebaker.

At the November meeting, five new members were taken into the club: Sue Wilmarth, Betty Just, Julie Eckhoff, Rochelle Fuller and Jean Finn. Carolyn Wenzel and Jane Studebaker led the singing and lunch was served by Myrna Strait, Mary Alice Studebaker and their mothers.

At the Christmas party, 20 members and 19 guests were present. Group singing of Christmas carols was led by Marjorie Johnson and Nancy Halfwassen read "The Night Before Christmas."

Mrs. Carol Miner, leader, reminded the girls of the officers' training school on Dec. 28. Mary Alice Studebaker passed out the new records books, programs and "1,200 Club" sheets and Mrs. Steele gave an explanation of each of them.

Recreation was led by Karon Bohning and Kathryn Finn. As Mrs. Santa and her elf, Jane Studebaker and Faye Homervold distributed the gifts. Nancy Halfwassen was instructed [illegible] note of thanks to Mrs. [illegible] brielson for a davenport [illegible] she gave to the club.

Coffee strips and gifts for orphans, brought by the girls, were to be mailed in the Shirley Pals.

GOODELL NEWS

BY MRS AMOS HANSON

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

R. A. Ormsby, Pastor

Confession before early Mass.

Early Mass at 8:00 o'clock on the second and fourth Sundays of the month.

Late Mass at 10:00 o'clock on the first, third and fifth Sundays of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jenison and Steven of Ames and the latter's cousin, Barbara Jacobmeyer of Belmond, visited Sunday afternoon in the home of the former's grandfather, O. Sandberg. The Jenisons moved Dec. 1 from Marshalltown to Ames, where the former is employed with the Iowa state highway commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brunes spent Saturday at Mason City visiting her brother, George Rust, who is a patient at the Mercy hospital. George submitted to an operation last week and remains in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kurtz left a week ago Wednesday via car for Florida where they plan to spend the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sheriff accompanied Sam Larson of Klemme to South Dakota on Monday where the men spent the time attending cattle sales and Mrs. Sheriff visited in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kemp and children at Winner, S. D. They returned here Friday evening. The formers' son Bob stayed in the Dick Barkema, Jr., home during their absence.

FORT DODGE FIRE VICTIMS

Mrs. Lee Robbins and her sister, Mrs. Carl Robbins of Belmond, drove to Fort Dodge Sunday upon learning of the fire which destroyed the theater there. Their sister-in-law, Mrs. Al Osweiler and her husband had a two-room apartment over this theater and lost everything they owned in the way of clothing and furniture. The Osweilers awakened and called in the alarm. Mrs. Osweiler is the former Esther Robbins.

Beverly Sheriff enjoyed the weekend in the parental William H. Sheriff home, coming up from Ames with Belmond friends who also attend Iowa State college. Oliver Bohning of Minneapolis was also a Sunday visitor in the Sheriff home. He was en route from Ames, where he had visited his sister Betty Jo Bohning, a student at ISC. He also visited his father, Sam Bohning, who lives at the Greiman farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Fuller and children drove to Manson Sunday to spend the day in the home of her brother, Paul Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stille spent Friday evening in the home of his sister, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, and family at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede were supper guests in the home of their grandson, Delwyn Brede, at Garner Sunday evening.

Mrs. Smith Goes To Los Angeles

Mrs. Matt Smith on Thursday of last week took the Rock Island Rocket to Los Angeles, Calif., where she will spend several months in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Child.

She recently sold the stock and closed out the business of Ahrenkiel Grocery, which she had owned and operated for the past five years. Before she acquired ownership of the store, it had been in possession of the Ahrenkiels for a good many years. Earlier it had been operated by her brother, Walter Ahrenkiel. And before that —in order—by another brother, Leo; an uncle, Juluis Ahrenkiel; and by her father, John Ahrenkiel.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Smith and their son Harley of Iowa Falls on Wednesday of last week took Mrs. Smith to their home to say overnight, prior to her departure. En route to Iowa Falls the group enjoyed supper at the home of Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Louise Johnson, at Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Meyers and children of Klemme spent Friday evening in the Dale Van Noy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Luverne Christenson of Garner were dinner guests Thursday in the home of Josephine and Howard Dominy.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sheriff and children of Thornton were Sunday evening visitors in the parental William H. Sheriff home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carpenter had as Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruka, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Graeber.

Mrs. Walter Lauden visited from Wednesday until Friday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Gerdes, at Swaledale. She went especially to make the acquaintance of the new baby who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerdes, born Nov. 30 at the Park hospital in Mason City. She weighed 7 pounds and 14 ounces and has been named Valerie Jayne.

Al Whitaker of Milford visited relatives, the Robert McNutts and the E.C. Kienenbergers, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Evenson of Northwood were dinner guests on Tuesday of last week in the J. J. Cook home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blank moved from the Mrs. Maurice Buckley house east of the Rock Island tracks to the William Deiger house in the south part of town. The Deiger house is the former W. F. Beier home.

Mrs. George Lawhorn of Klemme spent Tuesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Matt Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Benson accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Luverne Thompson of Corwith, to Illinois a week ago Tuesday where they visited until Sunday in the homes of relatives in Aurora and Chicago.

Faye Janssen and her friend Dorothy Huckins of Center Point came from Cedar Falls Thursday and visited until Monday in the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Janssen. The girls are students at Iowa State Teachers college and were enjoying a few days vacation between quarters. Miss Huckins began her practice teaching at Mason City on Monday while Faye returned to take up her studies at college again.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hall and two children of Flint, Mich., spent the fore part of last week visiting in the home of Mrs. Hall's uncle, Herman Cunningham. They came especially to transact business in regard to Mrs. Hall's farm interests.

Mrs. Orville Stewart of Garner spent Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Laton Avery.

Mrs. Lambert Barkema, accompannied by Mrs. Laton Avery and Mrs. William Tanner, went to Clear Lake last Thursday where they spent the day with their friend Mrs. Irving Bier.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheriff, Jr., and Mrs. W. E. Ayers went to Belmond a week ago Wednesday evening where they attended a planning meeting in interest of the Cub Scouts, held in the Leland Jenison home. The local Cub Scouts have joined in with the Belmond Cub Scouts.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa,

I am six years old. I am in First Grade. I like my teacher. Ronnie and Jr. and I want a record player from you. I want a sewing machine.

thank you
Kathlyn Shahan

Meservey, Ia.

Dear Santa Claus,

First I would like to thank you for the wonderful presents you brought me last year. I am 8 years old in Third grade and my teacher's name is Miss Roseland. This year we are learning to write and so I have a chance to tell you what I would like for Christmas. I would like to have a popgun and a Buffalo Bill cowboy suit. Good-by for now and don't forget the other boys and girls. God bless you and every body else.

Love
Jimmie Pals

Dear Santa Claus,

I want a wedding doll and I want some bed room slipers and a doll buggy. Bring my sister Kathy a doll and buggy so we can play when she gets her cast off. And a typewritter. I have gone to Sunday school 3 years.

from
Judy Draper

Dear Santa Claus,

I want a steam shovel and a dump truck, that's it. Some guns. One of those sound trucks. One of those sword sets, too. I would like a tractor to ride one, but a real one.

I guess you got mixed up last year, because I told you at the theatre I wanted a dump truck and a steam shovel. But that wasn't really you anyway but a guy dressed up.

Stevie would really like a bicycle bell, because he rides on Tony's trike and rings it all the time. So that's what Stevie would like. Oh, Steve would like a gun, too. He would like a moving truck, one of those things.

Goodbye
Kevin Gallagher

Dear Santa,

I want to thank you for what you brought me and all the people in the world last year. I have started a hobby of collecting rocks this year. I wish you bring me rocks and minerals and some books about rocks. I would also like a Detective set.

Your friend
Terry Winbigler

Dear Santa Claus,

I hope you are fine. I would like a Dr. set for Christmas. I would like a housecoat for Christmas. My little sister would like a doll. I hope you all have a Mary Christmas.

From
Roberta Kennedy
Age 8

VOL. 37 NO. 11 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, DEC. 20, 1956 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — 16 PAGES THIS ISSUE

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Last weekend the presence of a couple of sleighs gliding about town evoked memories in the minds of many an envious onlookers. The cutters belonged to the Earl Sheller and Irvin Soma families. Earl bought his some time back, and Irvin built his. The sight and sound of the sleighs jingling over the snow-packed streets gave a perfect Christmas touch to the scene.

Concensus of the large audience that heard the Christmas vocal concert at the high school Sunday night was that Ivan Kortkamp is doing a wonderful job with the BHS singers.

One former BHS teacher who has been faithfully attending the annual Christmas entertainments for more than 30 years and is a gifted musician in her own right declared she had not heard equally fine choral work from any high school group in all that period of time.

Renditions of the several traditional carols included on the program were particularly beautiful, leaving the lips of some of the listeners trembling with emotion.

A succinct commentary on modern, young womanhood is to be found in one Santa Claus letter appearing in today's paper. The little miss lists side by side among her requests: (a) a football; (b) a jewelry box!

Got an emergency call last Friday from Mrs. Bob Nelson saying her son Terry was upset by the manner in which his letter to Santa Claus appeared in The Independent. Writer of the letter just below Terry's was from Thornton, and he thought the town address was attached to HIS (it wasn't).

In addition, in his handwriting, Terry's name looked like "Larry," and it so appeared at the end of the letter.

We want to assure Terry that Santa's records are being set straight, so he won't have to worry about the present's intended for him being delivered at Thornton. But there's a hint there for you other youngsters. Write as plainly as you can. Goodness knows, we don't want to get Santa Claus fouled up!

Ye Ed has certain reason to believe that his should be a two-car family and he'd like to know where that other car is. According to County Treasurer Harold Sullivan, Wright county automobile registrations for this year totalled 7,855 — by all odds the highest in the county's history. In view of the fact that Wright's population by latest count was 19,652, that averages one auto to every 2.7 persons.

With six members in his family, Ye Ed figures he should be equipped with two cars, to have his fair share — and perhaps a motor scooter left over.

In 1953, the last year prior to this one that plates were issued instead of tabs, the auto registration came to 6,990. Another thing than rankles Ye Ed is that, hard up as the farmers have been this year (plenty of his farm friends have been telling him), town folks must have been buying a pretty good share of the new cars that have bolstered the registrations. . . . We editors are gonna hafta unionize!

Tuesday evening the hospital staff held its annual Christmas party, which always brings forth something in the way of a novelty that demonstrates the surprising virtuosity of some of the members. This time it was a chorus line to end all chorus lines.

In the line-up of dimple-kneed darlings was Dr. A.M. Nelson, Dr. S.P. Leinbach, Stuart Kutz, Glenn Musselman, R. W. Courson (chairman of the trustee board), Ed Gabrielson and Duane Anderson (borrowed for the night from the P&G grocery and The Independent by virtue of relationship to the hospital staff by marriage).

That this deathless demonstration of grace and pulchritude might be captured on film for all posterity, as the cuties went through their paces to "Jingle Bells," the Independent's camera was loaned to Glenn Hruska. If something "was got," we'll publish it next week.

Sure! Seems as if nearly every mail delivery during the Christmas season brings some sort of an appeal for money. And we can't respond to them all. There's one appeal been made this year, though, that has much significance in maintaining OUR way of life in this fouled-up old world.

That's the Red Cross campaign for Hungarian relief funds.

We should ALL be soulfully thankful that WE aren't having to fight for the right to lead free lives. Belmond's quota is only $108. But yesterday, only $17 had been contributed at the First State bank! That's pretty shameful. Certainly we shouldn't fall short on THAT one!

Vets Will Deliver About 30 Baskets

About 30 Christmas baskets are being delivered this year by Pierce-Zeiger post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to families in Belmond that might otherwise find their Yuletide fare something less than sumptuous. This is the 10th year that the Vets have followed their custom of brightening the holiday season for Belmond's less fortunate families.

Keith Chandler says that quite a few of the VFW members have not yet responded with their dollar toward the good cause. Donations may be left with him at Meints Produce by those who have forgotten.

SAINT OF YULETIDE DIED IN 341—

Here's The Story of St. Nicholas

• • •

SANTA CLAUS
U. S. version; "Born" 1822

An elderly, German gentleman who each Christmas inserts in The Independent a greeting to the customers of the business firm he manages always admonishes the newspaperman taking his advertising order, "Remember! No Santa Claus!" You'll always find his greeting emphasizing the religious significance of the Yuletide.

His insistance that Santa Claus should have no part in the observance of Christmas, itself, marks back to the days of his childhood in the Fatherland. In Germany, as in most countries where American custom has not penetrated, Santa does not appear on Christmas Eve, but on Dec. 6th —and thereby hangs the tale of St. Nicholas. This patron saint of the Christmas season was Bishop of Myra, a city in ancient Lycia, Asia Minor.

Our stories of Santa actually come from the exploits of this Bishop, who died on Dec. 6, 341. The goodness and generosity of the man caused him to be known as a saint, the guardian of children, unmarried girls, merchants, seamen and thieves. Surely this is as ill-matched a group as any saint could collect, and in this lies the essence of the delightful myth of the ancient bishop. Stories of his good deeds exist by the dozens in all European countries, making his name almost synomymous with "the giver of gifts and the keeper of promises."

Robbers and unfortunates were the special concern of St. Nicholas. In fact, so natural was this association that much later, in England, thieves were called "clerks of St. Nicholas." Shakespeare, in the first part of "Henry VIIII," has one character say: "If they meet not with St. Nicholas' clerks . . .;" a reference to the highwaymen infesting the English countryside.

His name and fame spread wide and far when the Russians trading in Contantinople in the ninth century returned to their homeland with wonderful tales of St. Nicholas. Soon he was made a patron saint of Russia and many nobles and czars were named Nicholas after him. In Greece, where he was also made a patron, Nicholas is probably the most popular of all male names.

In Latin he was known as Sanctus Nicolaus. He became Sankt Nikolus in Germany, Sint Nicolaas and then Sinta Klaes in Holland; and finally, in England, Santa Claus. He moved to America with the Dutch Protestants of Nieuw Amsterdam and appeared with gifts on the traditional feast day of Dec. 6.

When the English took over the city, they changed the name to New York and changed the celebrations to Dec. 25, their own traditional gift-giving day. Today, the United States remains one of the few countries where Santa, or his counterpart, appears on Christmas.

St. Nicholas not only comes at different times, but in different shapes and, usually, with a traveling companion or two. In France, he is called Pere Noel with a helper named Fouettard, whose job is take care of disobedient children, since Santa is too gentle to deny them gifts. This helper is called Ruprecht in Germany, Nicodeme in East Europe and Kris Kringle in Norway.

In Spanish countries, Los Reyes (The Kings) come with gifts on Twelfth Night, while in Italy the task is given to the good witch, La Befana. In Belgium and Holland St. Nicholas comes riding a white horse, who is supposed to eat the bits of hay that children have placed beside their wooden shoes. Zwarte Piet (Black Pete) helps him carry a big bag of sticks and stones for the bad boys. In Sweden, Santa's Christmas Eve visit comes as a climax to the festivities that begin on Dec. 13, the feast day of Saint Lucy, when young girls wear crowns topped with lighted candles.

There was a while in England during the Puritan times when St. Nicholas' gift-giving was completely abolished. For 300 years after Henry VIII's break with Rome, it was unlawful to recognize Santa.

An act of parliament in 1644 prohibited Christmas celebrations and gifts. People were not even allowed to bake the traditional mince pies. This all changed during the reign of Queen Victoria, however, when Prince Albert brought with him the Christmas traditions of his native Germany.

The one highly significant contrast between our St. Nicholas and all others in the world—and which (unfortunately, to the minds of many) has led to the broadest commercialization of Santa Claus—is the fact that he appears in person for weeks before Christmas. Seemingly from out of nowhere come thousands of jolly, plump old gentlemen with long, beards and wearing traditional red suits trimmed with white fur.

It is a uniquely American concept that children should have the opportunity to converse with Santa in person, and even strike a bargain with him—if they behave, he will bring them presents. In most countries, not only does the child never see a version of Santa, he has only the vaguest notion of how he really looks.

The American picture of Santa stems directly from the familiar poem written 134 years ago by Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, a little known professor at the General Theological Seminary in New York. Through his famous "A Visit from St. Nicholas" he brought into focus an ideal image of the American Santa—a round-bellied, lovable, bearded gentleman riding through the Christmas night on a sleigh borne by eight reindeer.

Extension Council Members Elected

Elections have been completed in the eight Wright county townships that will have new members going on the County Agricultural Extension Council the first of next year. Half of the retiring members were re-elected to new, two-year terms.

These returning members are; Mrs. Maurice Martin, Boone township; Tyrus Klinger, Liberty; Mrs. F. E. Newburn, Troy; and Dean Maxon, Wall Lake. Mr. Maxon is current chairman of the council.

New members elected to the council were: L. B. Oberhauser, Belmond township; Verne Christensen, Eagle Grove; Mrs. Helmer Maage, Norway; and Don Burt, Iowa.

The Extension Council will reorganize for the new year early in January, on a date not yet set. Lyle Lewellyn of Lincoln township and Max Mechem of Dayton have been appointed to serve as temporary chairman and secretary, respectively, at the organization meeting.

Ris-Van to Add Walrod to Staff

Roy Carwell, treasurer of Ris-Van, Inc., announced this week that Doug Walrod has been engaged to start work as superintendent of Ris-Van's liquid fertilizer plant here on Jan. 15.

Mr. Walrod will succeed Gene Janssen of Meservey, who will go to Blue Earth, Minn., to fill a similar position at the new plant that Ris-Van has built there.

Since the early part of this year, Mr. Walrod has been a member of the Belmond police force and has served as chief since last summer. No consideration has been given yet by the council to who will replace Mr. Walrod on the force.

LIONS' FUND NOW TO TAKE OVER; RICKY'S BLUE CROSS HELP DONE

Yesterday found Ricky Walrod using up the final day of hospital protection due him under the Blue Cross hospitalization insurance policy held by his father, Bill Walrod. The young leukemia victim has now had 70 days of hospital care since he first became ill in early September and entered Belmond Community hospital.

Well over $1,700 has been, or will be, paid by Blue Cross to cover the expense of this lengthy period of hospitalization. But from now no, the burden will fall to Ricky's family—which means that the Lions club's Ricky Walrod Fund will begin to serve its important, intended purpose.

As of last night, the amount in the fund had mounted to $1,640.45. One of the donations that helped bring it to this total was particularly in the spirit of the season. The Bethany Reformed church Sunday school class of Ruth Boelman contributed $4.25.

Instead of each giving their teacher a Christmas present, the following youngsters each gave 50 cents toward the fund: Leslie Jill Stoffer, Darlene Wessels, Donald Mourlam, Roger Robb and Lu Allen Kramer. To this $2.50, Miss Boelman added another $1.25.

Other contributions received since last week's report were as follows:

Anonymous	$2.00
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Havens	5.00
Tomahawk-Sales Pavilion sale of paint cans	6.80
Mrs. Anton Boller	5.00
Roy Boller	5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boller and children	5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boller and family	5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boller	5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boller	5.00

Rites Held Friday For Rose Larson

Funeral services were held Friday morning at St. Francis Catholic church for Mrs. Walter T. Larson of Osage, nee Rose Zeiger. Conducting the rites were Rev. R.A. Ormsby of Belmond, Rev. Thomas J. Conroy and Rev. William T. Devine of Osage. Msgr. Duane Brady of Waterloo also participated.

Burial was in St. Francis cemetery, Fulton Funeral Home in charge. Pal bearers were Joseph Ziller and James W. Barry of Belmond, Gerald Heiden, Robert Doudna and Donald Schoenborn of Osage and Henry Schlagel of Dows.

Mrs. Larson died at Belmond Community hospital on Tuesday of last week only a few hours after being admitted. Her death was caused by cancer.

Born at Belmond on May 3, 1924, Rose Zeiger was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeiger. She was a 1944 graduate of Belmond High school. On June 10, 1946, she was married to Walter T. Larson at Seattle, Wash. Three daughters were born to them—Carol Jean, who is nine years old; Linda, age six; and Connie, four.

The children will, for the time being at least, make their home with an aunt and uncle, John and Marie Zeiger of Kanawha.

Besides her parents and the brother and sister living at Kanawha, Mrs. Larson is survived by two brothers, Alex of Belmond and William, who is in the U.S. Navy and presently at sea on secret maneuvers; and two other sisters, Mrs. Lyman (Ann) Bubar of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Clarence (Ruth) Mickelson of Belmond.

She was preceded in death by a brother, Joe Zeiger, who lost his life in Naval service during World War II.

COURTHOUSE CLOSING

Offices in the county courthouse in Clarion will be closed Monday of next week, as well as on Christmas day, to give county employees the benefit of a long holiday weekend.

Theda Dirks Dies At Age 90 Years

Funeral services for one of Meservey's oldest resident, Mrs. Theda Dirks, were to be held today (Thursday) at the Meservey Reformed church at 2:00 p. m. At 1:15 o'clock, brief services were planned at Johnston Funeral Home, here.

Mrs. Dirks died Monday evening at a Hampton nursing home at the age of 90. Burial will be in Immanuel Reformed cemetery east of Belmond. Rev. Ralph Meyer of Bethany Reformed church was to conduct the rites.

Mrs. Dirks fell and suffered a hip fracture last May and since that time had been either a hospital or nursing home patient. She was a long-time resident of the Meservey vicinity.

The daughter of John and Gertie Moddermann, Theda Modderman was born in Germany on Feb. 10, 1866. She was married to Harm Dirks, who died in April of 1936. Also preceding her in death, besides her parents, were two daughters—Gertie, who died at age two, and Hermina Koenen ;and a son, Rev. Eilert Dirks.

Surviving are six sons—John, Henry, George, Rev. Herman, Theo. and Louis; and a daughter, Grace Stadtlander. She also leaves a large number of grandchildren.

Due to Mrs. Dirks' funeral, the Christmas party of the Dorcas Aid society of the Meservey Reformed church will be postponed from Thursday afternoon to 1:30 p. m. Friday.

NICE CHRISTMAS GIFT!

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenison left Sunday evening for Downey, Calif., where they will spend the holidays with Mrs. Jenison's family, with whom they haven't spent Christmas for the past eight years. The trip was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Merle Nordschow of Downey and Meredith Nordschow of San Francisco. Mrs. Jenison's mother, Mrs. Martha Nordschow, is with the Merle Nordschow family at present.

LETTERS TO C. P. LUICK REVEAL—

Small-fry "Very Happy" Over Swimming Pool Gift

A round-up of small-fry opinion regarding the gift of a swimming pool to the city of Belmond by Chester Luick was provided this week by a drill in letter writing in which Mrs. Viva Parker's 4th grade language class engaged. . . . In a word, they think it "swell."

Mrs. Parker passed on to The Independent some of the letters which typically reflected the youngsters' pleasure at contemplating having a pool of their own when the next swimming season rolls around. All of the letters will, in due course, be forwarded to the pool's donor so he'll be directly informed as to how he stands with the kids.

All of the letters were headed with a salutation to "Dear Mr. Luick." From there on, some of the selected observations were as follows:

Stephen Lansing — I want to thank you for giving us the gift. I think it will be next to the finest thing in Belmond, when I say it is the next to the finest thing in Belmond I mean that the hospital is the best thing that you helped finans. I'm sure that the swimming pool will get a lot of use. I'm sure if some of us learn to swim sooner or later some of us will save a life. I hope that you and Mrs. Luick are feeling well, and a Merry Christmas."

Leslie Braner—"I am happy that you are giving the boys and girls a swimming pool. Now we won't have to go to Clarion for swimming lessons. I never knew you had so much money but I am sure that you and your wife will enjoy your self."

Laural Holmgaard—"My parents and I are very happy that you are giving a swimming pool. I know you don't know me but I think you know my dad. His name is Maynard Holmgaard. When you gave a farm to the hospital my mother was very happy. I know that Mrs. Luick must be very nice, because she married such a nice man. Well I have to go now."

Bobby Misner—We are glad you are giving this swimming pool to the town. It is more convenient to go swimming in our own town then going all the way to Clarion in a bus. The hole town whiches you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

John Lee Bonte—"I am very glad you gave the town a swimming pool. It is better for me because I do not like getting up so early to meet the bus to go to Clarion. I also hope it's near my home. I hope you will have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

Bobby Whitty—"I am very happy that Belmond is getting a swimming pool. Then all the children won't have to go to Clarion for lessons. And they won't have to ride the buses to Clarion. It probebly will cost a lot of money! We have been learning about writing friendly letters in language. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Lynne Trafford—"I am very thankful that we are going to have a swimming pool. If it hadn't been for you we wouldn't have had a swimming pool, well what I mean to say is thank you a lot. My mother and father were thrilled. Thank you for giving up your farm."

Bill Jenison—"I am glad you are giving us the pool because I don't care to swim in the Clarion pool. I think that the boys and girls of Belmond will like this very much at least I will. I hope you can enjoy this with the rest of the people of Belmond. In learning to swim I might save somebody's life. I hope that you and your wife have a Merry Christmas."

Jane Hill—"I'm very glad that you are giving us a swimming pool. It will save my parents a big trip for having to come in and let us go to Clarion pool and get us again. It will make my brother very happy to have a good pool to swim in. How is Mrs. Luick? I hope she is very well. We have been studying in language how to write letters. This will help us."

Chariton Man Soon Opening New Chevrolet Agency Here

LEN SHELDON
Will Open Garage Here Soon

Real estate, parts and equipment of the former Mussell Chevrolet company have been bought by Len Sheldon of Chariton and he plans to re-open the garage under the name of Len Sheldon Chevrolet company soon after the first of the year. Mr. Sheldon says that in addition to being an agency for Chevrolet cars and trucks, his garage will carry parts and accessories and will be equipped to service any and all makes of autos.

Until his decision to buy the Chevrolet garage here, Mr. Sheldon was a partner in a Dodge-Plymouth dealership at Chariton, where he has made his home for the past 10 years. He was proprietor of a filling station for three years before entering the automobile business in 1949. He has sold his interest in the Dodge-Plymouth agency to devote his full attention to his new business here.

Mr. Sheldon is a native Nebraskan. He was born and raised at Trenton, Neb., and graduated from high school there. He saw four years of service with the U. S. Navy during World War II, during which time he put in sea time in the south Pacific. He was discharged in January of 1946 with the rate of Pharmacist's Mate 1/c. His duty largely involved accounting work.

The new Chevrolet dealer is married and has two children — a daughter, Diane Leigh, age three; and a son, given simply the initials L. G., who is a year old. The Sheldons have rented living quarters in Kinseth's apartment house and will move to Belmond shortly after Christmas. Meanwhile, Mr. Sheldon is spending a good deal of time here making preparations for opening of the garage.

CASH GIFT DAY ON MONDAY

Only one claimant was found for part of the $400 in Cash Gift Day prizes posted this week. Mrs. L. B. Mackrill at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday turned in a number good for $50. Since Christmas falls on Tuesday, Cash Gift Day next week will be held on Monday. On the same afternoon, names of the winners of some $1,500 in merchandise awards in the Chamber of Commerce "Festival of Gifts" will be posted in store and office windows. Added to this "loot" will be $400 in Cash Gift Day prizes, again—four $25's at 2:00 p.m. and six $50's at 3:00 o'clock.

North Iowa Loop Gives Osage Bid As New Member

An invitation was extended to Osage last week to become a member of the North Iowa conference, bringing its membership up to eight schools. The action was taken Wednesday night at a meeting of NIC superintendents held at Forest City. Representing Osage at the meeting were Supt. C. T. Johnsten and Athletic Director Fred Shadle.

Supt. Don Faris says that Osage was apporached on the matter of joining the North Iowa conference several years ago. Just recently, Osage indicated that the time had arrived that a switch in conference affiliation would be seriously considered and last week's meeting of NIC school administrators was called as a result.

Osage has been a member of the Northeast Iowa conference, which in large part is made up of schools from cities much larger than the resigning school. Among these are Cedar Falls, Charles City, Oelwein, Decorah and Waverly. Other members are Cresco and New Hampton, which are about the size of Osage—and in recent years have been having similar difficulty in keeping pace athletically with the "big five."

Acceptance of the invitation extended by the North Iowa conference awaits approval of the step by the Osage school board, but this is regarded as a formality. Mr. Faris says that the new member will start full-scale competition with NIC schools in basketball during the 1958-59 season and that the North Iowa teams will schedule them in football for the 1959 season.

Ris-Van's Strauss Aids In Drafting Proposal for Law

Dr. John L. Strauss, vice president in charge of research and development for Ris-Van, Inc., has lately served with a board of eight representatives of the fertilizer industry in Iowa to draft a proposed new state law governing the manufacture and sale of fertilizers. This law proposal will be submitted for consideration by the 57th General Assembly when it convenes after the first of the year.

Chairman of the legislative board was Phil Cooper of Des Moines, manager of the Iowa Farm Supply company, an affiliate of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation. Besides the industry representatives, the board included Dr. W. H. Pierre, head of the Iowa State college department of agronomy, and I. Levin, chemist for the state department of agriculture.

It is hoped by the board that the legislature will replace the current fertilizer law with the one proposed. Purpose of the new law would be to tighten up the regulations governing fertilizer manufacture and to give the farmer greater assurance of a high quality product.

Dr. Strauss was the only representative of the liquid fertilizer industry appointed to the legislative board.

DRAFT OFFICE NOTICE

It is announced by Clerk Golda B. Hecox that the Wright county selective service office at Clarion will be closed on Monday, Dec. 24, as well as on Christmas Day.

Road Death Toll In County to 18

Wright county's 18th traffic death of 1956 was recorded Thursday morning of last week when Lyle E. Merrill, 53, of Janesville, Minn., suffered fatal injuries in a single-car mishap on Highway 69. The accident occurred about 10:30 a.m. when the victim was driving a '54 Chevrolet pickup truck south on No. 69 about six miles south of Greyhound intersection.

Although Merrill was alive when Patrolman Al Sparby reached the scene of the mishap, he died before he could be rushed to Clarion Memorial hospital. Dr. Robert Eaton, county coroner, reported a punctured lung and ruptured spleen to be among internal injuries that caused the Minnesotan's death.

It was impossible to determine the exact cause of the accident. Merrill apparently lost control of the truck when it wandered onto the right-hand shoulder of the highway. It then cut crossways of the highway and rolled in the east ditch. The driver was thrown from the truck and it appeared the vehicle must have rolled on him.

Bronco Five Posts 1st NIC Victory; Trim Indians Here Tuesday 60 to 56

Belmond High's basketeers racked up their first North Iowa conference win of the season here Tuesday night, trimming Forest City 60 to 56. While the Broncos led throughout a good share of the game, the Indians repeatedly came back to tie or edge in front momentarily and it was an exciting contest from start to finish.

Forest City led during a fair share of the opening quarter, but the buzzer found the count knotted at 12-12. After an exchange of points during the second stanza, the Broncs broke up a 19-19 deadlock to hold a 22-19 advantage at the intermission.

Broncs Ahead at Half

The Belmond lead in the third period was expanded to 28-22 at one time, but the Indians rallied to go in front 34-32. Another scoring burst by the Broncs gave them a 44-40 bulge as the quarter ended. Jerry Chandler fouled out with this period only half over, and was followed a few minutes later by Ted Nilssen, Forest City guard.

When the Broncs galloped into a 48-40 lead it appeared they might have matters under control; but with just over three minutes to play the Indians had shrunk the margin to 52-50. Belmond then iced the game with another splurge that fattened their advantage to 59-50. The Broncs had the decision sewed up with a 60-52 count with eight seconds to go, only to see the game Indians pop in a couple of fielders before time was called.

Schimp Tops Scorers

Larry Schimp topped the scorers with 19 points, with Forest City's Gary Godden close behind with 18. Larry Kinseth helped the Bronco cause with 12 points and Tom McNulty poured in nine as a replacement for Chandler. The latter contributed eight, Bill Murray six, Rollie Jenison five and Bill Kaufman one. Godden was aided by Jim Hanson's 13 and Ted Nilssen's 11 points.

The froshmore curtain-raiser was a thriller in which the Junior Broncs appeared a well beaten outfit, only to rally for a 44-41 overtime win. With just under four minutes to go, Belmond trailed 37-27. The home team fought back to a 38-37 lead but the game buzzer found the score tied at 39-all. Mark Mason hit three freethrows and Bob Lerdal a fielder in the extra period to decide the issue. Mason tallied 12 points in all, Lerdal eight and Lynn Jenison seven.

In other NIC action Tuesday night, Lake Mills remained in title contention with an 84-70 win over the surprising Buffalo Center Bison and Britt kept its dimmed hopes alive by walloping Garner, 84-59.

N. J. Minister Will Fill Pulpit

It was learned too late for inclusion in the Meservey section of today's issue that Rev. Cecil Martens of Lodi, N. J., will conduct services at the Meservey Reformed church this Sunday.

A call has been issued to Mr. Martens to fill the pastorate of that church. He will have the opportunity this weekend to inspect the field. As yet, he has made no response to the call.

Wright Nearing 1956 Quota On Bond Purchases

At the end of November, individual Iowans had invested $143,750,686 in United States savings bonds, and the state had attained 86 per cent of the 1956 goal. National average was 83 per cent of quota.

Wright county was ahead of both the state and national averages with 93 per cent of its $1,566,284 annual quota with 11-month investments of $1,455,591. Wright countians brought the total up to this level with purchase of $147,251 in bonds during November.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, volunteer county chairman, said that 20 counties already had exceeded their respective quotas, with Adams county's 129 per cent leading the state.

Total purchases and per cent of quotas reached for the 11 months are shown below for other counties in this area: Hancock county, $975,478 for 94 per cent; Franklin, $755,772 for 70 per cent; Hamilton, $1,337,499 for 90 per cent; Humboldt, $883,478 for 88 per cent; Cerro Gordo, $1,774,711 for 64 per cent; and Kossuth county, $1,475,815 for 86 per cent.

GENE ROSKAMP WED TO MARGARET ECCLES AT ST. JOHN CHURCH

Margaret Edna Eccles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Eccles, and Edward Gene Roskamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Roskamp, were united in marriage Thursday evening, Dec. 6, at St. John Lutheran church, with Rev. William Heinzig officiating.

The nuptial music was played by the organist, Mrs. John Ruter, who also accompanied Norman Pals as he sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer". The candle-lighters were Dennis Eccles, brother of the bride, and Janet Marker of Woden.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of slipper satin and Chantilly lace, which she had designed and made. Her tulle veil fell from a tiara of pearls. She carried a white Bible bouquet.

Betty Eccles was her sister's maid of honor and her two sisters-in-laws, Mrs. Edward Eccles of Garner and Mrs. Kenneth Eccles, were the bridesmaids. They all wore dusty rose, street-length dresses, made by the bride. They carried nosegays of white mums tinted rose.

Carl Roskamp served his brother as best man and the groomsmen were also the groom's brothers, Percy Roskamp of Clarion and Bernard Roskamp of Mason City. The ushers were Cecil Eccles, brother of the bride, and Wayne Pals.

The flower girl was Paula Roskamp of Clarion, niece of the groom, and the ringbearer was Douglas Marker of Woden, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and the groom's mother a light blue suit. Both had red rose corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

County's Expense Of Administration Up Slightly in '55

Per capita cost for operating the major county offices in Wright county during 1955 ran about 18 cents per person more than in 1954, according to a table on county administrative costs in Iowa lately released by the Iowa Taxpayer's association. In Wright county, the per person cost went up from $3.61 to $3.79, amounting to a shade less than a five per cent increase.

This was better than the state average, in regard to rise in costs. For Iowa as a whole, the average rise in county administrative costs between the two years was seven per cent. However, that was based on a jump from a state-wide per person average of $3.14 in 1954 to $3.37 in 1955 — so the p. p. c., itself remains above average in Wright.

Compared to neighboring counties, Wright's per capita cost of operating its county government appears relatively favorable. In Hancock county, the p. p. c. for 1955 was $4.52, up from $4.07; in Franklin, $3.82 compared to $3.54; Humboldt, up to $4.21 from $3.97; Hamilton, up to $4.03 from $3.76.

Experience was better in the more populous counties nearby. In Webster the 1955 p. p. c. was $3.11, compared to 1954's $2.94; and comparable figures for Kossuth were $3.48 and $3.37.

Wright's 1955 per person cost of county administration ($3.79) measured with the nine county's closest to its population as follows: Floyd $3.91, Buena Vista $3.12, Crawford $3.61, Appanoose $3.37, Hamilton $4.03, Harrison $3.69, Washington $3.77, Jones $3.30, Poweshiek $3.55 and Cherokee $2.90.

In total dollars and cents, Wright's cost of county administration in 1955 came to $74,424 and in 1954 to $70,968.

IT WAS JACOBMEYERS

It was Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacobmeyer who did the neighborly deed of taking the Curtis Rise family to Mason City last week to depart on their plane journey to France to spend the holidays with Mrs. Rise's family. By a slip of the typewriter, the name was mistakenly given as Howard Dorenkamp.

PLEASANT PIONEERS

Regular meeting of the Pleasant Pioneers 4-H club was held Monday of last week at the clubhouse, with President John Studebaker presiding and 17 members present. John showed slides of pictures he took at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. New record books were passed out and assembled. There was a Christmas grab-bag at the end of the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ben Suntken.

KANAWHA F.F.A.

Regular meeting of the Kanawha Future Farmers was held Wednesday of last week with 27 members present. The chapter voted to hold a carnival the latter part of February, at which an FFA Queen will be elected. The members also decided to have a Parent and Son banquet at a later date.

On Nov. 10, 16 boys turned out to pick up corn at the Edward Halfpop farm. On Nov. 17 a bake sale was held at Christ Drug store, Kanawha. The chapter is also selling lunches at night school, which is proving a profitable project.

Mr. Currie, the vocational agriculture teacher, is supervising the night school classes for men and boys on Monday evenings at 8:00 o'clock. There will be several meetings of general interest to which the public is invited.

A family gathering was held Sunday at the John Christensen home with the following out-of-town guests present: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hall of Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ulstad and Mrs. Mabel Baltzer of Eagle Grove, Mrs. William Spellmeyer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Spellmeyer and son of Woolstock, Mrs. Lyle Nuehring and sons of Klemme, the Lloyd Christensen family of Kanawha, and Robert Hoelscher of Dows. Relatives from the Belmond vicinity were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Robb and family attended a birthday party in the Herman Frohling home in Thornton on Monday evening of last week honoring Mrs. George Blau and Mrs. Herman Frohling. Other guests were the families of Fred Blau, Aeiko Blau, E. Stadtlander, Henry and John Koenen, all of Meservey, and Merle Frohling family of Thornton.

Karen Hansen of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., arrived last weekend to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hanson. On Monday, Lt. and Mrs. Jerry Hanson and Jodi of Lubbock, Tex., arrived to spend Christmas with his parents, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenison and children attended funeral services for her grandmother, Mrs. Signe Mogan, held Thursday at Humboldt. Paul and his son Merrill acted as pallbearers.

IOWA'S FARM LAND VALUE HIGHER IN NOVEMBER '56 THAN A YEAR AGO

Average value of Iowa's farm land and buildings was $220 an acre on Nov. 1, 1956—$5 an acre higher than on the same date a year earlier.

William G. Murray and J. Dean Jansma, farm economists at Iowa State college, said this finding was based on reports from 475 real estate brokers who replied to their annual questionnaire on farm land values.

Murray and Jansma said leading causes of the higher values were: farmers buying land to add to their present farms, tenants who had to buy farms or quit farming because they couldn't find land to rent, and unwillingness of owners—particularly those with high-quality farms —to sell.

Conditions Varied

The economists said conditions varied widely in different areas. The average figures do not apply, they said, to individual counties or to smaller areas within counties. Farm values dropped in some places because of drouth, lower farm income and tight credit. By major areas the survey results were:

Northeast dairy: Average values were up four per cent—$7 an acre —but two of the 18 counties reported lower values than a year earlier. Lack of farms for sale and bumper crops supported the increases; tighter credit restrictions prevented still further increases.

North central grain: Average value increased 3½ per cent, but there was wide variation. In some counties values were lower because of drouth. Value of good land increased more than that of poor land.

Values Unchanged

Western livestock: Values remained unchanged on the average. Poor crops the past three years, lower farm prices and drouth caused prices to level off, but scarcity of farms for sale and belief in better future conditions prevented decline.

Southern pasture: Values went up nearly three per cent, with an average increase of $4 per acre. Shortage of farms for sale and owners wanting to enlarge their farms were major factors for increasing values. Drouth, hail and low farm product prices tended to hold land values down.

Eastern livestock: The land value rise here was widespread. Average values went up 3½ per cent. Competition between renters wanting to buy land and owners wanting to enlarge their farms increased the prices of the few farms listed for sale.

Course Provides Chance to Become DHIA Inspector

A new plan for a winter training course for DHIA supervisors has a special interest for member of the Wright County Dairy Herd Inspection association, since the county DHIA will soon be needing a new supervisor. Dean Heckman, who is currently filling the position, has resigned as of March 1.

This will make Wright county one of a number in which openings for inspection supervisors will exist at the time the training course concludes. Anyone interested in receiving this training can obtain more information from Extension Director Aaron Bowman or by writing the dairy department of Iowa State college.

Persons taking training under the new plan will receive instruction for four days in January, starting the day following New Year's Day; three days in early February; and four more late in February and early in March. Final examination will be given on March 2.

PIN SCHEDULE CHANGED

Due to a number of conflicting activities planned for this evening, the matches scheduled for the Main Street and Boardsplitter bowling leagues for tonight are being postponed. Both leagues will bowl at the regular time next week.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

Man and the automobile have joined together to create a new kind of Christmas story. The story has nothing to do with warmth and good will and cheery greetings. Any highway patrolman can tell you a Christmas story. Here are three we've heard recently:

"Except for the man who made the call, I was the first one to arrive," the patrolman said. "It was a lonesome spot on a gravel road, and the car was a mess. A young couple was dead in the front seat. They leaned against one another and looked almost as though they were resting easy in all the wreckage.

"Looking through the car with a flashlight, I found one of those red paper Christmas bells hanging from the rear vision mirror. It was blowing back and forth in the wind coming through the broken windshield. That was all the Christmas they had."

Another patrolman told of tending an injured woman who kept asking him to leave her and find her baby. She had been holding it in her arms just before the head-on crash.

"Well, I'd already found the baby," he said. "It had gone through the windshield with a bunch of Christmas packages. I couldn't tell her."

The third patrolman had his story, too. He had helped remove a dead man from a wrecked car one bright cold day early in December. Later, he was gathering personal effects from the car when he found a package of Christmas cards.

Each card carried a picture of the dead man smiling in the midst of his family—his wife and three children. He had picked them up in town and was taking them home when the accident happened.

All the patrolmen agreed that the Christmas season is one of the most dangerous of the year. Each one felt it inevitable that he would be called on to officiate at the tragic end of Christmas for some family again this year.

Aliens Reminded They Must Report

Robert C. Wilson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Omaha, Neb., estimates that 25,000 aliens will report their name and address in the states of Iowa and Nebraska in January under the Federal Alien Address Report program.

The immigration official said that 20,000 aliens reported their address during January 1956. The announcement followed a statement from Washington in which Immigration and Naturalization Commissioner J. M. Swing estimated that more than 2,750,000 aliens in the United States will report their address next month in compliance with the law.

Commissioner Swing said in Washington that, with few exceptions, every alien in the United States must report his address to the service under the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

Mr. Wilson of the Omaha office said that all non-citizens except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations, and Mexican national contract laborers are required to file the address report.

He added that any alien who willfully violates the address report requirement may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

In addition, aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their address to the Service within 10 days after their return.

District Director Wilson said that address report cards will be available at the Immigration Service office at 201 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Neb., and all United States post offices beginning Jan. 1, 1957.

Chairman of Local Draft Board Cites Registrant Rights

Garfield Halverson, Sr., chairman of the Wright County Local Board, points out the many rights guaranteed to a Selective Service registrant under the provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, and the Selective Service Regulations. These rights are as follows:

1. To examine his Selective Service file and to put into that file any and all information which may affect his classification;

2. To a personal appearance before the local board to discuss his classification at which time he is privileged to direct attention to any information in his file which he believes the local board has not given sufficient weight. He may also present such further information as he believes will assist the local board in determining his proper classification. This right of personal appearance expires 10 days after he has been mailed a Notice of Classification;

3. To appeal to the appeal board from the classification of the local board. This right to appeal must be exercised within 10 days after the local board has mailed the registrant a Notice of Classification;

4. To have the confidential nature of his Selective Service file respected;

5. To at least 21 days notice between the time of mailing the Notice of Acceptability after Armed Forces examination, and the date of induction into the Armed Forces:

6. To be exempted from induction if he is a sole surviving son;

7. To be familiar with the classifications that are given by the local boards to friends and neighbors by consulting the lists of classifications posted in the local board office;

8. To receive counsel and advice from the local board clerk, any local board member and the government appeal agent, on any matter pertaining to his classification.

9. To continue in high school until graduation if under 20 years of age;

10. To complete his academic year in college if ordered to report for induction while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction.

11. To volunteer for induction providing the applicant is classified by the local board in a class which makes him available for service;

12. To serve his military obligation through Reserve participation in lieu of active service;

13. To the protection of the provisions of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, as amended;

14. To reinstatement in his old job upon his separation from service.

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM ALL OF US AT THE P&G AND THE IDEAL GROCERIES

Tied With 1½ Minutes Left to Play, Broncos Lose to Bison Five, 50 to 47

Belmond's Broncos acquired a firmer grip on the bottom rung of the North Iowa conference ladder last Friday night as they suffered their fourth, consecutive cage loss. It was Buffalo Center who dumped the Purple and White this time, the count being 50-47.

At the outset of the fray, it appeared the Broncs were destined to take a much worse beating than they actually did. The Bison jumped into and early lead and as the second quarter got underway they were in front by nine points, 16-7. Then Belmond's offense began to click better and the Broncos gained their first advantage of the night at 21-20.

Belmond was still in front at halftime, 27-24, and it began to look as if they might be headed for their first loop win. But from that time on, neither team was able to command more than a three-point margin until the host team built up a decisive 50-45 edge with about half a minute of the game remaining.

End of the third quarter found the Broncs still enjoying a three-point bulge, 35-32; but Buffalo Center slipped ahead at 38-37 and never again was Belmond in the van. The score was tied at 43-all and again at 45-all.

With about a minute and a half to go, the count 45-45 and Belmond in possession of the ball, it appeared that a Bronco fielder might give Coach Dick Hobbs' crew the upper hand. But before a shot could be aimed at the hoop, Rollie Jenison had the misfortune to be called on a pushing foul and Mickey Costigan made the most of the opportunity by converting two gift shots.

There was 52 seconds to go when this break came. Moments later, Jerry Chandler in a desperate try for the ball also fouled young Costigan and Mickey hit his first try, making it 48-45. When lanky Jim Murra, BC's 6-5 pivot, got a follow-in almost immediately afterward — that definitely did it. Chandler picked up a pair of freethrows in the final seconds, but they made no difference in the outcome.

Coach Hobbs sacrificed Larry Schimp's scoring prowess in an effort to strengthen the Broncs rebounding power under their own basket and played the veteran guard at a forward spot throughout the game. From that unfamiliar post, Schimp hit only eight points. It was the first time this season he'd been below double figures.

Even so, it looked for a time as if the strategy might work. Chandler had his best scoring night with 14 points and Kaufman, playing the last three quarters, contributed 10. But Belmond fouls counteracted a 19-18 advantage the Broncos had in field goals and were the deciding factor in the Bison victory. Buffalo Center converted on 14 out of 22 freethrow chances, while Belmond got only 16 charity chances and counted on only nine.

Tom Costigan was the winners' big gun in the first half with 14 points; then he added only two in the remainder of the game. But Lyle Jenkins, Murra and young Mickey Costigan shared the scoring duties after the intermission, running up nine, eight and seven points, respectively.

In the curtain-raiser, the BHS froshmores notched their third loop win in four starts, trimming the Bison Calves 29-20.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Notice that Kenny Loats is doing a fine job at forward for the Central college Dutchmen. Through Central's first four games (three of them victories), Ken was the team's top scorer. He hit 22 to lead all the point-getters in the Dutchmen's 58-57 loss last Thursday at the hands of Mankato (Minn.) Teachers.

In one Central game Eldon Schulte, erstwhile Alexander cage luminary, played at all three positions. Listing "f-c-g" after his name in the box score that appeared in the D. M. Register made it necessary to abbreviate his moniker to Sh'e. Since his name was mentioned nowhere in the story, a person unfamiliar with the Central squad would surely have had a fine time reasoning THAT one out!

Through last Friday, Meservey High's cagerettes had vanquished seven foes in a row, including a win over Grafton in their most recent outing. Grafton, you may recall, was fourth-place finisher in the girls state tourney last year. They were pretty hard hit by graduation, though.

It appears that Coach Lovell Diddy's early prediction that a good season seemed in prospect for the Rockettes was no exaggeration. They've not been pushed in a single game, rolling up big margins time after time, except for Grafton holding them 58-52.

This season's success of the Rockettes is only half the story, though. All but one of Diddy's starting six will be BACK next year. And the only senior "regular" is being hard-pressed by her understudy for her status as a starter. Sounds as if "basketball fever" may reign again in Meservey.

Hopes of Britt basketball fans to see the Eagles perform in the new high school gym there this season have been doomed by inability of the school board to get delivery on new roll-away bleachers before the season's end. At least, that's the picture now, according to the Britt News-Tribune.

Britt's loss to Northwood on Wednesday night of last week — AT Britt — came as a surprise to most North Iowa conference cage followers. The Eagles were just as "cold" at the outset of their game with the Vikings as they were "hot" when Belmond played Britt. Northwood jumped into a 14-2 lead, and the favored Eagles never were able to take up the slack. Final count was 65-59.

An indication that Forest City's Indians are getting fed up with sitting on the mourner's bench was evident in the first-half showing they made against Lake Mills at the FC auditorium a week ago Tuesday.

With only three minutes to go before intermission time, the score was tied at 22-all.

The Bulldogs pulled in front 26-22 at the half and then broke the game open in the third period. Loren Moen was held to a fairly modest 23 points before fouling out mid-way in the final stanza.

Bowling for Tip Top last Thursday night, Jack Lobdell and Ed Albers each started his final game with a string of four strikes. Jack added two more before leaving one pin with a pocket hit in the seventh that was a mite heavy — and ended up with a fine 258. . . . Why does The Independent's pin brigade (the grocers' opponent that evening) always have to run up against funny business like that? . . . Eddie had a 613 for Larro in the Pinbusters league last week. Believe It was his FIFTH 600 in league play this year!

One of the closest matches we have heard of in some time was indulged in by the Northwestern Mutual and Dows Independents in the Boardsplitter league last Thursday. The Dows keglers won the second game by 11 pins, 917-906; lost the first by five, 1,021-1,016; and the last line by eight, 967-959. That gave Northwestern the match point by just TWO pins, 2,894 to 2,892!

Broncs vs. Cards Tomorrow Night On Garner Floor

Next step toward working their way out of the North Iowa conference cellar will be taken by the Bronco cagers tomorrow night when they travel to Garner. After surprising Lake Mills with a two-point defeat, 56-54, in the NIC opener for both teams, the Cardinals have been having little more success than Belmond.

The Cards lost on their home floor to the Buffalo Center Bison, 59-54, which would indicate that their conquest of the Bulldogs was hardly a true measure of the two teams.

Other loop action tomorrow night will find Britt traveling to Forest City for a joust that should see the Eagle posting win No. 3 after losses to Northwood and Lake Mills in a pair of hard-fought games; and Northwood locking horns with Lake Mills in a key battle.

Buffalo Center is idle until after the holidays, as the other NIC teams will be after Friday night's round of play.

It's here again! The Christmas bells ring out, proclaiming the brightest, merriest time of the year. Everywhere, warm Christmas greetings are given and received, and we join in to extend to you all good wishes of the holiday season.

Brucellosis-Free Herds in Wright Now Number 91

Ninety-one dairy herds in Wright county are at present free of brucellosis, according to results received by County Extension Director Aaron Bowman of Clarion from federal and state agencies who are conducting the ring test for brucellosis.

Six ring tests for brucellosis have been conducted in Wright county during the past three years. The last test was conducted during the week commencing last Nov. 26.

The brucellosis ring test is conducted by the animal disease eradication branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the division of animal industry of the Iowa Department of Agriculture. Cooperating with these agencies have been every independent dairy, cooperative creamery or cream buying station in Wright county and the Wright County Extension Service.

During the past three years the suspicious herds over the county, according to the brucellosis ring test, have dropped from 21.71 per cent down to 9.07 per cent. Owners of dairy herds that have a suspicious reaction to the ring test are notified by the federal and state authorities. Upon notification, the operator of the suspicious herd is expected to consult his veterinarian as to the procedure to follow.

Dairymen who are selling milk or cream outside the county are tested at the plants where their products are sold.

A dairy herd with three clean ring tests is accredited free from brucellosis by the state bureau of animal industry. The ring test is conducted every six months.

FINDING RHYME OR REASON IN VOTE ON CORN REFERENDUM IS A REAL TOUGHIE

We'd like to see the results of last week's corn referendum run through one of these mechanical know-all marvels to see what it could make of it. It's our guess that the Univax (or whatever the thing's called) would regurgitate the whole mess and—if it could speak—would say in disgust, "That stuff just doesn't make ANY sense!"

Try to figure out why Wright county should be split down the middle on the advisability of continuing the soil bank approach to corn price stabilization as opposed to returning to the old allotment plan—when our neighbor to the north, Hancock county, thumbs down the soil bank by nearly a two-to-one margin.

It's understandable that some of the drouth-stricken and relatively unproductive southern counties would perhaps have looked more kindly upon the soil bank than those in fertile, north central Iowa. But why "next-door" neighbors should view the respective merits of the two plans so differently defies explanation.

It is the guess of M. B. Crabbe, editor of the Eagle Grove Eagle, that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson is in such great disfavor in these parts that many a farmer voted against the soil bank for no better reason than that Benson promulgated it. Certainly there were some sound reasons for believing that the soil bank would best serve the farmer's interests.

If dislike of Benson has reached the point where the farmer will "cut off his nose to spite his face"—just to defy the Secretary of Agriculture—we're inclined to agree with Mr. Crabbe that Benson's period of usefulness in his office has about run its course.

We wonder, though, if the weakened position of the Farm Bureau in this area didn't influence some votes against the soil bank, too. Many a loyal Farm Bureau member of former years has in recent times changed his attitude toward this organization to indifference or even hostility. And as strongly as the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation supported the soil bank, it doesn't stretch our imagination to hear some of the deserters declare, "If they're for it, I'm agin it."

At any rate, an even greater over-supply of feed and accompanying distress for corn producers was widely forecast if a return to the allotment plan should be voted. Now, allotment it is. And if agriculture's predicament is aggravated as a result, that's one situation that Iowa farmers and their brethren west of the Mississippi—who all voted down the soil bank—will find it tough to blame on somebody else.

THAT GIFT OF CHESTER LUICK'S SHOULD INSPIRE US ALL TO "DO" FOR BELMOND

When we were writing last week's story on the wonderful gift that Chester Luick is presenting to Belmond, our first though was, "What a happy bunch of kids there's going to be in this town next summer!"

A swimming pool, all their own! No more need to cart busload after busload of youngsters to Clarion in order that they can learn to swim and develop that useful skill. No more need to withhold the opportunity from dozens of others for lack of available class time, as has been necessary in recent years.

Then that thought gave way to another. . . . "What a happy man the generous donor of this marvelous gift must be!"

For Mr. Luick has, indeed, learned the gladness that goes with giving. And we doubt not that there won't be a juvenile-splasher in that pool all next summer whose pleasure will surpass that of Chester Luick over the the fact that he found it possible to make the healthful pastime of swimming available to the young paddler—and the thousands like him who enjoy the pool's facilities over the years.

It is most fitting that the philanthropist to whom Belmond owes such a tremendous debt of gratitude for this swimming-pool-to-be, for the many benefits that have been derived from the Chester P. Luick and Vida Luick Hospital Memorial Trust—and many another act of generosity in the past—should bear one of the community's most honored names. He and his family played an immeasureably important role in creating from a pioneer settlement the thriving, progressive city that is Belmond today.

It is a testimony to the rugged individualism and private enterprise that made our nation the world leader that it is, that Mr. Luick's labor and ingenuity produced the wealth that he is so generously sharing with his community today.

We hope that the city will find it possible to make of the site upon which the new pool is located a park that will provide recreation of all kinds for the young and old of Belmond and the surrounding area—a park that will be a fitting memorial to this grand old gentleman. It should certainly bear his name, so the part he has played in Belmond's "growing up" will NEVER be forgotten.

Half the value of gifts like Mr. Luick's is the inspiration that they can and should provide. If we use the example that Mr. Luick has given us, Belmond need now be only on the threshhold of becoming the "better place to live" that we all want it to be.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa Claus,

I'm a little girl five years old. I want a doll that cries real tears, and a little piano. A table and chair set to share with my little brother, Dana, who would like a doll and a horn to blow. My big brother would like some H-Fi records. Please remember all the little orphans with something from your bag of toys. There will be pretty cookies on the table, please help yourself and put one in your pocket for Mrs. Santa Claus.

VOL. 37 NO. 12 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, DEC. 27, 1956 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — 10 PAGES THIS ISSUE

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Under the heading of "Unfinished Business" for the year ending is disposition of the case involved in the auto accident that brought fatal injuries to Annette Swenson on Aug. 26. More than four months have now elapsed with no action of any sort having been brought against the driver of the car that authorities investigating the tragedy openly charged with being responsible for the crash.

Many a saddened friend of the young victim must have read with raised eyebrows the account of a manslaughter case that appeared on the front page of Sunday's Des Moines Register. It reflected far more agressiveness in execution of the law than has characterized handling of the Swenson case.

The driver of a truck in Council Bluffs was involved in a smash-up that claimed the life of a companion. That was on Friday. Authorities said the driver was intoxicated. Saturday he was brought into district court, a plea of guilty was received, and he was sentenced to not more than eight years in the state penitentiary for manslaughter. Just goes to show that the wheels of justice CAN move fast!

We were pleased to note in the Clarion Monitor that Sheriff Bob Blecker was recently honored with an award of merit, presented to him by the county seat VFW post. The certificate read as follows:

"This citation is awarded to Wright County Sheriff's department in appreciation for exemplary service to the community, state and nation by planning, erecting and operating the first rest station in the nation dedicated to highway safety."

Ingenuity, as well as efficiency, has characterized the approach of the sheriff's office to the problem of public safety under Bob's administration. This recognition was both fitting and deserved.

While on the subject of law enforcement, we might mention that Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod was complaining to us last week that he tried, unsuccessfully, for several hours one night recently to make contact via police radio with the local night officer on duty. He was told by the state police radio station that the officer obviously was not in the patrol car — and had left no word at the station as to where he could be contacted in the meantime. Much of the value of the city's investment in radio equipment for the local police is lost if officers on duty fail to keep the state station informed AT ALL TIMES as to where they can be reached during absences from the police car.

Now, if all you readers to whom this does not pertain will look the other way a moment, we'd like to have a private word with the Independent's staff of correspondents. We want the five ladies who gather news for us in Belmond, Alexander, Goodell and Meservey to know that we've appreciated their efforts during the past.

We hope, a bit belatedly, that your Christmas was merry up to the full measure of your expectations and that the New Year will bring you satisfaction and contentment in abundance.

Week in and week out our readers, we know full well, probably get as much pleasure out of the personal items that The Independent carries as from any feature of the newspaper. For our correspondents' faithful and conscientious gathering of these weekly bits of grist for the mill we are duly grateful.

1956 Tax Guide Designed to Help On Farm Reports

Wright county farmers who are unenthusiastically looking forward to the imminent task of making our their income tax and social security reports can find some balm for their woes in the "1956 Farmer's Tax Guide." This publication is available at the county extension office at Clarion at no cost.

Extension Director Aaron Bowman says the "Tax Guide" is especially designed for farmers who plan to tackle the job of making out the necessary reports personally. He adds that the booklet should also be helpful to "experts" hired by farmers to make out the reports for them.

Most of the income tax rules which cover farming are explained and numerous examples are offered to show how the rules apply in specific situations. Mr. Bowman emphasizes that the guide is not designed to replace the instructions received with tax forms, but rather to supplement them.

Herb Howell, Iowa State college economist, says the publication was prepared by the internal revenue service in conjunction with the state and federal extension services, regional farm management extension committees and the U. S. department of agriculture.

Purpose of the combined effort is to be as helpful as possible in taking care of those annual reports — up to, but not including, finding the money to forward along with.

STRUCK DOWN BY CAR

Emma Liekweg, who is employed at Hotel Belmond, suffered a sprained arm and numerous bruises when struck down by a car last Thursday night while visiting friends at Oelwein. The driver stated he failed to see her crossing the street, due to the heavy fog. She was able to return to Belmond on Friday evening.

BRIGHTER LIGHTING than ever before is enjoyed by night-time Belmond since installation of the new electroliers along Main street was completed last week by Iowa Electric Light and Power workmen. More powerful lamps have been installed along Highway 69 and from the highway to the Rock Island tracks on Main street. Bulbs having 2½ times the former illuminating power will also be placed in all other street lights in town before the project is completed. Picture above was taken last Friday night by Dick Mueller, Clarion photographer.

Christmas Decoration Winners Named; Three in Tie for First in Third Ward

Judges in the second annual Christmas decorating contest of the Chamber of Commerce made their rounds Sunday evening to pick winners of the $150 in prize money that was offered this year. They report than not too much difficulty was found in arriving at the winners in Wards I and II, but that they ended up with a three-way tie for first in Ward III. The judges were Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell, Mrs. S. P. Leinbach, Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser and Lowell Trafford.

Luther Proeger was awarded the $25 first prize in Ward I. He had Santa and his elves parading on the porch roof and a shepherd scene in the front window. The $20 second prize went to C. C. Benson and third prize of $5 was awarded the animated Santa Claus created by Jim Peterson on the lawn of Mrs. J. H. Leebrick's and the Petersons' home.

The home decorations of the following were awarded honorable mention in the 1st Ward: R. H. Klemme, Dr. H. J. Classick, Thomas Greenwood, Sr., and Leo Dorr.

Clair Hildman's decorations won first prize in Ward II. The Hildmans' large picture window was framed in white lights and evergreen boughs, a tree on the lawn was made beautiful with blue lights and the blue and white color scheme was carried out in incidental displays. Second place went to the Floyd Wirtz home on "the hill;" and third to the Lewis Formaneks.

Honorable mentions in Ward II went to C. C. Christie, Don Nolan, Bill Dempsey and Bill Stadtlander.

No agreement could be reached by the judges on first-place winner in Ward III, with the result that the first two prizes were combined and $15 each awarded to Otto Hanson, Glen Eccles and Ralph Wendel. The money for third place went to Leland Jenison.

Winning honorable mention in this ward were the homes of H. C. Colby, Bob Churchouse, Hank Steenblock, Clark McNeal and Ed Schmidt.

Mrs. Tyrrell says the judges thought special mention should be made of the handsome Christmas tree in the center of the park, which was planted during the past year by the Federated Woman's club as part of its park beautification program. The Belmond Fire department has accepted responsibility for seeing the tree is decorated with lights each year, so this will be a Yuletide attraction for many years to come.

Dickson's NavAir Unit Gathers For 2 Weeks Training

John D. Dickson, who is on the staff of Rowat-Murray, Engineers, recently spent two weeks at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station at El Centro, Calif., training with U. S. Navy Fighter Jet Squadron 811. He is a member of a Naval Air unit at Minneapolis and holds a Third Class petty officer rating as an Aviation Mechanic for Jets.

During his period at El Centro, reserve pilots and ground personnel in the Naval Reserve received intensive training with the latest equipment available to Naval fleet air facilities. The aircraft utilized by the squadron were Grumman Panther jets and Lockheed jet trainers.

As a member of Fighter Jet Squadron 811, Mr. Dickson trains with his unit at Minneapolis on Saturday and Sunday of the first weekend of each month in addition to an annual two weeks of training at a Naval Air station.

He joined the Naval Air Reserve upon graduation from high school and has been associated with the program since June of 1949.

Clarion Monitor Has New Owner

G. Wiley Beveridge and Paul Lindemeyer, co-publishers of the Wright County Monitor at Clarion since Oct. 1, 1949, announced this week that they have sold the newspaper to Wilmer B. Houser, 42, of Marion, S. D. Transfer of the business to Mr. Houser's possession takes place Jan. 1.

Mr. Lindemeyer has accepted a position as copywriter in the advertising department of KGLO-TV, Mason City, and will start on his new duties next week. Mr. Beveridge has agreed to assist the Monitor's new publisher until the Clarion school year is completed.

Mr. Houser and his wife are both graduates of the University of Minnesota. He has been in the newspaper business ever since his graduation from college. The Housers have two daughters, ages 14 and 12.

LELAND JENISON PASSES STATE ELECTRICAL EXAM

Leland Jenison was notified last Saturday that he successfully passed a state board examination taken on Dec. 4 at Des Moines and is now qualified as a registered electrical engineer.

Mr. Jenison has been in partnership with R. G. "Bud" Packard in the electrical firm of Packard & Jenison for the past two and a half years.

Studebaker Given National FHA Job

Mary Alice Studebaker, BHS senior who is vice president of the Iowa association of Future Homemakers of America, has lately been appointed a member of the national FHA membership committee. The group consists of eight girls from as many states.

Members of the committee will not meet in performance of their duties, but will confer by correspondence in working out ideas for getting and maintaining FHA membership. Their ideas will be channeled to individual school FHA units through the organization's magazine, "Teen Times."

Jos. Pletsch Dies At Age 92; Lived Here Sixty Years

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Congregational church for Joseph Pletsch, 92, who for more than 60 years was a resident of the Belmond community. He lived a life of unusual activity well into his elderly years, until his health began to fail quite abruptly about a year ago. He underwent surgery this past fall, from which he never fully recovered. Death came to him last Friday night at Belmond Community hospital.

Rev. William Schorman officiated over the services at the church and also over brief rites held immediately preceding the funeral at Johnston Funeral Home. Burial was in Belmond cemetery, pallbearers being Christal Friesleben, Ralph Baker, Louis and Henry Mennenga, Chester Johnson and Chester Luick.

Born in Peru, Ill., on Feb. 24, 1864, Mr. Pletsch was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pletsch. He was married to Minnie Young and they made their home in or near Belmond throughout their married life. Mrs. Pletsch died in March of 1947. Besides operating a farm for many years east of Belmond, Mr. Pletsch was affiliated with one of this community's early grain elevators and one of its first automobile garages, the Hub.

Surviving are three children: Mrs. George (Emma) Dippel of Fillmore, Calif., Mrs. C. M. (Lettye) Morse of Los Angeles, Calif., and Henry Pletsch of Algona. Other survivors include three half-sisters.

"Bible Prophecy" Guest's Message

Rev. Harry A. McKinney, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist church, announces that Dr. Chester E. Tulga of Chicago will conduct at the church a full week of meetings centered around the theme of "prophecy." The meetings will begin next Monday and continue through the following Sunday, Saturday excluded. The starting time nightly will be 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Tulga is well known as a Bible teacher and expositor and is recognized as one of the foremost scholars in the field of "Bible prophecy." Anyone interested in what the Bible teaches about the "last days," is invite to come nightly, Mr. McKinney says.

Meservey Church Will Give Contata

A Christmas contata, "The Nativity," will be presented by a 40-voice choir at the Meservey Reformed church Sunday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. Director will be Mrs. Ronald Ruiter, Meservey High school music instructor.

Mrs. Jesse Suntken will be featured as soprano soloist and Leonard and Ralph Schmidt as bass soloists. Mrs. Elmer Dorenkamp will be organist and Mrs. Andrew Boelman, pianist.

Use of their Wurtlitzer electric organ has been given the church for this performance by Mr. and Mrs. John Ruiter.

All in the Meservey-Belmond area are cordially invited to attend this special musical worship service.

WCARC MEETS NEXT WEEK

Regular monthly meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children will be held at Lincoln Elementary school, Eagle Grove, on Wednesday evening of next week at 8:00 p. m. All members of the association are urged to be present.

Kenny Eygabroad, Age Seven, First in Letter-to-Santa Contest

A letter written in his own hand by one of the youngest entrants in this year's Letters-to-Santa contest was awarded first prize of $15 by Viva Parker, who was assisted in the judging by Judy Gilbertson and Carolyn Olson.

The "big" prize goes to Kenneth Eygabroad, who is only seven years old, but who determinedly printed his entire letter while quite a number of other children his age resorted to having other members of their families do the writing for them.

Wrote the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eygabroad:

Dear Santa,

All I want is roller skates, big truck, grader and loader. Bring Ricky Walrod some gifts and every one that is sick.

From
Kenneth Eygabroad

Second prize of $7.50 was awarded to Timmie Roberts for his nicely printed letter and third prize of $5 went to Scott Killius, age 7½ — who felt compelled to ask for some books "because mother said that books are our friends," but also requested a gun and boxing gloves.

Winners of the next three prizes, in order, were Judy Draper, Jolene Kay Waltzing and Julie Kinseth. Each will receive a check for $2.50. All of the winners can obtain their prize money by calling at the Independent office.

Mrs. Parker says that, while there perhaps were not the several outstanding letters this year that there have been some times in the past, many were well written and carefully thought out.

It was difficult to settle upon the final winners and several letters were cited by the judges as particularly good. Honorable mention was given Lawrence Basener, Jimmy Pals of Meservey, Terry Winbigler and Mary Jean Suntken.

Harold Simerson, Mrs. A. W. Johnson On County Grand Jury for Next Year

Grand jurors for 1957 and petit jurors for the January term of district court at Clarion have been drawn and a call issued for the former to report at the courthouse on Jan. 15 and the latter on Jan. 21, at 10:00 a. m. in each case. The term will open on Monday, Jan. 14, with Judge G. R. Hill as the presiding magistrate.

Two persons from Belmond will be on the grand jury for the coming year, Alice (Mrs. A. W.) Johnson and Harold Simerson.

Other grand jurors are: Clarion — Harold Turk, C. M. Hahn of Dayton township, Irene Larson of Liberty township and Clara Hipp of Lincoln; Eagle Grove — T. L. Benedict and Wayne Bernard, the latter of Eagle Grove township; Dows — Laurel Hill; Galt — E. J. Stuck; Renwick — Enfred Pearson; and Williams — A. M. Otteros.

Seven persons from Belmond are on the petit jury list. They are Mrs. George Hinman, Evelyn Hanson, Bill Guthrie, Guy McClenahan, Clarence Kirkendall, Dorothy McNeal, Eva Jenison and Ruby Lerdal. Also listed is C. F. Lauden of Grant township, who has a Belmond RFD address.

Listed from Kanawha are Wiert Johnson and George Abbas and from Rowan, Mary Bailey, Wayne Licklider, Dean Fitz, Robert Drury and Elsie Reese.

Eagle Grove — Rose Needs, Lucille Patterson, William Oliver, John Vike, Royal Uhr, Doris Franklin, Evelyn Thompson, Elmer Hubbard, Mary Lee Coron, Helen Sunner, Oved Watson, Ilene Nolte, John Nelson, Paul Gerk, John Cleveland; also Dallas Stapp of Dayton township, Peter Nelson of Eagle Grove, Viola Jones and Mabel Fisher of Troy and Helen Whitty of Woolstock township.

LuVerne Smith Re-elected President Of GMI Grain Millers Local No. 25

LuVerne Smith on Wednesday night of next week will be re-installed at president of Local 25 of the American Federation of Grain Miller, having been elected to that position for a second term as General Mills union members chose 1957 officers the early part of this month.

Ray Boller was elected vice president and Dick Middleton, financial secretary. One other officer was re-elected—Kenet Ginapp, as recording secretary.

Harm "Bud" Meyers was named as a new member of the board of trustees, to serve a three-year term. Harold Wolfe will continue as a trustee through 1958 and Eugene Robbins through 1957.

Three department stewards were voted into office for second terms. They were: Don Stoffer, elevator; Elden Boyd, oil warehouse; and Leroy Green, Larro feed mill maintenance.

Others elected as stewards were: Ed Stoffer, refinery; Don Smith, milling and extraction; Lawrence Kelley, maintenance; Walter Boyd, meal warehouse; Gerald Ersland, safety and housekeeping; and Rodney Moore, Larro feed mill production.

JERRY HANSONS LEAVE

Lt. and Mrs. Jerry Hanson and Jodi left Tuesday for Brush, Colo., to spend a week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hartwig, before going to their new home in Lubbock, Tex., The Hansons have spent the past week in the A. C. Hanson home.

LATE LETTERS

Several Santa Claus letters were received too late for publication in The Independent; but we wish to assure the senders that they were NOT overlooked. The young writers who missed the deadline were Daryl "Shorty" Suntken, Mike Dannewitz and from Meservey, Patty Koenen.

C-of-C Committee Will Soon Present Matter to Council

Petitions bearing the names of between 75 and 80 per cent of the persons contacted by workers for the Chamber of Commerce zoning and planning commission will be presented to the city council soon after the first of the year asking that the city fathers appoint a zoning and planning commission and pass an ordinance to put zoning and planning into effect in Belmond.

Henry Stokke, chairman of the C-of-C civic bureau, says that petitioners have seen virtually all adult residents of Belmond in their canvass of recent weeks, excluding only persons absent from town. He says the circulation of the petitions would have been completed considerably sooner except that an effort has been made to have it as comprehensive as possible.

Some Re-Contacted

In the past week or so, visits have been paid to residents who were uncertain about various aspects of zoning and planning and wished more information before expressing their approval by signing a petition. Some re-contacting remains to be done, but Mr. Stokke says it will be hurried up as much as possible. He adds that any person still desirous of obtaining further information on the matter may feel free to phone him and either he or another member of the zoning and planning committee will call at the home.

The percentage of signers ran lower in west Belmond, on "the hill," than in most other areas of the community, according to Mr. Stokke; but even in that section of town the petitions were signed by well over 50 per cent of the adult residents.

"Hill" Has Felt Slighted

There was no hesitation on the part of "hill" dwellers to make clear the major reason that lay behind their refusal to sign, where signatures were withheld. It was the concensus among those taking this stand that, as Belmond's original townsite, "the hill" has gotten the short end of such improvements as have been made in the city over the passing years. West Belmond remains without city water and sewage disposal to this day.

Quite a number who refused to sign the petition said they would do so if specific plans were first made to provide their part of town with the same municipal services as enjoyed by the rest of Belmond. Mr. Stokke explained that this would necessitate too long a delay in the current move to obtain zoning and planning.

He did point out, however, that the duties of the proposed zoning and planning commission would be to survey and evaluate improvements needed in any and all parts of the city and aid the council in scheduling a program to achieve these improvements on a methodical, year-to-year basis.

Hospital to Have 2nd Technician

Allen Nolte, lately of Mount Pleasant, will join the staff of Belmond Community hospital on Jan. 7 as a technician. According to Administrator Stuart Kutz, Mr. Nolte is a registered x-ray technician and also an experienced medical technologist.

Mr. Nolte succeeds Ruth Kasper Haugland on the staff. She resigned in November. Mr. Kutz explained the newcomer is not precisely a replacement for Mrs. Haugland, however, as he has had much more extensive training and experience than the former assistant technician.

Married and the father of one child, a year old, Mr. Nolte will move his family into the apartment over Kessler's store sometime next week.

ARRESTED ON OMVI

Charles Norby was arrested early Tuesday morning by Officer Gil Paxton on a charge of drunk driving and hailed later in the day befor Mayor R. C. Bowman at Clarion for preliminary hearing. He was bound over to the grand jury on a count of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Bond was set at $300 and Norby was released when that sum was posted.

GOODWILL TRUCK COMING

Rev. M. L. Jones offers a reminder that the Goodwill Industries truck will pay Belmond a visit on Friday of next week, Jan. 4. Any persons having appropriate articles to donate are asked to contact Mr. Jones in advance.

Lots of People; No Winners

Despite the throng of last-minute shoppers that jammed the business district of Belmond last Monday afternoon, not one of the Cash Gift Day numbers drawn was turned in at The Independent. The CGD committee suspected that the explanation of this perplexing turn of events may have been that it was generally forgotten that the drawings had been set ahead a day, due to Christmas, and many failed to bring their Independents and Buyers Guides with them. Next week's Cash Gift Day drawings will again be on Monday, because of New Year's Day. The same $400 in prizes will be offered —four $25's at 2:00 p. m. and six $50's at 3:00 o'clock.

MAGAZINE "WRITES UP" HOSPITAL, CLINIC

Another 1.3 Million Told of "The Belmond Story"

Readers in the agricultural heart-land of America — 1,300,000 strong — in the January issue of Successful Farming magazine, are being told the story of how Belmond acquired one of the finest rural medical centers in the nation. Material for the article, entitled, "A farming community of 12,000 finances the best in rural medicine," was gathered last summer by one of the publication's top writers, Mike Bay.

It is generously illustrated with excellent photography, and a number of familiar faces are recognizable in the pictures. One shows Dr. S. P. Leinbach, G. J. Hruska and Arlo Pitcher, along with Nurse Doris Gabrielson, in surgery. Another shows Chester P. Luick with Technician Helen McNulty.

There is also a scene showing a nurse with young patient in a wheel chair in front of the hospital; one of Mrs. McNulty and former Assistant Technician Ruth Kasper Haugland in the hospital's laboratory; and one picturing Mrs. Gabrielson assisting Dr. Leinbach drawing blood from the arm of Lester Buseman, a member of the hospital's "walking blood bank."

Following is the story Successful Farming has to tell about Belmond and its extraordinary medical facilities:

In the rural community of Belmond, Iowa, population 2,200 stands a locally financed $250,000 hospital and a privately owned $85,000 clinic. Togther they represent a new accomplishment in rural medicine.

And this accomplishment assures the approximately 12,000 persons in this typical corn-hog country community complete medical care. It was Dr. Samuel P. Leinbach who sparked the community's interest in a new hospital by discussing the need before a group of leaders in 1950. The community organized its forces behind a fund drive, and without the help of professional fund raisers had the necessary $250,000 within two years' time.

With the hospital testifying to the community's interest in a top-notch medical program, it has been easier to continue to staff a clinic with an outstanding group of medical associates. As a result the community now has access to the skills of a competent surgeon, an experienced internist, a visiting radiologist and two able general practitioners.

(Ed's note: since this article was written the internist, Dr. M. J. Colbert, resigned to accept an attractive teaching position at the University of Illinois; but an unrelenting effort to obtain just the right man as a successor has been and is being carried on.)

When the funds were raised, the contributors numbered in the thousands with donations ranging from 50 cents to $15,000. One retired farmer, thinking in terms of a progressive medical program, placed a 410-acre farm in trust, the profits to be used to constantly improve the hospital service.

Already purchases by the trust include air conditioning for the operating room, an incubator for the nursery, spectrophotometer for making blood analyses, equipment for modernizing the x-ray department, and other equipment for nursing care.

Financial help came from unexpected places. Two years after the hospital had been completed, a registered letter was received in the mail. It contained bonds valued at $9,759 and a personal check bringing the total to $10,000.

The sender, Robert W. Rowen, 87, had left Belmond at the age of 20. Since moving to California he had continued to subscribe to the local paper. Having read of the project, he wanted to contribute to the hospital. His contribution paid for constructing an addition to the hospital which serves as a chapel for family groups, meeting room, and emergency-patient overflow.

Patients drawn in from an area extending into four counties kept the hospital operating at 64 per cent of full capacity during 1955. During the year, 275 babies were delivered at the Belmond Community hospital and the fatality rate was well below the state average—10.9 per 1,000 births as compared to a 14.5 average for the state.

Every attempt has been made to match the modern facilities provided by the community with the best skilled professional staff available. Films taken by the updated x-ray equipment are read by a visiting radiologist from a city 40 miles away. He also does fluoroscopes. These reports are tape recorded and placed on file.

Mrs. Helen McNulty, medical technician, is capable of conducting nearly the whole range of laboratory tests with the equipment available at the hospital and the clinic.

Another phase of the hospital's operation which reveals the community's interest in their health program is the "walking blood bank." More than 300 members, many who gave to the construction fund, report on call to the hospital to donate blood.

Lester Buseman, who farms east of Belmond, is representative of this group who feel a continuing obligation to the hospital. His rare blood type, "B-negative," has caused him to leave home in the middle of the night for the hospital to give blood to someone he may not know. But he does know that he or his family will not lack for blood if an emergency occurs at home.

Because a growing desire was stimulated, the Belmond community established a rural medical standard surpassing that found in many small town communities. Their desire was strong enough to generate enthusiasm and a willingness to contribute time and money. If your community has these same qualities, then a better medical program probably is within your reach.

THOSE CHURCH WOMEN DO A REAL JOB; AND NOT ON CHARITY BASIS, EITHER

We got to thinking the other day about the countless appeals that are made to us for money year in and year out. Often the plea is for a very worthy cause; but it would require an oil well in the backyard if a person were to respond to them all.

However, as we considered a bit, it struck us that one means of extracting money from our pocketbook is employed with regularity that doesn't "hurt" a bit. We refer to the money-raising ventures of the women's organizations of the various churches.

The delectable dinners, toothsome baked goods and finely made bazaar articles that these ladies turn out in the course of each year must add up to very important financial aid to ther churches. Unquestionably a good many thousands of dollars are realized annually by the dinners, sales and bazaars that give proper value received for money spent.

Certainly the breadwinners who pledge annual support to help finance church operations would have to dig a good deal deeper if it were not for the supplementary income from the good works of the ladies.

So we'd like for ourselves — and for many other menfolk who've probably not stopped to think about it but would share our feeling if they did — to express a word of gratitude for these worthy endeavors of the distaff side. It's characteristic of these women's groups, when they need money to do their share, to think in terms of "how can we EARN it?" — not "how can we GET it?"

God bless 'em.

GROUNDWORK FOR ZONING AND PLANNING HAS BEEN LAID; SO LET'S GET ABOUT IT

First of literally dozens of headlines devoted to zoning and planning that appeared in The Independent during the year just ending was published in the issue of Jan. 12th, when a front page banner declared: "Chamber's Civic Bureau Will Urge Council Action on City Zoning."

In the following months, progress toward making zoning and planning a reality in Belmond pursued an aggravatingly slow pace for its sponsors and the many other citizens keenly interested in this progressive step.

Because zoning and planning, particularly at the outset, deal with intangibles it was slow going at first to impress people in large numbers with the importance of a zoning-planning ordinance. But this has been done.

Then the council required evidence that a sufficient number of highly respected, representative citizens would be willing to serve on a zoning-planning commission. This, too, was done.

Nervous that industrial or commercial ventures of an undesirable nature might be introduced, to the detriment of the residential land-owners in the area, persons in Kirkendall addition petitioned the council for passage of a restrictive ordinance that would protect them pending the introduction of city zoning. This was done, and the wisdom of the precaution has already been demonstrated.

Finally the city fathers asked that a citywide test of sentiment regarding zoning and planning be conducted in the form of a petition so they could tell without doubt whether a mandate for passage of a zoning-planning ordinance exists. Results of the circulation of such a petition appear in this issue.

We believe it is not too much to expect that, with this comprehensive groundwork having been laid, action toward establishing zoning and planning in Belmond will be promptly expedited after the first of the year. There should be no reason for further temporizing.

DO YOU NEED A JUNK HEAP TO TOSS THE DAY'S FEARS AND TROUBLES ON?

We found a ready-made "New Year's editorial" provided us in the December issue of the "Friendly Adventurer," monthly publication of Bermingham & Prosser Paper company. We submit it to your consideration, without comment.

"Many people go into the new year dragging behind the the thoughts and experiences that made them unhappy during the old year.

"Not only as we enter a new year, but every day of our lives we should junk something! We should junk our worries, junk our fears, junk our anxieties, junk our little jealousies, envies and hatreds.

"It is a good plan every night before we go to sleep to put in a junk heap all our disappointments, all our grudges, our revengeful feelings, our malice — all the mental poison that is hindering us from being the splendid men and women we can be.

"The great trouble with most of us is that we haven't any junk heap of this sort. We pull all our mental enemies, all our handicaps, our discouragements, our losses, our misfortunes, our troubles, worries and trials along with us. This consumes more than 50 per cent of our vitality and energy, so we have only the smaller amount left for the great task of making life worth while.

Carols by Goodell Students Enjoyed

Mrs. Carl Robbins, instructor in the Goodell Grade school and Marlene Meyers, grade school music instructor, accompanied 50 of the students of the Goodell grades on a tour of Goodell Tuesday evening. They sang carols wherever a home had a light on the porch. These carols were very much enjoyed by everyone.

Following the singing, the group went to the schoolhouse, where Mrs. Grant Chapman, also a Goodel teacher, and Mrs. Carl Green served them sandwiches and hot cocoa. Margaret Drevs an instructor in the Belmond school, was a guest of the group.

Bob Stille, who is stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., came Saturday evening to the parental Paul Veldhouse home for a visit with his wife, who is making her home there while he is with the Army. He will enjoy a vacation until Jan. 4., spending part of his time with his parents at Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolvan Miland and little son accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dirks of Meservey, to Webster City Sunday where they visited the latter's son, Bill Dirks, who was a patient in the hospital. The latter received an injury in an accident where he is employed which necessitated the amputation of one of his big toes.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Barnes of Des Moines came Saturday for a visit until Christmas Day in the home of her father, Walter Mason. A pre-Christmas dinner was enjoyed in the home of the latter's other daughter, Mrs. Paul Veldhouse, on Sunday, with the Barnes, Mr. Mason and the Bob Stilles as guests.

GEO. LIEUWENS MARK SILVER ANNIVERSARY

An open house held at the parlors of the Evangelical United Brethern church at Goodell Sunday afternoon honored Mr. and Mrs. George Lieuwen on their 25th wedding anniversary. Their daughters, as hostesses, and Mrs. Lieuwen's sister in charge of the guest book welcomed their many relatives and friends who were present to congratulate this couple. A program was given, with the Rev. Park E. Miller offering the prayer, and music was furnished on the record chimes.

Refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in the Christmas colors, with Mrs. Ed Albers of Belmond, sister-in-law of Mrs. Lieuwen, pouring and Mrs. Stanley Ahlstrom cutting and serving the wedding cake. Mrs. Roy Foss and her daughter Loretta served the refreshments.

Relatives and friends came from Mason City, Clear Lake, Klemme, Clarion, Alexander, Kanawha, Latimer, Meservey, Garner, Belmond and Goodell. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts for their home in memory of the occasion.

Jennie Albers and George Lieuwen were married Dec. 23, 1931, at the Reformed church parsonage at Klemme, with Rev. Calvin Grosheusch officiating. Attending the couple were the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lieuwen, then of Mason City but now of Klemme.

The newlyweds took up their new home on a farm southeast of Goodell. They lived there for 11 years, then moving to a farm also located east of Goodell, which they purchased and has since been their home.

They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Jack (Shirley) Fulton of Belmond and Mrs. Alice Iorio of Mason City. They also have one grandson Mike Iorio, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Lieuwen.

Their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lieuwen, were present Sunday as honored guests.

H. R. Allaben of Traer spent Christmas in the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert McNutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede visited in the home of Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and the Ray Fords at Garner Thursday afternoon.

Pat Tracy of Belmond and Jerry Walters of Mason City visited in the Sandberg-Hanson home Sunday evening.

Osage, NIC Member-to-Be, As Smallest School in NEIC Has Found Going Tough

SPORTS

According to Jack Baty, editor-publisher of the Mitchell County Press-News of Osage, followers of Osage High school athletics are looking for brighter days ahead when the OHS Green Devils start operating in the North Iowa conference after the 1958 football season.

During the 17 years that the Northeast Iowa conference has had materially the same make-up that it possesses today, Osage has enjoyed little success in either football or basketball. As smallest member of that loop from the standpoint of student body, OHS has found it increasingly difficult to keep pace with their NEIC foes.

170 Cage Losses, 28 Wins

Mr. Baty reports that since formation of the Northeast conference as a football league in 1940, the Green Devils have had only four winning seasons — and none since 1951. They have never beaten more than four loop rivals in one season, though in 1941 they added two ties to that mark, against a single defeat. In 1944, 1945 and 1951 they had 4-3 records. Altogether they've won 32 times against NEIC opposition, earned seven ties and lost on 78 occasions. Their 17-year winning percentage is a slim .303.

That looks like quite an achievement, though, Mr. Baty says, compared to Osage's basketball success. Against present conference schools the Green Devils have won only 28 times while losing 170 decisions. They have never beaten Charles City or Cedar Falls since the present loop was formed; and only in 1941 did they win more games than they lost (8-4). In basketball, .142 is their winning percentage to date.

Six Victory-less Campaigns

This experience on the hardcourt has been hard for Osage fans to take, considering that OHS won the state championship in 1921 and was runner-up in the national cage meet at Chicago. In six out of 16 NEIC basketball seasons, the Green Devils have failed to post a single win; and in three other seasons they had only one victory to their credit.

Wrestling has been the top sport at Osage, but even on the mat the going has been getting increasingly tough against their much bigger rivals. Up to 1951, they had taken 46 victories against conference opponents, tied one meet and lost only four. In the past five years the Green Devils have continued to enjoy success, but have lost 15 meets and been held to one tie while winning 24.

The source of the Green Devils' difficulties is plain to see in a comparison of average daily attendance at the eight NEIC member schools: Charles City 525, Decorah 497, Cedar Falls 472, Waverly 321, Oelwein 317, New Hampton 314, Cresco 278 — and Osage 263.

Will Be NIC's 2nd Largest

Osage will be the second-largest school in the North Iowa conference, on the basis of latest average daily attendance figures. The NIC is topped by Forest City with 288, followed in order by: Belmond 228, Britt 223, Lake Mills 206, Northwood 194, Buffalo Center 181 and Garner 169.

In recent years, Osage has met NIC teams in football and basketball 38 times, chalking up 15 wins, two ties and 21 losses. In a pair of meetings with Northwood on the gridiron some 30 years ago, Osage posted one victory and a tie. In wrestling competition with North Iowa teams, the Green Devils have done better. They hold seven wins over Britt, compared to three losses and a tie; downed Northwood in their only meeting; but when just making their start in the mat sport they lost three times to Forest City and tied the Indians once. That was in the mid-thirties, and Forest City dropped the sport soon afterward.

73 Miles from Belmond

Mileage-wise, Osage won't have much more traveling to do in meeting NIC rivals than has been required of them as an NEIC member. Distances from Osage to the Northeast Iowa cities has been: Charles City 22, Cresco 40, New Hampton 38, Waverly 51, Decorah 60, Cedar Falls 65 and Oelwein 85.

To North Iowa loop towns, Osage will be traveling: 73 to Belmond, Buffalo Center 80, Britt 64, Garner 56 and Lake Mills 56, Forest City 42 and Northwood 31.

Belmond and Osage, incidentally, have met in a private contest only once. In the district tournament at Mason City in 1954, the Broncs lowered the boom on the Imps, 70 to 47.

It will discover that "patsy" opponents are rather few and far between; but freed of the pressure of competing against foes that have a discouraging edge on them from the standpoint of available material, the Green Devils should do all right.

Clear Lake, Manly Each Once Held Membership in The NIC

With admittance of Osage to the North Iowa conference effective with the 1958-59 basketball season, the NIC will resume operation as an eight-member league for the first time in 19 years.

Although the North Iowa originally was composed of eight schools, including all of the present members, the eighth — Clear Lake — withdrew after the 1936-37 school year. Manly was a member of the conference for the next three school years; then it, too, dropped out. Starting with the football season of 1940, the NIC has been conducted as a seven-member conference.

Originated in 1927

Although North Iowa conference matters have been very sketchily recorded, it appears that the league first organized as of the 1927-28 basketball season. Difficulty was experienced for a number of years in getting the member schools to break off old athletic associations to a degree that would permit scheduling of a complete round-robin of games with NIC rivals.

Not until 1938 was a rule adopted that called for a full slate of games against conference opposition in football, and it wasn't until 1940-41 that home-and-home schedules in basketball were first set up.

Titles Widely Shared

Conference competition has regularly been held in track — in the form of an annual NIC meet; but efforts to arrive at a baseball competition seem never to have been successful. Participation of NIC teams in wrestling has never been very extensive. What records there are suggest that only Forest City, Britt and Northwood have sponsored mat teams, and the first named abandoned wrestling a good many years ago.

While Forest City, due to its larger population and bigger student body, has perhaps enjoyed better than average success in the conference — particularly since withdrawal of Clear Lake — no school has been greatly dominant in North Iowa competition. Championships have been widely shared around, and there is not a school without a share of championship awards in its trophy case.

Freshmore Slates Added

Considerable emphasis has been put on freshman-sophomore football and basketball in recent years, which has clearly improved the calibre of varsity play. A regular home-and-home schedule of froshmore basketball games has been played yearly since 1948-49. In 1950, similar participation in froshmore football was started, but with Northwood freed from a full-slate requirement because of its geographical position.

The North Iowa conference has gained much in athletic prestige in the past decade and has earned a reputation as an increasingly rugged Class A loop. Osage should find a very real challenge in its new athletic affiliation. It will dis-

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Last week we mentioned the good success that Lovell Diddy's Meservey girls team has been enjoying this season. Right on the heels of that comment came on of their most satisfying conquests in a long while. Wednesday night of last week they clobbered the Franklin Consolidated sextet 57-41. This wasn't surprising, in itself, but Coach Diddy tells us it was the FIRST victory of the Rockettes over Franklin in a regularly scheduled game in EIGHT years!

Coach Dick Hobbs hopes the "dismals" the BHS Broncos have been going through may be at an end, after the fine job of passing and generally spirited play that characterized their victory over Garner. It just simply figured that they were a much better outfit, potentially, than they appeared for a stretch.

Possibly those two, bitter defeats at the hands of Britt and Northwood took some confidence out of the boys. At any rate, we hope they're on the highroad now.

Just how good they were at the outset of the season, before they hit the skids, is indicated by the success of the Eagle Grove five since they were larruped by the Broncs. The Eagles have yet to lose another game and are perched at the top of the North Central standings with Webster City!

One thing that the North Iowa conference will be acquiring when Osage joins the ranks in the winter of 1958-59 is a running track superior to any that the loop has previously had available. The Bronco thinclads competed in the district meet there in 1955 and found the Osage cinder oval well kept-up and fast. Of course, by 1959, Belmond should have a pretty classy track of its own.

We rather question that the Green Devils will find the going much softer in North Iowa conference basketball competition than they did in the Northeast Iowa, though they may find the calibre of football more to their liking. The Imps have been woefully weak on the hardcourt in late years. Tuesday of last week Northwood creamed Osage by 23 points. Even if the Vikings take their 2nd, consecutive NIC cage title this season, we doubt that they'll beat any of the conference teams by that large a margin.

In going over some North Iowa conference data provided us by Supt. Don Faris last weekend, we ran onto the results of an NIC track meet in 1933. Costigan of Buffalo Center won nine — that's right, NINE — individual events! He's the dad of Tom and Mickey Costigan, present Bison stars, who are close to being the two most versatile athletes in the loop today. Tom's just a junior and Mickey a freshman. . . . Looks as if heredity has a lot to do with making a good athlete.

Incidentally, we discovered that Belmond's NIC track championship last spring was NOT the Broncos' first. BHS took the North Iowa track title in 1932. A boy by the name of Herb Fetrow helped mightily in enabling Belmond to nose out Buffalo Center 38/½ to 36/½. The Fetrow lad won the mile in about 4:55 and had a 2:10 half-mile for another 1st.

Mary Gordon had her best bowling series in 15 years rolling for the Greenhouse five against Johnston's in the Women's league Tuesday of last week. It was a robust 576, which saw her start with a 201-207 and then "tighten up" for a 168 finish. So far as we know, that's the second best series in women's league competition here, trailing the 608 that Donna Robertson got earlier this season. Mary says she had a 600 series "back in the days of my youth," before moving to Belmond. . . . Last week's "hot one" made her third 500 series in a row.

Second-Half Splurge Gives Broncos Solid 55-47 Victory Over Cardinals

Belmond's Broncs stayed on the winning trail at Garner last Friday night, racking up 20 points in the third quarter to get a more or less firm grasp on the situation after a ding-dong first half. They led the Cards by only a 22-21 margin at halftime, but the final buzzer found the Broncs in front 55-47.

In the estimation of Coach Dick Hobbs, it was by far the best game his boys have played and he believes the last half of the season will find the team playing up to expectations.

Against Garner, Coach Hobbs started Tom McNulty at forward on the strength of his fine performance against Forest City. Tom and Bill Murray shared time in the front court and the result was good games by both players. Rollie Jenison relieved Larry Schimp off and on so the latter could put in time in the forecourt, and Jenison turned in one of the best performances of his career.

It was Larry Kinseth's aggressive work on offense that probably did the Cardinals the most damage, though. Despite trouble making the ball drop through the hoop, Larry hit four fielders and eight out of 13 freethrow tries for the night's high total of 16 points. Jerry Chandler helped out with 14, Murray collected 10, Jenison five and McNulty a couple.

Neither team was able to get much of an advantage in the first half, which saw Belmond ahead 14-12 at the quarter and by that single-point margin, 22-21, at the intermission. But the Broncos came back strong in the third stanza to surge into a 42-35 lead. Garner never again seriously threatened the Purple and White.

The BHS froshmores were involved in their third overtime encounter on four starts, finally dumping the Cardinal Chicks 44-41. As in the Forest City fray, they were tied with their foe at the end of regular playing time, 39-all.

Bob Lerdal accounted for the heroics in the extra period. First he stole the ball and raced in for a lay-up to send the Junior Broncs ahead; then he drew a foul and although he missed the gift shot, gave Lynn Jenison a chance to tip the rebound in for a counter. Lerdal then got involved in a double foul that gave him his fifth infraction and Roger Ginapp, pinch-hitting for Bob at the foul line, successfully converted.

Jenison and Kenny Hawley were the big scoring guns for the winners, Lynn whipping in 17 points and Hawley 13.

Conference action will be discontinued until Jan. 8, when the second round of play gets under way. With Britt suffering its third loss last Friday at the hands of Forest City, the Broncs are now in a position to contend for third place in the loop if they continue to show improvement.

Training School For 4-H Officers Scheduled Friday

New officers of Wright county's boys and girls 4-H clubs will receive special training in their new positions at a training school to be held Friday at the IOOF hall at Clarion. A special feature of the program will be recreation in the afternoon led by Marie Bishop, an assistant state 4-H leader.

Current county officers, headed by Presidents Sharon Hilpipre and Ronnie Swanson of the Lincoln Lassies League and Lincoln Leaders, respectively, will conduct the training sessions. They will be assisted by the county 4-H committeemen and women.

Three officers from this vicinity will be in charge of training groups: Jane Baker, Norway Jolly Joy Makers, county girls' secretary; Gloria Arends, Iowa U-Go-I-Go, treasurer; and Marjorie Johnson, Belmond Busy Bees, historian.

Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., of Belmond, health chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Mathre of Norway township, northwest district committeewoman, will assist with the girls' officers.

Orders Accepted Now by Nursery For Trees, Shrubs

Foresters of the state conservation commission said today that orders are now being taken for a wide variety of trees and shrubs at the commission's forest nursery at Ames. They said that the plants will be delivered express collect in time for spring planting, and that they may be used for conservation reserve plantings under the soil bank, or for regular erosion control and wildlife planting programs.

Available hardwood seedlings include black locust, dogwood, Russian olive, honeysuckle, silver maple, multiflora rose, and many others. The price per 250 trees is $4, and the price per thousand is $12.50. Because of recent drought conditions, no stratified walnuts will be available.

Also available are conifers that include white pine, red pine, and Austrian pine. Softwoods are priced at $6 per 250 seedlings and $20 per thousand.

Three types of special wildlife planting packets will be offered for sale this year. These packets, designed for small game areas, include a wide variety of trees and shrubs that are tailor-made for providing food and cover for game birds and animals. They are priced at $3.75 per packet.

Full price and description lists have been sent to all county ASC Committees, county extension directors, SCS personnel, and state conservation officers, and orders may be placed through these agencies.

C. B. ATWOOD DIES AT 89

C. B. Atwood, 89, of Anamosa, father of Mrs. Cecil Carstens, died Wednesday night at Anamosa's Mercy hospital. He had been in failing health for a considerable period of time. Mr. and Mrs. Carstens planned to leave Thursday for Anamosa to attend the funeral, time for which was still indefinite.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

Next Tuesday ends the worst year for traffic deaths in the history of Iowa and the nation. Ironically, the staggering fatality blow hit Iowa during a year when there was stronger activity in enforcement, licensing and education than ever before.

A National Safety Council representative visiting the state recently said, privately, that Iowa's overall traffic safety activity record for 1956 will rank higher than in any previous year.

Asked why, in the face of this, Iowa's death record is so bad, he pointed out that states with miles-per-hour speed limits all have better records than Iowa this year.

The safety council representative emphasized that a speed limit is not the entire answer to Iowa's problem, by any means.

He seemed to feel that lack of a strong citizens' public support group for safety activity is one of the state's greatest single deficiencies.

In other words, there's more than a slight inclination for most of us to dismiss the safety problem as something someone else should solve.

Who that someone else is, beyond the uniformed officer, and what tools and help he has to try to do the job are things we seldom consider.

This attitude is a deadly contradiction. Individually, each one of us is under daily threat of death or injury on the streets or highways. Yet, we seem to have no enthusiasm for organizing a collective defense.

Well, good luck in 1957.

JANSSENS HONORED

A group of neighbors and friends gathered at the Gene Janssen home Sunday evening as a farewell courttesy honoring the Janssens. They are moving to Minnesota this week where Gene will be superintendent of Ris-Van company's new liquid fertilizer plant. He has been transferred to Minnesota from Belmond, where he held a similar position.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard "Bud" Nissen and sons entertained at a pre-Christmas dinner Sunday evening the following: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Muhlenbruch and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Muhlenbruch and sons, Mrs. Agnes Muhlenbruch and Gary and Berniece Arnson, all from Latimer, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Muhlenbruch.

Mrs. Lester Hopkey and Mike visited Sunday afternoon at the Lambert Pals home. Other viistors there were their daughter, Mrs. Johnson and family from Pella.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stadtlander of Rockford were here Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Stadtlander's mother, Mrs. Theda Dirks, held at the Reformed church.

HARM GROEN, Sr., GIVEN TV SET

Harm J. Groen, Sr., was given recognition for many years of faithful and efficient service to Woodford-Wheeler Lumber company this Christmas when his employers presented him with a television set. Mr. Groen originally came to Meservey from Alexander a little over 50 years ago to assume managership of the Klemme Lumber company. He has continued as manager of the lumber yard since Woodford-Wheeler acquired ownership of it a good many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stadtlander from Rockwell were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faaborg and Mrs. Lilly Faaborg.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stadtlander and children and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Stadtlander and children were at Rockford Sunday, where they had their Christmas exchange at the parental Carl Stadtlander home.

Shower for Mrs. Sewall

A shower was held Saturday evening at the EUB church parlors for Mrs. Bob Sewall, the former Marian Wessels, from Colorado. She received some lovely gifts. A lunch was served by a committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Vierkant and Marlene were Wednesday evening supper guests last week at Clear Lake with Iola Bakkan at her apartment. Iola now teaches 3rd grade at Clear Lake. She will be remembered as a former third grade teacher in the Meservey school.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gobeli of Goodell entertained the following at an oyster supper saturday: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkey, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gobeli and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Koenen, Dixie and Lynn, all from Meservey; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gobeli and family and Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Gobeli of Cedar Rapids, Forest Gobeli of Dougherty and Robert Gobeli of Thornton. They also enojyed a gift exchange.

The Henry Kuhlers family had their Christmas gift exchange Friday evening at the parental Kuhlers home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kuhlers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kuhlers, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oltman and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuhlers and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuhlers and children; also Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ostendorf from Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kuhlers and children from Klemme and Dena Kuhlers. Lunch was served at the end of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oltman and sons, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ostendorf, left Saturday morning for Texas, where they will spend two-weeks viisting Harvey's sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Braga and children of Des Moines, are spending the Holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trage, and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willand and girls from Joice and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cook from Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hayes and their three sons from Mason City came Saturday to spend over Christmas with Mrs. Susie Rooks. Mrs. Hayes is the former Romona Rooks.

Greeting of Bank Erred in Manager

The Independent owes an apology to the First State bank of Thornton for errors committed in the Christmas greeting of the bank's Meservey office in the rush of getting out the biggest issue of the holiday season. Management of the bank, we are happy to say, took a forgiving attitude toward our misdeeds in the spirit of the season.

First, The Independent had not been informed of the departure of Larry Hackbarth as manager of the Meservey office and had his name in the signature. Since Mr. Hackbarth early last fall accepted a position with the state banking department, Ray Miller has been Meservey manager — and should have been so identified.

Then, due to a limited number of greetings, some of the most attractive were used by two firms. The bank's had earlier been used by Berns Conoco Service of Belmond; a salute from "Ray, Joe, Bob and Gerald" that appeared in the first run of the greeting was not plucked out before it was used for the bank.

Said the gentleman from the Thornton bank who called about misidendification of the Meservey manager, "I don't even know who 'Ray, Joe, Bob and Gerald' are!" . . . Which was understandable.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Raecker were Sunday afternoon visitors at the James Hemming home at Thornton. Mrs. Hemming had just returned from the hospital at Mason City where she had been for treatment and rest.

Mrs. Carroll Morris has been confined at her home with painful back trouble.

Rev. Herman Dirks of Indiana was called home for the funeral of his mother Mrs. Theda Dirks. He is staying over the week to visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quandt of Clear Lake visited Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Moody Quandt and at the Robert Raecker home.

Centennial Celebration, Gift of Swimming Pool to City Set Year '56 Apart

The year 1956 will go down in Belmond annals as possessing historical significance on two counts: (1) it was the year of Belmond's Centennial; (2) it was the year that Belmond was given a municipal swimming pool.

After a slow start, Belmond's Centennial plans climaxed in a four-day celebration in August that will be long remembered. The program was jam-packed with entertainment. Particularly outstanding were the Centennial Pageant and the Centennial Parade.

Few who sat in the audience of some 1,500 to witness the first performance of the historical pageant will soon forget, either, how cloud banks flashing with lightning bursts approached from both north and south — while a crown of stars remained overhead throughout the stirring production.

And the Sun Shone

Good weather, good crowds and good fun generally blessed the celebration, which was prevailingly praised as a fitting tribute to the community's pioneers and its first 100 years of progress.

Chester Luick's establishment of a trust to build a swimming pool for Belmond most certainly also marks 1956 as a year apart. Present plans call for it to be completed and in use by the time the 1957 swimming season rolls around. Mr. Luick is thrice-blessed in the hearts of all youngsters in the Belmond community for his wonderful gift; and in the minds of their elders will always be held the memory of his great generosity toward his home town, demonstrated not only by the swimming pool but by the Luick Hospital Memorial Trust and other gifts less well known.

Hospital Gained Attention

Belmond Community hospital's near-unique position in rural medicine won it mention in two nationally distributed publications; and this institution broke records right and left as the scope of its services expanded.

The year had its drama in such heart-touching incidents as the tragic death of Annette Swenson in a traffic accident that was grossly unnecessary; and in little Ricky Walrod's fight for life against leukemia, which inspired gifts of nearly $1,650 to the Lions club's Ricky Walrod Fund.

Also, 1956 saw the Belmond Broncos enjoy one of their finest football seasons in history, climaxed by a satisfying 19-0 victory over Clarion; and ascendency of the BHS track squad as a North Iowa power on the cinder track.

Largely A "Normal" Year

Prominent people died; many babies who in their day will gain prominence were born. In general, the weather behaved — though we could have used more rain than we got. The Democrats rather kicked over the traces in November's general election.

All in all, it was more just a "good, normal year" than anything else, as the highlights reported below will bear out.

Girl Babies Outnumber Boys 131 to 105 on Year's Cradle Roll

Apparently war-time's influence has run its course, if the division of gender between babies born at Belmond Community hospital in the compendium that follows has any significance. From Dec. 28 of last year through Dec. 21 of this year, 236 babies were delivered at the hospital — and girls outnumber the boys 131 to 105. This was in marked contrast to the two years preceding, when the balance lay with the males 123 to 118 (1954) and 147 to 123.

This year's baby review is limited to those born here, excluding from "Hello World" reports births to former Belmond parents. Nevertheless, the total doesn't fall a great deal far short of 1955's 270 and 1954's 241.

It is noteworthy that of the 236 in the past year's crop, only 73 babies were born to parents possessing Belmond addresses. The rest came from over a surprisingly wide geographical area and represented 24 other communities. Kanawha infants led the out-of-towners, as usual; 30 were born to Kanawha parents.

Two Under Three Pounds

It's fortunate that Belmond Community hospital maintains a record of saving an extraordinary number of premature infants. There were several of those to fight for among the 24 wee ones who were born here weighing less than six pounds. Eleven weighed between five and six; another nine between four and five pounds; and three tykes didn't even tip the beam at four pounds.

Tiniest of the lot was 2-lb. 10-oz. James Ben Lamfers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seabo Lamfers of Kanawha. A close second was 2-lb. 15-oz. Connie Jo Wicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wicks, also of Kanawha. Both "made it," after many weeks of incubator life; and each appears headed for as long and normal life as any babe.

Biggest, 10 Lbs. 11 Oz.

Biggest of the '56 crop was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lauretz Peterson, Marjorie Sue, who weighed a hefty 10 lbs. and 11 ounces. Not far behind was susan Kay, the 10-lb. 10-oz. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Assink of Kanawha. They seem to go in for variety over there at Kanawha.

Two sets of twins were born at the hospital, just a bit over a month apart. On May 18, Mrs. Harold Rapp of Ventura gave birth to a son and daughter; and on June 20, twin baby boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trager.

Following is a run-down of Belmond Community hospital's baby production for the past 12 months.

BOOST EGG PROFITS EVEN HIGHER with Hy-Line® 123 LAYERS

Last year, we offered Hy-Line "100 Series" varieties that outlaid other chickens by 2 to 3 dozen eggs per bird. Many poultrymen took advantage of this extra profit.

This year, we have an even better Hy-Line layer for you. It's the Hy-Line 123 — the Hy-Line layer that outlays previous 100 series layers by 6 to 12 EGGS PER BIRD!

Yes, even higher profits are on the way for you when you order Hy-Line 123 chicks.
